While Jesus Christ walked the earth, He promised that the Father would send in His name the Comforter, which is the Holy Spirit. He promised that if He went away, which meant that His physical body would leave the earth as He took His rightful place at the right hand of the Father whose presence fills the heavens, then the Comforter, the Holy Spirit, would come and make God’s abode (room, dwelling place) within their lives. The power and authority behind the Holy Spirit, is God. The Father, Son and Holy Spirit are one (1 John 5:7) and through the infilling of the Holy Spirit, God’s kingdom rule and reign, that fills the heavens, where Jesus Christ sits at the right hand of God, will be established within a person’s life.

When God’s Spirit makes its abode within the life of a person, it is God’s love, expressed through His kingdom power and authority that fills all of creation, which is being established upon their heart and mind. A person, filled with the Spirit, partakes of the power behind God’s throne, who is God Himself. God the Father, Son and the Holy Spirit are united in their desire to conform a person’s heart and mind to the will of God, so that they are able to live their days appreciating and exhibiting the love of God toward them.

> “I behold till the thrones were cast down, and the Ancient of days did sit, whose garment was white as snow, and the hair of his head like the pure wool: his throne was like the fiery flame, and his wheels as burning fire.” Daniel 7:9

Before a person receives the gift of the Holy Spirit, through having faith in God’s beloved Son, Jesus Christ, they may not give honor unto the Word of God. They may, in fact, speak words of accusation against the scriptures that God proclaims were given to men who wrote under His divine influence (2 Timothy 3:16). They may proclaim that the scriptures are nothing more but a compilation of words by men, who walked in the same human condition they walk in, that denies the power and authority of God’ love. Because they do not believe in the unity of God the Father, Son and Holy Spirit they may proclaim that no one can possibly be under the divine influence of God’s Holy Spirit, through faith in Jesus Christ.

For those who do not believe that God’s throne fills the heavens, it would be an incomprehensible message to proclaim that God reigns from His throne in heaven. If they do not believe in God the Father, Son and Holy Spirit, then how can they believe in a heavenly kingdom, where from God’s throne, He rules over all of creation. If they deny that God reigns within the heavens, then how can they believe that God sends His Holy Spirit to make His home within a person’s life, so that they are inspired of God’s love and led of the Spirit unto all truth regarding righteousness?

To deny that a holy God reigns in absolute power and authority from His throne in heaven is to walk in the realm and domain of unbelief. People who proclaim that, because they have decided that God's power and authority is not established in the heavens, so it would be impossible for God's love, power and authority to reign upon the hearts and minds of men, walk greatly influenced by the power found in the realm of unbelief's domain. Every coherent, living person is influenced by what they think upon, which will affect the way they react to the world around them. To deny the union of God the Father, Son and Holy Spirit, so that God's throne of grace, where righteousness, holiness and love is the order of the day but is not appreciated, will cause a person to exalt attitudes and opinions of unbelief, which focus on self centered, self exhaltive behavior.

To deny the power of God's throne that fills the heavens, is to lift up in its place, a throne of power and authority, whose dominion lies in the realm of unbelief. To deny that it is God who rules and reigns in power in heaven and in the lives of men through the Holy Spirit, is to exalt opinions, thoughts and beliefs that herald unbelief in God, so that it becomes acceptable to exalt other gods, worship graven images, have no respect toward one's father and mother, downplay stealing, justify killing, discount the sanctity of marriage so that adultery is common place, personalize and encourage covetousness, and to rationalize not having any concern, compassion or love toward others.

When a person turns toward the Lord in sincere faith in Jesus Christ, then the power and authority found in holy love, that radiates from God's throne, will be established upon the person's heart. When, from God's throne, His righteous judgment is established within a person's life, then will the dominion of unbelief, that held power over a person's life, be cast down. All other thrones, where the power and authority of unbelief held reign over a person's thoughts, will be cast down, when the voice of truth that proceeds from God's throne of mercy makes itself known within a person's life. A person who possesses the Holy Spirit, who is representative of God's kingdom on high, will have a thankful heart toward the Lord, when released from the destructive bondage of unbelief.

> "But these, as natural brute beasts, made to be taken and destroyed, speak evil of the things that they understand not; and shall utterly perish in their own corruption; and shall receive the reward of unrighteousness, as they that count it pleasure to riot in the day time. Spots they are and blemishes, sporting themselves with their own deceivings while they feast with you." 2 Peter 2:12-13
> "For there are many unruly and vain talkers and deceivers, especially they of the circumcision: whose mouths must be stopped, who subvert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, for filthy lucre's sake. One of themselves, even a prophet of their own, said, The Cretians are always liars, evil beasts, slow bellies." Titus 1:10:12

Men who reject God's throne of grace, and exalt the authority behind the dominion of unbelief, will be - to one degree or another - as the beasts of the field. In the dominion of unbelief a person does not experience God's gift of love, so they remain out in the open, as unsuspecting targets who do not know how to escape condemnation's cruel arrows. To continue to refuse the One, who calls out from heaven, is to day by day find that what they have been feeding on (what they have thought upon and consumed as truth), has made them dull of mind, and restless of spirit.

Those whose attitudes are like the beasts of the field, are determined to graze upon earthly understandings, and when they thirst they return to polluted wells and streams of man's reasoning, which are contaminated by self focused desires, so that they continue to discount the love of God. For those who are not experiencing the love of God within their lives, it will become easier, and even familiar, to walk in hatred and loathing toward mankind. They will begin to attack each other, bringing greater grief upon the lives of mankind. If a person continues to turn from God's love, so that hatred has an inroad into their life, then hatred will begin to consume them. Their behavior will fall under the description of a brutish beast that has no concern for the welfare of others; their only concern will be to fill their bellies with what ever earthly concerns their eyes desire today. It is their own self focused lusts that consume them, which controls them, so they do not care whose life they may destroy through their words and actions.

> "And you hath he quickened, who were dead in trespasses and sins; wherein in time past ye walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that now worketh in the children of disobedience: among whom also we all had our conversation in times past in the lusts of our flesh, fulfilling the desires of the flesh and of the mind; and were by nature the children of wrath even as others. But God, who is rich in mercy, for his great love wherewith he loved us, even when we were dead in sins, hath quickened us together with Christ, (by grace ye are saved;) and hath raised us up together, and made us sit together in heavenly places in Christ Jesus." Ephesians 2:1-6

All men are born with the Adamic, carnal nature, which seeks out its existence from among the things of the earth. They are born blind to the goodness of God that surrounds them. They are born deaf to the resonating voice of God that sings to them throughout all of creation, declaring His great love toward them. It is through the hearing of the Word, and turning toward Jesus Christ in sincerity, that people become partakers of the divine influence of the Holy Spirit, so that their hearts ascend on high with God, to the realization of His power, authority and love, which fills all of creation. It is through the Holy Spirit, that men are made alive unto the things of God.

Though men seek things to satisfy the desires of the carnal, Adamic nature, it is not God's desire that they continue to feed the beastly (carnal) nature, so that they become brutish and destructive in their approach toward life. That is why he sent to the earth His beloved Son, so that whosoever believes in Him should not perish, (now and eternally), but shall be filled with everlasting life, found in the Holy Spirit. Through faith in Jesus Christ men become partakers of eternal life, so that while alive they are inspired of God's love toward them, which will transform the way they live and react to life, making men confident that though their earthly bodies return to the earth, they shall forevermore be with the Lord.

To walk denying the goodness of God is to walk in darkness. It is to live denying that the true Light of the world, Jesus Christ, has come in the Father's name, and now sits at the right hand of the throne of God. Until a person repents of their unbelief and is quickened by the Holy Spirit unto eternal life, they will not understand and reject this truth. Because they refuse salvation through faith in Jesus Christ, they continue to walk in darkness, which is unbelief's domain of authority and power. The kingdom of darkness looks to unbelief as its source of strength and power.

God's blessings and love will not be realized or experienced while walking in the kingdom of darkness. His blessings cannot be understood or appreciated when walking in the domain of unbelief. For a person to exalt themselves above God is to allow unbelief's cruel reign to influence their lives in greater and greater degree as they go through their lives. It is to have actions of today and yesterday, which bring sorrow and suffering upon their lives, continue to mount up upon their minds, until it is possible murderous thoughts reign supreme upon their hearts. Upon the kingdom of darkness, where unbelief is the power and authority over people's lives, God's wrath (anger) is poured out. His love is eternal, but to deny the gift that He extends toward mankind is to exalt self over God, which is to bring insult upon the name of God. This behavior will not receive any blessings of eternal significance.

God's love, grace and mercy expands throughout the heavens, but if a person should continue to deny this truth, and refuse to repent and give Him the glory, then God's judgment of condemnation shall remain upon their lives. When a person has no understanding of how to turn to God, then they will spend their days dealing with pain, sorrow, and suffering, for unrighteousness sake, without the Comforter to speak words of encouragement into their lives. They will walk within God's kingdom of Light that fills all of creation, but because their darkened hearts refuse His gift of grace, they will not receive the reward of spiritual sight, and they will not experience God's love that inspires mankind's hearts upward toward the high calling that could be theirs in Christ.

Unbelief is the power and dominion behind the throne which upholds the beast(ly), carnal, Adamic nature. Upon this attitude God pours out His fair and perfect judgment of condemnation. People, who love darkness more than the Light, shall reap what they have sown. If unto condemnation they shall sow, then unto condemnation they shall reap.

May those who have partaken of God’s divine nature, found in the Holy Spirit, continue to extend God’s hand of mercy, as He has extended His mercy toward them. May the abundant riches of His glory, strengthen them with power to embrace each day with joy and mercy. May their hearts be “rooted and grounded in love.” And may their lives become an expression of God’s love, which helps others to realize there is a way of escape from condemnation’s cruel grip. All praise unto the awesome King of glory.

> “Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and everyone that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God. He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love. In this was manifested the love of God toward us, because that God sent his only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him. Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins. Beloved, if God so loved us, we ought also to love one another. No man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected in us. Hereby know we that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit. And we have seen and do testify that the Father sent the Son to be the Savior of the world. Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the son of God, God dwelleth in him, and he in God. And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him.” 1 John 4:7-16

Silver Pitcher

Dream of silver pitcher & ladle & hidden treasure in River
February 9, 2005

Prov. 2: 3-5

I dreamed I was camping with my family. This was not an RV city kind of place, but a country, beautiful place. I had arisen from my night’s sleep and decided to take a bath in this river that flowed through the campground. I can’t decide whether to call it a river or a stream because it wasn’t huge like some rivers are and it wasn’t really turbulent like some rivers are either. It was smaller and it was crystal clear and the water just bubbled with life, but it definitely was a strong flow. It was very pleasant. I was just sponge bathing certain parts of my body rather than immersing myself totally in the cool water.

As I looked in front of me, I saw just a few feet away but on the other side, a log. This log was totally underwater and had been wedged in by the current. It had been there for a long time but it was not rotten or anything like that. Just below the log, out of the strong current, were a silver pitcher and a ladle. I knew that these had been in the river for a very long time. I picked them up out of the water. As I did so, I saw jewelry of all kinds in a clear glass display case. This display case seemed to be wedged somehow in with the log sitting on top of the log. The top of the display case was completely covered with a slab of rock. This rock had an indentation in it in one of the corners closest to the bank. In this indentation there were two smaller rocks piled.

I got out of the river to take the silver pitcher and ladle to my mom to keep. I then went back to the river to see about retrieving these jewels. Rings and necklaces and all sorts of wonderful, wonderful jewelry. There were some loose jewels also. This jewelry was also older. It had come from a jewelry shop probably about 50 or so yrs. ago. (I am now 53 yrs. old) I also knew that this jewelry case of jewelry had ended up here because of some catastrophic, instantaneous event and the case had ended up almost buried, but not really buried, in the river. No one had known it was here until I had seen it.

I remember looking in and seeing a very large golden amber stone placed in a setting and attached to a necklace. I thought it was beautiful, but it was not really as appealing to me as the ruby rings and other things were. There were so many ruby rings of varying sizes and shapes that I couldn’t count them. There were a myriad number of varying jewels, most set in jewelry, but some loose stones of ruby and golden amber. Ruby seemed to be the dominant color except I remember some very small emeralds as well as diamonds set in with some the ruby rings. As I was looking at all this, somehow word had gotten out and I found myself in the company of several women, all sitting in the river and circled around the glass case as I was. These women were all around my age. I was pretty irritated with this. Each of us wanted so.o.o bad to get into the case, but somehow it seemed wrong to do so. As we were sitting in the river looking into the case each woman was remarking on the jewels that they particularly wanted. Then, as I looked I saw that a couple of women closest to the edge of the case where the two stones had been piled up on top of the slab of stone had somehow managed to unobtrusively get their hands in and take out a couple of rings each. They were ruby. They had stuck them in the bank of the river right behind their heads with the stones of the rings sticking out. This was done to free up their hands for more and to just try not to let anyone see that they had done this.

Well, this seemed to give license to the rest of us. As we were getting our hands in the case, my daughter Heather came up and was looking in and she pointed to this particular ruby piece indicating how much she loved it. I don't know if it was a necklace or a ring. I think it was a ring though. I felt I would like to get that for her and I knew of another piece that I wanted my daughter, Jenn to have. I reached in a started taking out the things that I wanted. It just was a free for all with many hands coming and going out of the case. I then saw a whole brown paper wrapped package. I grabbed it because I knew it would be full of jewelry. Like a "grab-bag" of jewels. There was another and I can't remember specifically if I got it but I think that I did. The other women had not noticed the brown bags.

The next scene I am putting all these jewels away in my camping gear to get ready for travel.
I am not remembering with specific detail here but I know that a male authority type figure like a game and fish warden or campground patrol came up to me and was questioning me.

End

Interpretation:
I am a sojourner in the earth. I represent the present church.
The river is the River of Life.
I am sponge bathing, letting the river cleanse me. I believe the Lord lets me see supernaturally something that is hidden.
The silver pitcher and ladle are heirlooms fit for a Bride. The Bride of Christ. The silver pitcher and ladle represent wisdom and also supernatural revelation of the Most Holy Spirit. These are the heritage of the church.

My mom symbolizes both the mature church of the Lord and the past church of the Lord, the Bride.
She is given the pitcher and silver ladle for safekeeping. The wisdom of the Lord belongs to the mature.

Again, the Lord has let me see the treasures supernaturally. The log has kept these treasures out of the "main stream". The log is a picture of the Lord Jesus in His humanity and His humility and the stone that protects and covers the case of treasure is also symbolic of the Lord. Not sure why the indentation and the two small stones.

The rings represent covenant promises. The ruby is the covenant of Jesus Christ through the shedding of His blood. The big beautiful golden amber stone is the Glory of the Lord. All of these treasures have been hidden along with the mysteries of the Lord. Again, a picture of revelation knowledge here.

The cataclysmic event was due to the church “system” taking control. Who knows how many centuries ago. The other women also represent the present church. My daughter’s both represent the younger church, the Bride of Jesus too.

Now here is the whole key issue:

We had felt it wrong to take these treasures out. The reason why is that the church has always been taught that we can’t have access to the “deep” things of God because we are not educated; we are only commoners, not the elite. This has been the lie of the enemy for how many centuries?

The male authority figure represents the male dominated church “system”. This system is religion at its finest which has historically looked down upon the laity being able to understand the hidden treasures of Jesus’ Word and just who He is.

This also speaks to me of the prophetic especially. Prophetic people are supposed to be “knighted” by the powers that be with the mantle of the “church system” before they will be heard in any kind of real trust by the leaders of “churchianity” when in fact, prophets belong to the Lord alone. Not that they should not be under authority perhaps, but authority has been set up wrong.

Praise the Lord! It looks like change is on the way! There is coming a reverent and worshipful fear of the Lord as well as the hidden treasures of supernatural knowledge and wisdom.

Prov. 2: 3-5
“Yes, if you cry out for insight and raise your voice for understanding, if you seek (wisdom) as for silver and search for skillful and Godly wisdom as for hidden treasures then you will understand the reverent and worshipful fear of the Lord and find the knowledge of God.”

Stand In The Gap

Stephen Hanson

July 9, 2005
(I have experienced this word lately in my own life as I have seen the enemy attempt to play havoc on my family's lives. However, he will not prevail if we would do warfare against him through God's spirit, and not on our own, he will be defeated.)

"I looked for a man among them who would build up the wall and stand before me in the gap on behalf of the land so I would not have to destroy it, but I found none. Ezekiel 22:30
13Therefore put on the full armor of God, so that when the day of evil comes, you may be able to stand your ground, and after you have done everything, to stand. 14Stand firm then, with the belt of truth buckled around your waist, with the breastplate of righteousness in place, 15and with your feet fitted with the readiness that comes from the gospel of peace. 16In addition to all this, take up the shield of faith, with which you can extinguish all the flaming arrows of the evil one. 17Take the helmet of salvation and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God. 18And pray in the Spirit on all occasions with all kinds of prayers and requests. With this in mind, be alert and always keep on praying for all the saints. Eph. 6

"I tell you that this is a time when the enemy is trying to play havoc on people's lives and families. He knows that his time is running short so he is pulling out all of the stops to attempt to do these things. But I tell you that he will not be successful if you do warfare with him in my spirit. He is trying to see who you will be giving allegiance to, for he has held captive many in his service. There are all types of chains in which he employs to keep his victims underfoot. I tell you that there are entire nations that he wants to control but he knows that there are certain individuals who stand in the gap against him. I tell you that when certain nations fall, he is there rejoicing over this."

"I tell you to do warfare…it is time to do warfare. Put on the whole armor of God so that you will be able to stand against him. Pray for those who are in need. Stand in the gap for them. For when there are certain people who will stand in the gap then he will fall. He will fall, I tell you that he will fall. Remember that Martin Luther once said that, 'One little word will fall him.'"

Sit-izenship

Cindye Coates

Last night, I had the distinct privilege of meeting the honorable Chief Justice Roy Moore at a Renew America Rally hosted by American Vision near our home on the north side of Atlanta. We had a wonderful visit just before he had to give the key- note speech for the evening. Each time he would mention the word, "citizenship"; I actually heard "sit-izenship." It was at that time the Holy Spirit began speaking to me about this concept; opening up scripture that I had hidden inside of my heart for many years. It is amazing how just one word can connect so many dots and bring understanding and a paradigm shift in the core of your being!

Anyone who has been frustrated as I have, with the apathy of believers concerning civic duty will see why there has been such a lack of influence we have had on the culture, political climate, arts and entertainment, and many aspects of public life. There is a reason why so many have a hard time standing. It is because they have not been seated first! The Apostle Paul gave us the order of civic life in the Book of Ephesians. He begins with the idea of sitting. After we have secured our seat of dominion, we are able to walk and stand.

Sit, Walk, Stand

"Sit, walk, and stand" is the basic outline of the Book of Ephesians. In fact the first 3 chapters of this book are devoted to one concept, "sitting"! How can anyone know on what to stand if they do not know where to sit first? It is from the seated place of confident rest and safety we can stand firm, endued with power from on high, fearing no man. When God raised Jesus from the dead, He seated Him at His right hand in the Third Heaven, which is far above all other powers, dominions, and authorities in all nations through out all time.

In other words: Jesus Christ is positioned over all earthly powers. That's right! Jesus Christ has the final word on everything from galaxies to governments! He is in the absolute position of authority over all things. No person or power outranks Him! He is " The Boss" and "The CEO of the Universe." In and through Him alone lie all 3 branches of government. He is the master and commander of heavenly execution, jurisdiction and legislation and we are seated together in Him in heavenly places sharing this same role on the earth!

"The God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give to you the spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of Him, the eyes of your understanding being enlightened; that you may know what is the hope of His calling, what are the riches of the glory of His inheritance in the saints, and what is the exceeding greatness of His power toward us who believe, according to the working of His mighty power which He worked in Christ when He raised Him from the dead and seated Him at His right hand in the heavenly places, far above all principality and power and might and dominion, and every name that is named, not only in this age but also in that which is to come. And He put all things under His feet, and gave Him to be head over all things to the church, which is His body, the fullness of Him who fills all in all."

Before we read on, let's look at the exact same passage in the colorful imagery of the "The Message" translation:

I ask--ask the God of our Master, Jesus Christ, the God of glory--to make you intelligent and discerning in knowing Him personally, your eyes focused and clear, so that you can see exactly what it is He is calling you to do, grasp the immensity of this glorious way of life He has for Christians, Oh, the utter extravagance of His work in us who trust Him--endless energy, boundless strength! All this energy issues from Christ: God raised him from death and sat Him on a throne in deep heaven, in charge of running the universe, everything from galaxies to governments, no name and no power exempt from his rule. And not just for the time being, but forever. He is in charge of it all, has the final word on everything.

Ephesians 1: 17-23 Message

We might ask ourselves now, " What does the fact that Jesus is seated at the right hand of God have to do with us personally and our citizenship here on the earth?" That is a very good question! The 2nd chapter of Ephesians defines where we are in the scheme of things and to whom we are connected. The following scripture passage is some of the most powerful information we, the modern church, could ever embrace:

You May Now Be Seated

But God, who is rich in mercy, because of His great love with which He loved us, even when we were dead in trespasses, made us alive together with Christ (by grace you have been saved), and raised us up together, and made us sit together in the heavenly places in Christ Jesus, that in the ages to come He might show the exceeding riches of His grace in His kindness toward us in Christ Jesus. For by grace you have been saved through faith, and that not of yourselves; it is the gift of God, not of works, lest anyone should boast.

Ephesians 2: 4-9

So we can now boldly state, according to Ephesians 1 and 2, God who is rich in mercy has seated us (the Church) together in Christ at the Father's right hand in heavenly places far above all principality and power and might and dominion, and every name that is named, not only in this age but also in that which is to come!

Before anyone reading this could physically walk or stand, they had to sit up first. When we were babies, sitting up literally gave us a new perspective on the world. We could look down or across at things, rather than always staring up from below. Likewise, we must sit up in Christ in the place of confidence and see all things subjugated to His lordship. This is a place of rest and knowing who we are and where we are positioned. It's from this place we can begin to walk what we talk and make a stand for righteousness. When we understand that all of heaven is backing us, we can be boldly energized and effectively mobilized as we are harmoniously synthesized in Christ who is omnipotent having all power.

When we begin to really believe this fact, we will be able to walk in realms of influence and effectiveness as we relate to this new identity.
Up until this time, we have had an identity crisis. We have been trying to achieve and accomplish great things from a low place as opposed to a high place with all the saints positioned for complete victory.

This mentality, this awareness, this revelation is the foundation of true heavenly citizenship. We are not foreigners and illegal aliens. We are documented by God's Word. We have identification as legal immigrants from heaven. We have obtained our citizenship from heaven as we have been seated in Christ who sits on the throne of God and transferred that citizenship to this earth!

Now, therefore, you are no longer strangers and foreigners, but fellow citizens with the saints and members of the household of God, having been built on the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ Himself being the chief cornerstone, in whom the whole building, being fitted together, grows into a holy temple in the Lord, in whom you also being built together for a dwelling place of God in the Spirit.

Dual Citizenship

There are many believers who have lacked the understanding of dual citizenship. There are those who embrace the earthly citizenship and attempt to impact society without a strong consecrated faith in God. These people have good work ethics, but when adversity hits, there is a lack of "staying power" and endurance. How can we gain momentum if we continue to "play it safe" by compromising the absolutes of God's Word in public? We cannot live victoriously and remain ambiguous; fearing the opinions of men. We must find our seat in Christ and abide steadfastly and immovable therein. We need to be rock solid and consistent without apology. When we deny the dominion of Christ on the earth, he denies our dominion in heaven. When we publicly recognize and favor His righteous cause, He then publicly endorses our actions in heaven.

On the other hand, there are strong Christians who have a great love and devotion to God and truly understand that it is by his mercy we are granted citizenship in heaven. These same people will not even register to vote because they do not want to be called in for jury duty. They have no clue what it means to live in a constitutional republic with liberty and justice for all. There is an old saying that we can be so heavenly minded, we are no earthly good. But I say, we should be so heavenly minded we are of great earthly good! We must not be deceived to think for instance that politics is dirty. Baby diapers get dirty also, but do we distance ourselves from the "dirty work" to clean them up and change them? It's time to mature and take personal responsibility for our communities. The days of walking past public policy with blinders on are over. Anyone who will not register to vote and make his or her voice be heard on the earth in the voting ballot has no right to murmur and complain. Even the apostle Paul was a Roman citizen. The man whom God appointed to write most of the New Testament understood the mandate to be involved in civics as a believer. Can we look an American soldier in the eyes who has fought for our freedom and say, " No thank you, I've opted to pass on liberty and give up my rights that you and Jesus bled for, thanks anyway."

Is this a hard thing to say? It's only hard when we reject our dual citizenship. Each time we fail to vote for the right thing, we give our legal rights away to someone who will vote for the wrong thing. We are no better than Adam and Eve when they gave their authority over to satan and suffered the fall from grace. Silence is golden but often times it is just plain "yellow."

We must first and foremost recognize our heavenly citizenship in Christ and then expand that citizenship into the county, state, and country in which we live. We Christians must be the voters, those who run for public office, and serve our communities. Jesus said that we must shine our light on the top of the hill, and that would also include capital hill. Amen?

Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven.

Saturated In The Spirit Of God

Ron McGatlin

Trust in the LORD with all your heart, And lean not on your own understanding, Prov 3:5.

There is a need to become so saturated in the Spirit of God that our intellect is not required to sift through men's opinions of what is from God and what is not.

We are in times of transition that have been described as transformation, reformation and even revolution. Times that are indeed fluid and can be turbulent. It is not probable that anyone except the Holy Spirit can guide us safely through these times of radical change. Much knowledge and even the best understandings from the past must bow to the Holy Spirit revelation of truth and guidance establishing the reality of Christ abiding within a people who are abiding in Him. The many branches must be connected directly and permanently into the one true vine.

Men of God can only speak with true authority what they themselves have heard and seen God doing or saying. Otherwise there is a dependency on what someone else has said or written in the past. Often teachings (doctrines) of the past "institutional church age" have been established from intellectual discernment of the word more than from Holy Spirit revelation of the word of God. This can also lead to demonic input as well. In this way traditions of men and doctrines of demons are passed on as truth.

John 5:19 Then Jesus answered and said to them, "Most assuredly, I say to you, the Son can do nothing of Himself, but what He sees the Father do; for whatever He does, the Son also does in like manner."

Mat 15:6 ....Thus you have made the commandment of God of no effect by your tradition which you have handed down.

1 Tim 4:1 Now the Spirit expressly says that in latter times some will depart from the faith, giving heed to deceiving spirits and doctrines of demons.

One of the major schemes of the enemy is to set up false counterfeit teachings or mixtures that look much like the truth and may contain some truth, but with a deadly error embedded within. The enemy knows that when the error is discovered many people will reject the whole teaching and anything that looks like it as false. The true revelation, which may look or sound much like the false, may also be rejected and the people will miss the revelation of truth that God has sent. In an effort to protect doctrines, theologians may come up with a counter teaching against the true revelation by using intellectual interpretation of the word. They may also be affected by the enemy twisting their understanding. Many good people who rely on what others have said rather than hearing and seeing what God is doing and saying may inadvertently speak against the truth while thinking they are defending it. A deceived person does not know they are deceived.

The word does not change but revelation of the word to man is progressive. God continues to remove the covers from the eyes of those sincerely seeking Him, thus revealing more truth of the word. One factor in further revelation coming forth is the level of purity in the heart of men. Experiencing the loving presence of God in intimate oneness with God leads to humble innocence, purity and holiness in the heart of God's people. This opens the way for increased release of revelation of the truth. The experience of spiritual outpourings of revival and renewal coming forth in recent decades have led to increased levels of brokenness, humility, and oneness with God for many people, thus opening the way for increased revelation of the word of God.

The people moving with God in this transition season are not all at the same place in the process, but rather are at various stages and therefore cannot always see everything exactly alike. The people of God who are not at all moving through this transition cannot possibly understand what is going on and will turn to their previously held teachings and understanding for guidance and may reject much of what God is doing. They can then easily become affected by a critical spirit and fight against what God is doing while thinking they are protecting the pure doctrines of the church. They may attack just because they hear a certain buzz word or see a certain manifestation that they do not understand.

The kingdom of God is in the Holy Spirit. Jesus is the King, the embodiment of the kingdom.

Jesus abides in His people by the Holy Spirit.
Being filled with the Holy Spirit is being filled with Jesus - Jesus abiding in us.

His people abide in Jesus by the Holy Spirit.
Abiding in Jesus is tantamount to our being saturated or immersed in the Holy Spirit. Baptism in the Holy Spirit is immersion in and saturation with the Holy Spirit.

Jesus and the Father are one. When Jesus abides within us the Father is with us. When we abide in Jesus we are with the Father.

Jesus is within and Jesus is among His people by the Holy Spirit.

We become the Body of Christ who is the King. Literally the kingdom is within us by the Holy Spirit - and as Christ also manifest among us by the Holy Spirit, the kingdom is within and without by the Holy Spirit.

Rom 14:17 for the kingdom of God is not eating and drinking, but righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Spirit.

Luke 17:21 "nor will they say, 'See here!' or 'See there!' For indeed, the kingdom of God is within you."

John 10:30 "I and My Father are one."
John 17:21 "that they all may be one, as You, Father, are in Me, and I in You; that they also may be one in Us,....
John 17:23 "I in them, and You in Me;....

John 10:37-38: "If I do not do the works of My Father, do not believe Me; "but if I do, though you do not believe Me, believe the works, that you may know and believe that the Father is in Me, and I in Him."

Walking in the Spirit is walking in the kingdom of God. Christ living in His many membered Body is the kingdom of God on earth as the Body does only the will of God on earth as it is done in heaven. As heaven is affected by the will of God being done by all involved so the world is affected by the will of God being done by the Body of Christ (the "Christ in you people"). An atmosphere of heavenly holiness is beginning to develop in pockets and places in the world. As the light grows it spreads into increasing areas of the world.

Judgment comes upon evil in an atmosphere ruled by the holiness of the kingdom of God. Judgment came quickly in the holy atmosphere of heaven when Lucifer and a third of the angels rebelled. As the kingdom of God people come forth in an increasing remnant across the world the atmosphere begins to change to a heavenly holiness of light invading the darkness. This prepares the way for judgment upon the wicked and ungodly. The judgment of God is with great love and mercy. Many who sit in darkness will experience judgment and quickly begin to move toward the light of the kingdom of God. Only those who willingly choose to deny God and cling to darkness will be removed by the angels as tares from the kingdom of God. (Mat 13:30)

Myriads of angels are poised across the earth. All heaven is waiting and watching anticipating the purified holy sons of God, the Body of Christ saturated in the Holy Spirit to mature and emerge in the fullness of Christ to overcome the works of the devil.

This is it. We have entered the season of the kingdom of God that Jesus shed His blood to redeem. Earth shaking changes have begun upon the world. As the mature Body of Christ emerges and the light expands the enemy will fight with great wrath because he sees the end of his reign on earth coming to a soon end. (Rev 12:11-12) This is a season of extremes. We need not try to build back what God is destroying. We cannot rescue what is being removed or rebuild what is crumbling. We can only cling to that which cannot be shaken.

Heb 12:28 Therefore, since we are receiving a kingdom which cannot be shaken, let us have grace, by which we may serve God acceptably with reverence and godly fear.

God's Inexhaustible Kingdom Reality
Ron McGatlin

As God's people begin to crawl out from under the blanket of human and religious limitation and to stand erect in the holy light of heaven's ways, vast changes of our reality begins to occur. The lowly image of sin identification begins to lift. The imposed beliefs that we are all sinners and will always be sinners begins to be washed away. There is more to this than "lost sinners and saved sinners." There is the righteous of God. Holy men and women of God who do not live under the limitations of sin but are free to move in the supernatural world of holiness and purity flowing the love of God.

Focus on failure creates negative faith that limits the work of God. Living under a blanket of religious "false grace" is false righteousness. Thinking that God sees only our religious blanket of "righteousness" and cannot see our continuing to live in uncleanness, lust, immorality, greed, covetousness and strife is foolish deception and a mockery of God.

1 John 3:7-10: Little children, let no one deceive you. He who practices righteousness is righteous, just as He is righteous. He who sins is of the devil, for the devil has sinned from the beginning. For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, that He might destroy the works of the devil. Whoever has been born of God does not sin, for His seed remains in him; and he cannot sin, because he has been born of God. In this the children of God and the children of the devil are manifest: Whoever does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor is he who does not love his brother.

Kingdom of God principles are idealistic. The kingdom of God is ideal. Yet the heavenly ways of the kingdom must become our practical reality in this life. This is not only possible but is absolutely necessary to bring forth the kingdom of God lifestyle into the world. There must be holy mature sons of God to release the inexhaustible resources of God to change our world.

How is this possible? How can it be that men and women can live on the earth in real holiness, in the practical reality of pure righteousness? How can men and women who have been trained in failure live in pure righteousness? We know of the substitutionary death of Jesus at the cross to pay for our sin but how do we quit sinning and live holy lives?

Identification with the cross is fully adequate to take care of our forgiveness but it cannot stop our sinning. There must come the fullness of identification with the resurrection life of Christ to stop sinning and live in real practical holiness. The cross is incomplete without the resurrection.

How then do we attain to the resurrection life of Christ?

The "greatest mystery" and the answer to our question is the pure revelation of the reality of "Christ in you the hope of glory".

The religious way is to try to reform ourselves according to the pattern of Christ. Oh -- the pain of the many failures of this soulish attempt. Oh -- the guilt of never quite measuring up - of really doing good for a season and then failing or backsliding to be worse than before - the frustration of trying to believe for miracle working power to heal the sick and save the lost. Oh -- the disappointments of seeing those that we thought were making it, those we highly respected, fall into ugly sin and failure. Oh -- the sick feelings of discovering their secret hidden sins hidden behind their efforts at being like a godly person or like Christ.

Jesus said, Only God is good. Jesus as a sinless man empowered by the Father through the Holy Spirit spoke clearly that only God is good. It was God in the man Christ Jesus that made Him the Son of God even before his glorification at the cross and resurrection.

Mat 19:17: So He said to him, "Why do you call Me good? No one is good but One, that is, God.....

It is the practical reality of the resurrection life of Christ in us by the Holy Spirit that makes us sons of God and that does the works of Christ now on earth. It sounds like blasphemy to really recognize the reality of Christ Jesus and the Father can literally live in us causing us to become the body of Christ in reality. "It is no longer I that live but Christ." "as He is, so are we in this world." We are as Christ in the world. Only Christ living in man can do the supernatural works of God. Only Christ in us can fully obey the Father and do only what we see and hear him doing and saying. Only Christ in us can in a practical reality reclaim the kingdoms of the world as the kingdoms of our God.

The world has yet to see the fullness of the supernatural power of the love of God flowing through the sons of God on earth. But we are getting started in the right direction and are closer than we were. There is an increasing number of maturing sons world wide doing the supernatural works of god now.

Oh the glory of the manifested Son filling the earth. The glory of God shall cover the earth. There is an inexhaustible reality of the love and power of God. God provides inexhaustible supply supernaturally - water from a rock - daily manna in the desert - a scrap of oil and meal that doesn't run out - the jar of oil that does not stop pouring until all the available vessels are filled - the feeding of thousands with a few loaves of bread and fish with baskets full left over.

True grace (the empowerment of God to live righteously) and the love of God poured out into every available vessel with absolutely no end to the power, wisdom and love through Christ in His sons by the Holy Spirit. The "unmerited" gift is the power to live above sin and all natural restraints as we lose our life and His life is manifest in us. It is Christ and not us that lives and Christ cannot sin and in Him all power and all authority abides on earth, in the mature sons of God, as the Son of God lives on earth by the Holy Spirit of God.

Walk in the Spirit. Abide in Christ and He in you. Become one with the Son and the Father. Meditate, soak, live in the manifest presence of God coming forth on earth by the Holy Spirit and allow the fire of His presence to consume all self centered life. Seek Him with your whole heart. Come to know Him and be known of Him. Hear His voice and obey. Only do and say what you hear and see the Father doing and saying. Christ in you the hope of glory will become the reality of His manifested glory.

Strangers In The World

Cheree Bartlett

I recently had a conversation with my sister about when people we love pass away. She told me how she didn't particularly care for the comments of people when they would say "I know he/she is in a better place." because they weren't necessarily comforting and did nothing to ease the grief. Her comment gave me pause to consider this statement which is without a doubt a commonly uttered sentiment by people who are trying to be helpful in a sad and hurting situation. The following discussion is my consideration of her statement as it relates to the body of Christ.

In Genesis 15:13 the Lord told Abraham "Know for certain that your descendants will be strangers in a country not their own and they will be enslaved and mistreated four hundred years." As the Lord declared the descendants of Abraham were indeed enslaved for four hundred years and later delivered from that slavery by God and eventually settled in the country he promised Abraham they would be. As the spiritual descendants of Abraham, the body of Christ has received its freedom from being slaves to sin through the shed blood of Jesus Christ so that this world and its ways are no longer home for us. In 1Peter 2:11 the apostle Peter reiterated this concept when he stated, "Dear friends, I urge you, as aliens and strangers in the world to abstain from sinful desires which war against your soul." I believe that the reason the above cited words of solace may result in little comfort to grieving loved ones can likely be attributed to it not coming from a place of belief and a life lived in the reality of that belief. It's not that whatever sentiment is offered when a loved one passes away will erase the pain of their loss, but as saints of God when a fellow saint and loved one passes away that statement should not be just a platitude we or others use to idly comfort ourselves. If our discipleship is continuously characterized by our becoming more and more strange to this world and we live our lives as such then when we face our mortality, other saints who live their lives as strangers will be able to say with all sincerity of belief "I know he/she is with the Lord." That is different from someone who is speaking from niceness, or some other religious belief where the blood of Jesus has not taken the sting out of death for them.

This world and particularly modern society easily obscures for saints that we are strangers in the world. We can find ourselves immersed in the everyday doings of life, the everyday survival modes so that we lose that stranger mindset. We are sucked into bill payments, careers, relationships and all the other worries and cares of life so that if the Lord requires something of us in the nature of moving our tents we are hardly amenable to it. When I say (we) I do not mean everyone because I know there are people who have made the jump to living their lives as strangers, but probably far too many of us with gifts, talents ,abilities, dormant calls and ministries have been sucked into the maelstrom of life with all its' distractions. I must admit I think it's a difficult balance to walk, to be in the world, but not of it and find myself spinning in the whirlpool of this situation and that circumstance from time to time. After all, we have responsibilities and obligations in this life; however, the challenge is to not be drowned by them so that they become our life instead of the Lord Jesus. In Matthew 13: 1-23 Jesus told the parable of the sower sowing seed on four types of ground: (1) path (2) rocky (3) thorns (4) good. It states in verse 22 " The one who received the seed that fell among the thorns is the man who hears the word, but the worries of this life and the deceitfulness of wealth choke it, making it unfruitful. In our society and this world there is ever accumulating lists of worries to choke the Lord Jesus who is the word and his speaking in our lives making it at any given point unfruitful. I would hazard to say that most of us fall into the worries of this life category, but if we do not there is no free pass for those with wealth because their wealth can deceive them and equally choke the word.

The worries of life are definitely stealthy culprits in dimming our view to our alien status in this world. Conversely, the worries of life may not be some saints main issue. Instead it may be the attraction of an ever dizzying array of entertainment choices and leisure activities. The luxuries of life are as beguiling and potentially consuming as the worries of life so that those who are privy to it have an interest in maintaining the status quo and saving for the purposes of this discussion, western civilization from its moral decline for themselves and their children. Although, I believe as saints we have a duty to live godly lives in whatever social capacity we find ourselves and to be light and salt, it is not the duty of the church to establish or maintain a utopian society in this world. It is our primary duty to live in expectation of the return and reign of the Lord Jesus and let the world know of God's salvation and his pending judgment of an evil world no matter what form of government is currently en vogue from a global standpoint.

My point is simply that with incredible facility we can lose sight of our status as aliens in this world. As horrible as slavery is one can become comfortable in the situation so that freedom is actually abhorred and feared. This paradox is witnessed with Israel when God delivered them from slavery and many actually wanted to return to Egypt rather than endure the new challenges of freedom. In Numbers 16 we are treated to the account of three men who rebelled against Moses. Specifically, in verse 12 Moses summoned two of them Dathan and Abiram in which they responded "We will not come! Isn't it enough that you have brought us up out of a land flowing with milk and honey to kill us in the desert ….14 "Moreover, you haven't brought us into a land flowing with milk and honey or given us an inheritance of fields and vineyards. Will you gouge out the eyes of these men? No, we will not come!" It appears that these men had very short memories of their oppression under the Pharaoh of Egypt or were delusional. How else does one explain an association of bondage with milk and honey, but that is the nature of the world. It can delude and persuade us into believing it is the land flowing with milk and honey and we are better off aligning ourselves with its virtues and vices as opposed to embracing and enduring the hard ships of our God bestowed freedom until we have possessed the Promised Land. Dathan and Abiram's story is our story. When we have been set free in Christ and begin to know the trials and difficulties that sometimes beset us, it is tempting to look back at the world and believe we were better off ---to believe we had fewer problems, more friends and fewer obstacles and perhaps this is true. However, if we cannot endure the trials of our freedom and return to the plantation system of the world, we will find that like Dathan and Abiram we are set to perish.

Dathan and Abiram were physically out of Egypt but in their hearts it was still their home. They were not strangers in that country on their way to their own country and so they were not able to inherit land. So we learn from them that our hearts need to be for the country that is our own because when the world turns ugly and the fiery trials come it will be tempting to see it as flowing with milk and honey if our hearts are invested in it. When I consider the apostle Paul and his life I am equally impressed with how he faced death as with how he lived Christ. Languishing in a grimy Roman prison, he writes to Timothy:

For I am already being poured out like a drink offering, and The time has come for my departure. I have fought the good Fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith. IITimothy4:7

Here it is evident that the Apostle Paul knew he was about to die, but instead of a tone of sadness he established for Timothy a tone of hope in another reality. It doesn't appear that Paul is about to die, but that he is about to take a plane ride to go home to another part of the world where he is one day expecting a reward for his service in a foreign land. I find it further encouraging that the Lord must have let Paul know that his death was imminent. What maturity it must take to handle the knowledge of your passing when you serve the same sovereign God who divinely freed Peter from prison (Acts 12:1-10). It is doubtlessly easier to accept the knowledge of our healing and deliverance, but the knowledge of our death is another story. If Paul asked God to divinely free him and spare his life, it is not indicated here. After all the trials Paul had gone through one would think he would have received retirement at a posh Roman villa and death by natural causes at the age of 100 years plus his crown of righteousness on that day. If many of us were in Paul's place today would we be able to handle the knowledge of our passing and say with him I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith or would we collapse in hysteria and lobby for time, not because we desire to finish the race or even know we're running one but because our roots are still embedded in the soil of this world.

I do not mean to suggest that Paul was desensitized to living. I can imagine he wrote that letter through a haze of tears and I can imagine that as Timothy read it tears slowly trickled down his face and later gushed in a flood when Paul was no more. Grief and emotions are a part of us because they are a part of God and physical death no matter what hurts when it takes people we love; however, the great virtue and blessing of being a saint is that when our bodies are no more we still have a home. It with this fact that Jesus comforts his disciples when says:

Do not let your hearts be troubled. Trust in God, trust also in Me. In my Father's house are many rooms; if it were not so, I Would have told you. I am going there to prepare a place for You. John 14:1-2 (NIV)

Smoldering Coals

Mary Clark

In a vision, I saw some smoldering* coals.

*smoldering – on fire, ablaze, aflame, blazing, flaming, fiery

I see My beloved's heart. I am looking intently on that heart. I like what I see in that heart. I like where I am taking that heart. I am taking that heart to a new place in Me – the place of the smoldering coals. It is a place of intensity and fire. It is a place of hope – hope in the Beloved and hope in your future with the Beloved.

Know this: I have kindled a fire within each willing heart. I am bringing that heart into a holy union of love with Me. Never doubt My work and My ability to see you through. Never doubt that the King of glory can present Himself in full array to one surrendered – one intent on serving the Almighty, come what may.

A new era is dawning – an era when you must put your total trust in Me in a way you have never before done. This era holds much for one surrendered and trusting in Me. It holds much in the way of the fantastic being revealed. This is an era of great wonder and truth. It is an era of powerful revelation. Get ready for some knowledge about your God to overwhelm you.

Yes, My truth is like that – it is overwhelming. It is most satisfying to the soul. It brings life and health to those who are trusting in Me. Hear Me, and know that I find great satisfaction in bringing all that is coming to you – MUCH satisfaction. You could say that I am overwhelmed with the pleasure of the thought. You could say that I am most satisfied with My work – it is exemplarily – it is without fault.

So take that stand in Me, knowing that an era is dawning when those smoldering coals will take on a new look – a fiery, new look, and know that with this fire is coming something splendid – too splendid for words – too wonderful to be told. For mere words cannot express the work of the Almighty. Mere words cannot equal this work in any capacity. So lean not on your own understanding, beloved. Stand firm in the knowledge that the One Who is Love has deemed it necessary – beneficial – to present this hour to My beloved children, and anything that is beneficial to you is beneficial to My cause.

I long for this new hour to begin. It is surely coming. Get ready for the fire, knowing that those smoldering coals within were placed there by My Spirit and they are going to blaze high with the knowledge of My most profound love like NEVER before. Stand firm in your calling, knowing that it is My desire to perfect you – perfect you in every way in order for you to rise to the occasion that I have set before you – a most wonderfully glad occasion when you will be brought into My sphere – My sphere of great pleasure and much hope!!!

Green Flies
Mary Clark

The Sign of Flies/ Green Flies
Priscilla Van Sutphin / Mary Clark
Sep 29, 2005
NOTE:

Mary's word below reminds me of an experience in India so thought I would share with you. To me flies represent LIES of the enemy. One day in Andhra Pradesh, I was speaking at a pastor's conference, and I was speaking on prayer. The Lord at one point pushed me to talk about "witchcraft prayers". So I did and as I explained what that was, and how we are to bless and not curse, some of them seemed to be talking to each other so I asked Ben, why, what was going on. He said they were chattering to each other because they had been doing that!

Pastors there are not like here I found out when there. Most there, go out to a village in FAITH to start a church at the beckoning of God. They may or may not have schooling. They just listen to the voice of God and go.

After this session I went back to Ben's house, and in my room ONLY...and it's a big house with many rooms, there were black flies all over the windows inside and out...of 4 windows I think...I remember being stunned because they were not moving. So then Prasant and Grace helped me to swat all the flies on the inside, and then they swept them up. Then the Lord said to me very clearly, " this morning you swatted a lot of flies " ! hahaha PTL !

So He was saying, by the teaching I'd dealt with a lot of lies they had believed. To me it was an amazing object lesson. The pastors repented and all renounced all the ungodly prayers/curses they had placed on anyone. Love, Pris

Mary Clark

barnabessie@earthlink.net
September 29, 2005

The Lord has been speaking to me about green flies lately and I decided to look on the Internet and get some information about them.

Blowflies, Greenbottle flies and Bluebottle flies are all common large flies, noted for their blue or green coloration. These flies are often flying up and down in a window, making their characteristic buzzing sound. Blowflies are scavengers which deposit their eggs on decaying meat, fish, garbage, fecal matter and dead animals. These materials on which blowflies deposit their eggs are the key in their elimination: find and eliminate these sources! Blowflies breed in damp organic material such as garbage and dead animals, therefore most of these pests found indoors actually originate from an outdoor source.

Here is what the Lord has to tell us about these flies: The flies are coming. The flies are coming. They are coming to your vicinity. Get ready to swat those demons with My truth. Get ready to speak the word of the living God as these flies swarm into your vicinity.

They are harmful to those who do not know My truth. They are detrimental to My will shining forth in that one who has not fed on My word.

I tell you truly that it is time to sit up and take notice of the living God. It is time to feed on My word – My truth. It is the ammunition that you need to conquer this tool of the devil. It is the ONLY tool that will combat his fury. Feed on My word. Feed on it voraciously. It will enable you to arise out of the vicinity of his lies. My truth will enable you to combat his lies while standing firm on My truth.

I am telling you, beloved, that the flies are coming. They are breeding at this very moment. They are coming to offer no hope and keep My children from walking in My words of truth. But the devil is defenseless when My word is used against him – defenseless in every sense of the word. So feed on My words of truth. Get them deep within your heart. Rehearse them to one another. Speak of them often. Don't let an opportunity go by without speaking My words of truth over any situation that arises.

I am eager for My beloved children to walk in My truth. I tell you, dear one, that the enemy is sending something your way that I liken to green flies – these green flies are detrimental to your well-being. You must take advantage of the word of your God; speak it over your situations and the situation of others. Do not listen to the lies of the enemy. Pay his lies no mind. You speak only the truth of the living God.

The green flies are on the way. They are harboring ill-will for those who welcome them. How do you welcome them? By believing the lies that they speak. By speaking those lies and ignoring My truth. THAT, beloved, is how you welcome them. Don't put the welcome mat out for them, beloved. Squash them with My words of truth. Speak loud and clear the simple truth of the living God, and see them dissipate into nothingness. YES! See those lies of the devil dissipate into nothingness, dropping out of existence, as My words of truth hit them dead center, declaring them powerless in the lives of My beloved children.

Show Me Your Face

Daniel Black

The Word the Lord gave me for 2005 all stems from Psalms 27:8. It is a WORD that stems forth from my personal journeys this past year, and where He is taking the Body this next year.

Psalms 27:8 KJV "When thou saidst, Seek ye my face; my heart said unto thee, Thy face, LORD, will I seek."

WILL YOUR HEART RESPOND...

To seek His face. The Lord said He'd show Himself to you if you seek His face in 2005. He is again looking for those who will cry out to see His glory just like Moses and David. He says to you seek My face. But will your heart respond, "Thy face will I seek?" Do you desire Him so much for Him to fill you to the uttermost. For those who seek Him shall find Him. He is seeking for a people who will be sensitive to His calling. He is searching for you. He said that there is no one like you. He doesn't want someone to come for you, but He DESIRES you. 2005 is a year for tuning your ear to His voice. For His sheep hear His voice. ho.

Come Lord. Show me your face. O I desire to look into Your eyes. As for me, I will behold thy face in righteousness: I shall be satisfied, when I awake, with thy likeness. (Psalms 17:15 KJV)....

INTIMACY...

Psalms 23:6 MSG "Your beauty and love chase after me every day of my life. I'm back home in the house of GOD for the rest of my life."

2005 will mark a new level of intimacy for many. It will seem, as the verse above states, that the Lord's beauty and love will chase after you. 2005 will be a year when the pursuer will become the pursued. When those who seek, and war, struggle, and suffer to see the face of God will no longer be chasing after Him, instead His beauty and love will pursue us. Times and levels in the Secret Place will be increased. He said this will be a time to look into His eyes. O to gaze at the "Beauty of Holiness." In these seasons you will be transformed from strength to strength, faith to faith, and glory to glory.

Lord, Your beauty is so amazing. I gaze upon You now O Lord. Take me deeper. New realms of intimacy with You O God. Increase. Increase O Lord. Take me away with you. Though being dark that I am, in Your eyes, I am lovely....

GRACE TO WHOM I WILL GIVE GRACE....

Matthew 11:29-30 MSG Walk with me and work with me--watch how I do it. Learn the unforced rhythms of grace. I won't lay anything heavy or ill-fitting on you. (30) Keep company with me and you'll learn to live freely and lightly."

To those who are willing to learn the unforced rhythms of My grace will I bestow upon them grace in 2005. "And He said, I will make all My goodness pass before you, and I will proclaim the name of Jehovah before you. And I will be gracious to whom I will be gracious, and will have mercy on whom I will have mercy (Exodus 33:19 MKJV)". This past year you have seen My tremendous grace and favor, yet you have also seen My wrath. But I say that I will give grace to whom I will give grace. If you want it, you must learn to walk in it. So, walk with me. Follow in My steps. I have already laid straight the path for you to take. If it is grace that you want, than you must learn to walk in it. If it is My heart, learn to walk in it. I will lead you and I will guide you. I do and teach. Learn from Me. If you learn the unforced rhythms of grace, surley My goodness and mercy shall follow you all the days of your life.

Jesus, help me to walk with You. Let me learn the unforced rhythms of grace in 2005, O God. This is my hearts desire, to walk in Your grace and mercy. I desire to see Your mercy and goodness poured out of me O God....

THE HARVEST...

John 4:35 Young's Literal Translation "...do not say that it is yet four months, and the harvest cometh; lo, I say to you, Lift up your eyes, and see the fields, that they are white unto harvest already."

2005 will see an increased persecution of My saints. The war is not over, nor has the battle been lost, but through your sufferings, many will come into My Kingdom. Do not see the harvest as being tomorrow, or next year, but as NOW. Look up and see from My eyes. I see the harvest white and plentiful. Ready now! There will be many who oppose and many in opposition. But can there be a victory without a battle?

"(1) Arise, be enlightened, O Jerusalem: for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee. (2) For behold darkness shall cover the earth, and a mist the people: but the Lord shall arise upon thee, and his glory shall be seen upon thee. (3) And the Gentiles shall walk in thy light, and kings in the brightness of thy rising. (4) Lift up thy eyes round about, and see: all these are gathered together, they are come to thee: thy sons shall come from afar, and thy daughters shall rise up at thy side. (5) Then shalt thou see, and abound, and thy heart shall wonder and be enlarged, when the multitude of the sea shall be converted to thee, the strength of the Gentiles shall come to thee." Isaiah 60:1-5 DRB. My sunrise GLORY is shining all over you. You will shine among the nations of darkness with sunburst brightness, ho!!! My Glory will shine down on those who seek My face.

Lord prepare me, to be a sanctuary, for Your GLORY, so that it may spread to the nations! Cover the earth with Your glory and light. Let it spread from my life...

TO BE HOLY...

Isaiah 35:8 KJV "And an highway shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called The way of holiness; the unclean shall not pass over it; but it shall be for those: the wayfaring men, though fools, shall not err therein."

To be holy as I am holy is what I call you to. Be blameless among men. For every sinful act you commit infront of other men, you put a reproach upon My name. Walk upon My highway of holiness. It is the way to My heart. It is the way to seeking My face. If you take My hand, I will lead you. Walk with me.

Lord, make me clean. Make me holy. I want to be just as You are. How long until I awake in Your likeness? Change me, and guide me, O God. May 2005 make me holy, just as You are. To be like just like You...

AMERICA MUST COME TO HER KNEES....

Acts 3:19 ALT Therefore, repent and turn back [to God] in order for your sins to be blotted out, in order that times of refreshing shall come from [the] face [fig., presence] of the Lord

America, how I love you, but how much longer before I must discipline you. America must come to her knees! I am ready to pour out refreshing and revival over the land, but America must come to her knees. If she we humble herself, seek My face, and turn from her wicked ways, I will restore America to her foundations. "But I'll fix her: I'll dump her in a field of thistles, then lose her in a dead-end alley. She'll go on the hunt for her lovers but not bring down a single one. She'll look high and low but won't find a one. Then she'll say, 'I'm going back to my Husband (God), the One I started out with. That was a better life by far than this one.' " (Hosea 2:6-7 MSG)

God we pray for America. We pray you open her eyes. We place a hedge of thistles around America. Lord she will not be able to go one way or another. She will not be able to find her foreign lovers of sin, but will only be able to walk the pathway back to You, O God. We cry out for a cultural revolution. We cry out for a Great Awakening. Take the blinders off the American people's eyes. Lord, let this happen in 2005....

THE NATIONS...

Revelation 22:1-5 MKJV "And he showed me a pure river of Water of Life, clear as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God and of the Lamb. (2) In the midst of its street, and of the river, from here and from there, was the Tree of Life, which bore twelve fruits, each yielding its fruit according to one month. And the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations. (3) And every curse will no longer be; but the throne of God and of the Lamb will be in it, and His servants will serve Him. (4) And they will see His face, and His name will be in their foreheads. (5) And there will be no night there. And they need no lamp, or light of the sun; for the Lord God gives them light. And they will reign forever and ever."

I am bringing healing to the nations. Many have encountered much disaster this year, but I will raise them up once again. This time My throne will be established among them. And they will worship Me for Who I Am.

Lord, we pray for the nations. We pray that their hearts would turn to You, and would seek Your face. We pray that these nations would be nations of the Cross! In Jesus' name, amen!

CHANGING THE WORLD

The Great Transition

It is vitally important for understanding present day truth that we fully recognize that we (the church) are in a season of great transition. For years prophets have seen it coming and have been speaking of a new paradigm, a new spiritual landscape coming forth.

As many individuals in the Body are drawn into the heart of God and are cleansed, healed, and humbled by the awesome love of Father, their lives are changing. Obedience to God and walking in the Spirit are becoming top priority in their lives and fresh revelation of the Word of God is pouring into them. We have now entered a season when many forerunners have entered into this awesome rest in the heart of the Father. This then has brought and is bringing an increasing level of maturity in the Body of Christ. The Body has begun to mature into love. We are headed toward the goal and desire of God for a nation of "kings and priests" a "royal priesthood."

Rev 5:10: And have made us kings and priests to our God; And we shall reign on the earth.

1 Pet 2:9: But you are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, His own special people....

2 Tim 2:12: If we endure, We shall also reign with Him.

Rev 20:6: ...but they shall be priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with Him...

Rom 5:17: ...those who receive abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness will reign in life through the One, Jesus Christ.

The maturation of the Body is preparing the way for a return to the original model of "ekklesia" (church) that Jesus and the disciples began. The systems of church are beginning to change to the new covenant order. But for the present moment we have a somewhat chaotic condition as the new meets the old and some change quickly and others slowly and some not at all. Keep in mind that the new is not new to God. It was His original desire. It is only new to us who have lived for centuries in a different way than His desire for His children.

There is only ONE ULTIMATE AUTHORITY. All authority flows from God. At this point we must understand that there is from God "dominion authority" and "spiritual authority". Adam was given dominion authority on earth. Spiritual authority is in Christ.

Dominion authority is delegated authority given to mankind over all that is upon Planet Earth. God gave dominion of the earth to mankind in Adam and has not rescinded it. Man was given and yet possesses the authority to bring forth life from God (tree of life) or to bring forth death through self government apart from God by the "tree of the knowledge of good and evil."

*Gen 1:26-28: Then God said, "Let Us make man in Our image, according to Our likeness; let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, over the birds of the air, and over the cattle, over all the earth and over every creeping thing that creeps on the earth." So God created man in His own image; in the image of God He created him; male and female He created them. Then God blessed them, and God said to them, "Be fruitful and multiply; fill the earth and subdue it; have dominion over the fish of the sea, over the birds of the air, and over every living thing that moves on the earth."

Man was given the rule over all upon the earth but was not originally given the authority to rule over other men. But man participating in the tree of self government apart from God has established structures of men and tribes dominating and ruling over others to fulfill their need or greed.

This establishes the kingdom of man which is invaded and empowered by spirits of darkness. Man has been delegated authority and can bring forth good or evil, the kingdom of light or the kingdom of darkness, on earth.

It was never God's desire that man partake of the tree of knowledge and establish godless rule on earth. His plan always was and yet is that His godly sons would serve as kings and priests and bring forth the rule of God from heaven on earth, the kingdom of God. (Gen 2:17)

God chose Israel as a forerunner nation to model the re-establishment of His kingdom. Man chose disobedience over relationship to God and continued to do so as God continued to seek a nation of kings and priests.

Moses was to lead the nation from severe bondage in Egypt to the promised land. Before entering the promised land the people needed reconnection in close relationship to God and instruction of the law to train the nation to prepare for the coming Messiah and the coming kingdom of God to the world. The people refused close connection with and direct leadership by God and insisted that Moses go up for them and relate to God for them. They wanted Moses to go up and find out what God had to say and they promised to do all that God told Moses. (Exo 20:19-21)

In 1 Samuel 8, the chosen nation of Israel demanded a king like other nations rather than having God to rule over them directly. God warned them what a king over them would do but allowed them to exercise their place of choice and dominion and allowed them to have another king.

Christ came and at the cross forever broke the back of the alternate plans of men and the enemy to continue self governing apart from God and to re establish the kingdom of God on earth as it is in heaven. Jesus called out disciples to follow Him and by the Holy Spirit modeled the kingdom of God. He demonstrated the power of God to destroy the works of the enemy and power over all the works of nature as he healed the sick, raised the dead, walked on the water, and quieted the storm. He demonstrated the power of the Holy Spirit working through a man as King to the world and Priest unto God.

God's nation of kings and priests was birthed again into the earth. The first Adam had failed but the last Adam completed the work of redemption and became the first of many brethren to be brought forth in the world as sons of God. Jesus ascended to the right hand of the Father to make intercession for the Father's many sons coming forth on earth.

At Pentecost the Holy Spirit came upon and entered within those waiting in obedience. The new nation of kings and priests was born and the same cloud and fire that rested above the tabernacle and that the people had followed in the wilderness came to guide and empower all of them as Christ was being formed within them. They then went out preaching the gospel everywhere with signs and wonders following as Christ worked with them. (Mark 16:20)

These ordinary people who were not of the Levitical Priesthood became the beginning of the desire of God for many sons becoming a nation of kings and priests. The Holy Spirit guided and miracles of deliverance, healing and speaking gifts began a harvest and the spiritual nation of Israel grew. They were freed from the imposition of governing from the tree of knowledge. The Spirit made some apostles, some prophets, shepherds, teachers, and evangelists. The Holy Spirit coordinated and networked the church of the First Born Son as Christ was being formed in many sons.(Rom 8:14) (Heb 12:22)

Heb 2:10-11: For it was fitting for Him, for whom are all things and by whom are all things, in bringing many sons to glory, to make the captain of their salvation perfect through sufferings. For both He who sanctifies and those who are being sanctified are all of one, for which reason He is not ashamed to call them brethren,

There was indeed much chaos going on in the religious world of that day. The old system tried to stamp out the new by persecuting and killing the people of God. Some were probably caught between the old way and the new and may have endured some confusion and debate within themselves and with others as they battled with old thought patterns and the new. The Pharisees could prove from the word, at least among themselves and their followers, that Jesus was not the Christ and that the whole matter of this new thing was OUT OF ORDER and was led by rebels and produced anarchy.

The old ways reentered the church

In the seasons after the beginning of the church the old "tree of knowledge" ways reentered the church and began to establish through some of the past methods of the old priesthood from before Jesus. The closeness with God and the Holy Spirit's leading and empowering was gone from them and men devised systems to replace the Holy Spirit's leadership and empowerment.

We are now experiencing a great change to the original ways of the reality of intimate closeness with God and dependency upon the Holy Spirit forming the Spirit of Christ within us to lead and empower His church. (Gal 4:19) (Col 1:27)

Many mixtures and interim developing models have been spawned through these early stages of transition. When the prophetic was restored it became overemphasized and is in process of refinement. So has been the case with each major part of restoration.

Apostolic Authority & Spiritual Networking

Apostles are being restored to the body and again some refining is yet due. Some apostles yet maintained enough of the old way that they began to go out and gather ministries or groups as THEIR network or to raise up sons to be their network and build their ministry. One can gather a following after the gifts, especially with some strong preaching and coercing. No minister is to have his own group or groups. They all belong to God and Christ lives in them. They are all children of God and are brothers and sisters before they are anything else. One never owns another man's children nor does he ever own his brothers and sisters.

Ministers, whether apostle, prophet, teacher, evangelist, shepherd or another gifting are to help God's young ones to grow up in Him. It is very important that the groups be connected with more than one apostle and other servant ministers in the course of their maturing.

As newborns a small group may be closely related to one nursing mother or father for a season to get them started on solid food and begin learning to feed themselves. And even then it is best that there be some older siblings involved to help train the babies. But the goal of getting them released to move on in their growth into sons of God needs to always be in mind. And they should become connected with others as soon as they are ready.

Spiritual networking happens supernaturally by the Spirit as spiritual relationships with brothers and sisters grow into place. The spiritual networking of a group connects out in many directions through the people within the group. Christ is the only head of spiritual networking and everyone relates first as sons and daughters to God and then secondly as brothers and sisters and after that the different gifts and works take place from those next to you that you are related to in Christ.

*Col 1:27: To them God willed to make known what are the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles: which is Christ in you, the hope of glory.

In true "spiritual authority" there is no delegated authority as there is in "dominion authority". The Father flowing through the Holy Spirit forming the Spirit of Christ within the "dead to self" humble son of God is spiritual authority. The only authority is Christ in you. Spiritual authority is Christ himself ruling and reigning in His Body. All of our great "tree of knowledge" understanding, all of our great oratory skills and strong voice is nothing and useless. Only His voice, His love, His correction, His power, is ordained authority. Anything else is mixture at best and always inordinate.

Some of the biggest "lone rangers" are some of the ones shouting out the most against lone rangers. Some old style leaders may be gifted men and sincerely seeking to serve God with a congregation under them and yet flowing from their own soul without the guidance and empowerment of the Holy Spirit. They are very much alone (lone rangers) controlling everything without having experienced the death to self that allows Christ to become the only head involved. There needs be real repentance and seeking God for the reality of spiritual networking under the one true head.

Accountability

Spiritually we are accountable only to God in the authority He has established. The Spirit and the Word are our first line of authority that we must be accountable to. We are accountable to hear and obey. Our accountability is to God, first within ourselves and to Christ in our brothers and sisters. Especially the Christ in our spiritually mature brothers and sisters. If we are yet babies we may be primarily accountable to Christ in one special person. But as mature believers we must needs be accountable to Christ in several brothers or sisters.

In any event in spiritual matters we are always only accountable to God and must needs to not follow "the man" in any brother. When it stops being Christ in the man speaking we need to stop listening and offer no accountability. Again this is networked by the Holy Spirit and not by man's intellect. When correction comes through Christ in a brother it will be effective and we must need to listen and obey. It may be painful to our flesh but it will prosper our spirit. It will be as the wounds of a friend. But if correction come from the flesh or soul of a man it will be as death to our spirit and will probably bring only harm.

We are subject in the natural to the civil authority that God has allowed to exist in our area. This is delegated authority from God and not direct authority. (Rom 13:1) It may not be Christ in the official at all. Yet if it is the law of the land we seek to live within the law. If we break the law then we must willingly submit to the subscribed consequences of the law. If however we are unjustly punished for doing good and take it patiently then the Spirit of glory rests upon us. There is special provision for persecution as we bless those who curse use us and pray for those who spitefully use (or abuse) us. (1 Pet 4:14-16)

Mat 5:44-45: "But I say to you, love your enemies, bless those who curse you, do good to those who hate you, and pray for those who spitefully use you and persecute you, "that you may be sons of your Father in heaven....

Snake Oil

snake oil -- a liquid substance with no real medicinal value sold as a cure-all or nostrum, esp. in a medicine show.

nostrum -- a patented medicine of a kind sold with exaggerated claims; quack medicine. A pet scheme for solving some social or political problem; panacea panacea -- a supposed remedy, cure or medicine for all diseases or ills; cure-all

In a vision, the Lord showed me some oily looking black snakes, and then I heard Him say, "snake oil." Here is what He has to tell us about snake oil: The devil has been feeding My dear children a load of snake oil and they have been lapping it up. Let Me tell you what I mean.

My children are looking for a cure-all to the world's situation. They are looking to man to rectify the situations of earth. Don't you know -- don't you realize, beloved, that all is in My hands -- My capable hands? It is. So rely on Me.

No matter what you see or what you hear, rely on your Beloved to set all things to right in My own good time. I am calling for My dear children to look to Me, their Creator, in the days ahead in a way like never before. Stay focused on the Beloved. Take in no more of that horrendous snake oil. Drink only the word of your God, and walk in My kind favor. Rely on Me.

I am fascinated by the way man continues to look to man to set things to right. I am fascinated when I hear My own dear ones speak words of trust in another man. Don't do that, beloved! Don't look to man to rectify the situations on earth. Look to Me, dear one, and then all will fall into place.

Look on the cure-alls of man as what they are. They are snake oil. They are useless. They are of no benefit to you or to the world. Look to Me. Believe on Me and see My will accomplished in your midst.

Know My divine will. Walk in it, and be at peace, beloved, because I am your God and My intent is kind -- it is to bless and it will render all that I have spoken.

All the wonder that is in My heart will be pronounced on one who will follow after Me in total trust. Look to Me. Drink what I have to offer -- My living water -- and be filled and refreshed with the essence of your God. Now! Isn't that much more satisfying than a cup of snake oil, beloved? Isn't it much more pleasing to the heart and the palate???

String Of Beads

Lanna Perry

1st March 2004
Sydney Australia

My children, like a necklace is joined together, so I am calling My body, My children to come together. For if one bead is missing from a necklace, is it complete and functioning fully as it was created too? Surely Not.

My children, you are like a string of beads. You are called to work together. For a necklace cannot be a necklace with one bead alone. A necklace cannot function completely without all of the beads being joined together.

Yes, one bead alone has much beauty, but how much more beautiful are many beads strung together? I have created each of you to work together for My Kingdom. Yes, you each have individual callings, but together, you form the beautiful string of beads, My creation, My body, My church. Alone, it is not completed and perfect.

With a string of beads My children, can the beads stand alone? Can they join together and stand alone? No! What holds them together? The string! I am the string in each of your lives. You cannot join together and stand together without Me as your lifeline, without Me as your center. My children, where does the string join the beads together? Through the center. Yes, through the center. I am to be the center of each of your lives. I am to be the One and ONLY constant support and source of your lives.

Stop placing other objects in the center of your lives, and allow Me to grow more and more as being the center of your lives. Without the string, what happens to the beads? They all fall apart. Without Me, the body of Christ falls apart. Without Me nothing can be held together. Everything comes unglued when I am not the center and the support.

Many of you are walking in situations where you have not allowed Me to be the center and support in that area, and that area is beginning to fall apart. Why? Because you have not allowed Me My rightful place. My children let go, and allow Me, the Greatest and strongest string of support, bring things together, form them as they should be, and shine My beauty through it.

I see your hearts, and the constant desires to bring forth My Glory and to serve Me in great ways. I see these desires and am greatly blessed, and am speaking to each of you, to work together, in unison, as a string of beads, to fulfill the purposes for which you were created.

Partner with those to whom I have called you too and allow Me to use each of you together to bring about My Glory. Partner with those around you that I have brought to you, to minister with, and partner with them. Allow the unity that I am calling My body too, the unity that flows between My Son, My Spirit and I, to manifest itself in your lives.

Yes each of you have callings, but together you form the beauty of My people, My church, My body. Without one, it is not the same. I have called each of you to come to Me and allow Me to minister to each of you.

I am bringing about change on this earth, through My children, I am preparing My church, for My return. My bride. I am surrounding you My church with My fire, that you may be without spot, wrinkle or blemish, when I return to receive you.

Many of you have allowed unforgiveness, have allowed bitter hearts, wounds and grievances to cause disunity among My body, and church and this saddens Me. People have wronged people, and people have caused people hurts, both deliberate and unintentionally. This has allowed disunity to come between My people and this is not My will.

My children, in order to function properly as My church, you must function as a body. Together! Like a string of beads, you cannot function in the way and purpose you were created for unless you are joined together.

Release old wounds, release unforgiveness, release grievances. Come to Me and allow Me to heal these things, and allow Me to bring about restoration. I am not saying that you must continue to fellowship with those who hurt you, but bless them. Bless them, and release the hurt and unforgiveness, so unity, My unity may flow throughout every area of your life.

For if you hold onto unforgiveness and hurt, it dampens My shine through you. You are part of the body, but you are not functioning properly. You are not allowing My Spirit to function through you in the way I have created you. Unforgiveness and bitterness dims My light within you, so as it dims the light within you, it brings about shadow in My body.

My precious children, My beads, you are continually in a process of refinement. Wherever you go My Spirit and My fire surrounds you, continually conforming you more and more into My image. My Spirit, My fire is continually burning away and bringing to light any dross that shows forth itself in your life.

Continue to come to Me and allow My Spirit, My fire to shine on you, and bring to the surface anything that may hinder My shine through you. My precious children, My beads, I am polishing you every day, so that together as a string of beads, as My body, you will shine brighter than the noonday sun.

Center yourselves on Me. Allow Me the One string that cannot ever be broken, allow Me to be the center of your lives. Join together My children. Listen to My Spirit. Listen to My Spirit crying ‘unity’. Listen to My Spirit crying out for My body, My bride to join together and complete the work in which I have planned for this earth.

The necklace of My Kingdom cannot function with a bead missing. If one bead takes off and ministers alone, the necklace is then not complete. As My children, My beads, My necklace, you must work together, and serve together.

Rise Up My children. Be the Bride I have created you to be. Lay aside all and rise up into your destiny. To move together as MY BRIDE, bringing about MY Glory on this earth TOGETHER. Not alone, TOGETHER.

Are you going to allow disunity to hinder the work that I the Lord your God, the Mighty String that has no beginning and end, have planned for this earth? Will you not come to Me and allow Me to bring healing to you, then lead you to restoration, so then you may see My Spirit of unity move in your lives? Are you willing?

I am constantly drawing together My beads, together to form the necklace that I am preparing to show the world. Such beauty, such elegance and such glory.
Endure the fire, endure the testing so that I may shine in you brighter than ever, and joined to Me and unified with My other beads, My other children, you shall add to the Glory of My Kingdom.

Come together. Listen to My Spirit. Come together My beads. Center your lives on Me. Endure the fire, lay aside all grievances, allow Me to bring restoration, and watch how you shall add to the ‘Shine’ of My Kingdom that none else can. Together, watch the Necklace of God, that I wear proudly around My neck, function as it was destined too. Shining forth, all to speak forth and show the world the name above all Names. My Name.

The world has not yet seen what I am about to bring forth. You, each of you, My precious beads, are crucial to what I am doing. Each one of you are SO special to Me. So beautiful, and not ONE missed. For I will leave the 99 to come after the one. Each of you, I know your every detail, and you are so beautiful to Me. Together, with all My other beautiful beads, bring about the Glory and Splendor of Me. My Bride, My beads.

Oh how I wear you SO proudly around My neck. Be unified My beads, Be unified.

Windows
Lanna Perry

3rd March 2005
All night I just keep hearing windows opening in the Spirit. Continually. It has been so strong all night. Below is what I believe the Lord is saying. I submit this to your discernment.

I am now making a way where there is no way. Where many of you have believed that doors have closed, I am opening windows. My children I am now creating a pathway where there seems to be no other.
Many of you are in what seems to be hopeless situations, many of you seem to be in places where you are expecting a miracle. I am speaking to you, I will make a way where there is no other.
The door may not open the way you wish but the window will open. The windows are now opening. I am opening the windows. I am opening the windows around you to show you that I am moving, maybe in not the way you realise, but I am moving. I am making a way in the desert, where there is no other, I am creating a path.
I am the God of the impossible. I bring what does not even exist yet into existence. Many of you are believing for My hand to move in certain areas of your lives, I say wait on Me and you will receive. Wait on Me and you will see what I the Lord your God am doing in this hour.
I am opening the windows of heaven. I am opening the windows of heaven, so that you may smell the aroma of My depths. I am opening the windows so that you may smell what is coming directly from My depths, from My throne.

I am opening the windows so that you may have a taste of what is on My heart, what is happening in the Spirit, what is happening in the supernatural. Once you smell what is coming from the throne room, from My heart, will you still stand outside? Will you still wait and not come in, and sacrifice to spend time with your Beloved?
I am giving you a taste of what is from Me. I am showering My blessings continually over My people and longing for you to come and be with Me. Come deeper. Come into My sanctuary. If you came in more often I would not have to open the windows.
I am opening the windows because I love you, and will continue to pursue you with My Great love and will not give up on you. I am always offering you more of Myself.
I am opening My windows. I am opening up My Kingdom so that you may taste and see, that I am good. Many have come inside My sanctuary, many are residing within, but many of you are standing outside, many of you are not surrendering more and more to Me, to come into My sanctuary more often and see the deep things of My heart that I wish to reveal to all My children.

The windows of heaven have been opened and the Spirit is flowing out more than ever. The Spirit is moving quicker than before, and there is an urgency in the air. Still yourself, listen to the Spirit, listen to the wind, and how it blows, My Spirit calling out for deeper intimacy from My children. I am constantly speaking this message forth, because it is My heart.
Many of you disregard what I am saying, because you've heard it before, why do this? Is it not My heart above all to know you more? When do you get to a point of knowing Me completely on this earth? You do not. So this message is a constant for you My children.
The windows of heaven have been opened so that those outside may have a taste of My depths, but this is not enough, taste and then enter. Taste, and then sacrifice time to be with Me. Taste and surrender.

The windows of heaven have been opened to give hope back to those who have lost their hope. Where they are in places or situations where there seems to be nothing positive, where there seems to be no other way, where it seems no matter which way they turn the doors close. Well I the Lord your God am saying, where hope seems to have faded, I am making a way. Where you are living in a land where there seems to be no water, no refreshment, no substance, I am opening the windows of heaven to pour forth life and My Spirit, My waters.

Where you are crying out for breakthrough and not receiving, I am opening the windows of heaven, so My Spirit may flow forth and make a way where there is no way.
My children, have hope in Me. For the windows of heaven have been opened and I am pouring out My Spirit in greater ways. I am raising up a standard. I am raising up My army.
I am calling My children, come closer. Come closer. Come into the sanctuary and see what new and fresh thing, I the Lord your God am doing.

Will you stand at the window and peer in, and only taste? Will you taste the depths of Me, and remain outside? Or will you take this opportunity where I have opened the windows of heaven, to taste and surrender, and come to Me.
Those in despair, rejoice, rejoice, for where there is no way, I have now opened the windows of heaven, and am making a way. Creating a path where there was no path, because I love you, because of My Great and never ending love for you.

Soar Higher for Increased Strength & Vision

I have set you apart for service, ordained you for prosperity and caused you to soar above each and every circumstance that would try to weigh you down. Arise into your new anointing, and prepare to accelerate your ministry outreach. I have come to strengthen you this day and encourage you to seek the fullness of My prosperous way. This new elevation of ministry will provide a heightened perspective of vision and allow you to catch a stronger wind of My Spirit. Your current work is an active foundational support for My plans and purposes, which will be build upon the integrity of your heart and the wisdom and knowledge of My Word.
Many will see and know that the hand of the Lord is upon your life. Inquiring minds will come and ask, “What is the source of your joy and strength?” These will be divine opportunities for prophetic evangelism that will cause My kingdom to grow stronger as you help others to come in. A shout will arise from within your heart that Jesus is Lord! I have lifted up your name in Heaven, and proclaimed that you are My precious children. So march forward to a new sound of praise and worship, and release My power to the hungry hearts that are looking for the True Light.

Isaiah 40: 29,31
He gives power to the faint and to them that have no might he increases strength.
But they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint.

Strategy Of Haman In Esther

Christine Beadsworth

<keluwlah@iafrica.com>

Dear family

I don't usually send out two newsletters in one month but just really felt that what I have been learning is a follow-on from May's newsletter and did not want to wait until June to send this out. I am still chewing on the nutrition of this insight myself, so would welcome any feedback you may have.

We have been feasting in the book of Esther and last time dwelt on Esther and Mordecai and what happened between the two banquets. This time I want to concentrate on the King himself. He plays a pivotal role in the mighty deliverance that God wrought.

Haman had worked and wiggled his way through the other servants of the king until he was granted the position above all the other princes in the realm. The first time we hear of Haman is only in Esther chapter three. Before this the king had a number of other counselors or chamberlains that gave him advice. The Bible tells us that in the multitude of counselors there is safety. At some point, the King chose a way that was not wise by only having one chief counselor and I believe it had to do with his disillusionment following the betrayal by two of his chamberlains who plotted to kill him.

Whenever we are hurt in some way by those we have trusted, if we do not deal with the incident by forgiveness and full release, then we are vulnerable to allowing the enemy a doorway into our inner chamber. The king did not discern that Haman was dangerous, primarily because Haman appeared as 'an angel of light'. He probably sympathized profusely with the king for the cruel betrayal of his trusted chamberlains and flattered his way into the wounded king's affections. With his much persuasive and beguiling argument, he managed to fool the king into thinking he could be trusted above all others. In actual fact, the king had taken a viper into his bosom. Not only did he not discern his enemy but he welcomed and paved the way for his invasion and promoted him to the place closest to his royal ear. Haman had ambition to take Xerxe's throne which we learn later when Haman expresses his suggestion on how to treat the man the king wanted to honor – he was after the king's garment and crown.

Beloved, this is exactly the way the enemy works in our lives. We do not wrestle with flesh and blood but principalities and powers. Satan knows that he can never gain access to our inner chambers by a full frontal attack. He rather bides his time until disappointment, hurt and betrayal have done their deadly work and then, if we do not handle these painful experiences God's way, then he has a foot in the door and proceeds to flatter and beguile us with his satisfying arguments. He will go to any length to tell us how terribly we have been treated and how justified we are in our response of withdrawal from those we previously shared our hearts with. Because we are in pain, we do not discern that the argument being presented is not in line with the Word of God. It appeals to our soulish nature and causes us to feel justified in our unrighteous responses. Little by little we withdraw in our hearts from those we previously had relationship with, those who could speak into our lives and bring correction and encouragement, not realizing that we are walking right into the enemy's trap.

We see this process in operation in Proverbs 7 where the action of the loose woman is described. Beloved, this is not talking only about immoral women but is teaching you the modus operandi of a seducing spirit who seeks to beguile you away from wholehearted devotion to the Living God. If we do not treasure and keep the Lord's commandments then we become vulnerable to the work of a seducing spirit. Proverbs 7 calls the person who succumbs to its advances ‘a fool’ and we learn elsewhere in Proverbs that the man who despises counsel and instruction is a fool. Therefore, when we do not heed the Lord’s counsel to forgive and to bless those who curse us and pray for those who despitefully use us, then we have moved ourselves into the category of fools and are in great danger of being overcome by the strategy of a seducing spirit.

Most of us will not visit a prostitute frequenting a street corner, yet we tolerate the sound of (and sometimes deliberately tune into) hell’s radio station which is insidiously infiltrating our minds with the doctrine of demons. “Oh no, my sister, you are mistaken. I would never embrace the doctrine of demons – I love the Lord too much!” Well, every time you walk in unforgiveness you are extending satan’s kingdom and the only way you would do that without realizing it is if you are paying heed to a seducing spirit’s satisfying and beguiling argument which persuades you that you are somehow excused from obeying this particular portion of scripture because of extenuating circumstances. Unfortunately it is as simple as that.

King Xerxes officially installed Haman as his chief counselor. Haman’s father’s name was Hammedatha which means ‘he who troubles the law’. So this means the king had installed as his chief counselor someone whose root and foundational function was to argue with and contradict the law - or in this case, the truth of God’s Word. You see, Haman was not only planning the destruction of Esther and her people but his ambition was to possess the throne. When we through disobedience to the Word of God, give the enemy legal access to our lives, his intention is the destruction of our families and our ministries and to rob us of our seat in heavenly places. He is still after God’s throne as he was in the beginning – he wants the throne of your heart.

We only have to read in Esther chapter three to see plainly Haman’s beguiling argument concerning the destruction of the Jews. The enemy will always pit us against someone who is in reality our brother or sister in Christ – he is the accuser of the brethren, accusing us to one another and God to us. Haman made it sound like the Jews were against the king and he was so persuasive that the king gave him his signet ring to seal the destruction orders. In the same way, the enemy tries to persuade us to give our seal of approval to the destruction of our brothers and sisters in Christ by telling us that they are against us. He knows he has succeeded when we begin to carry out his destruction plans, using our tongues to assassinate the characters of our brothers and sisters behind their backs. If Xerxes had just gone to the Jews and asked them where they stood, he would have discovered them to be loyal and faithful subjects. In fact one of them, Mordecai had saved his life in the past. Sadly, the king chose rather to believe the evil report of Haman and sanctioned the death-warrant being issued. The Word of God tells us that if our brother has sinned against us, we are to go to them privately and sort it out. Sadly, how many of us do this. It is much more satisfying to discuss the problem with others who are sympathetic to our cause, even though we are presenting them with half of the story and thus furthering the enemy’s plan to bring division and destruction into the Body of Christ.

There is also a sobering warning for those of us who are married. We need to seriously seek the Lord’s wisdom as to whom we share our hearts with. If we have taken into our inner circle someone who does not love and honor and esteem our marriage partner but rather encourages us to take a stand against them and promotes division in the marriage, then we may well be listening to the enemy’s broadcast through that person and sadly enough it is often ourselves who have opened the door to the enemy by speaking against our marriage partner to others instead of going to them and dealing with the issue. King Xerxes had taken into his bosom someone who wanted the destruction of his wife and her people and he was unaware of it. I believe this is one of the major ways the enemy causes the destruction of Christian marriages – by driving a wedge between the unsuspecting couple through insinuations and lies and accusing them to one another. Without realizing it, Xerxes sanctioned and enabled the plan to destroy the woman who was most dear to him in all the kingdom – in fact his signet ring and his own tongue was involved. That is the subtlety of satan’s strategy and we are the target.

Now lets move to the banqueting stage of the story. The king, Esther and their enemy are seated at the table. Only Esther knows who is who at this charade. Haman is unaware that she is on to him and the king thinks he is having a meal with his favourite counselor and his darling wife. However this first banquet was not the appointed time for the revealing of the enemy. The enemy had gained access through the king’s own permission to the inner chamber and the king was well-accustomed to listening to Haman’s counsel. He liked him. We know this because it was Haman’s opinion the King sought out when he was considering rewarding Mordecai. Actually, we can be encouraged here because even when we have given the enemy territory through our own disobedience to the Word, the Lord still works all things together for good.

The question the king poses serves to expose Haman’s true state of heart and his deception concerning his position in the king’s heart. The enemy thinks in his own conceit that he has gained such an advantage in our lives that he is one step away from the throne. He does not realize that God has been counseling us in the night seasons and bringing to our remembrance his acts of deliverance and mercy in the past. God reminded the king about Mordecai. ‘Mordecai’ means:

Penitence; deep sorrow for sin; grief of heart for having offended and infinitely holy and benevolent God. The word is usually understood to mean genuine penitence, accompanied with a deep sense of ingratitude in the sinner, and sincere resolution to live in obedience to the divine law.

So when God was dealing with the king, it was concerning repentance and conviction of sin. Beloved, we are in a season when the Lord is coming to visit us in the night seasons to show us where we have gone wrong in our walk. He has heard our cries for deliverance in our situations and the place He is starting is our own hearts. Malachi three speaks about the Lord coming to His temple:

and the Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple, even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in: behold, he shall come, saith the LORD of hosts.
Mal 3:2 But who may abide the day of his coming? and who shall stand when he appeareth? for he is like a refiner's fire, and like fullers' soap:
Mal 3:3 And he shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver: and he shall purify the sons of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver, that they may offer unto the LORD an offering in righteousness.

The Lord is come to refine His Bride in the inner chambers of her heart. The king made restitution according to the conviction of his heart. Where he had not fully rewarded something that had blessed him, he made right the next day openly and in full. This is a sign of true repentance and sorrow for sin. There is an eagerness to make right and to bless. Mordecai was a Jew, someone who had already been officially recognized as one of the king’s enemies according to Haman’s twisted input. I believe that the Lord is going to so begin to dismantle the enemy’s stranglehold on our lives that we will begin to recognize that those we have believed are our enemies are in fact faithful and true friends, ones who have shielded our backs from the murderous tongues of others. As we repent of our wrong judgment there will well up within us a desire to heal the rift and to bless the faithful intercessors on the fringes of our lives.

So by the time the king arrives at the second banquet, he has done some serious damage to the enemy without even realizing it, just by acknowledging and blessing every good gift in his life. As we as husbands and wives begin to acknowledge the ways in which our partners are a blessing to us, not only in our hearts but openly before the eyes of others, we begin to dismantle the enemy’s stronghold in our relationships without ever openly confronting him or our spouses concerning his inroads into their lives! The power of life and death is in the tongue – lets choose life!

Following our acknowledging every good thing, there comes an acknowledging of evil. A perverse person calls what is good, evil and what is evil, good. This is basically the strategy of a seducing spirit. It will attempt to mix your signals so that you can no longer discern what the Lord's will is. This is a result of not fearing the Lord and trembling at His Word because obedience causes us to walk in a place of safety on the highway of Holiness where no unclean thing can travel with us. This is why it is so important to take every thought captive to the obedience of Christ. Any thought that is in opposition to the Word of God is a direct satellite transmission from the enemy camp. When the Lord comes to rescue us out of the snare of the enemy, He first gets us to call what is good, good. Then our mouths line up with His Word in this regard and the stronghold starts to unravel. In the beginning God called everything He had created 'good' and this is where we must start. Our battle is not against flesh and blood. Once we have given honor where honor is due then the stage is set for the final revealing and destruction of the enemy's foothold in our lives and families.

The king is shocked to discover that the very one he has embraced as a friend is in actual fact a diabolical enemy of his kingdom and his wife. God is about to uncover the works of darkness in our inner chambers, places where we have inadvertently been listening to the enemy's counsel. Beloved, some of the things we believe are not in line with the Truth. We sometimes embrace doctrines of demons without realizing it; especially when what we believe about others and act upon brings division and rifts in the Body. In Ezekiel 13 the Lord God speaks a very strong word against the lying prophets, who have spoken lying divination to God's people:

Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Because ye have spoken vanity, and seen lies, therefore, behold, I am against you, saith the Lord GOD. And mine hand shall be upon the prophets that see vanity, and that divine lies: they shall not be in the secret council of my people

Just as Haman was exposed before the king, so the Lord is going to expose every lying spirit that has sat in our secret council, feeding us lies in the name of the Lord. As we suddenly see clearly the plots of the enemy and how deep his inroads have been, there will rise up within us a holy anger and desire to drive far from our hearts every trace of the enemy's influence. Once again we will become a people who fear the Lord and tremble at His Word. The battleground is the mind and we will be eager to take captive and pull down every thought that exalts itself against the knowledge of God. God is shaking everything that can be shaken and bringing judgment upon His enemies, who have deceived and taken captive the minds of His people. The Message Bible puts it so graphically:

Eze 13:22 "'Because you've confounded and confused good people, unsuspecting and innocent people, with your lies, and because you've made it easy for others to persist in evil so that it wouldn't even dawn on them to turn to me so I could save them, as of now you're finished. No more delusion-mongering from you, no more sermonic lies. I'm going to rescue my people from your clutches. And you'll realize that I am GOD.'"

God is going to contend with those who have been contending with us and he will replace the 'Haman' in our thought-life with 'Mordecai'; He will replace the destructive doctrines of pride and rebellion against His Word with the conviction of sin and repentant hearts that run in the path of His commandments. This will cause the gates of hell to be unable to prevail against us and we will possess the gates of our enemies.

We have heard from many prophetic sources that the Lord is going to release keys to unlock our situations. I want to say to you that you are the key to your own situation. If the key will 'turn', then the door will begin to swing open and a mighty deliverance will be wrought. In other words, if you will repent of every area that you have not been walking in obedience to the Word and make right where necessary, you will set in motion the dismantling of every device that has stood against you and your family. The enemy has no weapon that works against a humble repentant heart!!

Cutting Away
Christine Beadsworth

This month I would like to share with you a prophetic picture that the Lord has been painting for me and speaking powerfully from. So often He speaks to us out of the ordinary everyday things that are around us and if we will not just rush past, we gain wisdom and insight into what the Spirit is busy doing in our lives.

At the entrance to our back patio, we have a wooden arch (which my husband constructed) with a beautiful climbing rose growing over it. Every year this rose is completely covered with a magnificent display of flowers and I am always blessed by its beauty and look forward to flowering time. Unfortunately, in winter we experience very strong winds and rain and this year, after a particularly bad storm, the wooden structure became very rickety and started to lean over. With every successive wind, more damage was done and it became quite dangerous to walk under it. My husband told me I needed to cut it back as the only way to rebuild the archway was to remove the climber and start again. I wrestled with this because I was so fond of this rose but eventually realized that there was no other solution. So, for two days I pruned and a huge pile of severed branches stood in the pathway, yet I hadn't even begun to tackle the main bulk of the rose above the archway. “Lord, I don't have the heart to cut this thing right back, it is so beautiful and look, there are a whole lot of new buds on it”, I wailed and straight away I heard His response, “you have a choice; either cut it right back or it will be uprooted in the next storm!” and suddenly I saw what He was trying to say.

The storms in our lives reveal the strength of our support structures or the foundations in our lives. If what our lives or ministries are built on is strong, we will weather the storms although a few branches may be broken or bent. Structural flaws remain hidden in fine weather but stormy winds reveal every place that is not properly put together. In the case of my rose, it had grown so big that it provided huge wind resistance and every buffeting caused severe strain on the archway. It was not that there was anything wrong with the rose; it was an extremely vigorous and healthy plant but the weight of it could not be supported by the underlying archway when the storm hit. In the same way, God allows storms to hit our lives for the purpose of revealing to us structural weaknesses that need attending to. Perhaps our prayer lives have become weak and ritualistic and we are too busy with the work of the Lord instead of the Lord of the work. God allows the trial to come so that we become aware of areas in which we are lacking so that we can allow Him to reinforce and mend every flawed area. James 1 in the Message says:

Consider it a sheer gift, friends, when tests and challenges come at you from all sides. You know that under pressure, your faith-life is forced into the open and shows its true colors. So don't try to get out of anything prematurely. Let it do its work so you become mature and well-developed, not deficient in any way.

We walked under that archway every day for years without giving it a second thought. We thought about the climbing rose often but only when the stormy wind came, did we turn our attention to the wooden structure holding it up.

Secondly, the storm revealed there was unnecessary bulk that needed attending to. Sometimes there are things in our lives which are not sinful but without our realizing it, they are weighing us down and holding us back from progressing at the speed God would like.

Heb 12:1 Wherefore seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us

It is time for the household of God to focus on the race before us and remove those things that are unnecessary in our lives. Marathon runners do not participate with backpacks, extra jackets, lunchboxes and CD players under their arms. They are dressed in the bare essentials and get refreshment along the way. Ask the Lord what represents the weights in your life. Storms are coming that are beyond the context of what we have ever known and if we are to withstand them, we need to suck every bit of wisdom we can out of the mild winds God is allowing to touch our lives and make the necessary adjustments so that we may be prepared for what is ahead.

Paul was on a ship on the way to Rome in Acts 27 and a severe storm hit. Paul received a warning from the Lord in verse 10 and cautioned the sailors not to continue on but they disregarded his warning and continued on. We must learn to heed the warnings of the Lord even if we perceive that a favorable south wind is blowing - because we cannot see what is waiting just round the next piece of coastline. As the story unfolds, a tempest hits them and eventually they are forced to throw out all the wheat they are carrying to lighten the ship. This was not superfluous cargo they had to cast into the sea. It was the food their lives depended upon but in this situation it was a weight that was contributing to their destruction. So they cast aside every weight in order to save their lives.

The weight of my climbing rose was contributing to the destruction of the archway. Even though these branches were the very ones that bore the profusion of flowers and they were in bud, they had to be removed for the saving of the plant. Sometimes, God’s pruning in our lives does not seem to make sense. He removes the very areas in our lives and ministries which we know are bearing fruit. It is at these times we need to submit and trust because we cannot see the tempest round the corner that the enemy has designed for our destruction. It seems God is being overly severe in His cutting back of our areas of influence and activity and it is painful to be so stripped down in our prime. We don’t understand His ways and feel just like those bare stumpy rose canes, exposed and humbled. None of the former glory is visible any longer. And then to top it all, the whole support structure is dismantled before our eyes! Paul’s ship was broken to pieces and they were saved by clinging to planks and debris and washed safely to shore.

Beloved, God is coming to shake everything that can be shaken so that what cannot be shaken remains. As long as you are rooted in Him, you will live to bear more fruit in a new season. However, if you will not submit to His dealings and allow your heart to be dealt with, the severity of what is coming will destroy all that you have worked for, leaving you neither root nor branch.
It was a painful experience for me to cut down this beautiful plant but I knew in my heart that I was doing it to save it. There were also some insights that the Lord revealed to me in the process. Out of the huge pile of discarded branches I was able to make many cuttings to start new plants and I suddenly understood something new about the Lord’s dealings. We pray for Him to extend our area of influence, to increase our ministry and yet we fail to understand that the best way He can do that is to prune us and take cuttings to start whole new plants bearing the same fruit as the mother plant. We might feel parts of us which were perfectly good and fruitful are being cut away but it is by this very action that God is increasing the potential of our influence.

My daughter has just gone to YWAM in Argentina and it has been painful for me to feel the cutting away and transplanting of someone dear to my heart but now that she is there, God has sprung up a whole new area of influence for His kingdom from me, the mother-plant. Our offspring shall possess the nations!

The other amazing thing about the removal of the archway and severe pruning of the rose is that suddenly we have a much wider view and so much more light. We did not realize just how much of a visual barrier the whole edifice was and now that it is gone we can see so much further and receive much more sunlight and warmth. In the same way, we do not realize that the size and bulk of what we are building for the Lord is obscuring our spiritual vision and perspective and preventing us from receiving light and revelation from the Son. If we will just let Him remove everything He deems necessary in this season, even if we feel our lives depend on it, we will discover we have come into a whole new level of revelation and spiritual understanding which will equip us for the season ahead. There will be a time of fresh sprouting and new growth in directions we previously had never imagined but the pruning must come first.

As we dismantled the old wooden archway, my husband said," I think we must put up two pillars in its place!" and I heard the Spirit say, " yes, I am removing the rickety structure of your own attempts at spirituality and I will cause this storm to build into you that which will make you pillars in My house"

Rev 3:12 Him that overcometh will I make a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more out: and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God: and I will write upon him my new name.

So, Beloved, a final word of encouragement; if you are facing a stormy wind, yield to the Lord's hand, cry out to Him to work in you what is pleasing in His sight and know that afterward what is of Christ in you will stand. Severe pruning is only done to plants which have already proved faithful in bearing fruit, for the purpose of producing more fruit in the next season. Although it may feel like your very life is being severed, trust and rest in the wisdom of Him who fully intends to bring to pass His purposes for you AND complete them. He has invested His Name in you and will bring glory to Himself through you!

Rom 8:17b(AMP) We must share His suffering if we are to share His glory.(but what of that?) For I consider that the sufferings of this present time are not worth being compared with the glory that is about to be revealed to us and in us and for us and conferred on us!!

Blessings

So It Begins
Susan Cummings

Prophetic Words/experiences given during the N Y Meetings
3/13/05

During the service the Lord showed Susan in a vision several things. First, we had our hands raised, and as we were asking Him to come in, I saw a sword come in and chop off all of our heads. The Lord then said, ”I will come in, but first it will cost you your heads. Now I can move through you, cause now you won’t limit me, and now you won’t hinder Me and box Me in.”

Also, as I was standing there, I began to feel water about waist deep. And the rest of the way up me was like fire. The Lord said, “Truth and Holiness. You will stand in My Truth, and will you be My Holiness.” The water was moving because Truth never stops.

God is always moving and it is the Spirit of Truth that is our anchor and our foundation, and unless we embrace the Truth and walk in the Truth, we can’t be Holy, but we let the Truth work it’s work in us and then He will be seen in us.

Then, as I was standing there the Lord says to me, “And so it begins.”

Then rain began to hit me in the face during the worship. The Lord then said in a prophetic word to the group:

“You have cried out to Me, you have called upon Me, you have come towards Me, and you have embraced Me, and you have given as much as you know how to give unto Me, and I have received you, and I have heard you, and I have marked you as My Own.” He says, “So it begins.”

“I’m fully coming in. No more, will My bride be tied and bound. No more will My People be slain and lame, for I AM Jealous for My Holy Name and I will not allow her to be profaned. For My Fire is coming into My House and from this night forth, I will be seen and will no longer wait, for I am even passed the gate.

“And so it shall begin. And what I have done in the east will go until I have reached the west, for My People shall know that I Am Holy and they will know that I Am their God and I will be seen in the land. And yes, I have come with My winnowing fan, but I also come to blow upon you, across the land. For it is time that My Spirit is free. It is time that My Spirit is no longer bound. It is time that My People are untied and loosed from all the chains that have held them. For this is the Hour that I will no longer hold back. I will no longer be silent. I will no longer wait, for I am coming in, and I will no longer tolerate sin. Either you are Mine, or you are not. Either I will live fully in you, or I will have none of you. For I have called and called and called unto the generations to come unto Me, but very few have waited upon Me and have tarried with Me and have allowed Me to change them. I say, that day is over, for I am now coming in, and I am raising up My Laborers.”

“I am coming in. I am bringing forth those who have been in captivity. And those who have been crying out to Me, “How long until we see?” “That day is upon you. For I am coming in with great liberty. For I have the keys and I will set My People free and I will burn in the land. Yes, with My Judgment Fire, but also with My Holiness. For I said, the angels Holiness and Terrible will march across this land, and I say unto you, It has already begun, for My House will be Holy and My People will be Holy, and My Name is Holy, and I am coming for all three.”

“For just as My Fire is burning right now in the midst of you, know that My Hand will be upon you and I will not do as you expect and I will not do as you have asked Me to do, I will do what I want to do! For no more, will I be told what to do and no more, will I be controlled and be dictated to by men, and no more, will I allow men to hold back My People from coming to Me. For everyone that is Mine will come unto Me and everyone that is Mine will be free from captivity, for this is a New Day. This is a new day, for I have broken the chains that have held My People in regions, in cities, in churches, and I have called My people out unto Me."

"And those who have denied Me, and said they will not come out, will now have their portion, but those who have given themselves to Me, I will raise up. So, do not limit Me by your thinking. Do not limit Me by wondering and saying, Lord, I'm not ready. You're right, but I AM! And I will do it and you won't. Because I am in you, and I'm coming a whole new way, because it is a new day, and no longer will I hold back and no longer will you, any more."

"I told you that I was coming and I told you that I was going to come in many areas. And I told you that I would be birthing forth in the hidden places. I say to you, that this is a place of My grace, but many have come against My Grace, many have spoken against My places in the earth, where I have chosen to give birth, but I say to you, I am already birthed and breaking forth. What I have begun, I will finish. What I have spoken, I will do. What My Word has told you will come, is already begun, yet men have not even seen. For I have desired this day from the very foundation, and the very beginning that My people would stop their sinning. That My People would despise the shame and the disgrace and they would turn to Me and seek My Face. I say to you, it has begun. For My People have come, and they've cried out and they've given themselves to Me, and now I stand in the midst and I say, I have received thee, and so it begins."

"For I am fully coming in. And it will be seen who is Mine and who is not. For Mine will be Holy, they will be true, and they will be fully given in the earth, for I sow My Life into them, for My Breath is coming, and I'm breathing upon My People who have lied fallow and waste and who have been waiting. I say to you, receive My Breath, and receive My Grace, receive My winnowing Hand even as I pass by your face. For truly I am Holy. Be ye Holy, even as I am Holy. For even now, the rain begins."

"Do not think that it is only for one night. But know, that I mean what I say, I'm coming in. And I'm breaking forth. And I'm going to make things right in My House. And all that is not built and founded upon Me will fall before Me. For they did not embrace Me or know Me. But I say to you, you are Mine. For I've called you by name, and I've sanctified you, and I've washed you, and I've measured you, and I've brought you unto Myself, and I will show you the way and you will go forth in My Name and you will see the promises come, for it has now begun."

Visitation of Holiness and Terrible

The Power of the Lord came upon me in this visitation, and great lightning began to crack through me as Holiness and Terrible came into my room. The Fear of the Lord was so strong at times through this experience that I tried to fall to the floor to hide but could not, as the wind was blowing down beside my bed strongly and it was cold, so I hid under my blankets, as the Presence of the Lord was so strong at times and heavy that I was terrified, that I felt like I could not bear it at times. I finally got up and went into the bathroom and knelt on the rug and prayed so as not to wake up Donnie and Brittany who slept next to me on the couch.

This visitation took place over the span of an hour and a half. The words came in portions, and as He ministered to me, I wrote them out. The Lord gave me grace to write the following words, that He began to speak to me:

And so it begins…

Time and Destiny now doth meet
As the next phase is now released
For the full Weight of My Glory
Doth now pass over thee

I told you that Holiness and Terrible
Have come and stood
And spoke My words to you who would

Now all who refused will go their way
For I Am passing over this day

Many will rise and many will fall
As all pass under My Holy Gaze
Not one will I miss, as I pass by
For every word will I now extract
That have been uttered unto Me

And so it begins…

My Holiness burning over you
Greatly to be feared, I AM
Lift up your heads all who are Mine
For I Am coming as I said, and I will burn

Every eye will behold Me
And every tongue I will require
For I will judge all who stand alone in this hour
No man will stand apart from Me
For now comes forth My Severity

I Am Holy I Am True
I Am Faithful over the many and the few
I Am passing over you
And great will I be in the midst of thee
For I Am the King
And now I break forth My new thing

My Covenant, I AM
My Covenant, I keep My Covenant, I birthed
Now is fully breathed

That which is holy, now will remain holy
That which is unclean, now will remain unclean
That which is true, will now be the rule
That which is Mine, is under My Covenant Seal

My Full Weight will now descend
Upon the hearts and minds of men
]I have weighed and measured and seen
The hardness of hearts that openly spoke Against My workings and handiwork

No more will I be resisted and opposed
For many, hell itself, will now be disclosed
My Grace and My Mercy I have long extended
And the hour has now passed
For those who rejected My Hand extended

No more will I look upon the unclean
No more will I answer the unredeemed
No more will I acknowledge those puffed up
No more I tolerate My church's wickedness
For I passed by with My Mercy and Grace
Then I called for My Holy Embrace
Now I brought forth those from the Furnace
The rest will fall under My Iron Fist

Holiness and Terrible move across the land
Bringing in My Holy Ones with My Winnowing Hand
Standing in the city gates
Crying out to those who refuse to partake
Come out, for the hour is late!
And now the destroyer comes to pass over the rest
For I called and offered Myself to them
And few came to Me, but clove to their sins
So now, I give them to their chains

My Fiery Breath doth come, as I said to thee
For it comes flowing and burning upon thee
Narry will one stand as I fall and burn
For the nation will know that I have returned
For Mine are hidden under My Hand
As I doth pass over with My Burning Fan

And so it begins anew, as I said I would do
For the time has passed for all who would do
And now the full measure
I will bestow on My Faithful Ones
Who freely cried out to Me
To open their hearts to My Holy Gaze
I AM- I say again- I Am- now doth abide

Woe to those who refused Me their hearts
Woe to those who answered not My Call
Woe unto those who came against My Servants
Woe to those who sat on the fence
Woe to those who moved not at My direction
Woe to those who mocked with great derision
Woe to those who pass under My Gaze and My Full Weight

Why doth men mock My Birth?
Why doth men gloat over Mine outcasts?
Why doth men not embrace My Holiness?
Why doth men refuse My Grace and reject My Face?
Why doth men not come to My Light?

Holiness and Terrible will burn and consume
All that is not hidden in My Holy Room
Brought in by My Merciful Hand
As I pass over the rebellious land
Requiring the words of rebelliousness
And repaying the deeds they did not confess

My Word hath been given
My Word hath been shared
My Word hath been trumpeted
My Word hath been sown and brought forth
My Word hath stood in the courts and cried out
My Word hath waited for the Hour
My Word hath tested and tried the souls
My Word doth testify in the streets
My Word now makes all complete

And so it begins…
In the realm of time and of men

As I doth now fully come in And inhabit My Holy Tents
And then bring My Holy Recompense

Oh, My Sweet Fire, My Sweet Grace
Burning upon those in My Embrace
Given forth from My Own Heart
To those whose lives they willingly rent apart
Now standing in My Glory under My Hand
As I come fully upon your land

Great rejoicing will be heard as I repay
Mine who hath laboured and been spent
Who withheld not themselves from Me
And who embraced My Bonds
For all who entered into My Sufferings
Now rejoice in My Final Outpourings

4:20 am

The Lord then showed me in a next scene, a face mask. It had tubes running through it, and blood was being poured by men into the tubes. The Lord then said, that men would try to put a face on the move that would now be released in then region.

The Lord warned strictly that men were not to worship the move of God, but were to worship the God who moved amongst them.

3/20/05 Prophetic Word given during the banquet before she left NY:

And So Begins The Days Of Fire

And so begins the Days of Fire
Ushered in by the Father
Decreed for all the days of men
That all would acknowledge Him

Every eye will see the Hand of the Lord
As He comes with the Fiery Hosts
Flaming Fires will His People be
In the flaming Day of Outpouring

Great Fire in the earth and in heaven
Will thoroughly purge out the leaven
Till My Remnant fully blazes
And stands radiant at the end of the ages

I have entered the earthen gates
And started the final race
Now comes My Glory and My Fire
As I stand in My rightful place

Fire rages in the heavens
And will blaze in the earth
Men will stand and see My Hand
As it breaks forth this day

I have begun the Days of Fire
And I will burn through My House
Purifying and transforming My Jewels
And thrusting them into the earth

The earth has travailed and given birth
As My Fire has come into it’s gates
Now come My Face
As I now set the final pace
For My Hand has lit the final torch
And the earth will shake as Mine now run
Breaking the ancient chains
And releasing the Living Flame

Great darkness and war
Will now rise throughout the earth
In the Days of Fire that I have birthed
For My Hand now passes over the lands

Great Fire will be in My House
As Mine stand in the Holy Blaze
Standing and rejoicing in the lands
As I move and bring My Flaming Fans

Everything That You Are Originated From Me
Susan Cummings

Everything that you are originated from Me. Every part of your personality came from Me. I knew you even before I formed you, because I took you from Myself. You are formed from My Spirit and have My Life within you. You are created in My Image. Everything that I have made, has My Life. For I sustain all things and by Me all things were made. There is nothing about you that I do not know, for I took of Myself and formed you, so you could know that I have loved you.

I created all things and have always loved My Creation. For I am Love. My Life is in My Creation, and I expressed Myself through it, to you, so you could further understand that love. For all of Creation expresses Me and shows forth My Glory. For men to reject Me, they will reject the Life that created them and is in them. That is why no man will have an excuse before Me when they reject Me. For even Creation declares Me and makes me known to all men.

I even sent My Son to pay the price for all men, that they might be brought back to Me. I never stopped loving My Creation, so again, I gave of Myself, for them, that they might be free. Once again, all men have been given a choice, to love Me or not to. I have given, and have laid My Life down for My Creation in the person of My Son, and yet, men do not embrace Me, nor receive My Love. I carried the full penalty of sin, and shed My Holy Blood, that men might be free, and made it a free gift, yet, men shun My Love, My Blood, and My Life. There will be no excuse for rejecting Me.

I then sent My Holy Spirit to teach men the Truth, and to give My Light to whosoever would receive it. I gave of Myself in the person of My Holy Spirit, that men might know Me, and be with Me where I am, and walk in My Ways. I am Holy, and My People will be Holy, and will walk in the Light as I am in the light. They will be Lovers of the Truth. My Life is the light of all men, and few there are that are lit by it. Oh, that men would love My Light rather than the darkness. It is a precious gift that few receive, and fewer still reverence it. By rejecting My Light and My Truth, and by loving that darkness more than My Holy Spirit, there will be no excuse, and no forgiveness.

I am coming now. I am coming fully into My House. I will embrace all who will embrace Me. I will have a People in the earth who love Me and who receive Me as their God. I will be known as I AM, and will be glorified in the earth. I will abide in all who will receive Me and who will call upon My Name. For I Am. My Life will I live through them, and I will be in them, and I will one with them as I said I would in My Word. I will no longer allow men to call me Father, who do not know Me. I will live in My People, or I will not.

I will have a People who walk fully in Me and who know Me. No longer will My People be bound by men and the devil, for I have come to abide in My living temples, and will now raise up My Holy People. My Body is My earthly Temple and I am going to fill it. I am suddenly coming to My Temple and men will know there is a Living God in the earth. I will be seen amongst men, and men will know whom they have rejected and will have no excuse.

All things will be fulfilled and will be as My Word has decreed. For My Word is True and is unfolding as I said it would and all things will be ushered in. I have been preparing a People who will stand till the end, and I will be glorified. For the Hour has been declared and all have made ready. Now, I will move through them, and in them, and by their fiery witness all men will see Me face to face.

Behold, I come.

Sons of Jacob Ask Again

Bob Hartley

God is inviting the Josephs to move to a wholly different view of life.

He wants to show us what He sees, to see his leading love throughout all the circumstances of our lives. He wants to clear the fog of our unbelief that perceives rejection rather than His leading love.

He is going to give a gift to those of us who want to receive it: taking us to the "summit," the high hill over the city, to see His heart and His promises over our lives and our cities. He is asking us, "When are you going to allow Me to give you the best view in town?"

I recently had a dream in which God showed me that He wants the Josephs to become "Sons of Jacob" - those who wrestle in prayer with vigor and earnestness, those who ask "hard" for the promises of God, who see His leading love and not give up. Throughout scripture (Ps 44, Ps 84) the term "Sons of Jacob" is used to signify those who are tenacious in their pursuit of the promises of God.

Jacob wrestled for his promises and his inheritance, even when death stood before him. He kept asking and wrestling, and this pleased God, "Your name will no longer be Jacob, but Israel (meaning 'he struggles with God'), because you have struggled with God and with men and have overcome" (Gen 32 v 28).

In the dream, the Lord had a complaint over us: that we had too easily given up rather than fighting for our promises like Jacob. Our cries had become weak and plaintive. We had allowed our faith and confidence to die. God said, "They view life thinking I'm really rejecting them, that I'm deaf to their cries."

God is asking us to move from a plaintive, mournful cry to a Jacob wrestling - one that is confident in Him and His leading love.

The kind of wrestling God is inviting us into is a co-laboring with Him and His heart's desires to bring about his purposes on the earth - an awesome privilege.

God's promises have been released into the heavens but we must ask for these to be loosed on earth - Ps 115 v 16, "The highest heavens belong to the Lord, but the earth he has given to man." The reality of free will means we have the dignity and privilege of asking for "the kingdom to come on earth as it is in heaven" (Matthew 6 v 10).

In my dream we had underestimated the hindering presence of a third party - the devil. The devil does not want these promises loosed on earth and wars violently against them.

We have to wrestle against the enemy for these promises to be loosed on earth. It is a noble fight to co-labor with God. But without this intercession, He doesn't have permission to move - we effectively and tragically "dis-invite God" from moving in the earth.

In the dream, there were 3 sins that prevented us taking our place as the Sons of Jacob.

First, we had the spirit of the prodigal son in Luke 15 - like the prodigal, we were filled with shame, seeing only our own weakness. We've returned to the Father, but believe we've really blown it. We were hoping only for a life of hard work, to beg for a measly job like the prodigal son did. He had no faith to ask the Father for anything more.

In the dream God said we were in the same place. He said, "You are actually far worse than what you think - but you are far, far more loved than what you think." We do not realize the depth of the love of our Father, who will run after us and reward us in spite of our shame. God wants us to experience this, just as the prodigal did.

God said, "The hardest thing required of you that you'll ever have to do is believe for My love, believe for My inheritance all the days of your life. It's My joy to invite you fully into My heart and My promises - I'm going to do this because I take pleasure in My people - Oh, that you would know Me, understand Me and rejoice in your Maker."

Second, we've underestimated the presence of a third party - the presence of an enemy. In the dream He said we were in the place of Isaiah 56. Many have made sincere efforts to pray and pursue God and have gained a measure of the joy of knowing their dream of God and their dream in God. They got the initial promise and ran out joyfully to build.

But then they experienced the "pioneer fade" when their promises got challenged and they experienced the first bit of opposition. Then the third party, the "beasts of the field" of Isa 56 v 9 came in and devoured them. Then they became like Isa 56 v 10 - blind to the promises, blind to the knowledge of God.

It's a double robbery - the accuser steals the Joseph's inheritance and then makes God the enemy, so they think God is opposing them, rather than the "beasts of the field."

Third, the sin of self-reliance crept in. Out of disappointment and our wrong view of God, we had become like the Israelites in Haggai 1 - in the dream we were content just to build our own houses, focusing on prospering our own lives. It was a pitiful, diminished perspective, missing the far better invitation to build God's house - a "house of prayer for all nations." Haggai 1 v 2, 3 This is what the Lord Almighty says: "These people say, 'The time has not yet come for the Lord's house to be built.' Then the word of the Lord came to Haggai: 'Is it a time for you yourselves to be living in your paneled houses, while this house remains a ruin?'"

In the dream, God was not angry at us, but passionate for us. He wanted us to stop killing ourselves building our own empires, our own paneled houses - He could see how it was exhausting and diminishing us. To co-labor with Him and His heart was so much better, where there are endless resources, grace and power.

Our real work is to learn to lean on Him. Song 8 v 6: "Who is this coming up from the desert, leaning on her beloved?"

The promise was that if we would repent of our self reliant, plaintive position and move to the place of asking from a new view, wrestling as co-laborers, as Sons of Jacob then He would thrust his hand into our hearts and give us an incurable desire for His desires.

We were invited to move into a lifetime of asking and partnering with God and releasing His promises.

In the dream God responded that His heart was so blessed when we waited on Him and trusted on Him in this new place of seeing and asking. Then He told me a secret: Our hearts would be greatly blessed in that place, too.

Spirit Of Jealousy, Spirit Of Korah

Dee Hoetmer

(dee@heartbeatofthefather.co.za)
http://www.heartbeatofthefather.co.za

Background

Some weeks ago, I was prompted by the Lord to request that the person I was ministering to, look into my eyes. The precious person responded that something was rising up against me inside of her, and that it was ugly and indeed I saw a manifestation of hatred in her eyes. I was told that it was the first time she actually could feel a spirit move inside her and she was highly embarrassed and started to weep silently.

We were interrupted and deliverance did not take place (we were in a public place for the Lord moves in the streets and in the market place where I meet people by divine appointment, and it nearly always takes me by surprise. This happens when your spiritual heart and ears are always open to the promptings of the Lord).

Weeks passed and I eventually decided to phone this person and I was cut off, she confessed purposely by herself, and I and a sister who was with me at that time, could actually feel that spirit which had its "claws" out against me, even though we were far apart!

After some time I asked the Lord to get this person to phone me and within the week she did phone, and we arranged to meet. As I sat opposite her the Lord very clearly said Korah. As I searched the scriptures for Korah, the picture became very clear.

Spirit of Jealousy - Korah

Num 16:1 Now Korah, the son of Izhar, the son of Kohath, the son of Levi, and Dathan and Abiram, the sons of Eliab, and On, the son of Peleth, sons of Reuben, took men:
2 And they rose up before Moses, with certain of the children of Israel, two hundred and fifty princes of the assembly, famous in the congregation, men of renown:
3 And they gathered themselves together against Moses and against Aaron, and said unto them, Ye take too much upon you, seeing all the congregation are holy, every one of them, and the LORD is among them: wherefore then lift ye up yourselves above the congregation of the LORD?

Please note that Korah was a man of fame and renown in the congregation. This spirit walks with those with Jezebel (spirit of control and rebellion/witchcraft) and who love to be recognized in the congregation (yes they are born again children of the Lord).

This spirit comes against those called out of the Lord to true leadership, as was Moses. They do not come against those who have promoted themselves to leadership in the congregation, but against those with the anointing of spiritual leadership by the calling of the Most High God. Those that walk with a heart of love and servant-hood, those who are aware that they themselves are nothing and are capable of no good thing, save for Christ Jesus living in them and flowing through them.

I perceive that we will see more and more of this spirit manifest as the truly anointed Prophets and Apostles are released from their hidden places.

Manifestations

It is a spirit of spiritual jealousy. It says we are all children of God and who do you think you are? Why should you have the anointing of leadership? Who are you to tell us what to do and what is error? Why should you have anointings that we don't have? It will attempt to dominate the conversation so as to show how spiritual they are and will cut one off and bring the subject back to them selves quickly (this is also a manifestation of the spirit of pride, both in the world and in the church).

It will cut off with a glare or an abrupt change in conversation if the one called to leadership dare share what the Lord is doing in and through them, or dare share a revelation. This spirit causes their spiritual hearts and minds to literally close down so that the truth cannot reach them i.e. the things that are shared are met with a blank stare and the question is raised of what are you on about, I know it all!

It walks with the spirit of pride, Leviathan and the spirit of control, Jezebel. It will use words that sound spiritually correct i.e. you lift yourself up and are full of spiritual pride, so as to cut that one called to leadership down. Their words will cut you to the bone and spiritually deeply drain you. Korah did that to Moses so that that great man of God fell on his face!

Num 16:4 And when Moses heard it, he fell upon his face:

The best thing to do is to seek the Lord's face for the truth in such an instance, for these spirits are so insidious, that their words seem to be true and yet you must hold onto His truth that the Lord communed directly to your spirit!

Please remember that the spirit manifested in the person and that it had gained entrance though some trauma, abuse and wounding, and it is not the person themselves. It really is possible to love the person but to hate the spirit manifesting through them.

However the Lord recently took me to this scripture for those who are too proud or blind to deal with the wounds and also the spirits operating in and through them; those who choose to have the "protective covering" of demonic spirits (spirits enter through wounds and trauma and the person so afflicted will find spirits of pride, jealousy and control protect those wounds and prevent them from being wounded again) rather then be exposed to truth and to be healed so that they no longer walk in mixture. If these things are not dealt with they will eventually operate in the counterfeit and be so blinded that they are totally unaware of it.

Psa 68:21 But God shall wound the head of his enemies, and the hairy scalp of such an one as goeth on still in his trespasses.
22 The Lord said, I will bring again from Bashan, I will bring my people again from the depths of the sea (Leviathan - spirit of pride dwells in the sea)
23 That thy foot may crush them, in blood. And the tongues of your dogs may have their portion from your enemies (NKJV)
(Jezebel's blood was licked up by the dogs)

Moses sought the Lord's face to show who was in truth and who was in error.

Num 16:5 And he spake unto Korah and unto all his company, saying, Even to morrow the LORD will shew who are his, and who is holy; and will cause him to come near unto him: even him whom he hath chosen will he cause to come near unto him.

They cannot discern the many membered body of Christ and are not content with their gifts and callings but desire to be in leadership. As a side note, they have not been prepared to suffer isolation, persecution, great loss and long periods of dying to self in the wilderness, that it takes to be prepared for leadership, or the High Calling of the Most High God. They have not paid the cost and yet want the calling. Beloved the greater the calling, the higher the cost!

Your greatest calling is to be in obedience to the Lord, whether you are called to sweep out the church or to be in leadership. Those who humbly and in love, do what He has called them to do, even if it is to sweep, will receive the greater reward.

Those who elevate themselves to positions they are not called to by the Spirit, walk in assumption, presumption and *postulation and are in grave danger of having their works burnt as wood, hay and stubble. (*Merriam Websters - Postulate 2 a : to assume or claim as true)

Num 16:6 This do; Take you censers, Korah, and all his company;
7 And put fire therein, and put incense in them before the LORD to morrow: and it shall be that the man whom the LORD doth choose, he shall be holy: ye take too much upon you, ye sons of Levi.
8 And Moses said unto Korah, Hear, I pray you, ye sons of Levi:
9 Seemeth it but a small thing unto you, that the God of Israel hath separated you from the congregation of Israel, to bring you near to himself to do the service of the tabernacle of the LORD, and to stand before the congregation to minister unto them?
10 And he hath brought thee near to him, and all thy brethren the sons of Levi with thee: and seek ye the priesthood also?

They will murmur against and falsely accuse those called to leadership. They cause division and will draw others who are not in total submission to the Lord and therefore do not recognize His appointed leadership, after them, as Korah drew 250 men of the congregation after him.

Num 16:11 For which cause both thou and all thy company are gathered together against the LORD: and what is Aaron, that ye murmur against him?
12 And Moses sent to call Dathan and Abiram, the sons of Eliab: which said, We will not come up:
13 Is it a small thing that thou hast brought us up out of a land that floweth with milk and honey, to kill us in the wilderness, except thou make thyself altogether a prince over us?
14 Moreover thou hast not brought us into a land that floweth with milk and honey, or given us inheritance of fields and vineyards: wilt thou put out the eyes of these men? we will not come up.
15 And Moses was very wroth, and said unto the LORD, Respect not thou their offering: I have not taken one ass from them, neither have I hurt one of them.

Those that come against the appointed and anointed of the Lord, and against those called to Prophetic and Apostolic leadership, are coming against the Lord Himself, and will in the days to come be in danger of coming under the severe judgment of the Lord (as did Ananias and Sapphira).

28 And Moses said, Hereby ye shall know that the LORD hath sent me to do all these works; for I have not done them of mine own mind.
29 If these men die the common death of all men, or if they be visited after the visitation of all men; then the LORD hath not sent me.

30 But if the LORD make a new thing, and the earth open her mouth, and swallow them up, with all that appertain unto them, and they go down quick into the pit; then ye shall understand that these men have provoked the LORD.
31 And it came to pass, as he had made an end of speaking all these words, that the ground clave asunder that was under them:
32 And the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed them up, and their houses, and all the men that appertained unto Korah, and all their goods.

Therefore I implore you Beloveds, come before the Lord with unveiled face and submit to chastisement, healing and deliverance lest you find yourselves working against the next great move of the Lord and His anointed, and remain unaware of it! Worse still, be in danger of missing out on His protection and provision in the coming days of turmoil and finally find yourself cast out with the tares. The days of grace are coming to a close for those who continue in their trespasses. Hear the clarion call of the Lord to cease from your religious labors and sit before Him with an unveiled face so that He may heal and restore you.

His arms are open wide, beckoning you to come to Him and to lay down your earthly wisdom for the carnal mind is at enmity with the things of God. You say but I am not carnally minded, but spiritually minded. The Lord would say to you, when you make a judgment or decision without seeking My face and My Word on it, you are relying on your own wisdom and not Mine, this is when you persecute those whom I have called and I have anointed. Come up higher and discern by My Spirit so that you may walk in unity and that My Glory may be made manifest through My body, upon the face of the earth as the waters cover the sea.

Sola Scriptura Not

Bill Somers

Mount Gilead Ohio USA

April 27, 2008

> Isaiah 6:9 And he said, Go, and tell this people, Hear ye indeed, but understand not; and see ye indeed, but perceive not.
> Isaiah 52:8 Thy watchmen shall lift up the voice; with the voice together shall they sing: for they shall see eye to eye, when the LORD shall bring again Zion.

We ran across this idea of Sola Scriptura while researching for an article on the inspiration of the scriptures. Our idea is to show some aspects of what the Lord has revealed to us on the nature of his Word. And on of the topics involved there is inerrancy.

There are several theories of inspiration. Instead of listing them all and getting side tracked, we present this quote from Ron Rhodes which summarizes the correct view.

> What Is Inspiration?
> Biblical inspiration may be defined as God's superintending of the human authors so that, using their own individual personalities (and even their writing styles), they composed and recorded without error His revelation to man in the words of the original autographs. Inspiration means that "the Holy Spirit of God superintended the human writers in the production of Scripture so that what they wrote was precisely what God wanted written."
> The Inspiration of Scripture (by Ron Rhodes)

This is called the dictation or indication theory of biblical inspiration. You can easily show that it is true by quotes from the bible.

Side note: Critics will say you can just as easily prove the Koran is the word of God by quoting the Koran. Well you can prove that the Koran is the word of Allah by quoting the Koran. The catch is that Allah is not God. Mohammed was not a prophet. And the Koran is a book of lies. [Just in case you wondered where I stood on that issue.]

And for those who demand an unshakeable logical proof, I say, If any man have ears to hear, let him hear Mark 7:16 .

So what is this idea of Sola Scriptura and what does it have to do with inspiration of the Scriptures. Here is a good definition and some background.

> Sola scriptura (Latin ablative, "by scripture alone") is the assertion that the Bible as God's written word is self-authenticating, clear (perspicuous) to the rational reader, its own interpreter ("Scripture interprets Scripture"), and sufficient of itself to be the final authority of Christian doctrine.
> Sola scriptura was a foundational doctrinal principle of the Protestant Reformation held by the reformer Martin Luther and is a definitive principle of Protestants today (see Five solas)

Sola scriptura may be contrasted with Roman Catholic and Eastern Orthodox teaching, in which doctrine is taught by the teaching authority of the Church, drawing on the "Deposit of Faith", based on what they consider to be "Sacred Tradition", of which Scripture is a subset.

Now back to Ron Rhodes.

The Inspiration, Inerrancy, and Authority of the Bible
by Ron Rhodes

What Is Inspiration?

Biblical inspiration may be defined as God's superintending of the human authors so that, using their own individual personalities (and even their writing styles), they composed and recorded without error His revelation to man in the words of the original autographs. Inspiration means that "the Holy Spirit of God superintended the human writers in the production of Scripture so that what they wrote was precisely what God wanted written."

When you break the doctrine of inspiration down to its essential elements, there are seven key factors:

- Divine origin and causality;
- Human agency;
- Written verbally (in words);
- Plenary (all of Scripture is inspired, not just parts of it);
- Only the "Autographs" (the original documents penned by the biblical authors) are inspired;
- Because Scripture is inspired, it is inerrant; and
- Because Scripture is inspired and inerrant, it alone has final authority.

The word inspiration literally means "God-breathed" in the Greek. And because Scripture is breathed out by God, it is true and inerrant. Consider the following syllogism:

Major Premise:
God is true (Romans 3:4).
Minor Premise:
God breathed out the Scriptures (2 Timothy 3:16).
Conclusion:
Therefore, the Scriptures are true (John 17:17).

As illustrated above, the inerrancy of Scripture can be inferred by premises that are themselves taught by Scripture.
We read in Scripture that truth is an attribute of God (Jeremiah 10:10; John 1:14; 14:6; 17:3), and that God speaks truthfully - that is, He does not lie (Numbers 23:19; 1 Samuel 15:29; Titus 1:2; Romans 3:3-4).

We also are told that Scripture is "breathed out" by God (2 Timothy 3:16).

The Word of God, then, is true (John 17:14,17; cf. Psalm 119:142; 151; 160; Revelation 21:5; 22:6).
http://home.earthlink.net/~ronrhodes/Inspiration.html

Now the link between these two ideas is in the phrase final authority. Remember that this idea was developed to counter the teaching that the church was the final authority.

The problem with this all is that even with the Scripture as final authority, there is so much disagreement among believers.

Rhodes presents us with some clear straight forward logical thinking. This is fine. I believe that God expects us to use our minds. As we meditate on the word, we find there are logical connections between it's themes.

There is nothing wrong with his logic at least at first glance. But logical thinking is just an example of man's wisdom. In this case, the logical thinking fails because we have neglected the Whole counsel of God.

> Acts 20:27 For I have not shunned to declare unto you all the counsel of God.

By this I mean that there are certain scriptures that you have to take into account when considering this doctrine of Sola Scriptura. What if we could use the bible to prove that it is not the final authority?

So here we are, challenging the foundational doctrinal principle of the Protestant Reformation. Is this heresy or chutzpah?

> Nevertheless what saith the scripture…. Galatians 4:30

Here we go.
Second Corinthians 3 tells us that the letter of the law [sola scriptura] kills. It is the ministration of death.

> 2 Corinthians 3:6-7
> 6 Who also hath made us able ministers of the new testament; not of the letter, but of the spirit: for the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life.
> 7 But if the ministration of death, written and engraven in stones, was glorious, so that the children of Israel could not stedfastly behold the face of Moses for the glory of his countenance; which glory was to be done away:

The New Testament i.e. the Holy Spirit gives life. New testament ministers do not minister the letter of the law. They minister the Spirit. So the New Testament, that is the Covenant, not the Book, is synonymous with the Spirit. If you minister the Spirit, you are ministering the New Covenant. Doesn't this tell us that the Holy Spirit is the final authority? The author of the scripture has to be the final authority.

Now look at the temptation of Christ and put on your spiritual goggles.

> Matthew 4:4 But he answered and said, It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.
> Luke 4:4 And Jesus answered him, saying, It is written, That man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word of God.

The phrase bread alone signifies the written word, sola scriptura. Jesus contrasts that with the spoken word. In both verses, word is used to translate the Greek rhema, which means utterance, that is something spoken.

God is saying we can't go by just what the written word [sola scriptura] says, we need him to explain it to us.

Looking back on the idea of inerrancy, it simply tells us that there are no mistakes. The bible contains exactly what God intended for it to say. But God did not want to make everything plain and obvious. He wants it so that we have to seek for that wisdom from above to understand the written word.

> 1 Corinthians 2:12-16
> 12 Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God.
> 13 Which things also we speak, not in the words which man's wisdom teacheth, but which the Holy Ghost teacheth; comparing spiritual things with spiritual.
> 14 But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned.
> 15 But he that is spiritual judgeth all things, yet he himself is judged of no man.
> 16 For who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he may instruct him? But we have the mind of Christ.

This is very close to what Proverbs 3:5 says.

> Proverbs 3:5 Trust in the LORD with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding.

To accept the doctrine of Sola Scriptura is to lean on our own understanding.

To be fair, most of those who teach sola scriptura acknowledge the need for the Holy Spirit's illumination. But this is usually superficial; lip service. More often than not they will resort to some principle such as grammatico-historical exegesis. This let's them get back to using man's wisdom. And man's wisdom, plus sola scriptura has given us some 20 thousand protestant denominations as a result.

If we have the written word. And if we have the Holy Spirit to guide us, then there shouldn't be so much division in the church. Could it be that we don't really have much access to the Holy Spirit? Could it be that our denominations do not get much input from the Holy Spirit? Could it be that we are not willing to face that fact and wonder why it is? Could it be that there is a lack of faith involved?

Often we hear about disputes over what the bible says. With all the many translations, dictionaries and commentaries, it's not a problem to know what the bible says. That's sola scriptura. We know what the bible says.
We rarely agree on what it means. One of my favorite sayings is this.
When two Christians meet the first thing they will do is greet one another in the Lord. Secondly they will find something to disagree about.

Many writers invoke the principle that Scripture interprets scripture. Well exactly how does Scripture interpret scripture? Believe me, it doesn't use the literal hermeneutic or grammatico-historical exegesis. It does it by quoting other scripture and showing logical or thematic connections. For example:

Here is a series of verses dealing with how the Spirit gives us the faith to receive the meaning of the scriptures. This is a case of connecting the dots so you can see the picture.

> Hebrews 4:2 For unto us was the gospel preached, as well as unto them: but the word preached did not profit them, not being mixed with faith in them that heard it.

This quote from Hebrews tells us that the word, sola scriptura, must be received with faith, or it is worthless to us.

> Romans 10:17 So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God.

Here Romans 10 is saying faith comes by hearing. That is through your spiritual headphones.

> 2 Timothy 3:16 All scripture is given by inspiration of God, ….

Second Timothy tells us we need to have the scripture given to us by God. Sola scriptura is not enough.

> Matthew 19:11 But he said unto them, All men cannot receive this saying, save they to whom it is given.

Matthew 19 here is telling us we can't receive the scripture unless it is given to us. That would be by the Holy Spirit naturally.

To sum it all up here, Sola Scriptura is not enough. Scripture alone is the letter of the Law that works death.

What else is needed?
First the word must be rightly divided. That is rightly handled and analyzed; and logic carefully applied.

> 2 Timothy 2:15 Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth.

And then the word must be given by inspiration of the Holy Spirit and received with faith.

> Hebrews 11:6 But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him.

He rewards those who seek him, by letting them find him. He reveals himself.

> He that has eyes, has he seen?
> He that has ears, has he heard?
> Man does not live by bread alone
> But by God's spoken word

End note:

I said earlier that there was nothing wrong with Rhodes' logic at first glance. But if you look deeper, you can see there is really a problem with it. He is saying everything in the bible is true, therefore it is the final authority. This is an invalid conclusion; it is a fallacy known as a non sequitur, which means not following.

> "Because Scripture is inspired and inerrant, it alone has final authority." Ron Rhodes

How do you get from it being true to concluding that it is the final authority. All that does is prove the bible is a true and accurate authority. Not a final authority. So in this case of faulty logic. It's unscriptural too.

When the bible says ‘the law’ it is speaking of itself as the written word. Then we can easily show that the bible itself tells us that it is only an intermediate authority.

> Galatians 3:24 Wherefore the law was our schoolmaster to bring us unto Christ, that we might be justified by faith.

Christ is our final authority. Since we have mentioned that the word must be ‘mixed with faith’, consider the role faith plays as you look at the larger context of this quote.

> Galatians 3:23-25
> 23 But before faith came, we were kept under the law, shut up unto the faith which should afterwards be revealed.
> 24 Wherefore the law was our schoolmaster to bring us unto Christ, that we might be justified by faith*.*
> 25 But after that faith is come, we are no longer under a schoolmaster.

Galatians 5 says nearly the same thing.

> Galatians 5:18 But if ye be led of the Spirit, ye are not under the law.

South Pacific

SOUTH PACIFIC ON FIRE

40-Day Fast For The Pacific Rim April 8 to May 28, 2005

The South Pole has been relatively quiet in the news for as long and I can remember, with the exception of the recent 8.1 quake near Mcquaire Island, which shook the Antarctic region only three days prior to the great Sumatra quake. In the natural realm, our upcoming assignment to the South Pacific makes absolutely no sense. Why should someone travel to the Antarctic, ministering to a land where only penguins dwell? Why sail to Polynesia and the remote parts of the Pacific, interceding for hidden fault lines, undersea volcanoes and shifting land masses under the ocean which knit the planet together? After all, did not Jesus say that in the last days there would be great earthquakes? Why intercede that some of these judgments would be delayed or lessened, for is that not interfering with God's plan for the latter days?

The answer to these questions can be summed up in one word: Obedience. The heart of God never changes, and he is still not willing that any should perish. God loves the people of the South Pacific. Our job is not to question why, but to simply go when he says GO. We must act on behalf of those who now find themselves in harms way, pointing the way to the cross as the Holy Spirit emphasizes the urgency of interceding for the South Pacific and islands of the sea. The recent tsunami triggered by the 12/26/04 Sumatra quake was relatively small compared to some of the events we foresee occurring in the near future within South Pacific region. Yet, the anointing has the power to not only impact the past and present, it sends waves of mercy rolling onto the shores of the distant future. It changes the destiny of islands and nations which were sentenced to death, releasing life as the Blood of Jesus flows through the mountains and valleys, calling the inhabitants of the land into repentance, that the land can be cleansed, and judgments erased or lessened.

MISSION DETAILS

Shortly after our 40-day fast (between April 8 - May 28, 2005), our team will be traveling to Australia (the KING of the South Pacific), New Zealand (the WATCHMAN of the South Pacific), Polynesia (the FIRE of the South Pacific, islands of future revivalists) and sweeping over the Antarctic by air only (whereas the Antarctic winter is setting in, and travel by ship is too dangerous).

Our focus will not be to intercede for volcanoes and fault lines per say, but to intercede that the veil of darkness be rent over the South Pacific, that revival would be released in the region. Seismic stability is only an after-affect of the anointing when a region is touched by the hand of God. Do not underestimate the earth-changing power released through simple obedience to the Holy Spirit.

To pastors and spiritual leaders in Australia, New Zealand and the islands of the sea: be forewarned, change is coming to the spiritual atmosphere of your region. You are going to need to train your ministers how to judge and discern spiritual manifestations, things which you have never seen before. There is about to be a great house-cleaning, and the spirit of pride is going to be confronted. If you are a leader that likes to always be in control, be forewarned, you are about to lose control. The Holy Spirit is about to make the necessary adjustments in the way you minister to his people, so that you can be a fit vessel for latter day ministry. It is not going to be clean or predictable, but people are going to be delivered, healed and released from the chains of darkness which have held them captive.

WORD OF THE LORD FROM CANADA

On Palm Sunday I was not scheduled to speak, but in the early hours of the morning had a strong dream about Canada. I was standing in front of a large Canadian congregation, speaking under the anointing of the Holy Spirit about the revival which was soon coming to North America. I remember the message clearly, and the faces of the congregation are still vividly in my mind. Throughout the church, bodies were scattered on the floor from those who were unable to stand under the presence of God. After the meeting, the pastor stood up and began to speak. I will never forget his face, and the face of his wife who was standing by his side. They both appeared to be in their mid-50's. The pastor prophesied of a great tsunami which was to hit Vancouver Island and the Canadian coast, and called the congregation into prayer and repentance, that the event would be delayed or lessened in magnitude. Afterwards, he called the ushers of the church and took an offering for our South Pacific mission. I awoke from this dream with a strong anointing and detailed memory of the service, and cannot get the church out of my mind. I believe that Canada is in line for a powerful move of the Holy Spirit in the days ahead.

STATUS OF SOUTH PACIFIC MISSION

Expected to depart for Australia during the first week of June, then on to New Zealand and Polynesia. We are open to doing meetings in any of these locations. If you are a pastor or leader in Fiji, Auckland, Perth, Sydney or any other great city from this region, and would like to support what we are doing in the South Pacific by having a prophetic meeting in your area, please contact me as soon as possible. If you would like to join us in prayer and fasting for the Pacific region from April 8 - May 28, please let us know so that we can keep each other covered in prayer during this strategic time of preparation. If you would like to financially support this work, we still have need of funding for airline tickets and other expenses for the journey. Please intercede with us for revival and stability in the South Pacific.

Great Sumatra Quake
Timothy Snodgrass

March 28, 2005

Another great quake has shaken Sumatra, measured by the Japan Meteorological Agency and Swiss Seismological Service at magnitude 8.5 (identical to preliminary readings of the December 26 quake before being upgraded). It sometimes takes weeks or months before great quakes of this magnitude can be accurately accessed. It is too early to get damage estimates, and tsunami alerts have just been issued as far away as Sri Lanka, Thailand and India. The lower epicenter of this quake appears to put NW Australia at risk, but I am still awaiting reports from Australian authorities. The USGS has given this quake a preliminary magnitude of 8.2, but I expect that figure will rise after looking at data from local Asian seismologists. It is now 3:00am in the Philippines, and reports are just now coming in. I am logging off for the night, and will post more data on our website in the morning.

Ascension Day

04/01/05 - We have moved up the timetable for our South Pacific intercessory trip to May 5 (Ascension Day), and will flying directly into New Zealand. In recent reports we have tried to communicate the urgency of what we foresee manifesting in this part of the world, but I really don't think the Body of Christ comprehends the magnitude of the situation, nor the importance of interceding and acting on behalf of the inhabitants of the Pacific coastlands, before it is too late. We will be posting one last prophetic report on the topic before our departure to New Zealand, just before Ascension Day on 05/05/05. This Spring the coastlands should consider themselves on high alert; yet, nothing is impossible with God.

Deut 33:18-19 NKJV And of Zebulun he said: "Rejoice, Zebulun, in your going out, And Issachar in your tents! 19 They shall call the peoples to the mountain; There they shall offer sacrifices of righteousness; For they shall partake of the abundance of the seas and of treasures hidden in the sand."

“I have an abundance of treasures I have saved to be given in this last hour!

The souls of My people are abundant treasures. Each one very unique and different and bought at a great price! For I have had a special treasure, that I hid and it will be mined in this hour by those who love Me. Mining is not always easy work, but it is very rewarding.

Will take up this work to live for souls and not for earthly treasures alone?

I’m not calling just the educated sheep. I’m not calling just the wise sheep.

I’m calling all who are WILLING to volunteer their time to do this work.

I’m calling some to work to help support this work, to finance this work and others to PRAY for these that will go. But everyone’s roles are equally important. I am calling some to mine, or fish, and some to clean the fish.

I’m calling some to TEACH the fish and disciple them in Truth. The ones who sow and the ones who reap are equally important. Don’t look at the roles of others and think yourself unimportant because you are called to pray for example. But think of the reward of a job fulfilled that I have called you to.

Obedience in your calling is all I ask for – to do what I’ve given you to do!

Those who are wise will shine like the stars in the heavens! Those who are wise are those who obey Me. I have another admonition for you My children for you will see many unwise in these days, do not waste your time mourning for those who refuse to obey ME in this hour, for you will see judgment within the church that will break your heart. Just attend to your own heart NOW that it will be healed from all torments, and that you become obedient to My will as best you can. Pray NOW for those who are not to be conformed to My image while there is still time to pray. For soon there will not be time to change…for the KINGDOM of GOD will be upon you!”

Luke 20:17-18 AMP

17 But [Jesus] looked at them and said, What then is [the meaning of] this that is written: The [very] Stone which the builders rejected has become the chief Stone of the corner [Cornerstone]? [Ps 118:22,23.]

18 Everyone who falls on that Stone will be broken [in pieces]; but upon whomever It falls, It will crush him [winnow him and scatter him as dust]. [Isa 8:14,15; Dan 2:34,35.]

“I say to you to build your house on this Rock, and not on sand, for every house built on sand will perish and sink into darkness. But every house built on My Kingdom, will survive and every person who falls on this Rock will live forever and ever. Do not compromise with the world. From the beginning of time, through the sands of time, have been many who strayed away from the sure foundation that is in ME.

But you know the TRUTH My beloveds, and if you will fill yourselves with ME, and forsake the ways of the world and all it has to offer, then there is eternal life and the rewards of THAT life will be forever and ever, and cannot be compared to this life!

This life requires embracing the CROSS. This life requires laying down your life and dying to what you want and living for what I want in this life! So do not call anything you have your own. I am Your MASTER and Lord, then if I am your Master and Lord, then you do not do your own will, but MY will and you do MY work, not your own work. That is you do it all for ME, not just for you. Then your hearts will want what I want. And I want SOULS. I want a BRIDE for My Son that is pure and spotless. You will ask Me then before you speak. You will think, what does Father want me to do. You will STOP and THINK and not just live oblivious to My will in your life. And you won't think that other men's will for your life is equal to My will for your life!!!

MAN is not your master! I am your master! I AM your Covering! I AM the Beginning and the End. I AM the LORD OF HOSTS! I AM the MIGHTY ONE OF ISRAEL. I AM the EVERLASTING FATHER.

I AM the WAY, the TRUTH, and the LIFE.

JESUS CHRIST is Head of the church.

Man is not the head, only the appointed vessel and authority, if I have appointed him! And you will know them by their FRUIT, not their gifts, not their ability to speak swelling words, not by their charisma, but by their FRUITS. Do they walk and live HUMBLY with their God? Do they love one another as I have loved you. Are they willing to lay down their lives for the sheep? Do they help the poor and homeless? Do they serve you, or are they only wanting to be served themselves? Are they full of KINDNESS, and patience and self control? You will know when I fill you with My love."

Mal 3:16-18 AMP

16 Then those who feared the Lord talked often one to another; and the Lord listened and heard it, and a book of remembrance was written before Him of those who reverenced and worshipfully feared the Lord and who thought on His name.

17 And they shall be Mine, says the Lord of hosts, in that day when I publicly recognize and openly declare them to be My jewels (My special possession, My peculiar treasure). And I will spare them, as a man spares his own son who serves him.

18 Then shall you return and discern between the righteous and the wicked, between him who serves God and him who does not serve Him.

Gen 22:17 NKJV blessing I will bless you, and multiplying I will multiply your descendants as the stars of the heaven and as the sand which is on the seashore; and your descendants shall possess the gate of their enemies.

Jer 5:22 NKJV Do you not fear Me?' says the LORD. 'Will you not tremble at My presence, Who have placed the sand as the bound of the sea, by a perpetual decree, that it cannot pass beyond it? And though its waves toss to and fro, Yet they cannot prevail; Though they roar, yet they cannot pass over it.

Jer 33:22 NKJV As the host of heaven cannot be numbered, nor the sand of the sea measured, so will I multiply the descendants of David My servant and the Levites who minister to Me.'"

The Desire of My Heart
Priscilla Van Sutphin

Jan 8th, 2004
The desire of My heart is to love you and to protect you and to commune with you! The design of the universe was to prepare a home, a dwelling place for man and it was a good idea. Life was abundant and the communion with man was ideal. We walked together in the garden and talked and shared each other's company. Man and woman alike had access to My companionship and presence. All was well until the fall. Since that time, and the necessary unfolding of things, I have longed once again to have FULL communion with My creation.

Hundreds of centuries of men and women have come and gone, and gradually,

There has been uncovering of various truths. But all along the enemy has waged battle for the souls of men. This hour is no different, yet it is because he knows his time is short. So he is busy trying to steal as many souls as he can before the ultimate battle. I have assured you of the victory! I have wrapped you in My grace and I am about to increase greatly the proportion of My GRACE for this hour.

Do not give up in the escalation of things spoken of in My Word to the spirit of this hour. He wishes like then in the garden to draw you away from the ultimate communion with ME. It is important in this hour to commune with Me and to stay close to My presence for the times will test your soul as no other. STAY in My WORD! Do not depart from it's statutes. Continue to renew your mind and continually converse with Me. I AM IN YOU. I am EMMANUEL! Do not neglect either the gift that is in you – to share it with all you can. For by sharing as you are led, you may save some from the fire of eternity. You don't know what tomorrow brings. So share what I have given you as you can and are led to do it. Do not fear what a man can do to you. FEAR HIM WHO has the power to destroy body and soul in hell!

Matt 10:28-29 NKJV And do not fear those who kill the body but cannot kill the soul. But rather fear Him who is able to destroy both soul and body in hell.

There is NOTHING He can do to you without MY PERMISSION. Any suffering you do here on earth is allowed only for your perfecting and maturing, or to the fall of mankind. The earth is groaning and it will continue to be in birth pangs until My soon return. Do not let your heart get hard!

Continue in the GRACE I have given you and do not grow weary in well doing.

Things are about to get more exciting in the realm of the Spirit as well. Even as the enemy has prepared an army for this hour, so have I and will I perfect My bride. Suddenly the One you adore will come to His temple and oneness that has not been known will be achieved. It will not come by striving or works of the flesh, but solely by MY DOING - and it will be wonderful to behold, and terrifying to the hypocrite.

Suddenly there will be a day of glorious immersion in My presence and it will provoke the lost to jealousy for what you have. Right now they are not jealous of the strife and envy, the competition, greed, and religious hypocrisy. But in the days ahead they will literally see the glory upon you and see the miracles with their own eyes done before them, and there will be no excuse for opposition to My love when I get done doing all I intend. What kind of God would I be to not offer grace to each generation of man to come to Me? Now I will arise! Now I will make Myself known! Now I will raise up a standard and you will see it and your hearts will melt with JOY inexpressible and overflowing! I am arising with HEALING in My wings! Glory will fill the earth and a flood of My love will be poured out through you to the lost and dying world!

Isa 33:10-24 NKJV Impending Judgment on Zion

"Now I will rise," says the LORD;

"Now I will be exalted,

Now I will lift Myself up.

11 You shall conceive chaff, You shall bring forth stubble; Your breath, as fire, shall devour you. 12 And the people shall be like the burnings of lime;

Like thorns cut up they shall be burned in the fire. 13 Hear, you who are afar off, what I have done; And you who are near, acknowledge My might."

14 The sinners in Zion are afraid; Fearfulness has seized the hypocrites: "Who among us shall dwell with the devouring fire? Who among us shall dwell with everlasting burnings?" 15 He who walks righteously and speaks uprightly, He who despises the gain of oppressions, Who gestures with his hands, refusing bribes, Who stops his ears from hearing of bloodshed, and shuts his eyes from seeing evil: 16 He will dwell on high; His place of defense will be the fortress of rocks; Bread will be given him, His water will be sure.

17 The Land of the Majestic King

Your eyes will see the King in His beauty; They will see the land that is very far off. 18 Your heart will meditate on terror: "Where is the scribe? Where is he who weighs? Where is he who counts the towers?" 19 You will not see a fierce people, A people of obscure speech, beyond perception, Of a stammering tongue that you cannot understand.

20 Look upon Zion, the city of our appointed feasts; Your eyes will see Jerusalem, a quiet home, A tabernacle that will not be taken down; Not one of its stakes will ever be removed, Nor will any of its cords be broken. 21 But there the majestic LORD will be for us a place of broad rivers and streams, in which no galley with oars will sail, nor majestic ships pass by 22 (For the LORD is our Judge, The LORD is our Lawgiver, The LORD is our King; He will save us); 23 Your tackle is loosed, They could not strengthen their mast, They could not spread the sail. Then the prey of great plunder is divided; The lame take the prey. 24 And the inhabitant will not say, "I am sick"; The people who dwell in it will be forgiven their iniquity.

Time and Faith

Jan 6th, 2005

Luke 18:7-8 NKJV And shall God not avenge His own elect who cry out day and night to Him, though He bears long with them? 8 I tell you that He will avenge them speedily. Nevertheless, when the Son of Man comes, will He really find faith on the earth?"

Matt 24:7-14 NKJV For nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. And there will be famines, pestilences, and earthquakes in various places. 8 All these are the beginning of sorrows.

9 "Then they will deliver you up to tribulation and kill you, and you will be hated by all nations for My name's sake. 10 And then many will be offended, will betray one another, and will hate one another. 11 Then many false prophets will rise up and deceive many. 12 And because lawlessness will abound, the love of many will grow cold. 13 But he who endures to the end shall be saved. 14 And this gospel of the kingdom will be preached in all the world as a witness to all the nations, and then the end will come.

“When the Son of man returns, will He find FAITH on the earth?

Will He find those who believe He is omnipotent, ALL-MIGHTY, and the King of Kings and Lord of Lords?

Have something to share with others who need the truth, by spending yourselves on Me and My Word. Deep darkness is filling the earth and surely, oh man, the days are escalating and you will see the Son of God soon coming on the clouds in majesty and splendor.

Know that I am with you until the end of all time. Do not worry about your life, what you will eat, what you will have, for I AM is with you. I will uphold my beloveds. Give unto those who ask of you and share all you have with those who don't know the value of My love and mercy. Extend your hand to the weak and hungry. I will multiply food if you will believe for it and give glory to My name. I AM the RESOURCE of all you need.

Ps 33:18-19 NKJV Behold, the eye of the LORD is on those who fear Him,

On those who hope in His mercy, 19 To deliver their soul from death, and to keep them alive in famine.

Teach My beloveds to depend on ME, not on you! Teach them how to be intimate with Me! Teach them to call upon MY name and they will be saved!

Teach them to PRAISE in all circumstances. Teach them to walk in HUMILITY and JUSTICE.

I am calling forth many to help care for the children who will be abandoned, and to rescue those who would be enslaved or oppressed by the wicked.

Be bold and be courageous in asking for all you need! I WILL do MANY signs and WONDERS in the heavens and in the earth, so that the world will be drawn unto Me. Do not be afraid of, nor tremble for the wicked. Be confident in Your Beloved, for I AM IN YOU AND WITH YOU!

For MANY will turn to Me in this hour. And those who don't cannot touch you unless I allow it. I will turn many a hard heart to Me in this hour. For I will take the stony hearts out of many and make them vessels of honor for MY GLORY! SIGNS and WONDERS, SIGNS AND WONDERS! Know that I will turn the eyes of man toward the heavens and towards ME in this hour.

Those who refuse will be refuse! Cry out to Me for your families and friends who are unsaved. I am coming and I will set them on the path of righteousness for My name's sake! Ask Me for nations and I will give them to you! Ask Me for your neighborhoods and I will give them to you! Ask and you SHALL receive in abundance!

Eyelids are opening! Hearts will tremble and be afraid. But many will come to the brightness of your rising and there will be many who turn away, but even then, many who will embrace My love and be saved. My MERCY endures forever, even amidst stress and turmoil in the nations. This year will be chock full of strange happenings and prophetic signs. AWAKENING is on the way! Awaken the sleepers and let your words reflect My glory!

TESTIFY to the wonders of Your God and Savior! Give testimony of My lovingkindnesses! Open your mouths and I will fill them.

Be brave My beloveds for a great wave of HARVEST is soon upon you. The sickle is being swung and the earth will tremble and open up and salvation will spring forth!"

Isa 45:8 NKJV "Rain down, you heavens, from above, and let the skies pour down righteousness; Let the earth open, let them bring forth salvation, and let righteousness spring up together. I, the LORD, have created it.

Ripened Fruit
Priscilla Van Sutphin

Jan 9th, 2005
www.upstreamca.org

Luke 8:14 NKJV Now the ones that fell among thorns are those who, when they have heard, go out and are choked with cares, riches, and pleasures of life, and bring no fruit to maturity.

Luke 8:14 AMP And as for what fell among the thorns, these are [the people] who hear, but as they go on their way they are choked and suffocated with the anxieties and cares and riches and pleasures of life, and their fruit does not ripen (come to maturity and perfection).

“Springtime and harvest are important seasons of life. In the spring you plant seeds and nurture and water them and in harvest time, the fruit comes to fruition and is plucked and gathered to be sent out. I am bringing to fruition soon, to perfection, the fruit of your lives through a gracious outpouring of My river of Life. Those who have struggled with many problems over and over will struggle no more. Those who have gone from church to church trying to find relief and deliverance from torment, will be delivered at My hands !

Fruit that is not fed the proper nutrients cannot come to fruition properly.

There are seasons in your lives when there is watering and there is nourishing through My Word and through the Words that come to you from rhema as well that give you wisdom and understanding. There are times of dryness, that cause roots to go deep into the earth searching for water…meaning searching My Word for LIFE is imparted through the Word as well as the Living Word who is Jesus ! Fruit cannot just sit on a shelf or it will rot there. Many have been shelved due to competition in My church, and various other sins apparent to all who have eyes to see. Many also have grown weary in well doing and the fruit they are bearing is overripened !

Yeast causes fruit to ripen more quickly and to sour. Yeast of the Pharisees has overtaken My church in many places and is ruining My vineyards.

I am about to overturn the tables of the moneychangers and I am asking YOU to procure a true heart of generosity from ME, so that you can walk through the times ahead without getting stained by the yeast that softens the fruit and rots it on the inside. I do not want any unforgiveness or root of bitterness in My vessels destined to be turned to gold. Search your hearts and ask of ME, for I am humble and I am capable of letting you know when there is a problem, if you will just ask. I am determined to take out of all hearts really belonging to ME, all that hinders you from being perfected in ME.

Come and bask in MY sunshine just as natural fruit is ripened by the sun, so you must also bask in MY Son’s LIGHT of glory to be sanctified and made whole and to continue to produce good fruit !

Intimacy is what is necessary now ! Do not run away My beloveds ! I am here and wanting to hold you in My arms of love. I will drive away all the intruders, if you will but REST in ME !

I will make you like trees planted by the river of LIFE, and you will bear fruit 12 months of the year and your leaves will be for the healing of the nations ! All will come and partake of your fruit !”

Rev 22:1-5 NKJV The River of Life

And he showed me a pure river of water of life, clear as crystal, proceeding from the throne of God and of the Lamb. 2 In the middle of its street, and on either side of the river, was the tree of life, which bore twelve fruits, each tree yielding its fruit every month. The leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations. 3 And there shall be no more curse, but the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be in it, and His servants shall serve Him. 4 They shall see His face, and His name shall be on their foreheads. 5 There shall be no night there: They need no lamp nor light of the sun, for the Lord God gives them light. And they shall reign forever and ever.

Ezek 47:12 NKJV Along the bank of the river, on this side and that, will grow all kinds of trees used for food; their leaves will not wither, and their fruit will not fail. They will bear fruit every month, because their water flows from the sanctuary. Their fruit will be for food, and their leaves for medicine."

Matt 12:33 NKJV A Tree Known by Its Fruit (Matt 7:15-20)

"Either make the tree good and its fruit good, or else make the tree bad and its fruit bad; for a tree is known by its fruit.

Matt 7:18-20 NKJV A good tree cannot bear bad fruit, nor can a bad tree bear good fruit. 19 Every tree that does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire. 20 Therefore by their fruits you will know them.

Matt 13:23 NKJV But he who received seed on the good ground is he who hears the word and understands it, who indeed bears fruit and produces: some a hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty."

Season Of The Blessing

Bill Burns

March 20, 2005: Come, children, gather around. Let Me tell you of the season of the blessing that is upon you. Many have struggled to believe that I am the God of all provision. Many have struggled to believe that I am the God who heals. Many have struggled to believe that I can give wisdom. Many have struggled to believe that I can lead and guide. But, I say, in this season there will be no question or doubt that I am walking among My people and that I have come to bless My children in this season with all gifts, spiritual gifts, even those things in the natural that are necessary to your well being, says the Lord, for I watch over My children. I protect those under My covenant, and the benefits of the kingdom of heaven do now fall upon you like the rain of the season. It is the season of the planting, and the season of harvest is yet before you. Sow generously, and in the time of the rain ask, for the former and latter rain will come together and water the seeds of faith that have been planted. Those seeds shall indeed produce a harvest, and you will understand that I am the God who watches over you.

March 18, 2005: It is time to break the cycle of defeat. Disappointment leads to discouragement, and discouragement kills faith. When faith is dead there is no victory or overcoming. There is no joy or peace, for you have lost all in the cycle of defeat. You can break that cycle and begin to overcome by faith. Repent for disappointment, walk away from discouragement, and go back to the place of faith. You will overcome because I have caused you to be victorious in all things.

Marsha Burns

March 21, 2005: I have spoken words of truth and grace to your hearts, and I have given you hope and great encouragement. Yet, you do not see any natural evidence that what I have promised is coming to pass. But, I say to you, hope is not hope if you can see the fulfillment of it. This is a time to remain faithful to the promise. Do not lose hope in your waiting, for you will reap in due season if you do not give up. Romans 8:24 For we were saved in this hope, but hope that is seen is not hope; for why does one still hope for what he sees?

Season Of The Horse

Bill Burns

November 29, 2005: You now know and understand that the season has changed and that you are entering into a new season. This new season will be known as the season of the horse. The last season that you walked through was known as the season of the eagle, which prepared you through the prophetic word. Now you know that My return will be on a white horse. The horse represents the power of the end of the age, apostolic power, which I will bring to My church, for I have found those who have desired to walk with Me in a position of obedience, and I will pour out of My Spirit, says the Lord, in a new and fresh way. I will come to you as the former and latter rain together to bring the strength of My purpose forth and to give you the weapons necessary to defeat the last enemy and to walk forth with Me in the flow of My anointing and glory. We shall lift up the cup of victory together with grateful praise.

Settling On The Other Side Of The Jordan
Mike Edds

A few years ago while living near the beautiful mountain village of Summersville, West Virginia, I had a most extraordinary dream. The dream was divided into four parts. In the first part, I was leaving my position as the Head of School in a private school. Secondly, one of my teachers was elevated to my former position. Thirdly, the board chairman who had lived in the community all of her life was moving away. In the fourth part of the dream, I was preaching to a large African American church on the subject, "You Have Settled on the Other Side of the Jordan." In the dream, this great church had accomplished much and possessed a great national ministry. However, the Lord said that they had not reached the fulfillment of their divine destiny. As I preached, the powerful presence of the Lord descended in that mighty church. He began to give revelation and direction concerning the immense destiny that He had planned for them. The church exploded in worship and praise. I awakened from the dream.

The first three parts of the dream happened within a few months. I resigned from my position, the teacher I saw in the dream became the interim Head of School, and the board chairman and her husband sold their family business and left town. However, the fourth part of the dream did not immediately happen. In fact, I did not understand this portion of the dream. Five years passed as I continually pondered the dream in my heart.

One year ago, I was invited to conduct a grant writing workshop and preach at a large African American church in Chicago. I still did not understand the meaning of the message, "You Have Settled On the Other Side of the Jordan" but the Lord directed me to preach this message. As I studied the Word, the incredible prophetic meaning of the message in the dream was revealed.

Two and a half tribes of the Israelites found the rich farm and grazing lands to the east of the Jordan River to their liking. The tribes of Gad, Reuben, and half of the large tribe of Manasseh decided to settle on the "other side" of the Jordan and thus not cross over into the promised land. Moses and Joshua had given them permission to do so but with one major requirement, their warriors must led the battle in taking the Promised Land. Joshua chapter 3 records the miraculous parting of the flooded Jordan. The priests led the procession through a dry, divine path made through the flood waters. True to their agreement, 40,000 warriors of the two and a half tribes took the lead in the battle. Their divine destiny was to assume the reigns of leadership in battle and bring the rest of the tribes into their promised destinies and lands. What a great mantle of ministry was laid upon Gad, Reuben and half of Manasseh!

The Lord began to reveal the divine destiny that He has for HIS African American people. I was given an article written by Susan Castell which stunned me. The prophetic word given to her concerning African American believers was identical to what the Lord was revealing to me. She wrote:

"You have come to this land for such a time as this. It is now time to lay aside the weight of racial hatred and the sin of unforgiveness which so readily clings to and entangles you. It is now time to forget what lies behind and to reach forth to what lies ahead. It is now time to arise and seek Me for the fulfillment of your divine destiny.

Just as the survival of ancient Egypt and Israel rested on the shoulders of Joseph (a man sold into slavery by his brothers and carried away to a foreign land), so does the very survival of this great nation of America rest upon you. It is now time to embrace My plan and to allow Me to birth within you the heart and the attitude of Joseph who was able to forgive his brothers and those who had enslaved and imprisoned him. It is now time to embrace the cross of My Son and become a great blessing in the land of your captivity.

Even as man has seemingly succeeded in humbling you to the very lowest of places, so will I exalt you to the very highest place, even to the very throne of My Glory. As you humble yourselves under My mighty hand and allow the mind and heart of Christ to be formed in you, you will experience supernatural healing and deliverance from the many and deep wounds inflicted by those who have degraded, despised and humiliated you. As you identify with My Son and you begin to cry out: "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do", you will enter into a new dimension of My Grace and Glory, and you will receive the revelation of Jesus Christ and His Resurrection power which your hearts have been hungering for.

It is now time to understand that all history, including Black History, is HIS STORY. It is now time to lift up your eyes above man's agenda and catch the vision of My agenda. It is now time to declare with Joseph: "As for you, you thought evil against me, but G-d meant it for good, to bring about that many people should be kept alive..." (Gen. 50:20)

Arise my people, my Joseph company, whom I have brought from afar and planted in this land for such a time as this. Look unto Me and I will unveil the meaning of your history. Look unto Me and I will reveal the mystery of your many and long sufferings. I am the L-rd your G-d, and besides Me, there is no other. Look unto Me and be healed of the wounds of your captivity. Look unto Me and I will make you free to be my instruments of healing and deliverance in this land of your divine destiny."

The fullness of the prophetic meaning of the message, "Settling on the Other Side of the Jordan," came into full focus. The Great Awakening that is soon to burst upon this world as a final witness will be led by a "Joseph Company" that God has been preparing for a long time. This Awakening will bring God's holy remnant together as a Bride without spot or wrinkle. Divisions, separations, and walls will collapse as the Church comes together to fulfill her final destiny. Each tribe that composes the Church has a promised destiny, a place of promise to occupy. Leading the way to bring all tribes of believers into that fulfillment will be the African American believer. Just like Gad, Rueben and Manesseh, the mantle of leadership will rest upon them. God is an excellent bookkeeper. All of the weary years and generations of blood, sweat, tears, unpaid slave wages and rejection WILL BE PAID IN FULL! It will not come from the White House, the Supreme Court or from Congress. It will come from the hand of the mighty God! Just like Joseph, they will be suddenly ushered from obscurity to the fullness of divinely appointed leadership. What man meant for evil, God will turn into good for the saving of many lives. The mantle of leadership will be laid upon them by a divine Hand. They will lead the rest of us into our appointed destinies. I believe that the Holy Spirit is stirring within them now. Divine gifts within that have been given for this prophetic hour are now being activated and released. Understanding of the long night of their suffering is being revealed to them. The heart of Joseph is reaching perfection within them. God calls them to fulfill their destiny. The Jordan has parted before them. They lead the way for the rest of the Body of Christ to follow. Pay day has finally come!

The final part of the dream was fulfilled. I preached this message to the great church in Chicago. The Lord came down in that service!

Isn't it incredibly ironic that God would reveal and speak this message through a white man, a descendant of slave owners from the South, a region that once deprived them of their most basic rights. Isaiah 60:10 states, " The sons of your oppressors will come bowing before you. All who despised you will bow at your feet." God fulfilled the words of the prophet on the day I preached the message, "You Have Settled on the Other Side of the Jordan." May God bless this these divinely called leaders of the Coming Awakening.

Standing On The Shoulders Of Other Men

PR 2:4 and if you look for it as for silver and search for it as for hidden treasure,

LK 10:21 At that time Jesus, full of joy through the Holy Spirit, said, "I praise you, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because you have hidden these things from the wise and learned, and revealed them to little children. Yes, Father, for this was your good pleasure.

RO 10:20 And Isaiah boldly says, "I was found by those who did not seek me; I revealed myself to those who did not ask for me."

(The Lord showed me a strange scene of a man that was standing on the top of a man who was standing on the top of several other men. There must have been around twenty or so people who were standing on the shoulders of each other. Finally, at the very top of this, the last person was reaching for the roof. At this point, he pulled himself up and was looking out. Then he began to run and would jump from building top to building top. This process continued with each person standing on the top of each person and finally looking out upon a roof scene.)

“This is man’s attempt to reach Me, and also, many prophets have stood on the shoulders of others to get revelation of Me. I tell you that many want to have a personal relationship with Me, but they think that they have to do something important for Me. You do not go up to the heavens, but I have gone down to you. There are not many who have received “new” revelation of Me in this hour. “

Time Will Speed-Up

Stephen Hanson

March 5, 2005

(A minister friend of mine had asked for some discernment concerning some things that she had heard from the Lord. She said that the Lord told her to warn everyone that the Angel of Time is about to cast down the burning hour glass of judgment into the earth in a matter of days, when he declares by the Lord, 'time is up'.)

Aside: I believe that these are important things for us to consider. We need to remember how God reckons time and that the "language of the spirit" is to be considered so that we can then understand what He has to say to us in relevance to these things.)

A Time for Everything

1 There is a time for everything, and a season for every activity under heaven: 2 a time to be born and a time to die, a time to plant and a time to uproot, 3 a time to kill and a time to heal, a time to tear down and a time to build, 4 a time to weep and a time to laugh, a time to mourn and a time to dance, 5 a time to scatter stones and a time to gather them, a time to embrace and a time to refrain, 6 a time to search and a time to give up, a time to keep and a time to throw away, 7 a time to tear and a time to mend, a time to be silent and a time to speak, 8 a time to love and a time to hate, a time for war and a time for peace. Ecclesiastes 3

My response after praying about this was:

Yes that is a strange thing to hear...Obviously we don't have just five days left upon the earth, but we need to understand the language of the spirit. I believe that the Lord is saying that in five days He will begin the countdown. "In the heavens time is reckoned differently than upon earth. Five days is not the same as five days upon the earth. "

"In seven days I created the heavens and the earth, but in five days it will be destroyed. These days are hastening forward to my soon return upon the earth. Who will be found ready when these times come? Time as you know it, will begin the process of "speeding-up." And then the events that have been predicted, will begin to unfold."

Signs Of The Times

Wade Nye

America’s “Red Dawn”

Matthew 16:2-4 But he replied to them, When it is evening, you say, it will be fair weather, for the sky is red. And in the morning, There will be a storm today, for the sky is red and threatening.’ Do you know how to discern the signs of the times? An evil and adulterous generation seeks after a sign; and a sign will not be given it, except the sign of Jonah.

This verses prompts the question, Would Christ send his people a sign today for this generation? What would a sign from Christ look like? Has Christ given us any signs of the times we are in?

Christ speaks of a “Red Dawn” as a sign of a bad day ahead.

Many dramatic events have taken place in the past 75 years all of them are true signs. (Un)Spiritual movements, Earthquakes, Wars, Famines and Political intrigue. All of these can be taken the Bible says as signs of the times we are in.

But if Christ were sending his people a great discipline what kind of “Red Dawn” would he show them before the discipline occurred?

Well it would have to be an event that is in line with scripture. Rarely in fact possibly never would God send a sign that could not be easily explained within the context of his word. Also it would probably be a confirmed sign.

What is a confirmed sign? Two witnesses are a constant theme throughout scripture when referring to dramatic events ahead. Pharaoh saw disturbing images and sought the meaning. God sent Joseph to explain and expand the meaning of these events. These images were Pharaoh’s, Egypt’s and God’s peoples’(By way of Joseph) “Red Dawn.”

This theme was repeated by Daniel and Nebuchadnezzar. In the case of Pharaoh the advice God gave was taken and gain came to Pharaoh the Egyptians. Although some discipline was experienced it was minor compared to what would have occurred if God’s advice was not taken.

In the case of Daniel and his king’s disturbing images. God’s advice given through Daniel was not heeded. Great discipline came to the King and although good finally did comes unneeded pain was experienced.

Later sign’s were sent to Pharaoh's descendant and to all of his people. But because of his hardened heart he refused and despised those sign’s.

Pharaoh also hated the one God sent to given him the message (Namely Moses).His refusal to honor and obey God’s signs cost him and his people dearly.

There are many other examples of “Red Dawn’s” sent to not only God’s people but to people who did not know him.

So if Christ was to send an ugly threatening morning to us today as a people what would it be?

It would be a disturbing image. Those are the ones that get everybody’s attention.

In the above scripture Christ say's that people have already been given clear signs as to what is coming. Because they did not heed the "Red Dawns" no other dramatic signs will be given to them except Christ's teaching, prophesying and preaching.

During the time that Christ walked the earth what were the dramatic events that were about to come upon the Jewish people? What were these signs ("Red Dawn's") that had already been given to the Jewish people that proceeded that dramatic event?

We know from the historian Josephus that many signs were given to the people. One was the Jewish lands and people being held by Rome.

Josephus also describes the dramatic destructive discipline that came later to the Jewish people the destruction of Jerusalem and the Holy Temple by the Romans. The scattering of the Jews throughout the earth in 70AD.

But outside of history does the Bible itself tell us about any dramatic signs that preceded the "Great Day of the Lord" in 70AD?

Any "Bloody Dawns" during the time that Christ was on the earth? The Jesus speaks about almost no so called "Dramatic Current Headline Events" outside of his own ministry and that of John's.

There is a strong exception to this.

Luke 12:54-56 And He was saying to the crowds ."When you see a cloud rising in the west, immediately you say. 'A Shower is coming.' And so it turns out. And when you see a south wind blowing, you say, ' It will be a hot day, and it turns out that day. YOU HYPOCRITES! You know how to analyze the appearance of the earth and the sky, but why do you not analyze this present time.

Luke is echoing the Gospel of Matthew. But what are the blowing winds of the times that the Pharisee's are guilty of not analyzing.

In the verse that follows (Luke 12:57 to the end of 12) Christ tells us before we are to make a court appearance we should settle matters ourselves. Christ's ring of the warning and advice of Daniel to Nebuchadnezzar(Da.4:27).

When we see a "Red Dawn" we need to do whatever is necessary to change things to avoid ever appearing before God on his day. Christ was saying that even if it costs you extra do it because freedom in humility is better than an appearance that may cost you your freedom.

The Ninevites recognized this and humbled themselves and delayed God's judgment on their lands.

Now to tell of one of Israel's signs of the times

Luke 13:1-5 Now on the same occasion there were some present who reported to Him about the Galileans whose blood Pilate had mixed (shed along with) their (daily) sacrifices. And Jesus said to them, "Do you suppose that these Galileans were greater sinners than all other Galileans because they suffered this fate? I tell you, NO, but unless you repent, you will all likewise perish.

Or do you suppose that those eighteen on whom the tower in Siloam fell and killed them were worse culprits than all the men who live in Jerusalem? I tell you, no, but unless you repent, you will all likewise perish.

One of the signs Christ was speaking of were people being burned on an altar and people being killed in a collapsing tower.

The message that Christ says these disturbing images were to transmit to the people were.

“If you think it is bad that these people perished in this shocking manner. You need to know that unless you fix what is wrong with yourselves and in the land, humble yourselves and repent you to will suffer a similar fate.”

We have recently as a nation and as Christians have had our “Red Dawn”.

The images of the 911 attacks should burn in our hearts because of the raw Biblical imagery they contain. The signs that Christ has sent us are so prophetically clear that all should heed them and humble themselves. To limit what is written here I am not going in full detail at this writing all that Luke 13:1-5 exposes.

One of the earliest images I can recall seeing on the morning of the attacks was dust and ashes. Dust and ashes covered the survivors who were within the Twin Towers. So much ash and dust covered them you could not tell Black from White.

Later dust and ash covered the entire city of New York. It was so pervasive that it even covered the inside of even the most sealed off millionaires apartments. Even a Biblical novice understands what this is a call for. It is a call for humility and repentance. This is common Biblical knowledge.

This is not a statement that somehow God had covered and repented the people in New York by force. No God allowed us to see in Biblical imagery on Television how to survive what is ahead. It is national repentance and humility.

One of the most horrifying aspects of the collapse of the towers was that these high proud towers were converted to a smoldering altar of burning flesh that continued to burn for days.

It seems cruel that God would allow the horrible deaths of these people just to be a sign to us who still walk the earth. How much more cruel to their lives would it be that we did not obey the sign that their lives were allowed to be sacrificed to demonstrate.

It is even more horrible in God’s eyes that he allowed the sacrifice of his only begotten Son so that we could sacrifice to created things rather that the creator.

Recently I made a commitment to get up every morning and join others in an early morning prayer at the church that I attend. One morning I relaxed a little more than I should and missed the prayer start time. I blew off the prayer and felt released that it would be okay with God if I missed one day.

I did not feel condemned but I realized later that my morning prayer was a sacrifice to God.

I would have handled it vastly different if I was getting up to meet a new customer. I would have never missed that appointment.

This is what is bringing us to discipline as a nation we are burning sacrifices on the altar of our work. Our daily sacrifices to God have ceased. He gets our leftovers if we have time from the bondage to our work.

I am not saying that we should stop working. What I am saying is that Christ should take first place in everything we do.(not that I have achieved this)

Earthly things should be put to the side. When we offer sacrifices to the earth we prosper in the earth. But the way of heaven is trampled down. The stars (this is us we are citizens of heaven) is cast down.

In Daniel 8:9-12 Antiochus Epiphanes was prophesied as a type of Anti-Christ. This fact is almost universally accepted by all eschatologists. One of his greatest sins was the cessation of the daily sacrifices to God and his demand that they be given unto himself and his god of power.

But what happens when we bring patriotic fervor and money stewardship classes within the church?

The faith prosperity movement is a vial doctrine that I am opposed to.

But at least their sinful use of Christ and his word for financial gain is out in the open and manifested. Many within the church are attempting the same thing yet not accepting it and keeping it hidden.

Our founding fathers gave their lives to keep the church grafted onto Christ.

For centuries prior to the foundation of our nation the church had been grafted onto the world as a part of the government of the earth.

Yet when recently our President grafted the church onto the government by endorsing faith based programs with Federal Money. Not even a whimper of protest was heard. It was assumed that it would be good for the church.

But in saying that what are the motives for a Wealthy European man to travel to a poor country and give wealth to a financially poor but moral family? If this man sought to bring unwholesome pleasures to their young daughter would it still be good?

Great discipline and pain is ahead.

But so is a stronger more viable church.

Death and suffering can be avoided if we humble ourselves now and heed the warning sign that Christ has allowed.

Savannah On The Verge

Renee Smith

February 23, 2002

IT IS TIME TO TAKE NOTICE...........

We were down in Savannah, GA this past week-end ministering, and as I was sitting in the back as the praise and worship was going on, the Lord gave me a vision.

THE INVITATION IS BEING SENT OUT.........

I saw an old fisherman. He was very large, so I was wondering how everyone in the city did not see him out there looking in towards the port, towards the roads and bridges over the water in the bay. He had on a weathered rain parka and hood and he was out over the water with his arm extended toward the shore. In his hand was a Beautiful, Glistening, Crystal Bell, like a dinner bell. He was ringing it for the people. I wondered why it was a Bell and not a lantern like you might see in a fisherman's hand.

HE IS BECKONING........

I didn't have the meaning fully while I was there. I mentioned it to the people at the meeting and one lady did shine some light on it, but mostly the vision kept coming. Last night, the Holy Spirit began to speak to me concerning this fisherman and his dinner bell...

HE HAS MADE US FISHERS OF MEN.........

I saw how through the years our Lord has sent out a call to Savannah as a Gateway to the South. He has been waiting patiently there over the water. He has weathered many storms with His people there in Savannah. His Spirit is brooding over the waters waiting for Savannah to come into her Authority. She is a Port Authority to bring in those there in the hi-ways and bi-ways, the Lord is saying to compel them to come in. IT IS TIME...He was looking towards the hi-ways, the bi-ways with an invitation in His hand. He is the one there in the water. His Spirit is The Water. HE is looking toward the city streets. He will make you, Savannah, Fishers Of Men if you will Follow Him!

HE WILL SEND OUT A SOUND TO SAVANNAH CLEAR AS A BELL!

Many will be in slumber, and are in slumber, as the Sound rings out to this City. Go and wake up the slumbering, the Invitation of the Lord is in His hand. He is RINGING the bell, this Crystal Clear sound coming from His hand is a CALL to go out in the Hi-ways and Bi-ways and compel them to come into the marriage supper of the Lord. Many will answer the call, many will not, but He is looking for those to answer and know He is waiting and Calling. He is watching, even with His eyes He is calling.

Every time you drive out over the bridges, every time you drive out over the marshes, every time you walk down the streets of your city Savannah, know there is one waiting there, an unseen guest, except by those with open eyes to see, watching for those who Hear the Sound of His beckoning. Go out, Come out. Bring them in to the Salvation of our Lord. Take back the City for Our God! The CALL IS CRYSTAL CLEAR. You are a Chosen Vessel. The Great Fisher Of Men is Waiting......People groups upon people groups have been sent there to this city, what will be your response OH SAVANNAH! He has already given you light, walk ye in it. Now He wants all to HEAR the invitation of His hand extended. Be Ready, Savannah, your Destiny is Calling! IT IS TIME, Wait no more...to TAKE YOUR CITY. He is WAITING. LORD MAY YOUR BLESSINGS BE ON SAVANNAH AS SHE FULFILLS HER DESTINY IN YOU!

Spirit Of The Word

John Lallier

The bible says the letter killeth but the spirit brings truth,

In Math, 28 Jesus said to be baptized in the [name] of the father son and holy ghost. So 22000 churches go and baptize in the name of the father son and holy ghost just like they read in the dead letter of the word. Now the spirit of the word is needed to understand what Jesus is saying. The father is not a name, the son is not a name and the holy ghost is not a name. You were baptized in the name of Tom Dick and Harry, [nothing]. Jesus said he would speak in parables and only the spiritual minded would understand. First you have to repent and then know that Jesus died for you and know he was god in the flesh. You must ask Jesus to come into your heart, that is when you get the [son]. That's the born again experience. Then after you know the son then you go to Jesus and ask him to baptize with the holy ghost. Jesus is the baptizer; you will get filled with the holy ghost and have signs following 1st Corinth 12. You will die to self and fast and pray and turn from this earth and turn from idols. Then God [the father] himself will come in. You must have all three.

Jesus said god will come into his newly finished temple, most Christians think Jesus will return in the finished temple in the holy land, but that's wrong, [dead letter]. Jesus said we are the temples of God and no more temples made with mans hands. We are lively stones. The world is waiting for the Jews to rebuild the temple and God will return. Many will be deceived, that's the temple Satan will come into. The Lord said he must leave and he is preparing a place for us and when he returns the holy city will come down from heaven[not made from mans hand].

In the old testament Moses was told to tell the people to keep three feasts. All would have to keep the three feasts , Passover, Pentecost and tabernacles; three feasts. Now Jesus is our Passover and when we ask Jesus into our heart we received the Passover [born again]. Then not many day latter like John The Baptist said in Math 3, we will get the [fire] the fire is the holy ghost, acts chapter two [as the tongues of fire fell on them]. That's the Pentecost feast. When the second coming of Christ comes [tabernacles] that's when god himself comes into his newly finished temples. You see you need all three feasts the father son and holy ghost all three and its all spiritual,

What is flesh is flesh., we can't use our carnal minds to use reason and understanding. Jesus said in john 16 13 the holy spirit is our teacher and that we need to go to no man. Well I did that, I took my eyes off of man and put them on Christ. He is my teacher and my God. I asked the lord one morning while in prayer, why all the confusion so many different churches all have a different teaching and understanding. The Lord spoke to me, he said he uses religion. It tells people about Jesus but when you seek him and find him he will tell you to get out.

I wouldn't be where I'm at with the lord if I didn't go to churches, the Lord is looking for sons [not pew warmers] Romans 8. Those that are led by the spirit become sons of God. My challenge to you all, if you don't know the Lord ask him into your heart. If you're born again, ask Jesus to baptize you with the holy ghost and when you die to self and this world then and only them will God come and rest in his newly finished temple. Another way of seeing this, look at a caterpillar and when it builds a cocoon it dies and then a butterfly comes out, you don't want to be a caterpillar you want to become a butterfly,

I felt led to write this to you all, I'm a nobody. I don't want people following me, I don't want your money. Jesus said to seek the truth and the truth will set you free. If you think you have truth and quit seeking truth you will miss out. Jesus said wide is the road and narrow is the path and few find it. Jesus is that door, seek him and go thru the door. Get your eyes off of man and let Jesus take you thru the three feasts by the spirit and not the flesh with your mind and reason and your own understanding, John 3 30 you must decrease that I might increase,

I cant spell, poor grammar, this is from a nobody. Jesus said he couldn't go to the nobles, he had to go to nobodies, become a nobody and know god. Knowledge puffs up but love edifies; those that are exalted will get humbled

Spiritual Hurricane

Let your roots grow down deep into him and draw up nourishment from Him, so you will grow in faith, strong and vigorous in the truth you were taught – Colossians 2:7

My precious children, I love each of you so much, and I am bringing to you a word of warning. As you look around the world right now, you can see that many disasters are escalating and you can see that desperation is sitting over many nations.
My church, as many disasters have come and hit the earth, so will the great shaking come to My church. It is closer than you realise.

A spiritual hurricane is about to hit My church. It is going to bring such a tremendous shaking to My church, that those who are not standing in Me, will not stand. They will not endure to the very end.

Look around, and you can see a taste for where the world is heading. As the earth crumbles, so must My people rise up. So must My people stand up and proclaim the Word of the Lord. So must My people stand up and reach out to Me, and receive the strength and power to endure.

For the days ahead will not be easy. My church needs to rise up, for if My church does not rise up, who will? There is intense battle in the spiritual, there is not time to waste playing church, My children. It is time to lay aside all that hinders and truly set your faces to Me like a flint and move forward. It is time to truly set your hearts on Me and serve Me.

It is My Word that will keep you grounded, it is My Word that is your bread of life. Do not remain where you are My church.

I am calling My army together. I am calling My army to take their place. Many have not yet taken their place nor counted the cost. Check your hearts My children, and listen to what I am saying.

You must come to Me in the quiet place and allow Me to take your roots so much deeper in Me, for this hurricane that will come to My church, will take out all of those who’s roots do not go deep into Me.

I long for all of My church to be deeply grounded in Me, waiting on Me, and ready for battle. My church, you are not ready for battle. You are not allowing Me to equip you. Lay down all your agenda’s and ideas and allow Me to train you, to show you what you need to know in order to walk in victory in the areas I have called you too.

The shofar is being blown. It’s time to rise up. It’s time to take your stand. Be strong for this hurricane is near, and I am calling each of you to re-examine where you are with Me.

Wake Up My church!!!!!! Do not sleep any longer!!!! Wake up and rise up to your calling. Rise up to what I have called you too. I love you, I want to grow you, I want to prosper you, but you must wake up.

The battle has intensified, and the enemy has only just begun in many ways. Be ready My church, be ready, be on guard, for if you are not on guard, and your roots are deep in Me, you will not survive.

Foundation

Lanna Perry

September 1st, 2005

Anyone who listens to My teaching and obeys me is wise, like a person who builds a house on solid rock – Matthew 7:24

I the Lord your God am building My church. I the Lord your God am building My church, and bringing about My Gospel of the Kingdom. The Gospel of the Kingdom that, I am coming back to earth, and I am coming back for My bride.

Many of you are building your foundation in Me on shaky ground. Many of you are trying to build your lives on other foundations besides Me. Many of you are crying out for release but you cannot be released if your foundations are not in Me.

My heart is grieved because many of you My children, are putting effort into building things not of My Kingdom. I see that many of you are trying to build houses for yourselves on mud. It will not work. You will sink.

If you build the foundations of your lives on anything but Me, when the wind and the waves come, you will be broken. You will collapse.

My heart is to see each of you spending time with Me, delighting in coming into My presence, coming away with Me and listening to My voice. Many of you are spending more time and effort building your success, or building your worry, or building your lives, and not building your foundation on Me, the only and only true living God.

I am continually sifting through My church, and I am sorting the sheep from the goats. Anyone who's foundation is not in Me, when the wind and the waves come, you will be torn down.

Your foundation My church is knowing Me. Your foundation is spending time listening to Me, and in My presence. Presently, a lot of My church does not know Me. A lot of My church knows OF Me through sermons and what they are told, but many do not know ME through revelation and through My spoken word into their lives. Why? Because many are spending time building on foundations not of Me, many who are claiming My name.

Oh My precious church, do not grieve My heart. For I have called you to shine brightly, I have called you to know Me, serve Me and take My Good News to the world.

I am a God of grace. I am not a God of condemnation. I will never condemn My people and My church. Never. I am just grieved at the lack of commitment and passion in My church, and churches will begin to fall, if My people do not repent and come and seek Me like never before.

I am calling My churches and My people to repent. I have grace upon My people. I long for My people to enjoy their lives with all the blessings that I provide, but first above all must come the foundation in Me.

Many of you are not placing Me and spending time with Me as a priority and I am grieved. My heart is very grieved. I have great great plans for each of you, and oh the mysteries and treasures I have to share with each of you. I long to hold you in My hands as a splendid crown My church to shine to all the world.

To show all the world, that this is a beautiful representation of Me. Of My love, My grace, My power and My forgiveness. My message. My message is represented by My church.

Come to Me, My church. No longer build your foundations on things of old and not of Me.

Choose today to place Me above all. Sow your time, and effort in building on Me.

For earthquakes and hurricanes hit the world physically, so will earthquakes and hurricanes soon hit My church spiritually, many of you will not be able to stand if you do not take heed of My Word.

I warn you because I am the Lord your God and I love you more than you could ever imagine. My love and thoughts towards you are as numerous as the sand on the seashore. My plans for you are greater than you could ever dream or imagine.

The blessings I have for each of you are over and above all that you have ever dreamed. The treasures and revelations I long to share with you are more amazing than you have ever seen, and the heart I have to transform you to be more and more like Me, is something that you cannot experience deeply if you are not sowing into the foundation of Me.

Do not keep your hearts far from Me any longer. Do not enjoy building foundations of things that are not of Me. Things of this world. Repent My church. Truly repent. Come before Me and allow Me to wash you clean. Come to Me, and KNOW ME, build your foundations on ME, My church and then truly shall the church of Mine shine brighter than the noonday sun.

Spiritual Advancement

Bill Burns

May 24, 2005:

I want you to understand that you have entered into a time of spiritual advancement unlike any in the history of mankind. This is a time when you shall be able to realize the fullness of your calling, a time when you will be able to receive all that I have for you. It is a time of spiritual advancement, for this is the time of opportunity for you to gird up the loins of your strength and begin to push into the kingdom. I am coming to you to bestow upon you the glory of these times, and I shall equip you for these times and provide all that you need so that each of you may fulfill your destiny and all that you have been called to do in this season, says the Lord.

Marsha Burns

May 24, 2005: Expect disruptions in your routine, and stay calm. I will light the path before you and direct your steps. And, know that when you experience a disturbance in your timing and order, I am still with you to guide you, says the Lord. My grace is sufficient to take you through even the most grueling of days. Trust Me to give you a second wind when you reach the end of your rope. Refuse to allow stress to rule, regardless of the situation.

Spirit Of Prophecy
Brenda Dowdin

Dec 2, 2005

Beloveds:

This last Sunday while worshiping in our corporate church gathering, "tongues" came upon me and I sensed a portal opening up over our church, over me. I then sensed the Holy Spirit saying this, "The spirit of prophecy is resting here!" I wrote this down and shared it with my pastor, thinking the Lord was going to break in to our service and move right then, but not really sure what the Lord was doing? Nothing happened right then...

Just a few days later, the Lord started to down load more...then on Nov 29th, it was the 333 day of the year and there were 33 days left in the year. For those of us that move in the prophetic realm this day was quite significant, pointing to Jeremiah 33:3. God's strategies scripture.... "Call to me, and ask me and I will show you great and mighty things, which you do not know!" Also on this last Nov 29th it was the passing of my own beloved father. This day marked the 8th year since his passing (eight meaning "new beginning" and "healing") The following is what I sensed the Father high lighting...

A word from the Father....

My Beloved Sons and Daughters: These last eight years I have broken in to your hearts and crushed the walls down of rejection, walls that would not allow you to know the Father person of the Godhead. These walls were erected by your own places of woundedness. Some of you had fathers who didn't understand you needed their affirmation and affection. Others just didn't have fathers, and still some had fathers who were abusive and cruel. I have spent the last 8 years breaking down these walls and bringing you in to a new place of "trust" of my "father heart" towards you. I have circumcised your hearts and the process has been excruciating for some of you. But, on this side of it all you have come to know me as your strong tower, a wall that will not be moved. A Father who cherishes you as my very own child. A Father who is always there no mater who deserts you or betrays you. It is this "Father heart" that I have longed for you to experience and trust. You see you have been on a journey to the Father's heart the last 8 years. Eight meaning "new beginning", for a "new found foundation and trust in my keeping power"! I have truly kept you Beloved! Although this testing time has been hard, it has been for my greater purposes that I've allowed you to journey here. For you see before you could truly love my son, these places of lack had to be dealt with. In order for you to completely fall in love with my son, your heavenly Bridegroom, you have needed to know the love of the Father and the steadfastness of my love towards you and all that touches you...

You Are Now Ready...

You have come in to a new depth of my love because of the journey. You are now ready to know the son at a whole new level of love. You will know His (our) "love anointing". He is the one who can look in to your eyes with his burning eyes of passion and fire and read the very depths of your soul and spirit. The one who can cause you to melt before him as wax, as he tells you how much he loves you. Then when you see his scares on his hands and feet, when you see his passion... something will change in you. The old places of resistance will flee from you. For you see Beloved, when you come near the Bridegroom you can't help but be swept off your feet in to his "love anointing". He is full of passion and compassion. He is the one who longs to love you in this deep way. He is the one who sees your true heart. He saw the women caught in the act of adultery and chose to forgive her. He saw this womens heart. He knew she hadn't a Fathers love. He knew that she was longing to know true love. Its true she had fallen in to a pit of despair, a trap of the enemy! But, the heavenly Bridegroom saw past the sin, he saw her heart. He saw that she was crying out inside, all along just wanting to be loved and adorned. Adorned by a Father and loved by a husband. She longed for acceptance, for her God had made her to love and to know love....

You see as my Beloved Son comes down as "The Spirit of Prophecy", you will know him in a whole new light. You will fall in love with him with a whole new depth and passion. As you walk with him, you will see those who have fallen in sin in a whole new light. Not in judgment, but in love and grace. When you see those on the streets, those who are homeless your hearts will weep with compassion as my "love anointing" falls upon you and moves through you. You see for the great harvest is before you, and I have prepared you to minister to those out in the byways and alleys of life. Those who no one else will love. My passion and fire will so change you and bring you in to this new level of love because of the depth of circumcision that has been done in your own hearts. I know you didn't understand the breaking of the Lord as it happened, but in the days ahead you will see. You will understand and you will love those who I send to you, just as my son did the adulteress women! My son will love them through you....great tears of compassion will fill your eyes, deep love will pour forth through you. You will be moved with passion. You will fall so very deeply in love with my son. The spirit of prophecy is coming upon those places and people who have embraced these last eight years of fire and refining. They shall know this new place in me. They shall move in deep passion and love...

There is a weightiness that is coming with the words you shall speak, for you shall speak my heart. A new level of power and anointing that will come as you release my heart. For the spirit of prophecy is my son. He is the written word and the prophetic word. It is his time to shine, and he will shine through you. You see we are one, and as you speak his heart you are also speaking my heart! We desire that you become one in spirit with us. Knowing our love and compassion. You will come into new levels of understanding and wisdom. New revelation of our heart for the harvest....for our creation.

When my Spirit of Prophecy comes upon the earth realm...you won't even be able to wrap your mind around it. Just kick the sides out of the box out right now. As you see with your eyes my spirit brooding over the lost, you will fall to your knees with great tears of compassion. My love anointing will increase until the fullness of time has come and I have brought in to my Kingdom such as are sufficient to fill the banqueting table before my son. I am gathering my son's bride and the guests to the wedding feast. The table is set, and I say come.... and the spirit and the bride, "together" say, Come! Your loving, steadfast Father, the one whom you can depend upon, always!

Lovingly in Him, Brenda Dowdin A dauthter of the Most High firebrand007@hotmail.com

Springs Of Water

Bill Somers

Mount Gilead Ohio USA

September, 2007

Recently while listening to an audio version of the Bible, I came across a passage in Joshua that the Spirit had quickened to me in times past. It became clear that He wanted me to work up a teaching based on it. As I looked into the meaning of some of the elements, He gave more light. When you seek the Lord, he reveals more of himself to you.

We have recently started a prayer meeting, which may develop into a house church. For now we are meeting at our local public library. Their summer reading program was themed Get A Clue. That became the title of our bible study sessions. Then while sharing this insight from Joshua at the prayer meeting we saw it as a good example of approaching the scriptures and drawing from their depths. So our by-line for this teaching is this:

What To Do When You Get A Clue.
Here is the quote from Joshua.

> Joshua 15:15-19
> 15 And he went up thence to the inhabitants of Debir: and the name of Debir before was Kirjathsepher.
> 16 And Caleb said, He that smiteth Kirjathsepher, and taketh it, to him will I give Achsah my daughter to wife.
> 17 And Othniel the son of Kenaz, the brother of Caleb, took it: and he gave him Achsah his daughter to wife.
> 18 And it came to pass, as she came unto him, that she moved him to ask of her father a field: and she lighted off her ass; and Caleb said unto her, What wouldest thou?
> 19 Who answered, Give me a blessing; for thou hast given me a south land; give me also springs of water. And he gave her the upper springs, and the nether springs.
> 20 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Judah according to their families.

The above passage in Joshua makes up an end time allegory. A similar passage is found in Judges 1:12-15, so it’s something that the bible has repeated twice.

Now here is the clue the Spirit gave me.
In verse 19 the upper springs, and the nether springs are the former and the latter rain.

So, what do to when you get a clue? We look up what else the bible has to say about the former and the latter rain. And as we do we find that is has great meaning as figurative language often does.

The Rains

> Deuteronomy 11:11-14
> 11 But the land, whither ye go to possess it, is a land of hills and valleys, and drinketh water of the rain of heaven:
> 12 A land which the LORD thy God careth for: the eyes of the LORD thy God are always upon it, from the beginning of the year even unto the end of the year.
> 13 And it shall come to pass, if ye shall hearken diligently unto my commandments which I > command you this day, to love the LORD your God, and to serve him with all your heart and with all your soul, > 14 That I will give you the rain of your land in his due season, the first rain and the latter rain, that thou mayest gather in thy corn, and thy wine, and thine oil.

This quote from Deuteronomy indicates in verse 14 that these rains are given to make it possible to gather in the crops at the end of the year. Verse 13 lays out a condition for this, God's people must be obedient for this to happen.

> Jeremiah 5:24 Neither say they in their heart, Let us now fear the LORD our God, that giveth rain, both the former and the latter, in his season: he reserveth unto us the appointed weeks of the harvest.

In Jeremiah there is also a mention of the rains. Both of these passages mention that the harvest, and the rains that make it possible, come in a certain season.

> Joel 2:23 Be glad then, ye children of Zion, and rejoice in the LORD your God: for he hath given you the former rain moderately, and he will cause to come down for you the rain, the former rain, and the latter rain in the first month.

This quote from Joel is interesting for several reasons. One is that it mentions the first month. The first month, however is a vague reference. How is this? There is a peculiar feature in the Jewish calendar. It's because there is a civil calendar and a religious calendar. In the religious calendar the first month is in the spring, but in the civil calendar the first month is in the fall. So some will say that the former rain is the spring rains and others will tell you it's the fall rains. Actually the bible is unclear on this.

Since the Jewish calendar is a lunar calendar, some years have extra months. But the extra month is always inserted, in the appropriate years during the winter. This means that there is always the same number of days between the beginning of the religious year and the civil year. And therefore the time between Passover and Tabernacles is always constant.

Both rains are needed in their seasons in Israel since the barley and wheat harvests come in the spring. That's the corn. While the Oil and the Wine, which is the fruit harvest, comes in the fall.

The End Times

Joel chapter 2 is full of end time prophecy. This is another clue, which is that the rains have to do with the end times. Also note that in Joel it says God will send the former rain and the latter rain in the first month, that is both at the same time. Here's another clue that we're talking about a supernatural rain.

> Zechariah 10:1 Ask ye of the LORD rain in the time of the latter rain; so the LORD shall make bright clouds, and give them showers of rain, to every one grass in the field.

Zechariah is another book full of end time prophecy, this verse speaks of asking the Lord for rain in the time or season of the latter rain. This idea suggests that the time of the latter rain is the latter days.

Next in James we find mention of the fruit harvest, the rains and the second coming of the Lord.

> James 5:7-8
> 7 Be patient therefore, brethren, unto the coming of the Lord. Behold, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, and hath long patience for it, until he receive the early and latter rain.

> 8 Be ye also patient; stablish your hearts: for the coming of the Lord draweth nigh.

This should make it clear that when the bible mentions the former and the latter rain, and the season of the latter rain, that it's talking about the end times and the return of the Lord.

Let's pull in one more quote, this time from Matthew.

> Matthew 13:38-39
> 38 The field is the world; the good seed are the children of the kingdom; but the tares are the children of the wicked one;
> 39 The enemy that sowed them is the devil; the harvest is the end of the world; and the reapers are the angels.

Here Jesus is speaking and he explains the details of the parable of the sower. Applying this back to Joshua, we know that the field is the world and the harvest is the end of the world, the end times. Achsah here is asking her father Caleb for springs of water to go with the land he has given her. This is a parallel to asking the Lord for the rains needed to bring in crops off the land.

Father, Bride and Groom
What to do when you get a clue? Next we do a little research on the meaning of names. Here's what we come up with.

Othniel [Oth'ni-el] means lion of God and Achsah [Ach'sah] means ankle-chain, anklet.
> Smith's Bible Dictionary

From this we should be able to figure out that Othniel is a type of Jesus, and Achsah is the Bride of Christ. Then this makes Caleb a type of Abba, the Father God.

When Caleb gives his daughter Achsah to Othniel as a bride, he naturally acquires a son in law. This brings to mind Psalm 2 where the Father says to the son, this day you are now my son. Then as Achsah moved him to ask of her father a field, we Psalm 2 mentions the Father telling the Son to ask him for an inheritance, nothing less than the world. And as we know, the field is the world.

> Psalms 2:7-8
> 7 I will declare the decree: the LORD hath said unto me, Thou art my Son; this day have I begotten thee.
> 8 Ask of me, and I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession.

Right after this, Achsah is saying to Caleb thou hast given me a south land; give me also springs of water.

So that suddenly the field given to Othniel now belongs to Achsah. What does this mean?

I believe it reflects the idea that after Jesus rose from the dead he gave the church what we call the great commission. In other words, after defeating the enemy, Satan, He gains power and authority over the earth. And he turns right around and conveys this power and authority to the church. Here are some verses that support this view.

> Matthew 28:18-19
> 18 And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and > in earth.

> 19 Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost:
> Mark 16:15 And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature.
> John 20:21 Then said Jesus to them again, Peace be unto you: as my Father hath sent me, even so send I you.
> Matthew 24:14 And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come.

Achsah then acting as a type of the church in the book of Joshua, prefigures the church interceding for revival to come so she will be empowered to bring in the promised harvest. As we quoted above: Zechariah 10:1 Ask ye of the LORD rain in the time of the latter rain….

This is the inheritance of the church, and parallels the reference to an inheritance mentioned in Joshua 15:20 above. As Matthew 5 says:

> Matthew 5:5 Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth.

The Story So Far

Now what is this allegory saying? Firstly, a bride, highly prized and chosen by the father is promised to who ever accomplishes a great feat; capturing a town. This speaks of Jesus who wins his bride by his victory at the cross, a great feat that earns him ownership of the entire world.

Achsah comes to Othniel and moves him to ask her father for a field. This speaks of Jesus asking his Father for the world and the nations that inhabit it. But notice that Caleb then asks Achsah what she wants. This speaks of the fact that Jesus, having won the world, immediately turns it over to the church. Achsah then intercedes before her father and asks for springs of water to go with the land. This shows that the church must intercede and wait for the former and latter rain before she can take and use that land promised to her. Or before the church can bring in the harvest of souls to be saved in the end of days.

What to do when you get a clue?

Next we do a little more research on the meaning of names. Here’s what we come up with.

Debir [De'bir] means a sanctuary.
Kirjath-sepher [Kir'jath-se'pher] means city of books.
Smith’s Bible Dictionary

A sanctuary is a holy place, church or temple. City of Books reminds one of the Christian Church and it’s Holy Book of Books, the Bible. So we have Othniel smiting this town and taking it; and the town stands for the Church!

Now an allegory or parable is defined as a symbolic work in which the characters and events are to be understood as representing other things and symbolically expressing a deeper, often spiritual, moral, or political meaning. That is according to the Encarta dictionary.

So an allegory makes an analogy. But now all of a sudden instead of talking about Jesus victory over Satan our allegory is talking about the church. What’s going on here? We are shifting focus, changing gears or mixing metaphors if you will.

What this part of the allegory is saying is that in order for Jesus to get his bride he has to capture, conquer, or take over the church. The church and the bride of Christ, or wife and the body are often interchangeable terms. Ephesians 5:23 links the three ideas together. [Another clue there.]

> Ephesians 5:23 For the husband is the head of the wife, even as Christ is the head of the church: and he is the savior of the body.

But here the church and the bride are different. This reflects the idea that the church we have today is not the spotless bride that will eventually be united with the Lord. The one described in Ephesians 5:27.

> Ephesians 5:27 That he might present it to himself a glorious church, not having spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish.

So the church of today has to be transformed into this spotless bride. This is done by judgment. Because Judgment brings righteousness.

> Isaiah 26:9 With my soul have I desired thee in the night; yea, with my spirit within me will I seek thee early: for when thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn righteousness.

And in the end times judgment begins with the church.

> 1 Peter 4:17 For the time is come that judgment must begin at the house of God: and if it first begin at us, what shall the end be of them that obey not the gospel of God?

And once the church is in a place where it does obey the gospel of God, it will be holy and without blemish. Deuteronomy 11:11-14 also mentions that the rains will come to an obedient people.

This whole program can be seen in chapter 1 of Isaiah, where the Lord spells out his end time plan. Here the church is identified as Mount Zion.

> Isaiah 1:24-28
> 24 Therefore saith the Lord, the LORD of hosts, the mighty One of Israel, Ah, I will ease me of mine adversaries, and avenge me of mine enemies:
> 25 And I will turn my hand upon thee, and purely purge away thy dross, and take away all thy tin:
> 26 And I will restore thy judges as at the first, and thy counsellors as at the beginning: afterward thou shalt be called, The city of righteousness, the faithful city.
> 27 Zion shall be redeemed with judgment, and her converts with righteousness.
> 28 And the destruction of the transgressors and of the sinners shall be together, and they that forsake the LORD shall be consumed.

We also note that in Joshua 15:19 Achsah says Give me a blessing. The blessing is found in the end of Psalm 133 for when the church becomes the spotless bride, then the brethren dwell together in unity!

> Psalms 133:1-3
> 1 <A Song of degrees of David.> Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!
> 2 It is like the precious ointment upon the head, that ran down upon the beard, even Aaron's > beard: that went down to the skirts of his garments;

> 3 As the dew of Hermon, and as the dew that descended upon the mountains of Zion: for there the LORD commanded the blessing*, even life for evermore.*

The Story So Far

Well so far here is how the allegory breaks out:

1. We will see that Othniel is a type of Jesus, and
2. Achsah is a type of the Bride of Christ.
3. Caleb is a type of the Father God.
4. Debir or Kirjathsepher is a type of the church,
5. Capturing Debir is the judgment on the church,
6. the field is a type of the world and
7. the upper and nether springs of water are speaking of the former and latter rain.
8. The inheritance of the tribe of the children of Judah is also a reference to the earth, the land of promise.

This is not saying that the Children of Israel are not promised the land of Canaan as the Lord spoke to Abraham in Genesis 12. We are simply generalizing and looking at a bigger picture. The promised land can also mean the Kingdom of God.

More To The Story – The South Land

The bible is not just some historical record. It tells us that all scripture is profitable. Every detail is placed there for a purpose. Looking back at Joshua 15:19, you can see where Achsah mentions that the need for springs of water is because she has been given a south land.

> Joshua 15:19 Who answered, Give me a blessing; for thou hast given me a south land*; give me also springs of water. And he gave her the upper springs, and the nether springs.*

A little more research brings up this tidbit of information. A definition of south as translated from the Hebrew language.

South negeb [neh'-gheb] From an unused root meaning to be parched; the south (from its drought); specifically the negeb or southern district of Judah.
Strong’s Dictionary

So the land Achsah gets is a parched desert! Some wedding present! But she is a wise daughter and intercedes with her father who gives the needed waters. Think of the many references to watering the desert or dry land you can find in the bilble. For example:

> Isaiah 41:18 I will open rivers in high places, and fountains in the midst of the valleys: I will make the wilderness a pool of water, and the dry land springs of water.
> Isaiah 35:4-7
> 4 Say to them that are of a fearful heart, Be strong, fear not: behold, your God will come with vengeance, even God with a recompence; he will come and save you.
> 5 Then the eyes of the blind shall be opened, and the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped.
> 6 Then shall the lame man leap as an hart, and the tongue of the dumb sing: for in the wilderness shall waters break out, and streams in the desert*.*
> 7 And the parched ground shall become a pool, and the thirsty land springs of water: in the habitation of dragons, where each lay, shall be grass with reeds and rushes.

Isaiah 30:25 puts these streams of water into an end time context.

> Isaiah 30:25 And there shall be upon every high mountain, and upon every high hill, rivers and streams of waters in the day of the great slaughter, when the towers fall.
> Exodus 4:9 And it shall come to pass, if they will not believe also these two signs, neither hearken unto thy voice, that thou shalt take of the water of the river, and pour it upon the dry land: and the water which thou takest out of the river shall become blood upon the dry land.
> Psalms 46:4 There is a river, the streams whereof shall make glad the city of God, the holy place of the tabernacles of the most High.

These scriptures make allusion to the end time harvest, which is what it’s all about anyway.

What to do when you get a clue?
Follow through!

Now could there be any special meaning to the fact that Ashsah was riding an ass?
Could Othniel, Kenaz and Caleb somehow represent the Trinity?
What else does the bible say about south lands?

A Great Eagle

Bob's initial visions symbolically depicted the United States of America as a great eagle. However, her demeanor was not that of a majestic bird of courage and strength.

Instead, she appeared battered and confused. Her strength was depleted and her feathers were in disarray; they had been dipped in the filth of this world.

Her weakened condition prevented normal flight and she could not soar in her ordinary manner. Something had to be done and quickly!

Not only were her feathers tainted and her beak disfigured, but she also appeared fat and bloated from the poisonous meat she had consumed. She was swollen with the poison of secular humanism and spiritual self-righteousness.

All of these conditions prevented her from soaring into flight with majesty and resolve. This eagle's stateliness is dependant upon her ability to escape into the heavens to see with clarity the direction to lead into the 21st century.

Bob then watched as the eagle flew to a hidden rock. In her weakened state, an eagle molt began from this secluded place. Transition and renewal was initiated.

The only Rock that can adequately hide us during seasons of hardship, confusion and shame is the Lord Jesus Christ.

The Eagle Molt

Because of their strength, eagles have been a symbol of war and imperial power since the early days of man. Nevertheless, it is theorized that at least once in the lifetime of an eagle, a molting process takes place—a renewal.

When this occurs the eagle begins to lose its feathers, beak and talons. This creates an extremely feeble and vulnerable condition.

The prophet David once acknowledged it is the Lord,

Who satisfies your years with good things, so that your youth is renewed like the eagle –Psalms 103:5

David spoke of a renewal process the eagle experiences that transcends into a spiritual application.

Unlike other birds, eagles molt in their old age in order to be revitalized with greater resilience. With the removal and regrowth of their feathers, there is a restoring of youth and vitality.

According to scientific theory, the eagle's feathers become laden with oil and dirt making them brittle and degenerated. The beak and talons become calcified and fragile. It is then that the eagle retires to a hidden place beyond the reach of predators, to initiate the renewal process.

With the extraction of its feathers, the molting eagle finds itself unable to fly; its vision is also substantially impaired during this handicapped season. Because of the combination of its weakened condition and pronounced calcium build-up on its beak, the molting eagle cannot carry itself in the proud manner normally accustomed.

During their vulnerability, molting eagles are dependent upon comrade eagles for their sustenance. They find themselves reliant upon others when they are conditioned to self-sufficiency. If it can survive the shame and exposure, the stripping process paves the way for the eagle to become even stronger.

All of these influences are prophetic signs of the place we find ourselves as a nation and within the western Church. Even so, our hope is grounded in Isaiah's prophecies when he said, those who wait for the LORD will gain new strength; they will mount up with wings like eagles, they will run and not get tired, they will walk and not become weary. –Isaiah 40:31

We are furnished the incredible opportunity to gain new strength, if we will follow the directive of Heaven and take our place of authority as God's representation on earth. We have the Lord's assurance that He will incline His ear to our prayers and supplications to extend mercy and grace. Like Daniel our prayer is,

O my God, incline your ear and hear! Open your eyes and see our desolations and the city which is called by your name; for we are not presenting our supplications before you on account of any merits of our own, but on account of your great compassion - Daniel 9:18

Our restoration will be determined exclusively through God's compassion.

The Promise of Restoration

Bob was then told that America is in a weakened and vulnerable condition typified by the eagle shown in the vision. However, the promise was also granted that she could soar majestically once again, but only by the great-grace of God.

This is not to imply that the entirety of our nation will abandon corruption and sin. Although that would be wonderful. Rather, our present promise is for the restoration of a Godly pattern to be conveyed to our nation; the reestablishment of principles we have compromised in recent years.

Some of these areas of improvement are listed:

1. There is an incredible opportunity to see the justice system renovated to a more righteous standard.

2. We have the great responsibility to contend for the destiny of our youth with the recovery of prayer in school.

3. We also have the mandate to battle for the purity of our soil and reverse the position of our courts concerning abortion. Innocent blood continues to cry out from our soil as it did with righteous Abel. Even so, we can overcome this great tragedy.

4. Furthermore, we as the Church of Jesus Christ have the commission to lead society rather than bear the reproach of society.

5. When we begin to reflect the image of Christ and carry His virtue, then those in the world will turn their attention to us to discover life in God.

During days of great outpouring, it was gifted Christians who lead culture and revolutionized the arts, literature, finance and other arenas of our existence.

Even so, this deposit of grace needed in all of these areas will not be granted automatically; it is dependant upon the willingness of God's people to stand in the gap as a righteous agency. Moses did so for Israel and obtained God's mercy when it was least deserved.

The Lord was angry with Israel's rebellion and declared,

How long will this people spurn Me? And how long will they not believe in Me, despite all the signs which I have performed in their midst? I will smite them with pestilence and dispossess them, and I will make you into a nation greater and mightier than they. –Numbers 14:11-12

Moses immediately remembered the Lord's attributes of mercy and grace and assumed the role of intermediary. He called upon God's favor saying,

Pardon, I pray, the iniquity of this people according to the greatness of Your lovingkindness, just as You also have forgiven this people, from Egypt even until now -- Numbers 14:19

With that plea for mercy the most amazing thing transpired. Almighty God, the Creator of Heaven and earth, recognized and acknowledged the prayer of a righteous man and granted mercy.

The Lord altered His position from destroying the people to extending forgiveness because of righteous intercession. The Lord said,

I have pardoned them according to your word; but indeed, as I live, all the earth will be filled with the glory of the LORD — Numbers 14:20-21

This is our promise and our hope for this season. Our only reconciliation can be found in the attributes of mercy and grace inherent in God's heart. Without it we will perish.

Nevertheless, as surely as the Lord lives, there will be a company of people in the earth who join themselves to Him without reservation, to manifest and reveal His glory. We have that Biblical mandate clearly stated.

A Righteous Response

As the vision continued Bob observed an immediate response from righteous intercessors. A vast company of virtuous saints, a number larger than Bob expected, began to surround the eagle. With great passion they began to earnestly cry out for Heavenly mercy.

Like Elijah, many have felt only a small remnant have not bowed their spiritual knees to compromise and seeker sensitive Christianity. However, the Lord is announcing that He has His "seven thousand" hidden warriors of righteousness. This is not a literal number but a symbolic portrayal of a body of people who have abandoned their hearts to God.

Honey and Scrolls

As they pleaded their case before God's Throne, a host from Heaven joined in unison. This extensive array of Heavenly messengers are specially equipped for the end-of-days confrontation. The Lord Jesus Himself spoke of a portion of this company in Matthew 13.

As the angelic host descended, they brought with them unique provision from God. They delivered "honey" and "scrolls" that would transform this weak and sick eagle into the majestic bird she was created to be.

The Honey

Honey is a general biblical reference for the sweetness and loveliness of the precious graces we discover through faith in Christ. Various Old and New Testament Scriptures make positive references for this virtue.

The land of promise is symbolically epitomized as one flowing with milk and honey. Very often, the word of God is to the soul what honey is to the body.

Furthermore, Jonathan's eyes were enlightened when he ate the honey after the weariness of battle. (1 Samuel 14:27) This is also a symbolic reference to the spirit of revelation that is being granted in this day. It is fundamentally essential for the spirit of stupor to be extracted for us to begin to see with spirit eyes.

Without illumination we will continue to make the same mistakes as in the past. This will be especially true with our governmental leadership. Our president needs a revelation concerning Israel.

These are just a few of the potential application of the honey. There can be many more!

The Scrolls

Scrolls are a general reference for oracles from God and prophetic promises. Our present call is not merely to read the Word, but "eat the Word."

When the prophets of old ate the scrolls, it was as though they consumed the prophetic theme for a generation. They then became the message. The Lord does not only want us to have a prophetic promise, but to become the promise.

In Revelations 10 we discover the open book containing the full revelation of Jesus Christ. It is the book of redemption. The Church can also expect fresh insight from God's heart that has been reserved for the end-time generation.

We are called to take the open book from His hand and eat it. We must prophesy again concerning many nations, tongues, tribes and kingdoms.

As we call upon Him, He is promising to answer us and tell us great and mighty things that we presently do not know. (Jeremiah 33:3)

The scrolls descending with the angelic host represent measures of revelation concerning the nature of Christ and latter-day prophetic promises from His word.

According to Daniel 12:4,

But you, Daniel, close up and seal the words of the scroll until the time of the end. Many will go here and there to increase knowledge.

These words contained in God's blueprint will have application within the Church and also for our nation in its transition into a more fruitful posture.

Again, these promises are not to indicate the complete turning of this nation, but within the core leadership position on key issues. Even so, we are promised a great harvest of souls from our nation and throughout the world.

There will be a grace for those seeking it, but also increased lawlessness for those who spurn God's hand of mercy. It will be the best of times and the worst of times.

Ours is a promise for the restoration of moral virtues to be recaptured that were once lost.

Releasing the Honey and Scrolls

The more righteous prayer ascended before God, increased measures of hope was being imparted to the eagle. As the angels continued to feed the bird through the saint's intercession, the transformation was initiated.

When the angels fed the honey and the Word of God to the eagle, the poison she had previously consumed began to be neutralized. This process appeared to be approximately a two-year journey. We are presently in a two-year transition. God's Word will eradicate the contamination of secular humanism; it is the only antidote.

This eagle is not appointed unto death during this season, but to repentance. She is called to once again eat the good Word of God. The Lord is not finished with this nation. There are prominent things yet to be accomplished before the end comes.

Although many may see the outward condition of the eagle and predict her death, it is not the will of God for this to transpire. It takes people with Heavenly vision to be able to see an exceedingly great army in a valley of dry bones.

Nevertheless, those that possess eyes to see will prophesy life to the bones and watch the miracle transpire. The future of this great eagle is in the hands of God's people.

A Fullness of Time Juncture

We are living in a crucial moment in the spiritual history of this nation and in the Church's destiny; a "fullness of time" moment in God's plan. God Himself is granting to the Church increased authority to stand in the gap for our nation.

Our willingness to heed this call will determine the speed by which the heart of America is transformed from a weakened and poisoned position into the majestic nation she was intended to be.

The "great eagle" is called to live in this hour and also to lead. This nation's present eagle molt can be facilitated only through the prayers and counsel of God's people. It will be the consolidated intercession of the Church and the spirits of righteous men and women made perfect. As the writer of Hebrews acknowledges,

But you have come to Mount Zion and to the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to myriads of angels, to the general assembly and church of the firstborn who are enrolled in heaven, and to God, the Judge of all, and to the spirits of the righteous made perfect, and to Jesus, the mediator of a new covenant, and to the sprinkled blood, which speaks better than the blood of Abel - Hebrews 12:22-24

We have come to Mount Zion and the city of the Living God. We have come to myriads of angels and to the spirits of the righteous made perfect.

All of the Heavenly host are standing to attention at this most crucial hour in our nation's history and in God's blueprint.

As the Bible depicts, we are presently surrounded by a great cloud of witnesses who constitute spirits of righteous men made perfect. The Lord Himself ever lives to make intercession, and those joined to Him do likewise.

When the righteous cry out, the Lord hears from Heaven. All of this hinges on the establishment of righteousness in God's people and their willingness to stand in the gap.

Our nation's cleansing transformation has already begun. The molting procedure has been initiated with many of the things we have been watching over the last two years. The direction of the future is in our hands.

In Bob's vision, it was the Church of Jesus Christ surrounding our nation that caught God's attention. It is our righteousness, imputed to us by the Lord's blood, that is our door of hope. It is our role to bring the spirit of repentance into the Church on behalf of our nation.

Hidden Warriors

Many of the ones who are called to play a key role in this responsibility are not even known on earth, but they are known in heaven. These spiritual warriors have received the imputed righteousness of God and carry His influence.

They have captured the attention of Heaven and it is now time to arise, like Moses from the wilderness, and exercise their delegated authority.

For a season, David was hidden in the cave of Adullam. When the time was appropriate, he and his mighty band emerged in strength to execute God's commission. So shall it be with this company.

Although the call is for the entirety of the Church, those that will be used most notably in this battle will be many who are yet unknown in a public forum; even so, they are well-known before the Throne of Grace. Their reward will be great, once victory is achieved.

The heart of this message is for God's people to adhere to His standard of righteousness. Purity and maturity will prepare us to carry great mantels of authority needed for this commissioning.

A primary part of our mandate for this season is intercession for our nation and Israel. A deposit of anointing and authority is being allocated for those who will apprehend it.

Although we are focused on the prophetic promises for the future, much will be determined by our willingness to embrace this present responsibility. Winning this battle will lay a platform for the achievement of many prophetic promises granted to us as a corporate body and as individuals.

Transforming the Prophetic

As a form of prophetic symbolism, the eagle is distinguished for its beauty and strength. They are endowed with keen eyesight that portrays revelatory vision and prophetic understanding. The eagle is an emblem of God's voice to mankind, conveying divine favor, correction and Heavenly direction.

Bob's vision can also portray an eagle molt taking place in the prophetic community and throughout the entire Church. This has been a refining season. God's pruning is for the purpose of bringing us to a place of maturity so that we can taste the good word of God and the power of the age to come.

Thus far we have been like infants on milk learning how to operate in revelatory gifts and callings. This has been a necessary season; it is now time for maturity and character to be exemplified in the body of Christ and especially within the prophetic community.

There are mysteries of the Kingdom that the Bible calls strong meat, that is to be delegated to us in this season. Clean hands, pure hearts and spiritual adulthood are prerequisites to steward properly this great responsibility and end-time destiny.

For though by this time you ought to be teachers, you have need again for someone to teach you the elementary principles of the oracles of God, and you have come to need milk and not solid food. For everyone who partakes only of milk is not accustomed to the word of righteousness, for he is an infant. But solid food is for the mature, who because of practice have their senses trained to discern good and evil - Hebrews 5:12-14

Our Spiritual DNA

The Lord is presently speaking very pointedly about the Church's need to move into spiritual maturity. Many people living in this generation have a unique and holy attribute woven into their spiritual DNA.

A predetermined virtue provokes us to move beyond the outer court and into a place of Kingdom expression. It is called divine destiny.

Our adversary has worked diligently to release the "spirit of stupor" over the western church. This diabolical scenario blinds our eyes and shields our ears to spiritual truth. It promotes a sense of satisfaction to simply live in a justified state without being incited to greater deeps in God.

The eagle molt within the Church is to strengthen us and move us into a place of greater responsibility in the functioning of our spiritual gifts. This process is fundamentally necessary for the achievement of our personal and corporate destiny.

The Lord has saved us and He has also given us a holy calling or a divine destiny. The Scriptures declares that He, has saved us and called us with a holy calling, not according to our works, but according to His own purpose and grace which was given to us in Christ Jesus before time began — 2 Timothy 1:9

We as God's covenant people have a function and responsibility while living in this world. If we are content to simply remain in the elementary principles of the faith, we may never achieve the notable destiny and holy calling prescribed for us. The eagle molt presently taking place is to bring us into adulthood and our "time-of-the-end" mandate.

With spiritual maturity we can be entrusted with tremendous virtue and authority necessary to impact our generation with the Kingdom's message. We are called for this objective.

These blueprints for our lives are already recorded in the archives of Heaven. (Psalms 139:16) It remains up to each of us individually to co-operate with the Lord in their fulfillment.

Conformed to His Image

Our ultimate personal destiny is to be conformed to the image of Jesus Christ. We are not certain what we will be like in the conclusion of time; but we do know that we will be like Him because we will have seen Him as He is. What an incredible assurance!

1 John 3:2 outlines this promise saying,

Beloved, now we are children of God, and it has not appeared as yet what we will be. We know that when He appears, we will be like Him, because we will see Him just as He is. And everyone who has this hope fixed on Him purifies himself, just as He is pure.

The Lord is granting to His people eyes to see and ears to hear the revelation of divine destiny. This realization breaks the spirit of despair and hopelessness. It launches us into an inheritance set-aside for us before the foundation of the world.

This grace was purchased at a great cost; the blood of Jesus Christ. We are the "joy" that was set before the Lord for which He willingly endured the cross although He despised its shame.

Many things are now being spoken about the provision for our destiny. This trend will escalate in the days ahead.

One of the foremost aspects of identifying our destiny is to also understand the stewardship of spiritual provision essential for its fulfillment. That is the primary objective in the eagle molt presently taking place. We must come out of it much stronger and more mature.

However, we can only achieve the fullness of our inheritance when we first discover the awareness and personal pursuit of our individual destiny. Each of us has the destiny to be like Jesus and convey His nature.

A Righteous Army

Very often in God's ways, difficult things are allowed in order to achieve higher purposes. Joseph's tribulations in Egypt prepared him for leadership. What the enemy intended for evil, God meant for good.

After God's pruning was complete, Joseph recognized God's hand and said,

Do not be afraid, for am I in God's place? As for you, you meant evil against me, but God meant it for good in order to bring about this present result, to preserve many people alive. -

Genesis 50:19-20

This has been the model during this present season. As God's people, the difficulties and hardships we currently face are principally designed to make us better. This season of the spirit is intended to establish righteousness within a company of believers who will become an exceedingly great army.

That is not to imply that the entirety of our condition is the result of an enemy assault. Much of our present circumstances are the result of our poor choices.

Even so, the enemy exploits the opportunity to unleash destruction and misery. The Lord allows this for a season to accomplish a Heavenly purpose.

Nevertheless, once it is complete and Gods righteousness and purity is woven into our hearts, we can then petition the justice of God for restoration of all that the thief has stolen and destroyed. The Lord promised, "I will restore."

I will strengthen the house of Judah, and I will save the house of Joseph, and I will bring them back, because I have had compassion on them; and they will be as though I had not rejected them, for I am the LORD their God and I will answer them. - Zechariah 10:6

If we submit to God's grace, it will make us better; but if we do not, these times will make us bitter. Heaven's desire is for the Lord's righteousness to be made evident among God's people. That is the number one objective in this season.

But seek first His kingdom and His righteousness, and all these things will be added to you - Matthew 6:33

If we will seek first God's Kingdom and His righteousness, everything else we need will be imparted to us.

Once we carry the evidence of His righteousness, we can then be endowed with the mantels of power and authority needed for the harvest. The end result of this season will be a mighty harvest of souls brought into the Kingdom through demonstrations of God's power.

The Kingdom of God consists of righteousness, peace and joy in the Holy Spirit. These are the attributes we must embody during the harvest season.

Therefore do not let what is for you a good thing be spoken of as evil; for the kingdom of God is not eating and drinking, but righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Spirit - Romans 14:16-17

If we do not possess these Heavenly attributes, we could be overcome by the flood of darkness prevalent in this spiritual climate and the insecurity rampant in the world.

Grace for the Arts

Although there are many pressures that we presently experience, these times will also introduce a heightened release of creativity in the artistic community. Bob was told, "Great deposits from the Spirit of the Creator will be evident in the arts, literature, poetry and music."

Those who are gifted in this arena should begin to earnestly pursue this measure of grace that is about to be available. Its purpose is to awaken our generation to its uniqueness.

Very often the greatest songs are written during seasons of distress and heartache. The same principle has been true throughout history in relationship to the arts.

Bob heard this on the Day of Atonement and I had a confirming revelation many months ago. We entitled it "The Coming Renaissance."

The Coming Renaissance

The end of 2003 provided one of the richest and thoroughly rewarding revelations I have received from the Lord. It was an incredible journey into Heaven's treasury room. I have written about this encounter in detail in "Books of Destiny."

The apostle Paul, in his epistle to the Colossians, records an encouragement regarding the great wealth we have as our inheritance in Christ. He hoped, that their hearts may be encouraged, having been knit together in love, and attaining to all the wealth that comes from the full assurance of understanding, resulting in a true knowledge of God's mystery, that is Christ Himself in whom are hidden all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge. Colossians 2:2-3

This wealth, however, is not the riches of this world but priceless treasures of wisdom and knowledge hidden in Christ. It is our privilege and prerogative to explore the depths of His heart by the spirit of revelation to ascertain the immense value of these riches.

Greater opportunity exists today than any prior generation to access God's mysteries and secrets hidden in Christ Jesus. The prophet Daniel foresaw this privilege and wrote of it in Daniel 12. He recorded,

Those who have insight will shine brightly like the brightness of the expanse of heaven, and those who lead the many to righteousness, like the stars forever and ever. But as for you, Daniel, conceal these words and seal up the book until the end of time; many will go back and forth, and knowledge will increase. Daniel 12:3-4

The end of days will be characterized by great revelation of God's Kingdom and tremendous truth restored to the body of Christ. The time of the end will be a period of revealing and re-instating truth as well as exposing the hidden devices of darkness.

These truths will be cultivated from God's word and communicated in a variety of ways. The arts and literature will be marked by God's sons and daughters who live in the revelatory realm of Heaven.

Painting and poetry will be taken to greater heights by anointed artists accessing the Creator's heart. Engineering blueprints will be diagramed by Christian architects who access the ingenuity of Heaven.

Tremendous advancement is going to be achieved in the sciences. The cellular and molecular structure of creation will be understood in this generation with greater clarity than any before.

Inspired teachers who have encountered the Teacher will bring to the Church revelatory truth that will separate the precious from the profane according to Ezekiel 44. Great mysteries of the Kingdom are reserved in God's heart to be examined and explored by the end-time Church.

Such is the heritage of God's people in this crucial juncture of Church history. This generation has broached a "fullness of time" moment in God's time-line. This is indeed a kairos season.

Most importantly, the goodness and glory of God will be revealed in the earth in tangible ways. Christ in us is our hope of glory. Who can measure the immense value of a life yielded to God or the spiritual wealth ascertained by possessing the nature of Christ?

Sing a New Song

The Church should look forward to mightily anointed songs that have never been heard on earth to emerge from present-day worshipers. The treasures of wisdom and knowledge hidden in Christ are accessible to be released through psalms, hymns and spiritual songs.

This creative sound will be revelatory truth that eye has not yet seen nor ear heard. These new sounds have not yet entered into the heart of man. Nevertheless, the Spirit of Christ is searching the depths of God's heart to bring these realities into this present day.

When this occurs there will be a spirit of deliverance that accompanies the new sound. Many people will be set free from addictions, oppressions and infirmity simply by apprehending God's heart in the atmosphere of anointing that will be created by this fresh deposit of worship. They will be songs of deliverance.

And they sang the song of Moses, the bond-servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying, "Great and marvelous are Your works, O Lord God, the Almighty; Righteous and true are Your ways, King of the nations!

Who will not fear, O Lord, and glorify Your name? For You alone are holy; for ALL THE NATIONS WILL COME AND WORSHIP BEFORE YOU, FOR YOUR RIGHTEOUS ACTS HAVE BEEN REVEALED - Revelations 15:3-4

This new sound will not only remember the works of Christ; it will produce them.

Stay Your Mind on Christ

Corporate praise will be increasingly necessary to stay our minds on Christ in the midst of the difficulties evident in the world. This will be part of the 21st century model.

In that day this song will be sung in the land of Judah: "We have a strong city; God will appoint salvation for walls and bulwarks. Open the gates, that the righteous nation which keeps the truth may enter in. You will keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on You, because he trusts in You. - Isaiah 26:1-3

In the midst of great darkness, we can discover God's light through abandoning our hearts before Him in praise and worship. It will be difficult for people in the world to understand this spiritual gift. Nevertheless, it will also be a tool that draws many into the Kingdom.

It is the God of peace that will crush Satan under our feet. As we acquire Heavenly peace in this atmosphere of worship, it will become evident to all around us. Those that have no peace will begin to pursue the ones who do. This will be a great evangelistic tool during times of greatest pressure.

Spiritual Fathers and Mothers

Bob saw in a vision, young men and women walking the aisles of the Church seeking those who would become spiritual fathers and mothers to them. There is something coming from God's Spirit that will make us inherently mindful of our need for mothers and fathers.

For though you might have ten thousand instructors in Christ, yet you do not have many fathers; for in Christ Jesus I have begotten you through the gospel. Therefore I urge you, imitate me - 1 Corinthians 4:15-16

The spirit of self-sufficiency and independence will begin to be extracted as the Holy Spirit continues to deal with issues of our souls. We will recognize the richness of spiritual wisdom imparted by those who have gone before us. We will do well to follow their spiritual example and learn form their mistakes.

This younger generation can save enormous time by heeding the council of fathers and mothers in the faith. Months and sometimes years are lost through poor decisions that result in ministry dead-ends and spiritual cul-de-sacs that can be alleviated by this one simple commitment.

Imparting the Blessing

Furthermore, those who accept the duty as mothers and fathers will also find grace for their roles as leaders and receive God's favor for impartation. A spiritual blessing can be imparted to facilitate the equipping of this generation's champions.

Isaac blessed Jacob and that experience launched Jacob into a divine encounter with God. It set him on the course for the attainment of his individual destiny.

May God Almighty bless you and make you fruitful and multiply you, that you may become a company of peoples. May He also give you the blessing of Abraham, to you and to your descendants with you, that you may possess the land of your sojournings, which God gave to Abraham- Genesis 28:3-4

It is important to note that being fathers and mothers is not necessarily related to age, although many who embrace this role will be much older. Our need for one another will become obvious in this season ahead, crossing all barriers.

It was also clear in the experience that many of the people that assumed the position as fathers and mothers were not presently in recognizable leadership positions. Nevertheless, they carry authority with God. The purposes for which they have been prepared over many years will now become evident.

They will embrace the sons and daughters with Heavenly affection and apprehend great grace for instruction and spiritual impartation. Their love for the sons and daughters will be as real as the love they have for their natural children. This can only come from God's heart.

just as you know how we were exhorting and encouraging and imploring each one of you as a father would his own children - 1 Thessalonians 2:11

A sense of security will be established in this younger generation as they open themselves up to the council and wisdom of spiritual mothers and fathers.

This was especially evident in the worship arena. Bob saw that many worship leaders will pursue spiritual parents who will provide covering, protection and insight.

This will begin to seal enemy access to areas he has formerly exploited in his vile attempt to derail many gifted people.

Divine Alliances

On Saturday morning before the Day of Atonement, I received a spiritual dream that communicated a message consistent with this theme. Wanda and I along with Bob Jones, Shawn Bolz and Aaron Evans were involved in the "Engaging Heaven" conference with our friends Brian and Candace Simmons in West Haven, Connecticut.

At 2 o'clock in the morning, the hotel fire alarm was activated requiring an evacuation of the hotel. This in itself conveyed a spiritual message for this season. Our enemy will constantly trigger false alarms to keep us in unrest. We must keep our minds focused upon the Lord at all times.

Once it was determined that there was no real danger, we returned to our rooms. As soon as I was able to sleep, I immediately went into a dream.

The context of the dream was set around the TV program "Survivor." It was incredibly vivid and detailed. Every circumstance that we discover on this program was involved in the dream. A group of people, including myself, were delivered to a remote island with little or no provision.

Each person was placed within a tribe with whom they would live, survive and depend. Part of the program scenario centers around challenges that promote teamwork and communication.
There is a reward challenge to hopefully acquire the essentials necessary for survival on the island. The other is a competition to determine which tribe must eliminate one of its members.

Immediately I recognized the only hope for survival in this context was to form an alliance with others that I completely trusted. I was able to locate three other men that shared common views with me. We committed ourselves to an unbreakable alliance built around trust and open communication.

The dream continued for four consecutive hours until the time came to be awakened for the morning conference meetings. When the dream concluded, the only "survivors" that remained were the four of us in the divine alliance.

Instantly, I knew the heart of the message conveyed in the dream. The days ahead are going to be difficult and trying. Much of what we have readily depended upon for day-to-day life will be removed. Our only hope for survival in the coming season is a willingness to form divine alliances and partnerships with others we thoroughly trust.

Communication and mutual confidence will be two of the most indispensable commodities discovered in ministries and churches that flourish. I remember thinking at the end of the dream that I was pleased to be awakened before another member was to be removed from the island. I do not believe any of the four of us would have broken the alliance.

Alliance Defined

An alliance is defined as a formal agreement that establishes a relationship or partnership between other parties to achieve a particular goal. It is an association built around common interests and objectives. Alliances are primarily established to advance a certain cause or agenda. It is sometimes referred to as a treaty of friendship.

As 21st century Christians, we have the greatest cause of all to advance —Gods Kingdom and the revelation of Jesus Christ. Many in the world are asking pointed questions concerning the conditions that exist in the earth. We as the Church must provide the answers; if we do not, who will?

It is now time for a transition to take place where we lead by example. Divine grace is being released from Heaven that will allow Christians to trust one another once again in the context of divine alliances, partnerships and close friendships.

There is going to be the revelation of a high calling around which many will build their entire lives. This realization will so profoundly impact many, that they will willingly lay aside personal agendas and ambitions to embrace this mandate.

Great strength and advancement in God's Kingdom will be discovered by those determined to enter in to such an arrangement. Divine alliances will not only produce substantial results but also a sphere of safety. We each need the spiritual light that others carry. The consolidation of many lights produces a great light.

The uniqueness of divine alliances allows for churches or ministries to maintain their own identity and vision while also joining in agreement with others to advance a common cause. If the Lord can find just three or four churches in a region to dwell together in harmony, and support one another in friendship, then great progress can be achieved in that territory.

Avoid Unholy Alliances

The Bible also contains numerous examples of unholy alliances that were displeasing to God. These, however, were centered on compromise and idolatry. As always, our adversary seeks to pervert everything that is fruitful.

It has been our experience that those to whom we are to be joined in covenant relationship are made evident. In this context, partnership in ministry is very similar to the marriage of man and woman.

It must be a divine arrangement with those to whom we are equally yoked. Trust, communication and mutual vision are all essential ingredients that formulate a successful union.

The Lord will bring into our lives those to whom we are to be joined in long-term relationship. It does not have to be something that we force into existence.

In the Order of David and Jonathan

The Bible provides numerous examples of New Testament leaders who established ministry covenants. Peter and John clearly functioned as a team as we discover in Acts 8. Paul and Barnabas illustrate one of the earliest examples following the Day of Pentecost.

However, one of the greatest alliances in the Bible that advanced God's cause, existed between David and Jonathan.

Jonathan said to David, "Go in safety, inasmuch as we have sworn to each other in the name of the LORD, saying, "The LORD will be between me and you, and between my descendants and your descendants forever."' Then he rose and departed, while Jonathan went into the city - 1 Samuel 20:42

Jonathan recognized in David the future of Israel's prosperity. There was a cause that he discovered that was worthy of his sacrifice and commitment to achieve.

Furthermore, the LORD imparted genuine affection in their hearts for one another. Theirs was an unbreakable bond of commitment that resulted in David's survival and Israel's welfare.

The entirety of 1 Samuel 20 provides a vivid portrayal of the commitment that existed between David and Jonathan. They entered into a divine alliance that provided safety and strength. They enjoyed clear and concise communication that facilitated the plan of God and the future of Israel.

The Fraternity House Vision

Throughout the last several years there has been a reoccurring dream that I have had perhaps 100 times. The dream always involves the people with whom we are in relationship and ministry association.

The essence of the dream always takes place in the fraternity house that I lived in during my college days. Uniquely, this fraternity at Mississippi State University had as a large portion of its membership, openly radical Christians. In fact, other fraternities often made the statement that our fraternity house should have a steeple on it.

It was not uncommon for us to have campus-wide Bible studies and private prayer meetings two or three times a week. We would regularly have awesomely gifted musicians and singers leading worship. Our meetings often had between 100-200 students participating in the gatherings.

There existed among us true brotherhood that preferred one another and reinforced each other during times of distress and difficulty.

It was a truly significant time in my life in which many of the seeds were sown for the things we are presently doing. For that reason, I believe the Lord uses it to emphasize His desire for a body of people who live together in "fraternal" affection who genuinely have all things in common.

Joined in Fraternal Affection

Fraternal affection and brotherly love is emphasized in the ascending pyramid of graces and Godly attributes discovered in 2 Peter 1:5-8; these are essential in our quest to become one spirit with the Lord.

Now for this very reason also, applying all diligence, in your faith supply moral excellence, and in your moral excellence, knowledge, and in your knowledge, self-control, and in your self-control, perseverance, and in your perseverance, godliness, and in your godliness, brotherly kindness, and in your brotherly kindness, love.

For if these qualities are yours and are increasing, they render you neither useless nor unfruitful in the true knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

The Greek word for "brotherly kindness" in this passage is "philadelphia." This word is defined as "fraternal affection; brotherly love (kindness) or love of the brethren."

From a position of fraternal love we move forward into the "agape" of God. If it is our hearts' desire to participate in the harvest of the ages and the healing of the nations, then it must be from a position of authentic compassion birthed in love. These can only be imparted to us through the Holy Spirit.

As summarized through the apostle Paul in 1 Corinthians 13, we are to abide in faith, hope and love. We dwell in faith through the conviction and belief of man in his relationship with the Lord; hope is our confident expectation of redemption.

The greatest of this triad of graces is true affection for God and man expressed through saints; it is generated by a deposit of Heavenly virtue resident in us --LOVE.

A truth to be greatly emphasized in this generation is the transference of our lost nature for His divine nature. We have the precious and magnificent promises by which we become partakers of the divine nature and escape the corruption of this world and its lusts.

By virtue of being joined with Him as His body in the mystery of incarnation, we likewise share in His heart of love and desire for the brethren as well as lost humanity.

As the Lord declared in John 17:23,

I in them and You in Me, that they may be perfected in unity, so that the world may know that You sent Me, and loved them, even as You have loved Me.

We are being sent in this generation in like fashion as the Lord Himself was commissioned by His Father. We are to be carriers of His heart.

Strengthen Our Tent Cords

The phrase that Bob heard in his dream was, "now is not the time to lengthen our tent cords but to strengthen existing ones." We are in present need of having our relationships strengthened in order to endure the winds of adversity that are coming.

The Bible declares that there are appropriate times and seasons for all things. It becomes a great responsibility of God's people to suitably recognize the spiritual climate and when to emphasize certain characteristics.

There is an appointed time for everything. And there is a time for every event under heaven-- A time to give birth and a time to die; a time to plant and a time to uproot what is planted.

A time to kill and a time to heal; a time to tear down and a time to build up. A time to weep and a time to laugh; a time to mourn and a time to dance;

A time to throw stones and a time to gather stones; a time to embrace and a time to shun embracing. A time to search and a time to give up as lost; a time to keep and a time to throw away;

A time to tear apart and a time to sew together; a time to be silent and a time to speak; A time to love and a time to hate; a time for war and a time for peace. Eccl 3:1-8

According to the prophetic indications that we are presently receiving, we are currently in a season to reinforce our tent cords which represent relationships that we currently enjoy. There will be a time for the extending of our tent cords with the expansion of power and authority that will soon be delegated.

However, the present need is for personal and ministry relationships to be fortified and cultivated in a deeper fashion. Our adversary is often called the accuser of the brethren. This divisive role is frequently subtle in its erosive effects on relationships ordained by Heaven.

Therefore, the Lord is asking for those who are joined in common purpose and ministry to take the time and effort to strengthen those existing relationships before we move into a season of expansion.

The Insignia of Love

The following is a portion of one of our previous prophetic articles emphasizing this truth that developed from a series of dreams and revelations the Lord gave me:

As the Lord was about to leave the disciples he gave them a new and unique command —that they love one another as He loved them.

A new commandment I give to you, that you love one another, even as I have loved you, that you also love one another - John 13:34

Surely after three years of life and ministry together, the twelve future leaders of the church experienced such love emanating from the Lord toward them that it was beyond the expression of words. Yet, they were given this new commandment, not only as an admonition, but a banner or badge of their discipleship.

This great fraternal affection was to be a signature by which they might be known as His friends and followers. It was the identification by which they were to be distinguished from all others.

Never before had there been a precedent for such a command as this for a people group to be distinguished and recognized.

By this all men will know that you are My disciples, if you have love for one another — John 13:35

Now, in the case of born again believers in Jesus Christ, we are not to be known by distinctions of wealth, education or fame, although some may possess these; we are not required to aspire to earthly honors or acclaim; we are not even mandated to adopt any special style of dress or insignia.

This new royal priesthood is to be identified by tender and constant affection and allegiance for one another.

This great command to walk in brotherly love will transcend all distinctions of national origin, color, social status, or denomination. The disciples of Christ are to uniformly perceive we are all in the same spiritual family with common goals. We have all been redeemed by the same sacred blood of Jesus Christ.

We are to befriend each other in trials and ardently guard each other's feelings and reputation. We are even to deny ourselves in order to promote one another's welfare. Amen.

Mankind is looking for something as a standard by which to measure. Brotherly love and divine alliances will be the "standard" by which the Church will receive its authority. Those willing to adopt these principles will find great blessings, favor and anointing.

The Sarah's and Hannah's

Bob heard a voice calling out for the "Sarah's" and the "Hannah's" to take their post of duty in this hour.

The name Sarah means "princess" and Hannah denotes "favor and grace."

Sarah bore much fruit in her old age and Hannah did in her despair. The Voice from Heaven is calling for veterans of the faith to begin to bear fruit in their older age.

This was not only speaking of individuals but also churches and movements that have been barren for an extended season who will birth something immensely fruitful in their old age.

Sarah carried a promise for many years before she saw its fulfillment. Not only that, she also experienced rejuvenation in her body that made it possible for the promise to be realized. This is a prophetic illustration for many individuals and Churches.

Sarah experienced a quickening in her body that produced life and manifested God's promise. She was made beautiful in her old age.

Much like Abraham and Sarah, many saints perceive their promise is dead. Nevertheless, God's life-giving Spirit is being released to restore and recover lost hope. Our posture should be like that of Abraham and Sarah depicted through the apostle Paul when he said,

Without becoming weak in faith he contemplated his own body, now as good as dead since he was about a hundred years old, and the deadness of Sarah's womb; yet, with respect to the promise of God, he did not waver in unbelief but grew strong in faith, giving glory to God —Romans 4:19-20

Furthermore, Paul continued with his example of Sarah in Romans 9:9 stating,

For this is the word of promise: "at this time I will come, and Sarah shall have a son.

At the appointed time, those who experience barrenness will bear fruit. This should be a substantial promise of encouragement to individuals and Churches.

Although many trials and difficulties face the nations of the earth and the Church, we also have the most profound promises.

The Prayer of Desperation

Hannah was likewise barren until she made a covenant with God from the desperation of her soul. Many of the "Hannah's" of today will make a pledge to God in order to bring forth something of great spiritual value in God's Kingdom. Hannah completely yielded to God the fruit of her womb without reservation or stipulation.

In her resignation to be fruitful, she prayed a violent and aggressive prayer that touched God's Throne. She said,

O LORD of hosts, if You will indeed look on the affliction of Your maidservant and remember me, and not forget Your maidservant, but will give Your maidservant a son, then I will give him to the LORD all the days of his life, and a razor shall never come on his head - 1 Samuel 1:11

Although lukewarm leadership did not recognize the condition of her soul, God did. True to her word, Hannah took Samuel to Shiloh and presented him to the Lord for his priestly duties. Great leadership resulted from this encounter between Heaven and earth.

There is something fresh and new in the way of Godly leadership that is about to be birthed through the "Hannah's" of today. From a place of desperation they will touch God's heart and receive from Him a fruitful reward.

It is our encouragement for this season to petition God's Throne as did Hannah. He is promising to hear this kind of prayer to establish a form of leadership today that is epitomized in the life of Samuel.

The Carpenters

Master builders and skilled craftsmen are being set in the church who build by divine revelation. During this time of destruction and uprooting, a grace is also being granted to plant and build.

That is the hope that is being given in this hour. Jeremiah was given a commission stating,

See, I have appointed you this day over the nations and over the kingdoms, to pluck up and to break down, to destroy and to overthrow, to build and to plant.

The word of the LORD came to me saying, "What do you see, Jeremiah?" And I said, "I see a rod of an almond tree. Then the LORD said to me, "You have seen well, for I am watching over My word to perform it - Jeremiah 1:10-12

God is watching over His word to perform it. Much of what we are seeing in the way of natural disasters, economic failures and political upheaval are for the intent of replanting and rebuilding with something far greater, both spiritually and in the natural realm.

This is especially true in our judicial system. As God's people, we currently have a fundamental responsibility to pray into office righteous justices.

We cannot simply allow ourselves to become complacent and hope that our president makes good choices. Instead, we are to be militant in this arena and override the oppressions and witchcraft sent against this nation's leadership involving these crucial decisions.

Great spiritual darkness is being unleashed against our president as it relates to the appointment of these justices and in relationship to Israel. To us, God's people, a grace is being given to recapture the judicial branch.

Somehow, the Church was asleep at the wheel over many decades and didn't recognize the importance of this arena.

This generation suddenly discovered itself facing the decisions of unrighteous judges who had been appointed on our watch. Their unholy verdicts have prompted a measure of God's discipline on our nation.

The Lord is once again giving us the opportunity to set judges and counselors in our midst who adhere to high standards of morality and justice.

Then I will restore your judges as at the first, and your counselors as at the beginning; after that you will be called the city of righteousness, a faithful city. Zion will be redeemed with justice and her repentant ones with righteousness — Isaiah 1:26-27

Saints with an anointing and commission functioning like spiritual "carpenters," will take their position in the Church and begin to reconstruct with standards of righteousness what has been shattered or destroyed.

Even so, this will not happen automatically. It requires a pro-active role on our part to call this into being by the spirit of prophecy and the testimony of Jesus.

Spiritual transformation will predominantly be achieved through increased authority being granted to the prayer movement.

Areas that have been most devastated by natural disasters are being rebuilt. Whether they are spiritually reconstructed for better or worse depends in large part upon God's people. The heavens are the Lord's heavens, but the earth He has entrusted into the hands of men and women who possess His authority and articulate His desires.

The carpenters and craftsmen are anointed by God to overcome the four horns of the adversary that scatter, destroy and divide.

Then I raised my eyes and looked, and there were four horns. And I said to the angel who talked with me, "What are these?" So he answered me, "These are the horns that have scattered Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem.

Then the LORD showed me four craftsmen. And I said, "What are these coming to do?" So he said, "These are the horns that scattered Judah, so that no one could lift up his head; but the craftsmen are coming to terrify them, to cast out the horns of the nations that lifted up their horn against the land of Judah to scatter it - Zechariah 1:18-21

These individuals being set in the Church will carry much revelatory insight. They will be like the sons of Issachar who know the times and seasons and the things that Gods chosen people must do. We must be wise master builders. According to Paul,

For we are God's fellow workers; you are God's field, God's building. According to the grace of God which was given to me, like a wise master builder I laid a foundation, and another is building on it.

But each man must be careful how he builds on it. For no man can lay a foundation other than the one which is laid, which is Jesus Christ —1 Corinthians 3:9-11

This will result in a new spiritual unity in the Church. Divisions and strife are a signs of immaturity. Paul wanted to deliver strong meat to the saints but could not until they dealt with envy and lack of unity. Divine alliances and commitment to one another will open the door for advancement is this important arena.

Increased Lawlessness

It is not encouraging to report, but the spirit of lawlessness will increase. As tension and difficulty elevates throughout the world, people without hope in Christ will be drawn to "sin centers" in hopes of finding temporary relief. The Bible foretold this would take place. The apostle Paul prophesied, that in the last days difficult times will come. For men will be lovers of self, lovers of money, boastful, arrogant, revilers, disobedient to parents, ungrateful, unholy, unloving, irreconcilable, malicious gossips, without self-control, brutal, haters of good, treacherous, reckless, conceited, lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God, holding to a form of godliness, although they have denied its power; avoid such men as these --- 2 Timothy 3:1-5

Bob actually saw thievery, robbery and other such crimes increasing because of the desperation of the times. It will result in the unrestrained human spirit functioning at a heightened level.

There is not one good thing in any of us except the Holy Spirit for those who have embraced the cross and redemption through the Lord Jesus' blood. The unbelieving host without the restraints of the Holy Spirit will take lawlessness to even greater levels of depravity.

The emotions of those living under the influence of this world's spirit will become exceedingly volatile. There will be a sense of restlessness by the unbelieving world not anchored in Christ, as they witness the many things taking place.

Likewise, Christians are going to be required to carefully watch their conversation. Life and death is in the tongue. Although we are seeing many things with our eyes we cannot be moved by what we observe, but what we believe. Our conversation and comments must be based from a spirit of a faith, not fear.

A wholesome tongue is a tree of life, but perverseness in it breaks the spirit - Prov 15:4

This spiritual truth will be truer now than ever before.

In many instances we must have the faith of Abraham to call those things that are not, as though they were. We cannot afford to agree with the spirit of this world. Our language must be in harmony with Heaven.

Saints who learn this discipline will experience deeper measures of the spirit of prophecy to articulate God's heart. Once developed, this commissioning will change the spiritual atmosphere from darkness to light within homes, Churches and regions.

Peacemakers will be anointed to bring peace to volatile situations merely with an anointed word. It is light that must dispel darkness, not the reverse. This will be the evidence that we are living in the end-times.

Psalms of Hope

Psalm 37 and Psalm 23 will have considerable anointing on them during the coming days. The promises of these passages will have increased relevance as we invoke the spiritual truth they carry.

In the midst of this difficult and trying season, the Lord is also giving promises of consolation and hope; they will be like an oasis in the midst of a desert.

The implications of Psalms 23 are obvious. This is been one of the most endearing and cherished Psalms in the entirety of the Bible.

It is interesting that most believe David penned this rich Psalm during one of the most difficult and discouraging times of his life. The enemy of his soul was constantly attempting to destroy him. Nevertheless, he found peace in God even when circumstances looked grim.

Psalms 23 is a promise for restoration, and protection from evil in the process. Our Great Shepherd comforts and sustains us in our prophetic journey with Him. It is a portrait of God's heart towards His people and His promise to shelter, sustain, and befriend us even in the shadow of death.

The Lord even promises to prepare a table for us in the presence of our enemies. This implies victory both on this side of eternity and in the millennial reign of Christ when it is made complete.

Psalms 37 is likewise a promise for protection in an evil and perverse generation. In it, the righteous are reminded not to be envious of the seemingly successful exploits of those in the world. Rather, our delight is in the Lord and the fruit generated in the spirit.

The heart of this Psalm is to keep us focused on those things which are truly important, despite implications in the world. We are not to fear because of the apparent domination of evil in the earth.

We must keep our mind fixed upon the Lord in this season more so than ever. Our spirit is strong but our flesh and soul are weak. This is a Psalm to help us reinforce our soul (mind, will and emotions) in the midst of things that would make us emotionally volatile.

The predominant theme of Psalms 37 deals with our struggle to keep peace of mind in the midst of numerous circumstances that would rob it. This Psalm emphasizes that evil will eventually be cut off and judged while the righteous will be blessed. This will come at the time when Divine Justice is realized.

Justice is the dual function of blessings upon the righteous and discipline upon unrighteousness. The Ancient of Days is preparing to take his seat as the Just Judge. When He does, he will open the books revealing the unrighteousness of this age to render a verdict in favor of the Saints.

In so doing, the Lord will unleash divine authority for us to begin to reveal His Kingdom on this side of eternity. We are promised to taste the good word of God and the powers of the Kingdom age that is to come. (Hebrews 6:5)

The Psalmist declares from personal experience, God's incredible care for His children. The truths communicated in Psalms 37 will have direct application to the conditions inherent in these times. The Lord is giving this as an emphasis of His grace.

Part 2

We will discover amplified anointing on the directives communicated in it.

A Fresh Wave of Intercession in Kansas City

This next season will see an increase in grace and anointing for the ministry of intercession. This will be especially true for the prayer centers in and around Kansas City.

A prayer movement has been initiated in this city that will escalate in its relevance. This is not only in relationship to IHOP, but also the many other prayer ministries that have been birthed from it.

Likewise, there will also be other Churches and movements that are not associated with current "Harp & Bowl" fellowships that will discover the importance of this ministry in birthing end-time scenarios.

Houses of prayer and worship will continue to grow with expanded involvement from the body of Christ. This is a trend that will continue until the end of the age.

Of course, this is not limited to the Kansas City area but the entirety of the Church. Kansas City has been an incubator for the birthing of this movement and a leader in its development.

Watchmen– Intercession with Revelation

In addition to the prayer and praise framework that has already been constructed, an increased revelatory anointing will be joined to provide the watchmen ministry. According to the prophecies of Isaiah,

On your walls, O Jerusalem, I have appointed watchmen; all day and all night they will never keep silent. You who remind the LORD, take no rest for yourselves; And give Him no rest until He establishes and makes Jerusalem a praise in the earth - Isaiah 62:6-7

The merger of the revelatory anointing with intercession produces the watchmen on the wall. I wrote of this in "Books of Destiny" and will include a brief excerpt...

The Lord's Holy Alliance

In the 1999 leader's meeting, the Lord emphasized that His "holy alliance" was the antidote for the enemy's devises. God intends to endow a generation of overcomers with the spirit of revelation and position them, in power and authority, as watchers on the walls of the Church.

These people will facilitate a holy partnership of both revelatory anointing and intercessory prayer with true spiritual authority. They will provide continual prayer, anointed worship, and prophetic declaration.

Daniel's prophetic portrait is a helpful paradigm of Heaven's strategy in this confrontation. Daniel focused his attention on Heaven, through prayer and fasting, in order to understand the spiritual conflict raging in the spiritual realm. He received a visitation from Heaven in response to his devotion.

The divine attributes we read about in this passage also provide foresight into the Lord's revelation about the struggle we presently face. The Lord admonished us in 1999: "This is not to be touched by human hands, that is, human perceptions, traditions, and formulas. Instead, what is being birthed will be Spirit-led and Spirit-sponsored."

Everything manifested in radical Islamic strongholds is directed in the heavenlies against the purposes the Lord desires to release to us. However, as the Scriptures point out:

From the days of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven suffers violence, and the violent take it by force.-Matthew 11:12

If we truly hunger to see God's spiritual government birthed and functioning, we must take our post and gain the Lord's authority through prayer and declaring our agreement with Heaven. That is the divine strategy for this season.

The Ministry of the Watchmen

The watchmen are specially prepared spiritual warriors who capture the Lord's desire and restate it to Him in the form of anointed prayer. Like Habakkuk, watchmen take their position on the wall to see what the Lord may speak. From that informed position, God's people then know how to reply to Him with effective intercession.

Habakkuk said,

I will stand on my guard post and station myself on the rampart; and I will keep watch to see what He will speak to me, and how I may reply when I am reproved — Habakkuk 2:1

Revelatory prayer will carry the Church into the 21st century. These will be prayers of laser-like precision and clarity. The union of revelation with intercession generates concise spiritual light that will penetrate the heavens with power.

The watchmen will have a strategic word placed in their mouths. The Lord then promises to overshadow them with the power of His hand. From this place of anointing, the words that are declared will plant seeds of the Kingdom in the heavens and found His will on the earth. It will announce to the Zion, "you are my people" and beckon them to the place of destiny. As Isaiah stated,

I am the LORD your God, who stirs up the sea and its waves roar (the LORD of hosts is His name). "I have put My words in your mouth and have covered you with the shadow of My hand, to establish the heavens, to found the earth, and to say to Zion, "You are My people." - Isaiah 51:15-16

Clearly, the seas and waves have been stirred in recent days. This is a natural reality pointing to these spiritual truths. The Lord is looking for a submissive and obedient company of people so that He can place revelatory words from His heart into their mouths.

When they articulate this message from an atmosphere of the anointing, the heavens will be established with the revelation of Jesus Christ and His Kingdom. What is established in the heavens will be revealed on the earth. A called-out body of people will then begin to step into their inheritance.

Psalms 106 is a Psalm of transition. This clearly identifies the season we are presently living in. This year will produce a spiritual shifting that will transport us into a different aspect of God's plan and strategy.

The message of this Psalms deals with Israel's difficulties and tribulations leading up to the revelation of a greater Kingdom. It outlines God's discipline for seasons of iniquity, but only so that something greater can be established.

There is great similarity in this Psalm with Daniel's prayer of repentance and supplication. Daniel cried, we have sinned, committed iniquity, acted wickedly and rebelled, even turning aside from Your commandments and ordinances.

Moreover, we have not listened to Your servants the prophets, who spoke in Your name to our kings, our princes, our fathers and all the people of the land.

Righteousness belongs to You, O Lord, but to us open shame, as it is this day-- to the men of Judah, the inhabitants of Jerusalem and all Israel, those who are nearby and those who are far away in all the countries to which You have driven them, because of their unfaithful deeds which they have committed against You — Daniel 9:5-7

These prayers petition for God's intervention to deliver His people from captivity as He has done in times past.

Most commentators agree that Psalms 106 was composed during a period of public calamity. This clearly has application for today!

The verses of this Psalm rehearse the failures of the past, particularly during the wilderness experience. It also contains a plea for God to gather His people from the different places to which they have been scattered. This is done when we are willing to praise His name and humble ourselves before God.

Praise and worship provide a key to the kingdom and a strategy for restoration.

As one historian commented, "Psalms 106 offers a humbling reminder of how the Chosen People have provoked the anger of the Lord, only to be forgiven and avenged."

1. Verses 1-5

We must abide in an atmosphere of praise and worship.

We can focus on God and He will keep us in perfect peace.

We are to observe justice and treat others fairly so that we remain in right standing with God at all times. Those who do will receive increased measures of His imputed righteousness.

2. Verses 6-22

One of the great failures of the contemporary Church is our lack of understanding of our heritage and God's dealing throughout Church history. This was also recorded in Psalms 106. We are to rehearse God's mercy and His exploits.

Our admonition in Hebrews 13:7 is to examine the faithfulness of our leaders who have gone before us to observe and scrutinize their conduct and the results of their lives. We are then charged to imitate their faith because Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, today and forever.

We are not necessarily called to emulate their personal style or patterns and formulas but imitate their faith. In so doing, the Lord will do through us what he did through them by mighty expressions of power and authority.

This is the era of God's justice. He is looking for a dedicated people to apprehend the truth of verse 8 saying, Nevertheless He saved them for the sake of His name, that He might make His power known.

Moses once reminded Israel that they forfeited their opportunity to inherit the promise because they did not have eyes to see nor ears to hear. They did not possess the revelatory anointing that is fundamentally essential to cooperate with God. (Deuteronomy 29:2-4)
This Psalm remembers that reality but also highlights the Lord's mercy because of those who allowed His righteousness and divine character to be imparted. The Lord did so in order to show His mighty power in the exploits of His name.

The pain of the past is our preparation for the future. Like Joseph, we must reconcile ourselves with the past in order to make our future more fruitful. The Patriarch Joseph demonstrated this truth in the naming of his sons.

Joseph named the firstborn Manasseh, "For," he said "God has made me forget all my trouble and all my father's household. He named the second Ephraim, "For," he said "God has made me fruitful in the land of my affliction — Gen 41:51-52

If we seek His ways and cry out to God to reveal His thoughts, we will discover His mercy.

3. Verses 23-29

Verse 23 records our call to take our position, like Moses, as God's intermediary on earth. It is time for the body of Christ to stand up and cry out for mercy and grace. If we do not, who will. Moses was one of the Lord's great representatives who stood before Him as His spokesman in a position of righteousness. Moses was able to occupy this distinguished office of great responsibility because of the prior years of preparation, purging and refinement that qualified him.

Like Moses, Job was another prominent saint who learned to stand in the gap for his generation. Perhaps there could be many purposes expressed for the testing of Job's righteousness.

Clearly, one of the designs of the Lord in this endeavor is to bring Job into a heightened place of relationship and authority as the Lord's representative on the earth.

The benefit for the sifting of righteous Job was to establish a greater level of right standing with God along with intimate fellowship. Through the "cleanness" of his hands, he was then be able to deliver the ones who were not innocent.

The understanding is, that the man who returns to God in righteousness, and who is regarded by Him as His friend, is more amply equipped to intercede for the guilty and unrepentant with the Lord's heart of compassion.

When righteous intercession if offered, extraordinary favor is shown, even when it is not deserved. This sentiment is consistent with that expressed in Genesis 18:23-24 as Abraham intervened on behalf of Sodom from his place of friendship with the Lord.

Job's highest calling was to a position of leadership as a fearless representation of heaven on earth. Our mandate is the same today.

The Lord recently expressed His desire to deal with the strongholds in us so we can deal with the strongholds in our churches, cities and nation.

The ultimate purpose of Job's testing, and ours, is to dwell on a higher plain of authority before God and a greater level of intimate relationship as the Lord's intermediary on the earth. The Lord will always have a witness on the earth of His righteousness to testify against an evil and perverse generation and call them to repentance.

The Lord Himself is designated as the "Faithful witness" and His Spirit in us will also bear witness of His righteousness. It is this marriage between heaven and earth that will release both the kindness and severity of God throughout all generations.

Amos is another example of one called by the Spirit to foresee the judgment of God and stand before His Presence and intercede on behalf of His people.

Thus the Lord GOD showed me: Behold, He formed locust swarms at the beginning of the late crop; indeed it was the late crop after the king's mowings. And so it was, when they had finished eating the grass of the land, that I said: "O Lord GOD, forgive, I pray! Oh, that Jacob may stand, for he is small!" So the LORD relented concerning this. "It shall not be," said the LORD. Amos 7:1-3

Daniel was described in the scripture as one greatly beloved. Part of the reason for this truth is because of his heart for the nation and his willingness to stand in the gap for his people. He humbled himself and presented supplications on behalf of those in his age and the prior generations. He did so with a heart of repentance and foresight for the generations to come.

The Lord's friends are able to stand in this post because of the refinement that has taken place in their lives that enables them to occupy this privileged place in God. Intimate fellowship with the Lord results when righteousness has been developed. It allows us to peer into God's heart to obtain understanding of His nature and character.

In this manner, divine purposes are birthed in the earth through words anointed with Spirit and Life expressed from this position of righteousness.

Principally, the Lord is looking for a righteous agent on the earth to stand in the gap on behalf of a sinful generation. The Lord Himself is the perfect mediator between God and man establishing for all generations God's righteousness.

That virtue is now being imparted to those in the Church established in righteousness, as His earthly delegation to intercede for this nation and the destiny of the Church.

If there is a messenger for him, a mediator, one among a thousand, to show man His uprightness, Then He is gracious to him, and says, 'Deliver him from going down to the Pit; I have found a ransom' — Job 33:23-24

The Father has chosen the Church as His instrument to unfold His great redemptive plan. When this is achieved, we have the Lord's promise for restoration and salvation for man;

His flesh shall be young like a child's, he shall return to the days of his youth. He shall pray to God, and He will delight in him, he shall see His face with joy, for He restores to man His righteousness. — Job 33:25-26

If there was no agent to stand in the gap, then mercy and grace could not be found

So I sought for a man among them who would make a wall, and stand in the gap before Me on behalf of the land, that I should not destroy it; but I found no one. Therefore I have poured out My indignation on them; I have consumed them with the fire of My wrath; and I have recompensed their deeds on their own heads, says the Lord GOD —Ezekiel 22:30-31

When a righteous representative of God is able to enter His Presence, it pleases the Father to hear intercession on behalf of the lost. It is because of the righteousness of Christ established in us through the Spirit of Christ that will enable us to come before the throne of grace to obtain mercy and help in time of need.

Resident in the Father's heart is both mercy and justice. Justice calls for the judgments of God to be established in the earth. Yet, His heart also yearns to release mercy when His representatives stand before Him in this mediatory role reminding him of His longsuffering and lovingkindness.

The LORD, the LORD God, compassionate and gracious, slow to anger, and abounding in lovingkindness and truth; who keeps lovingkindness for thousands, who forgives iniquity, transgression and sin; yet He will by no means leave the guilty unpunished —Exodus 34:6-7

4. Verses 29-31

In the person of Phinehas we find a type of the one who stands in the gap to obtain mercy in the midst of judgment.

Thus they provoked Him to anger with their deeds, and the plague broke out among them. Then Phinehas stood up and interposed, and so the plague was stayed. And it was reckoned to him for righteousness, to all generations forever — Psalms 106:29-31

This loyal priest received a divinely issued covenant of peace because of his jealousy towards the Lord and his commitment to the Word.

The Bible teaches that the Old Testament saints and God's dealings with Israel are given as an example. The lives of the patriarchs and faithful men and women of old are adopted for our instruction in God's ways.

Many believers will begin to emerge in this hour with the anointing of Phinehas and a covenant of peace. These will be priests providing inspired revelation of God's Word.

This reality will primarily be discovered when we call upon the Lord in desperation. When we do, He has promised to answer us and show us great and mighty things which we do not presently know.

This unique group will embody a heavenly "jealousy" and integrity by rightly dividing the Word of Truth without mixture or compromise. This anointing will produce in many people a healthy ardor and zeal of God for the Spirit of Truth.

Furthermore, those with the Phinehas anointing will not shun to declare the whole counsel of God nor tremble at the fear of man. (Acts 20.27) There is a clear distinction between possessing the zeal of God as opposed to having zeal for God.

The name Phinehas means "mouth of brass." This is a depiction of those who will begin to "judge and discern the thoughts and intents of the heart" and help others identify the sin which so easily besets them. (Hebrews 4:12)

When the Living Word is present, all things are open and laid bare before the eyes of Him with whom we have to do. Nothing is hidden. This is not something to fear but embrace to facilitate maturity and purity of soul.

The Bible depicts the revelation gifts unveiling the secrets of the heart so those who observe it will fall on their faces and say, "surely God is in this place". This manner of revelation is not rooted in suspicion, but genuine insight from the Lord and disclosure of divine secrets ministered in charity and faithfulness.

This work of the "Phinehas" anointing will usher the Fear of the Lord back into the Church and pave the way for Divinely granted repentance that leads to the knowledge of the Truth.

This will produce a more righteous body with whom the Lord will become intimate and share His mysteries and power.

5. Verses 32-40

The conditions recorded in these verses results from unknowingly embracing the "spirit of compromise" that facilitates the substitution of the Holy Spirit with the spirit of this world.

What the enemy can not accomplish in head-to-head battle he easily achieves through this deceptive snare. The Lord Himself warned us about this spirit in Matthew 24.

This is the strategy that Balaam utilized against Israel that the psalmist remembers. When the adversary was unsuccessful in cursing God's chosen people he altered his approach. What he could not perpetuate in direct confrontation he easily accomplished through stumbling blocks and snares facilitated through compromise.

The New Testament reminds us of this demonic strategy from the spirit of Balaam in both Jude and the book of Revelations. It is a battle that we must learn to win. It is the spirit of Godly jealousy, as demonstrated through Phinehas, that is the antidote for this dilemma.

It was the teaching of Balaam that eventually led Israel into God's judgment. Balaam was unable to curse Israel, therefore he convinced her to compromise her covenant with God by intermingling with Balak and the people of Moab.

And Moses said to them, "Have you spared all the women? "Behold, these caused the sons of Israel, through the counsel of Balaam, to trespass against the LORD in the matter of Peor, so the plague was among the congregation of the LORD.

Now therefore, kill every male among the little ones, and kill every woman who has known man intimately. "But all the girls who have not known man intimately, spare for yourselves-Numbers 31:15-18

Ours is an admonition of separation and purity while patiently waiting on the promised union with the Lord Jesus. It is the counsel of "compromise" to lead us away from that position at all costs.

The "way of Balaam" is the covetous conduct of the ones structurally described as "hirelings," whose primary motive is to commercialize their divine gift.

Forsaking the right way, they have gone astray, having followed the way of Balaam, the son of Beor, who loved the wages of unrighteousness - 2 Peter 2:15

The "teaching of Balaam" is the teaching of the mercenary ministry counseling the church to abandon Godly separation and noble character in favor of worldly conformity.

But I have a few things against you, because you have there some who hold the teaching of Balaam, who kept teaching Balak to put a stumbling block before the sons of Israel, to eat things sacrificed to idols and to commit acts of immorality- Revelations 2:14

Very often, following this path will seemingly bring quick results and attract scores of people with much less spiritual resistance. Nonetheless, the conclusion after all has been done is death and fruitlessness.

Balaam taught Balak to corrupt the people who could not be cursed by seducing them to marry Moabite women and commit spiritual adultery. That is what is being rehearsed in Psalms 106.

When we are faithful to God our enemy cannot overcome the anointing and authority that the Lord is able to delegate to us. His strategy for victory is to corrupt God's people by seduction with the spirit of the world.

Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit who is from God, so that we may know the things freely given to us by God-1 Corinthians 2:12

Spiritual compromise will always lead us into wrong relationships. Concession leads to death while faithfulness leads to repentance, restoration, and victory.

6. Verse 41

Economic slavery! For a season, much of this nation's economic resources will go to other nations. This will be especially true involving countries associated with the petroleum industry.

The conditions that have been created in this arena constitute a form of economic slavery for our nation. We are in large part bound by our need to obtain fuel from Islamic nations in order to meet our high demand.

This will increase over this next season.

7. Verse 44

Much of the conditions of our nation and the Church are the result of compromise. We have yielded our righteous standards for a counterfeit substitute that provokes God's discipline.

This Psalm also highlights the Lord's willingness to show mercy and bring restoration. This was repeatedly exemplified with the nation of Israel. It is the strategy by which our prayer movements are to be mobilized.

8. Verses 47-48

We are to cry out in Godly sorrow for the USA and ourselves until God grants repentance. All the shaking is for the expressed purpose of positioning the Church in righteousness for the restoration of His glory.

The earth will begin to cleanse itself from the shame of innocent blood. The measure to which this takes place will be determined by the abundance of our intercession and obtaining Godly granted repentance.

Prophetic Sound-Bites

1. In the 2005 Shepherd's Rod we listed the ten plagues of Egypt providing a prophetic parallel that will continue in this season. This is a symbolic portrayal of calamity, pestilence, sickness, and other disciplines that took place in Egypt that built upon one another in a domino effect. This is a representation of God's discipline on the spirit of this world.

We encourage our readers to review that portion of the 2005 Shepherd's Rod as this trend will continue. Much of what we saw in New Orleans and the Gulf coast are outlined in it.

2. Nashville will continue to be a focal point and a strategic city. There is a special grace being extended for songwriters and musicians to capture spiritual truth and convey it.

This will result from the same stream of creativity that is coming to the Church in the form of worship. Nevertheless, this form of music will have positive and beneficial messages centered in the Nashville music industry.

3. The colors for this year are blue and white to represent a call to purity and the release of revelation. White is generated by his imputed righteousness. There is a great opportunity in this season to advance substantially in this area.

With the establishment of Godly righteousness and virtuous character, mantels of power and authority will be downloaded that are needed for harvest.

All that has taken place in this hour is part of the preparatory process for a wave of harvest that is to come. The next major outpouring of the Spirit will be for "power evangelism."

The color blue is a symbolic representation marking a great opportunity to apprehend revelatory insight needed in every area of our lives. The inspiration for revelation will be especially pertinent in the area of intercession. Comprehension of His heart will bring clarity and precision to the saint's prayers.

Revelation will also bring a stream of anointing resting on the promises of God for this age that strategically position us in our confrontation with realms of darkness. The sons of Issachar knew times and seasons and the things that Israel needed do. Likewise, the "Issachar" anointing is being released for this purpose today.

We cannot afford to wander aimlessly in this crucial hour. Furthermore, our prayers do not need to be in the way of a shotgun, but of a laser. Revelation produces precision.

Shofars Summoned Into Battle

Bill Yount

"Shofars Being Summoned Into Battle . . . To Blow The 'Hell' Out Of The Nations!" Judges 7:22
July 23, 2005

About the Shofar: The shofar is a ceremonial ram's horn (trumpet) of ancient Israel. The shofar holds a prominent role in the history of Israel. The ram's horn is identified with the ram that became the substitute sacrifice for Isaac in Genesis 22:1-19. The ram typified the future sacrifice that Jesus would become for us.*

IS THE SHOFAR STILL EFFECTIVE?

Yes! Our battles today are with principalities and powers of darkness, but they are still battles!

"And the three hundred (of Gideon's army) blew the trumpets (shofars), and the Lord set every man's sword against his fellow, even throughout all the host (of the enemy): and the host fled to Bethshittah in Zererath, and to the border of Abelmeholah, unto Tabbath."* Judges 7:22

"I WOULDN'T HAVE CHOSEN THAT WEAPON!"

God is still calling forth the foolish things to use for His glory. If He can use you and me, He can use anything -- and get away with it!
Most victories in times of war in the Old Testament came through unusual weapons ordered by the Lord. Samson with the jawbone of an ass slew a thousand Philistines! Israel marched around a city and took it with a shout! Jehoshaphat's army was outnumbered like the sands of the seashore and He was led to put his loudest mouth singers on the very front line of battle. They began to sing praises as they marched into the enemy camp and God sent ambushments against the enemy to confuse them; and all the enemy were dead when the hymn-sing was over! They didn't even get to fight in this battle! I have been to an army base in Israel, recently. Their army still sings during their training drills . . . Devil beware! I must confess, if I was commanding these armies, "I wouldn't have chosen these weapons . . . but God did!"

"THE SHOFAR BLOWS CONFUSION INTO THE CAMP OF THE ENEMY . . . IT'S TIME TO CONFUSE THE TERRORISTS!"

I believe the most terrifying sound in the enemy's ears is the sound of the shofar! Every time a shofar blows, the devil doesn't know whether it's one of us or Gabriel himself blowing that last trump of God! When shofars are blown, they blow confusion into the enemy's camp -- every time!
I believe one of the reasons the Lord is calling forth the weapon of the shofar this hour is to send confusion into the camp of the terrorists! I sense great fear and the terror of the Lord will be released upon them through this mighty, foolish weapon!

"WHEN GIDEON BLEW HIS . . . I BLEW MINE!"

As I read how the Spirit of the Lord came upon Gideon and he blew a trumpet (shofar), I asked the Lord, "When the Spirit came upon Gideon and he blew a shofar, was that Gideon blowing or was that you?"
The Lord answered, "When Gideon blew his . . . I blew Mine!"

Many Jewish people believe that the trump of God in Heaven is not a Louis Armstrong-type trumpet, but a shofar (a rams horn -- or His could be called a lamb's horn).

I heard of the testimony of a man who died and went to heaven. He said he saw the shofar of God there. He said, "It is fifteen miles long!" When it is blown it will literally raise the dead down through every generation of time who believe in Jesus Christ the Messiah! I believe the Lord is raising up shofars this hour, getting us used to hearing their sound; for when Gabriel blows the Shofar of God, it will be the last sound out of here!

"WHEN A WEAPON IS LOADED, IT GOES OFF EVERY TIME . . . THERE IS NO NEED FOR PRACTICE!"

In 1995, I was invited to blow the shofar at an International Aglow Conference in Long Beach, California. Blowing the shofar was new to me. Before the conference in the hotel room, I thought I better practice blowing it. At the very first blow, in the Spirit I saw angels descending upon Long Beach and the whole region! I sensed the Lord saying, "Be careful, this baby is loaded! There is no need to practice with this weapon!"
I have learned that when a shofar is blown, it calls forth angelic armies into that region to fight against the powers of darkness, to take back that territory into God's kingdom! When I blew the shofar at the conference, into nine thousand people, and had them shout the walls down inside of their households, divorces were cancelled, marriages were restored and even reports came in of missing children being found!

"ALL I KNOW IS GOD SAID, 'BLOW!'"

I wonder how God might organize a mass blowing of shofars from those who know they are called to blow one. I sense there are many who think that to blow a shofar isn't for them. Let me ask you a question, How do you know unless you blow one?
I used to think only certain people are called to blow the shofar. But I honestly am not sure any more. I think anyone can pull a trigger of a loaded weapon, even a little child! I will let that decision of blowing one be between you and the Lord.
When the Lord first called me to blow the shofar, He made one thing clear: "Bill, when you blow it, it will be Me blowing, because I live in you! By faith, I believe when I blow into one end of the shofar, the very breath of God comes out the other -- because He lives in me! It's all by faith that God is calling forth these foolish weapons again, this hour, in time of war!

I sense the Lord would have us to personally be led by Him when and where to blow in this season of war. I believe a good place to start is right at home. Let's blow the confusion out of our own lives and families! And let the Lord lead you from there! You can stand right where you are and blow into a nation. There is no distance with the breath of God! He will lead us. Check in with Him for the details . . . all I know is God said, "Blow!"

Stepping Stones In Transition

Bret Wade

These are great times of transition in the Body of Christ! There are major things happening that we have prayer for and prophesied over the years. These are exciting times, but they are also stressful times. The old wine skin is not able to take us where God is heading with the Church. We are making a paradigm shift to a new wine skin. It's a new model that is forming. We have waited on it with expectancy! How we respond in this "now" prophetic season will determine our effectiveness in the future.

This is a time where there is major rearranging happening. Those who were not considered capable for the task at hand are surfacing as qualified and being strategically placed by the Spirit of the Lord. They are the hidden company of believers that have been waiting in the wings. What has qualified them? Their faith, patience and the process of God have qualified them. Though others would disdain them for how they would do things, they are the cream of the crop. They are Joshuas with a heart to possess and divide an inheritance to the people of God.

If you are one who is in this hidden company, I am writing this to you as one modern day Joshua to another. While in the process of transition, there are some stepping stones to follow that I have found to be trustworthy. They will keep you from being hindered in forward progress. The enemy would like nothing better than to distract you to cause you to lose your direction during times of transition. If he can keep you from advancing, he can keep you from getting into position to displace him.

DRAW CLOSER TO GOD We must all make a choice when arising into that which God has prepared for us. It involves either following the direction that God has placed in our heart or giving into the desires of others. Draw closer to the Lord. Be a worshipper of God. There will be a rock solid assurance in your heart when you do this. It will come down to "but one thing I do" Phillipians 3:13. You must have a determination to press forward before setting out to do so.

FOCUS It is vital that you get yourself focused and keep yourself from all distractions that would pull at you. Remind yourself that leaders never lose their focus. Someone will be following even though you may not consider yourself a leader. Lead yourself well and others will follow in your steps.

If then you were raised with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ is, sitting at the right hand of God. Set your mind on things above, not on things on the earth. Colossians 3:1-2

In transition, things change rapidly. Be careful what you get involved with at this time. Don't make long-term obligations without absolutely knowing that it is God's direction for you at this time. If in doubt, back up and pray until you know. Romans 8:6 says "to be spiritually minded is life and peace". God's direction will bring peace.

Everything the enemy will send your way right now is intended to pull you off course. Choose your battles wisely. Move forward and maintain course in spite of conflicting opinion and who chooses to stay behind.

KEEP PEACE Maintain and keep peace at all costs. Understand that often the enemy will use those around you. Do not burn bridges. You will just have to go back and rebuild. Your effectiveness in the future will be determined by how you respond now. It will either be with a forgiving attitude or bitterness.

Beware of anger and bitterness. It will set you back in your forward progress. Bitterness is an indicator of pride yet to be dealt with. Repent now. Bitterness will only fuel an unruly tongue. Watch that little member! Pass up opportunities to give a piece of your mind! Only say what is needed, do not try and justify your direction or come against another's. It takes a response of humility to agree quickly with your adversary at your expense.

Pursue peace with all people, and holiness, without which no one will see the Lord: looking carefully lest anyone fall short of the grace of God; lest any root of bitterness springing up cause trouble, and by this many become defiled. Hebrews 12:14-15

Therefore if you bring your gift to the altar, and there remember that your brother has something against you, leave your gift there before the altar, and go your way. First be reconciled to your brother, and then come and offer your gift. Agree with your adversary quickly, while you are on the way with him, lest your adversary deliver you to the judge, the judge hand you over to the officer, and you be thrown into prison. Matthew 5:23-25

Do not choose sides on issues. Try and resolve issues if possible but not at the cost of relationships. In times of transition, it is difficult to resolve issues because change is likely being resisted. If it is justice that is sought after, you must discern the condition and intent of your heart. What spirit are you operating out of? Can this wait? If you can wait, attitudes will often change.

You can differ, but do it in love. It is very easy to see hypocrisy in others. We must repent for the hypocrisy that we see rather than attacking our brothers and sisters in Christ. Stay in a repentant state before God.

Create in me a clean heart, O God; And renew a right spirit within me. Cast me not away from thy presence; And take not thy holy spirit from me. Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation; And uphold me with a willing spirit. Psalm 51:10-12

GET YOUR HEALING Before entering into that new thing that the Lord has for you, get healed and delivered of the past. Whatever it takes! Don't let past hindrances become present hesitations. Enter into the new with wholeness! There is something about being free that causes a refreshing for possessing the next thing ahead of you!

If you'll do these things, you'll come through much easier. Follow the Lord and possess!

Until we meet again, we are...

Seven Songs Of The Lord

Robin Paisley

The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament sheweth his handywork! Psalm 19:1

ANGELS SINGING SEVEN SONGS OF THE LORD!

I saw angels proclaiming the Glory of the Lord and hosting the stars of heaven. The stars were singing seven songs of the Lord, all declaring His awesome handiwork!

The first song was like the sound of beating drums, echoing the heartbeat of our Savior. I could hear His blood begin to flow through out the dry rivers of our souls, causing a mighty cleansing and purging, a ridding of all that was not of Him.

The second song was the like the sound of a thousand violins crying, a melody of lost love, a betrayal of hearts gone astray. To some this song was heard with much heartache and repentance and to others a calling to go deeper into the Father's heart.

The third song reached out and bit my lip bringing instant pain and remorse with the sound of the tapping of many shoes lined up in a row upon the floor of heaven. Tap, Tap, Tap went the sound all in unison, tapping on the floor of our hearts to give all to Him, to lay everything down at the Master's feet. Our gifts, our ministries, our callings and our lives, all to Him!

The fourth song was the sound of a thousand bees all flying together, wizzing through the torment of our minds. They brought a wind, a cutting wind that began to release many saints of strongholds and bondages that had been keeping them from seeing and hearing the voice of God.

The fifth song was the sound of joyful children laughing in the presence of our Lord. Their sound came straight from the heart of the Father and into the darkness of those who had lost their loved ones. This brought such joy and jubilation to the saints to hear their children laughing that they began to spread His love through out the nations, proclaiming the Goodness and Mercy of the Lord!

The sixth song was the song of silence that echoed through out the earth. As the calm before the storm so was this sound as it made its way into our homes and into the churches. I could see the sound travel into the bars piercing the hearts of those who sat broken upon the stools causing such a repentance and longing for Jesus that they began right then to proclaim the Glory of the Lord! This sound made its way into the streets piercing the very darkest of souls where they would leap instantly in freedom upon the movement of this sound!

The seventh song was a distant sound, unlike any melody I have ever heard and it moved the angels deeply upon the releasing of this song. I could see the Father's face full of so much love for His children and the aching of His heart beat heavily within my spirit. This sound, this song, reached out and moved mountains, physical mountains. Some of these mountains had been hidden beneath the earth for thousands and thousands of years, packed beneath layers and layers of rock. Their breakthrough looked like the breaking of glass shattering as they moved the earth with their explosion! The angels began to sing louder and louder awakening even the dead as they proclaimed that the Glory of the Lord would be heard through out the earth and all its inhabitants within!

Stop Sabotaging Yourselves!

Luz Cintron

I was meditating on the things that the Lord has been doing in my life as of late. I started to see how my lack of understanding hinders my advance. There was also much fear because of lack of understanding properly. Spiritual understanding differs from the intellectual understanding. Spiritual understanding is a knowledge of trust, a life experience that teaches through a lifetime. It can not be acquired from books alone. The things we understand from books stay at our intellectual level and remains there, it can only become alive if the Holy Spirit intervenes, because in the hour of test doubt shakes its foundation and what remains strong usually is that we have heard, seen and lived in and through the Spirit, that is the learning of wisdom, the fear of the Lord for Who He Is!

At moments like this I end up crying. It is overwhelming to see how I can't understand and I wish I could. I was meditating on those things when the cry rose from my heart. I was reading the life and works of John G Lake, how much yielded unto the Lord he walked. In truth the Lord was with Him. How far I stand! But the cry that rose in me was not unto the miracles or the experiences. I could care less for the spectacular. I hunger and thirst for Him.

I have been in a reducing mode for a while and now I understand the freedom of loosing. Not having a church, not having fellowship, not having friends and yet having them because when He leads to give there they are but in the receiving it is only Him in the jealousy of His love. I told Him that I was thankful that He has taken me out. I can now pursue His presence for Him alone and not with any agenda. Indeed, He is sufficient for me, but then, how do I grow closer?

I told Him," it seems I can not get things right no matter how hard I try or how deeply I long for it. I come to the verge just to mess things up for You. Will I ever be able to bring something to You? How can You love me? I don’t seek experiences anymore. Nor do I want to see beyond this pitiful realm."

All I want is to become with Him and in Him. To be for Him a dwelling place without any other purpose than to look into His heart and understand His cares. Will it ever be possible? If only I could touch the hem of His garment! Nobody hinders me, except myself. I don't know how to believe unless the gift of faith is stirred in my like the waters of the pool.

How can I see what I can't understand? Because He speaks. He speaks and says over and over "Only believe!" and I know Him to be true. At moments like these life becomes a burden.

He spoke to me yesterday as I was meditating like this. He spoke and said to me, "Write this and send it forth because there are many like you in the same place you stand. Hear, listen and tell them. Stop sabotaging yourselves! You don't understand what I am doing. Trust Me! Just believe! Where you read failure I am writing My success. Where you see defeat and shame I am establishing My glory! Yield to Me still a little more. I shall deliver as I have saved"

The Lord speaks and His voice awakens the deep desires of the heart. He speaks and His speech is a call . Who can not hear? Who can ignore the sound of the many waves of His love? Who can refrain from Him when he knocks and call? We may not see where we are led, we may not know where we are taken but who, oh who can resist? He is stronger than fear and stronger than death.

Stand

For I am the Lord who has risen in the midst of My people today and I say unto you, having done all that you are able to do, STAND (Eph 6:13). For you My people are coming out of one season into the next. In this new season, I am bringing breakthroughs both on a corporate level and on an individual level. I am removing hindrances placed by the enemy and I am releasing exponential growth both in the spirit and in the physical realm to those things pertaining to the Kingdom. I am going to suddenly bring revelation and wisdom on how to move forward in the destinies and plans that I have for each of you.

This release of grace and favour from My throne has not gone amiss on satan's radar and he has attacked many of My people especially in the area of finances and relationships. Fear not My people, for this is the time when you will have to contend with the forces of darkness in order to "breath-through", yet I have released this thing called Grace where My Spirit shall lead you in wisdom as you contend on the battlefield. I have not left you alone. I have not left you without a plan. As you cry out to Me, I will make your path before you clear so that you will know how to move forward from here.

Having done all that you can in obedience to Me, stand and watch Me win the battles ahead. Do not let the failures from the past, the circumstances from your present situation or your own inabilities throw you off balance, for I am indeed the Rock that cannot be shaken. Those who are for you are more than those against you.

Blessings,

Stand Firm
Doug Patterson

June 7, 2005

Stand firm and know My words are alive and growing inside your heart. Be prepared to expand your vision and move forward in your gifts and calling. Open doors await you as you press into the fullness of My purpose and provision. You are never alone for My Holy Spirit lives within you to be a strength and encouragement.
Be very bold and very strong for I have declared that you shall do great exploits in My name.

Joshua 1:7
Only be strong and very courageous, that you may observe to do according to all the law/which Moses My servant commanded you; do not turn from it to the right hand or to the left, that you may prosper wherever you go.

Overwhelming Victory For My Bride
Linda Patterson

June 8, 2005

The winds of adversity are dying down now. It has been a long season of testing and refining for My bride. I have been drawing you into that secret place close to My heart. You are sheltered and protected in My loving embrace.
The winds will blow in great fury around you as My judgments come crashing down throughout the nations. My bride you are covered in My peace and rest. Many will see the strength, courage and overwhelming victory in your life and be drawn to you. In the hour of testing and trial they will embrace the good news of salvation that shall surely set them free.

Psalm 63:7
Because You have been my help, therefore in the shadow of Your wings I will rejoice.

Declaring God’s Heart For America – 2006 and Beyond!

I kept seeing the American Flag in the Spirit. Every time I would enquire of the Lord’s heart for America I continually saw the American Flag. So I enquired to the Lord what He was trying to convey. This is what I believe that He has shared with me, and I submit it to your discernment, that the Lord may proclaim forth the destiny of the United States Of America and may the body of Christ rise up and get alongside God’s proclamation so that the move of God may be ushered into fruition.

So many times you hear of the pending judgment coming to the United States of America, and I do not doubt this at all, but so little do you hear of God’s heart for the United States.

So I pray that the Holy Spirit through this word, would give us all a glimpse into the heart of God for this most powerful and influential nation.

As I began to say, I continually saw the America Flag when asking God of His heart for America, and this is what I believe He wanted to convey.

Stars and Stripes!!!

I believe that the Lord is calling the United States of America to be a guiding nation. Key in leading God’s people into revival, a new sense of God’s authority and presence in the lives of people. You see many moves of God and tele-evangelists coming out of the United States, many that are great, and many not so great. Already, the United States of America is providing many true and false ministries. Yet, I see that America has turned it’s back on God. It is trying to weed God out of the system. Weed God out of the government and welcome in an ‘open arms policy’ to all religions.

The Lord is proclaiming that the United States of America is to rise up and stand into what He has called it to be.

As a star led the shepherds to Jesus, so is the Lord proclaiming that America (along with other nations) is to be a nation that leads many to JESUS CHRIST.

God does not favour one nation over another. God will use all nations together to bring about His Glory and His Kingdom. As the body of Christ has many parts and works together, so will all nations work together to bring forth God’s glory.

The Lord is declaring that He intends for America to give up it’s sinful ways, repent for it’s complacency and trying to weed God out of the nation, and allow Him to usher forth and re-establish the nation as He first intended it. A GUIDING SHINING STAR TO LEAD THE WAY TO JESUS.

The Lord is crying out for His people to take a stand. To rise up, and stand in it's destiny. You may ask, how is this possible? The Lord is handing EVERY SINGLE AMERICAN BELIEVER a shofar. Each of you are being given a shofar in the spirit right this moment, SOUND THE ALARM.

Encourage those around you to rise up, get alongside those who have backslidden, speak it from the pulpit, repent for your complacency and get out onto the streets and proclaim the Word.

The government is a huge part of the move of God. God loves government. God created government. I believe that the Lord is now raising up individuals with a heart for the government of the USA to begin PROCLAIMING in faith the coming move of God. Proclaiming in faith, that the Lord will bring a great shaking to the government, that will turn the tables upside-down and settle them back in place, so that the warriors GOD has chosen may take their place. Many do not BELIEVE that it is possible for the Holy Spirit to move within the hearts of many within the USA.

I am not saying that the whole nation of America will be "for" God, I'm simply saying that the Lord is establishing His word to America that those that are for God are to rise up, blow the shofars, warn the nation, and begin proclaiming God's heart in these times.

Before the world began God PROCLAIMED what was to come, THEN it came to fruition. So the Lord is calling the body of Christ in the USA, to proclaim the heart of God into the government of the USA, as the body of Christ rises up and does this, the change of God WILL come. God does NOT want to destroy America, God LOVES America. God does NOT want to pour out His judgment upon America, He will if His call is not heeded too, but yet AGAIN the Lord is calling out and giving the USA another chance. "Hear what My Spirit is saying to the churches" – Revelation 2:17

Stripes

Influence. In the world the USA has great influence. It is the leading nation. Spiritually the USA has NOT taken it's stand. America, do you realise the authority the Lord has given you in the supernatural realm? Do you see the opportunity that is on your doorstep? The vessel that God has given you?

The stripes on the American flag are representative in the supernatural realm of the line of influence the Lord has poured out on the nation of America.

God has given the nation of America the vehicle to carry forth His name. A nation that is always in the public eye, the world looks at, you have the vehicle to bring forth the Kingdom of God in a great way.

I continue to hear in the Spirit, voices crying out "One nation under JESUS CHRIST" not one nation under a distant "GOD" figure, but one nation under "JESUS CHRIST".

What does being under Jesus Christ mean? It means being submissive, humble, gentle, kind, compassionate, self sacrificing, showing strength in weakness. That as I see it is the real challenge to the U.S as a nation, becoming these things in government, public life and personal life not the challenge to rise up in more of the kind of power they are currently displaying.

Do not give up hope America. Do not look at your nation as doomed by the judgment of God. Look at your nation as a tremendous vehicle to be used by the mighty hand of God.

If the new move of God is ushered forth especially in 2006, the wheels will begin turning and you will begin to see great moves of God in your nation. I hear the wheels turning as in Ezekiel, proclaim proclaim proclaim. Do not sit and just pray anymore, proclaim what God has said over your government leaders, over your nation, over your schools, over your churches. Speak forth the move of God.

Watch the stripes move forward. Watch the nation extended it's arms into touching others for Jesus Christ. Stretch out America.

Do not stay where you are anymore. Step out of your comfort zones. Move forward. Do not be inactive anymore in your prayer life, be a PART of God's move in the USA.

Even if there is just one in a nation crying out, interceding, standing in the gap, but proclaiming in faith and believing for their nation, would God surely not honour this? Certainly.

America – listen to the Spirit.

You are destined. You are chosen. You are the stars and the stripes of this world. Will you take your stand? As each person starts small in their own lives, proclaiming, proclaiming, proclaiming, America will begin to see the hand and heart of God move in their nation like they have never seen before.

America, you have taken the backseat for too long. It's time to step up into your destiny.

Singing The Blues

Priscilla Van Sutphin

May 21st, 2005

I have all things in My hands. The earth and the sky and all that is under the earth belongs to Me. I created it all and I know every thought and action of man. I know what is in man's heart. And there is nothing that is, that is not known by ME.

So many are singing the "blues" because the world has gotten so dark and full of pride and wickedness of man. But You must know that when the enemy comes in like a flood, the LORD raises up a standard against him !
The blues has a nice beat, but unless there is hope, then it leads to self pity and complaining, and discontentment. I have not left you hopeless My beloveds. I am your blessed HOPE. I am Christ, the hope of Glory ! I live in you, and I know all that you are, and I know the past and present and future.

I know all that it holds. Am I not able to tell you all you need to know ? If you are IN ME, and have communion with Me, and seek My face, then surely will I not take care of you, and keep you in the palm of My hand? Did I not say I would never leave or forsake you ? Some of you are growing weary, but it is in the impossible times, that I can do the miraculous. PRAY FOR MIRACLES ! PRAY FOR HEAVEN TO IMPACT THE EARTH AROUND YOU !

Do not give up, or despair My beloveds. I WILL show you great and mighty things you do not know, if you will ask. I WILL do great and mighty things you have not seen before, if you will but ask. I am coming again like a mighty rushing wind I have said. And I will work changes in all you are concerned about. I will rescue that loved one you are so concerned for. I will restore your children. I AM a GOD of RESTORATION.

So start singing the praises of your GOD, and change the atmosphere of your home, your heart, your neighborhood, and all around you ! Rejoice and be exceedingly glad when men persecute you and speak all kinds of bad things about you. For great is your reward in heaven. Know that you don't have to dwell on your emotions, or in them, but you can change them and rearrange them, by focusing on ME, and PRAISING ME. Then you will no longer need to sing the blues, but you can shout for JOY and change your circumstances by doing so !

Think on the good things. Think on all the times I've come through for you.
Think about the promises I've made to you and it's ok to rehearse them in your heart ! I will fulfill every one. Think on all that is beautiful and kind, all that is praiseworthy and wonderful. Fill your mind with good things like the laughter of children and the smell of roses. And speak the Word to the enemy of your soul – answer his thoughts with Words of PRAISE to ME, with songs and dance. Startle him with praise even in the midst of troubles.
Show him you will not allow him to steal your joy !

Then I heard the song " Dance with Me, I want to be your partner, dance with Me !"

Dance with me, I want to be your partner
Can't you see the music is just starting?
Night is falling, and I am calling
Dance with me

Fantasy could never be so giving

I feel free, I hope that you are willing
Pick your feet up, and kick your feet up
Dance with me

Let it lift you off the ground
Starry eyes, and love is all around
I can take you where you want to go

Dance with me, I want to be your partner
Can't you see the music is just starting?
Night is falling, and I am calling
Dance with me

Let it lift you off the ground
Starry eyes, and love is all around
I can take you where you want to go

Fantasy could never be so giving
I feel free, I hope that you are willing
To pick your feet up, kick your feet up
And dance with me

Dance with me, I want to be your partner
Can't you see the music is just starting?
Night is falling, and I am calling

Dance with me
Dance with me
Dance with me

Phil 4:8-9 NKJV
8 Meditate on These Things
Finally, brethren, whatever things are true, whatever things are noble, whatever things are just, whatever things are pure, whatever things are lovely, whatever things are of good report, if there is any virtue and if there is anything praiseworthy — meditate on these things. 9 The things which you learned and received and heard and saw in me, these do, and the God of peace will be with you.

Eph 5:18-20 NKJV
18 And do not be drunk with wine, in which is dissipation; but be filled with the Spirit, 19 speaking to one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord, 20 giving thanks always for all things to God the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ,

Spiritual Thirst

Chimezie Onyebilanma

January 17, 2005.
"Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness for they shall be filled" Matt. 5:6

Before the holidays we began to look at the subject of personal revival and spiritual thirst. We said to have revival we need to touch God and to be touched by God. We cannot be indifferent and receive revival. We need to stretch ourselves to touch God like that woman with the issue of blood who pressed on to touch Jesus. Spiritual thirst is the stretching out of our soul to touch God. The deeper the intensity of our thirst, the farther the reach of our soul to God. And once we touch God, God will touch us and that is revival.

Indeed spiritual thirst is a prerequisite for every spiritual progress. Spiritual progress is not measured by activities or by emotional highs but by our degree of nearness to God. God draws near to the thirsty, never to the apathetic. It's a spiritual law "Blessed are those who thirst…for they shall be filled" It is like spiritual thirst empties the soul in such a way that God finds space to pour himself into it.

A thirsty man is always earnest. David said "O God, you are my God, earnestly I seek you; my soul thirst for you, my body longs for you." (Ps 63:1). To be earnest means to seek something desperately; to want it really bad; to be ready to give anything to get it. This is what spiritual thirst is about.

In 1 Samuel 1 we read of an earnest woman, Hannah. Hannah had a devoted husband that loved her, provided more than enough for her need, esteemed her and showered her with gifts. Yet she was not satisfied. She was barren and she was not going to let anything console her. Some of us are satisfied even though we are spiritually barren.

Hannah's dear husband consoled her. He said "Hannah, why are you weeping? Why don't you eat? Why are you downhearted? Don't I mean more to you than ten sons?" But Hannah was earnest, she was not going to let what she had blind her from pursuing what she lacked. She did not allow her husband's gifts to distract her from this pursuit. Beloved, what is distracting you from wanting more of God? What do you have that is making you so satisfied?

Why are we satisfied with so little? Why are we satisfied to live ordinary lives without power or purity? Why are we satisfied with noise instead of life? Why are we satisfied with playing church instead of being the church? Why are we satisfied with the little we have drunk from God when there is till more? This is the truth, no matter what we might have experienced of God in the past it is nothing compared to what we have not yet tasted. There is more.

Perhaps Hannah would have been satisfied with all her husband's gifts and adoration if not for Peninnah, her husband's second wife's mockery. Peninnah's jeers provoked her out of complacency. Can we ask God to bring things our way to provoke us out of our complacency? This is a risky prayer because it is not a comfortable process. But it will be a good thing for our soul.
Comments? Questions? etc. If these messages have been helpful or unclear it would encourage us to hear from you, please write to caprotogo@laposte.tg*

PLEASE are you born again? It is not enough to believe in the existence of God, to go to church, or be interested in spiritual things. Jesus said "I am the way and the truth and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me" (John 14:6). Jesus died to deliver you from sin so that you can come to God. (John 3:16) If you ask him to forgive you and give you a new heart he will. (Acts 2:38; Romans 10:9-11).Try it. I'd love to hear from you @ caprotogo@laposte.tg

Some Thoughts on New Years Resolutions

Judy Bauman

The Lord spoke very clearly to me concerning New Year's Resolutions. It is my prayer that what He said will also help you.

This is what happened: For several months I had really been searching and asking the Lord questions like, "What am I missing?" "What is hindering me?" Then as I was reading the newspaper, I came across an article about how to make New Year's Resolutions. It said that keeping our list of resolutions to 1-3 things will help us from being overwhelmed. My weight has really been a preoccupation of mine, so I thought, 'I know, I will have just one goal and it will be to get into shape!'

My well-intended thought was disrupted by a still small voice that said, "No! Your one goal will be to spend more time with Me in the secret place."

It dawned on me that anything hindering us from what God has asked us to do cannot continue when exposed in the presence of the Lord! It must let go! As we cooperate with God, whatever it is that has kept us from His perfect plan for our lives will be revealed. But only as we submit to God in the secret place. This means to simply go alone to God the Father in the name of Jesus in prayer and praise; read His word and listen to His voice. (See John 10:27 or better yet, verses 1-30)

Thank God there is no condemnation for those who are in Christ! The law of sin and death condemns, but the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus sets us free. When we fail, He loves us where we are at and helps us from that point. He will never leave us. Thank God He will walk us through every challenge in life and not abandon us! (See Romans 8) Thank God His mercies are new every morning! (See Lam 3:21-26)

I believe the Lord would say to you and to me that whatever our New Year's Resolutions are, we must lay them down before the Father. He will break our chains in pieces, shatter the gates of bronze, and cut iron gates to set us each free! The God of heaven and earth anointed Jesus to proclaim liberty to the captives and open the prisons to those who are bound. Anything that is keeping us in bondage, any type of bondage, the Lord wants to set us free from it. (See Ps 107:10-16, 19-22, 43 and Is 61:1)

As Jesus taught us in Matt 6:33 But seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added to you.

Seek FIRST the kingdom of God and all else will fall into place. God knows our needs. Let us seek His face first. Let us be still and know that He is God. After all, He knows how to part the sea! He surely knows what we need! You may be hearing in your spirit that it is time to fast and really seek His face. Seek His wisdom in this and follow His instructions. (See Ps 46:10; 2 Chron 7:14, Prov 8:17; Jer 29:11-14, Luke 11:10; John 10: 3-5)

May you thrive in the secret place of the most High God in 2005 and beyond. Arise! Shine! For your Light has come and the glory of the Lord has risen upon you!

God bless you in your journey with Him,
Judy Bauman

Stop The Parties

Judy Bauman

Rivermistlighthouse1@comcast.net

Since I have heard about Hurricane Wilma, I have kept hearing the song at the end of the cartoon, The Flintstones. It says, "We'll have a gay ol' time!" Then Fred yells, "WILMA!" I was thinking it would be a common thing to come to mind. We know that when the Flintstones came out, this had a different meaning than today! But considering what its meaning has become, I am under the impression this hurricane is going to strike at homosexuality. The sad thing is that when something like this happens, innocent people are also in the fray. But God will take our testimonies to bring others to know the hope to with they have been called. So we must keep that in mind. I looked up the meaning for the name and Wilma means 'protector'. I read that and felt it meant God's desire to protect His word. He is not mocked. We reap what we sow. Unfortunately, there aren't many places it could hit along the coast of our country where there isn't a gay community, but none are quiet like New Orleans or Key West, FL. Never have I ever felt storms were 'judgments from God' until this fall. I believe something has shifted in the heavenlies. I have that same weird sense about this storm as I did with Katrina. See the paragraph on 'Twin Hurricanes' at http://www.etpv.org/2005/twins.html Generally I feel the push to pray for people and places in danger, but the Lord hasn't given me His usual grace for intercession. I do not want to 'steady what the Lord is shaking'. I want God's will. I want to see man's repentance – true turning from sin. I do not sense any such thing going on yet. God's desire to draw all men and women to Himself is not stopped by their lack of belief. He still loves them and desires them to come to Him.

So in that light, I pray that whatever devastation may come, that it comes to glorify the Father and bring many, many souls to salvation in the Lord Jesus Christ. We know that ultimately it is He that saves us from this life of sin. We are all sinners and we all come short of God's glory.

Last night I heard something on the news that sent me on a trail of sorts. Look at these websites if you must, but I warn you that they are lures for homosexuals, so guard yourself before proceeding. If you have battled with this in any form, I would caution you to take my word and not expose yourself to it. I only include the websites so that it is clear I am not making this more than what it is.

Hurricane Katrina stopped this party "Southern Decadence 2005"
http://www.southerndecadence.net/

Right after Katrina hit New Orleans I had heard about Southern Decadence 2005 being canceled and went to this website to confirm. At the time it was posted that the party was going to be moved to Biloxi, MS. Which Hurricane Rita hit. So this same party was stopped again!!!

This weekend Hurricane Wilma stopped these parties "Fantasy Fest 2005 and Mayan Riviera Gay Fall Fiesta" http://www.fantasyfest.net/ Key West, FL
http://arcoiris.8m.net/photo3.html Cancun Mexico

These are huge festivals to draw gays together and isn't it interesting that the storms have baffled the experts in their explosive growth! They seem to be of little consequence and then suddenly they are category 5 hurricanes! This reminds me of the book of Jonah. God wanted him to go one way and he went the opposite way. A great storm arose so quickly that all the mariners were caught off-guard.

Maybe the message for the homosexual community is that God is telling them to go His direction, but since they have gone their own direction the storms have come to get their attention.

As I am writing I heard CBS news anchor, Jim Acosta, reporting from Florida saying, "…and in Mexico. The fiesta's are out, fear is setting in."

Please join me to pray for these precious souls that Jesus died to save. Their sin is no more heinous than adultery, sex before marriage, stealing, extorting, and the like. (See 1 Corinthians 6:9 and Gal 5:19 – 21) We are all sinners and we all have fallen short of the glory of God. If we say we have no sin than we deceive ourselves and the truth of God is not in us. 1 John 1:8 So let's lift up these men and women who are in great need of our prayers. I pray that any who were planning on going to these gay festivals would see the connection and have a real and true 'fear of the Lord' and come to know Jesus as their Savior. He is our Deliverer and He is their Deliverer. Come Holy Spirit!

Again I hear 2 Chronicles 7:14 needs to be heeded particularly by men in Christian leadership. There is something very powerful to take place in the heavenlies if the men – the warriors of God – will obey this Scripture.

Your sister-in-Christ
Judy

This word from the Lord came to me for a specific person but the Lord showed me this is a widespread problem in His Body. When you consider how prolific weeds can be, especially this type, it would make sense that we need to set a guard against them spreading. The Lord had me rewrite parts of it to speak more broadly to His Church.

"I speak to you, My child. You ask who I Am? I am your Father who made You for My pleasure. You are made to accomplish much for My sake. I have not given you the desire to create for your purpose, but for Mine. I have seen your anguish and I have seen your pain. I have seen you abandoned and I have seen you afflicted. It pleases Me when I see you are not moved by this world's system. This motivates Me to work on your behalf. Come to Me. Come to Me when your heart is breaking and no one understands you. You are looking for someone to understand you and that need of yours has not been fulfilled. It couldn't be. Had you found someone to look to other than Me, you would not be able to accomplish what I have set before you. You have to rely on Me. You have to turn to Me. I wait for you. I wait and I watch. I have waited a long time and I wait longer. I speak to you. I long to be heard by you. I long for you to recognize My voice. I have great secrets kept in storage to release to you. They will not be given unless you come to Me.

The desires of your heart will be given only when you have let go of what you are holding in your hand. You are holding a cocklebur bush. See http://www.psu.missouri.edu/fishel/common_cocklebur.htm and http://waynesword.palomar.edu/plapr98.htm Be sure and read the toxic symptoms as this is what the enemy of your soul desires to do to you. You feel the effects of the poison even now. As long as you are holding onto the thorns, I cannot help you. Hold onto Me not the burs. You have gotten too use to the pain. You must submit yourself to Me. – your true Father, to remove the burs, the barbs, and their toxic results. The cockles have barbs and stick to everything they touch. They are painful to grab and difficult to pull off, but they cannot be left to further infect.

But there is something I want you to see. I gave inspiration to make Velcro from this annoying plant. If you come to Me, and I mean truly come to Me and seek My face, I will reveal mysteries from your life's cockleburs. The things that have annoyed you the most will be sources of your greatest victories. The things that have hindered your walk with Me will cause you to run and not grow weary – if you faint not! You will have many triumphs if you will submit yourself to Me. I have created you to fellowship with Me and that is why there is so much unrest in your soul. You need My peace but you will not get it with success or fame. You will get the peace and security you seek when you give yourself totally in fellowship with Me. Walk with Me in the cool of the day, beloved. Seek Me early while I can be found. I have created you to fellowship with Me and that is why there is so much unrest in your soul. You look here and you look there. You do not find rest because you haven't come to Me. I am your first resort, not your last. Release what you are holding onto. Those things that have wounded you. Those rejects and disappointments and failures. Just like cockleburs, they are sticking to you even when you let go. That is where I come in! I will take those sticky, pesky, annoying, painful burs of your life and I will remove their toxic affects. I will cause them to become seeds of victory.

I must warn you. These burs must be released from your grip soon! The devil, your enemy, is desiring to cause these wounds to hurt you, to destroy you, to bring you to ruin. He is petitioning Me to sift you. You will slip through his fingers if the burs are gone. If you release the burs all he will have in his hand is the chaff that I wanted removed in the first place. If the burs are still in your hands, you will be stuck in Satan's trap – entangled by the burs in his net. Time is short. Stop taking the burs to yourself – stop feeding them with words that give them energy to reproduce. They desire to consume you. Rid yourself of these cumbersome stickers. Let Me dig up the root of bitterness!

Come to Me and I will give you rest. I will give you a future. I will give you hope renewed. I will set your feet up high on a mountain. I will be as the eagle who swoops down and brings you to the high place on My wings. Trust Me, My child. Trust Me. I will never let you down. Release the cockleburs to Me. Don't hold them any longer. Don't pull them close to yourself. It is My desire to propel you. Get ready! Rid yourself of the cockle burs and get ready!!! You are about to be launched into your destiny and My purpose! Read what My servants wrote in Psalms 34 and Hebrews 12. These are for you today and for this season. Do not despise small beginnings. It is a season of grooming. Do not harden your heart as they did in the rebellion. Trust Me to work all things for your good for you are truly called according to My purpose."

Supreme Court Dream

Jessica Miller

On Saturday night, (10-1-05) I was caught into a whirlwind after I went to bed. I was in a whirlwind or tornado type of place. It wasn't frightening. . . just forceful. I could hear voices. One in particular caught my attention; so I gravitated toward it. I couldn't see anyone or really anything, but I realized I was overhearing a conversation between the Lord and someone else (He may have been speaking to more than one).

He said it was IMPERATIVE that His choice for a woman to fill the vacant supreme court justice seat be according to HIS will. He and whoever He was discussing this with said it would be a war. . . but the church must wage battle to ensure her placement. I did not hear the name of the woman. . . only that it was a woman.

I thought it strange that I was overhearing this conversation. They emphasized the importance of the Church waging warfare NOW.

Then they discussed another very soon to be vacant seat, and that if the Church will guard over the Lord's choice, it will swing America into a glorious reversal of past errors.

The Lord reminded whoever He was speaking to about the incredible importance for the Church to cover the justices (Roberts, the woman, and the third one) with prayer to be protected from a liberal and humanistic spirit. I came out of that place and thought it odd. I told my daughters about it and the necessity of prayer.

Several mornings later, my daughter was watching the news and called to me to come see. It was about George Bush nominating a woman for the Justice seat. I am not sure if she is the woman, but I do know the Lord said we needed to engage in warfare to ensure the placement of a woman in the seat.

> "Fear not, for I have redeemed you; I have summoned you by name; you are mine. When you pass through the waters, I will be with you; and when you pass through the rivers, they will not sweep over you. When you walk through the fire, you will not be burned; the flames will not set you ablaze." Isaiah 43:1-2

> "Live by the Spirit, and you will not gratify the desires of the sinful nature … let us keep in step with the Spirit." Galatians 5:16,25.

I saw Jesus clothed in white – surfing on a silver hover-board!! He was totally relaxed and full of joy – and whenever I see this vision I laugh inside – there's an anointing that comes with it. He is surfing over a lake of fire with total poise and confidence.

I begin the vision drowning in the fire myself – terrified of God's judgment, and bound by sin and possibly religious indoctrination. As this joy grew on me I realised that yes – everyone must face God's judgment on them personally, but it is redemptive, praise our saviour! It purifies us and lifts us up from the fallen race of Adam and from being Satan's children, to make us eligible citizens of the Kingdom of Heaven and children of the King!

He said inside me, "Beloved son – do not fear the lake of fire. Everyone must pass through it – you've already past through a lot of it. The elect and the wise will ask Me for this process of purification now – rather than wait until they stand before My throne – because they have a passion for the Kingdom of Heaven to come to earth – now! And they want to be able to stand before my throne clothed in white with no shame left – then they can look me in the eye like a friend and brother – and share My ministry. These things are speeding up, Tim, there are called ones who I have called out by name – and they are coming forward to me now. They will fight through the fear, doubt and shame – it is your flesh that fears My fire because it knows it will die – your spirit loves it because it knows that the process will release your inner man – the one you are destined to be. Allow the fire to expose the fallen man of sin in you, then crucify yourself daily with Me, and allow the mind of Christ to totally invade you. You see – much of My church has truly come to the cross and have been saved and forgiven – but they have stopped there and not become crucified with me*. This is simply a division between immaturity and maturity in my children. My closest disciples also take up their cross daily – because they know that I suffered for the joy set before Me. Yes – I know what you're thinking – about the scripture where I say to fear Him who can cast both body and soul into hell. But realise that this is aimed at the unrepentant sinner, and at the sinful nature in you. The fear of the Lord is the* beginning of wisdom – because it drives you to the cross – but my hearts desire is not for my children to always be in terror of Me and be mere slaves – but to come forward into My embrace of love and be sons and daughters. I want them to take part in My resurrection also – and the sooner they repent and are crucified – the sooner I can resurrect them into their Kingdom nature – and then we will share the pure joy I promise! My crucifixion was only part of the process – I rose from the dead – and this is what you're going to do also. For those who want to follow me through the Cross I am going to start releasing them visions of their Kingdom destiny –

so that they can begin to experience the same joy that kept Me going through My sufferings. Yes I am releasing a holy fear too – some this will unfortunately crush and terrify into the Kingdom, some will experience a mixture of fear and joy, and some will begin to surf even the largest of waves and fly with Me and upon Me. Some I will show the burning coals from among the cherubim as I did to Ezekiel – and like the prophets of old they will assist in My end-time mercy and judgments. When they leave this most Holy of Courtyards - My eyes will blaze with fire through their eyes. As I said to Rick Joyner – they will be trusted with the powers of the age to come. They will be clothed with a Holy Spirit mantle, and will carry with them the wind of fire, fear and joy. The wind will guide them and carry them – and they will winnow, judge, bless, rescue and release wherever they fly. Everyone is at a different stage of the journey – but run to Me – and we'll embrace, dance, and laugh I promise. The fears will fall away as old rags – no longer needed."

By the end of the vision – Jesus had lifted me tenderly up and placed me on my own silver surf board. He had joked with me about the prophets who are beginning to "surf the internet" and was teaching me how to laugh again. He is the Anointer, Author and Commander of this new internet network - the new "surfer anointing"! He had clothed me in a large red cloak which moved in the breeze. He had taught me how to remove the hooks in me that would drag me back into the fire – and He had removed everything in me which gave hell a hold on me - it was a done deal in the Spirit – even if this took the rest of my lifetime in the natural – the download of joy and promise was immediate. He had shown me both what my fallen man looks like, and what my new man looks like. He was the surf board – I stood on His word – and the Holy Spirit wind embraced me and guided me across the lake. I think it was just sparkling water by the end – leading to the yellow beaches of paradise.

The Race
Tim Cook

I was talking with a friend who felt that we (the church) were headed for some pretty difficult times up ahead. I said that maybe we needed God to warn us in advance what was coming so that we could be prepared. Then the Lord gave me this vision;

The Race
I saw the true church as a racing car zooming along a racetrack - it was already going pretty fast - and had quite a powerful engine. There were thorn bushes, pits, barricades and oil slicks on the road - but I knew that we had to ignore these and drive straight through. There were rules, or signposts;

1. NO SWERVING - STAY ON TRACK
2. KEEP INSIDE THE VEHICLE
3. NO PIT STOPS
4. ACCELERATE ONLY - NO BRAKING
5. AIM FOR THE UP RAMP

1. The car was almost on rails - and I could not steer it -because the Holy Spirit was - and He was not going to deviate from the true course for any reason - so it up to us to run and rest and ride with Him - to jump on board and trust Him. The car was running on God's Word - so it was on firm ground - the traps of the enemy were totally beneath us - and we drove though them as if they weren't there - we almost phased into another realm - because we were focused totally on the Lord. Joel 2:7,8 "They all march in line, not swerving from their course ... they plunge through defences without breaking ranks." Proverbs 4:25-27 "Let your eyes look straight ahead ... make level paths for your feet ... do not swerve ..." This way the enemy was crushed beneath our feet. When we focus too much on the problems and the activities of the enemy, we can lose sight of what the King is up to, and crash.

2. We must remain in Christ totally - and for me I have found that this can be a daily battle - to keep in step with Him - sometimes He needs me to catch up - other times to slow down and rest. No distractions by the side of the road - we tell our children not to reach their hands out of the car - it's dangerous - we don't want to be snatched away by the roaring lion. Stay in the Vine and networked with the Body - so we can receive up to date nourishment and the divine strategies.

3. Jesus had nowhere on earth to lay His head - He rested (or had His home) in another heavenly Kingdom - so must we. We can no longer find comfort or support from the world, we cannot go down to Egypt, for this world is passing away - we seek a heavenly inheritance. The car was being constantly refueled and upgraded in transit - without stopping - as a military fighter plane can be re-fuelled in the air by the mother ship without landing. So it was unstoppable - and was not tempted by what the tempter was advertising by the side of the track. Like a weaned child is my soul within me (Psalms) and we rest satisfied on our Father's lap.

4. Do not try to slow down or stop the movement of the Holy Spirit in these days! He knows what He's doing and all we can do is enroll in the Army, and jump on board and say "use me Lord!". With regard to what God is doing today I keep seeing galloping horses - they know what they're doing - and we just have to saddle up and co-operate. When a horse is going to jump a hurdle - it bunches up it's muscles and speeds up. A car must accelerate towards a ramp-jump, not slow down! Amen. The righteous will get more righteous, and the evil more evil - but we shall leap over all the obstacles.

5. We are headed towards the time when we rise up to meet the Lord in the air - this is the up ramp at the end. The car does a victory leap into the air at the end because of it's speed and energy! Praise God. The closer we walk with Jesus - like Enoch - the more we shall exist on a higher plane and this world will be insignificant to us.

After the vision - I saw another picture. A young golden girl was playing hopscotch across holy and unholy stones - and she knew exactly what to do to win the game! A little child shall lead them - and the most innocent and child-like amongst us can sometimes see the way forward better than the rest.

Amen, Be Blessed
Tim Cook

My Brother
Tim Cook

I hesitated back in the war room. I watched the tall black-haired man, and the young blond boy. But he looked up and smiled again – so I went over – and became the boy.

“Jesus …? Yes – where have you been – I’ve been waiting for you!

Sorry Lord – you just don’t look like Jesus somehow. I’ve appeared here as your elder brother … why? … Because you need an elder brother – and I want to relate to you sometimes as co-warriors for the Kingdom. I will appear to my children as mother, father, brother and sister as they have need. Brothers have a special bond – they support and protect each other – and can be quite playful.” He winked.

“Wow - that’s wonderful! Also – I’m ashamed to say that the enemy was telling me all sorts of lies about this vision – sorry. I understand. Remember – you will know Me when you stand with Me and rest under My voice – and the deeper the vision the greater the spiritual resistance on you.

Amen! And what did your heart tell you? That this is the end-time war room.” He nodded, “Close enough”. We were silent for a while. “Lord – it will be so great when you have come to Earth and begin to heal and restore it – and to re-design all of the kingdoms of this world – presumably from your HQ in Jerusalem.” He smiled and nodded. “I know you have questions about that…” We shared some more thoughts.

“Sometimes you blow my mind Lord! …” I looked down and sighed my pain … He ruffled my hair affectionately … “I know, Tim …” Then he placed His hand on my chest. He leaned down, looked into my eyes and whispered so tenderly, “Do not fear the Tribulation my love”. This totally dissolved me – tears leaped to my eyes. He knew I had been in agonies over Revelation again. “I want to hug you. We just did – you can’t see it – but that’s why you’re crying”

I wept as I looked at Him again. “You are the most beautiful person I’ve ever seen. I’m letting you see true nobility – Tim – true courage requires …? Real danger and real pain and real battles – I understand. Lord – the devil …” I glanced to a corner … “I know – he spews contradictions and blasphemies into your mind during every vision. Why do I allow him to be present …? Because he still has some strongholds in you, and as – er - ‘prince of this world’ - he is allowed to witness certain things.” He glanced upwards in mock exasperation – and His use of heavily sarcastic speech marks had me in stitches.

“Laughter, joy, Tim – you need it. It’s your strength. Why are many of my soldiers losing the fight and the will to fight? Loss of joy and love – Jezebel is too strong for us!”, I blurted. “Her traps … yes, they are strong and numerous – so you need the joy*! You need to know the* reasons to be pure – what’s the reward, the inheritance, yes?” He took out a small silver flask – and anointed my head. “Give My joy to my people, Tim … tell them about My mansions, share what I show you. Show then their destiny! Then they can fight the good fight with true zeal.” Only Jesus could make me laugh and cry at the same time! “How I love your oil of joy Lord! Oh Jesus … if only people could see you like this they would come to you in droves …!” He smiled and nodded – this had been on His heart also.

He looked up to the top of the dome – and seemed to gaze wistfully at the stars – and sighed. “Oh Tim, there’s so much I want to show you …” He seemed frustrated. “I know Jesus, I’m sorry I’m not ready – please make me ready.”

He closed His eyes and breathed deeply … “Why is Creation groaning and travailing? For the sons of God to come into their own!” For some reason I stamped my foot and slammed my fist on the table with a passion, “Oh Jesus – make it here, make it now! Please - I beg!” And I collapsed and groaned, and sobbed there’s far too much pain in this world – and my heart was just breaking yet again.

And He lifted back His head and shouted to the Heavens at the top of His voice. We groaned and roared “Aaaaaaargh!”

In another realm a hundred thousand warriors thumped their spears on the ground and yelled in perfect unison.

In another realm a pregnant woman in labour screamed piercingly loud.

In another realm a warrior princess in dazzling armour screamed a triumphant ululation.

In another realm the Lion roared.

The whole Universe shouted a resounding YES and trembled.

And a new baby was born – bloody and crying. Silence … we all panted and shook.

“Jesus. You know what I think …? I think that Your Kingdom has come – and is here and now. Shhh … don’t tell anyone. I looked to check that He was joking. “Behold I come as a thief.” He grew sober …. “Oh God – please we need time to wear our clean clothes – but more than time we need Your help to make us do it.” He nodded seriously.

A familiar poison rose in my throat - “Oh please – not again – no more pain please. Sorry Tim – I must deal in realities – Jezebel has some hooks in you, but I will set you free.” There was yet more deliverance as He illuminated the demonic chains and hooks and washed me in His blood as I repented – it had seemed so unending. Then we looked at the last manacle on my left ankle. Again – I was trembling with fear.

He chuckled – “Tim – what is the last enemy to be conquered …?” And the light began to dawn as I grinned … “It’s death! And the truth shall set you free – Lord I thought I was damned to hell or something with this manacle on me! Bless you. Everyone has to die since the Fall.” But I’m sure there was a glint in His eye – a John 8:51 kind of glint.

We pulled ourselves together and He took me back to the causeway and helped me back onto my horse. He began fussing with the harness and my armour and tutting to Himself. “Look soldier, you need to spruce up your armour, and look after this horse – she’s very nervous and battle-muddied. Sorry Jesus – please help me … who or what is the horse Lord? You don’t need to know – just trust her and care for her – she knows what to do and will work with you in the visions. The horses know their destinies and can fly.”

We began to think about the road ahead. I began to feel depressed and battered.

“Talk to Me, Tim. Oh Lord – I so easily lose the joy of Your presence. I feel that every vision is preceded by intense spiritual attack and then I fall all the way into hell afterwards and am torn apart by God Himself. I feel nothing but poison in my head and stomach and hell fire all over my body. I don’t know how I will survive. I can’t do this. Sorry about being petulant.” He sighed gently - tenderly. “I have torn that I may heal – you must allow the pain to identify the strongholds so I can heal you. You’ve begged me to make you pure and I’m afraid there’s no painless cure – you know this but have bravely submitted everything to the scalpel anyway. The pain of healing is better than the pain of sin – because one is temporary and to deliver – and the other is permanent and destructive. But you have almost seen enough of hell…. Trust Me for the Joy – it will leap out at you at unexpected times – from a sunset, a cloudscape, a starscape, a worship song, even a line that God has planted in a film or TV show specifically for you, or in a sudden Holy Spirit wisecrack inside, or I’ll drag you back to one of your favourite encounters with Me. You know these things, but let’s verbalise them. “

He was brushing the horses coat steadily, head down …. “Talk to Me Tim – you don’t know how to pray, but ….?”

“Yes! The Holy Spirit in me does and the Father knows we are weak and delights to give good gifts and the desires of their hearts … Jesus please give me a constant flow of the spirit of wisdom and revelation (Ephesians 1:17). Agreed …. Why? Because without a vision the people perish. Yes, and? So that we may know the Father better. Good, and? Because You want your people to see and possess their inheritance. Yes. And the true Spirit of Jesus is the Spirit of Prophecy!” He smiled.

He nodded and began stroking and whispering to the horses face… Why do the people perish without vision? Because we were made for – and have lost Paradise. Yes, and? Because we need fresh bread daily on top of the Scriptures so that we have nourishment and divine strategies for our lives. Good – and? Because the enemy has prepared false christs with false visions for those spiritually lost and confused. Correct – and? We will be led astray by the false if we don't understand the true. He nodded – and moved round to brush the right side of the horse. Toddlers need colour and variety to grow and flourish. Well said … what did I give you yesterday. Oh yes! A handful of small diamonds in a pouch. Will you look after and care for those? Yes Lord, help me."

"Can I have the Spirit of Counsel? At times, yes. And the Spirit of might? Oh and especially discernment! …? Because I have some big dragons ahead – and the angels of light are arrayed against me like a legion of … OK don't panic! He smiled again – I'm sure I was amusing Him. "Angels will guard and protect you, go ahead and lift you up. And discernment comes with practice – and for that you need to be confronted with both the true and false spirits." Peace was coming. "Hey – why …? … do I not usually let you see angels even though you've asked to see and other people do … there are reasons and you suspect some of them – but for now I need you to trust Me on that issue. Also – your own visions will protect you because they are My words to you and in you, and they carry with them the atmosphere of Heaven. I will inhabit your visions and where I AM …? There can dwell no unclean thing! Thank you Lord."

"Why the Spirit of Counsel specifically? Well Lord, and forgive me if I'm wrong, but I think the key is found in John 15. Also I learned a valuable principle from Graeme Cooke's "Crafted Prayer". Get close to the Father – and try to listen in on what is the conversation about oneself (and ones nation) between the Father, the Spirit and the Son – then ask for things in line with that. Because there then comes a point – if we can get close enough - where we can ask for anything of the Father in Your name and it will be done. Amen. Amen. It could almost be said … yes? … it sounds presumptuous … say it … that we temporarily become a part of the Counsel ourselves. That is reasonable and logical – and also scriptural. Phew – Thank You!"

"Can I have the mantle of humility? Done. Why? Because I'm so proud. What do you see in your heart? I see Satan enthroned in the heart of man – standing on a heap of ashes – still demanding that You worship him. Will that keep you humble? I think that it will drive me mad. Again He smiled despite Himself. If that doesn't work then … then I will be visited again by messengers from Satan to blaspheme and torment me (by the way I still want to die)." He smiled and laughed, "Oh Tim – you do make me laugh. And …? And Jezebel will display in my minds eye her lewd and perverted images with which she floods the mind of man, and smother me with acid. And demons will remind me of my worst past sins, and … OK – do you reckon that should be enough? I think that that should do the trick. Stop making me laugh! Oh please – you always make me cry too." He seemed to stumble and almost collapse momentarily. Now – do you understand why Paul boasted in his weaknesses and his sufferings? Too right. When you look back you will be amazed at what we have accomplished together and Hell will shudder when the sons of the Kingdom come. Also – haven't you forgotten something? Oh yes – In Your Name I plant the Cross of Jesus Christ inside that deepest place of the heart of man, and we bow down to Jesus – and every knee shall bow – and we confess that Jesus Christ is Lord – let Him reign in our hearts – let His forgiving blood flow and cleanse and heal – and recapture those lost and hidden places. Remove every hook, image, whisper and device of Jezebel from the mind of man, and bind and silence every demon, please. Send them all far from our shores Jesus, oh – and please keep the Antichrist away from my country. Amen."

He had been encouraging and affirming me every faltering step. "What's the difference between affirmation and flattery? Flattery inflates one's pride with a false sense of power in order to get hooks of control in you and make slaves, it's demonic because the angels of light can then dash your hopes to the ground and mock your disappointment, thereby damaging our faith in a loving God. It basically comes down to Satan offering us the kingdoms of this world in order to be king over us; and affirmation builds up ones own sense of self worth, strength and destiny and makes sons … why now, why do men need …. Because we men were not affirmed constantly by our fathers and older brothers and so have lost our self-image, and self-worth, and inner centre of strength and zeal to fight Jezebel – we're vulnerable – and we don't have a clue how to really love. Sorry if I'm generalising too much. Only You can make us warriors and sons, and brothers and fathers Jesus – thank you – please … complete the good work I have begun in you and present you perfect to the Father …? Thank you for those promises Lord!"

"Can you make me perfect in Love? Yes – because? If we don't learn to love then we have lost the whole point and are not Your disciples … and the highest form of love is …? To lay down ones life for ones friends… and … of course! Moses had to share in the sufferings of his people before you arranged the exodus … and … and the other prayers you have already prayed and they will come to you as you need them. Right" Jesus straightened up and playfully slapped the rump of the horse … "Go – fight the good fight … and don't despair – I have overcome the world! Oh – just before you go … why do I sometimes hide from you and appear to vanish or be distant – or even angry – and allow the wolves to close in? Oh Lord … I'm too tired and that's such a big question … but I know there are good reasons and I have to trust You even when I'm angry at You and feel betrayed by You. Yes – go and sleep – but think about it – and believe that it will be worth it! There's a Cosmic Dance – it would be good to learn the steps so we can dance with You – and walk with You again in the cool of the evening – as we did in the Garden."

Start With The Babies

David Walters

How do we make our children mighty for God?

We must start ministering the presence of God while they are still in the womb. Remember John the Baptist responded when Mary greeted her cousin Elizabeth. "For indeed, as soon as the voice of your greeting sounded in my ears, the babe leaped in my womb for joy" (Lk.1:44). Also John the Baptist was filled with the Spirit from his mother's womb. (See Lk.1:15.) We cannot preach salvation messages to infants and expect them to repent and respond to an altar call, but we can minister to their spirits. Their minds may not understand, but because they are spiritual beings they will respond to the presence of God.

That is why it is necessary to have anointed people working in the nursery. They are not there just to change diapers and feeding bottles, but they are called to be custodians of destiny.

"Before I formed you in the womb I knew you, and before you were born I sanctified you; I ordained you a prophet to the nations" (Jer.1:5). We have seen nursery's turned around from disaster area's to anointed school's of the spirit. No unsaved people should work in a church nursery. No teenage girls, if they are only doing it to escape the service. No negative people, who complain and talk about all the problems of the church. Use the anointed people with a real call to the infants upon their lives. Create a wholesome spiritual atmosphere, where the presence of God is evident. Read the word of God over the infants, pray over them, sing the songs of Zion over them; that way you will minister to their spirits.

Many children's pastors have become frustrated because they are never allowed to occupy the adult pulpit, even though a number of them have an awesome anointing and are very capable preachers. Although the Lord doesn't see it this way, they feel that they have been relegated solely to the "little league," so they are barred from entering the major league. It would also be very uncommon to bring the children into the main sanctuary to testify or minister. Usually the senior pastor's policy is, "out of sight, out of mind." As long as there are no serious problems, leave well alone. So we have two separate entities in the same church, and never the twain shall meet. Serious investment in our children's spiritual development has not been popular, "after all they don't tithe, they can't do anything important." But the Lord doesn't think about them that way. Jesus said in John 21 "Feed my lambs," [first] before He said "feed my sheep." Traditionally, we have done the opposite, we have fed the sheep and thrown crumbs to the lambs.

There is no male or female, black or white, or age, in the spirit. God is eternal, therefore He dwells in eternity, not time. Time is a man-made concept. The spirit realm is eternal. Our names were written in the book of life, before the foundation of the world.

Children and youth are not given a baby or a junior Holy Spirit when they become Christians. The great Methodist preacher, John Wesley wrote in his journals that "children spoke with the wisdom of the aged." I tell little children that they can have children right now and old people can still have kids. The reproductive organ in the Spirit is the mouth. When Jesus told the parable of the sower, He said the seed was the word of God. If little ones can speak under the anointing and tell their friends about Jesus the seed comes out of their mouths and goes into the ears of their friends. If it drops into their friend's heart then they become pregnant with the Holy Spirit or born again and the little child has born fruit or reproduced. "Be fruitful and multiply and replenish the earth was God's first command to man. Now he wants us, the children and the old folk to be fruitful and multiply and replenish the Kingdom.

A NEW BREED

I have been ministering a radical message about children and youth for the last ten years and now tremendous breakthroughs are happening in churches where the senior pastors are catching the vision. No longer are our children being locked away in a back room and baby-sat or entertained, but they are taking their place alongside the rest of the body to become mighty warriors for Christ.

Parents are now taking responsibility to train their children up in the way they should go, according to Proverbs. This is a scripture with a command and then a promise. "Train up a child in the way that he should go and when he is old [independent] he will not depart from it (Prov.22:6). What is the way he should go? Not the child's own way, or the world's way, but God's way! Some people have said, "I raised my kids the best way I could." We don't raise kids, we raise chickens; we are to train or disciple our children. For those of us who have seriously committed to train our children, we are beginning to apprehend the promise that they will not depart from it.

Serious training of children means that we do not give them choices, but we teach them to obey. I have been in churches where people have said to me, "I wish my seven year old daughter would have been here tonight. Such a wonderful anointing it was just what she needed." Why didn't she come?" I ask. "She did not want too." is the reply. "Why didn't you make her come?" I ask. "Oh if we force her, we will turn her off, so we are waiting until she is ready and wants to come" is often the reply Whether we have a twelve year old boy who doesn't want to come, because he plans to spend the night with his friend, or a reluctant teenager, who rarely wants to come even on a Sunday, that should be unacceptable.

My answer to these people is "Oh! so when it's time to go to school you give them a choice do you?" "You don't make them take a shower, brush their teeth eat their vegetables, you just let them do what they want?" Of course not. Why do we consider those things more important than spiritual things. Is the school teacher more important than God? Can children and youth run around at school during lessons, walk out to the bathroom ten times, play with toys, talk, or fall asleep like they often do in church? The first thing I do when I preach at churches is to lay down the rules. Believe me the children and youth respond. They even warn their parents to pay attention and not to wander out to the bathroom unless it's a real emergency. Praise God it works.

FAITH IN OUR CHILDREN

God has more faith in children than we do. If He can speak through the mouth of a donkey, speak out of a bush, and part the Red Sea with a stick, He can certainly use a child. Age is not the criteria, but willingness. The only limitation that children or youth have in God, is what we adults put on them.

The Bible has many accounts of children and youth involved in the Lord's business. Samuel ministered to the Lord as an infant. (1.Sam.2:11,18.)

Infants cried out praises to Jesus. (Mat.21:15-16.) Parents brought their children to Jesus that He might anoint them. (Lk.18:15-16.)

Jesus was strong in spirit and about His Father's business at the age of twelve. Lk.2:40-49.) Children attended Jesus' meetings.

The little boy with the loaves and fishes was available and so the five thousand men were fed, not including the women and children.

The following teenagers were used.

Joseph had two dreams when he was seventeen. (Gen.37:2-11.)

The young lad Samuel had a word of rebuke for Eli the high priest even though he was afraid to give it at first. (1.Sam 3:4-18.)

Young David slew Goliath even though he was told he was too young to fight. (1.Sam.17:33.) Sounds like our modern churches.

The Lord rebuked Jeremiah when he tried to use his age as an excuse for not serving God. (Jer.1:6-8.)

God chose a little teenage peasant girl called Mary to be the most honored woman in all of history (Lk.1:26-31.)

Teenage Timothy was able to fulfill his calling as a teenager under opposition, because he had a godly mother and grandmother who were able to instill in him a genuine faith. (1.Tim.1:5. 1.Tim.4.12.)

"But God has chosen the foolish things of the world to put to shame the wise and God has chosen the weak things of the world to put to shame the things which are mighty;" (1.Cor.1:27)

Standing When There Is Nothing Underneath You

Susan Cummings

We have entered a season of change that has passed the point of no return. We have crossed over into a time of absolute revolution and reformation, but also of transfiguration. All that we knew as fact, is changing, as God challenges our mindsets and ideas of what is Him and not.

Circumstances around us will change but also increase in intensity as we walk out these days before us. There is nothing that we can place our hope or faith in but Christ, that will be solid from here on out. Either we absolutely let go of our ways of thinking and absolutely trust in Him, or we will stumble, fall, and deny Him in the end. Self preservation is strong in our humanity, and we must die to our resources and abilities and lay them at His feet.

We have undergone extreme pressures as a family lately, with no light at all around us at times, and no way out of our struggles. The Lord has a reason for everything that comes to us, so we had to find Him in it, and embrace Him in it. When I saw that it did not matter if we understood the circumstance, and it did not matter if we had an answer to it, all that mattered was that we were totally given to Him in it, and left the outcome to Him.

When we came to that point, then the breaking began, and a release began to come, and answers began to be understood. God is after the hearts of His People. He will not be second place in our lives, nor at the beck and call of our little bells that we ring when we want something our way. It is time to grow up. If we can’t take the heat now, what will we do later? We will run.

It is time to stand. The Lord told me that it is time to stand. Even if we are surrounded by a thousand legions of demons, total darkness, and no hope. We are to stand. For our Hope and Life comes from Him and it is within us. We must begin to draw from Him within us, and not run to every fix it solution out in the world. If we do not draw from our relationship with Him, then we are truly devoid of hope and are lost. For He is our Life. We say that easily, but to really mean it, means it is put to the test. Is He really our life? He will test that. So will the enemy.

Radical living will be the norm from here on out. Either we fully trust Him, no matter what, or we don’t. Our faith is determined by our words and our actions. What are we saying and doing? Our words will match our walk. There is no lip service anymore. We will live by our words. Life or death is in the power of the tongue. We can no longer afford to bless and curse. It is only Holiness that will come forth out of us, and be seen.

This is fashioned in us through the fiery trials. Jesus learned obedience through suffering and so do we. But we also learn and get smart, and yield and surrender. We must move on, past the elementary teachings, and begin to walk out the meat of the Word, in the Church. That is where we are coming to now.

The walking out of our faith with fear and trembling. The fear of the Lord has returned, and either we reverence Him or He will judge those who do not, amongst His Own. We must change. We must be vessels that are prepared and that await His Summons. He is breaking all things open, and we will be poured out.

But what is poured out of us, is up to us individually. We determine what is seen. We determine what is counted as an offering of righteousness to Him.

No longer can we go our ways, throughout our days, without His direct influence in all things. Either He is God throughout our day and in every decision, or He is not. That is hard for the worldly church, for we like our comforts and independence. That day is over.

As our family has walked out these trials, we have come to see our utter dependence upon the Lord and upon each other. No one can out pull the other, but we must carry the duties and weight together as Christ leads us. This leads to honesty, and humility. This leads to bearing each others burdens.

Are we really honest when we say, that we will lay our lives down for our brothers? God will test those words as well. So will the enemy. We will know what it means to care for each other. For we are the Body of Christ that is sown into the earth, and for a witness. Great changes will bring radical living that will bring great transfiguration and freedom to Gods People.

The tests only break open the vessel so His Glory can be poured out. We just have to be willing to be broken, so that He can be seen. The breaking forth has only begun, and we must embrace Him in it, and allow it's work to be accomplished. It's not about us, it's all about the Father, and what he is wanting to accomplish in and through us. So we surrender.

At the same time, there is a tremendous release and empowerment happening concurrently to the breaking. The Father is pouring Hid Fire and Glory into those who are willing to be broken. He is totally inhabiting and filling up those who have been purged, refined, and broken. He is healing, delivering, and setting those free who have cried out for change. Radical lives given for the radical witness of God.

The pouring in of His Love, His Holiness, and His Truth has been bringing forth a surge of revelation and understanding. Great clarity is beginning to be formed as we sit at His feet and heed His Voice. Change brings revolution to our thinking and mindsets. The Remnant is rising up changed, and full of the Holy Spirit and Fire. They are coming forth full of His Grace and Wisdom, as they know where they have come from, and who saved them. They are nothing without their Lord.

The outpouring of Love amongst His Own is also coming forth, as we perceive the Grace of God within each other. We begin to minister to the person of Christ within each one, and to the Body of Christ. We esteem each other as our own self and help them where they need it, as we walk this hour out. Change brings the Body together, and we have awaited this day.

Our family has begun to experience this change, as the outpouring of love and help was given to us through many of His Body, and shown to us in this season. This has brought change to us as we saw the faithfulness of God, through the vessels He sent.

When we give, others give and when we change, others are changed. We need each other, and we won't stand without each other. We give thanks to our Lord for the family of God who are walking these days out with us. May we all obtain the high calling and reach the goal in Christ Jesus.
The greater shaking hasn't even begun yet, but we all have our feet firmly planted in Christ, and we press on knowing from whence we have been saved and called, and we look forwards to our Lord.

We have a great calling and destiny to fulfill, and we have only birthed forth, and have not yet fully entered into that, but we are walking it out, day by day, together. Let us do so with fear and trembling, knowing our days are numbered, but also with Joy, knowing our Lord has empowered us for this day and is with us.

Our God is Holy and He is a Consuming Fire.

His Vessels are Holy and are filled with His Holy Fire.

He is pouring out both.

We will stand when there seems to be nothing underneath us, because our foundation is our Lord and He holds us all in His hands, and we are being lifted up to rule and reign with Christ, seated with Him in the heavenly places. We are no longer limited by time and space, but can do all things because of His grace!

Our thanks is given to God foremost for His Mercy and His Foreknowledge of all things, and what we need. Then we turn and become that answer for someone else, as the Lord brings them by our sides.

May the Grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with and in you all.

The Great Breaking Experience
Susan Cummings

I have just awakened from a late afternoon nap. Just before fully awakening, I began to feel like I was being lifted up in the spirit. I began to see great cracks appear in the earth all over. From my vantage place, I saw great deep cracks in the road systems and in areas of the US appear. Some areas were undriveable and impassable as the roads were now broken open.

I also saw fire shoot up from some cracks as the pressure was released through some of them. Not from all. It seemed to be specific in it's areas, depending upon where the pressure was the greatest. But it rose up high in some places. There was a roar as the fire rose up from them.

I saw some people who had to place a long ladder across the cracks to get to the other side.

I also saw that it was not earthquake specific, meaning, that I did not see one that caused this. It seemed to be caused by the great pressures already built up in the earth that was bringing the land to the cracking stage, and not from one specific thing, as this seemed to be happening.

Note: Although, from my experience I don't know if there was an earthquake that brought on this final breaking, I just did not see one in this experience, nor was I told of one by the Lord specifically. I am only relating what I saw and heard from the Lord…..

The Lord also began to show me a spiritual aspect to this scene also before I awoke.

He said to me that the great pressures that He has been applying to His Own, was at the point of birthing now. It would break forth and great areas would burst forth with a tremendous release of His Spirit and of Fire. Some areas would experience more breaking than others, but all would be affected by the event.

The fires would erupt forth from seemingly little known people as He has kept them hidden till now, but the breaking forth, would see them emerge, no longer hidden. What the Lord did under the season of pressure, would now be released through His People as His great Power.

Nothing can stop the natural or the spiritual breaking or the releases. It is set and will burst forth.

I awoke and thought of this vision and the clock said 6:43 pm.

The Lord then reminded me of the Vision of the Great Hall Part 2:

Vision Of The Great Hall- Part 2

I see myself standing before the desert. I am back at the place of my birth. I look at the vast expanse before me, and try to decide what to do next. I look back behind me, and the Great Hall is still there. It is a strange comfort to me now. I feel pulled to the Door, yet, I know that I must go back into the desert.

So, I turn and begin my journey back into the rolling sands of the desert. It doesn't feel like a desert to me though. I am puzzled. It is the same desert that I just came out of, yet, it is not the same anymore. I have changed. The desert is not one with me anymore. I feel a range of emotions well up from within me, and yet I feel comforted at the same time. I was thinking about these things while I was walking along.

I began to hear a faint whirring noise coming from the East. I don't know how I knew it was East, because in the natural, I don't know directions, but here, I just knew it. The sound puzzled me at first. It began to get closer. I then realized that it was not a whirring noise after all, it was a huge sandstorm that was heading my direction. I saw it coming, and I began to look for a shelter of some sort. I looked around, and there was nothing but brush and sparse vegetation here and there. There was no where to go. I began to feel panic trying to rush through my mind, but I felt the Lord say to me to light my candle. I thought to myself, what good is a candle in a sand storm? But I did light it anyway.

The sandstorm came closer, and I lit my candle. It's little flame began to flicker in the wind. The closer the sandstorm got, the bigger my little flame got. I was surprised. The, the storm reached where I was standing, and I braced myself for the impact. But I was totally shocked that I felt nothing but a light breeze rush by me! The sand did not beat at me, but it circled around me! I was in an eye of some sorts. My flame was steady and bright. I looked around me, and the sand whirled and raced by, and it was a red sand. I did not know there was red sand in America. But this sand was red.

I stood there in the storm sheltered, and unaffected. I don't know how long it was, but I was calm and steady. When it began to subside, I began to look around, and to check out what had happened. Everything that was growing outside for vegetation was gone. It was all stripped away. The land was totally flat, and there was nothing for miles around. The sandstorm had stripped the land bare.

I stood there wondering what to do next. The Lord's voice spoke to me to release the fire from my censer upon the ground. I thought to myself, why there is nothing to burn!

But I reached out my censer that was full of fire, and took some of it and let it fall upon the ground. The fire hit the ground and it began to race upon the ground like streaks of lightning. It would flash here and there, and it would streak back and forth.

I watched it in amazement for it was running along the ground very fast. There was no wind to carry it. It burned and it flashed on it's own volition. I did notice that the path that it took was focused and direct. What I did not realize was that it was marking out the land. It was drawing patterns in the ground. Burning outlines in the ground. Then, all of a sudden, it stopped. The fire just ceased. It vanished.

I stood there wondering where it went. The ground looked like a checkerboard of sorts.

The lines were deeply etched and scorched into the ground. I walked over to a place that was marked and I began to feel the markings. They were smoldering and were very strong smelling. It reminded me of burnt flesh.

I stood up and the ground began to shake beneath my feet. I looked down, and the ground opened up, and I saw people come up out of the marked areas. There were steps leading down into the ground where they had been hidden below the ground. I was amazed! There were multitudes who were coming up out of the ground. There were men, women, and children. They were very strong and fierce looking people. They began to come up to me, and to greet me!

I began to laugh and was so overcome with Joy at seeing them, that I could not stand. So I sat before them rejoicing.

Then, I heard the Lord speak to all of us………….

What you have witnessed is the stripping away of all of the facades and the covers that have hidden the truth from my people. I have come with my fury and have blown away every opposing force that has hindered them, and that has tried to destroy them. I have also removed every high place and every manmade thing that has stood in the way of my Remnant.

Now my fury will be seen upon the rebellious and the wicked. I have brought forth the Indignation, and it will not be quenched till the cup is full of my Vindication.

My Holy Fire has wrought a Holy Work within My Own, and it has fashioned them and tempered them. They are now prepared to release My Righteous Judgments in the earth. The fire has ran it's course in the earth, seeking those who would embrace it. Those who embraced it were sheltered within it's flames. Now they are brought forth to pour it out upon the earth. For My Holiness will be seen in My People!

The land will no longer hide the sin. It will spew it forth for all to see. Everything will now be shown for what it is, and will be judged by it's fruit. Great darkness follows the Storms. The Word bears witness to the Truth. Many will not heed the Truth, nor the Storms. For none sees the handwriting on the wall.

The reason you were overcome with Joy at the sight of My servants rising up out of the ground, is because they have been hidden, and have now been brought forth. You have foretold their coming. They have entered into their season of release. Now it will spring forth! Many will recognize them, and they know you. For all are knit together in My House. My House is complete.

Take heed to My Word, and behold……….

For now, it comes to pass before your very eyes……………

Stop Wrestling With Your Weaknesses
Susan Cummings

Stop wrestling with your weaknesses and give them to Me. The more you wrestle, the more you become entangled. The more you become entangled, the more you fall into condemnation and guilt. Stop and look at the situation, and place it all in My Hands. You cannot change it. I can.

You strive and labor and push till you are wore out. This is not the place of rest that I desire for you. Stop the fleshly works and come to Me. You cannot accomplish anything for Me until you do. For you are in a place of much activity, yet little fruit. Count the times that you are frustrated and angry. Give me the anger and the frustrations. Allow Me to become your Peace.

The enemy desires to bring My People into captivity through areas that they are not settled in. If you have an area where you are striving, or working, or tempted in, then you will be sifted. He desires to defile all that are seeking Me, and to bring them back to captivity. Take no more thought for the sin, and how you can get free, but recognise the devices of the enemy, and come to Me. Only My Blood can set you free.

You are an earthen vessel, which I created. I know your weaknesses. I know your strengths. I know your thoughts. I know your every move, before you make them. So, stop striving and move forth from where you are, and come closer to me. The fears that torment you will no longer have any voice or power over you. For I AM your Peace. Place your hand in Mine, and walk with Me. I will make a way through it all, and bring forth My Light and Truth into your life.

Come and walk with Me.

A Walk In The Garden
Susan Cummings

I have had a reoccurring flash vision over the past few days. I have waited till I got the full understanding about what I was seeing and what the Lord was trying to communicate to them through it. The following encounter will hopefully be clear and understandable.

I am walking down a path, which seems to be at the edge of an area of woodland or at the juncture of the woods and a prairie area. I do not know which. But it is at the point of a change of landscape.

This path is well worn and has the feel of familiarity even though I haven’t been on it before, to my knowledge. I feel such peace here, as I have always loved the woods and the country. I feel at home and secure as I walk alone along the path.

The path turns and curves along the edge of the woods and begins to wind around into an area of tangled bushes and brambles. I can still see the path ahead of me and it goes right through the bushes, as the way has been made before, and the bushes don’t seem to grow over the path, but come up alongside of it as if it were sheltering the path instead.

I continue to walk, and just as I pass the entrance of the bushes, I stop in amazement. Behind the entrance of the bushes, there is a vast garden spread out before me. The bushes made a covering and a wall of protection for the garden, it seems. What a wonderful place.

It was a garden of exceptional beauty and design. The colors were so vivid and seemed to be illuminated somehow. The trees and plants all stood out, as if each were the focus. Everything had a distinct individuality, but each was seen and formed the whole of the garden. It was like they all had an identity and were alive and a part of the Body somehow. Like people were. I could feel the life from within all of the creation in this garden. I felt strong and alive in here. There was a source of strength from within them that helped me to also be complete.

“Yes”, said the Lord, “My life is in all things I created and all things are a part of Me, so all things are in harmony.”

I turned and the Lord was sitting on the ground near me, and had been watching me as I had entered the garden and was examining things. I went over to Him and sat by Him.

I said, “Lord, this garden was hidden by the bushes and brambles in the area, near the woods. Yet this garden seems to be not of this world.” The Lord nodded and said, “It isn’t.”

“I told you that the Kingdom of God is within you. This is the outer edge of My Kingdom. It is the place of My Rest. In Hebrews I tell you of the entrance into My Rest, but few believe, and enter in. My Word is a Living Word that lives within each of My People. But only those who truly believe that Word and act on it, will enter in. You have chosen to follow Me and to believe in Me. That is why you can enter in and be refreshed.”

“In the Song of Solomon, I called to My People to enter in and become one with Me, but few do. I have a place of Intimacy and Union for all who are Mine, to know Me and to walk with Me in, and to draw from Me those things that they need. But so many are more concerned with their lives and plans and paths, that they have lost their vision and love for Me.”

“The bushes and brambles that were around this garden is the flesh that covers your heart and life. As I told you in the last experience, that only those who entered through surrender, could follow Me And walk further into their destinies. When I am allowed to burn up the brambles and things in your life that hinder you and block your heart from Me, then you can walk fully in Me.”

“The path was not totally covered by the brambles, because you have opened your heart fully to Me. You have made a way for Me, and a place for Me to abide with you. So, you can freely come in and go out now. The way has been laid and now you can walk upon it, and partake and sup with Me. But you must continue to come and more than ever. You must come daily, and sup with Me. You must fully abide with Me, and learn of Me. You must clear all of the things from the borders of the garden of your mind and heart.”

“The woods and trees are the religious teachings and trainings of men that you have had to navigate to find Me in the midst. I AM always in your midst, but much of the world has blocked My People from fully abiding in Me. There is so much distractions that still draw you away from Me. But you are coming more and that pleases Me. You must cut off all distractions and walk with more focus and vision.”

“The more you cut off the distractions and ways of men, the clearer your vision will become. There is so much built in the world that is not Mine, but has My Name upon it. What is not truly built by Me is a distraction and a hindrance to My People. I am cutting off all that hinders Mine, and bringing My People into a sharp focus and clarity. Those who truly love Me will come to Me, and inquire, and I will give them wisdom.”

“The Life that flows through all of My Garden is within you. I told you that My Kingdom is within you. All that I AM is within you. All that I have is going to come out of you, and bring change, as you embrace Me, and allow Me to work. I have a rest and a refreshing from within, if My People would just look within and see Me at work. So much from without allures, entices, and diverts My People. They constantly run to And fro looking from without for Me. But if I abide in you And you abide in Me, then start where I am found.”

“As I transform you from within, then I begin to work outwards. I begin to be seen in demonstration as My Life from within you works outwardly. It is the union with Me that comes forth. I AM the Resurrection and the Life. What I AM, will come forth, as you walk further on with Me, and yield fully to Me.”

‘The illumination of the plants and creation is My Spirit that is breathed into all things. All things came forth from Me and were created by Me. My Life and Breath are in all things. Everything that is made did come from Me, and was birthed forth from My Love. The individuality of each plant and created thing is the mystery. I make all things according to My Image, and all things reflect Me and give a knowledge of a portion of Me. When I created, all things came forth from Me, so they all reflect who I AM and give forth My Life. That is why you could see them each as individual and as a whole. For I am the whole, I AM in all things.”

“This is also a reflection of My Purposes that I am working out within you and within all of My People. I am fashioning each into their parts and also into the whole. Each part reflects Me and an aspect of Me through their life that others need to see. But each points to Me and teaches about Me through their lives. My Body is a Living Body. I am the Life of My Body.”

“As you learn to abide in Me, you become fully illuminated by Me, by My Word that works within you, and by the amount of surrender that you have given to Me. The more you give over to Me, to My complete Lordship and direction, the more you reflect My Life and Light. Then others also begin to walk with Me, and enter in as they see you do so. This brings a working out of the Body into complete harmony as you see here in the garden.”

“There is no struggle here in the garden. There is no competition, no jealousy, no disregard, or hatred, or striving. Each plant here, is a part of Me, and each rejoices in their place and sharing of My Heart. Each protects the other and sustains the other, for the life they have is tied into the next, as they all share My Life. That unity is what you will walk in, child, as you further walk with Me.”

“As you learn to abide more in Me, and the others that walk with you learn to abide in Me, then you can walk in harmony with Me. Then you will walk with others, who will walk with others, who will walk with others, all yoked with Me. I am making up My Body, one member at a time. Each of you will be dependent upon another, and cannot be separated. For you all hold a part of Me, and that part must be reflected as a whole, for the world to clearly see Me. That is why the battle is begun.”

While He was taking, I could feel the Life flowing from Him to me, and from the garden to Me. It was like a soft wind flowing into Me. A breath of Life. The sound of His Words even strengthened Me as I listened. More and more, as I sat there, I could sense the gaining clarity and focus. The longer I sat there, the clearer I became. I was so free that I wanted never to leave.

The Lord smiled. He nodded, and said, “You do not leave. You are a part of Me. I am a part of you. It is our intimacy that feeds you and sustains you. This you must cultivate even more. The Kingdom of God is within you. Draw from Me, for all that you need. Listen for My still small voice from within you. Drink deeply of the reservoir of Life that flows from within. Let what I have placed within you begin to come forth out of you. Stir up those things that I AM from within, and release Me to work even more in your life.”

“The dimensions of My Spirit are in the heavenly realms and are also within you. For I AM in all things. All things were created by Me and exist with Me. So, learn to move and abide in Me in all things. My Word is not limited by time, gravity, and space. Those are all creations of Mine. But allow Me to walk with you in all things and dimensions. There are places, such as this garden, with you that you have not yet explored with Me. I want to take you on a journey of discovery. There is much for you to learn and even in your own heart. Men do not know their hearts and what’s within, but I do. I want Mine to know Me and to know the workings that I do within them, in their hearts and lives, so they can know that I am indeed their Lord and God.”

“The higher you go in knowledge of Me is also the deeper you go in knowledge of Me, for I know the heights and the depths and the width and the breadth of all things. Can you know Me in this way? The door is open, as is this garden. All who desire Me will seek Me and walk with Me. All who hunger and thirst, look for Me and find Me. What you see here is the Truth, and is Me. Learn to abide even more in Me.”

The Lord then stood up and looked at me. He reached out and I took His hand and stood next to Him. He looked at me and said, “You must come to Me daily. You must abide with Me and learn more, for the days ahead are dire. The storm comes and is making its way across the earth, it will soon fully engulf all the lands. Then no man will work.”

“But for now you must feed of Me and make more room for Me within, so that I can come forth more out of you. The measure that you let Me in, is the measure that I will be able to be expressed out of you. My Word is in you and must come forth fully. I have made My People ready, but the applications must now be worked forth, so what was planted within can break forth fully. There is no time to be distracted, but you must be fierce in your faith and not waver, but stand and give forth what I give to you for the people.”

“I have stationed My People in their places, and they are all making this journey with you, for Mine need healing, refreshing and strength for the next battle. The days a re few before the dark binds the lands. You each have a portion to give forth, and that is now what you must begin to do. Stand by Me here, and learn, and then go and do, while the Father has given this hour to you. When this hour is complete, then the full fury will be released.”

As I was looking into His eyes, while He spoke to Me, I felt like I was loved yet rebuked. I had not done all that I could be doing in coming to Him. I had not given more time to Him. I have been caught up in life and its distractions. I must turn fully into His Presence again, and be more diligent to pursue Him. As I was thinking these thoughts, I felt peace, and healing, and forgiveness coming from Him, even while He was speaking. I also felt new faith rising up within me. I felt complete.

As I was thinking these things, I saw that I was now standing alone. Jesus had gone and I was now at the edge of the garden. I had to go. I did not want to go. But it was time to walk forth again. I stepped out of the garden and stopped. Before me was nothing. It was barren and devoid of life or creation. It was a wasteland. I did not know what to do.

I heard Jesus say, “Men think that “I AM” is a metaphor. That My Garden is not real or even applicable to their lives. That there is no place of Life or real change. Apart from Me, there is nothing.”

Then the vision ended.

Sydney: Some prophetic thoughts

Dear List,

I wish to release (or re-release) these prophetic words for the city of Sydney. Two of them I received last month and have sought the Lord about them. I would welcome feedback, insight and discussion on this matter. I do not believe that these words are a fateful declaration, but through prayer and repentance we can see them mitigated.

My prayer and thoughts toward Sydney began when I moved there in 1993 after being married. We lived in Bellevue Hill, Chatswood and West Ryde. I worked in North Sydney, Mascot, Manly, Sydney city, Kings Cross and North Ryde. I was distressed greatly by what I saw and experienced in the city, the billboard advertising, the lewdness, the abortion clinics, the young male prostitutes in the Cross, and the drug dealers horrified me.

The first word I got for the city was in Dec. 1993. The Lord whispered, "Fire". You'll recall in Jan. 1994 the city was encircled with fire. I got the feeling God was about to start judging the city for her sins.

Dec 1995

In Lane Cove National Park Dec. 31, 1995. The Lord came to me and said: "The city of Sydney was set on fire, circled about, and burned throughout by evil pyromaniacs. These things were a sign. I will again set this city on fire! But not with evil, but for good, not by fire bugs, but by my Holy Ghost Fire Starters. There are holy men of God, who will spark the fires that touch the lives of every person in my kingdom one way or another!"

June 2004

Driving through the Sydney Harbour Tunnel in June 2004, I heard a terrible noise, like an explosion, a shockwave, grinding metal and smoke. As we came out of the tunnel I prayed, feeling like there would be an act of terrorism in the tunnel. This experience repeated itself in Feb 2005.

Nov 4th 2005

I received this word on Nov 4th, 2005. On the front page of the news today was a fantastic visual image that grabbed me. The Lane Cove tunnel fell in today, and undermined the foundation of a building. The Lord specifically said to me, "Here it is, laid out before the city, the foundations of their property boom are being undermined" - that is the fundamentals undergirding the boom are being undermined.

Nov 8th 2005

On the flight home between Perth and Sydney we were flying over Goulburn. Far out on the horizon I could see (with my natural eyes) the glow of Sydney. Then I saw a massive angel over Sydney. He was taller than the center point tower. Then I realised this was a kind of projection, to get my attention.

I could suddenly see in the "spiritual" instead of natural. Everything was gold, silver, platinum, lead and black hues. I could see angels and demons rendered against this background.

I saw skirmishes, there was one in Wetherill Park, one at Rookwood Cemetary, on under the water in Bayview, one down by Sydney Airport, one in Campbelltown, one over by the Manly dam.

I saw decay, streets falling into sewers below; steam outlets failing; underground railway tunnels and conduits full of rats and hidden chambers; an underground city of sorts.

Then several suburb names came before me, ones which I am not familiar with: Kempton Park, Dundas, Woolstonecraft, Battery Park, Fern Hill and so on.

Then I became aware of an angel sitting in a vacant seat behind me, and my eyesight became normal again. It was the same one who was with me during counseling sessions in Jo'berg, Africa. "You have done well resisting temptation today" he said. "Fear nothing, for I am with you, and the Lord is with you".

Then, as I gazed out the window again, I saw terrorist cells preparing in Sydney. "They have not found them all, there are several teams" said the angel. I could see two bombing teams: train and bus; a truck and tunnel team; and a water poisoning team.

Request

I have given the word about property boom to several key investors, development managers and real estate planners to see and guage what their responses might be. Furthermore I think we are in a position to actually do something about these words (practically speaking). The last word seems to offer us a chance to pray that the terror cells would be uncovered and captured. God bless us all

Mildura
Robert Holmes

(Mildura is a city of 40,000 people, situated on the border of Victoria and New South Wales States in Australia.)
November 29th, 2005

Mildura is something of a marvel. Situated in the remote west of Victoria, it is in the "outback" arid zone of Australia, right near the desert. As a result of irrigation techniques, they have been able to build "Sunraysia", a lush oasis of fertile agriculture. However, as a result of the drought, and use of water as far north as Queensland, the water levels are dangerously low. During a ministry time in the region I received this word:

1. A flood on dry ground

"As unlikely as it seems, there is going to be a flood. This city stands at the confluence of two rivers (the Murray and the Darling), and there will be a flood. Right up to the levy banks, to cleanse and wash the river, to bring her life. Prepare, prepare now!"

2. A plague caused by mosquitoes

I also saw water lying on the ground, and in the fields, and round the houses. I saw a multitude of mosquitoes, too many to number. They were on the animals: chickens, sheep, cattle. They were drawing blood, cross pollinating, hibernating sickness. The word "Plague" came very clearly to mind. I believe a plague is getting ready to break forth from the result of mosquitoes.

This reminded me of a time when Ross River fever was making it's way down from the north. At the time I lived in Sydney, and the fever had made it's way to Coffs Harbour. The Sydney Council went to great lengths to reduce the population of mosquitoes in our area, and my understanding is that this disaster was averted.

Conclusion

We still have time - to prepare for a flood. We can ensure the levy banks are in order, we can prepare the house boats for mooring or dry dock.

We still have time to pray and prepare against the plague. It can be avoided through careful prayer and also human planning, just as Egypt prepared for drought.

Be blessed
Robert

Still Your Hearts And Minds
Susan Cummings

Still your hearts and minds, my children. Be still and listen to My voice, for many are troubled and frustrated amongst you. Do not lean unto your own understanding, but fully surrender all things to Me. I am in control, and I am fully able to guide you and to provide for you. Stay in your positions before Me.

Do not allow the pressures, the cares, the needs, or the news to draw your attention away from Me. It is at this time, that you must remain at My side and hear Me. Close out those things that war for your attention, and place a guard over your hearts and minds. Be diligent to take hold of your place, and do not yield to the tactics of the flesh, the enemy, or the world. You must stand.

Come away from the busyness, and the chatter, and focus. For I am calling Mine to sit with Me, and to draw deeply at this time. You must come deeper and drink of Me. Partake of all that you need and desire, for it will be your strength in the days ahead. You are responsible for your daily portion. If you will come to Me, then I will meet with you. I will not force you to come, nor will I give to those who do not seek Me.

Take your eyes off of the external events and place them upon the eternal. See what I see, and learn what I want to show you. You have need of wisdom, but it will not come to you through others, but from My Hand. Take all that I have, for it is yours. My Word is your bread and meat, and My Holy Spirit will teach you, and bring illumination of My Word to you. It will sustain you and guide you. Stop trusting in men and methods and place them fully in Me. Either you trust Me or you don’t. Stop running and rest.

Either you find your place beside Me, and receive what I have for you, or you will fall away as the rest will that reject Me. All men have a choice, and all men will make it. Enter in, and sit with Me, and allow Me to feed you, and give you what you need, or go your way and feed from the table of the world. It’s your choice.

Spend time with Me. Enter in. Hear Me. Come to Me.

Even In The Darkness I Am Speaking
Susan Cummings

Even in the darkness I am speaking
Ever whispering to your heart
Never a day passes without My embrace
Wrapped up in the day I bring forth

Never think that you are forgotten
Or doubt My eternal love for you
Everything concerning your life
Is already set in My time for you

Each day, you must choose to believe

And each step, you must choose to receive
All that I bring to you that day
Through the manner that I choose to be seen

Many voices are crying and voicing their complaints
But few thank Me for the Grace I bring
I hold all things within My hands
And still many seek to work their own plans

Turmoils, pressures, and chaos will be the norm
Because men fail to turn to Me and trust
Light has turned to darkness in the realm of men
Given what they wanted and shown what's really within

Even in the darkness I am still speaking
My Word uttered throughout eternity
The heavens declare My coming Glory
And the earth labors to be released

Choices have been eternally made
And clear paths have turned to waste places
As the courses change with the winds
Facing the fruits of the labors that were spent

Runners running to and fro
Voices roaring, crying, and forth telling
But none bow their knee to the King
Only wanting to hear themselves sing

Another year has come and gone
Still singing the same old songs
Never seeing the stage has changed
Nor the players assembled and ready

Warnings have gone forth till the sound is no longer wanted
Men shut their ears, and turn their heads
No longer listening to the little one's tears
Fully will they be reaped, as this year fully unfolds

Hidden prayers, and remorseful tears
Long held by the Father over the years
Precious treasures held for the end
Now are poured earthward, to birth the end

Blood, Fire, and vapour of smoke
Shaking the heavens and the earthen folk
Nothing will stand that has not been tried
In the Fires of Holiness previously offered to all

Seasons change and time awaits its end
For the Father to bring forth all things
And for Creation to be free to yield its fruit
Resting from it's labors and being complete

Even in the darkness, I am ever speaking
For all things bear testimony of I AM

And all men will know that I have spoken
As I break forth and release what's hidden

Sealed and shut, awaiting it's hour
My Word will be completed as I have disclosed
All must be fulfilled as it is written
For the pouring forth has begun, and the fires will rage

The waters rise up at My Voice, as they did before
And the knowledge of My Glory will be seen
As the bells toll and the greater winds will sing
Ushering in the greatest hour

What was stolen in the beginning
Will be eternally established in the end
As My Justice breaks forth and sets free the hearts of men
Who hear My voice crying in the winds

The wise will listen and take heed to My Words
Given as a warning before the great floods
Fear not to trust, as I bring forth
Run not to the voices, but remain in My folds

Stumbling will be seen as men run to their idols
Seeking to be saved from the fires of the trials
Hasten to your knees and seek My Face
For the Hour of travail has broken forth

This Word has been heard, and the mockers are many
Where is the sign, that we may believe?
Stony hearts that they never freely gave
Will now forsake them as the heavens rage

My Word is True and will be seen
But only those shut in with Me
Will be seen firmly standing with Me
For My Blood has given them their liberty

Even in the darkness I am speaking
But soon, even as men doubt, will total silence be heard
As heaven awaits the Father's move
And the final players are removed

The wisdom of men is passing as the light fades
And the foolishness of their choices will be evident
As they stand in horror and see the end time sights
Of not listening to My Voice crying out in the night

Justice and Mercy have been released
To all who will truly bow their knees
And embrace the Words of the night watchmen
Faithfully preparing for the heavenly decrees

Quickly now, while the little light remains
Stand in your places and proclaim
The revelations given from the Father
Keys that unlock the final doors

Those with ears, hear the Father speaking
Those with eyes, see into the false darkness
Those with mouths, speak the truth in love
Stationed at their posts on the Mount of the Lord

Even in this final darkness, I am speaking
A faithful witness for those who would be seeking Return unto Me, while I am yet calling
For time itself has begun travailing

All things are given into My Hands
As the lands, the seas, and nature kneels to my commands
All cry out for deliverance and for truth
As the rising waters and fires break forth

All of the earth and the realm of men
Will know that I AM
As the convulsing now increases
In the ending stage of birth

What is given to Me, is now Mine
All else will fall, to it’s place
Great grace upon Mine, will be common place
As they run the final lap of this earthly race

Listen, and take heed
Hear, and quickly obey
Watch, and humbly bow, and pray
For the horses are fully running their race

Spread Your Wings

Bill Burns

May 30, 2005: Have you not heard the sound of heaven? Have you not heard the voice of the prophets in these days? I am doing a mighty work among My people, for I have purposed to bring forth the manifestation of My power. Gird up the loins of your faith and arise to new heights. Spread your wings even as the eagles, and I shall lift you up with the wind and breath of My Spirit, which shall carry you into a pre-appointed place in this pre-determined time. In this season, you will experience the kingdom in a new, fresh and powerful way, says the Lord.

Marsha Burns

May 30, 2005: Behold, My beloved, I am setting things in order and bringing forth a new order. And, from this foundation I will not only command a blessing, but I will prepare you for a deep, deep work of sanctification. I have already given you a foretaste of what I am about to do, for this season will yield the fruit of greater revelation and righteousness in you. No longer will your spiritual walk be superficial or shallow, but it will become intense and profound as you desire to explore they mysteries of My kingdom, says the Lord. Matthew 5:6 Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they shall be filled.

May 31, 2005: Take time for a reality check. Look back to see where you've come from and where you are now, and then project your current course to see the direction you are headed. Are you on the right path, and are you pointed towards your desired destination? Quiet your soul and be objective about your current position to determine whether or not you have deviated in any way from your ultimate goal and kingdom position. If you need to make a course correction, now is the time, says the Lord. Philippians 3:13-14 "Brethren, I do not count myself to have apprehended; but one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind and reaching forward to those things which are ahead, I press toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus."

June 1, 2005: The pressure of your circumstances will create stress and even illness unless you refuse to become overwhelmed with what lies ahead of you to do. Even when you feel burdened and unable to rise to the task, you must remember that I will enable you to accomplish all that I have set before you. Do not allow your feelings of inadequacy to keep you from moving ahead. You can be confident in that fact that My grace is sufficient, says the Lord. Philippians 4:13 "I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me."

June 2, 2005: Take care, beloved, that you do not define yourself by your needs and desires, but rather let My word frame your life and establish the details of your purpose. By the same token, refuse to be drawn in to evaluating others by your needs and expectations. And, do not allow others to establish your identity according to their requirements. I am your firm foundation, says the Lord, and the truth of My word is your plumb line. Your submission to Me will determine whether you succeed or fail, stand or fall. Your true identity will be evident as you abide in Me.

June 3, 2005: I want you to enjoy the flow of life, of moving from one challenge to another, for I will lead you from strength to strength, victory to victory, and glory to glory. Do not be impatient in trying to quickly finish up one phase so that you can move on to the next stage of growth and development. Rather, take pleasure in the process, not seeing your life in terms of starts and stops, but when you abide in Me, you are in a continual stream of mercy, favor and grace. I have begun a good work in you, and I will bring it to completion and perfection, says the Lord. Fear not!

Spread Your Wings

Brenda Dowdin

Beloved,

You have been shrouded in grave clothes, this day I have begun unfolding those clothes, unwrapping them. They have held you back and I actually allowed them for your protection and for my purposes. But, this day I say to you, spread your wings, let your wings feel the breeze. I am preparing you to take flight. Many doors are about to open. There is an enabling grace that will take you in to the new things I have for you. Things you wouldn't have thought about doing in the past will be a "breeze" for you in this new season. A confidence is coming, and enabling, things are beginning to turn and shift because I am bringing you into full alignment.

The past is gone and over. This is a new day. A new season. A season to begin reaping my righteousness. Its been stored up in heaven for you. As you trek with me you will be delighted with your new life. Even the fragrance and colors will seem more alive in your life. A greater understanding and revelation is coming to walk with me and beside me. Its a new season Beloved One... I say to you be delighted. A season of promise lies ahead.

"These next few weeks are weeks of great shifting. Change, change, change." As I heard these words, I asked the Father, "Haven't we been shifting for a season Lord?" He let me see a vision of a guitar being tuned and he said to me. "There is more than one string that needs to be tuned and aligned!" "As I bring complete alignment in all areas the new sounds and sights of heaven will be released in the earth realm. Its already being done in heaven."

>From June 3rd through June 23rd keep your heart pressed up against my breast I have many things to say and show you. Don't allow condemnation to press in to you. Let brokenness be near your heart and I will abide near you, even in you. My grace will bring you joy and delight. An undoing of heavy burdens is coming. The places the enemy has stolen from your life are being required from him in this season. When the enemy has been found out he must restore no less than 7 fold retribution!

In this new season will be more of my manifest presence and with my presence comes more light. You will enjoy basking in my light and glory, but areas in your heart where there has been darkness will be exposed. Now, I see you shrink back from me, but I say to you - we will deal with this together, and gently. I am for you and not against you! Repentance will come and I will do the work. Your job is only to surrender and ask forgiveness. I am testing the heart motives in this season. Bringing my Father heart beat to you. I want you to express my Father heart beat to the world, creation is in travail for the Father's presence. Creation longs to know me. Won't you be a carrier of my presence? There are many choices out there, but I say to you today, chose life, chose me. Chose obedience. Chose surrender. Chose brokenness of spirit and you will know me anew.

I say all these things to you Beloved because I delight in you and have my eyes fixed upon you. Walk in my ways, surly your day of breakthrough into the new is so very near!

Your loving Father...

A Prayer from your servants,

Ah Lord, let your words go forth and create all things new in our lives. Have your sovereign way in our lives. Bless your children, especially the homeless, the widows and the orphans. Let your church see with eyes of the Father in this hour. Let your love flow out of us to those who cry out daily for your help. Guide us to those who are hurting Lord. Those who are out in the highways and byways, in the alleys of life. Those who have felt they were dumped unto the trash heap of life. Show us where to go, and who you want to touch... Lord its those who others "didn't want", that "you want". Its those you have placed special treasure in. Help us to see that treasure and speak in to it. Help us to dig for buried treasure! Lord you put value in each life, let us see through your eyes to see that value and what is truly important. We can surly only take a soul with us to heaven, help us to remember this Lord... Oh Father, give me greater compassion, to not be selfish and self centered. Greater grace to understand and walk the talk, not just say words, but be them in this hour. Your words created, let our words create life.

Let us speak your heart to the hurting and lost.

Lovingly in Him, Brenda Dowdin firebrand007@hotmail.com

Memorial Day

Brenda Dowdin

Beloved~

Take time and think back at all the wonderful things I've done for you. Ah, so many! Won't you make an altar unto me this day as a "Memorial" as the children of Israel did. Talk to me about these times and seasons. (Exodus 20:22-26) Let your altar be a "thankful heart", with "gratitude", for the grace I've extended you. Yes, even appreciation for the tests I allowed for the purpose of refining you, and yes you embraced them. It has pleased my heart so. I've been preparing you for this very day. I know as you walked through the test you didn't understand, and at times you felt alone, but you chose to hold my hand and walk beside me in faith. You've learned how to let me rest in you and you in me. How I've longed for this time. I have waited long for you Beloved.

So, as you come before me with this heart of gratitude I will release you in to the new season that lies ahead. You are ready! Ah, and yes it is full of my goodness and glory. Won't you make an altar to me? I've much to say to you....much to show you!!! This is what "Memorial Day", means to me.

PS.. A note about unforgiveness....only read if you feel a nudge...

One word of caution I would extend to you. Let all unforgiveness go. You say, "But Lord, I've forgiven all who've hurt me." And yet I say to you Beloved! "Have you even let go of the "need" to have that "one" say to you, "Please forgive me." Have you felt "love" for that one who hurt you in this last season? These tests I've allowed. Ah, Beloved it was for my purpose that I allowed the tests....Let it all go! I've forgiven you, I gave my all just for YOU! Now know you must also do the same. Show my love unconditionally. I will give you the grace right now, if you will but say yes at this moment. Don't allow "unforgiveness" to hold you back from one more moment of your destiny. I am giving you all the keys you need to unlock all entanglements and bring a fresh release for you. I am ready for us to move forward together.

Lord we release all those who may have hurt us. We ask you not to hold an account in heaven or upon earth against them. But, as you have freely given us forgiveness and love so we do those who may have trespassed against us. We truly bless them with all our hearts and earnestly ask for your very best for them. Lord we also ask you to forgive us, forgive us of any pride or hurtful thing we may have done or said, knowingly or unknowingly. We desire perfect un-interupted communion with you. In your precious son's name, Jesus. A-men....!

Lovingly in Him, Brenda Dowdin firebrand007@hotmail.com

Sit At My Feet

Brenda Dowdin

Beloved,

You are in a new place. Its time to come and sit at my feet. I've many things to say. It's a time for new strategies and revelations. A time of new awakenings to come. You are ready, we have dealt with the old waste places. You are ready for the new. Wisdom builds her house and her rooms are full of treasures. Wisdom comes from remaining in a "high place" in me. It only comes with understanding that my ways are higher than yours. Not many will let me take them to this high place. You say why? It's the cost. The cost is everything. I am a consuming fire...,but when I burn away the dross, it leaves you clean, not smelling of the refiners fire or smoke. As you loose your life you will pick up mine and know true freedom and life.

As you've embraced the tests and trials your character has been hewn in to that of my son. I've treasures I am hewing in you. My treasures the world will see in you. They will be attracted to the treasure in you, my Son. I've been curving my signature in your very hearts. You wear my very name and are walking with my Kingly anointing. You're looking more and more like the reflection of my son. It pleases me to look upon you. You are my constant delight. My son's Bride is truly coming into her beauty, her purpose.

Spend time at my feet. My light will glisten off of you....for truly I am the Father of Lights! I am calling out to my own to draw near my feet. Listen for my battle plans, you will war in joy and laughter in this season.

Mother's Of Is-ra-el Arise!

Intercessors will be raised up in this last hour.

I will raise up my chosen leaders to "mother", these intercessors and bring them to full maturity. I will raise up conferences specifically for intercession. The earth realm hasn't experienced what will take place as my spirit falls upon these who will hear and pray my heart. The earth will labor as a women about to "give birth", as the prayers of these mothers come before me.

Mother's of Israel will be raised up as well.

A mother's heart will travail for her child and hold on with determination like no other heart. I am raising up "Mother's of Is-ra’el", those who will carry an intercession for Israel like it were her own son or daughter. She will travail for "her" and I will hear the hearts crying out and answer quickly. My son's and daughter's in Israel will answer their call, both of Abraham's seed will hear the cry in their spirits for me. They will raise up a radical war cry and worship will come before my throne as incense from Jerusalem. The young of Is-ra'el will be "leaders of intercession", and astound the "church" as it is known in your day, because of my anointing.

My land, Is-ra'el is full of worship, I've deposited in this little piece of land WORSHIP. Nations will come to put their feet upon the land so that a deposit of worship will fill their souls. So I say to you, "MOTHER"S OF IS-RA'EL ARISE!" Hear your battle cry, set at my feet. I will bring those to you that you will teach and train. My Spirit, the Counselor will guide you in to all truth and righteousness. A great company is about to arise!!!

Isa 19:23-24 "In that day there will be a highway from Egypt to Assyria. The Egyptians and Assyrians will worship together. In that day Is-ra’el will be the third, along with Egypt and Assyria, a blessing on the earth. The Lord Almighty will bless them, saying, "Blessed be Egypt my people, "Assyria my handiwork, "and Is-ra'el my inheritance."

Lovingly in Him,
Brenda Dowdin

Time to Birth My Kingdom

Toni Miles

Now Is The Time to Birth The Manifestation of My Kingdom

Apr 5, 2005

Sunday, Jan. 23, 2005

I heard the Lord say, "You must prevail in travail in order to unveil My Kingdom in the earth. I have been faithful to reveal the mysteries of My Kingdom to My prophets and apostles, and they have been faithful to speak forth this revelation. But, NOW, I say, it's time to bring forth the manifestation! Now, you must go from just having the revelation to becoming the manifestation. "The Kingdom of God is within you" (Luke 17:21), therefore, that which has been revealed to you must now manifest through you . . . and I say, now, the fullness of your time has come . . . Now, is the time to give birth to the manifestation of My Kingdom in the earth!

"As soon as Zion travailed, she also brought forth her sons," (Isaiah 66:8). "For we know the whole creation groans and travails in pain together until now . . .for the earnest expectation of the creation is waiting for the manifestation of the sons of God." (Romans 8: 19,22). All of My creation is desperately waiting for My sons to manifest My Kingdom, so that it can be reconciled back to Me, the Creator. "The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of His Christ." (Rev 11:15).

"I have given to you, My sons, the ministry of reconciliation, but there has to be a manifestation before there can be a econciliation. The manifestation of My Kingdom is righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost (Romans 14:17). My Son, Jesus, was the perfect example of this Kingdom manifestation, which ultimately resulted in a total reconciliation of all those He encountered in that generation. "Jesus (the manifestation) went throughout Galilee teaching (imparting by example) in their synagogues and proclaiming (revealing) the good news of the Kingdom, and curing every disease and every sickness (demonstration) among the people (reconciliation)"(Matthew 4:23).

You have to first become a manifestation before you can release an impartation or proclaim a revelation with the power that results in a demonstration that will ultimately bring forth a reconciliation to this generation. I have already released an anointing that will empower you, that will give you the strength to bring to birth the fullness of this kingdom manifestation of righteousness, peace, and joy!"

And we say, "Let it be so, Lord. Let Your Kingdom come, let it be released through us, so that this generation can be reconciled back to You. Amen."

Things To Come

Beverly Juelsgaard-Fischer

July 9, 2005
I speak to you today of things to come, of places to go, of people to see; for there is much that I wish to show you in My kingdom in the days ahead, and there will be many to see. For My kingdom is at hand.

Yet again, many refuse to hear My call, many refuse to acknowledge My presence, many refuse to know Me for Who I am. Many have left Me outside the door, knocking. Know they not that I will not continue, that I will go on, should they continue to refuse Me admittance into their hearts? Woe to those who refuse to let Me enter, for time is short, and there is yet much to be done!

For the field is white and ready for harvest. Can you not see it before you? Ask Me, for I will open your eyes; for the enemy has long blinded the eyes of man to keep him from seeing that which is before him. Many think they have to go far and wide to minister, yet I say to you, have you looked in your own back yard? Have you looked to the left and right? Have you looked before you to see what I have placed before you? Have you let your own pride get in the way; that you refuse to get your hands dirty? For I tell you this work will not be easy, nor will you stay clean. For birthing is bloody, and My kingdom needs to be cleaned up. For the enemy has thrown debris everywhere, and has made many “garbage collectors” unaware of their own problems, thinking that it is always someone else and not them.

I say to you that no one is without spot or wrinkle - NO ONE. Even those who choose to hold themselves above others have things which must be dealt with and taken from them in order to be ready and prepared as My bride.

So I say to you, get ready. For the earth is about to shake and tremble as it never has before, as the birth pangs of labor are coming forth on the land. For the sea shall rise and the rivers overflow, as I come forth in great abundance to cleanse and clear the land of the filth that has covered it, that My glory may begin to shine.

Many will say, “God, why are you destroying us and our property?” But I say, you who have not listened may run and flee and hide, but I know where you are. I know your hiding places and where you live, for I have watched you. I have beckoned you and asked you, yet you refuse. Woe to you who refuse to listen. Woe to you.

For some, this is the only way that you will repent. For it will cause you to draw into Me in a new way. Many of you are as the Israelites with your hard-headedness and hard-heartedness. Why does it take disaster to make you listen?

For there are those who have listened. For there are those who have prepared, and there are those who are ready and waiting for Me to tell them where to go and what to do. There are those who have been obedient to My call. These are My remnant; these are coming forth in the last days to fight for Me and My cause. These wear My armor and are girded with truth and righteousness. These are ready for battle. They have listened and obeyed. They are ready.

So know, you who listen not, you who have refused Me and My ways, know that I, God of all Heaven and Earth, am watching. I see, I hear and I know all that has been done and all that will be done in the days ahead, for I alone am God.

For it doesn’t matter what you say or do to cover-up. It does not matter. What will matter will be when or if you open your heart to Me; that you embrace what I have, that you are obedient to Me and turn from that which has kept you.

Know again, those who watch and wait. I am coming. I am coming. The time is short. I am coming.

Change Coming Forth
Beverly Juelsgaard-Fischer

July 1, 2005

For I would speak to you this day of things on My heart.

For the world as you know it is about to change radically. For there are many who still refuse to listen to My call – who refuse to answer the door when I knock. For I have called and called for My people to come forth. Yet many still sit and ignore Me. Many go off on their own way, refusing to hear Me, thinking they know the ways of this world and what is best for them.

I say to you, the earth will tremble and the sky will show in the days ahead the changes that will come forth in the land. For it will not be the same. Much will change. For even the seas are ready to break forth over the land. The trees have heard Me whisper - change, change, CHANGE is coming forth and there will be nothing that man or demon can do about it. For I say to you that change has to come forth in great abundance, for My kingdom to manifest on this earth, for man has not been diligent in taking care of that which I have given him.

Yet there are those who are coming out of darkness, into My light that I have called My remnant – that have heeded My call – that have heard My voice – that have sacrificed much and that will rise up in the days ahead to pull out the roots of despair, to pull out the roots of hate and lack – who will minister to My people and go forth to heal the land and My people. These will walk in My truth and righteousness. They will prevail and overcome. They will become as the light in the darkness. For My Word and ways have been imbedded into them, through the trials and tribulations they have endured. For even now many travel alone or in small companies – for this has been necessary, so that they could stay hidden until it is time.

Get ready, get ready, get ready, for much change is about to break forth across the land. Get ready to ride My wave of the Holy Spirit – that you will not fall under the control and pressures of man. Be ready, be alert, be prepared, and ready to move at My command.

Turn to the Father

Robert I Holmes

12 September 2005

On the 12th of Sept 2005 I was praying on Stradbroke Island, in Queensland Australia, with a friend. Many subjects and topics crossed our prayer time, when suddenly, and quite unexpectedly, the Lord opened up a vision of the Hawaiian Islands, covered in mist or smoke. Then I heard these words, "There will be volcanic disruption". No time was given, but an urgency to pray that it would be minimized.

Then on the 25th of Sept 2005 I was in. Over breakfast with friends, our conversation was suddenly interrupted by an open vision. I saw another (a third) cyclone lining up toward the Gulf coast of southern USA. It looked large, as if I was viewing it from space. I would say F3-F5 in speed and ferocity.

Praying about these things today, (and the fact that they both related to the USA), I came across Isaiah 9 which seemed pertinent.

"The people did not turn to Him who struck them, or seek the LORD of hosts. So the LORD (will) cut off from Israel (the) head and tail; palm branch and reed in one day; the elders and dignitaries are the head, and prophets who teach lies are the tail" (Isa. 9:13-15).

Whether God, or the devil actioned the devastation in the US is irrelevant. The Bible says "God struck them" (c.f. Hos. 6:1-3) and our response should be "turn to Him". So go to the One who struck us, not necessarily saying "Oh thank you!", but rather go asking, "What is it Lord?".

But our response has been anything but this. American dinner table discussions stray from: "The Mayor (of N Orleans) was to blame" and "The government is corrupt," to "Why doesn't George W do something" or, "Those nations the US has helped before should now come and help us, why don't they help us?"

But because we do not return to Him, He will send more!

The Bible also says, "If you complain at such a time as this, I will make your chains worse". He will cut off the head, and the tail! But this Scripture makes it very clear what that means - next come dignitaries and elders (the head) and then the prophets who teach lies (the tail).

Consider the lament of a prophet well acquainted with pain and loss, "Why should any who draw breath complain about the punishment of their sins? Let us test and examine our ways, and return to the LORD. Let us lift up our hearts as well as our hands to God in heaven." (Lam 3:39-41).

Time For Revival

Barbara Lynch

October 26, 2005, 3:55 AM

The Fullness of Time has come upon My church. It is time for revival to strike across this great land. Amidst the great destruction that is going on, I am now pouring out My Spirit upon all flesh. All flesh will know and see the fullness of their God. Whether it be Me, or the enemy they shall know the fullness of their God.

Do not be afraid of what you hear Me say to the people. It is time for them to understand their days of fulfillment. They worked hard for this day and they need to know what their labors have brought them. Some have labored for the Kingdom of God and some have labored to their own destruction. I once told you (many times) that this day was coming and there would be great gnashing of teeth.

Do not be afraid of the people's faces any longer. Let them say and do what they have all ready pre-purposed in their heart to do. This is the long awaited day for many. They have been wondering where it is all going to end and now they shall know.

The destruction that lies around about and will still come is of little importance now. I have shifted in the heavenlies and I am now working on one of the greatest revivals this world has ever seen. Many are going to miss out in this revival. Many others are going to see their ministries blossom as never before.

I truly do speak in parables, for My people are still not ready to hear the truth of My Word, but all that is shifting also. You shall see this great shifting occur right before your very eyes. Suddenly in an instant I will bring to pass all the promises.

Just as I took My disciples aside with Me and told them the truth of things to come, I have been taking My true disciples aside and sharing the truth of the end times. Just like Paul, I have set them apart and shared many heavenly things with them and now they shall share in the rewards just as My disciples in My Word did.

Many new songs will be written in the days ahead. For I am putting a new song in the hearts of My disciples and they shall sing these new songs for Me Church stay humble before a humble King and allow Me (always) to lead, guide, and direct your every word and your every footstep. You have been awaiting this day for quite some time now. The riches of heaven are being poured out and you shall know the Fullness of Time.

Resurrection Power
Barbara Lynch

November 6, 2005, 3:56 AM

Father, do you have anything to say to the church?

The church is entering into one of the marvelous adventures it has ever encountered. They will go forth and do great and mighty exploits for Me. The hour has now come and is when My true prophets and apostles will arise out of the ash heap and go forth in My resurrection power. I have foretold of this in My Word and it is surely coming to pass. Mighty resurrection power is coming on the scene. All darkness will bow their knee to this resurrection power. My Son died so this resurrection power could be seen throughout this earth. My manifest Glory is coming upon the scene and it shall shine throughout this universe. Marvelous! Marvelous will be the works that I am about to accomplish through My peoples.

Stand back church. For you are about to see the fulfillment of Joel chapter two in all its fullness. You are going to witness the mighty surge of power of the Almighty God. No more will you wonder about in confusion, for My resurrection power will destroy all confusion and you shall come forth as a marvelous light for the whole world to witness the goodness of the Father.

My goodness is in My Resurrection Power. It is My goodness that destroys the works of the evil one. All sin shall witness My Goodness. All shall know that I have come upon the scene just as I have been promising.

Time For The Eagles To Fly Again

Chuck Pierce

May 5, 2005

Dear Faithful Pray-ers:

As you know, I have not traveled internationally since having our international worship gathering in Spain last August and getting a prayer team into the last of the 40/70 Window nations, San Marino. However, now is the time to move beyond the United States and my prayer focus here and into other parts of the world. These trips have fully developed and been ordained by the Lord. I would never go to nations without wanting to take you with us. Also, notice that the new book, Restoring the Prophetic Destiny of A Nation, is here. Order now! This is a book for the generations!

Time for the Eagles to Fly Again

Today we depart on the first of five international trips in these next two months. I will be leading a six member Eagles of God team to Asia on May 5-15. We will first travel to Japan, where I will be ministering on the northern island of Hokkaido. This is called the 'Island of the Spirits.' This part of Japan is actually within the 40/70 Window, and will be our first journey to the eastern part of this region that we have been focusing on the past five years.

Following Japan, we travel on to Malaysia and Singapore where I will be teaching Wagner Leadership Institute courses. Then at the end of May, I will be taking a four member team to Nigeria to dedicate Apostle Emmanuel Kure's church. This is the largest church in northern Nigeria, a region that is predominately Muslim. For this in-and-out trip we depart on May 25 and arrive home on May 29. On June 12-21, I will be leading a ten member team to Moscow, Istanbul, Rome andJerusalem. This prayer journey has been designed to retrace the degeneration of the Church, and has become very significant with the recent death of the Pope.

At the end of June, I will be traveling to Vancouver, Canada for the Strategic Keys Breakthrough Conference hosted by Todd Bentley. Then in July, I will be traveling to England for three days of meetings with leaders there on how to affect the government and atmosphere for a move of the Holy Spirit. Dutch Sheets will also be ministering at those meetings.

Removing Any Ceiling Over You!

Since August, instead of traveling, I have been on the wall. I have enjoyed leading prayer on Tuesdays and praying for each one of you more than anything. Last week in the prayer meeting, the Lord did incredible things. I started off by leading praise, and said we must go higher in leading praise. One of the intercessors then saw a ladder standing over by the wall. She came up and whispered, "Isn't that ladder a picture of what you are doing?"

I would have us exhibit violent praise and then decree that we were moving up into a new place of authority in the heavenlies. When we pray on Tuesday mornings, we make these decrees over all of you just as if you were with us. We set the ladder in the middle of the room, and as we would praise this intercessor would go up a rung on the ladder. Eventually, she could not get seated at the top of the ladder without removing the ceiling. That is just what we did – we removed the ceiling! The power of God fell upon all of us.

That is what we are decreeing: ANY CEILING OVER YOU WILL BE REMOVED! A ceiling is the inside top part or covering of a room; the upper limit set on anything; a covering of clouds limiting vertical visibility; the maximum altitude at which an aircraft can fly. I prayed three things for you out of this:

1. Mark 2. Remember the friends who tore the ceiling off of the house to get their paralytic friend in before Jesus? I am praying for God to bring that type of friends into your life that will see to it that ceilings are removed so you can accomplish the whole purpose of God for your life. We are one of your friends.
2. 2 Corinthians 10. Many times our arguments, theories, reasonings, pride and philosophies put a ceiling on our thought processes. I am praying that any wrong thinking that has produced a stronghold and formed a ceiling that is stopping transformation in your life will be removed.
3. Joshua 2. When it was time to enter the Promised Land, Joshua sent in two spies who were helped by a harlot named Rahab who lived in Jericho. This harlot hid them on top of the roof. This was the key to enter to the Promised Land. I am also praying that God puts people in your life that can help you get above the ceiling and on top of the roof so that you move forward into all that God has promised you.

Japan

I will be taking a six member team to Japan for a strategic prayer gathering on the northern island of Hokkaido. This part of Japan is actually within the 40/70 Window, and is a nation that I have looked forward to visiting during our five year focus on the 40/70 Window. The island houses Japan's agricultural services.

Most of Japan's wildlife originated in sub-tropical Asia, but Hokkaido is different. Many of its animals and plants came from Siberia. The same is probably true of Ainu people. The Ainu are hunter-gatherers who have lived in northern Japan since at least the seventh century. Their looks, language and traditions are unlike any other culture in Asia.

Hokkaido Island is called the Island of the Spirits - a stronghold of spiritism in both Japan and the 40/70 Window. However, we want to go there and release a move of the Holy Spirit to overtake Japan. Several weeks ago at church I received this word:

"There will be a shaking coming to Japan that will bring them to their knees. This shaking will change the industry of the nation. Japan has been built upon a fault line linked with a deep wounding from the past. This shaking will occur before the apostolic team that I am sending to Japan arrives. When they arrive, I will begin the healing of the fault line and release a new anointing for industries. I am sending you to the people group of that area and they will be humbled in the midst of their pride. Do not fear. I am causing the mountain to be brought down and the valleys to be brought up. I will create a leveling effect in Japan" (from Keith Pierce).

Since that time, there has been a major shift in their stock market. We have seen Japan brought to world headline news because of a major train wreck. Watch this nation carefully as we go.

Just before I arrive in Japan, Cindy Jacobs will have ministered at a national "Shift the Nation" conference with intercessors and leaders in Tokyo on May 4-5. Both of these meetings are being coordinated by Ron Sawka, the director of Christian International for Asia. I would ask that you specifically pray for Japan at this time. At the bottom of this email is a request from Ron that will help you focus your prayers.

Malaysia and Singapore

From Japan we fly on to Malaysia and Singapore. In each of these nations I will be joining Dr. Peter Wagner in teaching a Wagner Leadership Institute Course: Apostles and Prophets – The Foundation of the Church. Although restricted, the Church in both of these nations is very vibrant and prime for revival.

So our trip schedule is:

May 5 (Noon)................ Depart Dallas for Tokyo
May 6 (Afternoon)......... Arrive in Tokyo and fly on to Hokkaido Island
May 6 (PM)....................Arrive in Sapporo
May 7............................Strategic Prayer Gathering (morning and afternoon)
May 8 (AM)....................Depart for Tokyo; connect to Malaysia
May 8 (PM)....................Arrive in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia
May 9 (PM)–11 (PM).....Teach Wagner Leadership Institute Course in Kuala Lumpur
May 12 (AM)..................Fly to Singapore
May 12 (PM)–14 (PM)...Teach Wagner Leadership Institute Course in Singapore
May 15 (AM)..................Depart Singapore for Japan and on to Dallas
May 15 (PM)..................Arrive in Dallas

Blessings,
Chuck D. Pierce

p.s. Our new book, Releasing the Prophetic Destiny of a Nation, is now available. This is an incredible book with each state's history and prophetic destiny, and one for generations to come to use for prayer. You will want to get this book. The price is $14.00. Go to www.glory-of-zion.org or call (888) 965-1099 to place your order.

Prayer Focus for Japan from Ron Sawka:

Greetings from Japan! I am writing this to request your prayer support and covering for two key meetings planned for this country. On May 4-5, Cindy Jacobs will be ministering in Tokyo (Lilia Hall, Kawaguchi) at a large gathering of leaders and intercessors. On May 7, Chuck Pierce will be ministering in Sapporo. We feel these are two key events for shifting Japan.

As many of you know, in October 2001, at the Gideon's Army 2 gathering in Hanover, Germany, Cindy Jacobs prophesied that God was realigning the old Axis nations and Allied nations so that they might pull together to shift those nations.

Personally, I have taken that word very seriously. Perhaps it is because I live and minister in Japan, and have experienced just how difficult it has been to get and sustain momentum. Also, two other key prophecies released in 2000 have really shaped my thinking and strategy these past 4 years. One was by Bill Hamon that declared a great deal would be decided about Japan's future in the period between 2001 and now. The other was by Chuck Pierce. It stated that 2000-2005 was a key window of opportunity, and if the church in Japan did not adequately rise up, the spirit behind Shinto (Queen of Heaven or Amaterasu) would keep getting stronger and begin to persecute the church.

Perhaps at this point I should answer the obvious question, “What is the condition of Japan at present?” Without going into details, let me just say that while the Church has been rising up, perhaps we must admit that the Shinto spirit has been rising even more quickly. Certainly one evidence of this is that we are quite far behind in seeing the development of apostles in this nation.

It was with this in mind that we called for leaders’ summits starting in 2002. At that time, many of you interceded for us, and I am convinced that is why we had a measure of success. Now, I am asking for your help again. Please circulate the dates of the two meetings and pray with us for their effectiveness.

Perhaps you can pray along these lines:

1. That God will use these meetings to shift Japan ahead
2. That the right people will be in attendance
3. That God's ordained leadership will arise
4. That harvest will quickly increase

TOKYO: Cindy Jacobs, May 4-5
SAPPORO: Chuck Pierce, May 7

Thank you so much for your Spirit-led response and cooperation.
God bless you,
Ronald W. Sawka

The Alpha And Omega Of History

Don Walker

April 19, 2005

We are told in Revelation 5:5 that Jesus is "the Root of David" which seems to us to be a rather strange expression. We can easily understand Isaiah's prophetic reference to Jesus as "a shoot from the stem of Jesse" (Isa. 11:1). Likewise, as a descendent of Jesse and David, Jesus could be called a "branch" (Jer. 23:5; Zech. 3:8). But how could He be called the Root?

Our problem lies in our non-Biblical understanding of how history works. We are accustomed to thinking of history as if it merely a cosmic chain of events. History is often viewed as one event leading to a string of other events. This is very much like a board game we played when I was a child called "Mousetrap," based on a fictional Rube Goldberg machine. Trip a lever at one end, and a series of domino-like "whatchamacallits" and "thingamajigs" bang into each resulting eventually in the mousetrap coming down on the mouse. By pure cause and effect, each event causes other events, in direct chronological succession.

While this is true – it's not the whole truth. History is not simply a matter of the past causing the future; it is also true that the future causes the past.

Allow me to illustrate it this way. Let's say someone walks into your home on a Saturday afternoon and finds you packing clothes in a suitcase. Since "inquiring minds want to know," they ask for the reason you are engaged in this activity. You reply, "Because I am going out of town tomorrow." What has happened? In a sense, the future – the planned trip – has determined the past. Because you have planned a trip, you packed your clothes. Logically, the trip preceded, and caused, the packing of the clothes, even though it followed it chronologically. In the same way, God desired to glorify Himself in Jesus Christ; therefore He created Jesse and David, in addition to all the other ancestors of Christ's human nature, in order to bring His Son into the world. The Son of David, the Lord Jesus Christ, was the Root of David. The "effect" determined the "cause."

The Lord Jesus Christ is thus presented in the most radical way, as the center of all history, the divine Root as well as the Branch, the Beginning and the End, Alpha and Omega. The Bible is clear in its emphasis of Christ being the beginning and the end of history. For example, we are told that Christ is the "Lamb slain from the foundation of the world" (Rev.13:8 KJV). The end was already established from the beginning. History is not an "open book" that is in the process of being written, based upon the actions of men and the effect they have on the course of future events. Rather, history is "closed," in that it has been determined by the Creator at the beginning.

We, as human beings, do have a will of our own. We make things happen. Yet the power of choice we exercise is only secondary. God’s sovereign providential power stands over and above our actions. He works out His will through the actions of human wills, without violating the freedom of those human wills. As the Westminster Confession of Faith states:

"God, the great Creator of all things, doth uphold, direct, dispose and govern all creatures, actions, and things, from the greatest even to the least, by his most wise and holy providence, according to his infallible foreknowledge, and the free and immutable counsel of his own will, to the praise of the glory of his wisdom, power, justice, goodness, and mercy."

Benjamin Warfield expressed the same concept this way: "In the infinite wisdom of the Lord of all the earth, each event falls with exact precision into its proper place in the unfolding of His eternal plan, nothing, however small, however strange, occurs without His ordering, or without its peculiar fitness in the working out of His purpose; and the end of all shall be the manifestation of His glory, and the accumulation of His praise."

Our understanding of history must not originate from history itself, but from the fact that Christ is the Creator and Redeemer of the world. We must understand that all of history, created and controlled by God’s personal and total government, is moving inexorably toward the universal dominion of the Lord Jesus Christ. All of history will be summed in the Alpha and Omega of history (Ephes.1:10).

The Adullam Dream

Tina Nicolo

I had the dream in the early morning hours of April 9th 2005. I know it's A little late getting it out, but I believe with all my hear that I am sharing this in His perfect timing. I've had dreams and visions for years, but until now I have not felt lead to share them with the body. God has been waking me up and I believe this is the first of many words He has given me for HIS Bride.

I went to bed around midnight and feel asleep praying. I felt like I was in a constant state of prayer and dreaming all night long. In the first scene of my dream I was in a city. It felt like New York. The city was in turmoil. I saw and felt the terror of people running from place to place. Planes were crashing and people were dying on the subways. For a moment I stopped and looked out into the horizon. I saw a small plane in the distance, it was sort of wobbling in the sky then it lost power completely and went down and crashed. I got nervous as I watched the plane go down, but then I thought to myself that the plane was far enough away and I wouldn't be hit. As soon as I had the thought there was a huge crash and bits of rubble and debris were flying toward me and others in the street. Some were hit, but I was not. The turmoil stopped and everyone seemed to breath a sigh of relief.

In the next part of my dream I was lifted above the city and was up high looking down toward the east coast. I was looking at a sea port, maybe Boston harbor, or some place in New York. I'm not exactly sure of my location, but it was definitely the north east and definitely at some type of ship yard or port. It looked a lot to me like Boston Harbor. I live in the area so this would be a logical conclusion to me. I heard a drum march so I "flew" down to get a closer. As far as I could see down the coast there were men- some dressed in red and some in black. They were lined up in 2 straight lines with patterns of square formations along the lines. It sort of looked like this:

:::::::::::::::::::
:::::::::::::::::::

:::

::::::::::::::::::
:::::::::::::::::::
:::::::::::::::::::

The men were playing huge black drums. They were playing a battle march against America. I felt the pure hatred in their hearts. I knew if they saw me they would surely kill me. Absolute terror gripped my heart. Just then I heard a voice behind me say "IGNORE THOSE MEN AND CONTINUE TO FOCUS ON ME" . I turned toward His voice and did not look back at the men. Then I saw the hand of the Lord write these words: ADULLAM DRUM BATTLE Then the dream was over. I said the 3 words over and over again. I didn't want to forget any of the words especially "adullam". I honestly never heard the word before.

I woke up and immediately grabbed the Bible. I was thrilled to see that "adullam" was an actual word in my bible, but I was over come with joy when I read the definition:

ADULLAM IS A REFUGE. ONE OF THE ROYAL CITIES IN CANAAN. KNOWN FOR A CAVE NEARBY WHERE DAVID LIVED FOR A TIME. SEVERAL OF HIS RELATIVES AND THE POOR AND AFFLICTED PEOPLE OF THE LAND CAME TO HIM THERE.

In the first part of my dream I believe what the Lord was trying to show me was how most of America reacted to 911. They were nervous for a moment, some minimized the damage and devastation then breathed a sigh of relief when it was over. I believe the 2 colors represent 2 nations or countries. I also believe the formation represents strategic plan to work together in their attack towards America. For the words "drum" and "battle" the Lord gave me Jeremiah:50. The sound of they drums is the battle cry against America.

Adullam is an amazing promise!! I love that this refuge is a place of ministry for the poor and afflicted people of the land!!

God Bless you,
Tina Nicolo

Jer 4:19 "O my soul, my soul! I am pained in my very heart! My heart makes a noise in me; I cannot hold my peace, Because you have heard, O my soul, The sound of the trumpet, The alarm of war."

Luke 1:25 & 26: (25) "And there will be signs in the sun, in the moon, and in the stars; and on the earth distress of nations, with perplexity, the sea and the waves roaring; (26) men's hearts failing them from fear and the expectation of those things which are coming on the earth, for the powers of heaven will be shaken."

Luke 1:28 "Now when these things begin to happen, look up and lift up your heads, because your redemption draws near."

Have you (or someone you know) recently felt as though you are under an unusually heavy attack in some way? Has there been a struggle with depression, oppression, un-natural fear, battling spirits of sickness or death,)or fear of sickness or death), financial attacks, feelings of failure, fatigue, hopelessness, etc.? You are not alone and you are not crazy! The enemy has seemingly launched an all out assault upon the Body of Christ in that regard. As I was watching TV and saw the warning in the natural, "TERROR ALERT ELEVATED," the Lord showed me that there has also been a greater launching of terror in spiritual realms.

The Bible clearly warns us that, as we go into the end times, there will be wars, tsunamis, earthquakes and signs in the heavens. We are now seeing these things occur on a regular basis. The Bible says that, because of these things, fear may prevail to such a degree that people's hearts will fail them because of it. (Luke 21:26) This past year, there was already a news report on TV about a young man who was literally "scared to death."

I recently spoke to a medical employee who told me that around 75% of all the patients they know of that are on some sort of medication for anxiety, depression or nerves are Christians! There is no condemnation to anyone if that's what they need to do, but it's a healthy reminder of the power of fear and terror. However, there is a HIGHER power, and HIS name is JESUS! - "Greater is HE!!!" - And HE is IN US!!! We are definitely in times when we need to be reminded of this fact!

Because we are human, even Christians have a tendency to get afraid of or sad about things at some point. There times and seasons for everything - even grief and sorrow. (Eccl. 3:1) However, it is how we process and handle those times and seasons that is important. Going through things can be our bridge to greater authority. What we conquer becomes our testimony, and since Satan is defeated by the blood of the Lamb and word of our testimony (Rev. 12:11), those things we go through can become areas of greater authority for us!

I believe the Lord has sounded the alarm to let us know that terror is coming forth in many forms in this day and time - through wars, terrorist attacks, grief, fear, economic shortages, diseases, weather, natural disasters, and through a variety of spiritual, emotional, and other distresses. Therefore, we need to be prepared NOW by recalling who He is, and therefore who we are in Him.

SAY "NO!" and "GO!"

We would not knowingly let a person in to steal from us, so why should we allow the enemy in to steal our peace, joy or well being?

We have the authority to say, "NO!" and "GO!" to the enemy! In other words, "NO! I do NOT receive condemnation, depression, self hate, self pity, sickness, fear, etc.!" - And "GO to the feet of Jesus for judgement!" to any spirits that are NOT of the HOLY Spirit!

KNOW THE CHARACTER OF GOD VS. THE CHARACTER OF THE ENEMY

Job 22:21 tells us, "Now acquaint yourself with Him, and be at peace; Thereby good will come to you."

God reminds us that HE is NOT a terrorist! " ..... I am God, and not man, The Holy One in your midst; And I will not come with terror." (Hosea 11:9)

Satan is described as a thief, and Jesus tells us in John 10:10: "The thief does not come except to steal, and to kill, and to destroy. I (Jesus) have come that they may have life, and that they may have it more abundantly."

In Rev. 10:12, we are reminded that Satan is as the accuser of the brethren, who accuses us before our God DAY AND NIGHT! - Continuously! - How dare that uncircumcised Philistine!!!

We clearly need to remember that, "There is therefore now NO CONDEMNATION to those who are in Christ Jesus, who do not walk according to the flesh, but according to the Spirit." (Rom. 8:1) – Therefore it is well for us to remember to walk according to the Spirit!

One way to properly discern whether what we are hearing is the conviction of the Holy Spirit or condemnation from the enemy is the fruit of it. When the Holy Spirit convicts and we repent, peace comes. If after we repent, we continue to hear voices of condemnation, that is the enemy! At such times, we need to remember to stand in our authority and say "NO & GO" to it. In other words, "NO! I don't receive that condemnation! I'm forgiven and cleansed by the blood of the Lamb! And you, enemy, have to GO to the feet of Jesus for judgement!"

The Lord reminds us in Jer 29:11 that the thoughts HE thinks toward us are thoughts of peace and not evil, to give us a future and a hope.

In Isaiah 57:15, He tells us, "For thus says the High and Lofty One Who inhabits eternity, whose name is Holy: 'I dwell in the high and holy place, With him who has a contrite and humble spirit, To revive the spirit of the humble, And to revive the heart of the contrite ones.'"

LET'S CHOOSE OUR WEAPONS!

We are at war in both the natural and in the spirit. Matt. 11:12 tells us that "The kingdom of heaven suffers violence, and the violent take it by force." But we must choose our weapons wisely.

2 Cor. 10:3-4 reminds us that OUR weapons are SPIRITUAL, NOT carnal, and are totally effective to pull down the strongholds of the enemy: (4) "For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war according to the flesh." (4) "For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal but mighty in God for pulling down strongholds."

Let's take a look at what some of the weapons are that God has given to us:

WE CAN WAR WITH PROPER FOCUS OF OUR MINDS AND ENERGY

One of our greatest weapons is to use a fruit of the Spirit called SELF CONTROL. In particular, we can do this by controlling where our mind goes. I'm not talking about some new age visualization thing. What I'm saying is, we don't need to let our imaginations wander into visualizing our destruction or demise, or into self pity. In fact, self pity and self focus is what the enemy wants us to dwell in, because then we will not be properly focused on the Lord. And if we aren't focused on the Lord, we won't have peace. So what should we do when this "stuff" comes at us?

STEP 1:
2 Cor. 10:5 tells us we can be: "...casting down arguments (imaginations) and every high thing that exalts itself against the knowledge of God, bringing every thought into captivity to the obedience of Christ."

This simply means to REFUSE the imaginations the enemy brings - say "NO & GO!" to it - and lay our hands on our head and command our thinking to come under the authority of the name, blood and Word of God!

STEP 2:
Philipians 4:8 instructs us: ".....Whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things."

Once we've cast out the thoughts of the enemy, we now focus on the truth - what the Word has to say about God's love for us, thanking Him for our blessings, and focusing on the promises He has given to us.

STEP 3:
Col 1:21 tells us: "And you, who once were alienated and enemies in your mind by wicked works, yet now He has reconciled."

Once we've asked for it, we have forgiveness of our sins and are no longer separated from God. We just need to receive it and believe it!

STEP 4:
Isa 26:3 encourages us, "You (God) will keep him in perfect peace, Whose mind is stayed on You, Because he trusts in You."

Finally, we need to focus on the Lord! When we CHOOSE to focus on THE LORD, our thinking begins to be less foggy and confused, and we begin to WIN!

WAR WITH RIGHTEOUSNESS

Righteousness is RIGHT RELATIONSHIP to the Lord. If we are not in that position, we simply need to repent and get there! If we are in right relationship - right standing - with the Lord, He promises us that terror will be far from us:

"In righteousness you shall be established; You shall be far from oppression, for you shall not fear; And from terror, for it shall not come near you." (Isaiah 54:14)

When we are out of right relationship with the Lord, the enemy will use against us exactly what he is responsible for bringing into our lives to mess it up with in order to condemn us. The enemy taunts, tempts, and leads people into sin, and then sends out his little demonic emissaries with voices of condemnation to haunt, taunt, hunt, terrorize and make us feel like garbage if we cave in and do that which is against our conscience and against the Lord!

So what do we do? Simply repent* and get INTO right relationship! "In Him we have redemption through His blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of His grace." (Eph. 1:7)

Repent simply means, "to turn from sin and dedicate oneself to the amendment of one's life; to feel regret or contrition; to change one's mind." As we do this, we receive an awesome peace and refreshing from the Spirit of God!

"Repent therefore and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, so that times of refreshing may come from the presence of the Lord." (Acts 3:19)

"If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness." (1 John 1:9)

WAR WITH WORSHIP AND PRAISE

David didn't mope around in self pity when life got hot! - He encouraged Himself in the Lord, and we can too! "Now David was greatly distressed, for the people spoke of stoning him, because the soul of all the people was grieved, every man for his sons and his daughters. But David strengthened himself in the Lord his God." (I Sam. 30:6)

How can we encourage ourselves in the Lord?

Years ago, our pastor asked us to get words for the new year, and as I lifted my heart to the Lord He said to me, "WORSHIP is your WAR-ship!" He reminded me of a time when the Israelites worshipped Him in the midst of war, and it threw the enemy into so much confusion that those who came up against the Israelites all battled and killed each other!

The battle is the Lord's! (I Sam. 17:47)

Shut out the cares of the world, the lies of the enemy, and even the discouraging voices of others! He inhabits our praise! So let's just take a deep breath of fresh air, and focus on and worship The Lord! When we do this, He will say to us, "Come up here, and I will show you of things to come!" (Rev. 4:1)

David worshipped the Lord SEVEN times a day! We aren't told "how long" each time, but imagine this... Things at work get "to" you, so you go into your office (or restroom) and shut the door. You choose to take one to three to five minutes to (1) take a deep breath, (2) clear your head of all else but the Lord, and (3) worship Him. Normally, you get a ten minute break in the morning and afternoon, as well as lunch. Choosing to privately focus on Him in this time can be live changing - for us AND those around us!

WAR WITH THE WORD

"What would Jesus do?"

With Jesus as our example, we can war with "It is written" - The Word of God! (ref. Matthew 4) - When Jesus had a face to face confrontation with Satan, HE warred and WON with THE WORD! - Remember, Jesus IS The Word! - 1 John 1:1 & 14:(1) In the Beginning was the Word..... and (14) The Word became flesh and dwelt among us! - In the form of JESUS, Himself!!! - The more of The Word we get into us, the more of JESUS we have in us!

"The word of God is LIVING and POWERFUL, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the division of soul and spirit, and of joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart." (Heb 4:12)

"This Book of the Law shall not depart from your mouth, but you shall meditate in it day and night, that you may observe to do according to all that is written in it. For THEN you will make your way prosperous, and then you will have good success." (Jos 1:8)

...."But His word was in my heart like a burning fire Shut up in my bones; I was weary of holding it back, And I could not." (Jer 20:9)

"Is not My word like a fire?" says the LORD, "And like a hammer that breaks the rock in pieces? (Jer 23:29)

WAR WITH FAITH AND CONFIDENCE

Fear, which is the opposite of faith and confidence, is a SPIRIT of BONDAGE, and is NOT from God!

Romans 8:15 reminds us, "...You did NOT receive the spirit of BONDAGE again to FEAR, but YOU received the Spirit of ADOPTION by whom we cry out, "Abba, Father." "

2 Timothy 1:7 tells us clearly, "For God has NOT given us a spirit of fear, but of POWER and of LOVE and of a SOUND MIND!"

The Lord hasn't given us a spirit of fear! He's given to us the HOLY Spirit! And that gives to US spirits of POWER, LOVE and a SOUND MIND! - Therefore we can tap into HIS power THROUGH His Spirit! - "'Not by might nor by power, but by My Spirit,' Says the Lord of hosts." (Zech. 4:6)

"Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit who is from God, that we might know the things that have been freely given to us by God." (1 Cor. 2:12)

Whom the Son sets free is free indeed! (John 8:36) And that means YOU and me!!! - Prov. 23:7 reminds us that "as we think in our heart"....so we are!

In Jesus, we can have the confidence to believe and see Him act on our behalf!

"Let us therefore come boldly to the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy and find grace to help in time of need." (Heb. 4:16)

"So we may boldly say: "The LORD is my helper; I will not fear. What can man do to me?" (Heb. 13:6)

WAR WITH DISCERNMENT

We don't need to share EVERYthing with EVERYone! Joseph did, to his regret! There are some that we can share the very most intimate details of life with, and there are others that we simply must hold at a somewhat of a distance.

If we have a friend whose weakness is alcohol or drugs, we won't give that to them, right? Likewise with gossip. We don't need give away anything about us that someone can use to further their sickness and to harm us. We need to be smart and guard our hearts - and mouths! - with all diligence! If we do otherwise, we have only ourselves to blame for any fallout!

Sometimes the BEST way to war is by knowing when to be silent!

Ex 14:14 "The LORD will fight for you, and you shall hold your peace."

Pr 17:28 Even a fool is counted wise when he holds his peace; When he shuts his lips, he is considered perceptive.

But remember, if we simply please the Lord, He makes even his enemies to be at peace with him. (Prov. 16:7)

WAR WITH PRAYING IN TONGUES

When we pray in the Spirit, Jude 1:20-23 tells us that we build ourselves up in faith on the inside, keep ourselves in the love of God, help ourselves to look for mercy (instead of criticism and judgement), walk in compassion, discernment, and save others from destruction."(20) But you, beloved, building yourselves up on your most holy faith, praying in the Holy Spirit, (21) keep yourselves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto eternal life. (22) And on some have compassion, making a distinction; (23) but others save with fear, pulling them out of the fire, hating even the garment defiled by the flesh."

Rom. 8:26-27 lets us know that when we pray in the Spirit, we also are able to pray past our own weaknesses (personal opinion, judgement, etc.) for the root issues we do not have any personal knowledge about, and are able to pray in the will of God for situations: (26) the Spirit also helps in our weaknesses. For we do not know what we should pray for as we ought, but the Spirit Himself makes intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered. (27) Now He who searches the hearts knows what the mind of the Spirit is, because He makes intercession for the saints according to the will of God.

And THEN, because we've prayed in His will, Rom. 8:28 tells us: "And we know that all things work together for good to those who love God, to those who are the called according to His purpose."

WAR WITH OUR HEARTS BEING RIGHT

Jesus said in Mark 7:6: "....'This people honors Me with their lips, But their heart is far from Me." We need to be sure that our hearts bear witness with what we speak.

I love David's prayer in Psalms 19:14: "Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart Be acceptable in Your sight, O Lord, my strength and my Redeemer."

Matthew 5:8 promises, "Blessed are the pure in heart, For they shall see God."

Psalm 24:3-5, "(3) Who may ascend into the hill of the Lord? Or who may stand in His holy place? (4) He who has clean hands and a pure heart, Who has not lifted up his soul to an idol, Nor sworn deceitfully. (5) He shall receive blessing from the Lord, And righteousness from the God of his salvation."

Let's pray, as David did, "Create in me a pure heart, O God, and renew a steadfast spirit within me." (Psalm 51:10)

WE CAN WAR WITH OUR FAITH

Sometimes we have condemnation because we have ignored our faith. (1 Tim. 5:12) But, even if we have "lost" all our faith, Jesus is the author and finisher of it (Heb. 12:12), and can make and give us more!

Cake mix is the substance of a cake we don't see yet, but if we use it as we should, we'll have that cake! We don't buy the mix, open the box, and dump the package on our counter top and cry because it doesn't look like a cake, do we?! We do with it what we need to do in order to have it become that cake! Likewise, Hebrews 1:1 tells us that faith is the very substance of the things we hope for but have not yet seen! And we have to DO something with it, because faith without works is dead! (James 2:20)

WAR WITH FORGIVENESS

Forgiveness is very powerful. There are times we are going through things simply because we refuse to forgive others, and therefore cause ourselves to come under judgment: "Judge not, and you shall not be judged. Condemn not, and you shall not be condemned. Forgive, and you will be forgiven." (Luke 6:37)

WAR WITH COMPASSION

The dictionary describes compassion as, "sympathetic consciousness of others' distress together with a desire to alleviate it." Because of His compassion, Jesus healed, forgave, and fed many. (Matt. 14:14; Matt. 18:27; Mark 8:2) and tells us to have compassion on others, just as He has had on us (Matt. 18:33)

When we walk in compassion, we walk in the love of God. And God IS Love!

WAR WITH THE PROPHECIES WE'VE RECEIVED

Rev. 12:11 tells us that Satan will ultimately be overcome by the Blood of the Lamb and the word of our testimonies. Prophecy is often the way our testimony is given to us in advance, to give us the courage we need that will help us to press on towards that mark and gain victory. Therefore, prophecies are a main ingredient in waging warfare!

I Tim. 1:18 tells us: "This charge I commit to you...according to the PROPHECIES previously made concerning you, that BY THEM you may wage the good warfare."

I Tim. 4:13-16 reminds us: "(13) Till I come, give attention to reading, to exhortation, to doctrine. (14) Do not neglect the gift that is in you, which was given to you BY PROPHECY with the laying on of the hands of the eldership. (15) Meditate on these things; GIVE YOURSELF ENTIRELY TO THEM, that your progress may be evident to all. (16) Take heed to yourself and to the doctrine. Continue in them, for in doing this you will save both yourself and those who hear you."

GIVE YOUR BODY PROPER REST

When we most need it, sometimes the enemy tries to rob us of sleep, even through fear and running a broken record of his torments. However, the Word of God is clear. God wants us to have protected, peaceful sleep.

There was a time when I used to be tormented and robbed of my sleep most every night. Now when I find myself having a rough night, I "say NO and GO" to the enemy, do all the things that make me comfortable for a good night's sleep, and quote the scriptures below. The Lord never fails me!

"(24) When you lie down, you will not be afraid; Yes, you will lie down and your sleep will be sweet. (25) Do not be afraid of sudden terror, Nor of trouble from the wicked when it comes; (26) For the Lord will be your confidence, And will keep your foot from being caught." (Prov. 3:24-26)

"I will both lie down in peace, and sleep; For You alone, O LORD, make me dwell in safety." (Ps 4:8)

"You shall not be afraid of the terror by night, Nor of the arrow that flies by day." (Ps 91:5)

WE CAN WAR WITH THE WORDS WE SPEAK

Toxic people TALK sick, and they infect many. The Bible is pretty clear that, even if someone sounds "religious," if they do not bridle their own tongue, they "deceive their own heart, and this one's religion is useless." (James 1:26)

Proverbs 31:26 says of the Virtuous Woman, "She opens her mouth with wisdom, And on her tongue is the law of kindness." We, as the Bride of Christ, need to have the Law of Kindness upon our lips, one to another. Words are SO important! God formed the WORLD with HIS words! And WE form OUR worlds with OUR words! In Joshua 14 we are told that the words of Joshua & Caleb were full of faith but in verse 7, we read that the words of the spies "caused the hearts of the people to melt!" - How sad! Because of the evil report they gave, MANY missed out on the Promised Land!

"For you, brethren, have been called to liberty; only do not use liberty as an opportunity for the flesh, but through love serve one another. (14) For all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this: "You shall love your neighbor as yourself." (15) But if you bite and devour one another, beware lest you be consumed by one another!" (Galatians 5:13-15: 13)

"Deceit is in the heart of those who devise evil, But counselors of peace have joy." (Pr 12:20)

In Jer 29:7 the Lord reminds us to "seek the peace of the city where I have caused you to be carried away captive, and pray to the LORD for it; for in its peace you will have peace."

WAR WITH SURROUNDING OURSELVES WITH THE RIGHT COMPANY

The Bible is pretty clear about being cautious about the company we keep. 1 Co 15:33 tells us pretty bluntly, "Do not be deceived: Evil company corrupts good habits."

2 Th 3:14 says, "And if anyone does not obey our word in this epistle, note that person and do not keep company with him, that he may be ashamed."

1 Co 5:9 instructs, "...do not to keep company with sexually immoral people."

Remember, this was written to and about the bretheren...."But now I have written to you not to keep company with anyone named a brother, who is sexually immoral, or covetous, or an idolater, or a reviler, or a drunkard, or an extortioner--not even to eat with such a person." (1 Co 5:11)

If the company we keep won't go to heaven with us, why should we let them take us to Hell??

WAR WITH PRAYER

I used to wonder why, if God knew everything, we have to pray? Didn't he see the needs and the injustices? When I asked the Lord, He said, "Because I've made you to be of free will, you can choose to do things your own way. Through prayer, I give to you the opportunity to allow me to intervene."

The Bible tells us that prayer is a very powerful tool. Let's use it!

God promises, "If My people who are called by My name will humble themselves, and pray and seek My face, and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin and heal their land." (2 Chron. 7:14)

Let's not be "religious" with vain repetition, or thinking we have to spend certain hours in prayer. We may be on a different "watch" than those who are up at 5 a.m., but it doesn't make us "wrong" if we pray at a different time. Whether on our knees, standing, sitting, walking, or driving the car, let's just PRAY!

PRAYER

Dear God, We come before you in the name of your son Jesus, and we ask you to help us remember to keep our focus upon you and to USE the weapons you have given to us. We ask you to forgive us for having let ourselves be complacent and for falling into self pity. Give to us the wisdom, understanding, faith and strength we need to do all you have called us to do, and to fulfill our purpose and destiny. In Jesus' name, Amen.

To Avert Further Judgments

Rick Ridings

"Katrina -- A Warning to Avert Further Judgments?"
by Rick Ridings
Jerusalem

September 2, 2005
How should we pray in the wake of what may soon prove to be one of America's greatest natural disasters in history? Is this crisis a one-time thing, or is it only the second in a series of disastrous judgments waiting at America's door, unless there is a massive move of lasting repentance??
9-11 was a powerful wake-up call. It seems America was awakened out of her sleepy spiritual state long enough to push the "snooze" button on the alarm, but then quickly went back to sleep.

One of the clear ways of God seen in His historical dealings with Israel, was that He would allow a lesser judgment to come in order to stir His people out of their spiritual slumber. If they awoke, and turned from idolatry in a true and lasting fashion, the greater judgment was averted. If they did not, He released (with great sorrow of heart) the greater judgment, which for Israel meant two times the destruction of Jerusalem, resulting in the destruction of Israel's economy and the exile of her people into the nations.

God's Displeasure

Katrina means "pure", and I believe it is a call for purification. A week before Katrina, as we prayed about the forced removal of Jewish people from their homes in Gaza and parts of Samaria (the northern "West Bank"), we sensed that God was going to speak soon in very strong terms His displeasure with the continued and increasing pressure of the nations to "divide up the Land" (Joel 3:2). Psalm 29 came out very strongly in both our day and night "watches" (we did not know until the following day that we had both received the same Scripture and message).

Evening, night, morning, and afternoon intercessors, all separately received a sense that a storm was coming. They felt that God was very angry about the pullout, and that His voice would soon thunder His displeasure through nature. Some significant Scriptures received were:

> "The voice of the LORD is over the waters; the God of glory thunders, the LORD thunders over the mighty waters . . . The LORD sits enthroned over the flood; the LORD is enthroned as King forever." --Psalm 29:3, 9, 10
> "You boast, 'We have entered into a covenant with death, with the grave we have made an agreement. When an overwhelming scourge sweeps by, it cannot touch us, for we have made a lie our refuge and falsehood our hiding place.' I will make justice the measuring line and righteousness the plumb line; hail will sweep away your refuge, the lie, and water will overflow > your hiding place. Your covenant with death will be annulled; your agreement with the grave will not stand. When the overwhelming scourge sweeps by, you will be beaten down by it." -- Isaiah 28: 15, 17, 18

> (See also Isaiah 30:27-33; and Psalm 18:1-15)

God's Mercy
For any who might question the link of the Gaza/Samaria evacuation with the New Orleans evacuation, I encourage you to read an article by our friend, Avner Boskey, showing the parallels between the two uprootings (See www.elijahlist.com/words).

In the hours just before Katrina hit the Gulf Coast of America, we were crying out to God here in Jerusalem, where we conduct 24/7 worship and intercession from our center, facing Mt. Zion. As we asked God to "in wrath remember mercy", we were led to confess two root sins.
The first is the exploitation of sin and decadence, to not only parade it shamelessly, but also to use it to gain money through tourism and exportation, via the media. Secondly, the sin of saying that God does not have the "right" to set the borders of nations -- pressuring Israel to divide up the Land and give away her biblically promised inheritance to be replaced by an Islamic terrorist state, probably to be dominated by forces openly dedicated to the destruction of Israel. I believe that Katrina's last minute veer to the right, avoiding a head-on with New Orleans, was an expression of "in wrath remember mercy." Although we deeply grieve over lives lost, it could have been even worse.

Unless America And Europe Heed The Wakeup Call . . .

Unless America heeds the wake-up call this time, and Europe heeds the wake-up call from the London terrorism and the recent flooding, there are worse judgments standing in line, waiting to be released upon America and Europe. May we, as intercessors, cry out for a spirit of repentance to be poured out upon America and Europe before judgments come that are far worse than 9-11, the London bombings, or Hurricane Katrina.

The Awakening Has Begun

Susan Cummings

For the last couple of weeks, I have had a series of visions and they have been progressive and the Father has laid a base from which He will ultimately build upon in the days to come. He is speaking, moving, and breaking forth. The Hour is late, and we are changing. There are many that are in the Remnant also birthing forth in this hour who can add more to this than me, but I will share my portion as I received it.

Exodus 33: 7-11 In the vision, I am watching myself as well as participating in this experience.

I am sitting on the ground leaning my back against a tent wall. I am in a huge tent and it is dark somewhat. I realize that I am in the Tent of Meeting. I have been here before, but this time not as someone walking around and being shown things as before. But I am sitting at the wall edge and waiting. I realize that I am alone and that I am tired.

As I rest, I can feel the Lord’s Presence within the Tent. He fills the Tent with Himself, yet is also unseen. The eyes are only opened as he decides. To behold Him is to behold Holiness and Terrible Fear. For He is Holy and Terrible, and He is God. I remembered some of My times before the Lord, as I sit there, and my heart longs for Him again. I long for His touch and voice and His Love, yet I also tremble in His gaze, for His eyes look upon all humanity, searching for those with upright hearts. I shiver at the thought of failing Him. I become afraid.

My heart beats faster, and the fear rises up within me, as I search myself and cry out from within myself for mercy and for His cleansing fire. I could not bear to miss My Lord and be apart from Him. All I can do is sit by the wall of the Tent and wait upon Him. For I cannot go anywhere else. He is all I have. My thoughts were now in turmoil, and I shook myself within, struggling to pull myself together, for I knew the Lord brought me here for a reason, therefore I could not have missed him. I chided myself for giving in to the fears of the flesh.

As I was just refocusing, I heard a voice speak from within the Tent. It was very loud and powerful like a trumpet and it echoed all throughout the chambers of the Tent and beyond.

"The Awakening Has Begun."

I jumped up and shook, as it hit me. I looked around and searched for the Lord. He alone could have spoken like that, and I knew I had to seek Him out for the rest of the word. I began to hesitantly walk forwards into the Tent further. As I did, I noticed that it became increasingly harder to see. The Cloud of the Lord began to manifest, or to fill the Tent. I could see the thick Glory as it swirled all around me and I shook even harder. I tried to fall down, but I was held upright. I remained standing as the cloud was all around and I felt the terrible fear arise afresh, as I felt my Lord within.

"Lord," I called out, "Give me your Grace to stand here in your midst."

The Lord then stepped forth closer to me, and smiled. He held out His hand, and took mine. He said, "You have My Grace, that is what held you upright. I am with all of Mine, and My Grace is with you wherever you are. Do not fear. I wanted you to hear what I am doing, and understand, then I would show you."

"Many want to see what I am doing, and then they will trust Me. But I am raising up a people who will trust Me when they hear My Voice, without seeing. Men always want signs. They always want to see, touch, or do something, before they will believe. But I say unto you, that day is over. I will have a people who walk after My Spirit, who know My Voice, who will trust Me without ever seeing, and who also know My embrace. But it is not given to those who do not want Me."

"The Awakening Has Begun."

"I am bringing forth Mine who will rise up and stand with Me. I have told you this before. They are changing now, and are being trained, matured, and transformed right before the world's eyes. I have wrought a great work, and no one saw it. For their hearts are hardened, and their eyes are dull, and their hearing has waxed shut. It will remain so. For I am raising up and sending forth new leaders and they will not be fearful, nor disobedient. The brokenness that I have accomplished within them, has now become the foundation and birthplace for their ascent. Now comes the next stage of events."

"You are to also begin anew. All that you labored over was brought to another breaking, for it had to pass, and be the new foundation upon which you will now walk. Do not grieve over the ruins that you see all around you, but rejoice that I have wrought a work, and move forth. For what was, could never compare to what will be. For it is all Me. I have been working a deep work and now it will break forth, and what was, will not even be thought of, for I have changed you. Trust Me to lead you further."

I listened to the Lord and felt the grief I had been carrying leave me, and the tiredness. I felt a sense of hope stirring, and looked up. The Lord was gone. I looked around, and all I could see was cloud. I did not desire for Him to leave just yet, and longed for Him. I cried out, "Lord, where are you?" I could hear only a light wind that blew ever so gently in the Tent. I strained to hear, and after a few moments, then I caught a still, quiet word, "Come."

I stepped forwards and could not see anything, for the Presence of the Lord's Cloud was so thick, and it felt heavy now. I also felt the wind on me as I walked. I could smell the Lord though, and it gave me comfort. I could smell the sweet incense that burned somewhere. I felt with my hands out before me, and moved in the direction of the voice.

After a few minutes, I stopped, for I did not know how far I had stepped, or if I was near anything. I did not want to knock over anything in the Tent. I waited, and listened for the Lord. Nothing. I prayed and said, "Lord, I will wait upon you. I will not move until you say to, nor will I fear, for I know you will lead me." Then the Lord spoke, and said, "That is what I want. That is where My People will remain in Me. That is where Mine will abide and walk out the days ahead. Only at the sound of My Voice."

"The famine of the Word has come, but will intensify. Men will run to and from looking for the true Word from my lips, but will not find it. They will seek out the prophets and the seers, and try to access Me through them, but I will not be found by them. My Word has been profaned long enough, by men who do not treasure it nor reverence it. It will be removed and given to those who have hungered and thirsted after righteousness. It will be given out by Mine who love Me more than their own lives. It will be brought forth with Truth, and with respect. It will no longer be trampled on."

"My Presence will be within you, as well as with all who are called by My Name, but it will not be with those who do not love Me nor walk with Me. I will not abide with those who reject the Truth and love the lies.

Greater darkness comes. You have only seen a portion of the darkness, daughter. You have only seen what you could see when I am so near to you, but if I were to withdraw completely; you would be consumed by the total darkness that is truly present. I showed you this before, but now it is even more becoming a reality in your land. My Son also knew this darkness and separation when I withdrew from Him on the Cross. All who reject Me, will also know this darkness, for their choice will bring them fully into it, as I have told you."

"My Presence is always in the earth, for I uphold all things by Myself. But I am not striving with rebellious men anymore. For I am unfolding even more, as the days come, and their eyes will be opened whether they like it or not, whether they want it or not, and whether they are ready or not. For I warned and gave many years for men to turn to Me, and some did. Fewer allowed themselves to be broken and purged, and now they cannot come. For the hour of full travail has come. The breaking open has been initiated and now comes the harder choices."

"You have given what I told you to give over the years, and some listened and are now being birthed forth. Others are about to be, and others are coming into a state of readiness, as I have been bringing them through it. Each will be released in their stages."

"But the time of answering the call and coming to Me and of being purged, and for maturing as a vessel for My Use is past, for the greater darkness now comes. It is too late. The destroyer will reap, and great will be the outcry. I gave time to repent, and now it cannot be given anymore. The hour has begun and the black wind is beginning to blow. The black stream will flow unchecked. The black stream will flow alongside of the True, but who will know the difference between the two? You have seen it, and also have been persecuted for it, but the revelation is true and it comes. Men do not see what I see, it will not be as they think, but I will bring it forth suddenly."

"Go your way, and walk on. Do not carry the weights and expectations of others upon you anymore, and do not grieve, but only walk with My yoke upon you. For you are Mine, and I will set your pace and illuminate the way, as you listen for My Voice and obey it. My Sons and Daughters of Thunder will arise and utter My Voice, as they yield to Me, and I will roar in the earth. My Thunder and My Lightning will be heard and seen, as the black winds now increase and the darkness comes."

"I am awakening My hidden Vessels, and great will be the sound of the awakening, and the glorious company of the Righteous that now does My Will."

The Lord then lifted and the cloud ascended and I was sitting by the inside wall of the Tent again.

I pray these revelations will encourage you, and strengthen you to follow His Voice, and to fully trust in Him.

Let your yes, be yes, and your no, be no. Do not speak forth words that you know I have called you to speak, but yet leave your hearts far from Me.

Many of you speak, but your words are empty because your hearts have remained at a distance from Me. Why is this? Are you afraid to relinquish all control to allow your God to take hold?

Let your yes, be yes, and your no, be no.

My beautiful children, I have called each of you to come to Me, come with your hearts as your sacrifice and allow Me to touch each of you, and bring you closer to Myself. Many of you are speaking of things that are of My Kingdom, but are keeping your hearts so far from Me.

Deceit has entered my house, and I am not pleased. I have called each of you to be speakers of truth. Speakers of love and encouragement. The words that you speak, to overflow out of your hearts of thankfulness and worship of Me. Many of you are lying. Many of you are hiding behind cliché words and phrases, and not allowing My Spirit of truth to speak through you.

I am the God of the Impossible. I am making the Impossible, Possible.

Do not ‘play’ church any longer My children. Do not speak empty words, and keep your hearts far from Me.

Examine your hearts, and your words. Where your heart lies, so does your treasure, but many of you are speaking forth words of Mine, but are not allowing your hearts to rest in Me. You are allowing your hearts to rest in your own desires and lusts of the flesh.

I long to draw each of you closer to Me than you ever have been. Draw you to that secret place of speaking so deeply and intimately to you, and strengthening you for the task ahead.

Let the words that you speak, reflect the heart that is within you. Do not allow deceit to come from your mouth. Do not deceive others by your empty words of praise to Me, and keeping your hearts far from Me.

My church, the time is drawing near for My return, and many games and manipulation and deceit is being entertained in My church. Repent, and allow My Spirit to clean your hearts, your tongues and My church.

Allow My fire to fall on your tongues and hearts, so that the joining of your heart and your tongue may manifest. That truly My children will walk in a deeper empowerment of My Spirit.
Allow Me to break down the parts of you have kept your hearts far from Me.

For the power of My Spirit that shall flow through My church when hearts and tongues are combined shall be incredible.

Many are walking within My house, that are not following Me, and are deceiving many. Stay alert. Keep watch, and listen to My Spirit.

I the Lord your God, will not accept those who come to Me with words, but hearts are far from Me. Check your hearts My children, and allow Me to show you anything within you that may not bring about Glory to My name.

Let the revival of My church begin within you. Let your words reflect your heart. Repent of deceit, and come walk in truth.

For the truth, will set you free, and will set the world free of it’s bondage. You cannot hide anything from Me, I see all, and I long to restore that which is hidden in darkness.

So come, My church, let your tongues and heart unite. Be carriers of TRUTH, carriers of My Word and hearts that are clean and pure. Let Me prepare you for what is to come. To walk in greater holiness and purity of heart. No more deceit.

Tamar Yearning

Robert I Holmes

Moses, the author of the first five books of the Old Testament, does a strange thing in chapter 38 of Genesis. In chapter 37 we are reading along with the life of Joseph and his brothers, arriving at the point where his brothers sell him into slavery. The story has reached a mild climax, and the next chapter is opening up in Egypt with Joseph, when Moses takes the day off. There is a hiatus, whilst we go off to read about Judah and his first three sons. Roll the elevator music. Then in chapter 39, he picks right back up on the theme of Joseph and carries on as if nothing had happened.

These things are not without cause. We are supposed to take note (but we rarely do). Judah - the betraying brother - has three sons in rapid succession: Er, Onan and Shelah. Er (all jokes aside), the eldest marries a girl called Tamar, and like all women of her time yearns to have children with him.

Three kinds of failure

But before they can complete the task, God kills him, "For Er was a wicked man" (Gen. 38:7). OK, Tamar wasn't a very discerning type. The father-in-law is distressed (amazed) and as is the custom of the time, says to his next son, "Go in to your brother's wife and perform the duty of a brother-in-law to her; raise up offspring for your brother" (vs 8).

But young Onan does not want to raise up an inheritance for his brother, he wants the pleasure of the encounter, but not the responsibility of raising kids. He just cannot bring himself to raise sons in someone else's house. God is very displeased with his action - and more so with his attitude. Roll the lightning again - bam, whisps of smoke and no more Onan! Poor Tamar, desperate for children, comes to her father-in-law again.

Never once looking at his own fathering skill, the sin in his son's life, Judah is thinking to himself, "This woman is cursed! Two of my sons are dead". She asks for recompense, or satisfaction, and Judah says, "Remain a widow in your father's house until my son Shelah grows up -- for he feared that he too would die, like his brothers" (vs 11). He did not place blame on the wickedness of Er, or the shameful behaviour of Onan. Tamar must be to blame.

She never does get Shelah as promised. She waits, perhaps years, for the third son to grow up. Judah's wife dies (so we may be talking about 10-15 years later!) and Judah is consoled. Then one day he is walking down the road, missing his wife, and sees this beautiful woman beside the road, dressed like a harlot. It was Tamar in disguise. "She saw that Shelah was grown up, yet she had not been given to him in marriage" (vs 14).

This last son was withheld from her, initially because of his youth, and also because of his father's skepticism (judgment) about Tamar's character. She was desperate for change, and yearned for children.

Three kinds of leader

During a prophetic conference in early October, 2006 I was speaking with our host, Terry Appel and another speaker for the conference, Marc Dupont. We were discussing Tamar - and more specifically Onan. Much is said about Onan, and his seed-spilling incident. But little is made of the rest of the story.

I believe this story contains a picture of three kinds of leaders being dealt with in the Body of Christ today:

· Er - full of wickedness will be removed. There are leaders who have wickedness in their house, but more dangerously, in their hearts. The days of Ananias and Sapphira are back. · Onan - unwilling to embrace responsibility, and unwilling to raise up sons in someone else's house. The heart of this man's issue if jealously, envy, spite and a lack of submission to correct authority. Watch the ground Korah, watch the sky Onan, God is on the move. · Shelah - immature and held back by their leaders from being intimate with the bride. The immature son is unable to find union and bring forth fruitfulness. If he can wait, like David. if he can abide, like Jesus he will be blessed.

One step too far?

My mind recoils at the rest of this story. Tamar seduces, then entraps Judah. She falls pregnant to her father-in-law and when she is "caught" and threatened with death. She is able to produce evidence that Judah is the father (he gave her his rod and ring as a tie-over until he could bring a lamb). His response? "You are more righteous than I" (vs 26).

Hmmm, righteous does not quite seem to fit Tamar's behaviour - or does it? Judah, Tamar and the kids turn up in the lineage of Jesus Christ. The Son of God is directly connected to this story (Matt. 1:3, Luke 3:33). He is not ashamed of this somewhat checkered story.

This woman was desperate for justice, but took an errant path to gain success. She is no better, and no worse than her father of faith - Abraham. He resorted to "the flesh" and the resulting union (Hagar and Ishmael) have both received rather a bad rap from the church (though Scripture is careful to note that on two occasions God blesses them both).

Our human mind recoils at the sins men commit, yet God, the holy and righteous one "works all things together for good". He honours Tamar (the person, not the sin she committed) eternally in the word of God. He takes our greatest mistakes, and the very worst situations and turns them to His glory - that is a God specialty!.

Two sons, one breakthrough

Tamar finally has her children. By hook or by crook, she has achieved her goal, and now God has something to say about this "new generation"! There are twins, and one pops his hand out, then pulls it back in. The other child breaks out ahead of him, and they call him Perez "for he has broken through!" His brother's name is Zerah.

Tamar broke through, and brought forth children to Judah, and her children go on to become numbered among Israel during the census of Moses (Num. 26:20,21). They are also running in David's time - mighty in battle, word and deed. Perez breaks through at birth and his kids go on breaking through.

A remarkable historic underlining takes place with David. The great grandsons of Perez are among the men fighting in the valley of Rephaim with David. They are fighting against the Philistines, and God grants them wonderful favour.

"David defeated them there. He said, 'The LORD has burst forth against my enemies before me, like a bursting flood.' Therefore that place is called Baal-perazim. The Philistines abandoned their idols there, and David and his men carried them away" (2 Sam. 5:20,21).

David came to know God as Lord of the breakthrough. The Lord had gone out ahead of them, and had broken through like water, like a flood on dry ground. This is of the Holy Spirit - this is an anointing.

God gave David two instructions, which he followed carefully, and God went ahead of the army into Victory. This anointing was actually upon David, following God. The prophet Micah spoke clearly of it: "The one who breaks out will go up before them; they will break through and pass the gate, going out by it. Their king will pass on before them, the LORD at their head." (Micah 2:13).

The breaker anointing

There is, upon certain individuals, a "breaker anointing", which causes them to break through. Tamar had it, she broke through and brought sons into the world. Her husband Er was disqualified because of sin. Her brother-in-law Onan was disqualified because he could not bring himself to raise sons in someone else's house. Her other brother-in-law Shelah was disqualified because of his immaturity, and his father's suspicion.

But her son Perez caught the anointing, and broke through. This anointing flowed down the line - all the way to Christ who broke through for all of man kind! In these last days God is looking for the yearning of Tamar, and consolation of Israel.

The Adoption of Sons

David Weber

I feel the need to express a few things today; some things that are foundational to our understanding of "sonship," as many Christians are not very familiar with the true meaning of "sonship" or "the adoption of sons" or "the placement of sons" as those things are revealed to us in scripture.

It is no wonder that a dark veil has been pulled over the understanding of most Christians regarding "sonship," for the revelation of sonship is something that the devil ferociously withstands, and that because the Christian progression from spiritual children to spiritual sons means the enemy's very undoing.

> "For the anxious longing of the creature waits eagerly for the revealing of the sons of God. For the creation was subject to futility, not willingly, but because of Him who subjected it, in hope that the creation itself also will be set free from its slavery to corruption into the freedom of the glory of the children of God. For we know that the whole creation groans and suffers the pains of childbirth until now. And not only this, but also we ourselves, having the firstfruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting eagerly for our adoption as sons..." (Romans 8:19-23)

Beloved, even a brief glimpse into this passage of scripture from Romans should reveal to us that the "adoption of sons" or the unveiling of the Son in fullness in a company of sons is something which yet lies ahead for the body of Christ. We, who have received a measure of the Spirit now wait ...GROANINGLY WAIT! for our adoption as sons. We were foreordained unto adoption as sons, but the actual adoption is something for which we are now waiting. Thus, this "adoption" is not simply the matter of our coming into the family of God through regeneration of our spirit, but rather, it is something which is the end result of God's fiery dealings with us unto the full and complete surrender of our souls!

There have been vast amounts of erroneous teaching about "adoption" and "sonship" in the body of Christ, and that mostly because men have looked at biblical adoption through the eyes of modern western culture. But beloved, the traditional Hebrew view of "the adoption of a son" has absolutely nothing to do with the placement of an orphan into a foster home, rather, it has to do with a young man coming into a place of maturity whereby the full authority and resources of his father are bestowed upon him.

With this in mind, can you not see why the devil would do everything in his power to blind the children of God to the message of their full inheritance and adoption as sons? When MATURE sons of God are made manifest beloved (the man-child of Revelation 12), the enemy will lose his place, he will lose his kingdom, he will lose his title, he will even lose his evil grip on creation! He loses everything!

> "Now the salvation, and the power, and the kingdom of our God and the authority of His Christ has come, for the accuser of the brethren has been thrown down..." (Revelation 12:10)

Dear ones, the catching up of the manchild of Revelation 12 to the throne of God is none other than the sons of God coming into their place of full authority and power in the kingdom; that which the devil has feared the most, and that for which all of creation has been groaning like a woman in the travail of childbirth. The devil has fought hard to keep the light of the inheritance in Christ from Christian believers ... but beloved ... it is now time for us to rise and shine for our light has come! It is time for us to know by the spirit of wisdom and revelation the hope of our calling; which is the full riches and power and authority of our Father bestowed upon us, and that for the purpose of setting all of His creation free from its slavery to corruption and death so that even it (creation itself) might come into the freedom of the glory of the children of God come into their inheritance as sons! Oh glory!

With these things in mind and heart, let me share with you something about the true scriptural meaning of "adoption" and "sonship" as it applies to the above quoted verse from Romans 8 (our inheritance), and as it can be seen in the life and development of the average Hebrew boy ... and even Jesus Himself!

The original Greek word translated as “revealing” in Romans 8:19 is the word “apokalupsis,” which simply means “disclosure.” In other places throughout the New Testament, it is also translated as “appearing,” “coming,” “enlighten,” and “revelation.” The definition assigned to its root word is, “to take off the cover.” Therefore, when we come across this word “apokalupsis” in Scripture, it has to do with the exposing of something that has been hidden from view, or bringing into light that which has been kept in obscurity. In this passage of scripture it should be pretty clear that what has been hidden and held in obscurity is ... the sons of God! Certainly even the understanding of sonship has been hidden from many Christians up until now, but thank God, we are coming into a day of a great unveiling of God's inheritance in the saints.

As the above passage of scripture about the sons of God appears to us in English, "sons" could be taken in several different ways, but in the original language, Paul was very careful in his choice of words. For the word "sons" Paul very carefully chose the word “huios” rather than the word “teknion” (which means infant) or “teknon” (which speaks of a child or a youth) because he was not referring to mere children. “Huios” specifically speaks of matured, fully developed sons, or those who have come of age into full maturity. Of the three words, "huios" is the only word that the Holy Spirit inspired Paul to use when he spoke of those to be manifested as sons of God in Romans 8, and it is also the only word that the Holy Spirit inspired the beloved John to use when he referred to the manchild in Revelation chapter 12. Is that possibly because those are one and the same? I think so.

With this understanding somewhat established, we should be able to see that the manifestation of the sons of God is not merely the unveiling or revelation of God’s children, since that manifestation has been occurring for the past two thousand years, but it is a revelation of those children coming into their full maturity in Christ, when they will come of full age (spiritually speaking) and be presented by the Father as full grown “sons” (huios) of the Kingdom.

According to John’s Gospel, those who receive the Christ are given the power to become the children (teknon) of God, and that through the regeneration of their spirit. But what Paul then reveals in Romans is that from these children will come forth “mature sons;” the manifestation of which all of creation has been anxiously awaiting. Take a look again at verse 21 from Romans, but this time from the J.B.Phillips translation;

“And the hope is that in the end the whole of created life will be rescued from the tyranny of change and decay, and have its share in that magnificent liberty WHICH CAN ONLY BELONG TO THE CHILDREN OF GOD!”

Beloved, this means that the “sons of God” can only come forth from the “children of God,” or in other words, the “manchild” can only come forth from the “woman" (she who is made up of “sun clad” believers, but is yet to come to full maturity in Christ for she is still in a sense, a spiritual “child,” not having put the self-life fully to death). The manifestation of the sons of God will not be the disclosure of God’s offspring in the infant stage (teknion) or the adolescent stage (teknon)... No, it shall be a manifestation of those who have come to the full stature of Christ; nothing less than Christ's own perfection (that's maturity)! Oh, may the spirit of wisdom and revelation open the eyes of your understanding to this wonderful truth!

This article is getting a little bit long, and I want to try to wrap it up, but I would like to take a quick look at the life of Jesus as it is revealed to us in the Gospels because in His life we can see a pattern which reveals the three stages of spiritual growth in a believer ... from infancy (teknion) ... to puberty (teknon) ... to maturity (huios). This is revealed in Jesus' manger birth and circumcision on the eighth day, to His appearing in the temple at age 12, to His adoption ceremony and His Father’s proclamation of His Sonship at the Jordan at age 30 ("30" is the biblical number for "maturity").

The pattern shown to us in the life of Jesus, is also revealed to us in the life of the average Israelite male (which I mentioned earlier). Jesus then spiritually amplifies for us that pattern with His life.

In the life of the average Hebrew boy there were three major events which drew broad public attention to him. The first of these events was his "Circumcision," which occurred when he was an infant, at eight days old. This was the moment that he was marked as a “covenant man” in Israel, and was celebrated throughout the community.

The second major event was his "Bar-Mitzvah," which took place as he was about to enter into puberty. The word Bar-Mitzvah actually means “a son accountable,” and this signified the time, not only when he was held accountable for keeping the Commandments of God, but also when he was to become an apprentice under his father in the family business. This, too, was celebrated as a very special event in the life of the child, just as it is today.

The third event was what was known as the “Huiothesia,” or the (young man's) “adoption ceremony.” The word "Huiothesia" means “Son Placement,” and indicates the time when a male child reached what was considered to be the age of maturity (somewhere around 30). At this time, the father of the young man would place his hand on the head of his son and openly proclaim, "This is my beloved son in whom I am well pleased! I bestow upon him now all of my riches and power and authority (through power of attorney) so that he might act on my behalf in all of my affairs."

Beloved friends, can you see that the three experiences that are described in the life of an Israelite male, and the three stages shown to us in the life of Jesus, are to be spiritually discerned so that we may understand God’s enduring process for our own spiritual growth into sons? Can you now understand why Jesus would say to Mary and Joseph at age 12, “Know ye not that I must be about My Father’s business?” Can you see that He was proclaiming His just then entered apprenticeship under the Father? At that point Jesus was just entering an 18 year stage of "learning the family business” so to speak. His Sonship ceremony at the Jordan which would "fulfill all righteousness" and launch His glorious Sonship ministry would not be performed until He reached the full stage of "maturity." The Holy Spirit's descent like a dove upon Jesus was in essence the hand of the Father coming upon the Son to proclaim His Sonship ministry! The Father said, "This is My Beloved Son in Whom I AM well pleased!" Many of us have not understood the full ramifications of those words, or that ceremony, until now. But there is now a great light of revelation being shed upon such things in this day.

Why?

Because the time for our adoption as "sons" is drawing nigh beloved. Our Father is preparing to bestow the riches and the power and the glory of His Kingdom upon a people, and that without measure! But He won't give that power to spiritual infants! No, He won't. Nor will He give it to spiritual children... But the Father is waiting (as is all of creation) to bring forth sons. This is the precious fruit of the earth for which the Husbandman has been patiently waiting.

Oh yeah ... one last thing.

Growth from spiritual childhood to that of a son comes only one way beloved... lots and lots of chastening, suffering, trials, and tribulation. Hardly the escape "rapture" folks ... sorry.

May the Lord give us the grace to endure the trials and the chastening that we must suffer unto sonship, and that, so that He may have that company of sons upon whom He can place the great authority and power that is needed to rule and reign with Him in the Kingdom of God.

The Appearance Of The United States Will Change

Stephen Hanson

Jan. 30, 2005

[21] For then there will be great distress, unequaled from the beginning of the world until now--and never to be equaled again. [22] If those days had not been cut short, no one would survive, but for the sake of the elect those days will be shortened. Matt. 24

“There is a place that you can run to and hide when the storms come upon this world. There is a place that you will be sheltered from the storms. I tell you that you can run to Me when the storms of this life rage upon you. For there are great storms coming. They will be unequaled since the time of this world. I tell you that in the coming months and years the United States map will change. For the map of the United States will be changed because of catastrophic events. This will be because of various earthquakes and nuclear attacks. “

(The Lord showed me a picture of the state of Florida. I was looking at it and then the shape of it was then transformed into the shape of a gun. It was as if the panhandle section was then the barrel of a gun. It then seemed that the state itself had become broken in half. The Lord then showed me a picture of the United States. I was shown the state of Texas and it was broken in a piece where the bottom half of it was now submerged. It had broken off from about where the panhandle section was in the state. The gulf of Mexico had come into most of it and had totally changed it. Then I looked at the rest of the continent, and saw that the northeastern section of the America was being curled up like a paper. The continent was rolled up along the northeastern edges, and along the coastlines down to Florida, some 200 or miles inland. This was also on the western half of America as well, except that California was not to be seen.)

There Are Those

Ephraim Frank

Shalom Fellow Israelite,

This following has been sent to us by a friend, who was evacuated from one of the Northern Gaza settlements. This is what she has to say:

I just realized that I wrote the following pages [see down] four and a half months before we were scheduled to leave our home in the Northern Gaza Strip. I'd forgotten all about it and the funny thing is that it's now three and a half months since we left our homes.

When I read it just recently, it took me a while to realize what I was reading and that I'd written it. There are times when it all seems so far away. Yet, it's still all too real. Nothing has changed and there's been very little progress in securing any agreement with the government. Many of us are living without much ability to decide what's next in our future. The spirits of confusion, lying and manipulation are woven into every discussion and you meet them at every turn.

When I wrote this little piece many people were still wondering if it would really happen. I was wondering why the Father was giving me such a vivid picture of why it would.

I spent quite a few months in the place of betrayal, abandonment, sacrifice and obedience. Betrayal seemed to meet me wherever I went. My thoughts and emotions could not escape it.

One of the most difficult parts of leaving our home was to leave our garden. I found it very difficult to imagine it being run over by a plow; buried under the rubble of our home. Just weeks before we were to leave, we began to 'uproot' the garden. One of the first plants to be lifted out of the sand was a 'stephanotis'. I was told to cut it back so that it would be better able to withstand the transplanting. But I couldn’t bring myself to cut off the buds which were yet unopened on the vine. To my surprise, the flowers began to bloom only a few days after the plant was moved. It was then that the Lord showed me that although the move would be difficult, that which He transplants will survive.

We moved as much of the garden as we could. It's being cared for by a family member (a gardener); until the Lord brings us to our new home. Then we will put the roots down into new soil; mingled with the old.

There are those.

There are those who carry the Spirit of the Living God within them, who are being called to another level; a level of choosing to bear the pain of entering into the Heart of God. Those who answer the call must be prepared to intercede for the turning of the Nation of Israel to her God; the Nation of Israel in the land and in the nations. The Nation of Israel, which is natural Israel and that which is spiritual Israel. The Nation of Israel which is both, as well as those who have yet to learn their true identity. He knows and He has promised to bring them back, to the land and to Himself.

He is looking for a battalion within His army willing to be part of the skirmish to release them from their shackles. He is looking for those who will take part in the preparation of going before and preparing the way for the lifting of the scales from their eyes.

You cannot afford to get stuck in your own perceptions of what the future will be. You have either been called to this division of the army, or not. You will know by the preparation which you have received up until this point.

Do not be surprised if many of those with whom you have trained with up until this point are not recruited along with you. This does not make anyone more or less in My eyes. It only stresses the importance of knowing your place.

The land is not the point. It is the issue which will direct you to the battle at hand. Yes, the land and the people are one! However, the battles must be fought separately. Until the battle for the souls of my people reaches the level where all has been set in place for the final battle, the separation of the land will be the price which is paid. Eliminate all that may hinder you from completing your training and answering the call which has been placed upon you. Much is at stake. Eternity and destiny lie before you.

Pray for the turning of My chosen ones; that My hands may be untied, for I have heard from heaven and Will heal my land. I will raise forth on that day my standard. He will come forth as the mighty warrior and all that I promised I will do.

Do you find this difficult to comprehend? Would you stand before Me and argue that it is not as you have fought up until this time? Do you assume that what is unfamiliar to you cannot be from Me? Would you argue that what seems to be contrary in the natural cannot in the spiritual be one and the same?
How is it that I could allow such a thing; the separation of the land through the betrayal of my people by one of my own sons?

The scriptures foretold of the day when I would come to you in the flesh; when I would sacrifice myself to comply with my own laws in order that you may be saved from my judgment. As if this was not enough of a paradox=85

Ask yourself this: Ask yourself this: why did I not choose to foretell of my betrayal till after the pact had been made? What was and is the purpose of eliminating the foretelling of this significant piece of information? It is to bring you to the very question itself.

Did I need one of my own to betray Me in order for my plan to be fulfilled?
Would it have been so difficult to destroy Me?
Was there a lack of those who hated, feared or mistrusted Me?
Do you consider it unjust that I would choose one to walk with Me only to position him for his own destruction?
Was he without choice?
Was there no other way?
Is there a purpose in going this route?

The questions of My betrayal apply today; just as My people cannot be separated from the land, so too I cannot be separated from My people.

The betrayal which brought Me to the cross is no different than that which separates Me from my people today. The questions speak for themselves.

[And so these questions are being heard]: "How will we survive? What will we do without our homes?

How will we explain to the weaker ones; those who will be driven to forfeit their lives?" Not realizing that they are first and foremost My land.

Can you comprehend that I love you that much that I would allow you to walk this path? A path of pain and ridicule. A path of rejection and criticism; subjected to taunting, jeering and the hurling of insults; the object of lies and manipulation. "We're innocent" you say! "What have we done, what did we ask for?" Questions asked of me, falling on deafened ears. You are not the first nor will you be the last.

Comfort ye My people. Has there been a time when you cried out to Me that I failed to give you the words from which to draw your strength?

As with the gardener and His garden; so it is with you! ;

Giving His life for the garden, not a day passes when he is not found wandering midst all which dwells within. Walled within His loving care and watchful eye, His steps lead all too often to a place of pain. Yet His love goes deeper than the pain which must be borne. Pain rewarded by a fragrance not to be forfeited at any cost.

Tenderly the gardener lifts the plant from its place in the soil of the garden. Much has come against the plant, yet the roots, unharmed, hold firm to the familiar soil which cannot be shaken from it there in its temporary shelter; the gardener subjects it to the unfathomable.

He cuts away all that until now has grown out of its life in the garden. All that remains is a single dry stalk standing stripped of all its growth; awaiting what is to come.

The gardener, knowing of the plant's weakened state from the unending assault, has stripped it so that it may become strong. The roots, remaining, nourished by the familiar soil, will in the appointed time bring forth new growth.

Then the gardener, in his infinite wisdom, moves the plant from its sheltered place to once again spread it roots; deep into the soil where it will flourish once again.

Terrorist Attack

James Robey

The LORD called me to the seer realm in 1988 when I first got saved. Ever since then I have been having open visions, visions and dreams. A year ago I dreamed that my sister died, and three weeks ago she passed away suddenly at the age of 52. I understood dreams and visions to be part of the normal Christian life. I had no idea the unbelief that is so rampant in the church and it's despise of the supernatural until I got involved in some of the local churches. It is only willful sin and unbelief that hinders God from working in people's lives. We must let Christ live in us and totally possess us (Gal. 2:20). We must consume the WORD, Walk in the Spirit, Fear God, crucify flesh, love everybody always, and continually turn away from evil (Job 1:1).

In 1988 when I first got saved, I had a dream of God in Glory sitting on His Throne. I will never forget it. If what I say in this total letter is not the total truth may He blot out my name from the Lamb's Book Of Life for all eternity. In my dream, I saw a huge bright white throne, as big as Lincoln's throne at the Lincoln memorial in Washington, D.C. Upon this Throne I saw God Himself and the very features of His face. He was pure white, He was pure light. Yet I could see the outline of His form. His hair was white and curly, and the length was to His Shoulders. He was total beauty. He was fierce looking, though not angry. I trembled at His appearance and presence. I saw directly into His Eyes. The closet thing on Earth in appearance was later when I saw Michelangelo’s painting of God in the Sistine Chapel. Though the difference was in my dream He appeared all white. He wore a pure white robe. I feared Him greatly. I will never forget it.

Though it is hard to describe with words. This was my commission as a seer (Num. 12:6). Last night, I had an open vision of an upcoming terrorist attack against the United States. As usual when I go to the throneroom to commune with God I put my hands over my spirit (inner man) around the stomach area, lift my head up and close my eyes while taking deep breaths, and I am only a second away from the immediate presence and the throneroom of God in the Spirit. Last night as I approached His Throneroom I felt the winds of the second heaven on my face, up ahead I saw tiny white lights everywhere (they were angels) then I saw His brilliant white Throne. I was in the very presence of God. Trembling, I asked Him to show me plainly the future of the United States. He said, "I will show you a small fragment."

I saw two large natural disasters that are coming to America because they refuse to repent. I saw the eruption of the Yellowstone geyser. I saw an earthquake that absolutely devastated the State of California. Then I asked the LORD to show me if there are any more terrorist attacks coming to America. And He said, "Look down there!" And I saw a train going around two mountains in a valley, and then I saw the words, "SEATTLE WASHINGTON." As the train came into the words, the entire train exploded. I said LORD, "when will this happen?" And He said, "Not to many days from now." I thanked and praised Him, and then I came back down to the first heaven. Let's all pray and intercede that the LORD will have mercy on this country. Perhaps if He finds ten righteous as He told Abraham, He just might.

These Are The Days

April 29, 2005

3 First of all, you must understand that in the last days scoffers will come, scoffing and following their own evil desires. 4They will say, "Where is this 'coming' he promised? Ever since our fathers died, everything goes on as it has since the beginning of creation."

II Peter 3:2-4

1 But mark this: There will be terrible times in the last days. 2 People will be lovers of themselves, lovers of money, boastful, proud, abusive, disobedient to their parents, ungrateful, unholy, 3 without love, unforgiving, slanderous, without self-control, brutal, not lovers of the good, 2 Timothy 3

“I tell you that these are the days that my prophets of old had looked into. These are the days that men and women will need to guard their hearts for what is coming. These are the days that many scoffers will come upon the scene. They will say, ‘Where is the sign of the coming of the Son of God?--Forever since the beginning of time there has been sunrise and sunset, everything has continued as it has. ’ But I tell you that things will not continue as they always have. For not only will natural disasters increase, but crimes of all sorts will increase. For in the cities will come major crimes against humanity--for the murdering of young children will be on the rise. Men will commit horrible crimes against their families. Few places will be exempt from these things. “

“But upon those who reverence Me, you will be protected under the shadow of my wings. I will watch over my own. For you will be given wisdom from above and strength for the journey. No longer will you walk a dim road, but it will be filled with light. I tell you that many will fall in the hours ahead, but to those who stand, I will give my spirit and the strength to endure.”

Tools And Train Dream

Vicki Camp

For a few days I had been hearing of Holy Spirit in various forms one word: “tools”, “refreshed tools”, and “new tools” / “all new tools”,, which I understood to be our Lord’s Holy Spirit equipments, given/gifted into us, believers and followers of Jesus Christ.

Sunday The Lord gave me this dream scene below as I was drifting off to sleep, being some answer from The Lord to me, due to my pondering with HIM concerning what I had been hearing -- a fresh emphasis of our Lord: Holy Spirit “tools”, gifts (I Cor. 12:1) and as related to HIS’ prophets and prophetic people.

"Follow after love, and desire (earnestly desire, covet) spiritual gifts, but especially that you may prophesy. " - I Cor. 14:1

Oct. 9th. dream: I saw a rather desolate, small, old fashioned wood train station, seeming to be setting out in the middle of nowhere. It was longish and plain, with a door in the middle, and with a long porch - outdoor waiting area across the front. (This whole dream scene was a short distance in front and slightly below me, as I watched, face on.)

As I looked at this building and the surrounding dried yellowish/brownish blah landscape I suddenly felt 'my own urgent desire' to populate this place with persons, with life.

As events followed, the ground and station in this dream scene did populate! Some people on the porch seated and standing, just suddenly popped into this dream scene. A boy and dog on the grassy area to the right popped into the scene,,,, and so on. This was rather amazing, even to myself in the dream as I dreamed it! ......I ‘knew’ in the dream that this was in response to my great wanting and desire to bring life into this place, where it had looked and been so desolate.

Then, a large train was approaching from around a curve on my right as I looked, and next in the dream scene, a group of people began to emerge through the central front door of this station. Evidently it was time for them to 'catch', or come out and 'meet' this train coming-on, and so they were emerging from inside this station, through the front door, heading for the tracks.

What was notable about these persons emerging, was that they all wore the same jackets: deep rich blue wool blazers of an unusual style. They were obviously a group, and they were all now coming out to meet the fast approaching train.

That large train was coming on full speed, in a blast of power, and I wondered how in this world it would ever be able to stop at this station ?! So powerfully moving, that it almost seemed full throttle to me, as it came-on approaching the station. Then this train approaching, coming-on,, repeated in the dream-scene...... two or three times this part of the dream repeated, with the large fast train coming around that bend heading for that train station building -- At this point I awoke fully, to ponder this dream-scene with the Lord.

I have understanding of this dream for the most part (we all presently know 'in part' – I Cor. 13:9&12. I also feel this is a fuller additional picture form The Lord, of the dream I published the end of July (Crane Arm Delivering)
I do feel I to say this one portion: I sense as I have asked Lord concerning this dream,,, that those of God's people, prophets, prophetic-folks (dream = mantled in blue) who pull-back, or do not come out to receive/partake/enter this 'particular' God' train-move approaching may be passed-by, left standing at the station, so to speak ... their station of call .... empty handed.

Our Lord has been emphasizing over recent years to many of us: character, Christ' character being built and formed into us by His Spirit. Even so, this presented to me as a 'now' emphasis of our Lord for some of us: HIS Holy Spirit "tools", even "new tools" in the sensing I have, and of our Lord desiring to refresh or "re-tool" some folks. I feel HE is going to expand, and even enlarge beyond what we have up to this previous time experienced in Holy Spirit equipments for functioning, as HIS' prophetic people.
"But as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him." - I Cor. 2:9

The Appointed Time Has Come

Patsy Shelton

Mesquite, Texas
pattiluepeacock@aol.com

Jan 13, 2005
I saw a long hallway with doors on the left and on the right, each door having a label indicating what was behind the door. God's people were rushing down the hallway and running through the doors. Then I heard the Lord say:

Doors, doors, doors are opening for My people. What seemed impossible for My own last year will now be possible for I am unlocking doors and I will open them for My own.

Some will enter through a door of the fulfillment of dreams and visions. Visions will no longer tarry for it is the appointed time for the visions and dreams of My people to be manifested in the earth. Yea, even broken dreams will come to pass for I have ordained it saith the Lord.

Some will also enter through the door of restoration. There they will find that all they have lost has been restored and better than it was before. Not only will they find there the things that they lost in the natural but also spiritual things. In this season of the appointed time, I will restore it all.

Some will enter the through the door of renewal. And as they enter through this door a gentle wind of My Spirit will begin to blow and it will bring refreshing and renewal to those that are weary. Here they will find the hope that they lost in the last year. Here My Spirit will transform them. They will leave behind this door the baggage of the last year that has pulled them down and caused them to become weary. They will be filled anew with My Spirit. Anticipation and excited will overtake these weary souls.

Some will enter through the door of resurrection power. These are they which have died, been buried, and now they will be raised up into My Glory, just as My Son was. They have laid down their lives and behind this door they will find that they will rule and reign from heavenly places. They will engulfed in My presence and soaked in the anointing.

Yet others will enter through the door of wisdom and revelation. Here they will find new sight to see what is not visible to the naked eye and they will partake of heavenly wisdom. The hidden treasures of My Word and My Kingdom will be revealed to them. They will know things that man has not known before about My Kingdom that is coming for it is a type and shadow of My heavenly Kingdom. Through these My Kingdom will come and things on earth will be as they are in heaven.

Many doors still remain and another is the door of fire. No, no this is not the fire that purifies and purges that door has already been opened and will remain so. This is a place where My own will be consumed by the fire of My presence. My fire that will burn in them will cause them to be radical for the Kingdom of their God. Everywhere that they are they will spark a fire in others an ember that cannot be extinguished. The fire that they will carry within their bellies will cause others to hunger and thirst for My presence. They will ignite a revival across the land. The door of truth. Many that have walked steeped in religion and deception will come through this door. My truth, and not the knowledge of man, will ring throughout the land through these and it will no longer fall on deaf ears. But, I will open the ears of mankind to hear. It will bring freedom and liberty to those that have been deceived not only by the enemy but also by man.

The door of refinement where I will complete and bring to maturity those that are to become vessels of honor in My house. Many will enter through this door one-way and exit another having been transformed by the Master Potter. Behind this door I will do a quick work for time is growing short.

The door of blessings and abundance is opened to those that have learned to be good stewards of that which I have put within their hands. They will use that which I will release to them behind this door for the poor, the needy and to establish My covenant in the earth. Many of these have experienced famine in the area of finances but as they enter this door My blessings will overtake them.

The final door is the door of faith. Here My own will find the faith to believe for miracles not for just the small things but for great things in their lives and the lives of others. They will call and I will answer. They will see My hand move in miraculous ways that their hearts had not previously conceived possible. Here they will find that nothing is impossible but that the impossible becomes possible, as they believe. They will not have to muster up the ability to believe for in this place it will be imparted to them.

Come now cries the Spirit of God. Come now and My Spirit will give you entrance into your door or doors for many of these doors will open for My own. The appointed time has come. Come for the doors of heaven have been opened and nothing will ever be the same, saith the Most High God.

Trembling at the Wrath of God
John Piper

The Present Effects of Trembling at the Wrath of God

I love to see the perspectives that may take us to a place of real reflection on where we stand. So many times we are stuck in what we know and what we do. Many times what we know is based on what we do and what we have experienced so far in life. So please always embrace new perspectives and check with the Holy Spirit on what portion He desires you to receive. Enjoy the journey beloved....your Brother and friend in Christ....Robert

Romans 12:19

"Beloved, never avenge yourselves, but leave it to the wrath of God, for it is written, 'Vengeance is mine, I will repay, says the Lord.'"

My aim today is simple and straightforward. I want to show from Scripture the proper emotional effect of believing in the wrath of God. And then I want to show how that belief and that emotion transforms 1) the way we do corporate worship, and 2) the way we raise children, and 3) the way we do evangelism and to display the glory of Christ.

Revelation 19:15

Last time we saw from the Bible that the wrath of God is eternal, terrible, deserved, and escapable, because of the death and resurrection of Christ. Let the apostle John remind us of how terrible and eternal the wrath of God is with just one of his most dreadful images.

In Revelation 19:15b he describes Christ in his second coming: "From his mouth comes a sharp sword with which to strike down the nations, and he will rule them with a rod of iron. He will tread the winepress of the fury of the wrath of God the Almighty." Notice the four parts of this terrible picture of God's judgment on those who do not repent.

- First, God is "almighty." We are dealing here not with a mere world ruler, like the president of the United States or the Chinese Premier. They are as nothing compared to the power of the Creator of the Universe. "Almighty" means that God has all the power in the universe. All atomic power. All electromagnetic power. All gravitational power. All the power in the greatest explosions that are or ever have been among the greatest stars of space.
- Second, this almighty God will pour out his wrath. He is not only a God of love, but of holiness and justice and wrath.
- Third, his wrath is full of fury. John speaks of "the fury of the wrath of God the Almighty." The wrath is not cool opposition. It is furiously angry opposition.
- And fourth, and perhaps most terrible, Jesus himself is pictured as treading the winepress of this fury. That means that those who rebelled and did not repent are like grapes under the feet of the fury of Christ, and are crushed until their blood runs like wise from the press.

Godly Trembling

The point today is that believing in this reality produces a proper fear and trembling in the life of a Christian that transforms everything. Listen to several passages of Scripture that show this godly trembling. From the Old Testament we hear Psalm 114:7, "Tremble, O earth, at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the God of Jacob." Psalm 119:120, "My flesh trembles for fear of you, and I am afraid of your judgments." Isaiah 66:2b, "This is the one to whom I will look: he who is humble and contrite in spirit and trembles at my word."

And from the New Testament, we hear most clearly Philippians 2:12, "Therefore, my beloved, as you have always obeyed, so now, not only as in my presence but much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling." If you know God—really know God—for who he is in the greatness of his holiness and justice and wrath and grace, you will tremble in his presence. And this is not something you will grow out of. In fact, the immature must grow into it.

The Two Meanings of "Fear Not"

If you say—which you should—"But doesn't the Bible teach us not to fear? Aren't there many commands like, 'Fear not, for I am with you.' What do they mean?" They mean two things. They mean, Don't fear man, fear God. And, second, they mean, Don't fear God as your enemy, fear him as one who was once was your enemy and still is infinite in power and holiness. Here's the support for these two ways of not fearing.

First, Matthew 10:28, "And do not fear those who kill the body but cannot kill the soul. Rather fear him who can destroy both soul and body in hell." In other words, Don't fear man, fear God. Tremble at the prospect of distrusting God, not displeasing man. Listen to the way Isaiah put it, "Do not fear what they fear, nor be in dread. But the Lord of hosts . . . Let him be your fear, and let him be your dread. And he will become a sanctuary" (Isaiah 8:12-14). Don't fear displeasing man, fear distrusting God, and he will become your sanctuary from the wrath of man. (See Exodus 20:20.) So the first meaning of "Fear not" is don't fear man, fear God.

The second meaning is: If you are his child, fear God not as your enemy, but fear him as one who was once was your enemy and still is infinite in power and holiness. If you were stranded on a windy ledge fifty stories above the street and about to lose your balance and suddenly a policeman grabbed you and brought you to safety inside the building, you would not stop trembling just because you were safe. The height is still in your mind. The wind is still in your mind. The weakness and the vulnerability are still in your mind. But now you are totally secure. This trembling is different than when you were on the ledge.

Isn't there something like that demanded in the Bible? Consider Psalm 130:3-4, "If you, O Lord, should mark iniquities, O Lord, who could stand? But with you there is forgiveness, that you may be feared." There is forgiveness that you may be feared. Once our iniquities fell before us like a terrible chasm. Who can stand! we cried. Then we were snatched by grace—sovereign grace alone—and now we are free. We are forgiven. And we tremble, not because God is our enemy, but because he was, and oh, how terrible it would have been if he had not saved us.

So I say again, in the Christian life—the forgiven, heaven-bound, eternally secure, Spirit-indwelt Christian life—there is a proper fear and trembling that transforms everything. So let us take a look at a few of the things that it transforms.

Fear and Trembling Transforms Corporate Worship

The first thing we should say is that this Christian fear and trembling should be felt especially in our worship services. Corporate worship is the experience of coming corporately and consciously before the face of God. Here, if anywhere in the Christian life, there will be a proper fear and trembling. Consider how the Bible connects worship and the fear of the Lord.

Psalm 96:9, "Worship the Lord in the splendor of holiness; tremble before him, all the earth!" Revelation 14:7, "Fear God and give him glory, because the hour of his judgment has come, and worship him who made heaven and earth, the sea and the springs of water." Revelation 15:4, "Who will not fear, O Lord, and glorify your name? For you alone are holy. All nations will come and worship you, for your righteous acts have been revealed."

But now here is a great fear-transforming reality, and it explains why Christians sing with joy in worship, and Muslims don't. Fear and trembling are not because God is our enemy but because he saved us from his wrath through Christ, and now we stand on the brink of the Grand Canyon of his holiness and justice and grace and wrath with unspeakable wonder, knees wobbling and hands trembling, but overcome with worship at the depth of his majesty, not with worry that we might fall in.

Listen to the way the Bible says it so paradoxically, and yet, all true saints know what these words mean. Psalm 2:11, "Serve the Lord with fear, and rejoice with trembling." This fear is shot through with joy. Isaiah 11:3, "And his delight shall be in the fear of the Lord." This fear is full of delight. Nehemiah 1:11, "O Lord, let your ear be attentive to the prayer . . . of your servants who delight to fear your name." This fear is what the saints delight to experience.

Those who have seen and savored the holiness of God and justice and wrath and grace of God, can never again trivialize worship. It is so sad when someone hears a message like this and then comes up and says, "Don't you think we can have fun in worship?" What is sad about that response is that their heart is so small that the only alternative they can think of to fear is fun. I don't like to the word "fun" for what we do in worship—or in ministry for that matter. It is a sad commentary on the superficial condition of our times that one of the most common things said about good experience in ministry and worship is that "we are having fun."

The point is not that Christians can't be light-hearted. You are probably sick if you can't be light hearted. The point is, there is time and season for everything under the sun. And something should happen in corporate worship, before the face of the infinitely holy God, that calls forth a different vocabulary than what you experience at the amusement park.

We are Christian Hedonists. We pursue joy with all our might, because we believe that God is most glorified in us when we are most satisfied in him. And Christian Hedonists can smell the flames of hell. Christian Hedonists tremble still at the ledge from which we were snatched. Christian Hedonists see those who are toppling toward wrath as people who are just like us, only not yet snatched by grace alone from the ledge. Christian Hedonists feel a potential for joy—infinitely serious joy—in the God of holiness and wrath and grace that is so great it would break our heart if God did not give us a divine ability to bear the weight of our happiness without being crushed by it.

Oh, the difference in worship when the wrath of God is known and felt! Gone is jesting and silliness and slapstick and pettiness and trifling and joking and clowning and levity. Listen to Charles Spurgeon:

We must conquer—some of us especially—our tendency to levity. A great distinction exists between holy cheerfulness, which is a virtue, and that general levity, which is a vice. There is a levity which has not enough heart to laugh but trifles with everything; it is flippant, hollow, unreal. A hearty laugh is no more levity than a hearty cry. (Charles Spurgeon, Lectures to My Students, p. 212)

Over and over again, we on the staff at Desiring God and Bethlehem remind ourselves of 2 Corinthians 6:10 as the watch word of Christian Hedonism: "sorrowful yet always rejoicing (lupoumenoi aei de chairontes)." "Serve the Lord with fear, and rejoice with trembling." That's what happens in corporate worship when you believe and feel the wrath of God.

Fear and Trembling Transforms Parenting

I said a few moments ago, If you know God for who he really is in the greatness of his holiness and justice and wrath and grace, you will tremble in his presence. And this is not something you will grow out of. In fact the immature must grow into it. And my word to parents, especially fathers, is be the kind of parent who helps your children tremble with joy in the presence of God.

I will mention only one thing to the fathers (and if there is no father at home, moms must pick it up and draw in other men): Fathers, be the kind of father that your children delight to fear. And thus help them know God. Take your place as the special representative of God in this family and display the fullness of who God is so that your children will delight to fear you.

If they only fear you, and there is no delight in it, it's wrong and dysfunctional. If they only delight in you and do not fear you, it's wrong and dysfunctional. In both cases you will have made it very difficult for the children to embrace the true God—the God of wrath and mercy.

On the one had, fathers, you hear Proverbs 13:24, "Whoever spares the rod hates his son, but he who loves him is diligent to discipline him." Why? Because that's the way God is. Hebrews 12:6, "The Lord disciplines the one he loves, and chastises every son whom he receives." So when you discipline your child, you display God's judgment.

But on the other hand, fathers, you hear this word from Ephesians 6:4, "Fathers, do not provoke your children to anger, but bring them up in the discipline and instruction of the Lord." You are in the place of the Lord. Your are doing the discipline of the Lord. Your children are learning what the Lord is like. And what is he like? Psalm 103:13-14, "As a father shows compassion to his children, so the Lord shows compassion to those who fear him. For he knows our frame; he remembers that we are dust." And do we not therefore delight to fear him?

May you be so God-like in your compassion and your wrath that your children delight to fear you! May they speak to you with words like Isaiah's, "Daddy, disobeying you is a fearful thing. And I am thankful that it is. But, oh, what a sanctuary you are to me! How I love to live the light of your strength and your joy!"

Fear and Trembling Transforms Evangelism and the Glory of Christ

Which brings us to evangelism and the question: How does fear and trembling at the wrath of God transform the way we help others see and savor the glory of Christ? The answer is, we need to help people know that they are under the wrath of God because of their sin.

There is so much good intention to show people the love of God, without realizing that the love of God in Christ is a love that rescues us from the wrath of God. Listen carefully and thankfully to Romans 5:8-9, "God shows his love for us in that while we were still sinners, Christ died for us. Since, therefore, we have now been justified by his blood, much more shall we be saved by him from the wrath of God." The love of God rescues us from the wrath of God.

This means that in America today, as well as on the mission field, it won't do to simply present God as a caring loving God. The gospel will not be the gospel against that backdrop. It only makes sense against the backdrop of truth. God is holy and glorious. We have all sinned against him and fallen short of that glory. We are under his just wrath and without hope. But God so loved the world that he sent his only Son that whoever believes in him might be saved—saved from wrath (John 3:16, 36). Relationships don't save anybody. They can be the matrix for truth and for life-giving gospel. But sooner or later you need to ask your friend for a few minutes to share the gospel. Then lay it out, wrath and all. It will be the most loving ten minutes you ever lived.

When Paul, the prisoner, had one chance to speak to Felix the governor, Luke tells us, "He reasoned about righteousness and self-control and the coming judgment" (Acts 24:25). Felix needed to understand the wrath of God.

Evangelism, parenting, corporate worship—all of them, and all of life—exist to magnify the glory of Jesus Christ. That glory was displayed in its deepest love and highest beauty when Jesus willingly went to the cross to bear the wrath of God against our sins. Our evangelism, our parenting, our corporate worship will never display the glory of Christ as they ought until the wrath of God is known and feared.

Then our hearts will leap up with love and gratitude and joy and trembling when we say,

Surely he has borne our griefs and carried our sorrows; yet we esteemed him stricken, smitten by God, and afflicted. But he was wounded for our transgressions; he was crushed for our iniquities; upon him was the chastisement that brought us peace, and with his stripes we are healed. All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way; and the Lord has laid on him the iniquity of us all. (Isaiah 53:4-6)

That is as true today as it was then. So I invite you to embrace Christ as the most precious treasure of your life, who delivers from the wrath to come
(1 Thessalonians 1:10).

The Axe Is Upon The Root

Danny Korakas

Apr 9, 2005

"And when the disciples saw it, they marveled, saying, "How did the fig tree wither away so soon? So Jesus answered and said to them, 'Assuredly I say to you, if you have faith, and do not doubt, you will not only do what was done to the fig tree, but also if you say to this mountain, 'Be removed and be cast into the sea,' it will be done" (Matthew 21:20-21)

I have written several articles in the past making reference to the Lord's cursing the fig tree. Several revelations have come forth out of seeking the Lord for answers to this seemingly strange event. How are we to explain what most have termed a "miracle" but yet, it is so negative in meaning and symbolism? Jesus actually took the life of a tree that seemed to be alive and well in APPEARANCE. But was this really the case?

We have stated in past articles that the fig tree holds several symbolic meanings and lessons. Adam and Eve hid their sin and guilt behind the leaves of a fig tree. We can only imagine the emotions that were moving through our Lord as He set Himself toward Jerusalem and the cruel fate of the cross. Adam and Eve (Mankind) lived in perfect order and harmony with God. It would be the leaves of a fig tree that would pollute the divine order and corrupt the purity that the Lord had patterned and fashioned in His own image.

Reading this account certainly stimulates a myriad of questions. Was Jesus experiencing the memory of that fateful day when man fell behind fig leaves? Could it be that Jesus was rendering a sign of divine judgment? The destroying of the fig tree was accomplished down to the very root and source of its nourishment. Are we given a picture of divine anger or hatred? It is important that we understand that all of the miracles of Jesus Christ were given to humanity to express and convey absolute TRUTH. The miracles of Jesus and the promise He has given the church to do "greater works than these" is not to "perform" a demonstration of God's power. They are to reveal TRUTH through the Word and teachings of our Lord. The reason that the church is not living in "greater works than these" is because we have a greater hunger for power than we do for truth. With that said, we need to be on a continual quest for the meaning of truth behind and within the miracles of Christ. This is the "treasure" or the golden nuggets within the prophetic word and voice – the revealing of truth. So, what truth are we to find today within the cursed and withered fig tree?

The first thing that we recognize from a practical standpoint is a picture of the Lord's continual dealing and striving with His people. "I found Israel like grapes in the wilderness; I saw your fathers as the first fruits on the fig tree in its first season. But they went to Baal Peor, and separated themselves to that shame. They became an abomination like the thing they loved." (Hosea 9:10).

The Lord has chosen Israel as His covenant people just as He has called and grafted the church into covenant. Like the fig tree that Jesus saw from a distance, Israel was to be a fruit bearing tree to bring nourishment and refreshment to the surrounding and pagan nations. As stated in Galatians 5, God's covenant people are to bear the fruit and testimony of God's Spirit. As God's people, we are "Oaks of righteousness." It is the people of God who are to be "planted by the waters, whose leaves will never wither and be for the healing of the nations." But have we truly produced this kind of fruit?

Jesus, the Son of God came to the earth and He was looking for a people who were bearing and bringing forth spiritual fruit...He was looking for "proof" of a "chosen people and generation" who were building a kingdom of living stones. This was the fruit that Jesus "hungered" and is still hungering for, but all He found was religious people hiding behind religious fig leaves. In other words, the Messiah came and found in the midst of the "church" at that time, a beautiful building (dead cement stones), a detailed religious system built on dead works, and fruit leaves that looked bountiful and fruit bearing on the surface. Yet, there was no spiritual fruit that indicated a life of INTIMATE RELATIONSHIP with the Father. For had they, they would have recognized and known the One who was sent for their behalf.

The parable of the fig tree in Luke 13 is a clear picture of the chosen people of that time portrayed as a "barren fig tree." We notice in verse 7 that Jesus says, "Then He said to the keeper of His vineyard (the church), 'Look, for three years (the time of Jesus' earthly ministry) I have come seeking FRUIT on this fig tree and find none." The Lord is stating, that in the three years of His earthly ministry, He was on a quest to find fruit among His chosen people. In fact, just the opposite transpired. The chosen people rejected God Himself when they rejected the Words of Christ. "He came to all that was His own, but His own people did not receive Him." (John 1:11) Why? Because Jesus confronted and exposed the nakedness of a religious system that lacked real intimacy and relationship with both God and among themselves.

Three years prior to this statement by Jesus, John the Baptist had said, "The axe is already laid at the root of the tree, and every tree that does not bear fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire!" (Matthew 3:10). These words of John was a prophetic declaration of not only the true condition of the individual, but the religious system that was in place as well. Just as the Jewish nation and its religious institution (A fruitless tree) would be cut down in 70 A.D. by the Roman army, so will the institution of the religious system today if it continues in its fruitless ways. The Lord did not take pleasure in the taking of this fig tree's life. Likewise, He did not desire to remove Israel from her position of privilege. And He does not desire to remove "leaders" from their current position of privilege. However, it is being prophesied from the four corners of the earth that a paradigm shift with judgment is coming first to the church and to those who have conformed her into an institution that basis its survival on mammon.

"Beware of false prophets, who will come to you in sheep's clothing, but INWARDLY they are ravenous wolves. You will know them by their fruits...Even so, every good tree bears good fruit, but a bad tree bears bad fruit. A good tree cannot bear bad fruit, nor can a bad tree bear good fruit...Therefore by their fruits you will know them. Remember saints, what sounds "good" is usally the enemy of God's "best."

The first fruit of the Spirit in Galatians 5:22 is love. When was the last time you said to a member of your fellowship beside your immediate family, "I love you?" "Though I speak with the tongues of men and angels, but have not love, I have become sounding brass or a clanging cymbal. And though I have the gift of prophecy and understand all mysteries and all knowledge, and though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains (power seekers) but have not love, I am NOTHING." (1 Corinthians 13:1-3) Love is not a feeling but an action. The proof that Jesus is still hungering and searching for is your expression of His love. I cannot begin to even share with you the multitudes that are still hurt and wounded because of natural and spiritual fathers who never took the time to intimately express their love to their children through "ACTIONS." Our thoughts and intentions are merely that – just empty thoughts and intentions that never happen. "Intentions" are in a person head and seldom happen. "Desire" is in a person heart and we always do what we desire to do. We must begin desiring in our heart to unconditionally love. The church is a dysfunctional family and has lacked TRUE POWER because we cannot even express and love our own, let alone the world.

The next fruit is "joy." A life that is full of joy is one that truly worships the Lord in a real, intimate, and personal way. When Carole and I had our babies, I instantly entered into a type of "praise" in my excitement. When my favorite football team scores the winning touchdown in the last period, I enter into a type of joyful praise. These times of thankful praise were made even more meaningful when I could look into the eyes of another in my expression. I took my babies and looked at my family members and said, "Isn't he / she beautiful?" It was at this moment that my joy was made complete. At the football game, My excited praise and joy is made complete by speaking and looking at another in agreement. Imagine in just these two examples if I did not have the privilege to express my feelings through praise. My joy would not be complete.

God has given us the awesome privilege to worship and praise Him through expression. God does not demand our expression of praise because He has low self-esteem or needs our affirmation. As a matter of fact, He doesn't need our praise at all. God has given us the honor to praise Him because He knows that it will complete our joy! If you struggle with depression or lack joy in your life, let me encourage you to begin praising and worshiping the Lord as a life style. You will soon find that God truly does inhabit the praises of His people. And where He is...I promise it will be good!

Beloved, judgment is coming to the religious institution that has hidden behind the mask of fig leaves and called itself the "church." The church is to be an environment of love that creates an atmosphere of joyful praise and freedom of expression to be exercised by all (Not a selsect few). Instead, we have control and formula that modern day Pharisees and the religious elite have instituted. People don't come to church because they have already been there once. They have not experienced the love of God through us and have not witnessed an atmosphere of everlasting joy. Rather, they are given a seat to warm, a plate to throw their money in, and told to speak when spoken to. And if they don't complain and object along with simply showing up when the doors open and tithe -- they are accounted as being spiritually mature. Good grief, what has the church become? Do dead stones have preeminence over living stones? The Lord has come and is moving in the midst of the lampstands. To those who have been given authority in the church: Is your lampstand burning brightly with the love and joy of God, or will your lampstand be taken? My dear friend, the lampstand is the people that the Lord has entrusted into your hands and leadership. Are you using your place of privilege for others to embrace "your" vision? Or, are you consumed with the dreams and visions of "others?" Are you equipping the saints for the work of ministry? Or, are you consumed with validating your own? The axe is coming!

Too Big To Miss

Bill Yount

King Saul thought Goliath was too big to kill - David thought, "He's too big to miss!

I Hear The Lord Saying To Us In The Midst Of Our Trials
And Enemies - "Worship Me!"

David learned to worship God on the hill sides of Judea. When no one else was around but the Lord and those smelly sheep. We all must learn to worship the Lord in spite of the smell of the sheep around us. I believe David was full-time worshipper and part time shepherd boy. I believe the presence of God that inhabited his praises helped to bring protection and care for the sheep's well being. David kept magnifying the Lord in His life who faithfully delivered Him from every trial and enemy.

I can sort of picture David worshipping the Lord with his sheep near by feeding.... and along comes a hungry bear with it's mouth watering for a lamb chop. What that poor bear didn't know was that he was about to interrupt David's worship service.

Anything that interferes and disrupts worship has to die!

I believe David took no time killing that intruder between the pause of the last stanza and the next verse of his song! Again a lion came out against his flock and immediately it was destroyed as it crossed the line over into the worship zone David had created through his praises to God. It was as though his praises had constructed an unseen Holy Ghost Fence that brought sudden execution to enemy trespassers.

By the time David faced the giant Goliath he had magnified his God through worship so big that Goliath just looked like another bear or lion to him. He had begun to see his enemies as God saw them - not that big! David had learned what we all need to know. If you compare your giant to yourself, you are in trouble! But if you compare your giant to God - your giant's in trouble!

David came on the scene as all of Israel and King Saul stood bound by fear terrified by Goliath. David sees everything they saw. David takes one look at Goliath and says, "He is big! - He's so big I can't miss him! King Saul thought Goliath was too big to kill. David thought, "He's too big to miss!

I hear the Lord saying to us in the midst of our trials and enemies, "Worship Me!" Worship is Warfare! Worship brings God down into us and He starts inhabiting us. Then He begins to rise up within us and our enemies start to scatter! God Himself fights for us for the battle becomes all His! And he does not know how to lose! Do you have any bears, lions or giants coming against you! "Send Judah (praise) first and the battle will be won!" Excuse me, I think I smell a giant. "It's worship time for me!"

Footmen Of War

Bill Yount

'Footmen Of War' Now Being Summoned . . . Holy Ghost 'River' Dancers, Tap Dancers, Ballet And Ballroom . . . To Launch Major 'Ground' Strikes Against The Enemy!"

Ecclesiastes 3:4 " . . . a time to dance!"

The word "dance" in this verse means to stamp, to spring about (wildly or for joy): dance, jump up and twirl around, leap, skip.

I sense "a time to dance" is upon us in this crucial time of intense spiritual warfare! The joy of the Lord is still our strength. When was the last time you stamped your feet or even tapped your toe? Can you remember ever jumping, leaping, or skipping down the aisle of your church or in your living room? Did you know that God created the dance -- and not the devil? The thief has stolen it, but God is taking it back!

You may have seen the Irish "River Dancers" who have become famous with their precision foot cadence! Their feet move so fast that you can hardly see them, but you hear the tapping of their feet, reminding you of soldiers marching to war! I heard the Captain of the Lord of Hosts declaring, "There shall be Holy Ghost 'River' Dancing in My House! I am raising up an army of River Dancers who will seem as though they are performing for people, but they will actually be pulling down strongholds in the spirit, crushing the enemy under their feet!

"I AM GOING TO MOVE ON ANYONE WHO MOVES!"

Recently, I was in a meeting where I saw just a few people moving during the time of worship. I saw a strong anointing coming upon these few people who seemed to be touching the heart of God just because they were moving about as they worshiped. I then heard the Father say, "I am going to move on anyone who moves in My House! If you move, I will move."
We all know the Scripture that says, "In Him we live, and 'move' and have our being." I personally believe the reason many of us are not really living and having our being in Him is because we are not "moving"! If we are alive, we should be moving. If you are not moving, check your pulse and ask Him to raise you from the dead! Lazarus came jumping and leaping out of his tomb! He was acting like he was alive!

"THE TAPPING OF DANCING FEET WILL 'TAP' INTO UNDERGROUND ANCIENT WELLS AND ACTIVATE RESERVOIRS OF HIDDEN 'OIL' -- RELEASING GEYSERS FROM UNKNOWN PLACES OF THE EARTH!"

Never hold back from tapping your toes and feet. It's all a part of worship! Even your toes are being anointed in this season of war! You will soon discover that your little toe is bigger than the devil and all of his powers!

I see the tapping of dancing feet tapping into underground riches in secret places that are being activated to be released this hour. It's a part of the spoil that will be taken back from the enemy. Heaven is God's throne and the earth is His footstool. Whatever is over our heads is under His feet! And God is about to tap His foot upon the earth through His people!

BALLET: AN ARTISTIC DANCE FORM CHARACTERIZED BY GRACE OF MOVEMENT!

There is no question in my mind that God is invading the arts, music, and drama industry to redeem it for His Glory. Many things that don't move us move Him! I sense there will be a move of God-ordained ballet dancers (notice I didn't say belly dancers) raised up who will reflect the grace and glory of God in their expression of worship, even on worldly stage performances -- where amazing grace is so needed.

BALLROOM: A LARGE ROOM FOR DANCING!

Psalm 31:8 "Thou hast not shut me up into the hand of the enemy . . . THOU HAST SET MY FEET IN A LARGE ROOM!" (Emphasis mine)

The Father is about to set our feet in a large place. I often wondered why He purposes to set our feet in a large room. I sense that it's because He wants us to have a ball with Him! The last time I checked, "in His presence is fullness of joy and at His right hand (right now for us) there are pleasures forevermore!" At this moment, as war is ushering us, His Bride, down the aisles of the nations to meet the bridegroom, I sense the Father of the Bride requesting to dance with us: "Would you dance with Me?"

By the way, how long has it been since you have embraced your wife or husband and danced with them to nourish that passionate love that was once there on your wedding day? Our marriage is a reflection of Christ and the Church. He desires that our spousal relationships be hot with passion. Dancing with our spouse may cultivate wonders again. Do you remember what it did on your wedding reception dance floor?

I SEE ANGELS POURING OUT A SPIRIT OF DANCING IN FATHER'S HOUSE THAT WILL RISE ANKLE DEEP, WAIST DEEP . . . AND THEN RIVERS TO DANCE IN!

Perhaps we should consider hardwood floors instead of carpet the next time we remodel our homes and His House!

The Course Of The River Is Changing
Bill Yount

"Though My River has been carrying many peacefully along, you must understand the course and the flow of this River as it carries you into My purposes. Unless you understand the course and the changes ahead that this River will take, you will wonder if this is the same river in which you started."

This River soon begins to gradually descend and pick up momentum. Then comes an almost sudden descent with swift rapids ahead. The River is much lower here and there are many rocks protruding from the river bed to the surface of the water. Many people in this River unrepentantly begin to experience their lives hitting rock bottom, being broken apart, falling upon these rocks.

The Lord says, "When this takes place you must embrace the rock you fall upon and cleave to it for that rock is Christ! As you cleave to that rock and cry out to Him, the rapids flowing powerfully over you will bring rapid healing, cleansing and swift deliverance even to your households. The turbulence in these river rapids generates a tremendous power beating against the rocky bottom of the river bed.... power to change lives!"

Better for those to fall upon the rock than to have the rock fall upon them. Here at the bedrock bottom of the River will come forth miraculous testimonies of changed lives. So miraculous that many people standing along the banks of the river will begin jumping in and taking the plunge. These testimonies will be as a springboard for many to jump in the river."

The Lord is showing us that this River is all His... from top to bottom, from beginning to end. Even those hitting rock bottom can find He is there - still with us!

The Battle For Europe Has Begun
Catherine Brown

The Key To The Nations

Just the other night, I laid down on my bed to rest for a few moments. I was feeling extremely tired after a busy--but productive--day. All I wanted was some private moments with my King. I began to silently praise Jesus by raising my arms. I felt too tired to keep my arms raised, but I lifted them up nonetheless. Softly, I whispered, "I want to be a laid-down lover of Jesus; all I want is to worship you, Lord." Instantly, I found myself caught up in a visitation with the Lord.

Using a key, the Lord opened up a music box to reveal a dancing ballerina inside, set against the backdrop of a mirror. The music was delightful, as were the dancer's movements. I paused for a moment to consider the absolute grace and beauty of the dancer in motion. I looked at the hands of Christ, pierced for our sins, and marveled afresh at their eternal beauty. I considered the grace-filled movements of the dancer and how much they reflected the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ. I considered the nations and the great need for the revelation of His grace in this hour.

I looked at Jesus, and He said, "That which was hidden is at once made obvious to a worshipful heart."
"But it (grace) is so beautiful; why must it be hidden Lord?"

"This, my child, is the mystery: the Gospel is an open secret to all with a heart to pursue and receive Me."

The Battle For Europe Has Begun

The mirror inside the box reflected my face. Similarly, our lives ought to reflect the grace of God. I started to cry, and Jesus took my teardrops and put them on the dancer. Tears and grace are a potent combination and have the potential to revive the nations.

"My child, save your tears for those who are in the most torment."
At this, an apocalyptic vision opened up before me as the Lord said, "The battle for the heart of Europe has begun."
Stricken, I asked Jesus, "How do we wage war for the heart of Europe, Lord?"

A Word For Europe

He responded, "Continue to worship with compassion and kindness in your hearts. Continue to care for and carry the weak and the oppressed. I will convene Kingdom gatherings in nations" (I saw believers gather in Paris, Rome, the Netherlands, and Germany to name a few).

"Take the Key of Grace to all nations. I am calling leaders together--they will come together because of My Voice. Collaborate with kindness and build nets of mercy for the multitudes through prayer, through tears, through love, and through humility.

"Establish My government in Europe and do not allow the enemy to violate the boundaries of grace. Keep close in unity by my Spirit. Cross oceans simply to serve one another. Have compassion on the wounded and the weary. Feed the starving with the Bread of My Presence. Carry my anointing, as my ambassadors, into Parliaments and into Palaces. Meet with Police, Fire fighters, Medical and Military men and women and encourage them in their work. Speak to teachers to reinstate redemptive thinking in their classrooms, particularly in France.

"I will send my envoys to assist you. Never forget how to dance, for from the heart of worship flows the power and the grace-filled love of Eternity."

The Company Of Nazirites

I laid speechless on my bed as tears rolled down my face. I thought of France, and the precious brothers and sisters whom I love there. France--a nation caught up in violence and unrest. I recalled a vision from 2001 when I saw Apollyon ('the destroyer' Revelation 9:11) begin to march through Europe. It began in France and fanned out across Europe and into Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands, the UK, and more. It is my conviction at this time that the situation in France is bigger than we had envisioned. There certainly may be issues that the Lord wants to address in France, yet what is happening in France is bigger than France and is affecting many parts of Europe.

I heard the Spirit of the Lord say, "The spirit of anarchy has been released. The enemy has released unholy fire in the nations; it is time for the holy fire of My presence to burn instead."

Now is the hour for a global company of Nazirites to rise up in the nations to countermand the enemy's work in the neo-Nazi movement and in the spread of Islamic fundamentalism. The nations will be won only in the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Prayer Points For Europe

I share this with you now, my brothers and sisters in Christ, in the hope that you will join me in prayer. As a citizen of the Kingdom and a citizen of Europe, I implore you to pray with us and for us.

Pray for a revelation of grace in the nations and that the church will come into a new understanding of grace in this hour. Pray for a company of Nazirites to be raised up and for Christ to be exalted in Europe. Pray for a spirit of repentance and compassion to be birthed through the European church.

Prayer For France

Pray for mission teams to be sent to France and from France, particularly to African and Arab nations. Pray that the French believers will move in the opposite spirit than that which is operating in society. Pray that Military and Emergency workers would be encouraged and thanked for their work. Pray for generous gifts to be given to the poor and marginalized in French society. Pray that dividing walls be broken between races and religions. Pray for the Spirit of Jesus to empower and enable believers to go into the heart of the fire, just like Shadrach, Abednego, and Meshach, to the glory of God.

As we see in the book of Acts 2, fire in the nations can be a precursor to a release of the grace of God to bring forth salvations:

"I will pour out my Spirit in those days, and they will prophesy, I will show wonders in the heaven above and signs on the earth below, blood and fire and billows of smoke. The sun will be turned to darkness and the moon to blood before the coming of the great and glorious day of the Lord. And everyone who calls on the name of the Lord will be saved." -Acts 2:18-21

Grace is with us in the heart of the fire!

The Promise

By way of accountability, I sent this prophetic word/article to several key international leaders for testing and further input prior to releasing it into the public domain. James Goll responded that he felt this is a "true word," and he also sent the following beautiful, prophetic promise, prompted by the image of the dancing ballerina and the mirror in the vision:
"The bride that I shall raise up shall dance upon historic injustice and be a true reflection of my grace and mirror my image in the earth." -James Goll

The Bells Are Ringing

Darlene Fellman

For a long time now I had been sensing a 'release' to come out and that 'change' is imminent for me to come out of the system of church as we have seen and experienced. I can no longer 'play church'. Are we doing church, or are we the church doing?

Many things are unfolding to me and I do sense something in the horizon as the DAY OF THE LORD APPROACHES.

For those who remain in the system, this is for you so that you can understand what others 'out' are doing. God has do deal with people in His Way for His plans for that person.

How dare we think that each person must be put in a box (a system) the way we think that they should go.

Here is an analogy:

A picture puzzle.. On the cover of the puzzle box we see what it is to look like in it's completion. Usually people begin by placing the edges first, then the colors which seem to be in each particular section in little separate piles . I am sure you get 'the picture'.

Each area of that puzzle has its own design and color etc which when placed properly the picture will be seen. But... what if you decide you don't like the color there or that object where the designer has placed it, so you then try to force or manipulate that piece into another corner. What happens... If you are too forceful, the piece can be damaged. And if you leave that piece there the picture will be distorted.

Now listen up. We all are pieces to God's great picture and we must be willing to be placed where HE DESIGNED IT TO BE. We must allow Him to lead and direct HIS vessels/sheep/etc. We need to take our place and do what HE has called us to... He is the Potter we are just clay. He is making and molding us and even breaks us to make us over again... at times this is painful but necessary.

If we are in a situation of distraction and listening to voices that cause frustration and there is manipulation and these are controlling you and you are not 'hearing' what the GOOD SHEPHERD is saying.. I strongly urge you to remove yourself from that situation and come away UNTO HIM... so that HE can train and teach you HIS truth and HIS plan for you!! Do not let anyone 'box' you in. Be released in Christ Jesus. Do not copy another. Or be pressed into an area you do not belong!

This is what I have recently discovered and have wondered for a long time why this and why that. But unless God build His house they labour in VAIN. We are the planting of the Lord.. It is our job to be OBEDIENT TO HIS VOICE, HIS WORD AND KNOW HIM IN ALL THAT HE IS... then a stranger you will not follow.

These end-times are going to be horrendous and if we are following after man and his system and programs we will not hear the voice of Christ within. Instead their words and wishes will be ringing in our ears and we will then want to be man pleasers and doing what they have planned for you and the others.

There is a spirit of distraction and we must be very alert to that fact.. satan often uses good things to draw us away from coming to HIM. He also uses problems, TV, books, others opinions, etc etc.... These things many times has worked on me.

We must be aware and press into God in Worship and adoration to HIM and HIM only.. therein lies our strength. We will need HIS strength for the coming days ahead. Days of woe and perilous times... are we HEARING HIS VOICE or does the ringing of another fill your thoughts and mind and even your heart?

Trust not in the arm of flesh. But only Trust God Almighty.

You must come to HIM daily in quietness and in His Presence. Read and Study His Word more than ever!! This is a place IN HIM, the secret place of the Most High. Nothing then when IN THIS PLACE can harm, distract or hurt you. Because you have found the 'PLACE'. Then once we are IN HIM we can walk as the 91st Psalm promises us. Praise the Lord!!

The spirit of anti-christ which opposes the anointing and the Truth will deceive even the elect if it were possible. This spirit will creep into the churches and has already. This spirit appeals to your flesh. In the garden Eve saw the fruit, and she heard the deceiver say hath God not said... but those words were twisted and distorted. And Maybe she only knew God by what her husband said and not her own experience as Adam was the one who was told not to eat of that tree. Satan is very cunning.

Jesus said over and over again 'I do nothing in myself but only those things that I see my Father do'. Jesus was totally lead of the HOLY GHOST in HIM. So must we be in all things. Our lives and the lives of those around us may depend on really knowing HIM.

Commit to Jesus Christ in all things not to a church or program/system etc. Anyone who exalts themselves over anyone and tries to control and manipulate anyone is walking in witchcraft. It is Jesus who died and rose again, not any person.

There is a New World Order coming and their purpose is to control you along with the rest of the world. Martial law will take over and any resisters will be removed and taken and destroyed. Watch and pray that you be accounted worthy to escape all these things.

Many prominent and trusted religious leaders are being 'pied pipers' leading many 'blind' saints down the road to destruction. OPEN YOUR EYES AND EARS TO TRUTH. BE NOT DECEIVED. It is not about just doing good works, even the heathen do good works. But it is about being IN HIM by coming to HIM daily humbly at His feet and looking into HIS face. Being one with HIM. Then the good works will be automatic. He is the Author and the finisher of our faith.

Do not call anyone by a title. It is a gift not a position. So many have excessively honored 'the position' of those who God has gifted for the church. Do not do that! It is idolatry. HONOR God. If we run to the five-fold ministry all the time for every need we have, that is wrong. We are to learn and study the Word ourselves and help the weak and the afflicted so they then can then do likewise. We are to make disciples not have people with glazen eyes looking to us as if we are their god.. No way! I have seen this idolatry and have done it.. very wrong!

Find people of like faith to whom there is true blessed fellowship and understanding, thereby drawing strength from each other as each does draw from the HOLY SPIRIT of God within each one.

God is making NEW WINE SKINS... so that we will be able to HOLD THE NEW WINE.

Praise the Lord all ye His Saints and Worship Him in the beauty of His Holiness!

It is to Him and for Him...

Be obedient to His plans for you! Let no one distract or control what God has begun in YOU.

The Anointed Verses THE ANOINTED
Darlene Fellman

4-8-05
There are many chapters here from I Samuel 9 to 2 Samuel 2

Looking at this title one would think how is that possible?

Well we look at two men, Saul and David. Most of you know the story.
Israel wanted a King, even though God did not want them to have one.
So He allowed them to have their way.

He lets us have our way too, even though He does not want us to do what we want.

God allowed Saul to be King. At the time when he was anointed, he was humble and a wonderful servant before God. He even prophesied with the prophets and became as another man.

There is something that happens to someone who becomes “Kingly”. They tend to think they are better than someone else. “O I am chosen of God, I am King and you must serve me” attitude. “I’m right and don’t tell me what to do”. Do you hear the lion roar? Pride steps in and now the down hill spiral begins.
To disobey a direct command of God is very dangerous and that is what Saul did. He was impatient with Samuel and wanted to have a sacrifice so he stepped in Samuel’s shoes so to speak, and didn’t wait for the prophet/priest so he did it himself.

How many times have we gone ahead of God in our impatience and IN OUR FLESH did what God said not to or maybe He said WAIT.

Poor Saul, all his Kingshipness is getting him into hot water. Flesh has taken over this ANOINTED MAN. David still called him ‘God’s anointed’.

Dear saints we are and maybe have been like this King. Once was a humble a servant and obeyed God. But gradually pride kept stripping him until more and more ugly flesh showed itself. Jealous over another which was not yet a King but anointed, nonetheless.

I see this as a clear picture of vessels anointed of God, but one in the flesh and the other in the Spirit. We are at war, not with one another but with Flesh and the Spirit! We are the anointed of God, but we need to be found humble and clean before HIM.

Let us look at the characteristics of Saul: PRIDE, JEALOUS, IMPATIENT, SELF-WILLED, SUSPICIOUS. You can be ‘anointed’ in your calling but still be an offense to God. Because you are anointed does not excuse you from being unChrist like in any way. Saul sought to kill David. An anointed vessel trying to kill another anointed vessel. Why? Flesh.

There may even be many signs of blessings, wealth, fame victories in those who are Sauls but God will vindicate His OBEDIENT HUMBLE ANOINTED ONES. “VENGEANCE IS MINE SAYS THE LORD, I WILL REPAY.” I don’t know about you but I want to walk softy. I want a Holy Fear for God.

Here comes David. A young lad tending sheep. Obedient to his father. Defends the sheep from a lion and a bear and recovered a kid out of its mouth and killed the beast.
David had confidence in God. He was fearless, humble, knew His God and trusted in HIM.

When faced with Goliath he was outraged at this uncircumcised Philistine that would dare to mock The HOLY God of ISRAEL!
This is the kind of Holy Anger we can have toward the demons that are afflicting humanity!
He was ready to fight this Giant because He knew God would help him to defeat Goliath.
David was a worshipper. He pleased God in that. David had a heart after God. He inquired of the Lord. 2 Sam 2:1 , 5:19&23

A man or woman led of God will always try to inquire of the Lord as to what, where, how, when etc.
Make Him truly Lord of all!

Yes David sinned, but God forgave him because David repented sorrowfully and did not hide or lie about his sin. A prophet came to him and exposed the sin to him..
Soon the prophets of God will come forth in the LOVE of God soaked in the TRUTH OF THE WORD OF GOD, fearless and uncompromising.. Speaking forth the Word of the Living God!

God is looking for those who will Worship Him in Spirit and in Truth. Obeying Him and fearless when facing satanic opposition. Standing strong in the face of adversity!

David realized very quickly that the armor of Saul did not fit him.
How many times do we try to fit into anothers' ministry role or giftings? It doesn't work. We need our own which is given by God HIMSELF.

I know this story of David and Goliath etc has so many more types and truths.. But please just be aware of satan's devices.. God Bless you all!

Praise the Lord!!

The Barren Woman

Christine Beadsworth

It's not over 'til the Barren Woman Sings!

Beloved saints of God

I have been spending much time in the first chapter of Luke and would like to share with you some insights from the lives of Zechariah and Elizabeth.

There are principles displayed in the story of their lives which explain God's ways in dealing with His people in the earth in this day. Zechariah and Elizabeth were both faithful servants of God. They had a history and a genealogy of faithful service to the Lord. Zechariah was of the family of Abijah which means 'worshipper of God' and Elisabeth was descended from Aaron. Their forefathers were godly and they had secured a godly inheritance for this couple, yet there was no manifestation of this and no fruitfulness in their lives. They had never had a child. There was an incongruence here. According to Deut 28, for those who served God faithfully, one of the promises was that there would be no barren amongst them. Yet here were Zechariah and Elisabeth manifesting circumstances that seemed to indicate unfaithfulness to God and sin in their lives or the lives of their forefathers. How confusing because the Word reminds us:

Luk 1:6 And they were both righteous before God, walking blameless in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord.

Sometimes those who do not seem fruitful are judged by others in the Body of Christ as being unfit or disqualified and it is assumed there is sin in their lives. Perhaps you are one of these people who have faithfully worshipped God for many years and prayed for Him to use you for His kingdom and yet no door has ever opened for you and you feel that you just go round and round in circles like Zechariah, year after year performing the required sacrifices in the temple, attending all the meetings, praying, worshipping, giving- and yet, there is no breakthrough to your destiny and this 'purpose' that is talked about everywhere, never happens.

Elisabeth, in particular, had borne the brunt of this situation and had been labeled as 'barren'. Zechariah was still going through the motions, involved in service for the Lord at the temple, doing whatever was required of him but Elisabeth was at home and the stigma of not having a child weighed heavily upon her. She must have wondered what was wrong with her that made her unfit to be blessed with a fruitful womb by the Lord. Why was God always using other people? Didn't He see her desperate desire to be used by Him? She had been through all the soul-searching, the counseling, the deliverance, in an effort to cleanse her soul of anything that might hinder the Lord from using her but still she found herself in this barren place. Elisabeth means 'God is my satisfaction' and she must have finally come to the place of accepting that nothing she desired in her life compared to God. He could satisfy and silence every longing in her soul with His presence. He was enough. She had come to the place of death to her own desire that the mantle of shame placed on her by the community would be lifted. If God did not desire her to have a child, she would accept it and worship Him with all her heart anyway.

Our congregations are full of people like Elisabeth, and these are the people He delights to use. I found a very interesting thing when I dug into the Hebrew meaning of the word 'barren': it means 'stiff and unnatural' but comes from a root word meaning solid, stable and steadfast' and this in turn comes from a word meaning 'to stand, abide, covenant'. So, deep down in the foundations of someone who appears barren, there is actually a strength and stability, a covenant relationship with the Lord. They may be a bit inflexible and stiff concerning new things happening in the church, they may not be up at the front moving in the power of the Spirit, but in God's eyes they don't carry the stigma their brothers and sisters in the Body attach to them. They are solid rock Christians, the salt of the earth, not powerhouses maybe but you can count on them!

This is the wonderful lesson to be learnt from Zechariah and Elisabeth's lives: just because God hasn't used you up to now doesn't mean you are unuseable! There is nothing wrong with you, it just means that your appointed time of participating in God's prophetic purposes hasn't arrived until now! Barrenness just means that God has been keeping your spiritual womb set apart and undefiled by the agendas of man so that He can use you in His kairos moment to participate in His purposes! When the angel Gabriel spoke to Zechariah, he said, " Do not fear, Zechariah. For your prayer is heard, and your wife Elizabeth shall bear you a son, and you shall call his name John." This is amazing because obviously he is not referring to a prayer that Zechariah prayed last week. He himself said he was 'an old man, and my wife well stricken in years'. Beloved, the angel is referring to prayers prayed many years before when the couple were young and it was the expected time to bear children. You can guarantee that they had long since given up praying for that particular issue. Yet here is the angel saying that God has not forgotten or mislaid that prayer request! What an encouragement for us. I believe that we are going to see God answering prayer issues that we have long since laid to rest on the altar of His sovereignty. It wasn't that you prayed wrong or were out of the will of God. There is just the issue of God's appointed times in executing His will in the earth! God doesn't come at the expected time and sometimes He waits until everyone else has written you off and then in He sweeps and turns your life upside-down.

The name of this child that would be born is important. John means 'the favor of God'. Here is a woman who has seemingly walked under God's disapproval and disqualification because of 'barrenness' now bringing forth something that clearly has the badge of God's favor upon it! Beloved, He is going to remove our shame and the reproach of unfruitfulness and men are going to acknowledge that the favor of God rests upon our lives. Isaiah 61 says:

For your shame ye shall have double; and for confusion they shall rejoice in their portion: therefore in their land they shall possess the double: everlasting joy shall be unto them.

God heard your heart's request and the answer is coming and it is going to leave you speechless just as it did Zechariah! This is God's idea and you are not going to be able to water it down by just calling it what people would expect - it was traditional for babies to be named after their fathers or at least someone in their family line so that everything would be respectable but no! – this idea is going to ruffle feathers and shake up the religious mindsets even before it can speak for itself and you are not going to have words to explain what is happening! This is why you will need to draw apart like Elisabeth did, to spend time before the Lord gaining understanding of His purposes and plan that is growing within you. By the time Mary came to visit, Elisabeth understood where she fitted into the whole picture and was able to mentor Mary.

What is interesting in the unfolding of God's redemptive purpose in the earth is that first He used a barren womb to produce something to prepare the way and then He used a virgin womb to bring forth the manifestation of Christ in the earth. From 'used but unfruitful' to 'untouched and virgin'. What a story of God's creative restoring power at work! It is done the same way in our lives. First God takes our barrenness and shame and transforms it to fruitfulness. But this is just the preparation for God's main event, the manifestation of His Son! The outworking of the spirit of Elijah (which was also seen in John) prepares the way within us and transforms us into a virgin womb to receive the seed of the Son, so that we bring forth Christ in the earth. If you think people are shook-up by the appearance of 'John' in your life, wait until 'Jesus' manifests in power!

The marks and effects of John's life were an outpouring of joy, holiness, repentance and a fullness of the Spirit and a mighty move of evangelism and souls being brought into the kingdom. All of this was a preparation so that there would be a readiness for the Lord's appearing:

Luk 1:14 And you shall have joy and gladness, and many shall rejoice at his birth. For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, and shall neither drink wine nor strong drink. And he shall be filled with the Holy Spirit, even from his mother's womb. And he shall turn many of the sons of Israel to the Lord their God And he shall go before Him in the spirit and power of Elijah, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just, to make ready a people prepared for the Lord.

I see from this that will be a move in the Body of Christ manifesting a return to holiness and repentance. Both John and Jesus preached the same message, "Repent for the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand" but John did no miracles. John baptized in water which is representative of a washing with the Word and signifies teaching on sin, righteousness and judgment so that people can learn to discern between good and evil. This will bring repentance. John said that following him, there will be a fresh baptism with the Holy Spirit and fire. , and this will bring forth an unprecedented wave of evangelism in power and then there will be the manifestation of the sons of God through miracles and signs following the preaching of the Word.

In Malachi 3 God addresses the cry of His people for Him to visit them and explains that He will come but first it will be as a refiner's fire and a fuller's soap to clean up His priests. This is the message of John the Baptist – bear fruit in keeping with repentance. Then after this in Malachi 4, the Sun of Righteousness arises with healing in His wings.

So, Beloved, expect first a conviction of sin and a deep desire within you to be wholly set apart for the Lord. This is God's work of preparation in you before you can bring forth Christ in the earth. Listen to the prophesy that Zechariah spoke over his son:

Luk 1:76 And thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the Highest: for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways; To give knowledge of salvation unto his people by the remission of their sins, Through the tender mercy of our God; whereby the dayspring from on high hath visited us, To give light to them that sit in darkness and in the shadow of death, to guide our feet into the way of peace.

This work of the Holy Spirit will cause us to return to the good old paths, to get rid of the rampant outgrowth of wickedness in our lifestyles and to be restored to life of peace with God.

John was the introduction to the main attraction but there was a consistency between His message and Jesus' message. Whatever the Lord is going to express through your life, there will be consistency whether you are walking out the prophetic preparation or the manifestation of Christ. Both will shake up the establishment and bring conflict with those of a religious spirit. Expect it! Remember there is always a season of seclusion with God's appointed mentors when we carry His purposes in our spiritual wombs. Both Elisabeth and Mary were hidden from the general public during the first months of their pregnancy, being mentored by the Holy Spirit personally or a spirit-filled person. Don't rush around telling everyone what you carry in your womb as soon as you conceive. Wait until you gain understanding and it starts to take shape within you and then the 'bump' will start to show anyway, you will not be able to hide it although you may not have a very rational explanation to give people!

Zechariah means 'God has remembered'. Beloved, God has not overlooked your labor of love and you will reap a harvest if you faint not. Your prayers have been heard, God has not forgotten and the answer is coming to turn your lives upside down and you will be a co-laborer with God, bringing forth His purposes at His appointed seasons! You are not barren after all, just in the Kairos waiting room. Prepare to be stretched beyond the mindsets of your religious community and family. You are going to bring forth something of a different spirit!

The Bounce Back Cloud

Kathie Walters

GOD IS LOOKING TO RELEASE A NEW LEVEL OF HIS GLORY.

THIS IS THE TIME to receive a deeper and stronger anointing. Did you realize that God's glory is meant to be a part of your life? It is the inheritance of the Body of Christ. It is already promised.

In 2 Corinthians, chapter three, it says that we are changed from glory to glory. As we behold the glory of the Lord, we are changed from glory to glory even as by the Spirit of the Lord.

It's Not by Might or Power...

It has nothing to do with man's effort to try and strive to please God. Trying can be very trying; it is not trying, it is yielding to the Spirit.
"He that has entered into His rest, has also ceased from his own works."* -- Hebrews 4:10
He (Jesus) is going to present you faultless before the Presence of His glory with exceeding joy (Jude 24). You are His trophy.
"He that began a good work in you WILL perform it unto the day of Jesus Christ."* -- Phil 1:6

The Bounce-back Cloud

While I was in Switzerland, recently, I awoke one night -- it was as if I was wrestling with a dark cloud. Although I had some things specifically related to Switzerland, God did also give me a word for us all.

I saw this dark cloud over the church or rather, much of the church. Then I saw intercessors pray, and the cloud would move away. But then it would come right back again. I wondered why it seemed so persistent in its bounce-back manner.

So, I began to ask the Lord about it. He told me: "The Body of Christ needs to get uncovered from layers that are hiding My Glory." You see, you don't have to plead and beg for God to send His glory -- He already did. After the death and resurrection of Christ Jesus, His glory was released. We are changed FROM GLORY TO GLORY, remember. But His glory on the church gets covered with religion and sin.

So.. Back to the Cloud...

Jesus said, "The same judgments you make will come back to you again," (Matthew 7:1-2). That's pretty serious isn't it?

So How do you make wrong judgments? What if you make judgments that aren't righteous? What if your judgments are biased? What if they are not the same as God's judgments?
"God Judgments are true and righteous altogether. . ."* -- Revelation 19:2
Well, according to Jesus, those same judgments you make are going to come back to you. They are the cloud that keeps the glory from being manifested in your life and ministry the way God wants His inheritance to be seen on you and in you.

So let me explain a little about judgments. The Bible says that God's judgments are true and righteous altogether. It was prophesied of Jesus, "He will not judge by the seeing of the eye, nor the hearing of the ear," (Isaiah 11:3). God is the righteous judge, and He alone is able to discern the heart and thoughts and intents of the heart. To make ourselves the judge and dispenser of judgment is pride and folly.

If you judge another, then you presume that you are above them and therefore able to know someone else's heart, [then] that's making yourself equal with God. That's very scary, as the Bible is clear about the consequences of pride. "God resists the proud, and gives grace to the humble," (James 4:6). If you want to receive grace, then you have to give grace.

There is nowhere in the Bible where we are told to judge another. You know we all do dumb things sometimes, and we say things without thinking -- but that doesn't mean that someone has a wicked heart. Jesus said that the same judgment you measure out to someone else is going to return to you. God responds to the heart.

He May Not Sound Like You!

There may be someone who doesn't sound like you, doesn't look like you, [and] doesn't tie in with your particular brand of Christianity, but you know what? That doesn't mean that God's spirit is not using them, maybe in a more powerful way than He is using you.
"He has shown thee, oh Man, what is good and what does the Lord requires of thee - but to do JUSTLY and to LOVE MERCY and to WALK HUMBLY WITH YOUR GOD." -- Micah 6:8
God isn't asking your opinion. He loves you, but He is not asking your permission to use anyone. He sends His servants to bless and build up His Body. The Body of Christ is precious, bought with the precious blood of the LAMB.

The Holy Spirit is the encourager; He builds up, He edifies, He strengthens, and He makes life.

God builds, and with your judgment, you can tear down what He is building. Did you know your words and judgments can abort what the Holy Spirit is doing?

Negative Words Produce Negative Results

When we were in Switzerland, we heard so many negative things about Benny Hinn and other power-ministries. The pity was that God sent Benny to bring an anointing of healing to the people, but the critical and judgmental religious spirit aborted healing from the people making the judgments and also aborted it from other people who were sick and needed a miracle.

God didn't ask your opinion before He deposited Benny Hinn with a powerful healing anointing. Maybe if you have a stronger healing anointing, you might be in a position to say a few things. All judgment comes out of pride.

Break the power of negative words. If negative and judgmental words have gone into your ears, you need to break their power and ask the Holy Spirit to get them out. Words sow seeds in the back of the mind.

False judgment can open the door to all kinds of negative things. If it is negative based, it will produce negative things: sickness, depression, confusion, etc. Don't eat of that spirit. It is poisonous, and it is witchcraft.

I once sat next to a lady during a meeting. The lady was very angry and irritated with the well-known speaker (not without reason), and she made angry comments to me during the meeting. I didn't realize that those words had gone into me at that time until a year later, when the Lord told me that I needed to forgive the minister we were listening to in that meeting.

I was not consciously angry with him, but her words had gone into me and sowed seeds without my realizing it. God is looking for some righteous people who will not enter into the spirit of false judgment, nor partake of it.

Ask the Holy Spirit

Ask the Holy Sprit to bring to your mind people you judged, the churches, ministries, or your own friends. Maybe it was only a "little" judgment. Maybe you spoke out your little judgmental words into the ears of someone else -- like that lady did to me; it causes others to make wrong judgments and then the cloud comes back on them too.

Wouldn't you love to have the glory of God around you all the time? Wouldn't you love to have His presence manifested all day long? Where you work? Where you play, where you pray, and where you worship?

[I have] one more story so that you really understand what I'm saying. David was going to minister in a house group years ago in Georgia. This was on the Sunday we were supposed to speak. We had not met this particular house group leader before, so one of the elders of this church took us on Saturday evening to meet the leader at his home.

Spirit of Adultery

We arrived with our host, myself, David, and Sue (Sue was a young woman traveling with us at the time.) When the house group leader opened the door to greet us, I saw a spirit of adultery in his eyes when I shook his hand. It was bold, and the incident took me by surprise, so it threw me. He invited us into the living room, and there were several people visiting, standing around the room talking. Much to my surprise, who was sitting there in an armchair was an old minister friend of ours, Arthur Burt.

Arthur had been a spiritual dad to us years before when we were in revival in London. My mind was racing like the Energizer bunny.

"If I can see this spirit of adultery, surely Arthur can see it too. Why doesn't he DO something? Maybe he can't see it; maybe he's not as spiritual [as] I thought he was." I was trying to talk to him across the room with my eyes. Have you ever done that? "Why don't you do something?" I was trying to say. Meanwhile Sue was doing the same thing to me -- trying to talk to me with her eyes. We must have looked really weird.

The Word Came Out

Arthur was talking to a lady on his right -- seemingly oblivious. After about 30 minutes, Arthur put his glass of orange juice on the table. Then [he] gave out a VERY LOUD tongues and interpretation. [It was] something to this effect: "You have until this time tomorrow to uncover or be discovered by the Spirit of God." There was a silence for a few minutes in the room, then Arthur picked up his juice and resumed his conversation with the lady next to him.

"I couldn't use you Kathie."

When I got back to the place we were staying, I went back to the bedroom and closed the door. "OK," I said to God. It was a question not a statement.
"I couldn't use you, Kathie, because when you SAW the spirit, you already judged the man," the Lord spoke to me. Then I saw, clearly, what happened. Arthur had been around in the ministry for a long time, at least 50 years at that time. I am sure he must have seen that spirit of adultery, although, I never asked him about it. But he didn't KNOW until God told him. When the anointing came on him, he just obeyed and gave out the word.

But it had nothing to do with him. He was detached from it; it was between the leader and God. Arthur was just a vessel -- a vehicle. Incidentally, we had a great meeting that Sunday morning. In the evening, the leader left and took off with another lady in the church! He never did come back as far as I know. The word, by the Spirit, did it's own work. Understand?

So let me encourage you again: ask the Holy Spirit to bring to your mind the people, ministries, and churches that you have judged and made comments about that may have influenced others to make wrong judgments about.
It might take a few days; [it] might take a week, but God wants you to think His thoughts. If you want to receive grace, you have to give grace. Then the glory of God will be manifested more in your life and ministry. If people have made false judgments about you, you need to break that Spirit of witchcraft over yourself.

The Glory of God

It's your inheritance. God wants to walk with you and fellowship with you. He called you as a son and daughter and as a FRIEND. Think His righteous thoughts and learn to see what He sees.

Many Blessings

The Bird Flu And Hurricane Katrina

Rick Joyner

As I have shared with our local church, conferences, and through our Prophetic Bulletin over the last few months, it was only a matter of time before the media would realize the seriousness of the coming "bird flu" plague. That is now happening. The threat from this flu is very real, and it does have the potential to be just as deadly as the scientific community is stating. Even the terrible scenarios that are being projected are almost all being purposely understated to prevent panic. This is understandable, but even the understated warnings are causing great fear and panic for some. However, this is not understandable for a Christian, nor acceptable.

Even the "best case" scenarios would make this plague the worst disaster in human history. The time is now here when Christians must know and abide in the peace of God. If we have true faith, we must also have the peace of God which remains calm in the midst of any storm. We have been given a kingdom that cannot be shaken. If we have built our lives on it, everything that can be shaken is shaken. We are told this in Hebrews 12, and through even the greatest shaking, we will remain steadfast and a sanctuary in the storm. Do not let anything steal your peace.

If you feel like the situations that are now coming upon the world are beyond control, you are right. They are beyond human control. This is the primary reason for the great time of trouble or tribulation that is coming upon the world. It is the result of mankind trying to run the world without God. After this time, all of creation will know for all of eternity that this was a bad idea. We need God. We need Him for our personal lives, and we need Him in all human affairs. Everyone who scoffs at this as being "a crutch" will soon wish they had one, and we need to be ready to share ours with them.

Resolve every time that you feel fear and panic rising in you to read Psalm 91, and other Scriptures that promise God's protection. He will protect His people who have made Him their refuge. If the Word Himself has taken His stand against the devil with "it is written," how much more should we? There is only one answer to the problems that are coming upon the world, and we know Him. Determine every time when you begin to feel fear that you are going to trust God and grow in the peace of God. Fight the fear with "it is written." What He has promised us is absolute truth. It is a rock, and it will not shake, even when the entire world is shaking.

As I have been sharing in these Special Bulletins, we must learn all that we can from the Hurricane Katrina disaster because we are going to need that understanding for the times that are coming upon the world. The church is not only going to be safe during these times, but we will be building while everything else is collapsing. However, we must learn to face the greatest human devastation and chaos, wade into it, bring order, and get the job done. Our resolve and peace will help many others find the same Source that we have.

It Is a Good Day to Die

We must also learn to die well. If that statement alarms you, you are the one I am probably addressing this to. If we truly believe in the resurrection, not just as a doctrine, but as the sure promise that it is from Almighty God who cannot lie, then we, above all people on the earth, should be able to die with joy, not fear. As I have heard from many hospital workers, not many Christians die well. Something is profoundly wrong with this. Regardless of whom we are or what we have, we should be looking forward to the day of our death with great desire for "the joy that is set before us."

One of the most important Christian teachings and disciplines is the call that we have to take up our crosses and "die daily." If we have died to this world, as we have been called to do, it is impossible for us to fear. What does a dead man fear? One who is already dead to this world does not fear anything on the earth. This must be our resolve.

The number one strategy of the devil in these times is to control the world through fear. The Lord leads His people through faith. The times are going to increasingly reveal those who have true faith and those who do not. Psalm 32 is an important word for us, especially verses 6-11, which is quoted below:

"Therefore, let everyone who is godly pray to You in a time when You may be found; surely in a flood of great waters they will not reach him. You are my hiding place; You preserve me from trouble; You surround me with songs of deliverance. Selah. I will instruct you and teach you in the way which you should go; I will counsel you with My eye upon you. Do not be as the horse or as the mule which have no understanding, whose trappings include bit and bridle to hold them in check, otherwise they will not come near to you. Many are the sorrows of the wicked, but he who trusts in the Lord, lovingkindness shall surround him. Be glad in the Lord and rejoice, you righteous ones; and shout for joy, all you who are upright in heart." -- Psalm 32:6-11

The recent earthquakes, tsunamis, and hurricanes are already taxing the whole world's relief efforts. The worst natural disasters in human history are continuing to be topped by succeeding ones. The Lord and the prophets have all made it clear that this would come upon the world in the last days, but this should not cause fear in Christians, but rather rejoicing--not because we are rejoicing at the suffering of others, but because our redemption is drawing near.

The kingdom is coming, and our King is going to restore the earth to the paradise He created it to be. He is going to remove all disease, pain, cruelty and suffering, and wipe every tear away from every eye. The tragic lessons of the part of creation that is trying to live without its Creator are nearly over--and the joys of redemption and restoration are about to begin. The kingdom is at hand, even at the door.

However, we must understand this door. As Paul said in Acts 14:22: "Through many tribulations we must enter the kingdom of God." The Lord does not allow troubles to come upon His people without purpose, and the basic purposes are: 1) to help conform us to the image of Christ, and 2) to help us find the entry into the kingdom in that area of our life. The "great tribulation" (see Matthew 24:21) or the "great time of trouble" are also doors for the whole world to enter into the kingdom, and that will be the result.

It Is Time to Take the Land

After reciting the events and trials of Israel in the wilderness after leaving Egypt, we are told in I Corinthians 10:11, "Now these things happened to them as an example, and they were written for our instruction, upon whom the ends of the ages have come." Everything that Israel went through is a prophetic parallel of what the church would go through, and how we, too, will enter the Promised Land, the kingdom of God. In this light, let us consider the prophetic significance of Joshua 3:3-4, 14-17.

"When you see the ark of the covenant of the Lord your God with the Levitical priests carrying it, then you shall set out from your place and go after it. However, there shall be between you and it a distance of about 2,000 cubits by measure. Do not come near it, that you may know the way by which you shall go, for you have not passed this way before."* -- Joshua 3:3-4

"So it came about when the people set out from their tents to cross the Jordan with the priests carrying the ark of the covenant before the people, and when those who carried the ark came into the Jordan, and the feet of the priests carrying the ark were dipped in the edge of the water (for the Jordan overflows all its banks all the days of harvest), that the waters which were flowing down from above stood and rose up in one heap, a great distance away at Adam, the city that is beside Zarethan; and those which were flowing down toward the sea of the Arabah, the Salt Sea, were completely cut off. So the people crossed opposite Jericho. And the priests who carried the ark of the covenant of the Lord stood firm on dry ground in the middle of the Jordan while all Israel crossed on dry ground, until all the nation had finished crossing the Jordan."* -- Joshua 3:14-17

In Scripture, the Jordan River often represents death. That is why both Jesus and John the Baptist baptized there. The Jordan River also empties into the Dead Sea. There was a reason why the Lord commanded the Ark of the Covenant to be carried across the Jordan "about" 2,000 cubits ahead of the rest of the people. The Ark represents Jesus, and the cubits represent years. This was a prophetic statement that the Lord would pass through death to His Promised Land "about" 2,000 years before the rest of His people.

The Lord said that "...the harvest is the end of the age..."(Matthew 13:39), and we read in Joshua 3:15 that "...the Jordan overflows all its banks all the days of the harvest..." This speaks of how death will be overflowing all of its banks all of the days of the harvest, which is the end of the age. Because of this we can expect such natural and human disasters to increase during the coming times.

As all of the Lord Jesus' own prophecies concerning these times make very clear, we are coming to the greatest times of trouble the world has ever known. However, the good news is, if we have built our lives on the kingdom which cannot be shaken, we will not only survive what is coming, but we will prevail and prosper. We are now at the time that the church is going to cross over and begin to possess its Promised Land.

We must also understand that at the very time such great troubles are going to be coming upon the world that "the Jordan River overflows all of its banks," Christians who are walking in the ways of the Lord are going to prosper more than they ever have before. However, this is at the time when death is overflowing all of its banks, so we must learn to keep functioning even when a thousand fall on one side, and then ten thousand on the other.

The Shaking Ahead

The present world systems are being shaken, and this will increase, but if we are abiding in the Lord, we are on a Rock that simply cannot be shaken. However, our prosperity is not so we can live luxuriously, but so we can help the desperate and prepare the way for the coming kingdom. As I recently told one of our U.S. senators, the federal government is going to run out of resources for helping the people through what is to come, but we will be open to lend them some!

I was being serious. Even the federal government of the wealthiest and most powerful nation on earth has limited resources and is running out of them now. Our governments are going to be reduced to the role of just trying to keep order in the times to come, and there will be a time when even that will be beyond their ability. However, we have not only been given a kingdom that will not even shake through what is coming, but a kingdom which has resources that all of the earth, even all of creation, could not exhaust. Those who have built their lives on the kingdom will have increasing access to those resources.

I did not see it, but I was told of an article in one of the country's foremost liberal newspapers that admitted the church was many times more effective at meeting the desperate needs of the people devastated by hurricanes Katrina and Rita. I was just in the disaster area and I can tell you personally that this is true--the church was far more effective than the government in this. The next time we will do much better.

I am not mad or disappointed at the government for this. We are the most foolish of all people if we are putting our hope in the governments of this world. I have actually marveled at how well they have done so far, and I am thankful for a government that will do all it can to help people in need. However, the government does not have the resources that we have--we have the unlimited resources of heaven, and those who have learned how to open the doors and windows of heaven will now see them opening wider and wider.

Paradise Again

In Joshua 3:16,we are told the waters of the Jordan "which were flowing down from above stood and rose up in one heap, a great distance away at Adam." This could have been translated that the waters of the Jordan "were rolled back all the way to Adam." It was no accident that this little town was named "Adam," just as there are no accidents at all in Scripture. This was a prophecy that when God's people begin to pass through this baptism in the Jordan, we will begin possessing all of the promises of God that we are called to inherit, and death will be rolled back all the way to Adam! This means that all of the death which was the consequence of the Fall will be reversed.

For this reason we must prepare ourselves for increasingly great natural and manmade disasters as we get closer to the end of this age. We will need to learn to cope with death all around us and keep on functioning. Just as no general could be successful if he is overly concerned about casualties, we, too, will have to learn to cope with death--even sending forth missions and missionaries that we know will not return. We must not be overly given to grieving or mourning the dead in order to save the living from an even greater, eternal disaster.

The prophecies of these times are fearful for those who are not abiding in the Prince of Peace. Even so, they are the greatest hope and represent the release that the prophets and righteous ones have longed to see come to pass since the beginning. We must understand that the problems are coming, and to avoid looking for them because they make us uncomfortable or fearful is to live in deception. Those very problems are also our greatest opportunities, and we must be ready to seize them.

If we have built our lives on the kingdom, we have nothing to fear, from anything or anyone. Those who have not built their lives on the kingdom will have many things to fear, and it will increase. It is better for them to fear than to go on in their delusions and be in the terrible jeopardy those delusions keep them in. Therefore, we want to see these things for what they are, and be prepared, not to just survive, but to save many others.

Israel's inheritance was the land, and they dispossessed the people who were on it. Our inheritance, which is also the Lord's, is the people. Even though the Jordan will be overflowing its banks, and death will be all around us, the power of His indestructible life will be flowing through us to reap the greatest harvest that the world has ever known. We must not sleep or be distracted while the treasure of the earth is ripe for reaping.

Victory over Death

Baptism is a ritual performed to emphasize an important spiritual reality. The bane of Christianity since the third century has been to substitute rituals for the realities that they represented, and were intended to illuminate. The ritual of baptism was meant to convey the commitment on the part of the one baptized so they would die to themselves to live to Christ. After the third century, one could be baptized in place of living the crucified life, removing the life and power of the cross from the church.

We should not belittle the importance of the ritual. A wedding is a ritual and not the marriage itself, but because marriage is so important it is right to make a big deal out of the ritual. Likewise, it is right to make a big deal out of baptism, communion, and the other important rituals handed down to us, but they must not be allowed to supplant the truths that they were given to us to illuminate. You can dunk someone in the water all day and not have them partake of the death or resurrection of Jesus. There is nothing magical about the water. The power is in the crucified life. The baptism is performed as a commitment to live the crucified life in order that we might also be resurrected with Christ, as we read in Romans 6:4-5:

"Therefore we have been buried with Him through baptism into death, in order that as Christ was raised from the dead through the glory of the Father, so we too might walk in newness of life. For we have become UNITED with Him in the likeness of His death, certainly we shall also be in the likeness of His resurrection." (emphasis mine) -- Romans 6:4-5

We must note here that in this text there is no mention of water! This is not speaking of water baptism, but of what water baptism represents--the crucified life. Paul further conveyed in Romans 6:5:"For if we become united with Him in the likeness of His death, certainly we shall also be in the likeness of His resurrection."

What did the Lord mean when He stated, "I have come to cast fire upon the earth; and how I wish it were already kindled! But I have a baptism to undergo, and how distressed I am until it is accomplished!" (Luke 12:49-50)? Was the baptism that was distressing Him simply being immersed in water? Of course not. He was referring to His impending crucifixion. That crucifixion is also the meaning of our baptism.

Jesus was likewise referring to the baptism into His crucifixion when James and John asked to be seated on His right and left in the kingdom. He said, "You do not know what you are asking for. Are you able to drink the cup that I drink, or to be baptized with the baptism with which I am baptized?" (Mark 10:38).

It is a basic spiritual principle that death is the path to life in Christ. We are called to live now by the power and authority of the resurrected life of Christ, but by its very definition one cannot experience a resurrection without first experiencing a death. To be baptized with His baptism is to be conformed to the purpose of His death, the laying down of our own lives for the sake of others.

When the church reduced the truth of the crucified (and thereby resurrected) life to a mere ritual, it has robbed the Lord of our consecration, the church of its salvation, and has stolen from the world the power of the gospel. There are many Scriptures that make the meaning of this very clear. The following are just a few of them, which I encourage you to read carefully as their importance is literally life and death:

"For if we died with Him, we shall also live with Him; If we endure, we shall also reign with Him. . ." -- II Timothy 2:11-12

"The Spirit Himself bears witness with our spirit that we are the children of God, and if children, heirs also, heirs of God and fellow heirs with Christ, IF INDEED WE SUFFER WITH HIM IN ORDER THAT we may also be glorified with Him." (emphasis mine) -- Romans 8:16-17

"That I may know Him, and the power of His resurrection and the FELLOWSHIP OF HIS SUFFERINGS, being conformed to His death, IN ORDER THAT I may attain to the resurrection from the dead." (emphasis mine) -- Philippians 3:10-11

"For to you it has been granted for Christ's sake, not only to believe in Him, but also to suffer for His sake." -- Philippians 1:29

"We ought always to give thanks to God for you, brethren, as is only fitting, because your faith is greatly enlarged, and the love of each one of you toward one another grows ever greater; therefore, we ourselves speak proudly of you among the churches of God for your perseverance and faith in the midst of all your persecutions and afflictions which you endure. This is a plain indication of God's righteous judgment so that you may be considered worthy of the kingdom of God, for which indeed you are suffering." -- II Thessalonians 1:3-5

"We are afflicted in every way, but not crushed; perplexed, but not despairing; persecuted, but not forsaken; struck down, but not destroyed; ALWAYS carrying about in the body the dying of Jesus, that the life of Jesus also may be manifested in our body. For we who live are constantly being delivered over to death for Jesus' sake, that the life of Jesus may also be manifested in our mortal flesh." (emphasis mine) -- II Corinthians 4:8-11

The Lord made it clear in His Word--if we are to partake of His life, we must also partake of His death "that they who live should no longer live for themselves, but for Him" (II Corinthians 5:15). Any other teaching is a false gospel and an enemy of the cross. Death separates the things that are natural from the things that are spiritual. Again, to have a resurrection, there must first be a death. If we want to walk in the resurrection life of Jesus, we must be willing to lay down our lives for Him.

Pray for Our Governments

As I recently had a conversation with a high-ranking man in world affairs, and is in a position to know what world leaders are doing, he told me straightforwardly that President Bush is one of the few world leaders who has sought to understand and prepare his nation for the expected unprecedented plague released by the "bird flu." The best case scenario for what this will do on the earth will make it worse than the plagues of the Middle Ages. The worst case is incomprehensible. We have been given a wise leader for the times, and we do need to pray for him. He is not being a fear monger in asking for the authority to use the military for such things as quarantines of regions of the country. Though quarantines will not really work for this, these troops will be needed to keep order.

It is almost incomprehensible that he has done so well facing so many problems during his presidency. He has not handled any of them perfectly, and only the greatest fools should expect that of any human being in this world. He has done very well, but his greatest trials are likely still ahead of him.

In the coming Bulletins, I will focus more on some very practical things we must do, and more of the lessons we are now learning from the disasters that have been coming upon us. We cannot run from this. There is nowhere to go. Just as true warriors run to the sound of battle, not away from it--we must learn to run to the cries for help and lead them to the Helper, who is the Remedy for every human problem. You already have Him. Let Him fix all of your problems, and determine that you are going to grow in trust in Him every day. Then resolve that you are going to help others do the same. That is why we are here. If we have been chosen to live, it is to do a job. Let's get on with it.

The Bunny Hole

Mary Clark

April 24, 2005

In a vision, I saw a small, brown bunny, scampering hurriedly close to the side of a fence. Then he went into a hole that led to the other side of the fence. Here is what the Lord has to say about this vision:

Many of My children are looking for a way out of their present situation. I have these words for you: When you feel that "life" has dealt you a bad hand, know that nothing has gotten past Me. Know that I know exactly what is going on and I know just how perplexed you are. Know that I will make a way of escape.

My timing may not be up to your satisfaction, but believe Me when I say that My timing is always perfect.

I see many of you in dire straights, longing for major change – a major breakthrough. I tell you that help is on the way. I have a way for you to escape from your present situation. It is waiting for you. It is open for you, and you will come upon it at the opportune time. Just be patient with Me, beloved. I just want you to be patient with Me!!!

The Big One

Rosalie Snyder

Dear Bill
I have never posted anything on the internet. My daughter in AZ. "found" your website last night and tonight on the phone shared it with me. As I was reading through some of these, I was compelled to send this vision to you. Last year is when I was compelled to put it on paper and send it to President Bush. I praise God for your website!!!!!!!! I live in the Bible Belt, but it seems no one is on the same page that I am on. The Lord kept telling me to keep learning from Him and listening what the Spirit is saying, that I am not alone. Sure enough.......reading some of these postings, I read so many things I also have been told.

THE VISION

This vision was given to me in the late 1970's. I saw the whole United States. It was as if I was looking down from a satellite.

As I looked, I saw our country split apart from top to bottom right along the Mississippi River. The split was as wide and deep as the Grand Canyon and no bridge could ever span it. I knew instantly I was seeing an earthquake. The magnitude was 9.3. As I saw the earthquake happening, I heard 9.3.

I said, "Lord, man says the big one will be California and it will drop off into the ocean". He replied, "that's what man says, I say it will be here". I told very few people this vision, but always kept it in my heart as I know it was a vision from the Lord.

In the fall of 1996, as I was vacuuming my living room, I heard these words....."what you have done to me, I will do to you". I stopped dead in my tracks, turned off the vacuum and stood silent. I knew it was the Lord speaking to me and His voice was firm and serious. Then I spoke, "Lord, what have I done to you"? I thought I had offended and angered Him! Then He said, "What you have done to me, I WILL do to you. You have divided My land, I will divide yours". Then I saw the vision again of our country split by the earthquake. Very same vision - 20 years later. Then instantly, I saw like an instant replay on a television screen, the news conference that showed Yassar Arafat, President Clinton and Isreal's Prime Minister standing together with President Clinton standing in the center of the three as they were telling the world their "Land for Peace" agreement. I dropped my head and cried. Man has no regard for the Holy Covenant God made with Abraham, Isaac and Jacob and His chosen people.

I found in the Holy Scriptures, Obadiah 15 says, :"For the day of the Lord is near upon all the heathen: as thou hast done, it shall be done unto thee: thy reward shall return upon thine own head". Obadiah is only one chapter----It is "The Vision of Obadiah". Awesome words for the time we are living in. Joel 3:2 tells about "and parted my land".

I have been compelled to write the vision. Habakkuk 2:2-3 "And the Lord answered me, and said, Write the vision, and make it plain upon tables, that he may run that readeth it. For the vision is yet for an appointed time, but at the end it shall speak, and not lie: though it tarry, wait for it: because it will surely come, it will not tarry".

October 22, 2003 - In reading the scripture 3:15am - I read in Genesis 41:32 "and for that the dream was doubled unto Pharaoh twice: it is because the thing is established by God, and God will shortly bring it to pass". I immediately remembered this vision and that it was given to me TWICE. 20 years apart.

The British Lion to Roar Again
Wendy Alec – Dave Hood

Great Britain Land Of End Time Destiny
Wendy Alec

Oh Great Britain, Great Britain, isle of walls and of fortresses, I tell you that even as the glory of the Lord has departed from the Lion [Great Britain], so the glory of the Lion of Judah shall return; and My glory shall rest upon the Lion, and the Lion, once again, shall open its mouth and its roar shall be heard again among the nations of this earth.

For, even as in times past the Lion whelped many, many cubs and sent its missionaries even to the uttermost parts of the earth, so I tell you that the glory of these latter days shall be greater than that of the former. And even though in centuries past I sent missionaries out from this nation -- even to Africa, to India, to China and beyond -- so I tell you, beloved, that in the decades to come, a great mobilizing of My called out ones shall occur -- of men and women and boys and girls from these shores. Those who even slumber at this time shall start to arise, says the Lord.

I AM ABOUT TO BLOW THE TRUMPET

For even as many of My children, even as much of My Church in Great Britain, slumbers even this day, so I declare that I am about to blow the trumpet, says the Lord. Yes, I, the Lord God of Hosts, am about to blow the trumpet in Zion, and it shall resound with a mighty roar from the heavens; and My glory shall start to fall and My Church and My called out ones shall rouse themselves from their stupor and from their slumber, says the Lord. For even now I have heard the prayers of my people.

Even now, although it be but a remnant, I have heard the prayers of the watchmen on the walls of Great Britain -- the watchmen who neither slumber nor sleep. And even as they have cried out to Me in the midnight hour for Britain to heed My voice and to seek My face, so I tell you, My children, that the day of the Lord is appearing.

And they shall rise from the East and from the West of this isle; they shall rise from the Southernmost tip to the North. And Scotland -- yes, Scotland, says the Lord -- yes, My burning fire shall be ignited in the furthermost parts of the North. My glory shall light a flame, says the Lord, that shall sweep across divides and denominations. And the Pentecostals and the Evangelicals and the Anglicans, the Methodists, the Catholics, and all who revere My Name and the sacrifice of My Son shall unite with one heart and as one body -- and that flame shall be seen across this land; and the cities and the villages of this nation shall start to burn with the fervency and the hunger of the living God.

For even as My Church has been bound by the shackles of compromise and passivity, I tell you that in this coming day and in this coming hour, My firebrands shall start to rise.

LIKE WILBERFORCE, MY APOSTOLIC VOICES SHALL RISE IN THE HOUSES OF PARLIAMENT

And, like Wilberforce, My apostolic voices shall rise in the Houses of Parliament; they shall arise in London, they shall arise in Edinburgh, they shall arise in the North of England. And even as the unions had a voice in past years that was strident and rose above the crowds and became the voice of the masses, so in like manner shall My Church's voice start to be heard in a manner far above and beyond this present day.

And so I shall raise My apostles and they shall stand at the city gates and the gates of trading, and they shall stand in the government, and they shall stand in the media and in the banking institutions and in businesses, and they shall stand in the clergy of this nation. And I shall raise up my prophets -- and they shall rise -- and their faces will be as flint. And even as John Knox's voice rang out above Scotland, I tell you that My prophets' voices shall start to rise in this nation. And I call my intercessors, I call my intercessors: Pray, Pray! Do not desist from your prayers, for even that which you have perceived in your spirits and that which you have yearned for -- it is almost upon you.

A MIGHTY FLOOD OF EVANGELISTS

For surely the day of the missionaries dawns once more upon these shores. For surely the day of the gospel going forth to the uttermost parts of the earth dawns once more upon these shores. And as My fire starts to fall across Great Britain, I tell you that the men and women, boys and girls shall feel the call to leave these isles and to travel to the continents of the earth to preach My gospel.

And a mighty flood of evangelists -- a mighty throng of missionaries -- shall leave this nation, and I shall thrust them into the four corners of the earth. And they shall go to Japan, and they shall go to Beijing, and they shall go to Africa -- East and West; and they shall go to Europe and to the Middle East, and I shall spread them as a net over the continent of Asia.

And I shall open doors to My gospel that have previously been shut -- even the doors of iron and of brass shall be opened unto the missionaries from the British Isles: Vietnam, North Korea, and beyond. And there shall be a great flood and a torrent of My gospel that shall once more go forth from this land.

And I shall send Bibles from this land. And I shall send resources, resources, resources from Great Britain, that will feed, that will clothe, that will build, that will teach, and that will establish My gospel in the four corners of the earth. For this is the destiny of this land in latter days, says the Lord, to resource, to nurture, to establish, to preach My gospel. And even as in past days this Empire was established, so I tell you that in this coming day and this coming hour it shall be the Empire of the Great King of Heaven that shall be established.

THE RISE OF ONE IN GREAT BRITAIN WITH A ROD OF IRON AND MY GOVERNMENT UPON HIS SHOULDERS

And there has yet to rise from these shores one who has a rod of iron. In the decades to come, you shall yet see one rise who has My government upon his shoulders. He shall rise in the government and he shall rise in this nation, and he shall rule with a rod of iron, says the Lord. He will come at such a time when Great Britain is faltering -- and I shall do this because of the prayers of My people.

For there shall be a great swarm that shall rise against these isles in the decades to come. A great swarm as an army will arise across the waters around this nation, but this man with the rod of iron shall stand firm. And the nation shall take courage, and the lionheart of Britain shall arise as one, and the great swarm shall turn back and, even in an instant, be stopped in their tracks, says the Lord

THE GREAT JOINING OF THE LION AND THE EAGLE

And there will be a great joining of the Lion and the Eagle. And even as the voices in the streets and the byways -- the murmuring, the complaining, of any alliance between the United States and Britain -- so I tell you that these voices neither discern the times nor the purposes of the Living God. For even as the Eagle came to the Lion's aid in times gone by, so I tell you that in this coming season, once again, this alliance between the Lion and the Eagle shall be forged. And the forge shall not be broken, says the Lord, because it is destined by Heaven.

And a great wave of prayer shall rise up from the East Coast of America through the heartland to the West -- and that wave of prayer and intercession shall wash across Britain as a fiercely burning flame, and shall cleanse and protect. But in the years ahead, so the prayers of the saints in Britain shall rise and, like a wave, they shall spread across America -- to preserve and protect -- and a great joining shall occur; and this joining shall not be the joining of man, says the Lord, but the joining of Almighty God.

And this nation shall return to its Christian roots. It shall RETURN to its Christian roots! And the glory of the Lion of Judah shall once more return and rest upon the Lion.

IF My people repent of the sins of this nation and humble themselves and pray.

The Iceberg
Dave Hood

(England UK)

Imagine if you will an iceberg, its tip appearing above the water. In fact only one seventh of the iceberg is above water. The other six sevenths, is submerged. Consider what this means. There is more of it in the dark than the light, as yet only a small part of the iceberg is exposed or seen.

Consider the state and form of this berg which is underneath the surface of the water. It is in the dark, away from the light. At best it may dwell in an icy grey light, that is neither in day, yet it is neither in night.

Such is the heart of man. Such is the heart of a nation.

However, Gods purpose for this cold, hard, grey icy mass is to expose it to the Light of His Son, bringing it out of dark light, twilight, into daylight. The greater (6/7ths), becoming more visible than the lesser (1/7th)……thereby turning the heart of man through the impossible angle. Exposing the darkest parts to the light, that shines from the surface of The Son. Turning the heart of man, the heart of a nation, upside down.

The world has yet to see the full heart of God in man turned loose in the world.

The Lord desires to melt the ice grey heart, for the iceberg, in its present state, only causes the water around it to grow cold at its touch. Within the body of man, within its place in its world, touching adversely his closest neighbour. As the sun beams down onto its surface, warming and melting the berg, the berg warms and melts and the waters cool.

If an ice berg were turned upside down in this manner, it would in fact do the impossible. For it would be defying the laws of gravity, the laws of its physics. In the natural realm by itself, it simply is not possible. However in the spiritual realm it is. Consider.

2 Kings 6:1-7
6:1 The Floating Axe Head
And the sons of the prophets said to Elisha, "See now, the place where we dwell with you is too small for us. 2 Please, let us go to the Jordan, and let every man take a beam from there, and let us make there a place where we may dwell."
So he answered, "Go." 3 Then one said, "Please consent to go with your servants." And he answered, "I will go." 4 So he went with them. And when they came to the Jordan, they cut down trees. 5 But as one was cutting down a tree, the iron axe head fell into the water; and he cried out and said, "Alas, master! For it was borrowed." 6 So the man of God said, "Where did it fall?" And he showed him the place. So he cut off a stick, and threw it in there; and he made the iron float. 7 Therefore he said, "Pick it up for yourself." So he reached out his hand and took it. NKJV

The axe head had fallen into the river, it had sunk. It and its purpose were lost. Elisha cut off a stick and threw it there….where it had fallen…and he made the iron float. The application of the stick, a piece of wood, is the application of the cross of God to the waters. There is a return to life, a return to purpose. There is a reversing of the laws of nature.

The greater part of the iceberg is underwater, as a result of the reverse, it’s floating, it’s turning over and through the impossible angle, and a new type of geometry is seen. A new thing. As a result of it turning over the glory of the latter will be greater than the glory of the former. An increase to what was there before.

As an iceberg turns, particularly one of gigantic size and momentum would create great undercurrent and suction. As the air and the sea currents meet, warm meeting between cold, moist air is hit by cold fronts. This causes storms. Cold water in = warm water out.

An iceberg is a significant lump of ice, broken free from its main land mass. It is a floating, moving mass, deceptively large, yet apparently small. The ice berg is if you like, is an island. Not attached to the land at it sides or the ocean bed at its roots. It mirrors the human heart, itself encased in a pericardial sac, and this in turn, lies amidst the human body, itself, mainly composed of water, over 80%

The ice berg is the cold, dense, dark heart of man within the water of the body of man. It in turn is an island amid waters…. An iceberg is an island……and so is Great Britain.

Margaret Thatcher became famous for the quote…"this lady is not for turning". Father God is making a statement about the heart of this country and its place as a nation… "this country IS for turning." And as it turns it will encounter the clear blue heavens of its Fathers love, the warmth of the rays of His Son and will be touched by the clear air of His Spirit. As the chemistry of love and the physics of heaven, meets with the biology of man, the geography of heaven appears and a new map is formed.

As this immense berg turns, its heaving waters will rush to its nearest shores, those of Europe, its neighbour, who will experience the change of its heart and warmth in its waters. May He let us welcome the change to our hearts and the nation it's turning to His purpose. He will finish what He has started, for He is the Mastermind. He wants the mind and the heart of the Master to be within you.

It can be done, it can be done in us, it can be done in this nation and it can be done in this continent…why for as the word says…we each have a beam…and so has a nation…v6 says it…"Please, go to the Jordan, and let every man take a beam from there". We all have access to the cross, to Christ, to Jesus. God knows where we have fallen, where with His work, with ourselves and with this country we have fallen short. But like Elisha and Moses, will we ask v.3 "please consent to come with your servant". The answer is clear...v.7 "Pick it up for yourself"…He was there with His servant, He is there and here with us now, and he already has cut down His tree, his beam, in Jesus and just as He is ascended, He is ready now to again pick up His cross for us now, will we pick up our cross for Him, for His country and His continent.

The British Lion

Wendy Alec and Dave Hood

Vision For Great Britain
Wendy Alec,

I saw several pockets of small fires across Europe . . . the fires of wicked men and organizations. And the Lord said "Holland." Holland was very strong. Then France, and then Spain and Italy. Then the Lord said, "And to the North." It was very clear, and the Holy Spirit's voice was insistent and very strong, "The NORTH, the North, the North . . . " and I had no clear understanding at all what the Lord meant. And then I sensed a circle and heard the Holy Spirit say, "North London, Northern England, Northern Europe," and then I heard "North Africa." This was the circle, and the circle seemed to me to be linked in some way.

"This is the Snare of Heaven"

These fires, God said, were kindling fires. They were very small -- hardly noticeable on the map – but they burned furiously, and had fiercely burning blue flames. And then I saw that some kind of NET was being loosed from the heavenlies down to earth. And I heard the Lord say, "THIS IS THE SNARE OF HEAVEN." And I saw a great angelic host . . . the warring host of Heaven being dispatched across Great Britain and Europe and other Northern-most and Middle-Eastern parts of the earth, with swords that glistened like flaming fires. And the Lord said, "As in the ancient of times, so as My people humble themselves and pray, a great and mighty roar of battle shall be unleashed from the heavenlies, and My mighty warring angels shall go forth, for I shall send them from the North and from the South." God was saying these were the fires of wicked men and organizations across Great Britain and Europe and beyond.

Then I saw prayer start to rise . . . first from small pockets of intercessors across the British Isles. These were not just prayer movements and organizations, but they were the heartfelt prayers of the saints from towns and villages all across Great Britain. These were the praying mothers and grandmothers and grandfathers; these were the prayers of the intercessors across great Britain. And, yes, they were mostly women in their homes and in tiny prayer and home groups, fallen on their knees and on their faces, and I could see that they had the full attention of the Lord.

And then I saw the men – and the men were the ministers of God – and the pastors and the ministers from all across Britain rose and joined their prayers in the Spirit with the prayers of the handmaidens. And the prophets started to prophesy and join with the apostles and the intercessors. And then they were joined by the praying saints from across pockets in Europe and then from the North, East, South and West.

And I saw a great hand arise from the North and the South and the East and the West. And the Lord said, "Because of the heartfelt prayers of My saints, I shall send my Angelic Host and the sound of their battle cry shall resound through the four corners of the earth as they prepare to meet the Princes of Darkness. For I tell you, My children, a great and terrible darkness has been unleashed upon the earth in these days, BUT I am raising up an army. I am raising up a mighty army of My people who will gird themselves up for battle. And as the sound of their voices rises up to me, and as the sound of their prayers of their supplications comes before my throne, so in turn, My mighty warring angels be unleashed to do battle in the heavenlies.

"This is the Hour to Arise"

"And through the prayers of my saints in Great Britain – through the prayers of My saints in Great Britain – through the prayers of the saints and My followers in Great Britain – the stupor and the slumber and the secular humanistic spirits that have bound My people in this nation shall start to uproot. For my Church has had an outward semblance of power – yet its sound has been a whisper. Even as My children have raised their voice in the streets of Great Britain, so the spirits of secularism and humanism have bound the mouths of My saints. But I tell you, my children, there dawns another day," says the Lord. "There dawns a different hour. And I call you, Oh Church, I call you My saints. This is the day and this is the hour to arise," says the Lord. "This is the hour to stir yourselves even as the mighty men of old. Lift your voices and your hearts up to my throne, for this is the day and the hour of supplication."

Then as the saints rose and started to pray – not with lip service but fervent heartfelt prayer from the heart – I saw another fire, with fierce white and orange living flames start to burn, the prayers of the Church in Britain. And although it, too, started in pockets, this was the most incredible fire in the way that it spread across the nation. It was so fierce that as it took on power, it seemed that nothing could stop its path. But the people who created the fire were fallen on their knees. And God said, "Penitent hearts," and I knew, somehow, that these praying saints were repenting on behalf of Britain for the sins of the nation and for the sins of omission of the church in Great Britain.

And these prayers gave the angels much strength. And the snare of the Lord fell like a net across the dark hidden places of the earth. And I saw the terrifying whirlwind of the Lord, like a fierce black whirlwind, literally chase some of the evil blue pockets down . . . the winnowing whirlwind of the Lord of Hosts.

The Lord said, "Bring Back My Glory"

Then the Lord showed me a large lion, and He said, "This lion represents the nation of Great Britain." And it was a shocking sight, for where the lion should have been filled out and sleek and gleaming, was almost a skeleton. And its mane was barely visible, and its coat was covered in mange, and its roar which should have shaken the nations in its power and in its ferocity was strangled and barely audible. And the Lord said, "This represents both the glory of this nation at present and the state of My church as a whole in Great Britain." And I saw in great letters the words: "THE GLORY HAS DEPARTED FROM THE LION, BUT THE GLORY OF THE LORD OF HOSTS SHALL RETURN AND THE LION SHALL ROAR AGAIN."

And the Lord said, "Bring back My glory. Bring back My glory that your nation may once more walk in the glory of its destiny, and the Church may show forth My glory." And the Lord showed me a huge, flourishing green tree that was planted in the European mainland. Its huge trunk seemed to be planted in Brussels, and the foliage had grown so dense that the tree's branches and foliage had grown over the English channel and covered Britain in a great dark shadow. And thousands of smaller offshoots and branches had taken deep root in Great Britain. And I saw the roots tangled and grown into London, and then through the British Isles up all the way to Scotland.

The Lord said, "These are the deep roots of secularism and humanism that have taken deep root in this nation. These are the roots that are eroding this nation's faith!" And I saw thousands upon thousands of people bowing in obedience to this tree, and the roots were tightly twisted around their ankles, but they seemed totally unaware of this, that they were bound. And so they rejected the faith of their fathers.

And I saw a great scoffing and a great decline in the traditions and the foundations of the past. And this mass of people was divided into two camps: the first huge mass of people whose ankles were bound by the gnarling roots of the green tree from Europe were younger and seemed more modern in their approach. And I saw written over their head UNBELIEF, CYNICISM, and HUMANISM. And the foliage and green leaves seemed to shadow their heads, and I sensed that they were being attacked at a cerebral level.

But the second group seemed to be those whose roots and foundations were from the established traditional denominations of Britain, yet they were just as affected as this first group. But I saw written over their heads PRIDE, SKEPTICISM, and CLOSED MINDEDNESS. And I sensed that the roots around their ankles had bound them in a different manner . . . that even if they heard the call of the Spirit in these days, the spiritual forces had them so bound that they could not move with the tide and the times of God. And I saw the green foliage literally cover and shadow their foreheads and eyes, and I saw the word "blinding."

"Humble Yourselves and Put Aside your Opinions and Press into Me"

And I said to the Lord, "Father, what does this mean?" And He said, "The spirits that led Europe into post Christian decline have invaded Great Britain over these past decades and have infiltrated and overshadowed the nation with the same humanism and paganism and secularism. And yet Britain is still so blinded by her roots and her foundations that she is still declaring herself a Christian nation," but the Lord says, "that she has been shackled by the enemy." And I said, "Lord, what can break the shackles?"

And the Lord spoke and said, "The prayers and fervent supplications of my saints in Great Britain. The repentance for the sins of commission and omission on behalf of the governments of Great Britain, on behalf of the people of Great Britain." Then I asked the Lord about the Church, and He showed me thousands of people all belonging to different denominations with divisions and literally multitudes of OPINIONS. And somehow it seemed that the people's opinions were all more important in their eyes than God's opinion, and I heard Him say, "Until their opinions become My opinion, the Church will continue to be divided among itself and be weak and underfed and lack the true POWER of GOD. Oh, yes," says the Lord. "There are many meetings, there are many committees, there are many opinions, opinions, but it is not the opinion and the thoughts of men's hearts that will change the destiny of Great Britain, but the opinion and the thoughts and intents of the word of the Living God. Humble yourselves . . . Humble yourselves and put aside your opinions and press into me, the Living God for a living Word." And the Lord said, "A humble and penitent heart I will not despise." And I saw the words written: DIVISIONS AND FACTIONS.

Then as people dropped to their knees -- all over Britain from every walk of life and denomination – the lion started to change, and He grew strong and sleek and his roar grew stronger. And I saw written in the spirit: "Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me." And as the people started to seek the face of the Lord, I saw the word COURAGE, and I knew that in the spirit realm that Great Britain had been endowed from the beginning of time with the mantle COURAGE, and the Lord said LIONHEART.

And God said Britain has yet to move into her end time destiny in the nations. And I saw again in great letters the words: "THE GLORY HAS DEPARTED FROM THE LION, BUT THE GLORY OF THE LORD OF HOSTS SHALL RETURN." And the lion's roar by now had gained strength.

And then the Lord said, "Manchester – Newcastle – then Birmingham – London – Edinburgh - Glasgow – Southampton – Bournemouth." And I heard Him say "Airports" – not airlines but airports – "Malls – shopping centres" – that He was urging the saints to pray a higher protection over these places and over these things. And I felt Him go back once again to around Manchester; again, I do not understand why. And then he started to speak of Great Britain's destiny . . .

The Body, the Lion and the Medallion
Dave Hood

The Body of Christ is a living organism. It is alive and has eternal and resurrection life. This life does not fade or perish and is without spot or blemish.

It is a living body that has the blood of Jesus flowing and pumping through its heart, for it indeed is moved and positioned with the Heart of the Father. In its body the Heart of the Father appears in human form, but works and ministers with Godly intent. This body is touched with the Spirit and flow from God. It is moved in Him and living in Him.

Each part of the body is a living cell an unique and individual part, separate yet not apart, living yet not detached, joined and not disjointed from the head.

Through each individual cell the blood of Jesus continually flows, the flow of Gods very own blood, into His very own body. It stimulus is received from the beating heart of the Father. The whole body beats and pleads according to flow of the Fathers heart.

O how he is moved! His great heart empties to pour out the blood that is within the inner chambers of His heart. Oh! How it empties itself and is moved to fill up again with love and forgiveness and to swell up again to be engorged with yet more of His Sons blood. Until no more can be taken and is replete in its fullness and goodness . Another beat and is again pushed and expelled outward, cascading from chamber to chamber. His loved poured and forced out by the valves of the beat of His heart, emptying itself of all but love, flowing to each and every part of the body, both distant and close.

The heart of the Father, He has placed in the Body of His church. This heart is not only the heart of His Body, the heart of the Church…it is His own heart, and also the heart of the Lion. The heart of this Great Lion feeds of the feeling within the course and coursing of the lifeblood concerning this nation. As each cell and part becomes filled and alive under its flow, as each gives to it, its flow, it is triggered by yet another and how the vitality reaches and gives to its complete and perfect mobility.

Perfect and complete mobility to the loins and body of the Lion.

As the body of the Lion becomes awake, so does the Nation have its chance for Life, for its Lion Lord is stirred, not that He has been asleep. But this Nation has. The Lion wants this nation Britain to come alive indeed as this country once was and that it would wear once again the Crown that displayed all the Great Lions regality, demonstrating His Sovereignty with pride.

A nation boasting in the strength of its God.

Its royalty and regal ness comes from Him. Here he showed me a coin, or rather a medal, a medallion. This coin was in MINT condition. Its markings and definitions were clear and defined, its lustre was full and its etching and marking were fine. It was plain for all to see and laid out in fresh, in clear and NEW detail. Behold I do a NEW thing.

This coin, medallion seemed to impress upon me the difference between this NEW coin and the faded and dull, and worn hopes of the past. But once again, these old images and hopes were to be RENEWED by the vital and NEW images and lines marked out in the emblem of the coin.

On the face of the coin, was a Lion. Set and standing on all fours, its head raised square and crowned with a Crown. The detail was so precise, and pinpoint clear. The regality and savour of greatness, strength and uprightness was clear for all to see. His poise of its loins and great pads of His paws, legs astride and splayed was strong in every pose. He stands upon, above and in the glory of His nation. This country of Isles, this country of Britain he wishes to form United and to form once again Great. As He is One, so are we to be.

Medallion and coins are especially struck and minted to show and focus on the great deeds and accomplishment of a nation. This medallion HAS ALREADY been STRUCK, to COMMEMORATE and event of HISTORICAL PROPORTION. A final seal has been struck to show the sureness of its final position.

This event in Heaven has already in His mind occurred on earth. To show and encourage us, He has ALREADY struck a coin to COMMEMORATE its happening.

The figure of the Lion on the coin is not bowed down, not loaded or weighed down, not pushed aside for its weakness…but is alive and bold, bright and bristling with vigour with precise, fine meticulous detail, this is the nature of The Lion Lord. This image is an exact representation of His fullness and brightness, surpassed and identified in no other, other than the splendour of the original. This coin can’t be imitated or copied, or passed off as new, no counterfeit can stand and compare against it. As sure as the coin is, so too is the victory of it also sure and sound.

As in the days of this country it is as the Seal of the Commonwealth of Nations, the medal of honour, the medal of remembrance. This medal will be remembered forever. See NOW, it has not faded, it is still there in its ORIGINAL finery, its fullness and detail is not marred by the passing of time or the forgetfulness of man. A piece that is not to be a collector’s item but rather a remembrance of all that is good. Britain once again will rule by the waves of His Spirit and will become Great in its Lion.

The Blood Of Jesus

Catharina Schouten

 1

The blood of Jesus:

- atones
- cleanses us
- sanctifies (redeems) us
- conquered satan then and now
- makes us one with the Father
- empowers us

Many people do want to repent and ask Jesus to come into their life, but they do not allow the blood of Jesus to cleanse and redeem them.
There is and there won't be unity apart from Him and apart from His blood. Likewise you cannot have your soul come 'home' without the blood!

If we go on pointing our fingers at the other, if we keep saying and/or thinking 'It's because of him or her that I am in this situation', 'The others have done wrong', 'I am just a victim. It's not my fault.', 'You Lord, You have…..' et cetera
If we think we can turn back to God by this mode of thinking, then we will remain under a veil of EVIL…..

This 'pointing' already commenced with Adam, who said to the Lord, after Eve had eaten of the apple: "YOU have given me this woman! "
Eve, on her turn, said: "The serpent has deceived me"….
Basically Adam blamed both the Lord and Eve. Eve shifted the blame to the serpent….
They both pointed away from themselves……and did not assume the responsibility for their deeds!!!!!

We're all born under this curse of the Fall of man, the root of which is PRIDE!
Each one of us has to go to God for themselves, with his/her own self, to be cleansed and redeemed him/herself…..by the Blood! The precious Blood of Jesus!
Not out of a victim attitude……Not out of an attitude that keeps pointing at the other……
LORD, I AM SINFUL!!!!!!!

He redeemed YOU! That's why the Lord's Prayer says: deliver US from evil …….
The cleansing operation of the Blood of Jesus continues day and night, 24/7…..It is the Blood that bought us and paid for our sins!
He, Jesus Christ, Yeshua, reconciles us with the Lord, with the Father!
But out of our own free will, WE must admit that we OURSELVES are sinful…..
Whether we are victim or perpetrator, EACH AND EVERY ONE OF US is SINFUL and an enemy of GOD, APART FROM the Blood of Jesus!

It is He who has bought us free by paying for our sins!
Give HIM your sins, submit yourself to Him, totally, so that HE by His Spirit can lead you and point out your sins to you in a tender, loving way…..
Then repent of the sins He revealed to you, confess them aloud to Him. By so doing you literally bring your sins into the light!
Satan is the king of darkness, Jesus is the King of the Light!
A sin repented of, a sin brought into the light, is a sin forgiven! Satan does not have might or power over it anymore……
But so long as we confess our sins out of an attitude of victimization and the pointing of the finger at someone else and/or the circumstances…so long will the cleansing be covered by a veil of deception……
In order to become completely free, to really still and quiet your soul, you will have to go through the eye of the needle!!!!
The entrance to the full truth, to the heart of the Father is so narrow, so small that you have to drop and release EVERYTHING in order to be able to go in…….Only YOU has to go through, you, together with YOUR responsibility to ADMIT who YOU are without GOD!

Right there, on that spot follows the "remorseful repentance", the awareness deep down within of how deeply sinful you are, the knowing that YOU are the one who has to be cleansed by and in HIS BLOOD!!!!

Jesus is the Conciliator of our sins!
You have to admit YOUR sins. Then and only then will the secret of Jesus' words reveal itself:
To whom much is forgiven, the same loveth much!
In other words : If we ourselves come to the acknowledgment of our OWN state of being (Who you are WITHOUT God, without the Holy Spirit) ……then it's not that difficult anymore to forgive the other!

COME TO ME!!! JUST YOU & ME!!!!
Nothing else, no one else but JESUS CHRIST! Only BY HIS BLOOD!
Surrender yourself!
* 2 For what the Lord has finished at the cross must be fulfilled in OUR hearts.
Amen!

Bible:
Luke 7: 47
47 So I tell you that all her sins are forgiven, and that is why she has shown great love. But anyone who has been forgiven for only a little will show only a little love."

Genesis 3
12 "It was the woman you put here with me," the man said. "She gave me some of the fruit, and I ate it."
The Lord God then asked the woman, "What have you done?"
"The snake tricked me," she answered. "And I ate some of that fruit."

John 6: 53 Jesus answered:
I tell you for certain that you won't live unless you eat the flesh and drink the blood of the Son of Man. 54 But if you do eat my flesh and drink my blood, you will have eternal life, and I will raise you to life on the last day. 55 My flesh is the true food, and my blood is the true drink. 56 If you eat my flesh and drink my blood, you are one with me, and I am one with you.

Hebrews 10: 19 My friends, the blood of Jesus gives us courage to enter the most holy place 20 by a new way that leads to life! And this way takes us through the curtain that is Christ himself.
Romans 2: 5 But you are stubborn and refuse to turn to God. So you are making things even worse for yourselves on that day when he will show how angry he is and will judge the world with fairness. 6 God will reward each of us for what we have done.

How strong the enmity is between our flesh and the Blood of Jesus is proven by the fact that the Lord once sought to kill Moses!!!!!
Exodus 4: 24
Circumcision of the foreskin then, is for us here and now, circumcision of the heart!– being born of the Spirit! ..... The New Testament,/ the New Covenant: Through THE BLOOD of JESUS!!!!
Please read the whole passage in your Bible:

24 One night while Moses was in camp, the Lord was about to kill him. 25 But Zipporah o 4.25 Zipporah: The wife of Moses (see 2.16-21).circumcised her son with a flint knife. She touched his p 4.25 his: Either Moses or the boy.legs with the skin she had cut off and said, "My dear son, this blood will protect you.” q 4.25 My dear son ... you: Or “My dear husband, you are a man of blood” (meaning Moses).26 So the Lord did not harm Moses. Then Zipporah said, “Yes, my dear, you are safe because of this circumcision.”

The Diamond!
Catharina Schouten

I saw two circles spinning round in opposite directions!
The one big circle turned around in the direction of evil (the own self)
The smaller circle cycled in the direction of God! (self denial)

We all sense that we have entered a different time frame. A new season is making itself known! Isaiah 43: 19!

But if you take a closer look then you will still see people running after big names and huge, impressive ministries.
It’s not that these big names and ministries are wrong in themselves, but the question is : is it God Who leads you to this meeting, to this ministry, or……. (you can fill it in for yourself) .

This morning I had someone pray over me, because I sensed that in me there was a cancerous tumour as well, a tumour that had me look up to big names….that is to say: in the wrong way.....

To make it more specific: Father has told us (Johan and I) that we have to open the gates of our house…..
The thing is that we do not live in a very roomy house. What’s more, we live quite a long way from the major cities….So you can imagine that we don’t talk about hundreds of visitors coming to our ‘open house’ meetings….
But nevertheless, we do experience God’s blessing, His Love and His Presence!
Still, when I read about meetings where more than 400 people get together, there was this nagging feeling of ‘We are so small, can we have an impact anyway? Compared to these big meetings, we do not amount to much, do we?’..... When people call for information about these open house evenings they keep asking: HOW MANY PEOPLE will come?
Well, for God every soul is a priceless treasure! To Him every soul counts!
But if Father has taught me one thing very clearly then it is this: do not point your finger at your neighbour, but start with YOURSELF!!!!

So I had a telephone conversation with someone who is very pure and honest in following God and just as honest in reacting.
I had this person pray over me and during this prayer I have released this cancerous tumour to God, this tumour of looking up to each other and to big meetings....
And believe me, this preoccupation with big names and numbers is rooted deeper in our heart than we may suspect!

This is the word that God gave:

“The cancerous tumour that has now been cut open, will lead to the death of your own flesh but to life in the Spirit!
The cells that hereby break loose will turn about sevenfold.
No longer will they bring death. Instead they will bring life!
Sevenfold abundance! “

When we put the knife into a cancerous tumour, the cells will be set loose to make their way to all parts of the body and it won’t be long before we die!

But the Lord is now telling us: If you allow the mighty hand of God to cut in your tumour, then it will bring forth life and not death. Indeed, it will bring death: death to your own flesh!

The Lord spoke:

"People run and plan, but I AM the spinning wheel and with MY loom I will weave MY patterns!
The diamond that is being polished by ME is made up of one big stone: I AM
Around this big stone there are all kinds of small stones (ministries) and these on their turn have been polished and shaped into all kinds of different edges (people around it). One can see that the diamond glitters on all sides. At the same time it just depends on the way the light falls which colours will come to life!"

In other words, He determines when something has to illuminate. Everyone stands in his or her calling and everything is united by that one big stone….
YESHUA!

Everyone functions in his or her own colour, taste and aroma, because HE weaves the pattern and HE determines where, how, what and when…
During our prayer we were led to break this spirit that impresses us with Big Numbers, Names, Meetings, Buildings……
HE should be our First and our Last!
He holds our threads together in HIS hand and weaves a coat of many colours…..

the mantle of ELIJAH!

AMEN!

The Root Of All Evil Pride
Catharina Schouten

(My soul finds its peace with the Lord!)

If we would have to summarize in one sentence the difference between God and satan, then we would arrive at the following definition :

God is full of Love, humble and He sets us free !
Satan is proud and he binds us!

Every one of us, without one exception, is born in sin.
Many people do not understand and are not aware of how deeply sinful and how far removed we are of what God asks of us in order to make it possible for His Son to break through in us…..
Fact is that the battle is being waged between these two poles :

Humility - self - denial versus Pride - self - promotion

Every soul on earth, whether believing or not believing, knows where he/she comes from!
The soul knows all too well that it has been created by the Maker, by God!
And this soul in us is restless. The soul is searching for GOD !
The unbelieving man tries to silence this disquiet by means of:

- owning stuff – buying and chasing nice things.
- addictions – smoking, sex, drugs, alcohol, gambling.
- driving up the standard in the search for kicks and challenges.
- belonging-identification (deriving one's identity from a group)

The believer who did make a choice to follow God, but didn't go for it for the full hundred percent, experiences this same kind of restlessness, some sort of a heartache. This believing person will then try to ease and alleviate this nagging pain by the feeling of belonging to a group. Thus this person comes to identify him/herself with a certain church or denomination and – preferably – with a leading figure in that group!
A somewhat more powerful soul will do the same, be it in reverse order, by seeking people and situations that heighten his/her prestige!
Both categories of people, both believing and unbelieving, strong (leaders) or weaker (followers) do not bring their soul to God, but seek to find rest APART from Him.
And the root of it all is: PRIDE! Refusing to bow before GOD!

In our time the Lord is bringing restoration to His Bride, His children.
Many wounded people are streaming out of the churches and congregations. They have lost the sense of who they are, they are not able to see their way out anymore, they are weary, knocked senseless and simply said deeply wounded!

There has been a pyramid culture in our groups, congregations and churches.
In the perception of this culture it was thus: On the top side were the leaders (all-knowing, unassailable and elevated), on the base there were these 'baby Christians' (they knew nothing, needed help in everything and in fact didn't amount to much)
These two groups leaned against each other. The system preserved itself!

If we take a close look at what is actually happening in such a culture, we come to the following conclusion:

A person who lacks self-esteem and doesn't love him/herself will always look for it in that other person….
In many cases we think that we love ourselves, while this love is often based on love for the self we would like to be! (the self that looks like that other person)
This kind of person finds his or her validation in a group, a leader, an elevated figure.
But the root, odd as it may seem is: PRIDE!
Basically, one is not contented with oneself!
People want to look like: Benny Hinn, Joyce Meyer, …or enter any other name that suits your situation
They join in partnership with big ministries of that sort. The Big names become their model, their idol…
And they do not seek it with GOD!

How can this be? What is it that makes this happen time and again?
It is the fact that man is, in a deeper way than he himself realizes, infected with the curse of the Fall of man:….PRIDE….
Satan wanted to be higher than God and it is this curse that is upon us that we do not wish to recognize. We rather feed this curse by seeking our refuge, our safety in groups and in other people from flesh and blood!
In doing this we only stray further away from God, meanwhile handing this wicked way down to the next generation.

Let's first have a closer look at the system:

1 We look for a congregation, for we want to belong to a certain group. To begin with, this first important step is often taken without consulting God and (therefore) out of wrong motives.
The main reason for searching out a congregation is not to serve God, but to belong somewhere….
At our entry we are warmly welcomed, there is attention and people listen to us. In short, the wounded soul finds itself accepted in an atmosphere of love!
Initially this process simmers on for a while and the person in search for GOD (the soul seeks his Maker) has a deepening sense of having found a home…and thus opens up itself more and more in an increasing measure of confidence….
Meanwhile the searching soul is gradually being broken down, for the atmosphere of loving care is bringing more to light than was already expected… The person finds out that he/she is even deeper wounded than he had/she had considered himself to be…..In simple terms: What takes place is not a building up of self-esteem, but a process of being stripped bare to the bone, leaving the person even smaller and more vulnerable, even more depending on…..(if you are familiar with this feeling you can probably fill in the name(s) for yourself)

But than, all of a sudden, it happens:
.2 - The congregation organizes a meeting (a prayer meeting, a party or some other get-together) to which only members are invited…….
Now the wounded, (GOD-)searching soul experiences a deep pain of rejection….. a deep crack in his/her feeling comes into being, for the “unity” is brutally disrupted by this exclusion……

Well anyway, such a first time, though hurtful, is not insurmountable.
A few months later however a similar incident occurs… Again this clear distinction between MEMBERS and NONMEMBERS……
And the wounded soul (searching for his GOD, his MAKER) gives in and applies for membership!
For the demolition of the “home at last” feeling in the rift that one experiences is simply to much to bear……
The church, the group, the leader – slowly but surely usurps the place that only, rightfully belongs to GOD…..
The searching soul identifies itself with the person, the leader, for it deems itself of NO VALUE and thus wants to look like this elevated person!

What takes place is the following:
In no time a whole regiment of “tin soldiers” has been called to life!
They do not think for themselves and of themselves anymore, they swallow everything that’s being said whole and “all noses are pointed in the same direction”!
The odd thing is that a closer investigation will reveal that both the leader and the searching soul have problems with their self-esteem and that both do not allow their soul to find refuge with God!
The leader feeds his seeking soul with power, prestige and promotion.
The weaker searching soul nurtures itself with the stronger seeking soul…

The wounded, weaker soul (the follower) can allow this situation to go on for years… There will come a moment though that either the person himself will take the decision to leave the group or the decision will be taken for him by way of a schism.
The creepy thing is that the searching soul (the follower) is infected from both sides!

- On the one hand he/she is a victim that has been left utterly crushed, devoid of self-esteem.
- On the other hand the patterns of the system have been woven deeply and subtly in his/her character and mind.

Therefore, if the person in question does not first of all seek to be healed and delivered from this whole business, then two things may happen:

- He/she will look for the next group and leader and the situation will simply repeat itself!
- The person proceeds to start a group or a congregation himself. But, since the heart and spirit have not really been broken and crushed before God and nothing has really been healed and restored, the person will now carry on to become an exact copy of the leader and his/her rules… And now the person will put into practice the very thing that he/she has come to detest, the same wrongs that he/she had suffered him/herself…..

When someone has been beaten in his childhood and subsequently nothing is undertaken in order to heal these wounds (spiritually), then this person him/herself will grow up to beat someone else...
What we have taken in, what we learn, will sooner or later come out of us!
It is not surprising then that the Lord says: bring your children up with MY Word!
What's been instilled in the early years will one day come out!

There is a mechanism in us that makes that we can turn situations around.
After having been held hostage for a long period of time, a person who has been kidnapped, often keeps insisting for months after being released that his/her hostage takers have been good to him/her and that they were quite nice…..
People who have had to undergo lengthy intimate examinations in hospitals, during which they have lost the grip and control over themselves, sometimes say in retrospect: 'It almost felt as if I were in love with the doctor!'
It is a system of protection that helps us to come to terms with that which we cannot cope with in itself, that which crosses the boundaries of what is permissible for us. The whole thing is easier to accept within self-created circumstances than it is without any form of control….
It is some sort of survival mechanism (similar to our ability to switch off our emotions in extreme situations)

When we return to the point of the soul who recognizes his Maker, then we see that the person who sets out to feed his/her restlessness with God's living word rather than trying to ease this unhappy feeling, the nagging pain, the sometimes inexplicable unrest with shopping sprees, addictions and the like - that this person is beginning to learn and experience who he/she really is in Christ!
PRECIOUS!
God teaches us to be humble, to be who we really are, how to truly be free!
The book of Psalms paints this beautiful picture of our being like a weaned child with his mother, a child that has been fed, cared for and bathed, wonderfully resting at the heart of his mother…..utterly at peace and satisfied!
What deeper level of satisfaction can a human being wish for….?
All needs have been met!
- weaned = the appetite is satisfied. Literally with the mothermilk, spiritually with the Word.
- cared for = literally attention of the mother, spiritually: finding refuge and security in Him
- bathed = literally cleansed in water, spiritually: being baptized and submerged in Him, dying and being buried with Jesus, to rise up with Him in victory, cleansed by His blood!
- satisfied = literally rest, peace, contentment, spiritually: finally coming home with nothing else left that can charm us, having found REST…..nothing else can take us in anymore!!

God is restoring His body in our days.
This means that we have to face the reality that every one of us is suffering from the root called PRIDE !
The result of this root is that we are NOT REALLY seeking God, but are inclined to feed and nurture and ease our own self by going one of two directions in order to satisfy our need to belong (belonging identity): either we GIVE POWER to others or we take the other direction by wanting to be the LEADER ourselves, by wanting to USURP and exert POWER. But both ways are not led by God, not by His Love and humility!

The result of this is that we are straying off more and more from God and become even more wounded and lonely along the way.
BOWING! Bowing before God, dying to yourself, giving HIM all of your heart, there lies the answer!
THE BLOOD of Jesus – that's where our new life is being built upon!
This NEW life won't come to pass by building on bitterness, on wounds, on PRIDE!

A brother in the Lord had received a vision for me in which he saw me as a rooster with a fiery red cockscomb.
When a moment later I received a word from the Lord, namely Psalm 57: 8 in some bibles 9
"I WILL AWAKEN THE DAWN"
it became obvious to me what part of my calling is about. For the crowing rooster announces the break of day!

After the first few times that the Lord deployed me in this part of my ministry, the complaints poured in and there was some heavy backbiting about my person!
One evening when I asked the Lord what it might be that made people come down on me in such a way, He gave me the following word and vision:

Vision:
I saw someone lying down in bed. Next to the bed there stood this “chamber pot”. Outside I saw a run with chickens and a rooster. At a certain moment the rooster started to crow.
Then the person stood up from his bed, took the chamber pot and threw its contents out of the window in the direction of the rooster!

God spoke into my heart:
"In olden days, when the farmers still needed the rooster to announce the daybreak, it might literally happen that the contents of the chamber pot werd thrown towards the rooster, just because the owners wanted to sleep on for another while!
You are being deployed by Me as a rooster – you have to stir awake the sleepers, but since people tend to prefer sleeping over waking up, they will throw their garbage in your direction!
They will want to turn out their chamber pot with the waste products of their own self over you!
In psychological terms this is called: “reflection” - ascribing that which is still in you (sins) to someone else!"

In addition I received a peculiar vision last week :
A circle with a dot in the middle.

Jesus symbolizes the dot.
We as His children stand on the outer edge of that circle.
As you can imagine, when you are on one side of the periphery of this circle and I stand on the opposite side, then we are both FAR from Jesus but also far from each other!

If every person on the periphery of the circle decides to walk towards the central dot, in the direction of Jesus, then we will come closer to HIM in the first place and the natural consequence is that we are also getting closer to each other!

But then I beheld the following:
The people held firmly on to each other, tightly connected hand in hand they walked towards Jesus, but what happened was deformation. That which happened in the first image – everyone walking individually to Jesus and as a natural consequence forming one Body – didn’t take place in the second picture, in which people held on to each other and merged into each other. In this second scene the circle changed into the form of an eye with a dot in the middle.

The Lord pointed out the following to me:
The eye stands for the all-seeing eye (freemasonry). The dot in the middle is satan.
And this whole symbol stands for CONTROL !
Unity and brotherhood APART form the precious blood of Yeshua!
These entwined people put their trust in each other and since our Lord is a jealous God, it is clear that we won’t end up with God in this manner. After all we are only fortifying each other in order to enlarge our own ego! And remember: building unity together is like building the tower of Babel! *
Hence this image of a circle transforming into an eye.

How do I get to You?
A traveller could ask: How can I get to Eurodisney?
We as residents of heaven should ask ourselves and Him: How do I get to You?

The answer: By laying down our pride! By bowing down before the Almighty!
By the BLOOD of Jesus, that cleanses, heals and delivers us and enables us to stand on our own feet and love ourselves in who we really are, instead of loving ourselves in who we WOULD LIKE to be!

This system (loving oneself in who one likes to be) is prevalent all around the world!
People often say things like: Where was God during World War Two?
Well, Hitler couldn't do anything without his followers! Do you get this: Dictators can't get anything done without followers!!!!
The same system is in effect here and now!
People who want to bring their souls to rest APART from God, seek their salvation in others, in groups, in control! In POWER !
And if then it so happens that a powerful strong soul arises, capable of making weaker souls follow, then we are at the start of something that might end up to be disastrous !!

For the creepy thing is that sects and other kinds of groups tend to strengthen their unicity, their unity and their power in pursuing something that should (in their opinion) be quite the opposite of them!

They are strong, they are beautiful, they have the TRUTH (without God) and the other (You can fill it in) is ugly, bad and representing the lie.

You complete the list:
- The Jew
- The gay person
- The ill, the not-so-perfect
- ….

BUT: God loves everyone! HE HATES SIN!

NOT BECAUSE He is a dictator, but His Loving Spirit, His Beauty cannot bear that there is darkness in His Body!

What happens in the minds of people when this thinking out of a group identity (belonging identity) takes place? At first the 'wrong ones' (whether a race or specific persons) are reduced to a number, to a nobody, in short to everything that no longer represents a human being, so as to prepare the brain for killing and destroying that certain 'something' ! The mental imprint of degrading qualifications makes it possible for the 'group members' to kill an other individual without feeling oneself a murderer!
Transforming a human into a number, a beast, a nobody, eventually numbs the senses of the one who sets out to kill such enemies of the group!
Even in faith communities it can happen that the one who no longer wishes to be silenced, the one who stands up against the group, is put under a ban and is spiritually pronounced dead!
No group member is allowed to speak to this person anymore or to to go vistit him/her, so in fact this person is henceforth considered to 'not exist any longer'!
Anyone who seeks to establish his/her self-esteem on another foundation than the Word of God, anyone who strives to boost his/her ego apart from the Blood of Jesus, runs the risk of falling prey to dictators and other power-mad persons!
We see how these people literally puff themselves up. They attain honour, prestige and they are so twisted in their self-image that they are prepared to do just ANYTHING for the group....
This battle is a spiritual one! Choose this day for JESUS!

Why is it so imperative that we turn around to GOD?!
In Him lies the unity! Thanks to the sacrifice of Jesus there is no difference anymore between:
- Man & Woman
- Greek & Jew
- Free & Bond

In Him we are one, in Him dwells the Truth, the Peace, the Freedom!
In Him lies our future!
Amen!

 FOOTNOTE
The Lord asked of me, to share the following thing with all of you:

If we fill our spirit (soul and mind) with dirty and violent movies and books, than our soul will be polluted and we get used to all of this. Meaning: we will changes our thinking about all of these things, and except them as normal behavior! Let us fill ourselves with HIS living water!

The Lord is using leaders of course as a fact He is restoring the five fold ministry
But look what He is asking from all of us:

Helping Christian Leaders
1 Peter 5
1 Church leaders, g 5.1 Church leaders: Or “Elders” or “Presbyters” or “Priests.”I am writing to encourage you. I too am a leader, as well as a witness to Christ's suffering, and I will share in his glory when it is shown to us.
2 5.2 Jn 21.15Just as shepherds watch over their sheep, you must watch over everyone God has placed in your care. Do it willingly in order to please God, and not simply because you think you must. Let it be something you want to do, instead of something you do merely to make money. 3 Don't be bossy to those people who are in your care, but set an example for them. 4 Then when Christ the Chief Shepherd returns, you will be given a crown that will never lose its glory.
5 5.5 Pr 3.34 (LXX).All of you young people should obey your elders. In fact, everyone should be humble toward everyone else. The Scriptures say, “God opposes proud people, but he helps everyone who is humble.”

6 5.6 Mt 23.12; Lk 14.11; 18.14.Be humble in the presence of God's mighty power, and he will honor you when the time comes. 7 5.7 Si 2.1God cares for you, so turn all your worries over to him.

Psalm 131
(A song by David for worship.)
131 Trust the Lord!
1 I am not conceited, Lord, and I don't waste my time
on impossible schemes.
2 But I have learned to feel safe and satisfied, just like a young child
on its mother's lap.
3 People of Israel,
you must trust the Lord
now and forever.

The Bride of Christ

Paul Jablonowski

10/23/2005

Three specific times of intercession were conducted at the Lord's direction to help bring forth the bride of Christ in the earth in our generation. These meetings were held on the Day of Atonement 2004 in New York, on Passover 2005 in Kansas, and on the Feast of Trumpets 2005 in New York. I'm sure the Lord has used several other meetings to help pray and intercede to bring forth the bride in our generation, but these are the three in which I was privileged to participate. Here is my testimony and witness of these three meetings:

Day of Atonement 2004 - September 24-26; meetings at West Point Military Academy, in New York

The Day of Atonement is the holiest most solemn day of the Judeo-Christian calendar. It is a time of repentance and self-inspection on things and relationships that need to be reconciled and restored back to purity. Cleansing and covering for sin is the theme of this particular biblical holiday and also a focus for this particular gathering in New York. The Lord gave direction to Ken and Mary Stevenson to call this convocation at West Point Military Academy, which is the headquarters for training and educating the U.S. military officers.

We later learned that one of the reasons why the Lord had us meet at this Military Academy is because in the Spirit realm we were battling the principality of Leviathan, which is a control and manipulation spirit. This Leviathan principality has historically always had a stronghold in military mentalities where people will obey orders to their deaths. So we had to go right into a place where Leviathan was strong and overcome that dictatorship mentality, because the bride of Christ must not operate in this taskmaster overlord attitude.

Ephesians 6:12 shows the order for the demonic realm and "principalities" are listed as the highest level. The two highest level demonic principalities are Leviathan and Python. Leviathan was the main evil spirit the Lord was coming against at this convocation. The Python was the main principality the Lord dealt with at the Feast of Trumpets 2005 convocation, which will be discussed later in this article. Likewise, the two main angels that war with these principalities are Michael the "warring angel" against Leviathan and Gabriel the "messenger angel" against the lying deceiving tactics of Python. Leviathan comes with the fist of power and tries to manipulate through brute force or people abusing their authority in high positions. Python comes as an angel of light and tries to control through religion, lies and subtle manipulation.

Leviathan produces unrighteous selfish kings, and Python produces self righteous unholy priests. Revelation chapter 13 describes the full maturity of both Leviathan and Python. The "beast from the sea" is the Leviathan stronghold working itself out among the political kings of the earth, while "the beast from the earth" is the Python mentality working itself out among the religions and philosophies of man. For a complete study on the principalities of Python and Leviathan see Todd Bentley's writings on-line: (Python Spirit - http://www.etpv.org/2002/python.html -- Leviathan Spirit - http://www.etpv.org/2002/slevithn.html)

These two strongholds of Leviathan and Python have been able to sidetrack every move of God to date. But the Bride of Christ will not be hindered by these wrong mindsets (strongholds) that kill steal and destroy. Yes, they may pop up their ugly heads once in a while throughout the ranks of the bride body of Christ, but they will not be able to stop the bride of Christ from moving and doing the Lord's will in the earth and bringing the kingdoms of this world to become the kingdoms of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Roy and Faith Sauzek from Kansas also attended this convocation and helped bring the understanding that we were to intercede for America. There was much weeping and strong prayer for God to have mercy on America and to cleanse our nation. The fourth major hurricane of the year (hurricane Jeanne) hit Florida during this convocation with the message that God is indeed sending a cleansing. Water is always poured out during the fall festivals of the Lord and it is very symbolic for the cleansing of the bride of Christ so that she can be "without spot or wrinkle… holy and without blemish" (Ephesians 5:27).

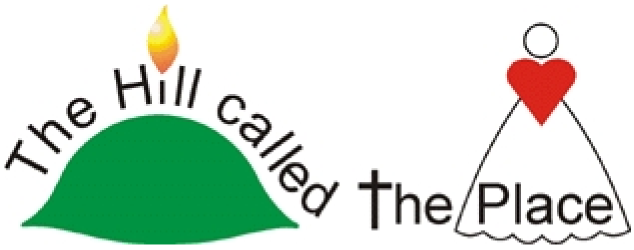
Passover 2005 - April 23-24; meetings at a barn in Wellington Kansas

Many Christians have been celebrating the Lord's Passover ever since His last supper which He had with the original twelve apostles before His crucifixion. However, in our generation the Lord is changing the Lord's supper on the Passover date to the Marriage Supper of the Lamb that will be celebrated throughout the coming millennium. Just like Jesus upgraded Moses' Passover to the Lord's Supper at His first coming, He is now upgrading it again to the Marriage Supper of the Lamb during His second coming (Rev. 19:7). This was the first Marriage Supper of the Lamb, and the Lord placed it on the hearts of Roy and Faith Sauzek to hold this first Marriage Supper of the Lamb in what used to be their meeting place in a barn in Wellington Kansas.

Roy's ministry focus for 12 years now has been teaching and writing concerning the spotless bride of Christ. It is not hard or difficult to be a part of the bride of Christ, but it does take obedience to what God requires in His word and walking by His Spirit. ALL people are welcome to be a part of the bride of Christ, but not everyone is willing to pay the price of obedience to stay in this bride body. The bride of Christ is a living, breathing organism sustained by God and not a man made institution where you can become a member by association.

There were only twelve of us at this first Marriage Supper of the Lamb. Ken and Mary Stevenson from New York participated and brought a word from Revelation 15:3-4 which is the song of Moses and the song of the Lamb, saying "Great and marvelous are Your works, Lord God Almighty! Just and true are Your ways, O King of the saints! Who shall not fear You, O Lord and glorify Your name? For You alone are holy. For all nations shall come and worship before You. For Your judgments have been manifested."

One of the most exciting things that happened during this time was the release of some of the land that the Lord has been promising this group in Kansas to build an apostolic center for the bride of Christ. It is located on the hill God calls "The Place." For over 18 years this group has been receiving prophetic words and signs for "The Place" and this convocation seemed to really release some things in the natural to help this vision come to pass. For ongoing information on the hill called The Place, please go to the web-site: www.thehillcalledtheplace.net



The Lord gave me some understanding regarding the purpose of "The Place" ministry center in Kansas and this graphic above depicts that understanding. "Hills" in the bible are symbolic of governments and ruler ship. The hill in this graphic represents TRUTH and JUSTICE, which is why it has a flame on top. The hill in this graphic is also an army helmet because "the hill called the place" will be a command center for the Lord's army.

The bride is of course the bride of Christ. The bride represents the MERCY and GRACE of Christ which is why she has a heart on her because she is taking the Lord's mercy and grace to a world who needs His love. "The Place" is wedding talk in the bible and in Jewish weddings where the groom would prepare "a place" for his soon to be bride. Jesus said, "If I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and receive you to Myself; that where I am there you may be also" (John 14:3).

Finally, in the middle of this graphic between the two symbols of JUSTICE (the hill) and MERCY (the bride), is THE CROSS. The cross is the only place where the Lord's fire of justice and heart of mercy can meet. Psalm 85:10 says, "Mercy and truth have met together; Righteousness and Peace have kissed." It is the cross that is so very central to the work that is being established at the hill called the place, and it is the only thing that will be able to BALANCE out the army-like command center and the bride-like compassion for the world that Jesus died to save. Previous moves of God have always gravitated to one of these extremes or the other, but only the cross (death to self) is able to keep us on the right track. The wisdom of the cross is the power of God and the theme that runs throughout all of the writings on this website.

Feast of Trumpets 2005 - October 3-5; meetings at The Castle in Wappingers Falls, New York

The Feast of Trumpets is one of the seven major feasts of the Lord, and it is the biblical time of the year when kings begin their official reign (regardless of the time during the year when they actually started ruling). Hence, the reason for the trumpets is to announce the coming of the king! Also, trumpets are always symbolic for a message. Anytime there is a trumpet in the book of Revelation it is because God is speaking a message. Likewise, there was a very clear trumpeted message the Lord spoke at this time, which was: HERE COMES THE BRIDE.

Roy and Faith Sauzek from Kansas also attended this convocation. Roy said that he had not been released by the Lord to talk publicly about the first Marriage Supper of the Lamb until this convocation. Likewise, today (October 13th 2005 - the Day of Atonement) is the first time the Lord has directed me to write publicaly about these three convocations. Ken and Mary Stevenson hosted this third convocation in the current place where Everlasting Covenant fellowship meets called "The Castle." Ken has a calling similar to that of king David in the bible. Roy has a calling similar to that of Moses who was a priest. God is calling forth the kings and priests in our day, and this convocation prophetically announced the coming forth of the kings and priests in the bride of Christ.

The Lord symbolically demonstrated this message by having Ken represent the Jew and Roy represent the Gentile. Ken, who teaches on the Jewish feasts and who may even have Jewish lineage, had the Israeli flag draped over his shoulders, while Roy had the American flag draped on his shoulders. Fran Beauchamps was shown in the Spirit that I was to have the Christian flag draped on my shoulders and stand between Ken and Roy representing intercession to bring about the "one new man" which is the bride of Christ made up of both Jew and Gentile. As I stood between them I read from Ephesians 2:11-18 part of which says, "He Himself (Christ) is our peace, who has made both (Jew and Gentile) one… so as to create in Himself ONE NEW MAN from the two, thus making peace."

ONE STICK IN HIS HAND
EZEKIEL 37:15-28

Ezekiel 37, which talks about the two sticks of Judah (Jews) and Ephraim (Christians) that become one stick in the Lord's hand, was another word brought forth by the Lord through several independent sources at this convocation. On the first day of the convocation, Ken spoke about Ezekiel 37. Two days later, Jane Greenstein came to a meeting without knowing the Ezekiel 37 words that had been shared. The Lord had told her to give us 4 stakes to plant around the "The Castle" property to claim it back for the kingdom of God. These stakes were Chinese chopsticks which were stuck together (i.e two sticks which were really one), and she wrote Ezekiel 37 on each stick. Another confirmation was two Ezekiel 37 posters (shown here), which I purchased 7 years ago, and the Lord had directed me to give one each to both Ken and Roy. A final confirmation came after this gathering, from a married couple who had lived out Ezekiel 37 in their marriage and experienced a time of intercession a week prior to this gathering over the two lost sticks that they held as memorials for their marriage.

During this convocation there was an earthquake in Israel that shook the fault line on the Mount of Olives. Also, there was an annular solar eclipse over the entire middle east on the same day as this earthquake on October 3rd 2005. With such an important message as the bride of Christ coming forth, there was no doubt that signs would follow. This date was also exactly 38.8 years (2,000 weeks or 14,000 days) from the capture of Jerusalem in 1967 when the Jews won the temple mount in battle but in unbelief gave it back to the Muslims. This is significant because the two other most important generations of unbelief were also 14,000 days in length: 1) There were exactly 14,000 days that the Israelites wandered in unbelief in the desert after receiving the Law, before entering the Promised Land. 2) There were exactly 14,000 days from Jesus' triumphal entry into Jerusalem until Jerusalem was destroyed by the Romans in AD 70. Now, from 1967 to 2005 is the third generation time period of unbelief wilderness wanderings experienced by God's modern day people. But the exciting part, is that NOW is the time to enter into the "promised land" for those who will only believe like Joshua and Caleb!

It is now time for the bride of Christ to enter into the promises of God. It is also now time to trump the message that the bride of Christ does exist in the earth and that God is now bringing His bride together in His timing at His command and with His direction. NEW BEGINNINGS is part of the message of the Feast of Trumpets, and a definite part of what the Lord was saying at this convocation. The Lord is trumpeting the return of His son Jesus Christ to begin ruling the earth! However, Jesus is first returning through and to His bride. Ready or not, here comes the bride!

In his own hometown, Jesus stood up in the local synagogue and read from Isaiah 61:1-2 which says, "The Spirit of the Lord is upon Me, because He has anointed Me to preach the gospel to the poor; He has sent Me to heal the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives and recovery of sight to the blind, to set at liberty those who are oppressed; and to proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord." Then he closed the book and said, "today this scripture is fulfilled in your hearing." The religious people were so mad at Jesus for saying this that they tried to "throw him down over the cliff" (Luke 4:18-30).

Likewise, today the Lord, through His bride, is opening up that same chapter of Isaiah 61 and finishing the chapter from the middle of verse 2 where He left off 2,000 years ago. It says here that He is now coming for judgment. It says here that He is now fulfilling "the day of vengeance of our God." It says that His servants and priests and kings will now be honored and "eat the riches of the Gentiles" instead of being shamed and having to hide from the unrighteous authorities in the earth. I'm sure this truth will cause the religious people of our day to want to "throw us down over the cliff" as they did to Jesus. However, they were not successful then and they will not be successful now. May the bride of Christ come forth and fulfill her destiny in our generation! Here comes the bride.

2006 Will Birth The Beginning Of God's Fullness

Dec 4, 2005
"The Kingdom of God is forcefully advancing, and violent men take it by force."

2006 will offer the first blush of the fullness of God. Those who are touching the Kingdom will see God as they have never seen Him. Who are these men you ask? Those who have recognized that "violent men" are obedient men; men who hear and obey, men who seek God with all of their hearts, men who do not move lest they hear the Father, those who have learned "That of their own selves they can do nothing" (John 5:30). "Violent" in the above scripture denotes radical, which is a departure from the norm, in seeking, hearing, and obeying.

2006 will reveal many true Sons, who for the most part have been hidden for many years. Only those earmarked for "Sonship" will truly have a revelation of true Sons. They will not be recognized by their exploits, gifts, or even the miraculous, though there will be much of that to see – they will be recognized by the humility and character of God within them.

The next great move of God in the earth will be the Kingdom of God. This revelation will come through God's Sons (Those led of His Spirit – Romans 8:14) revealing God's government in their lives. They are about God's business God's way; and He in turn takes care of theirs because the greater (taking care of His business) always includes the lesser (Him taking care of their business).

Watch in 2006 as God's True Sons are revealed!

We Have Entered A New Spiritual Era
Clay Sikes

Nov 27, 2005
Dear List Members,

Though I have not written as much lately, it has not been for lack of things to share, but rather how to put recent experiences into meaningful testimony. I have not fallen off the face of the earth, but rather spent much of the past two months traveling. Much more is scheduled in the near future as we are beginning to accept ministry invitations all over the country. I have, for the most part, sat still for almost 15 years, but now feel God's nudge to move out. God has blessed us in a way financially to be able to travel and be away more. I will continue to write as the Spirit of God leads.

God has been speaking much to me recently, and to the greatest extent ever, revealing Himself in the physical realm.

Have you noticed a higher intensity in Spiritual matters? Have you noticed that faith is required in greater measure? Have you noticed the consequences of wrong decisions (function without unction) becoming greater? Have you heard God's loud 'silence?' Have you noticed greater physical evidence of God's hand? Have you noticed a greater level of God's authority operating in your life? Have you noticed unfamiliar territory and new terrain? Do you feel a bit uncomfortable in this new 'place?' Are you beginning to catch a glimpse of your real destiny?

If you can relate to some or all of the above questions, you will recognize the season we are now entering as God's governmental order (Isaiah 9:6-9) coming upon the earth - "May God's Kingdom come, and His will be done on earth" (Psalm 23). The result of this order is a transforming from the spiritual into the physical. The known presence, power, favor, and disfavor of God is finding its way into the earth in unprecedented ways, as the government of God, the Kingdom, is being established in our lives individually, and in the earth corporately.

Many are seeing the fulfillment of physical manifestation of God's promises in their life. As has affectionately and jokingly been stated, God has changed His last name from "GONNA" to "IS." Obedience seems now to produce immediate results, as does disobedience, and in some cases spiritual ignorance (Hosea 4:6). Just as obedience is releasing many positive things, conversely disobedience, and to some extent spiritual ignorance, producing negative situations. It is imperative to understand that these seemingly negative results are not 'punishment' but 'correction,' especially for those whose destiny is marked for this hour in which we live.

The consequences of moving under the unction of the Spirit seem now to produce spontaneous physical evidence, while things done apart from the Spirit also produce spontaneous physical evidence. We are late in the season and the consequences of error are more costly than ever.

"Those that are led by the Spirit of God ARE THE SONS OF GOD" (Romans 8:14). "The whole creation is groaning for the manifestation of God's Sons." Many are now coming in contact with "Those who are led..." and the result is a "sharpening." The Holy Ghost bomb that split the Church in many different directions is now causing the parts of the Body that are called to be joined, to join. There is a coming together as specific parts unite with specific purpose. As these parts form, they will join other formed parts, as ultimately the Body of Christ unites in one common purpose.

The true government of God is coming into the earth corporately and individually. All of God's government begins with SELF. As God's correction eventually brings our self-government into (complete) submission to the Holy Spirit, God graciously expands our boundaries. Often we have jumped dramatically ahead of God by trying to save the world before we saved our selves and our own families. The results have been catastrophic, again, not for our punishment but rather correction and training for what is to come.

Recognize the hour is which we now live and rule your life by the leading of the Holy Spirit, and as submission becomes greater so too will the boundaries of your sphere of influence.

Tap God’s Power Within You

Tap God's Power Within You
(A Call To The Remnant Body)

"We have not received the spirit of the world but the Spirit who is from God, that we may understand what God has freely given us" (I Corinthians 2:12). There are aspects of our being that cannot be understood lest our understanding come by the Spirit.

"The man without the Spirit does not accept the things that come from the Spirit of God, for they are foolishness to him, and he cannot understand them, because they are spiritually discerned" (I Corinthians 2:14). God has "freely given us" His power, but only those who led by His Spirit (Romans 8:14) will ever utilize, or tap His power residing within.

This writing is more a personal testimony than a prophetic teaching, yet I sense prophetic relevance. I ask that you test its truth by the Spirit. I sense it is a timely word to the Body of Christ, as God desires more than ever to show Himself strong in the earth. This showing will come through His power being revealed through His Sons and Daughters.

God has shown me a shifting that is taking place with His own. He has been speaking much to me lately about transitioning from being productive (a producer) to being creative (a creator). God made us in His image. He said we would do even greater things than Jesus did. "Made in His image" means made like Him – He is the ultimate creator who made us to be creative. The whole creation groans to create – the ultimate will of the Father is the manifestation of His Sons.

Though we were made to create, we have become content to simply produce. As a businessman I often hear the term "producer," especially in the context of one's productive capabilities. "He is a producer," simply means that one has the ability to produce work.

As Christians, we tend to admire those who produce; we even place a premium on our own ability to produce work, or accomplish a task in a timely manner. There is nothing wrong with this, but I sense God is introducing something greater. The Holy Spirit seems to be challenging me to transition from "producer" to "creator." In the context of this teaching, a productive person is one who produces, while a creative person is one who creates. A productive person uses what is on hand, while a creative person makes something out of nothing. "Nothing" in this sense means no raw material to work with, but ironically means everything, in that God's spoken word to us is the substance upon which something is made from nothing.

Musicians, poets, writers, and artist know this phenomenon well - making something from nothing. Inspiration is the author of their works.

This new dimension is simply taking a God-given inspiration, acting on it, and seeing the supernatural hand of God produce it.

Many are receiving God-given inspiration, but fail to act on what they have heard. Past failures and mistakes, mental assent, and tradition from what Rick Joyner has termed "the tyranny of the familiar" are common stumbling blocks to our stepping into the next Spiritual realm while here on earth. Our own traditional thinking often locks God out, thus relegating us to a normal if not mundane life, void of a supernatural exciting life filled with creative power. "Greater is He who is in you…" (I John 4:4). Act on it!

God has a specific purpose in us acting on it! He desires to show Himself through us:

"But we have this treasure in jars of clay to SHOW that this all-surpassing POWER is from God and not from us" (II Corinthians 4:7). The word POWER in verse seven means force, miraculous power, ability, abundance, strength, and mighty work. God created us to SHOW His all surpassing POWER.

We are even challenged in God's word to demonstrate His power.

"Examine yourselves to see whether you are in the faith; test yourselves. Do you not realize that Christ Jesus is in you – unless of course you fail the test?" (II Corinthians 13:5)

The greatest way to determine our own reality of "Christ is in us" is to ask the question, "Do I walk by faith?" If the true answer is 'yes,' we are primed to SHOW His POWER by simply acting on it. Here is where the rubber meets the road. We can only have faith for what we have heard God say (to us). If we are not yet hearing, we are not yet His (possessive). We may be on the way to the sheep pen but not yet in it. "His sheep hear His voice" (John 10:27).

In conclusion, there is one other element of this teaching of great importance. God's power is activated by God's anointing, and anointing has assigned arenas. We must move only in His assigned territory (II Corinthians 10:13). Past areas of anointing do not determine where today's anointing is. Moses hit the rock instead of speaking to it and kept himself from the promise land. It is important to carefully understand this paragraph to fully move toward releasing God's power in you, and into today's assigned arena for you.

I am touching areas in which I am seeing God's creative power released, while in other areas I can only produce. As I feel my way through this revelation I am convinced that His Power is tapped in certain areas of my life and untapped in others. I once heard an evangelist questioned as to why he did not teach the whole counsel of God. His wise answer was no doubt spoken from God's wisdom when he replied, " I don't have the whole counsel of God!"

Finding the areas in which God desires to release His creative power is paramount to tapping His power. Discover His design in you to understand the sphere of your assignment, and consequently your anointing. Those of some spiritual maturity already know their sphere; now it is simply a matter of recognizing that the most awesome force in the universe resides within you. Acknowledging God in you is your key to unleashing His power through you (Proverbs 3:6).

The Beginning of Sorrows and The Joy of The Lord
Ron McGatlin

There is a season of intense pain for a mother before a child is born. The pain may begin lightly and over a season of hours build until a moment of intense pain as the child is born. Then the pain gives way to the joy of a new born baby.

As it is in the natural so it is in the spiritual. The birth of a new era of great significance is upon the church and the world. Jesus spoke of this season.

*Mat 24:6-8,14: "And you will hear of wars and rumors of wars. See that you are not troubled; for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet. "For nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. And there will be famines, pestilences, and earthquakes in various places. All these are the beginning of sorrows. And this gospel of the kingdom will be preached in all the world as a witness to all the nations, and then the end will come.

The Greek word translated "end" in these verses is "telos". The primary meaning of telos is: (to set out for a definite point or goal). Clearly the sorrows are not the goal but only a beginning of a process leading to an end ("telos"). The goal will be achieved as the gospel of the kingdom is preached to all the world.

In the theology of the passing church age we preached the gospel of "salvation" or the gospel of being born again and generally believed it was the entire gospel. I can remember many years ago in Bible College, a wise professor stating to the class that the gospel of the kingdom would be preached in end times. He went on to say, "We do not now know what the gospel of the kingdom is at this time but in the end times it will be revealed." I found this very curious and like the others had no clue what the gospel of the kingdom might be. I sure didn't consider that it would reshape theology and wipe out some of our common doctrines regarding eschatology.

I feel so blessed to have lived in this transitional time and to be a part of proclaiming the revelation of the gospel of the kingdom to the world. God has uncovered the gospel of the kingdom to many during my lifetime. I believe there were men of God through all the ages since Jesus first preached the gospel of the kingdom, who could see through the veil and receive the gospel of the kingdom. But only in the past few decades has the cover been removed for a vast number of people to begin to see the gospel of the kingdom clearly.

We once thought the gospel of being born again was the goal - the end ("telos"). Jesus taught that this is the beginning not the end. Certainly the gospel of being born again is the beginning and urgently necessary part of the gospel. One cannot even see the kingdom of God without experiencing it.

John 3:3 Jesus answered and said to him, "Most assuredly, I say to you, unless one is born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God."

The called out ones (the ekklesia) of God is pregnant with the gospel of the kingdom and is nearing the time of birth. The world is now beginning to experience the birth pangs of the kingdom of God on earth - the will of God on earth as it is in heaven.

Rom 8:22 For we know that the whole creation groans and labors with birth pangs together until now.

As we draw nearer to the time of the kingdom of Christ coming forth into the world the birth pangs will become closer together. more rhythmic and more intense. The scale for measuring earthquakes may need to be increased as the shaking of everything that can be shaken increases. Social order, economic systems, governments, nations, the church world as well as the earth will be violently and painfully shaken as we approach the coming of the kingdom of God on earth replacing the false kingdoms of the enemy and empty kingdoms of mans intellectual invention. All that lifts itself against God and His Word will not stand.

The beauty of holiness will be shinning into the world as Christ is formed in a sold out dedicated generation of people who have nothing left to live for but God. A people so filled with the resurrection life of Jesus that there is no respect for the greed and immorality of the old world and religious systems.

Purity and holiness shall reign and the love of God shall fill the earth. The wide open heavens will pour out godly wisdom and the reality of the kingdom of heaven from heaven will be present on earth. Old Jerusalem shall become New Jerusalem and the "peace on earth good will toward man" that Jesus came to bring to earth will be fulfilled. His mission will not fail. Everything else will fail but God and His word shall not fail.

Like the birth of a baby, the earth will become a messy bloody place till the birth is done. Then God will wipe away the tears and joy shall fill the hearts of the Bride of Christ as she becomes fully obedient to her head - her husband, the King of the world. Jesus shall reign in His Body and Bride on earth. If we endure to the end (telos), we shall reign with Him as kings and priest.

Some have asked, when it the time of these things. Personally, I do not believe there is a chronologic time set for these things to be completed. God has desired to have a people on earth since the Garden of Eden. He has always been ready for mankind to become whom He designed them to be. It is man who has been given dominion on earth and who must become the people of God. The work of Christ and the Holy Spirit has fully prepared the way for the kingdom people to come forth in holiness. The time depends on God having a people who will sacrifice all and loose their live that Christ may fully live in his many membered Body on earth.

Jesus endured the cross for the joy set before Him.(Heb 12:2) We shall endure the sorrows for the joy of the Lord set before us. Rejoice in the Lord always. Again I will say, rejoice! (Phil 4:4)

Neh 8:10: Then he said to them, "Go your way, eat the fat, drink the sweet, and send portions to those for whom nothing is prepared; for this day is holy to our LORD. Do not sorrow, for the joy of the LORD is your strength."

The Blanket Of Unbelief

The god of this age has blinded the minds of unbelievers, so that they cannot see the light of the gospel of the glory of Christ, who is the image of God. 2 Corinthians 4:4

For he says, "In the time of my favor I heard you, and in the day of salvation I helped you." [Isaiah 49:8] I tell you, now is the time of God's favor, now is the day of salvation*.* 2 Corinthians 6:2

"These are the times that many have looked into. These are the days that are hastening forward to my soon return. These days are hastening forward because time is moving at a much higher rate. If something took five years before, now it will take but one. But I tell you that evil will increase as well. For the days will get darker and darker before the light that my Son's light is shone abroad. For there is a blanket of unbelief that has blinded many, but behold…I have given some the authority to tear this curtain off. "

(The Lord showed me a globe of the world and around the globe there was a cloth or curtain of some sort, that was covering much of the globe, so that those there could not see out.)

"The angel of darkness has blinded the truth to many, but his time is running out. The days are slowly running out. The time will come when it will be too late. Now is the acceptable day of salvation. Come to Me now before the days of destruction come. Behold….my horsemen come soon upon the earth. "

The Prophetic Time Table Will Increase
Stephen Hanson

March 12, 2005

30 I will show wonders in the heavens and on the earth, blood and fire and billows of smoke. 31 The sun will be turned to darkness and the moon to blood before the coming of the great and dreadful day of the LORD . Joel 2

4 But you, Daniel, close up and seal the words of the scroll until the time of the end. Many will go here and there to increase knowledge." Daniel 12

“I tell you that great natural disasters are coming upon the earth. I tell you that Mt. Saint Helens will blow again. It’s smoky ash will fill the air for hundreds of miles around. There will be signs in the heavens and on the earth below. “

“Many prophecies speak of new developments that are coming. They say that man will delve into the secrets of the universe. I tell you that these things are true, but I also tell you that man has put himself up as his own god. I have said that in the last days that knowledge would increase. It is at a rapid rate of increase at the moment, but it will be part of man’s demise. “

“I have spoken and said that time will increase in these days. Indeed, these things are true. These things are true to the degree that the prophetic time table of events will be tilted on a balance scale. The clock will click, but its hands will move at a far more rapid rate. When you hear of rumors of other nations building up their nuclear arsenals, you will then see the events of these things happening at a far more rapid rate. “

“I am the God of the universe and I have a plan for every man and woman upon the earth. The days are short. Many will fall in this hour, but those who are close to Me will shine like the stars in the heavens.”

The Birth Pangs Intensify

Jan Markell

August 30, 2005

Most people know that birth pangs intensify and become more frequent as the baby is about to be born. Some translations call this "the beginning of sorrows." And that is exactly what is happening around the world. News' stories suggest Hurricane Katrina was "a once in a lifetime" event. How many times in the last five years have we heard that something, usually a disaster, was "of Biblical proportions? Check out my "Signs in Nature" category to verify this, at the Web site.

There are three "watchmen" I highly respect. Bill Koenig (www.watch.org), John McTernan, (www.branchofdavid.org) and Avner Boskey (www.davidstent.org). Let me touch on some highlights, or are they lowlights?

Hurricane Katrina is America's tsunami though you might not know that unless you're watching Fox News. What you won't hear anywhere is that this week New Orleans was to observe "Southern Decadence Day with 100,000 homosexuals gathering there to commit unspeakable acts in public. Previous events were photographed and sent to the mayor and police officials but they did not care. They had their own lust: The $100,000,000 the event brings in.

Gambling casinos took a hit on the coast as this is where the eye of the storm hit.

And as America forced Israelis out of parts of their land, hurricane Katrina was building in the Atlantic. A Fox reporter said, "It must be an emotional experience (for Americans) to walk away from their homes and not ever live in them again." Same with those forced out in Israel. Israeli homes are being demolished as Gulf Coast homes are demolished.

This was America's greatest "evacuation." Now we have "refugees". Israelis were evacuated and many are refugees living in tents and refugee centers, thanks to America. The Israeli uprooting will affect their entire economy in that some of their finest produce which was exported is now left behind. America's economy could face a steep recession as oil processing refineries were damaged. Plan to see price increases within days. Will this bring our economy down? Major industries will be affected from food delivery, jet fuel, travel, insurance, and so much more with the "ripple effect" of skyrocketing gas prices.

Luke 21 talks about "the sea and the waves roaring" and "men's hearts failing them for fear." We must not stop there. It goes on to say, "When these things begin to happen, look up and know your redemption draws nigh. As Hal Lindsey and I shared the same platform in 2004, we both said, "He is at the door." The "birth pangs" can't get much more intense.

If you're in the area, please consider attending the conference with Hal Lindsey, Sept. 30 - Oct. 1. All details are under "CONFERENCES" at www.olivetreeviews.org. We'll talk about how prophecy signs have escalated in recent years. The Saturday afternoon program considers current deception in the church with other guests.

Everyone has a mantra today. Mine is this: You cannot understand world events without the proper interpretation of Bible prophecy. It's as simple as that.

Let us continue to pray for the "homeless" both in America and Israel. Millions have had their lives torn apart and our greatest contribution to them, other than physical needs, is prayer.

RADIO: I will cover this topic hour one this weekend, Labor Day weekend, with John McTernan, one of the most gifted "watchmen" I know. You can listen live at www.kkms.com if we're not in your town. It will be posted to "radio archives" 2-3 days later. We're live Saturdays 9 - 11 AM with a rebroadcast from 12 - 2 PM Sunday. We are heard in several cities. Check Web site for details. We headquarter out of AM980 KKMS, Minneapolis/St. Paul, MN.

Awaiting His return,

The Breaking Point

Mark Kaphaem

There is a breaking point.

This breaking point can be a door to major breakthroughs if we choose to go through it.

Where is this breaking point?

The apostle Peter found it. He found this breaking point when he had to face the failure of denying our Lord.

This breaking often comes at the point of our failure.

How did the Lord walk Peter through his failure.

He asked Peter if he loved Him.

Have you failed?

We all know it is easy to receive His love when we feel as though we are doing well.

How about when we have failed, or feel like a failure. Then it is not so easy. But this is the path we must choose and embrace everyday if we want to grow in Him. For walking on this path is where we learn to receive His love and where our love for Him begins to grow.

This is the path of brokenness. On the path of brokenness is where the will of the Father is formed within us.

Thy will not my will be done.

This can only be accomplished is us through love. His love for us and our love for Him.

Jesus said if you love me you will obey me. If you are not obeying Him, it's because we do not love Him. You can not work up this love on your own. You have to walk the path of brokenness and have it formed within you.

We walk the path with our failure in one hand and His love in the other. His love so outweighs our failure that the hand carrying the failure is raised to Him. As we raise our failure to Him He cleanses and forgives us. Now the hand that once carried our failure is filled with love for Him. However His love always out weighs our love so we always have one hand lifted to Him. Giving back as we are given to. This also is the only motive for ministering to others. The only way to give out of a pure heart.

It's not about us. Our goals, our lofty words, our expectations, how we see ourselves. We are just looking into a mirror dimly until love is formed in us. Love is formed in us as we choose a daily walk of brokenness. And it takes as long as it takes. :)

So, here is the path of recovery. The way to end the cycle of failure and pain.

Learn how to love.

How do we learn to love?

By allowing Jesus to love us. Especially when we do not feel like we are worthy of it.

BTW - He works through our brothers and sisters so we have to allow them to love us also. Even when they aren't very good at it yet. That's called humility. :)

Love you all,
Getting busted big time as I write this.
Mark

Tabernacles

Bill Somers

> Col 2:16 Let no man therefore judge you in meat, or in drink, or in respect of an holyday, or of the new moon, or of the sabbath days:
> 17 Which are a shadow of things to come; ….

This is third in a series of articles on the major biblical feasts. It follows The Passover Pattern and A Few Looks at Pentecost; both posted earlier this year [2003].

We are going to cover the basic layout of the Feast of Tabernacles, and then focus on two major prophetic themes of this feast. They are The Revelation of Jesus Christ and End Time Revival and Harvest. Along the way, we will look at biblical events that took place during the feasts as partial fulfillment of their prophetic meaning. And we will examine the question: What exactly does it take to transform a believer into a totally obedient servant of the Lord?

The Feast of Tabernacles

The Feast of Tabernacles has a double meaning. It is often used in a general way to denote the entire group of fall feasts. Specifically it refers to a 7-day period from Tishri 15-21. This is similar to how Passover is used to mean the group of spring feasts, but the actual Passover is just one day of those feasts.

Tabernacles Ordinances

Here is the portion of scripture that lays out the basic ordinances of the fall feasts, or Tabernacles.

> Leviticus 23:23 And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying,
> 24 Speak unto the children of Israel, saying, In the seventh month, in the first day of the month, shall ye have a sabbath, a memorial of blowing of trumpets, an holy convocation.
> 25 Ye shall do no servile work therein: but ye shall offer an offering made by fire unto the LORD.
> 26 And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying,
> 27 Also on the tenth day of this seventh month there shall be a day of atonement: it shall be an holy convocation unto you; and ye shall afflict your souls, and offer an offering made by fire unto the LORD.
> 28 And ye shall do no work in that same day: for it is a day of atonement, to make an atonement for you before the LORD your God.
> 29 For whatsoever soul it be that shall not be afflicted in that same day, he shall be cut off from among his people.
> 30 And whatsoever soul it be that doeth any work in that same day, the same soul will I destroy from among his people.
> 31 Ye shall do no manner of work: it shall be a statute for ever throughout your generations in all your dwellings.
> 32 It shall be unto you a sabbath of rest, and ye shall afflict your souls: in the ninth day of the month at even, from even unto even, shall ye celebrate your sabbath.
> 33 And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying,
> 34 Speak unto the children of Israel, saying, The fifteenth day of this seventh month shall be the feast of tabernacles for seven days unto the LORD.
> 35 On the first day shall be an holy convocation: ye shall do no servile work therein.
> 36 Seven days ye shall offer an offering made by fire unto the LORD: on the eighth day shall be an holy convocation unto you; and ye shall offer an offering made by fire unto the LORD: it is a solemn assembly; and ye shall do no servile work therein.
> 37 These are the feasts of the LORD, which ye shall proclaim to be holy convocations, to offer an offering made by fire unto the LORD, a burnt offering, and a meat offering, a > sacrifice, and drink offerings, every thing upon his day:

> 38 Beside the sabbaths of the LORD, and beside your gifts, and beside all your vows, and beside all your freewill offerings, which ye give unto the LORD.
> 39 Also in the fifteenth day of the seventh month, when ye have gathered in the fruit of the land, ye shall keep a feast unto the LORD seven days: on the first day shall be a sabbath, and on the eighth day shall be a sabbath.
> 40 And ye shall take you on the first day the boughs of goodly trees, branches of palm trees, and the boughs of thick trees, and willows of the brook; and ye shall rejoice before the LORD your God seven days.
> 41 And ye shall keep it a feast unto the LORD seven days in the year. It shall be a statute for ever in your generations: ye shall celebrate it in the seventh month.
> 42 Ye shall dwell in booths seven days; all that are Israelites born shall dwell in booths:
> 43 That your generations may know that I made the children of Israel to dwell in booths, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt: I am the LORD your God.
> 44 And Moses declared unto the children of Israel the feasts of the LORD.

The Jewish Calendar

The Jewish calendar is a lunar calendar and each month begins on a day of the new moon. To even up the lunar calendar with our solar calendar, an extra month is added every 3 months or 7 times in 19 years according to Kevin Conner [The Feasts of Israel 1980 Bible Temple Pubs]. This is why Passover [and Easter], Jewish New Year and Tabernacles fall at different times of the year in our solar calendar. Passover comes in the first month of the Jewish religious calendar, named Aviv also known as [a.k.a.] Nisan. Tabernacles comes in the seventh month, named Tishri.

Here's a little chart of how the months run.

Solar Calendar	Sacred Calendar	Civil Calendar
March-April	Aviv or Nisan	Tishri
April-May	Iyyar	Heshvan
May-June	Sivan	Kieslev
June-July	Tammuz	Tebeth
July-August	Ab or Av	Shebat
August-September	Elul	Adar
September-October	Tishri	Aviv or Nisan
October-November	Heshvan	Iyyar
November-December	Kieslev	Sivan
December-January	Tebeth	Tammuz
January-February	Shebat	Ab or Av
February-March	Adar and Adar II	Elul and Elul II

In years where an extra month is added, the extra month comes at the end of the religious year. So in those years you have Adar I and Adar II. This means that there is a constant set of intervals between the Passover feasts and the Tabernacles feasts. And that Nisan is always the first month of the religious year, Tishri is always the seventh month of the religious year and the first month of the civil year.

If you think this is confusing, you're right.

I have found that many of the authorities, who are supposed to be experts on this stuff will give you differing dates for the feasts. [Authorities are like lawyers or economists, if you have three of them in the same room, you'll get 5 opinions.]

To make things more interesting, the Jewish calendar day changes at 6pm in the afternoon instead of at 12 midnight.

If you think this is confusing, you're really right.

The Layout of Passover

Here's an example going back to material from The Passover Pattern. Some authorities claim Passover falls on the 14th and some claim it falls on the 15th. The catch is that the day begins at 6pm in the Jewish calendar. So, it works like this.

On the 10th of Nisan, they take a lamb from the flock. It's inspected for 4 days.
On the 14th the lamb is killed and roasted, from 3 - 6pm.
At 6pm, the day changes to the 15th.
Then the lamb is eaten.
Also, on the 15th begins the first day of The Feast of Unleavened Bread. It runs for 7 days.
On the 16th is the feast of First Fruits.
The 16 is also the first day of the Counting of the Omer. This is where 50 days are counted off till Pentecost.

So as near as I can figure it out it works like this.

The 14th of Nisan or Aviv is called 'The preparation of the Passover'.

The 15th is called Passover and the beginning of Unleavened Bread.

The 16th is called First Fruits or day 1 of the Omer.

Day 1 of the Omer is the first day of the 50-day count leading to Pentecost a.k.a. Shavuot.

Pentecost falls on Sivan 6.

[Some authorities [Kevin Conner, in The Feasts of Israel, 1980] claim that First Fruits falls on the 18th as that is the day of Jesus resurrection. I use a Jewish Calendar Program that runs on Windows called Kaluach. You can down load it Here; it's about 400KB. This calendar shows day 1 of the Omer on the 16th, but it does not specify a day for First Fruits, [Bikkurim in Hebrew]. Eddie Chumney says, "Today, this festival is not observed in traditional Judaism." The Seven Festivals Of The Messiah Eddie Chumney http://www.hebroots.com]

Now here is the layout of the Fall Feasts a.k.a. Tabernacles.

Tabernacles Basics

1. Season of Teshuvah

   Meaning: A time of turning

   Dates: Elul 1 - Tishri 10

   Idea: This is a season of repenting in preparation for the High Holy days to come.
2. Feast of Trumpets a.k.a. Rosh Hashanah also Yom Teruah

   Meaning: Rosh Hashanah is Head of the Year, Yom Teruah is Day of the awakening blast [of the trumpet or shofar], a shout, or a War Cry.

   This is Jewish New Year, the first day of the civil year. In the religious calendar, it is the first day of the seventh month.

   Idea: Blow a Trumpet in Zion, a Call for Repentance
3. Days of Awe a.k.a. Yomim Noraim

   Meaning: Fearsome or awesome days

   Dates: Tishri 1 - 10

   Idea: A period of even more intense repentance. These are the High Holy Days.
4. Day of Atonement a.k.a. Yom Kippur

   Meaning: Day of atoning sacrifice.

   Dates: Tishri 10

   Idea: Getting Right with God
5. Tabernacles a.k.a. Succot [or Succoth]

   Meaning: Booths

   Dates: Tishri 15-21

   Idea: Preparing a Dwelling, Time of Great Joy, Harvest
6. The Eighth Day or The Great Day a.k.a. Shemini Atzeret

Meaning: The eighth assembly

Dates: Tishri 22

Idea: Even more great Joy.

Rosh Hashanah is how most secular Jews refer to The Feast Of Trumpets. But it is not called that in the bible. All that Rosh Hashanah means is head of the year. We call it Jewish new years. We celebrate new years on January 1, there is also Chinese new years, and so on. But The Feast Of Trumpets is not just another day to celebrate. Observant Jews and anyone who understands the feasts know it as Yom Teruah, the day of the shout or awakening blast.

Eddie Chumney points out the importance of the idea of awakening.

> The theme of awakening from sleep is used throughout the Bible. It is found in John (Yochanan) 11:11; Romans 13:11; Daniel 12:1-2; and Psalm (Tehillim) 78:65. In Isaiah 51:9 it is written, "Awake, awake, put on strength, O arm of the Lord; awake as in the days of old, the generations of long ago..." (NAS). The arm of the Lord is used as a term for the Messiah in Isaiah (Yeshayahu) 53:1. The word arm is the Hebrew word zeroah. During Passover (Pesach), a shankbone, known as the zeroah, is put on the plate. So, "awake" is a term or idiom for Rosh HaShanah. In Isaiah (Yeshayahu) 51:9 quoted earlier, the awakening is associated with the coming of the Messiah. (Eddie Chumney)

A Pattern in the Fall Feasts

OK lets look at the ideas behind each element here.
A Season Of Repenting
A Call For Repentance
Intense Repentance
Getting Right with God
Preparing a Dwelling, Time of Great Joy, Harvest

Do you see a pattern here? First of all, we see Repentance, Repentance and Repentance. That's a great thing, you can't overstress it. It's like those other repetitive slogans: Location, Location and Location; or Prioritize, Prioritize and Prioritize.

And then what does repentance produce? Getting right with God of course!

OK so what does Getting right with God result it? It results in a great many things, and they are expressed in a great variety of ways all through the bible. Here we see three mentioned.

Getting right with God brings great joy. There is just nothing comparable to the Joy of the Lord! He says The Joy of the Lord is my strength.

Preparing a Dwelling speaks of dwelling with God and Him dwelling with you. It's entering in and dwelling with Him, in his Rest and his Peace.

Consider now that Tabernacles is the seventh feast and comes in the seventh month. It is a High Holy Day and a Sabbath [Lev. 23:39]. Entering in and dwelling with Him, in his Rest as we said above speaks of the Sabbath rest. In the quotes from Leviticus you can see a continual emphasis on doing no work. This is a time when we must stop all striving, struggling and trying to do things in our own strength. A time to give up what we have on our agenda and get with God's agenda.

As the Sabbath is the seventh day, it corresponds to the seventh millennium in God's prophetic week. This is a clue that the final fulfillment of Tabernacles is in this seventh millennium.

Now tabernacles takes place during the time of fruit harvest. [Passover is at the barley harvest, and Pentecost is at the wheat harvest, so the idea of harvest is always an element of these feasts.]

Getting right with God brings a great harvest into his Kingdom. This is also part of the Joy.

From this, you should be able to see elements of one of our two main themes: End Time Revival and Harvest.

Alternate Names of the Feasts

The Feast of Tabernacles was also called
The Feast of Ingathering, because in took place in the season of harvest
The Feast of The Seventh Month, because in took place in the seventh month
The Feast of Dedication, because Solomon dedicated the temple at this time
The Feast of The Open Book, because people were taught the Law at this time
The Feast of Illumination, because the temple was illuminated at this time
The Feast of The Outpouring Of The Waters, because they had a water pouring ceremony at this time. Each of these titles is also prophetic.

Hanukah is also called The Feast of Dedication and this is another source of confusion. The bible speaks of Jesus in temple during the Feast of Dedication, John 10:22, and some writers take that to mean Hanukah. Since Hanukah is not one of the festivals mentioned by Moses, I tend to think that the incident refers to tabernacles.

Prophetic Types

Earlier we quoted Colossians chapter 2:

> Col 2:16 Let no man therefore judge you in meat, or in drink, or in respect of an holyday, or of the new moon, or of the sabbath days:
> 17 Which are a shadow of things to come*; . . .*

When the bible says something is a shadow, it means that it is an image or figure; it is a picture. It is a type and in effect, a prophecy of things to come. This is why we study the feasts, not so we can impress people with our knowledge of Jewish practices.

Here is another way of explaining it.

In 1991 Destiny Image published a book by Lou Berthleson titled Holiness for these Awesome Days. Here is what he says in chapter one about the prophetic nature of the Feasts of the Lord.

> Our study of patterns will begin with the feasts of the Lord as set forth in Leviticus 23. The Jews saw these as appointments with the Lord Jehovah. They called the festivals Miqra', or rehearsals.
> In First Thessalonians 5:1-5 Paul addresses mature Jews about the "appointed" time of Jesus' return. He referred to the festivals, Sabbaths and new moons that were the focus of the Jews' religious calendar.

> The word "times" in First Thessalonians 5:1-5 is Mowed, which is translated, "a specific appointment in time, a particular time or appointed season." The seven feasts of the Lord were given as appointments or rehearsals. They were designed by the Lord to foretell the events that would surround the coming of His Son and ever point to the proper attitudes requited of believers.

A Bigger Pattern

Lou Berthleson also mentions a certain pattern in the events of the first feast of tabernacles that links it with the patterns of Passover and Pentecost. This pattern is also prophetic, and relates to the coming of the Lord. Here it is in part:
Moses came down from the mountain with the second set of stone tables on the Day of Atonement.

Now the questions this raises are several. What is the significance of Moses returning exactly on the Day of Atonement? How does this connect with Passover and Pentecost?

How does this fit in with the pattern of the fall feasts mentioned above? What does it have to do with the Revelation of Jesus Christ? And what is the connection to the coming of the Lord?

First of all lets look at a brief summary of the events in Exodus.

In the Exodus, Moses led the people out of Egypt at Passover.

Then they journey to Mt. Sinai and receive the law at Pentecost.

The Lord gives Moses the stone tables. Then after Moses breaks the first set of stone tables, he ascends the mountain again. He comes down again after some time with the second set of stone tables. He instructs the people to begin gathering the materials to build the tabernacle. This happened on or about the time of Tabernacles.

The tabernacle is completed 6 months later on the first day of the first month, just in time for the celebration of the Passover.

So, we can see that Passover is the beginning and the end. All of the feasts point to Jesus, our Passover, and all are prophetic.

> Revelation 22:13 I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end, the first and the last.

Each of the feasts has been partly fulfilled by Jesus, in the past, and awaits a further fulfillment to come. We are starting to see a connection with our other main theme, the Revelation of Jesus Christ.

This also brings up one more question, how did Jesus partly fulfill the feast of tabernacles? We can see that he fulfilled Passover in his death and resurrection. And we see that the coming of the Holy Spirit in Acts 2 is a fulfillment of Pentecost. But what did he do that fulfilled tabernacles? Don't let me forget to come back to this question.

123 Days.

Now we just said earlier that Moses came down from the mountain with the second set of stone tables on the Day of Atonement. But in our short summary, all we said was that it happened on or about the feast of tabernacles. How do we peg this to be exactly on the Day of Atonement? Psalm 90 speaks of numbering days, so we'll do just that.

> Ps 90:12 So teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom.

We saw above that the day after Passover was the first of 50 days counting off till Pentecost. So, there is our connection between Passover and Pentecost. Using a handy dandy Jewish calendar we will find that from Pentecost to Trumpets is 113 days and to the Day of Atonement is 123 days

Moses Timetable

So, we need to look at Moses schedule after Israel received the Law on the first Pentecost. Part of it is found in Exodus, and part in Deuteronomy.

First of all, Moses goes up on the mountain for 40 days.

> De 9:9 When I was gone up into the mount to receive the tables of stone, even the tables of the covenant which the LORD made with you, then I abode in the mount forty days and forty nights, I neither did eat bread nor drink water:

Then he has to hurry back down the mountain to find the people have been worshipping a golden calf.

> De 9:16 And I looked, and, behold, ye had sinned against the LORD your God, and had made you a molten calf: ye had turned aside quickly out of the way which the LORD had commanded you.
> 17 And I took the two tables, and cast them out of my two hands, and brake them before your eyes.

Moses repents before the Lord another 40 days.

> De 9:18 And I fell down before the LORD, as at the first, forty days and forty nights:

Then Moses takes and destroys the golden calf. [The order of these events is not perfectly clear.]

> De 9:21 And I took your sin, the calf which ye had made, and burnt it with fire, and stamped it, and ground it very small, even until it was as small as dust: and I cast the dust thereof into the brook that descended out of the mount.

Next Moses makes an ark and prepares two more tables of stone.

> De 10:1 At that time the LORD said unto me, Hew thee two tables of stone like unto the first, and come up unto me into the mount, and make thee an ark of wood.

Moses spends another 40 days on the mountain.

> Ex 34:28 And he was there with the LORD forty days and forty nights; he did neither eat bread, nor drink water. And he wrote upon the tables the words of the covenant, the ten commandments.

Finally, Moses comes back down.

> De 10:5 And I turned myself and came down from the mount, and put the tables in the ark which I had made; and there they be, as the LORD commanded me.

There are three periods of 40 days here, allowing a day for destroying the golden calf, a day to make the ark, and a day to prepare the second set of tables, we get 123 days. This places Moses return on the Day of Atonement. This is not a precise proof since we are estimating the extra three days, but it all works out very neatly making the third 40 day period line up exactly with the season of Teshuvah. He that has an ear will hear.

So, Moses returns from the mountain on the Day of Atonement. What does this signify? If we ask why did Moses return on that day, the answer would be to set in place a pattern that points to future events relating to the coming of the Lord.

Moses coming down from the mountain speaks of the Lord coming down from Heaven. We can see this in more depth by looking at more of the details.

What do we know about the Day of Atonement? Among other things, special sacrifices were made that day. It is the day of atoning sacrifice.

In the book of Hebrews, we find this description:

> Heb 9:1 Then verily the first covenant had also ordinances of divine service, and a worldly sanctuary.
> 2 For there was a tabernacle made; the first, wherein was the candlestick, and the table, and the shewbread; which is called the sanctuary.

> 3 And after the second veil, the tabernacle which is called the Holiest of all;
> 4 Which had the golden censer, and the ark of the covenant overlaid round about with gold, wherein was the golden pot that had manna, and Aaron's rod that budded, and the tables of the covenant;
> 5 And over it the cherubims of glory shadowing the mercyseat; of which we cannot now speak particularly.
> 6 Now when these things were thus ordained, the priests went always into the first tabernacle, accomplishing the service of God.
> 7 But into the second went the high priest alone once every year, not without blood, which he offered for himself, and for the errors of the people:

The tabernacle which is called the Holiest of all is what we know as the holy of holies. The high priest would enter there once every year. This was on the Day of Atonement.

This description from Hebrews harkens back to Leviticus 16 where the Lord is telling Moses about the high priest burning incense and sprinkling the blood.

> Le 16:12 And he shall take a censer full of burning coals of fire from off the altar before the LORD, and his hands full of sweet incense beaten small, and bring it within the vail:
> 13 And he shall put the incense upon the fire before the LORD, that the cloud of the incense may cover the mercy seat that is upon the testimony, that he die not:
> 14 And he shall take of the blood of the bullock, and sprinkle it with his finger upon the mercy seat eastward; and before the mercy seat shall he sprinkle of the blood with his finger seven times.

This is the context of Luke 1:8-11 when Zacharias goes in to burn incense and meets the angel.

Now a key verse to understanding what happens here is Leviticus 16:2

> Le 16:2 And the LORD said unto Moses, Speak unto Aaron thy brother, that he come not at all times into the holy place within the vail before the mercy seat, which is upon the ark; that he die not: for I will appear in the cloud upon the mercy seat.

This is telling us that on the Day of Atonement, when the High Priest enters the Holy of Holies, the Lord Appears to him, in the cloud on the mercy seat, right on the top of the ark of the covenant. So Moses coming down from the mountain on the Day of Atonement coincides with the Lord coming down to meet the high priest on that day.

This is the one day of the year that the Lord appears in the temple. You could say that the Lord reveals himself in the temple on that day. Then you start to see a little more connection with the Revelation of Jesus Christ.

That is only part of the significance of Moses return. To comprehend the rest of it, we need to look at what else Moses does and what happens as a result.

Remember that the first time that Moses disappeared for 40 days, the people got restless and went into rebellion and idolatry. Compare that to the second time Moses came down, what happened then?

For one thing, he manifested the Glory of God.

> Ex 34:29 And it came to pass, when Moses came down from mount Sinai with the two tables of testimony in Moses' hand, when he came down from the mount, that Moses wist not that the skin of his face shone while he talked with him.

Secondly, the people experienced a Fear of the Lord.

> 30 And when Aaron and all the children of Israel saw Moses, behold, the skin of his face shone; and they were afraid to come nigh him.

Thirdly, He began to instruct the people.

> Ex 35:1 And Moses gathered all the congregation of the children of Israel together, and said unto them, These are the words which the LORD hath commanded, that ye should > do them.

In the very next verse, Moses emphasized the Sabbath rest of the Lord and called for holiness.

> Ex 35:2 Six days shall work be done, but on the seventh day there shall be to you an holy day, a sabbath of rest to the LORD: whosoever doeth work therein shall be put to death.

Then in Exodus 35:4 and following he commands the people to gather the materials for construction of the tabernacle. And instead of the usual rebellion and murmuring, we find willing obedience.

> Ex 35:21 And they came, every one whose heart stirred him up, and every one whom his spirit made willing, and they brought the LORD'S offering to the work of the tabernacle of the congregation, and for all his service, and for the holy garments.

The people are described as willing five times in Ex 35.

What is it that made them so willing? To put it another way, what does it take to transform a believer into a totally obedient servant? Consider the following:

> Jer 31:31 Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah:
> 32 Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day that I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt; which my covenant they brake, although I was an husband unto them, saith the LORD:
> 33 But this shall be the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel; After those days, saith the LORD, I will put my law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts; and will be their God, and they shall be my people.
> 34 And they shall teach no more every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the LORD: for they shall all know me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the LORD: for I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their sin no more.

This tells us of a new covenant that the Lord intends to make with his people. He will write his law in our hearts. And we shall all know Him. This is part of the Revelation of Jesus Christ.

Here is another description from Jeremiah 32.

> Jer 32:40 And I will make an everlasting covenant with them, that I will not turn away from them, to do them good; but I will put my fear in their hearts, that they shall not depart from me.

Here we see that this new covenant will make it so that his people will not depart from him. Ezekiel explains it this way:

> Eze 36:26 A new heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you: and I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you an heart of flesh.
> 27 And I will put my spirit within you, and cause you to walk in my statutes, and ye shall keep my judgments, and do them.

The Lord is promising that he will cause us to obey him! This will certainly do the job of seeing us become totally willing and obedient. It means getting right with God and staying that way.

Willing And Obedient

So, when Moses finds the people willing and obedient what does that typify? Remember what Moses brought with him on his return. It was the second set of stone tables. Symbolically the first set of tables was the first covenant, and the second set of tables represents this second covenant.

So now, we see some more significance in Moses actions. Moses coming down from the mountain with the second set of tables is prophetic of the Lord coming to his people and establishing this second covenant that Jeremiah and Ezekiel wrote about. The new covenant is what makes us willing and obedient.

Are There Two Second Comings Of The Lord?

In the Revelation of Jesus Christ, chapter 19 depicts the Second Coming like this:

> Re 19:11 And I saw heaven opened, and behold a white horse; and he that sat upon him was called Faithful and True, and in righteousness he doth judge and make war.
> 12 His eyes were as a flame of fire, and on his head were many crowns; and he had a name written, that no man knew, but he himself.

But in Hosea, we read that he will come to us as the latter rain!

> Ho 6:1 Come, and let us return unto the LORD: for he hath torn, and he will heal us; he hath smitten, and he will bind us up.
> 2 After two days will he revive us: in the third day he will raise us up, and we shall live in his sight.
> *3 Then shall we know, if we follow on to know the LORD: his going forth is prepared as the morning; and he shall come unto us as the rain, as the latter and former rain unto the earth.

In Joel chapter 2 the same ideas is expressed.

> Joe 2:23 Be glad then, ye children of Zion, and rejoice in the LORD your God: for he hath given you the former rain moderately, and he will cause to come down for you the rain, the former rain, and the latter rain in the first month.
> 28 And it shall come to pass afterward, that I will pour out my spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions:
> 29 And also upon the servants and upon the handmaids in those days will I pour out my spirit.

So, we need to consider two comings of the Lord, one spiritual, and one physical or literal.

Hosea also tells us that this happens in the third day. Prophetically the third day is the third 1000-year period since Jesus first came and the 7th 1000-year period since Adam. This puts us in the seventh millennium or Sabbath Rest of the Lord. Earlier we said that tabernacles points to this seventh millennium.

So then, Moses return on the Day of Atonement is a prophetic picture of the spiritual coming of the Lord during the 7th millennium. Ezekiel 36:27 says And I will put my spirit within you, [this is a spiritual coming] and cause you to walk in my statutes, and ye shall keep my judgments, and do them. And this spiritual coming brings the new covenant with it. This is what it takes to make a believer become a totally willing and obedient servant.

Other places in the scripture tell about the people being willing. Notably Judges 5:1-5 and Psalm 110 which alludes to the third day as the Day of thy Power.

> Ps 110:3 Thy people shall be willing in the day of thy power, in the beauties of holiness from the womb of the morning: thou hast the dew of thy youth.

Also compare Hosea 6:1-2 with this passage in Jeremiah 32, the same chapter we cited above concerning the new covenant.

> Jer 32:42 For thus saith the LORD; Like as I have brought all this great evil upon this people, so will I bring upon them all the good that I have promised them.

Earlier we said that our two themes are The Revelation of Jesus Christ and End Time Revival and Harvest. Well so far have we gotten two out of three. The coming of the Lord as the latter rain establishes the second covenant by putting his Spirit within us.

It brings the Glory of God to his people and creates the Fear of the Lord within them. This is nothing less than the Revelation of Jesus Christ and it is End Time Revival. Since we become totally obedient servants of our King Jesus, it is also the Kingdom of God in its fullness.

You can find other examples of how the Revelation of Jesus Christ transforms someone into a totally obedient servant, Isaiah 6 for example. The most notable of these is what happened to a man named Saul of Tarsus on the road to Damascus.

Harvest

Now what about harvest? What do Moses actions prophesy in the way of harvest?

Moses commanded the people to collect the materials for construction of the tabernacle. The work was finished and tabernacle was raised up on the first day of Nisan or Aviv. It was done in time for the Passover!

> Ex 40:17 And it came to pass in the first month in the second year, on the first day of the month, that the tabernacle was reared up.

And here we find our answer. Gathering the materials for the tabernacle represents the harvest. The Passover is the [physical] Second Coming of Jesus Christ! This means that Moses actions here are an allegory of God's entire end time plan.

Everything we have said about the feast of tabernacles relates to that end time plan.

God's Dwelling Place

So how does the gathering of the materials for the tabernacle tell us anything about harvest?

The tabernacle was to be God's dwelling place. Later a temple was built for God's dwelling place. David spoke of building him a house to dwell in. These three terms for God's dwelling all speak of the church, this is to be a spiritual dwelling, the house or family of God. [Note that the bible speaks of someone's family as being their house in many cases, as in house of Jacob, or house of Joseph.] There is also a connection between the idea of the house of God and the Body of Christ. They are ways of saying the same thing for a spirit can dwell in a body in the same manner as a man can live in a house.

> Ac 7:48 Howbeit the most High dwelleth not in temples made with hands; as saith the prophet,
> 1Co 3:16 Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?

So ultimately, God is not going to dwell in a physical structure at all.

> Re 21:3 And I heard a great voice out of heaven saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God.

The materials of the tabernacle or temple speak of men, the souls of men, which are to be harvested in these end times. Peter uses this analogy to speak of us as lively stones.

> 1Pe 2:5 Ye also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, an holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ.

Being a lively stone means being a part of the spiritual temple. It is also to be a member of the family or part of the body. In Ephesians 2, these ideas are tied together.

> Eph 2:19 Now therefore ye are no more strangers and foreigners, but fellow citizens with the saints, and of the household of God;
> 20 And are built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner stone;
> 21 In whom all the building fitly framed together groweth unto an holy temple in the Lord:
> 22 In whom ye also are builded together for an habitation of God through the Spirit.

We see here in this passage a mention of being fellow citizens, which would mean citizens of the Kingdom of God. Next mentioned is the household of God, so we are part of the family of God. Also, we are built into a habitation of God, a dwelling, through the Spirit, that is the second covenant, his spirit in us. We are built on the foundation where Jesus is the chief cornerstone. In him, the building is fitly framed. That is the building or body if you please is properly assembled. And the building or body, once properly assembled, grows into a holy temple. So, we are to be built into God's dwelling place.

There are two very important points to notice here. One, the building or body is properly assembled in Christ; the phrase fitly framed is also sometimes translated as rightly joined. Two, the building or body then grows.

The same idea is seen later in Ephesians 4.

> Eph 4:14 That we henceforth be no more children, tossed to and fro, and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, and cunning craftiness, whereby they lie in wait to deceive;
> 15 But speaking the truth in love, may grow up into him in all things, which is the head, even Christ:
> 16 From whom the whole body fitly joined together and compacted by that which every joint supplieth, according to the effectual working in the measure of every part, maketh increase of the body unto the edifying of itself in love.

Here it speaks of maturity as growing up, that is growing up into Him, Christ, the Head of the Body. So that maturity is to be in Christ. Next, we see mentioned that the whole body is fitly joined to the head. And that this causes the body to increase or be built up.

Assembly And Growth

The two ideas here are assembly and growth. They relate very simple to our theme. Assembly is End Time Revival, and Growth is the Harvest.

In our case of Moses, we can see these two points clearly.

His coming down on the day of atonement and finding the people willing to hear the word of the Lord and obey speaks of End Time Revival, which means the proper assembly of The Body Of Christ. The gathering of the building materials then speaks of the growth of the body once it is properly assembled, in other words, the harvest.

An Illustration from Scripture

This can be seen illustrated in the story of the construction of Solomon's temple.

David had the desire to build a house or temple, but God only allowed him to gather some of the materials and plan for the building.

Solomon, Shelomoh in Hebrew, means peaceful. His name speaks of the time of peace or rest. The Sabbath rest or seventh day is when the actual assembly and completion of God's dwelling takes place. His dwelling is his rest or place of rest. Psalm 132 is a prayer for the Lord to come into his rest. This means to come and dwell in his resting-place. This resting-place is in his body, the church, once it is properly assembled.

> Ps 132:8 Arise, O LORD, into thy rest; thou, and the ark of thy strength.

When David passed on and Solomon came to rule speaks of this time of rest. And it was Solomon who built the temple, which is a type of the place of rest. Solomon used the materials David had gathered but also gathered 10 times as much besides that, which also went into the temple building.

Now look at the ideas of assembly and growth. Solomon assembled the materials David gathered, and then he added another 10 times more. Comparing this to the end time revival it implies that the Body Of Christ will experience at least a 10 times increase in growth during the harvest, once it is revived [properly assembled].

Let's take this illustration a little further. David's rule represents the church from the time of Jesus till now. Just as David gathered building materials, the church has had converts all this time. David never actually constructed the temple. In like manner the church has never been properly assembled, at least that part of it that is on the earth. When Solomon took over all he had was a lot of building materials laying all about in no particular order. This is like the church of today. We have millions of Christians all over the world who are not rightly connected or assembled into a body. In many cases, they are actually fighting each other. Solomon starts to build the temple and put all the materials at hand to use. Likewise the coming of the Lord as the latter rain will put things in order in his Church, and establish his kingdom.

A Recap

What we've seen here so far is this:

We saw that the basic pattern of Tabernacles could be summed up like this. Repentance, repentance, repentance, getting right with God; followed by the dwelling place and great joy in the harvest.

Then we analyzed Moses' actions at the first tabernacles. We can see that this basic pattern is contained in Moses' actions and that our two main themes are present also.

Moses spends a second 40 days on the mountain. This speaks of repentance.

Moses coming down on the Day of Atonement points to the coming of the Lord in the end times as the Latter Rain. This is The Revelation of Jesus Christ.

Moses teaching the word of God to the people points to Jesus who is the word of God. This is The Revelation of Jesus Christ.

Moses' arrival brings the Glory of God, The Fear of the Lord and makes the people willing to serve. This points to End Time Revival, or in other words, getting right with God, which is a direct result of The Revelation of Jesus Christ.

Moses instructing the people to gather materials and raise up the tabernacle points to End Time Harvest.

Everything Moses did points to what Jesus is going to do in the end times. It is all the work of the Lord.

In Zechariah 4, we see this verse speaking about Zerubbabel. He is also a type of Jesus, so as you read this verse substitute the name of Jesus for Zerubbabel.

> Zec 4:9 The hands of Zerubbabel have laid the foundation of this house; his hands shall also finish it; and thou shalt know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto you.

This shows that the Lord begins the work and He is the one to finish it.

Partial Fulfillments Of Tabernacles

Like the other feasts the Lord established by Moses, Tabernacles has had several partial fulfillments. We're now going to look at a few.

Moses and the Open Book

In chapter 31 of Deuteronomy, there is a special mention of the Feast of Tabernacles and Moses actions at that time which relate to it as the Feast of the Open Book. The entire chapter covers this but the key elements are found here:

> De 31:9 And Moses wrote this law, and delivered it unto the priests the sons of Levi, which bare the ark of the covenant of the LORD, and unto all the elders of Israel.
> 10 And Moses commanded them, saying, At the end of every seven years, in the solemnity of the year of release, in the feast of tabernacles,
> 11 When all Israel is come to appear before the LORD thy God in the place which he shall choose, thou shalt read this law before all Israel in their hearing.
> 12 Gather the people together, men, and women, and children, and thy stranger that is within thy gates, that they may hear, and that they may learn, and fear the LORD your God, and observe to do all the words of this law:
> 13 And that their children, which have not known any thing, may hear, and learn to fear > the LORD your God, as long as ye live in the land whither ye go over Jordan to possess it.

Solomon's Dedication of the Temple

When Solomon had completed the temple, it was dedicated during tabernacles. The Ark of the Covenant was brought from Mt. Zion where David had placed it and taken into the temple. The Ark of course symbolizes the presence of God. Once it was properly located, the Glory of God manifested as a cloud that filled the temple, much as the same glory cloud filled the tabernacle in Moses' day. This is a case of the symbol immediately followed by the reality.

> 2 And all the men of Israel assembled themselves unto king Solomon at the feast in the month Ethanim, which is the seventh month.
> 10 And it came to pass, when the priests were come out of the holy place, that the cloud filled the house of the LORD,
> 11 So that the priests could not stand to minister because of the cloud: for the glory of the LORD had filled the house of the LORD.

Haggai's prophecies

In the Book of Haggai, the prophet's very name is prophetic. It means festive, feast, festival of Jehovah or born at the time of the festival. Haggai gives three prophecies, all having to do with the rebuilding of the temple, which he calls the House of the Lord.

All three prophecies are given on very specific dates. The first one comes on the first day of the sixth month, which is the start of Teshuvah, the season of repentance.

> Hag 1:1 In the second year of Darius the king, in the sixth month, in the first day of the month, came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet unto Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Josedech, the high priest, saying,
> 2 Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying, This people say, The time is not come, the time that the LORD'S house should be built.
> 7 Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Consider your ways.
> 8 Go up to the mountain, and bring wood, and build the house; and I will take pleasure in it, and I will be glorified, saith the LORD.

The second prophecy of Haggai comes on the last day of tabernacles proper.

> Hag 2:1 In the seventh month, in the one and twentieth day of the month, came the word of the LORD by the prophet Haggai, saying,
> 2 Speak now to Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Josedech, the high priest, and to the residue of the people, saying,
> 3 Who is left among you that saw this house in her first glory? and how do ye see it now? is it not in your eyes in comparison of it as nothing?
> 4 Yet now be strong, O Zerubbabel, saith the LORD; and be strong, O Joshua, son of Josedech, the high priest; and be strong, all ye people of the land, saith the LORD, and work: for I am with you, saith the LORD of hosts:
> 5 According to the word that I covenanted with you when ye came out of Egypt, so my spirit remaineth among you: fear ye not.
> 6 For thus saith the LORD of hosts; Yet once, it is a little while, and I will shake the heavens, and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land;
> 7 And I will shake all nations, and the desire of all nations shall come: and I will fill this house with glory, saith the LORD of hosts.
> 8 The silver is mine, and the gold is mine, saith the LORD of hosts.
> 9 The glory of this latter house shall be greater than of the former, saith the LORD of hosts: and in this place will I give peace, saith the LORD of hosts.

The third prophecy was given on the day before Hanukah, and speaks of further blessings to come. Hanukah was not established at the time of Haggai and significance of the timing is unclear.

Nehemiah and the Open Book

In the book of Nehemiah, there is a partial fulfillment of tabernacles. It's found in verses 7:73 through 8:18. Here we read of a solemn gathering of the people that took place in the seventh month, the time of the fall feasts.

> Ne 8:1 And all the people gathered themselves together as one man into the street that was before the water gate; and they spake unto Ezra the scribe to bring the book of the law of Moses, which the LORD had commanded to Israel.

Here in this verse are four things you should hear with spiritual ears. First, the people come into unity. Second the water gate speaks of the pouring out of the Spirit, Third, Ezra the scribe is a type of the Holy Spirit because a scribe is one who writes out the Law, and the Spirit is the one who inspired the writers of the bible. Fourth, the scribe brings the 'book of the law', this points to The Revelation of Jesus Christ.

This chapter goes on to describe how Ezra read from the book and taught the people to understand it's meaning. There are 10 or 12 references, depending on how you count them, which imply that the people received and understood the meaning of the word. This harkens back to the idea that Tabernacles is the Feast of the Open Book. And it also speaks of the opening of the seven-sealed scroll in Revelation. And of course opening the book that was sealed once again speaks of the Revelation of Jesus Christ. Let's look at this in detail.

The Meaning Of The Scroll

Moses had a commission to tell the Israelites that God had sent him. 'Tell them I am that I am'. That I AM had sent him. He also had authority to pronounce judgments.

Jesus had the same commission to reveal the Nature of God to the people of God. And he had the authority to pronounce judgments.

In the End Times, it will be God's people in this role.

In Revelation 5, The Lamb who is worthy takes the scroll. Some claim that the scroll represents the decrees of God concerning the acts of judgment and redemption to occur in the last days. The seven seals represent the judgments and they are opened by Jesus, the Lamb, because he has the authority to initiate all the judgments to follow.

Other writers have claimed that the scroll is the 'title deed to planet earth' or a catalog of woe and sorrow.

Kevin Conner says:

> The opening of the Book in the Feast of Tabernacles is alluded to in the opening of the Seven-sealed Book in Revelation 5:1-5 and the opened little book in Revelation 10:1-11. The Book is God's Word, the Holy Bible, the Book of Redemption. [p. 92}

I too prefer to think of the scroll as representing the bible itself. The reasons for this are scriptural and provide a marvelous glimpse of the sheer genius of God in the construction of his word.

1. The Scroll is said to be written within and without or on the front and back side. Rev. 5:1

2. The stone tables of the Law given to Moses are said to be written on the front and back sides.

> Ex 32:15 And Moses turned, and went down from the mount, and the two tables of the testimony were in his hand: the tables were written on both their sides; on the one side and on the other were they written.

This identifies the scroll with the law, hence with the bible, and ultimately with the Word of God, Jesus. So, Moses coming down with the law is like the Holy Spirit coming to reveal Jesus.

3. Since part is on the back side, then clearly it's not all readily apparent. Some meaning is hidden. The sealed scroll clearly has only a part of the writing visible.

4. There are several references to books being sealed in the O T. [Isa 8:16, 29:11-12, and Dan 12:4] Daniel says they are sealed till the end. Here opening the scroll is the unsealing of the books.

5. Opening the seals means revealing hidden meaning in the Word. So opening the scroll is one of many illustrations of the key concept summarized in the opening verse of Revelation. The Revelation of Jesus Christ.

6. Jesus is the only one who can open the scroll. No man is worthy. This shows that God reveals himself. Man cannot learn of these things on his own.

7. Each seal that is opened produces a judgment, and this also speaks of the Revelation of Jesus Christ since as Ps 9:16 says "The LORD is known by the judgment which he executeth: …."

So, the Lamb that was slain is Jesus Christ. The Scroll is Jesus Christ. Opening the Scroll is the Revelation of Jesus Christ. The Judgments that come forth are the Revelation of Jesus Christ. And the book is the Revelation of Jesus Christ. The Bible is The Revelation of Jesus Christ. In other words, it's all about knowing God.

Since the Feast of Tabernacles points to the opening of the Book, we may expect that God will reveal hidden meanings in the bible during the End Time revival. In fact, that's what is prophesied in Daniel 12.

> Da 12:4 But thou, O Daniel, shut up the words, and seal the book, even to the time of the end: many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased.
> Da 12:9 And he said, Go thy way, Daniel: for the words are closed up and sealed till the time of the end.

Jesus' Fulfillments Of Tabernacles

In the gospel of John chapters 7, 8 and 9 all take place during tabernacles. The beginning of chapter 7 has a discussion with his brothers about going up to Jerusalem for the feast of tabernacles. He tells them to go but that he would not go up yet.

> John 7:10 But when his brethren were gone up, then went he also up unto the feast, not openly, but as it were in secret.

Then in verse 14 Jesus suddenly shows up.

> John 7:14 Now about the midst of the feast Jesus went up into the temple, and taught.

Since this shows the Lord coming to the temple during the feast, it counts as a partial fulfillment of tabernacles.

Also it is a partial fulfillment of Malachi 3:1

> Mal 3:1 Behold, I will send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me: and the Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple*, even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in: behold, he shall come, saith the LORD of hosts.*

Later on we read:

> John 7:37 In the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink.
> 38 He that believeth on me, as the scripture hath said, out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water.
> 39 (But this spake he of the Spirit, which they that believe on him should receive: for the Holy Ghost was not yet given; because that Jesus was not yet glorified.)

Here also is a partial fulfillment in which Jesus also reveals himself as the source of living water, and speaks of the pouring out of the Holy Spirit. It ties in with tabernacles as The Feast of The Outpouring

Of The Waters. It's another case of the Revelation of Jesus Christ. Also, note that this happened on the exact same day as Haggai's second prophecy.

On the very next day in John chapter 8 we see how Jesus duplicates the action of Moses coming down from the mountain and teaching the people. Note also that he came into the temple. This is another partial fulfillment of tabernacles.

> John 8:1 Jesus went unto the mount of Olives.
> 2 And early in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came unto him; and he sat down, and taught them.

Later in that same chapter, we see Jesus revealing himself again as the light of the world. This ties in with tabernacles as the Feast of Illumination.

> Joh 8:12 Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life.

Acts Chapter 2

In the second chapter of Acts, the Holy Spirit comes upon the assembled group of disciples.

> Ac 2:1 And when the day of Pentecost was fully come, they were all with one accord in one place.
> 2 And suddenly there came a sound from heaven as of a rushing mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting.
> 3 And there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them.

This is generally regarded as the beginning of the church, the giving of the Spirit and the start of the New Covenant. This is partly true. It was a partial fulfillment for the building of the church, a partial fulfillment of the giving of the Holy Spirit, and a partial fulfillment of the New Covenant. These three ideas here are all roughly synonymous ways of looking at the same thing.

Verse 1 above says "they were all with one accord in one place." The idea here is unity of the brethren. So clearly, this is a also partial fulfilling of Psalms 133, which speaks of the End Time Revival in terms of the anointing coming upon the head and body of Aaron. It typifies the proper assembly of the head and body of Christ, for Jesus is our High Priest and in him is our place of unity. There we see the blessing come. That blessing is the Spirit, the presence and glory of God, life eternal. It is dwelling in the secret place of the most high as in Psalms 91, who is the way, the truth and the life.

> Ps 133:1 Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!
> 2 It is like the precious ointment upon the head, that ran down upon the beard, even Aaron's beard: that went down to the skirts of his garments;
> 3 As the dew of Hermon, and as the dew that descended upon the mountains of Zion: for there the LORD commanded the blessing, even life for evermore.

In The Last Days

We said the giving of the Holy Spirit in Acts 2 is a partial fulfillment. Peter in his sermon that day makes mention of the prophecy of Joel. He is telling the people that what they are experiencing that day is a fulfillment of Joel's prophecy.

> Ac 2:14 But Peter, standing up with the eleven, lifted up his voice, and said unto them, Ye men of Judaea, and all ye that dwell at Jerusalem, be this known unto you, and hearken to my words:
> 15 For these are not drunken, as ye suppose, seeing it is but the third hour of the day.
> 16 But this is that which was spoken by the prophet Joel;
> 17 And it shall come to pass in the last days, saith God, I will pour out of my Spirit upon all flesh: and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams:
> 18 And on my servants and on my handmaidens I will pour out in those days of my Spirit; > and they shall prophesy:

This is a reference to Joel Chapter 2:28-29.

We know it's only a partial fulfillment because the rest of what Joel has to say there still awaits fulfillment in the last days. Look at verses 30-31.

> Joel 30 And I will shew wonders in the heavens and in the earth, blood, and fire, and pillars of smoke.
> 31 The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before the great and the terrible day of the LORD come.

A Measure of the Spirit

The description of the coming of the Holy Spirit as cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them also indicates a partial fulfillment. It shows that each one received a measure of the Spirit. The had a small flame rest on them. The complete fulfillment will be intensely greater. It will be the Spirit without measure.

> Heb 12:29 For our God is a consuming fire.

The Pickle Recipe

As we are looking at the baptism of the Holy Spirit, a good way to explain this comes from a word study on baptism.

Some time back I copied the following definitions from the On Line Bible program. This definition of baptism came with a very interesting word study that illustrates what God is about to do in the Church. There are two words closely related to baptism; Bapto and Baptizo.

> baptizo {bap-tid'-zo}
> 1) to dip repeatedly, to immerse, to submerge (of vessels sunk)
> 2) to cleanse by dipping or submerging, to wash, to make clean with water, to wash one's self, bathe
> bapto {bap'-to}
> 1) to dip, dip in, immerse
> 2) to dip into dye, to dye, colour
> Not to be confused with baptizo. The clearest example that shows the meaning of baptizo is a text from the Greek poet and physician Nicander, who lived about 200 B.C. It is a recipe for making pickles and is helpful because it uses both words. Nicander says that in order to make a pickle, the vegetable should first be 'dipped' (bapto) into boiling water and then 'baptised' (baptizo) in the vinegar solution. Both verbs concern the immersing of vegetables in a solution. But the first is temporary. The second, the act of baptising the vegetable, produces a permanent change.
> When used in the New Testament, this word more often refers to our union and identification with Christ than to our water baptism. E.g. Mark 16:16. 'He that believes and is baptised shall be saved'. Christ is saying that mere intellectual assent is not enough. There must be a union with him, a real change, like the vegetable to the pickle! Bible Study Magazine, James Montgomery Boice, May 1989.

The interesting idea here is that union with Christ is what He requires and when this is real, and not just a positive confession, there will come a real, permanent change in us. Like the vegetable is radically transformed, well so must we be transformed.

All the great moves of God in the past, including the book of Acts, have just been bapto's, temporary changes. The revivals of the past have had long term permanent effects of course but the awesome holiness, the irresistible power of the Lord has only lingered on for short periods.

Even this refreshing called the new wine or the river is just a bapto. A bapto is the ankle deep water of the river. the knee deep and waist deep, the chest deep water is still a bapto. At these levels, you can always get back out of the water. When it gets over your head, it's baptizo. See Ezekiel 47:1-5. When you can no longer go on your own way, it's baptizo. When you have to change from walking to swimming, never to go back it's baptizo. It's a permanent change. It's the kingdom of God come into your life and you entering into the kingdom. It's the manifesting of the sons of God.

Like the pickle is changed, we will take on the texture, the color, the taste and the aroma of the Lord God of Heaven. We will be like Him because we will see Him as He is. The world will forget what we were like before because they will see Jesus in us. That's what tabernacles is pointing us toward.

The Earnest of the Spirit

Another way to approach this partial fulfillment idea is to look at what the scriptures say about the Giving of the Spirit.

In Ephesians, it tells about being sealed by the Holy Spirit using the word earnest.

> Eph 1:13 In whom ye also trusted, after that ye heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation: in whom also after that ye believed, ye were sealed with that holy Spirit of promise,
> 14 Which is the earnest of our inheritance until the redemption of the purchased possession, unto the praise of his glory.
> Eph 4:30 And grieve not the holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption.

Second Corinthians also mentions the earnest of the Spirit.

> 2Co 1:21 Now he which stablisheth us with you in Christ, and hath anointed us, is God;
> 22 Who hath also sealed us, and given the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts.
> 2Co 5:5 Now he that hath wrought us for the selfsame thing is God, who also hath given unto us the earnest of the Spirit.

So what is an earnest?

Strong's lexicon gives this definition:

> earnest - a pledge, i.e. part of the purchase-money or property given in advance as security for the rest.

In other words, an earnest is a down payment. It's only part of the payment. And the early church receiving this partial payment in Acts 2 means that it was a partial fulfillment.

The word for earnest is translated pledge in the Old Testament.

> Ge 38:18 And he said, What pledge shall I give thee? And she said, Thy signet, and thy bracelets, and thy staff that is in thine hand. And he gave it her, and came in unto her, and she conceived by him.

Easton's bible dictionary says this:

> The Spirit is the earnest of the believer's destined inheritance (2 Cor. 1:22; 5:5; Eph. 1:14). The word thus rendered is the same as that rendered "pledge" in Gen. 38:17-20; "indeed, the Hebrew word has simply passed into the Greek and Latin languages, probably through commercial dealings with the Phoenicians, the great trading people of ancient days. Originally it meant no more than a pledge; but in common usage it came to denote that particular kind of pledge which is a part of the full price of an article paid in advance; and as it is joined with the figure of a seal when applied to the Spirit, it seems to be used by Paul in this specific sense." The Spirit's gracious presence and working in believers is a foretaste to them of the blessedness of heaven. God is graciously pleased to give not only pledges but foretastes of future blessedness.

Ephesians 1:14 describes the Holy Spirit as the earnest of our inheritance until the redemption of the purchased possession. As we are looking at the earnest meaning pledge or down payment, this tells us that the rest of the payment will come at the time of the redemption of the purchased possession. This is speaking of the redemption of the church by the full outpouring of the Spirit in the last days i.e. the End Times.

> Ac 20:28 Take heed therefore unto yourselves, and to all the flock, over the which the Holy Ghost hath made you overseers, to feed the church of God*, which he hath* purchased with his own blood.

The Double Portion

Now back in Joel 2 it also makes reference to the latter rain, which comes in the first month. This speaks of the time of Tabernacles.

> Joe 2:23 Be glad then, ye children of Zion, and rejoice in the LORD your God: for he hath given you the former rain moderately, and he will cause to come down for you the rain, the former rain, and the latter rain in the first month.

We saw something similar in Hosea

> Hosea 6:3 Then shall we know, if we follow on to know the LORD: his going forth is prepared as the morning; and he shall come unto us as the rain, as the latter and former rain unto the earth.

And in the New Testament, James mentions the same thing.

> Jas 5:7 Be patient therefore, brethren, unto the coming of the Lord. Behold, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, and hath long patience for it, until he receive the early and latter rain.

Each one of these verses mentions the former and the latter rain coming at the same time. Now the former rain is the spring rain, and the latter rain is the fall rain. [or vice versa depending on whom you consult.] But to have them both at the same time is a logical impossibility. The Lord is using this as a clue to show that he is speaking of the Double Portion. Which is to say the end time outpouring of the Spirit is going to be extra special, extra ordinary. The double portion is the inheritance of the First Born, The Lord Jesus Christ and those who are in him.

Tabernacles points to the Latter Rain - The Revelation of Jesus Christ

We have had a lot to say about the Spiritual Second Coming as the Latter Rain. We're going to list the various ideas mentioned so far and look at what else the bible has to say about it.

First, we saw that the Spiritual Second Coming as the Latter Rain is part of The Revelation of Jesus Christ.
It includes Showing forth the Glory of God, and experiencing the Fear of the Lord. These are a natural consequence of the presence of God.
It entails revealing the meaning of the word of God.
Holiness comes with entering into the Rest of God, i.e. the Sabbath.
It is the New Covenant making the people willing and obedient.
It is the End Time Revival, The Day of God's Power, The Coming of the Kingdom, and the setting up of God's Eternal Dwelling Place.
The members of the Body of Christ will come to truly be in Christ, as they are properly assembled or rightly joined into His Body.
This is also the temple building becoming fitly framed.
God's people will all come to know him intimately as they enter into the Kingdom, Family and Household of the Lord.
It means the Spirit in us, leads us to maturity of the believer, because His Law will be written in our hearts and his Love will be set in our hearts.
It's the brethren living together in unity, under the outpouring of the Spirit.
It means being in the secret place of the most high, the place of peace that passes all understanding.

There Is More.

The Baptism of Fire

Earlier we looked at Malachi 3:1. Let's note what it says in verses 2 and 3.

> Mal 3:1 Behold, I will send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me: and the Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple, even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in: behold, he shall come, saith the LORD of hosts.
> Mal 3:2 But who may abide the day of his coming? and who shall stand when he appeareth? for he is like a refiner's fire, and like fullers' soap:
> 3 And he shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver: and he shall purify the sons of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver, that they may offer unto the LORD an offering in righteousness.

Malachi here mentions being refined or purified by fire. The same idea is found in the gospels when John the Baptist speaks of Jesus.

> Mt 3:11 I indeed baptize you with water unto repentance: but he that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear: he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost, and with fire:
> 12 Whose fan is in his hand, and he will throughly purge his floor, and gather his wheat into the garner; but he will burn up the chaff with unquenchable fire.
> Lu 3:16 John answered, saying unto them all, I indeed baptize you with water; but one mightier than I cometh, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to unloose: he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost and with fire:

The point here is that the baptism in the Holy Ghost is the earnest, the down payment. The Baptism of Fire is the payoff. It's what Jesus will use to purify the Church.

> Isa 33:14 The sinners in Zion are afraid; fearfulness hath surprised the hypocrites. Who among us shall dwell with the devouring fire? who among us shall dwell with everlasting burnings?
> 15 He that walketh righteously, and speaketh uprightly; he that despiseth the gain of oppressions, that shaketh his hands from holding of bribes, that stoppeth his ears from hearing of blood, and shutteth his eyes from seeing evil;

Purifying the Church

> Eph 5:26 That he might sanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water by the word, > 27 That he might present it to himself a glorious church, not having spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish.

Going Up To Zion

Psalm 24 touches on purifying the church, speaking of the church as the city set on a hill, Mt. Zion, The City Of The Great King.

> Ps 24:3 Who shall ascend into the hill of the LORD? or who shall stand in his holy place?
> 4 He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully.
> 5 He shall receive the blessing from the LORD, and righteousness from the God of his salvation.

The New Creation

Being In Christ is a great transformation. You become a new creature, carried by the spirit into the Kingdom of God.

> 2Co 5:17 Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new.
> Joh 3:5 Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and > of the Spirit*, he cannot enter into the* kingdom of God*.*

>
> Ro 8:1 There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit*.*
> Ro 8:10 And if Christ be in you*, the body is dead because of sin; but* the Spirit is life because of righteousness.

Race, Gender, And Status Are Eliminated In Christ

The new man leaves old things behind.

> 1Co 13:11 When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child: but when I became a man, I put away childish things.

When we come into unity, the differences between us will be seen as childish things, left behind by coming into maturity.

> Ga 3:28 There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus.
> Ga 6:15 For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision, but a new creature*.*
> Eph 4:23 And be renewed in the spirit of your mind;
> 24 And that ye put on the new man*, which after God* is created in righteousness and true holiness*.*

The Love of God

Being In Christ means having his Spirit in us, and his love.

> 1Jo 4:16 And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him.
> Ro 5:5 And hope maketh not ashamed; because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto us*.*
> Ro 8:39 Nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

The Mystery Of God And The Hope Of Glory

The coming of the Lord as the Latter Rain will reveal mysteries.

> Col 1:25 Whereof I am made a minister, according to the dispensation of God which is given to me for you, to fulfil the word of God;
> 26 Even the mystery which hath been hid from ages and from generations, but now is made manifest to his saints:
> 27 To whom God would make known what is the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles; which is Christ in you*, the hope of glory:*

Partaking in the Divine Nature: Holiness

The Revelation of Jesus Christ means we will have a greatly increased knowledge of him and understanding of his ways. We shall see him as he is, and become as he is.

> 1Jo 3:2 Beloved, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is.
> Ro 8:29 For whom he did foreknow, he also did predestinate to be conformed to the image of his Son*, that he might be the firstborn among many brethren.*

> 2Pe 1:4 Whereby are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises: that by these ye might be partakers of the divine nature, having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust.

> Heb 12:10 For they verily for a few days chastened us after their own pleasure; but he for our profit, that we might be partakers of his holiness.

Glory and the Unity of the Brethren

Part of the blessing that comes with unity of the brethren is the Glory of God. Jesus prayed for this unity in John 17.

> Joh 17:20 Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word;
> 21 That they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me.
> 22 And the glory which thou gavest me I have given them; that they may be one, even as we are one:
> 23 I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one; and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them, as thou hast loved me.
> 24 Father, I will that they also, whom thou hast given me, be with me where I am; that they may behold my glory, which thou hast given me: for thou lovedst me before the foundation of the world.

> 2Co 3:18 But we all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord.

Obedience to the Law in our Heart

In Psalm 40 we see a link between obedience to God's will and having his law in our hearts.

> Ps 40:8 I delight to do thy will, O my God: yea, thy law is within my heart.

The 176 verses in Psalm 119 are written from the viewpoint of the end time believer who is going through the baptism of fire.

Completions and Conclusion

We could go on and on exploring all the ins and outs of these themes. Another 20 pages of scripture quotes would still not cover everything the bible has to say about the Revelation of Jesus Christ and the End Time Revival. Hopefully we have shared enough to let you see the implications of the pattern established in the Feast of Tabernacles.

Moses actions at the first tabernacles led to completion of the tabernacle in time to allow a celebration of Passover. All of these features of the Latter Rain lead to Completion of The Spiritual Temple. This means completion of the Global Witness when the gospel is preached through all the world.

At some point the Great Harvest comes to an end, and the enemy has his day. This we can see in Revelation 13.

> Re 13:7 And it was given unto him to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: and power was given him over all kindreds, and tongues, and nations.

This is another completion as it brings the fullness of the Gentiles with the number of martyrs being completed also.

It amounts to the destruction of the temple. But on that topic, Jesus had this to say:

> Joh 2:19 Jesus answered and said unto them, Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up.
> 20 Then said the Jews, Forty and six years was this temple in building, and wilt thou rear it up in three days?
> 21 But he spake of the temple of his body.

Prophetically he is speaking raising up the Body of Christ. This leads us back once again to the Passover and the Resurrection of the Saints.

The Building Site of the Temple

Francis Frangipane

The building of the house of the Lord involves more than finding help in our time of need. There are costs to attaining God's best. If we would have His greatest provisions, we must yield to Him our greatest loves.

Two Temples

The Scriptures refer to two types of temples: one, which was made of stone, which was built in Israel, and the other made of flesh, which is the church. The first temple, Solomon's, was built at a predetermined site which God selected. Even as the Lord carefully chose the building site for the temple of stone, so He is looking at the landscape of our hearts, seeking to make us His temple of flesh.

Two important events were instrumental in designating the temple site. These events developed over many years, but were nevertheless a composite of what we ourselves must become. The first is found in the life of Abraham.

The Lord brought Abraham to a place of spiritual fulfillment in his son, Isaac. But a time came when it was required of Abraham to choose between his love for God and his love for what God had given him. The Lord commanded Abraham to take his son to the land of Moriah. There Abraham was told to offer Isaac on the mountain of God's choosing.

"On the third day Abraham raised his eyes and saw the place from a distance. And Abraham said to his young men, 'Stay here with the donkey, and I and the lad will go yonder; and we will worship and return to you'" (Gen 22:4-5). Please notice Abraham's last statement, "we will worship and return." We see here the perfection of faith in the atmosphere of worship. Abraham's faith told him they would both return, but it was his attitude of worship which enabled him to go up. The story is well-known. The angel of the Lord stopped Abraham, knife in hand, from taking Isaac's life. Yet, it was within the plan and purpose of God to require obedience of His servant. Abraham's love for God was tested and proven true.

Likewise, to qualify for the house of the Lord, the first attitude we must possess is a worshiping heart; we must be willing to give to God what we love the most. For pastors it may be surrendering personal dreams concerning their ministry or their churches. For intercessors it may be giving up their role of leadership in a local prayer group in order that those praying might be integrated into a larger corporate body.

In death every man ultimately surrenders all he owns to God. Those who are called to build Christ's house do so by surrendering even their highest loves and their very desire of fulfillment to the Almighty. It is a death not unlike the death of the flesh. Hope of human recovery is abandoned; the sense of trust abides alone in God. Abraham offered to God his greatest love, Isaac, who was the embodiment of his spiritual fulfillment. He laid all his dreams upon an altar he built with his own hands.

Abraham was willing to trust God to fulfill His promises, knowing that death is no barrier to the Almighty. So also, those whom God chooses as the building site of His house will give to God what they have loved the most. Within their yielding, worshiping hearts, He will build His House.

The Full Price

In the next scene we find David. He is standing upon a mountaintop overlooking Jerusalem; his sin has brought the Lord's displeasure upon the nation. In response to his repentance David is told to build an altar to the Lord on Ornan's threshing floor. The mountain upon which David is standing is Mount Moriah, the same place where, six centuries earlier, Abraham offered Isaac to God.

Although Ornan freely volunteered his oxen for the sacrifice and his ox yoke for the fire, David refused. He said, "For the full price you shall give it to me, that the plague may be restrained from the people...I will surely buy it for the full price; for I will not take what is yours for the Lord, or offer a burnt offering which costs me nothing" (I Chron 21:22-24).

In contrast to what has been typical of our American approach to God's call, here again we behold the nature of those in whom the house of the Lord is built. They are not looking for shortcuts in their service to God; they refuse to give that which is another's. Rather, these yielded souls pay the full price; refusing to offer the Lord that which costs them nothing.

Let me add this: On Mt. Moriah Abraham had a revelation of the nature of God. He called this place, which would ultimately become the site of Solomon's temple, "Jehovah-Jirah": The Lord will provide. From that time it was said, "In the mount of the Lord it will be provided" (Gen 22:14).

Many Christians wonder why, if "provider" is the nature of God, they receive so little response from Him? The answer is partly because the provisions of God are not given randomly or to support our selfish inclinations. Rather, "in the mount of the Lord it will be provided." In truth, the provisions of God are without limit to those who give their all to Him. For on the building site of the temple, where His house is built, there will be an abundance.

Lord Jesus, I desire to be fully given to You. Forgive me for offering costless sacrifices and borrowed gifts. Jesus, I want to pay the full price. Lord, I know the issue is not what I can do for You, but what You can make of me. I surrender my all to You. May the quality of my life be suitable for Your House. And grant me a heart of faith and worship to bring my Isaac to the altar. In Jesus' name, amen.

The Bulldozer

Terri Derocher

November 14th, 2005

It has been one month now since the day of Yom Kippur and it is time to record what I have been taught in this season. Some of you who have known this ministry over the years may recall the visitation of 2002 http://www.LovelettersfromHeaven.com (archive section). Do you remember me saying that for me the Lord speaks the loudest in this season? It’s true again. I receive new direction and vision at this time of the year (at least as long as the Lord continues to share with me in this way!) When I am directed to share it with you personally, I do. Many times we as intercessors are walking out corporate lives. The circumstances in our lives, the battles, the victories and the heartbreaks are often, but not necessarily always, corporate issues and when we pray accordingly and understand things from this perspective we get insight into how to pray, not only for ourselves, but for the body of Christ also. And remember, we are ALL called to intercession!

I returned two weeks ago from a time in Spearfish, S.D. where one of my younger sisters finished “going through” a trial by fire. Praise God she walks in the victory! Interestingly enough it was a kairos time for me also. I have walked through a new door and am walking now into new territory and I will never be the same again! During this two week period we visited this little church, which is seeking the Lord, not for what He can do for them or even each individual but to KNOW HIM. Each weekday we did what we needed to do and then this little church was opened for prayer and we looked forward to being able to go and sit in His presence. If you looked with your eyes instead of your heart you wouldn’t see much as each one sought the Lord. There was no speaker, no praise team, just a heavy presence of the Holy Spirit, God’s Ruach ha Kodesh. Something happened though as personal encounters with Jesus Christ changed and are changing our world. Each day was a wonder with rich lessons to absorb. One day I received this bull dozer vision (I will share later) as I asked the Lord to know Him more.

How often is it that we only go so far with God? Earlier in the first week I saw a picture. Jesus was in front of me and I followed Him up a mountain made of white, hard stone (white granite maybe). As we climbed this mountain, we left no tracks as we hiked up in the middle of a stream, which was flowing down this mountain. It was beautiful and there were beautiful things, flowers etc. all over and I really wanted to stop and just enjoy it all but felt admonished that I would lose sight of the Lord if I stopped as He wasn’t leaving any tracks. I stopped seeing this at this point. Perhaps ten minutes later I asked the Lord what was at the top of that mountain and I realized I HAD MADE A CHOICE to not go further in the Spirit. When I said I was sorry, I was right back in the hike and saw the top finally and realized it was a spring. It just bubbled up and went to all sorts of wonderful places….(I stopped because I was just so excited about what I had been shown. There was more I am so sure but this is as far as I went and yes I am sorry for not pressing in more.). I knew, in the natural……. if I wanted to know Jesus more, I needed to stay with Him. So as the week went on I was contending to linger with God. I believe one of the ways I grieve Him most is not following Him through and getting the full measure of what He is speaking to me. IS THIS TRUE FOR YOU ALSO? When I reread visions the Lord has spoken to me in the past and see the details, countries named etc. - yes I do see it could only come from Him…. but I also know in my heart that if I’d only lingered longer, which I know was His desire, what I shared could’ve been fuller, clearer. We must contend for this fullness of vision and direction for the body of Christ for these coming days but most of all for the heart of Jesus. We must stop breaking His heart.

All this is now to share this shattering bulldozer picture the Holy Spirit shared with me. It most likely will not be as painful for you as it was for me. Know though, that there is more for you than just reading this IF YOU WILL PRESS INTO THE PRESENCE OF GOD AND BE WILLING TO LOOK AT WHAT HE WANTS TO SHOW YOU!

It began as I earnestly asked Jesus if I could know Him more. This wasn’t half-hearted and I knew when I asked it could be painful for me. Then it began…

He took me back into a safe, fun place in my childhood. I was swinging on my grand dad's swing. This big, ole swing was painted silver and was massive. Each pole was heavy metal with a diameter of about eight inches. It was over-sized compared to today's swing sets. It was perhaps twenty feet tall. Each swing was made of a huge heavy, wooden board and the rope, that held each swing, was so big around, that my little hands couldn't even wrap around the entire rope. It crossed my mind then that if one of these boards were to hit you in the head I am sure you would've been severely injured, if not killed. This was one of those visions where you are entirely there… with no escape as I had asked the Lord… whatever it takes. I don't know the technical terms for such a vision, but in 1998 I had a similar experience of being there and not in your obvious, natural surroundings ….

I am swinging in this swing, just loving it. I think I can touch the sky I am going so high. I see the bird nest and eggs I found on the ground, right beside it. It's the first time I've seen the remains of beautiful, blue egg shells. I remember my Grandma Ida being brought outside in her wheel chair to enjoy the day. She couldn't go out much and she was getting out into this beautiful day. She had Multiple Sclerosis and lived her life in three small rooms for the most part. Gramma Ida was JOY in my life. (I won't go into the beautiful details of the memories of her, but in this vision they were all there). I saw the huge strawberry patch in the yard where grand dad took me to pick strawberries and bring them into grandma. When we walked in I saw a toy bird on the top of the fridge which once set in motion seemed to be getting a perpetual drink. I enjoyed being in this kitchen again. I saw every curtain, heard every noise, soaked up every detail. This was a place I so loved and to be able to go there again was absolute joy. I warmed myself beside the stove in winter. I saw the beautiful living room door and the bear picture, and the fat, gravel-bag, old ash tray, the pale green radio, my grand dad's wood shop/porch. He was a carpenter. I smelled his pipe tobacco smell as you walked in the door. I saw the plum tree, the choke cherries, and the rhubarb and even was there again as we pulled up in the dark and grand dad had to show us how big the watermelon was he was trying to grow. He showed us with a flashlight in the dark. We all laughed as he showed us. It was high adventure. We walked in and out of the house again and again on the black cinder rock that formed the driveway. This went on and on with details I loved, things that meant so much to me.

This is one of the ways the Holy Spirit can speak to us. Some things can be felt but not explained with words. These memories were for me such a thing and when I needed to learn something my experiences are references that can be used. I guess I can more fully understand what it is I am being shown if I have some personal situation to refer to.

As this vision continued I saw funerals and I saw a wedding, both at my grandparent's church. I just didn't see the funerals but went through them again. I was sitting beside my Dad and saw his face close-up and understood his grief at the loss of his mom in a way the child (me) never could. I wanted to definitely stop and get out of this place at this point but it continued. I saw the same room again and again and it was like a vicious cycle of pain. I saw my aunt dressed as a bride, ducking down and hiding as my grand dad and I drove her up to the church. (I guess they dressed at home in those days). It was the same church again only this time a wedding.

Now I was back at the house and no one lived there anymore. We had to sort all their belongings. Dad and I sat at the kitchen table. I saw the relatives come and put little name tags on the stuff they wanted and heard the conversation as if at a distance as I was lost in the pain of loss….Then the bull dozer came and I saw the face of the man driving the bull dozer, just an innocent man doing his work. (I NEVER SAW THIS BULL DOZER IN THE NATURAL, AS A CHILD. The land was bulldozed though).

I THEN saw the bulldozer first rip out the swing set. I saw huge blobs of cement come out of the ground as it toppled over. I saw the strawberry patch and every bush being bulldozed under. I SAW the tree where the robins nest had been… bulldozed down. I saw the house and the plum tree bulldozed down. I saw mice and rats run when the house went down. Everything that was there was gone. I saw the man begin to work the land. He leveled it. He filled in the rotted cellar with sweet dirt. All the old boards and iron and every piece of junk was taken away as the ground was prepared for a new home to be put on the land. All that remained of their life there was the hole in the fence across the road where my dad used to climb through on his way to school….

THIS IS WHAT I THEN HEARD….” I AM bulldozing your life - the good and precious, - -the sad and the bad…ALL OF IT. If you really want to move with me, you must let go of all of it. I am doing the bulldozing. Do you really want to KNOW me? Then let go of all of it! Do not be grieved over what used occur in your fellowship/church/synogue meetings. Do not get lost in the pain of the loss! I have more. I have more. I have more!!!! You cling to these crumbs, when I have a banquet for you. I want to tell you more. (This is like thunder) I am not building on the rotted foundation of your preconceived ideas.

May the Holy Spirit bring revelation knowledge to you regarding the details of this vision. …..”It is time to stop playing on the swing. It feels like you are going somewhere, but you’re still in the same old place. It could even be dangerous. HEBREWS 6 This place once brought forth life (egg shells) but that time is past. Don’t be satisfied being crippled on a beautiful day…I will help you run the race to win! You can no longer warm yourself by this stove. It doesn’t exist! That bird was only pretending to drink; I give you living water! You walked on fire in this place (the cinder stone), even though you lived through it…you didn’t even know the half of it! You cannot build on a rotted foundation, it will not stand. Submit yourself to the pain of rebuilding on nothing but the foundation I have given you…the word of God. I will show you what a real carpenter can build! If you think you had fruit before watch and see what will grow NOW that you’ve let go of the past”!

The interpretation for the body of Christ… We must let go of all the patterns, the little pleasing ones and the painful rituals (weddings and funerals in the spiritual). We must go through the door and stay … if we really want to visit with Jesus. To be a friend, a real friend, you listen…You listen to what your friend wants to tell you. Jesus has invited us in and He wants to share His heart with us. We must press into Him…nuzzle our face in His chest…We must linger with Him. He has …the more… and we think we know…because of preconceived ideas…but we don’t know. We’ve just been feasting on crumbs

May the Lord Bless you with an increasing desire to KNOW HIM.

In the love of Jesus Christ-

The Battle Will Start
Barbara Lynch

The Battle Will Start
Barbara Lynch

Date: February 22, 2005; 2:28 AM

Now the battle will start to rage. Now is the time for My people to go to war in the heavenlies. The battle is coming down to My people and they must fight. They must fight the good fight like never before. The enemy has come to steal, kill and destroy. Tell My people to listen very carefully for My voice and not let go of My promises no matter what goes on around about them.

All of heaven is groaning at this given time. The child is about ready to be birthed upon this earth. My church has been in labor for a long time and now is birthing time.

The Storm Has Come
Barbara Lynch

February 25, 11:35 AM

The storm has come and the rush hour has begun. It is perfect timing for all things to come to fruition. It is time for My true children to receive their rightful inheritance in My Kingdom in Heaven and on this earth. My children will no longer walk the mundane path, for I will exalt them into the seventh heaven and they shall walk in the supernatural from this hour forth. Get yourself prepared for this great exodus. For I am moving you into the supernatural realm and you shall see My Mighty Hand move wherever you go. Reformation is at hand. Exaltation time is at hand, it is even now at the door doing a great and mighty works for Me, the true living God. I am taking My children from everlasting to everlasting. The miracle realm will know precedence at this given time, for revelation knowledge will abound throughout the church and My children will surely walk in sign, wonders and miracles once again. The future looms bright for My children. Even at this given moment, I have given a mandate to My holy angels to cover this earth with My full Shekinah Glory and so shall it be, for I am not a man that I should lie. Be still and know that I am God and that I have brought myself into your midst to begin the mighty signs, wonders and miracles once again.

Reformation: A reforming or being reformed. Religious movement that resulted in establishing the Protestant churches.

Exaltation: To fill with joy; pride; elate; To raise in status and dignity.

WHAT IS THE STORM AND WHAT IS THE RUSH HOUR?

The storm is the enemy storming the gates of heaven vying for My saints.
The rush hour is the coming of My Glory into My houses.

A Very Short Time
Barbara Lynch

February 26, 12:05 AM

My daughter, this is the last millennium before the return of My Son. Much must be accomplished in a very short period of time. I must have those who will surrender their all and all unto Me. I must have their eyes, ears, and mouth. They must go forth in My might and in My power conquering on all sides. Even now, little one, the earth is travailing to give birth to My Holy Spirit movement. The time for birth has been set and no one can stop the clock this time, for all things must occur on time. Great multitudes are standing in the valley of decision in America and there is no preacher to send to the multitudes. All want to go overseas, but no one wants to save the lost in America. America the land of the free and proud. Oh, My America, how I weep over you just as I did over Jerusalem. Jerusalem would not heed My voice either. Circumstances are occurring to cause the supernatural to take place in My body. All who will surrender and come forth at this given time shall be filled with My Supernatural powers. Time is running out and there is so much to accomplish. I am searching the hearts of all men, to find the ones that will remain faithful and true in the midst of the hottest battles hell has to throw at My church. My church shall come out victorious. I have spoken and so shall it be. I have promised and I am bringing My promises to pass. You just stand back and watch My salvation at work on all sides. Know that I am the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob and I am the God of this church age also.

The Best Year of Your Life
Rick Joyner

As we begin this year with our study of Biblical prophecies of the last days, we have evidence of their fulfillment on every news station. The Lord said in Mark 13:8, "For nation will arise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom; there will be earthquakes in various places; there will also be famines. These things are merely the beginning of birth pangs."

Certainly we are seeing nations rise against each other, as well as the earthquakes and famines. However, this is not the end, but rather "the beginning of birth pangs."

UNDERSTANDING WHAT MUST COME

Every mother knows that as the birth gets closer, the contractions or birth pangs become both intense and more frequent. Therefore, we can expect these things to increase as we get closer and closer to the end of this age. We are told in Hebrews 12:26-29:

"And His voice shook the earth then, but now He has promised, saying, 'Yet once more I will shake not only the earth, but also the heaven.'

"This expression, 'Yet once more,' denotes the removing of those things which can be shaken, as of created things, in order that those things which cannot be shaken may remain.

"Therefore, since we receive a kingdom which cannot be shaken, let us show gratitude, by which we may offer to God an acceptable service with reverence and awe; for our God is a consuming fire."

As we proceed toward the end of this age, we can expect the shaking to increase until everything that can be shaken will be shaken, and everything that can be removed will be removed. However, we have a kingdom that cannot be shaken, which is why we are taking the time in this study to evaluate with each prophecy what our preparation should be in order for our lives to be established on that kingdom.

We will therefore consider the lessons of the recent earthquake and tsunamis, which are manifold and crucial for our times. We can also begin to see in them a pattern that can help us understand the timing of what is coming.

WHAT WE ARE ALL HERE FOR

The stress level of the world rose several degrees in 2004. It will continue to rise, but for those who are building their lives on the kingdom that "is not of this world," the peace level will correspondingly increase. In place of fear, Christians will experience more faith, hope, and love. This is the year of the joy of the Lord.

How can we feel joy when there is so much strife and suffering around us? We can if our lives are more in Christ and in the heavenly places than on the earth. The Lord is not sitting in the heavens wringing His hands, worrying about what is coming, and neither are those who are abiding in Him. More and more true Christians are going to stand out as a very different spirit than anyone else on the earth.

This does not mean we are callous toward the suffering. However, all of the suffering on earth is the result of the fall of mankind and our separation from God. The only remedy to the suffering is mankind's repentance and reconciliation with God. That is what we are here for -- to help the world be reconciled to God.

CALLED TO LIVE IN THE AGE TO COME -- NOW!

We should be thankful for the nations that are coming to the aid of the tsunami victims. This is the right and noble thing to do. However, we are coming into the time when no amount of human effort will be able to cope with what is happening. That is because we are coming to the time when all of creation will learn that we cannot live unless we are in harmony with God. What is coming will be far beyond human remedy, but God will come and save us. This is not the end -- it is the beginning! A new beginning for the whole earth!

Every birth is painful and messy. However, when the child is born, the joy is so great that the pain is quickly forgotten. King David perceived the Age of Grace a thousand years before it came, and lived in it then, thus becoming a prophecy of what was to come. We, too, are called to live in the age to come, now!

We are called to live by the powers of the age to come and grow in them. This must be our day by day pursuit. It must be our goal to be much closer to the Lord by the end of this year than we are now. We must grow in faith, love, joy, peace, and patience...we must also grow in the power to demonstrate these to the world that is going to be increasingly desperate for them.

RAPID SPIRITUAL GROWTH AND MORE MIRACLES THIS YEAR

This year will be a year for the most rapid spiritual growth that the church has experienced since its inception. We saw many great miracles last year just as we were promised, but we will see many more and much greater ones this year.

However, the reason we see miracles is because we need them. It will be worth it to get closer to the Lord and see His kingdom coming. Never forget that when we see these things happening, it is time to look up and rejoice because our redemption is drawing near!

"Do not fret because of evildoers, be not envious toward wrongdoers. For they will wither quickly like the grass and fade like the green herb.

"Trust in the LORD, and do good; dwell in the land and cultivate faithfulness. Delight yourself in the LORD; and He will give you the desires of your heart.

"Commit your way to the LORD, trust also in Him, and He will do it. He will bring forth your righteousness as the light and your judgment as the noonday.

"Rest in the LORD and wait patiently for Him; do not fret because of him who prospers in his way, because of the man who carries out wicked schemes.

"Cease from anger, and forsake wrath; do not fret, it leads only to evildoing. For evildoers will be cut off, but those who wait for the Lord, they will inherit the land.

"Yet a little while and the wicked man will be no more; and you will look carefully for his place, and he will not be there. But the humble will inherit the land and will delight themselves in abundant prosperity." Psalm 37:1-11

A New Order of Ministry
Rick Joyner

This week, we will look at what I call a "new order of ministry" which is now being raised up, and is in many ways a return to the original order of ministry. This order is the most prevalent in Scripture and history by about 10 to 1 over what has become the most prevalent "concept" of what ministry is today.

To challenge our thinking about ministry, we need to consider that only a few of the heroes of the faith in the Bible were priests, or those that we would consider today to be in "full-time ministries." Very few were educated or otherwise prepared for the ministry. They arose from what we call "secular" professions or trades.

There is a widespread belief among Christians that to be really spiritual or to accomplish great things for God, we need to go to seminary and be in full-time-ministry as defined today. In fact, that was rarely the case for those who accomplished the greatest feats for the purposes of God, or who became the greatest teachers or prophets for God. The overwhelming majority of the great men and women of God were farmers, businessmen, military men, or government officials. These include: Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Joseph, Moses, Joshua, all of the judges, David, Daniel, Nehemiah, Esther, all but a couple of the prophets, all of the apostles, as well as the other notables of the New Testament.

Can you think of any from the tribe of Levi, which were the "full-time ministers" of the Old Testament that became one of the great heroes of the faith? In my search I have found only four after Aaron: Samuel, Zadok, Ezra, and Ezekiel. Even in the times of the Old Covenant, most of the great men and women of God came from normal trades and professions, not the professional priesthood. This is a trend which we see continuing under the New Covenant, and a trend which the Lord Jesus Himself established by the leaders that He chose. My point is that almost any trade or profession can be a better seminary for great Christian leadership than a seminary.

I am not trying to degrade or be unappreciative of the role that seminaries can play in the church. I do highly esteem what a seminary education can provide, even though I do not have one. They have a significant place in helping keep the church moored to sound biblical doctrine, and for research that can greatly edify the church, as well as seed the ministry with those who have an important perspective. However, few leaders who will do great things for the gospel have or will come from seminaries. Note that I did not say "any," but rather "few." There will be some, just as the four listed above from the Old Covenant accomplished extraordinary things. However, the great majority of Christian leaders will not come from a seminary background by God's design.

Why is this? The main reason is because Christianity and true Christian ministry is meant to be utterly practical, implemented, and exercised more in everyday life than in "temples." This is why Jesus did most of His works and most of His teaching in real, daily life settings. For this reason the Lord does not judge the quality of His church by how good the services are on Sunday, but on how good His people are on Monday. Christianity is not a group of rituals that we perform to appease God—it is a life lived in the character, power, and fellowship with God daily.

Seminaries which remain true to the faith and are devoted to helping to preserve the biblical faith can contribute much to Christianity. However, there may not be a seminary in existence that teaches some of the most important lessons that are needed for practical ministry, and it probably is not their place to do so. The primary way the Lord wants His people prepared for ministry is the way He prepared those He called through discipleship and practical experience.

For example, mobilizing, training, and equipping believers to live a life pleasing to God in these times is very similar to preparing soldiers for battle, which is why the Scriptures compares it to this. The Lord is called "the Lord of hosts" or "the Lord of armies" in Scripture more than ten times as much as any other title that He uses. The true Christian life is a battle against evil, and the weapons of our warfare have been given for the tearing down of the enemy's strongholds or fortresses. Therefore, the military can be a better seminary for preparing many Christian leaders for true Christian leadership than seminaries.

There are business aspects to modern ministry and the overseeing of churches, which can be as challenging as running any business or corporation. For this reason, experience in business can be one of the best seminaries for those who will build and lead churches. It is also true that business is a basic human transaction, and the Lord wants to be right in the middle of all human interaction.

Likewise, farmers can understand more about what it takes to produce a harvest than those who have never had to produce a real one. Therefore, farming can be a great seminary.

In 1982 I was told that some of the Lord's most important leaders in the last days were going to come out of professional sports. This is because sports is their seminary, and they are teaching things in their seminary that we do not teach in ours. As I sought understanding concerning this word, I was shown that it had to do mostly with teamwork, discipline, and focus on a specific task among team members.

That may sound simple, but true New Testament ministry is a team composed of apostles, prophets, evangelists, pastors, and teachers, as well as all of the other ministries given to the church. However, it is hard to find a church anywhere in the world that has a ministry that is a true team, like ministry was intended to be. As anyone in sports knows, a far less talented team that plays like a "team" will consistently defeat the most talented team that does not play in unity. This one thing may be the biggest reason for so many of the defeats that churches and ministries suffer. Team building may be the most important skill of all true leaders, which is very difficult to teach in any classroom.

Paul the apostle encouraged believers to be content in the condition in which they were called, which is related to being married or single, as well as being slaves or free. He also encouraged them that if they could improve their condition by getting married or by becoming free, to do it. However, this should not be done from discontentment. As far as the slavery issue, this would probably relate in modern terms to the way many people think of their job—slavery! They feel like slaves to their boss, to the industry, to needing a paycheck, etc. I believe Paul's counsel would be to be content in the state in which they are called. Paul also exhorted them to excel in service to their masters, especially those who were believers. We should do the same with our employers.

We should also consider that our job may be the most important seminary that we will ever attend, and that it was the Lord who sent us to that particular job. Our jobs can probably do more to prepare us for our true calling than any Bible school or seminary could. Just consider how the professions of the great men and women in Scripture related to their callings: King David was a shepherd, and God called him to shepherd His people, Israel. Peter was a fisherman, and the Lord called him to be a fisher of men. Paul the apostle was a tentmaker, and he was called to build the tabernacle of God. John was mending nets when called, and the Lord used his gospel to tie together the others, his Epistles to tie together the others, and the book of Revelation to tie together the entire Bible.

Learn all that you can from your job! Life is the true seminary. It is one in which we can continually be promoted, but we will only graduate from it at the end of our life's purpose, not in order to prepare for it.

The Call To Be In Christ

Daniel Black

“I am the true vine, and my Father is the husbandman (Farmer). Every branch in me that beareth not fruit he taketh away: and every branch that beareth fruit, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit. Now ye are clean through the word which I have spoken unto you. Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; no more can ye, except ye abide in me. I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit: for without me ye can do nothing. If a man abide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch, and is withered; and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they are burned. If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you. Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; so shall ye be my disciples.”
(John 15:1-8 KJV)

The Lord Jesus is calling His people to commune within Him. We are His people, and we desire to dwell within Him. I had so much fun, yet so much warfare in putting this teaching together. This is something the enemy does not want the Body of Christ to see in this age. In this teaching we are going to explore the idea of communing ‘within’ Christ and what it means to be ‘in’ Christ, the fruit we are to bear, and the call to be one in Him as He is one in the Father.

COMMUNION

“The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ? For we being many are one bread, and one body: for we are all partakers of that one bread. “ (1 Corinthians 10:16-17 KJV)

We all take communion. It is one of the great rituals of the Church that has been passed down since the last supper, yet is this really all communion truly is? Is there more to communing with the Lord than just remembering?

The word communion means: “Intercourse (which means silent communication or exchange from within), fellowship, participation, and union.” What a powerful word which is much more than simply remembering what our Lord and Christ went through. 1 Corinthians 10:17 states that we are one bread for we have partaken of the bread of Life through our communion with the Lord. What does this mean? Philippians 3:10-11 KJV eludes light into this mystery, “That I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings, being made conformable unto his death; If by any means I might attain unto the resurrection of the dead.” How powerful this truly is. Let’s study a few of these words meanings so that we may better understand communion within Christ.

The word ‘know’ means: “To perceive with certainty; to understand clearly; to have a clear and certain perception of truth, fact, or any thing that actually exists. To distinguish; as, to know one man from another. To be familiar. To acknowledge with due respect. To choose; to favor or take an interest in. To commit; to have.” There is so much here. Communion within Christ is to know Him. We are to favor, commit, be familiar, distinguish, perceive with certainty and understanding with clarity Christ. To be this intimately connected with Christ means that we must have a daily relationship with Him. To have there is power in knowing Christ so intimately. Intimacy is what opens the Heavens over our lives. We know the purpose of open heavens is for us to encounter the King of Glory and for the King of Glory to encounter us. Open heavens release to us favor, influence and authority over every situation in life that we come across. We see this in the life of Jesus. He lived under a constant open heaven. Why was this? How did Jesus do it? Why was He able to attain a consistent open Heaven? It tha t was because He was intimately connected with the Father, He was one within Him. Jesus understood that influence flows from intimacy and access to open heavens comes from being one within the Father.

We often use our next word of study, but do we truly understand what it means? The word fellowship means, “Companionship, familiar intercourse, Combination, partnership; joint interest, frequency of intercourse, communion, and intimate familiarity.” The truth that Paul states in 1 Corinthians 10 is revealed to our understanding in this one phrase from Philippians 3: “That I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings…" To know the fellowship of sufferings. We are one bread for we have partaken of the Bread of Life, we have come to know Christ so intimately that we know the power of His resurrection and fellowship within His sufferings. We are so familiar with Him that we can actually begin to have familiar intercourse with, have partnership with, and intimate familiarity with Christ's sufferings. By knowing and becoming one with Him, these sufferings become apart of us, and we become co-laborers with Christ in sharing with Him the cup of suffering that He partook of. But it does not simply stop with suffering. Paul states in 2 Corinthians 4:10-12 "Always bearing about in the body the dying of the Lord Jesus, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our body. For we which live are alway delivered unto death for Jesus' sake, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our mortal flesh. So then death worketh in us, but life in you." We must fellowship within the Life and resurrection of Christ also. Paul told us that we might know the power of Christ's resurrection. The death and suffering of Christ is at work within us as we commune within Him, but His resurrection and life is also working within us. Isaiah 11:2 in the Message translation states that Christ is a "Life-Giving Spirit." We are one bread for we have partaken of the Bread of "Life"! Hallelujah!!!

THE CALL TO BE ONE IN HIM

"Philip saith unto him, Lord, shew us the Father, and it sufficeth us. Jesus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known me, Philip? he that hath seen me hath seen the Father; and how sayest thou then, Shew us the Father? Believest thou not that I am in the Father, and the Father in me? the words that I speak unto you I speak not of myself: but the Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works. Believe me that I am in the Father, and the Father in me: or else believe me for the very works' sake. Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father. And whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son. If ye shall ask any thing in my name, I will do it." (John 14:8-14 KJV)

We see in this passage that Christ is one with the Father and the Spirit. Christ is in the Father and Spirit, and the Father is in Christ and the Spirit, and the Spirit is in the Father and Christ. We are called to live in Him as He lives in us and in the Father and the Father in Him. We know this, but are we willing to live in it?

John 17:20-24 KJV "Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word… That they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me. And the glory which thou gavest me I have given them; that they may be one, even as we are one: I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one; and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them, as thou hast loved me. Father, I will that they also, whom thou hast given me, be with me where I am; that they may behold my glory, which thou hast given me: for thou lovedst me before the foundation of the world."

We read this prayer from Jesus Himself that we all may be one; He is in the Father and the Father in Him, that we also may be one in Him: that the world may believe. We must become one in Him! To be one means that we are single in number, as one man, single by union, undivided, and single in kind. I am talking about unifying with Him. When a man marries a women it is said that they become one soul, the unifying of hearts. This is what happens when we accept the marriage ring of salvation in our hearts. We become one with Jesus, the Bridegroom. It is vital that we understand just as God is three in one, our relationship with God applies on three levels. We are the Father's children, the Son's Bride, and the Spirit's friends. We are talking about a Bridal level of union with God.

We read on in this passage of Scripture: "And the glory which thou gavest me I have given them; that they may be one, even as we are one: I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one; and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them, as thou hast loved me. Father, I will that they also, whom thou hast given me, be with me where I am; that they may behold my glory, which thou hast given me: for thou lovedst me before the foundation of the world." God has called us into complete communion within Himself so that He may reveal to us His Glory so that we may partake and share of Himself. He gives us His Glory, Himself, His very essence and Being, joining us to Him, becoming apart of Him that we might be a light to the lost so they may once again be connected to the Glory of the Lord. Loving us as He is loved by the Father so we may love the world with the same love. He has also taken us to where He is seating us in Heavenly realms in Him (Ephesians 2:6) that we may behold Him in true worship. Worship is the true passion for mission. This is why we go, for we are one with Him, and worship Him, that passion to love Him is why we have our desire to go out. Send us out Lord!!!

BEARING FRUIT

“As the Father hath loved me, so have I loved you: continue ye in my love. If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love; even as I have kept my Father's commandments, and abide in his love.” (John 15:9-10 KJV)

John 15 tells us that if we abide, dwell, inhabit in Christ that we are to bear fruit. What sort of fruit are we to bear? What are we supposed to be developing within the Vine so that we are not separated and cast into fire? We must begin to develop the characteristics and attributes of Christ, for if we are one in Him, than we are to begin to look like Him. The characteristics and attributes of God look like love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, and temperance (Galatians 5:22-23). We must be careful to develop these within our lives, for Scripture tells us that if we do not become one with Him and exhibit His fruit in our lives we will be separated. Scripture does not tell us that once we are separated that we can come back, but tells us that we are thrown into the fire. I do not want to get into doctrinal arguments with this statement, for this is what Scripture tells us. You either are in Him, walking in the light, and are of Him, or you are not (see 1 John).

If we truly abide in Christ, and He in us, our love is complete. When we walk within Christ and the realm of the Kingdom, we walk in completeness. When we walk in completeness of spirit, soul, and body, we are able to pour completeness into others that are empty. This is why we must empty ourselves continually, so that we may be filled with the fullness of God. We are filled to be poured out. Broken bread and poured out wine. If we are in Christ and abiding within the Vine, than we are to bear fruit or attributes. So what sort of attributes follow those who are in Christ? the following is a list of Scriptures and fruits that are in those who are in Christ. It is not a comprehensive list, but one that will give you a basic understanding of this Kingdom principle.

Ø Romans 8:1 – Those in Christ have no condemnation.
Ø Romans 8:37 – Those in Christ are conquerors.
Ø 1 Corinthians 4:10 – Those in Christ are wise, made strong, and are honorable.
Ø 1 Corinthians 6:17 – Those in Christ are one with His Spirit.
Ø 2 Corinthians 1:21 – Those in Christ are firm.
Ø 2 Corinthians 2:14 – Those in Christ carry the fragrance of Christ and walk in triumph.
Ø 2 Corinthians 4:6 – Those in Christ shine with brightness.
Ø 2 Corinthians 5:17 – Those in Christ are made new creations.
Ø Galatians 2:4 – Those in Christ possess freedom.
Ø Galatians 5:6 – Those in Christ have the expression of true love.
Ø Ephesians 1:3 – Those in Christ are blessed in Heavenly realms.
Ø Ephesians 2:6 – Those in Christ are seated in Heavenly realms.
Ø Ephesians 2:10 – Those in Christ are created as His workmanship.
Ø Ephesians 3:6 – Those in Christ obtain son-ship and inheritance.
Ø 1 Thessalonians 5:16-18 – Those in Christ have the will of God.
Ø 2 Timothy 1:9 – Those in Christ obtain grace.
Ø 2 Timothy 2:1 – Those in Christ obtain strength through grace.
Ø Galatians 3:28 – Those in Christ are one.

ONE WITH THE BODY

I am going to make a bold statement: We cannot be one with Christ without being one with His body. Think about this very closely now. Jesus prayed that we would be one with Him, but that WE (the Church) WOULD BE ONE as He is one with the Father. We cannot say we love God and hate our brother. We are one in Him and one within each other. To be in communion with Christ the church must be unified and walk with communion with each other as Christ is with the Father. This is what Paul writes of when He says in Ephesians 4:3-7: “Endeavouring to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace. There is one body, and one Spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling; One Lord, one faith, one baptism, One God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all. But unto every one of us is given grace according to the measure of the gift of Christ.“ We are one body, one in the Holy Spirit, serving one Lord, sharing one Faith in that Lord, baptized in the Holy Spirit and Fire. We are one with many different parts and jobs, for this reason the Lord gives each of us individually a special measure of Grace.

1 Corinthians 12:12-27 KJV “For as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of that one body, being many, are one body: so also is Christ. For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free; and have been all made to drink into one Spirit. For the body is not one member, but many. If the foot shall say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body; is it therefore not of the body? And if the ear shall say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body; is it therefore not of the body? If the whole body were an eye, where were the hearing? If the whole were hearing, where were the smelling? But now hath God set the members every one of them in the body, as it hath pleased him. And if they were all one member, where were the body? But now are they many members, yet but one body. And the eye cannot say unto the hand, I have no need of thee: nor again the head to the feet, I have no need of you. Nay, much more those members of the body, which seem to be more feeble, are necessary: And those members of the body, which we think to be less honourable, upon these we bestow more abundant honour; and our uncomely parts have more abundant comeliness. For our comely parts have no need: but God hath tempered the body together, having given more abundant honour to that part which lacked: That there should be no schism in the body; but that the members should have the same care one for another. And whether one member suffer, all the members suffer with it; or one member be honoured, all the members rejoice with it. Now ye are the body of Christ, and members in particular.

The Scripture is pretty plain and clear here. It is black and white. We cannot continuing to feud with each other! We are all one body with my different jobs. We should not be disunified, for as we do this we separate ourselves from Christ Himself. I do not care if the church up the street is as dry as dirt, they are still your brothers in Christ. Stop arguing, for in doing this, you separate yourself from the body and in doing so, you are separated from Christ. We cannot be one with Christ and not be one with His body.

THE FINAL CALL: LIVE IN CHRIST

“As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him: Rooted and built up in him, and stablished in the faith, as ye have been taught, abounding therein with thanksgiving.”
(Colossians 2:6-7 KJV)

Let’s pray and ask God that we may become one with Him. Communing with His Glory eternally from this point on!

The Courage To Stand

Angel Dahilig

"Hear, O my people, and I will warn you -- if you would but listen to me, O Israel!

You shall have no foreign god among you;
You shall not bow down to an alien god;
I AM the LORD your God, who brought you up out of Egypt."
Psalms 81:8-10

#1 - Dream: The Courage To Stand, and the Eastern Prince
07/2004

I was walking on a sidewalk at a University or a College campus. A green expanse of lawn flanked both sides of the walkway. Ahead of me, I could see that my path was soon to intersect and cross with an adjacent sidewalk which was lying roughly perpendicular to mine (like an 'X') . As I was approaching the upcoming intersection, I saw two women, whom I knew were Christians and whom had been walking along the same path (sidewalk) that I was on, just ahead of me. These women were now at this intersection of the two paths, and they knelt down and bowed their faces towards the ground. I looked up and it was then that I saw who they had bowed down to. In that moment, my eyes briefly met his eyes.

The man was dark, stern and silent, with an arrogance and a pride about him. He was a foreign dignitary of some sort, or maybe a middle eastern prince. He was not alone, but he was escorted by an American dignitary. They were walking on the perpendicular path that would cross over my path just ahead. The reason for the American escort, was not so much to protect him, but rather to gain him special entrance, favor, or preference, that he could not have received here, as a foreigner, without the escort.

I recognized one of the Christian women who was now bowed down, and sadly, I knew in my heart the reason why these two Christian ladies had bowed -- because "they didn't have the strength to fight", to stand against opposition (and persecution).

1 Corinthians 16:13 - Be on your guard; stand firm in the faith; be men of courage; be strong.
As my path crossed over in front of the eastern prince, I firmly looked straight ahead and continued to walk, without bowing down or acknowledging him. I knew that my silent, but firm, defiance, could bring a retaliation to suffer. There was NO LAW about bowing down to the foreign prince, but IT WAS EXPECTED (like an unwritten code), and the one who did not honor him could expect to suffer a retaliation.

I then went home with an expectation of retaliation, but hoping to be overlooked. I heard a knock at the door. I opened the door to my sister telling me that she was going to move to Hawaii (we are originally from Hawaii), and did I want to go too? At first, it seemed like an opportunity to escape, but then I thought to myself “aren't the islands suppose to disappear into the seas?” (referring to the end time judgments, Rev. 16:20), which didn't appeal to me so I said “no”.

Interpretation of symbols used in the dream:

A - University/College campus represents a philosophy, a way of thinking, or a cultural pot. I think this one specifically refers to America.
B - Sidewalks represent the paths of life. In this case, it represented the Christian path and another path (a foreign god), and they were perpendicular paths (different, contrary).
C - The foreign prince represents a false god (or a man who represents the false prince and false god). Not sure if this is a collective entity, or a person, or both.

D - The American dignitary/escort represents the American government or an American dignitary or ambassador. Not sure if this will be a collective entity, and/or a person or persons.
E – The crossing of the paths represents a conflict and a choice.
D - Bowing down represents honoring another prince and God. One that is not the True God. One who is not Jesus. Jesus alone is Emmanuel, meaning "God with us", God in flesh who dwelt among men.

As Jesus said, "I AM The Way, The Truth, and The Life. No one comes to the Father [to God] except through me. If you really knew me, you would know my Father as well. From now on, you do know him and have seen him." (John 14:6-7)

I interpret this dream to forewarn that there is coming a conflict between "The Way, The Truth, and The Life" (the way of Christ), and the way of compromise to another god, a foreign god, in America. It will require a choice for Christians in America, to choose whom they will honor as God, and each choice will come with a price and reward (one temporal, and the other eternal).

It will take courage, spiritual strength, and fortitude to not bow down to the pressure of "the prince”... and a foreign god. I believe that the dream warns of persecution (and not necessarily legal) of those who will not bow down. Therefore, we will need to have total trust and faith in Christ and in His love, and wear the hope of our salvation, in order to stand.

Matthew 24: 4-13
4 Jesus answered: "Watch out that no one deceives you.
5 For many will come in my name, claiming, 'I am the Christ,' and will deceive many.
6 You will hear of wars and rumors of wars, but see to it that you are not alarmed. Such things must happen, but the end is still to come.
7 Nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. There will be famines and earthquakes in various places.
8 All these are the beginning of birth pains.
9 "Then you will be handed over to be persecuted and put to death, and you will be hated by all nations because of me [Christ].
10 At that time many will turn away from the faith and will betray and hate each other,
11 and many false prophets will appear and deceive many people.
12 Because of the increase of wickedness, the love of most will grow cold. [see also: Luke 6:20-36]
13 but he who stands firm to the end will be saved.

Phillipians 1:20-21
20 I eagerly expect and hope that I will in no way be ashamed, but will have sufficient courage so that now as always Christ will be exalted in my body, whether by life or by death.
21 For to me, to live is Christ and to die is gain.
Deuteronomy 31:6
Be strong and courageous. Do not be afraid or terrified because of them, for the LORD your God goes with you; he will never leave you nor forsake you.

The Course To The Other Side
Bill Yount

There have been contrary winds blowing against your life. It's as though you were in a ship and these winds have blown and pushed your ship of life off the course of your intended destination. Discouragement is flooding your ship, for you are overwhelmed knowing no matter what you do you cannot seem to get back on your original course. But there are some things you need to be aware of.

I saw God in the wind that was blowing your ship causing it to seemingly take a different route. Psalm 18:10 says, "He rides upon the wings of the wind." I saw God riding upon these winds that were seemingly against you. God was in these winds.

I saw the Lord in the water that was raging. He was sitting King upon the waves that were pushing your ship.

I saw God in the sails of your ship. His Glory radiating His approval! I saw God in your boat. Though you wondered where He was, He was right there still with you. The most significant thing I saw was that God was still inside of you. He had never left nor forsaken you. The One greater than everything else in the world was still on the inside of you.

The key to victory and peace I could see was that you must accept that this change of course is of God for a purpose. For I saw Him in every aspect of it. Not until you accept and release this to the Lord will you begin to find His perfect peace in the midst of the storm. As you do it will not matter what is happening around you. His peace will begin to rule in your heart.

The Lord spoke clearly these words, "We (meaning you and Himself) are going over to the other side ... to My destination and plan for your life. This is not the course or route that you would have chosen, but My ways are different from yours and My thoughts from yours. I am leading you by a way you have not known before, but I am the way. Psalm 77:19 "My way is in the sea and My path in the great waters and My footsteps are not known. I am taking you over to the other side!"

Everything I saw God in, He said He was going to change: "I am going to change the wind in due time. I am going to change the raging waves in due time. I am going to change the sails and rudder of your ship in due time by My guidance. Most important of all I am in the process of changing you on the inside more than anything else on the outside that is happening. Even more important than the destination or goals I have for you is your being changed and conformed into My image and likeness." In fact, I sensed that this was His desired destination for us.

Remember Paul's call to go to Rome to preach the Gospel and how the storm caused their shipwreck? They all landed on a certain island, some coming ashore holding onto broken pieces of boards off the ship. If you have to even grab hold of a piece of board off of your ship, I heard God say, "I'll even be in your board. Hold on to it. I'll be that close to you. We are going over to the other side!"

The Father reminded me of how His only Son came down and crossed over to the other side to the Father's destination to save you and me. It was a way that we would never have thought of but it was the Father's perfect plan or route. His only Son crossed over to the other side on just two limbs of a tree. Think it not strange if the way across for you seems unusual and different.

" I am using everything in your life to work together for your good and even what the enemy means for evil is not being wasted, but used for My Glory and best for your life!

Angels In The Outfield
Bill Yount

"'THERE'S A 'CLOUD' OVER BASEBALL'... BUT I SEE ANGELS IN THE OUTFIELD!"

The Baseball panel chairman has recently sadly spoken. "There is a cloud over baseball!" As I read these words I heard the Holy Ghost shouting... "Yes and Amen! There is a cleansing cloud of Glory that is descending upon the field of sports and a great humbling is coming to not only expose and cast down corruption but there will be a lifting up of 'base' things. Men and women who are truly broken as they are convicted of seeking strength and power from the use of steroids may qualify to become spiritual heroes and be inducted into Heaven's Hall of Fame! I will use the 'base' things of baseball to bring glory to My name!

"ANGELS IN THE OUTFIELD!"

I saw a vision of angels that were attending every baseball game and were assigned to catch every home run ball that was driven out of the ball park that was from a source of strength above the hitter's. When the angel would catch the homerun ball, the angel would toss it into the heavens as though it was being counted different up there than it was down here.

"I SAW THE BASES BEING COVERED!"

I saw men who were truly being broken and 'abased' being dealt with by the cloud of Glory as this cloud of truth and conviction began to touch them. Both men and women in other sports also were being strongly convicted and ashamed as an alarm went off through the other fields of sports. I heard the Father say... "I've got the bases covered! Those who break before me and repent, I will forgive and cover them with the blood of My Son. I am redeeming the field of sports! It will now begin to become a harvest field for my Glory! I will begin to use many of these men and women in other fields besides sports. I have a plan for them. Their present failures will launch them into other fields for my glory!"

GOD'S PERSPECTIVE - "ONE, TWO, THREE STRIKES!.... MAY BRING YOU HOME!"

When it doesn't make any sense down here, it does from up there! From God's point of view it seems when we strike out using our own strength or the strength from other sources besides Him we only then become qualified to be greatly used like never before. Babe Ruth was famous for hitting home runs but few people remember that he was known to strike out alot! If you keep swinging you are bound to hit something! But with God when we have two strikes against us, the grandstands of heaven are shouting to us to 'miss one more time'... so we know we can't do it! Striking out in life usually brings us to Him causing us to score big time as we run home to Him!

"I WILL NOW BRING MANY UP OUT OF THE 'DUGOUTS' TO DISPLAY MY POWER!"

I sense a 'Davidic' anointing coming upon the unknown, weak and the benchwarmers who have been waiting for the chance to be used mightily for God's Glory alone. These will be like David's followers who had nothing but God going for them and became mighty men. These will seemingly come from out of nowhere to fame and honor! They will be similar in the anointing that was upon David's mighty men.

"Adino the Eznite; lifted up his spear against eight hundred, whom he slew at one time! After him was Eleazer who arose and smote the Philistines until his hand was weary and his hand clave to the sword: and the Lord wrought a great victory that day and the people returned after him only to spoil! After him was Shammah. The Philistines were gathered together into a troop where there was a piece of ground full of lentils and the people fled from the Philistines. But Shammah stood in the midst of the ground full of lentils and defended it and slew the Philistines.. and the Lord wrought a great victory!"

"When David grew thirsty in battle, three of his mighty men broke through the host of the Philistines and drew water out of the well of Bethlehen and took it and brought it to David to drink. David could not drink it knowing they had risked their own lives! Abishai lifted up his spear against three hundred and slew them! Benaiah did many mighty acts. He slew two lionlike men of Moab. He went down also and slew a lion in the midst of a pit on a snowy day!"

"GODLY CHARACTER AND INTEGRITY WILL RELEASE A NEW ANOINTING UPON SPORTS... SETTING NEW WORLD RECORDS!"

As the glory cloud continues to descend upon sports and continues to cleanse and convict athletes, godly character and integrity will rise releasing a new anointing upon men and women setting new world records in many fields of sports. The Lord himself will command strength into them to show Himself strong on their behalf.

What a Redeemer!

The Case For The Soul Of The USA

Conrad Lampan

All this week while praying for Terri Schiavo I could not help feeling that I needed to pray for the United States and not simply for Terri. When I read Dutch Sheets word sent out through the Elijah List yesterday the burden was confirmed and intensified and the words I had received were clarified.

At the beginning of this week I perceived in my spirit that this case is a door –the word “avenue of death comes continually to my mind- for entities which work against the nation to come in and unleash a wave of death in some way trying and controlling who will die. Because a decision has been made by the courts to literally kill a person because she cannot feed herself, and this decision involved from Florida State Court all the way up to the Supreme Court it means that the whole judicial system has made the decision to deny justice to “one of these little ones”. Since it also has involved, the White House and Capitol Hill, although with a positive stance on the side of President Bush and part of Congress it has become a national issue. Thus said I perceive in my spirit the warning of the Holy Spirit about the “avenue of death” ready to be opened when Terri dies.

I do not mean to be negative or to see demons where there are none; however I cannot help the thought that the shooting at the school a few days ago could have been the first fruits of this murderous action taken by the courts. I feel that because the courts have decided that an innocent person should die because she cannot express herself they have with that action also handed out authority to spiritual powers to take control and literally unleash a wave or waves of death over the nation.

We need to gather in the Spirit and pray as never before for the USA. The judges do not realize that their actions do not affect only the case they are deciding upon but also they can and will affect the whole of the nation by virtue of the authority invested in them, whether they like it or not by God Himself, for whether they recognize God or not we know that all authority has been given by God.

We have also the authority given by God along with the power to change courses of action and circumstances, and even to reverse adverse results by and through prayer. We Christians should realize the full implications of our prayers and also of our lack of prayers. God has bestowed upon the church the balance of power of the universe and she exercises this power through prayer. Whatever good thing from God happens in the nation it will when the church prays, and whatever bad things might happen in the nation it will because the church allows it by not praying. Not praying means simply to stand aside, praying means to take a stand.

There are many people praying, however we need more people and more time spent in prayer, for the soul of the nation is at stake. We need to pray more than ever. Pray for those in authority, that God would bring them to the realization of how their authority affects the nation as a whole, and that the Holy Spirit might show them the implications of their decisions. At this moment there is a huge struggle for the soul of the nation. We are not fighting against judges but against evil itself, “spiritual entities in the heavenly realms” that battle to take control of the nation. But the outcome will be determined not by demons or angels or by courts of men or kings; no, rather the outcome will be that which the church allows.

As Dutch Sheets says we need to pray for a miraculous intervention in the life of Terri; that in whatever way God intervenes the whole thing will be turned into a blessing. We need to do battle to prevent the “avenue of death” that satan is intent on building into the nation for his spirits of death to walk through. We need to pray to stop him from “walking up and down the earth” as he did when he attacked Job. Job did not have an intercessor, he cried out “oh that I had one to intercede for me” (free translation); we need to show that the USA do have not one but many who make intercession.

God can do something miraculous even if Terri dies; He can bring her back. Or He can preserve her alive in spite of having no food. He can as well cause her to cry out for water, or express her pain (death by hunger is not a smooth one because at some point there will be the pangs of hunger, and also the destruction of the stomach tissue which is very painful, think of a stomach ulcer only that in this case might take the whole stomach). He can cause her to speak out her wishes even in a few words before witnesses thus bringing those who did not care for her life into shame and hopefully into repentance.

We need to pray in repentance. The church needs to repent but not for the sins of others, rather first we need to repent for the sins of the church. If we follow the words of James “he who knows how to do good and does not do it sins” we can see how not praying can be a sin actually. Then we can pray effectively repenting for the sins of the nation, and taking a stand before the visible and invisible worlds telling God that we stand for Him and telling satan that we stand against him.

The Coming Flood of Gods Power

David Scoffins

On the Sunday the 19th of June, a devastating flood hit the village of Helmsley in North Yorkshire. Helmsley is set in the north York moors, one of the most beautiful areas of England. The village and other villages around it where engulfed by a wave of mud and water over 3 feet high, the mud entered every house in the village and cause untold damage .

On the night of the 21st, the Lord gave me a vision or dream I really don’t know which. It was as if I was taken in the Spirit to see this vast devastation. I walked around viewing, looking at the terrible sight.

I asked The Lord "Why are you showing me this, what are you trying to tell me?

The Lord told me that the devastation that I saw was the result of the curse which Adam had placed upon the earth through obeying satan rather then God.

The Lord told me then that what happens on earth, is mirrored by what is happening in the spiritual realm. The Flood that I saw, was satan doing his best to ‘kill, steal and destroy’, but The Lord said that ‘He came to bring abundant life’.

The Lord told me that He is Going to send a full of Holy Ghost Power such as this world as never seen. That while the natural flood deposited mud in the houses, and made them unusable. The Lord was going to send a flood, which would clean up His House, The Church.

This flood was going to remove the mud, from The Church, that is the flesh, mans religion and carnal thinking. The coming Flood would prepare the Church to be the Bride of Christ, it would remove all the gross which man and satan had deposited in it over 2,000 years. God is going to present to himself a bride without spot or wrinkle.

In The flood that it North Yorkshire, the ground soaked up the rain, until the ground could take no more. The flood waters then rushed down the small rivers and streams, engulfing the villages.

The coming flood of Gods power, will be just like that, when the flood waters have purified, the Body of Christ, they will soak into the Body until it can take no more.

Then the flood will flow from the Church as rivers of life-giving water, until the whole earth is filled with Gods power. This will be the great end-time revival which is prophesied in scripture.

Some scriptures:

Isaiah 59:19
19 So they will see the name of the Lord from the west, and his glory from the east: for he will come like a rushing stream, forced on by a wind of the Lord.

Joel 2:28
28 "It will happen afterward, that I will pour out my Spirit on all flesh; And your sons and your daughters will prophesy. Your old men will dream dreams. Your young men will see visions.
29 And also on the servants and on the handmaids in those days, I will pour out my Spirit.

Ephesians 5:25-27
25 Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and gave himself for it;
26 That he might sanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water by the word,
27 That he might present it to himself a glorious church, not having spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish.

Haggai 2:9
9 The glory of this latter house shall be greater than of the former, saith the LORD of hosts: and in this place will I give peace, saith the LORD of hosts.

The Crash of Two Planes

LaTonya N Malinconico

November 8th, 2000, interpretation updated April 18, 2005

I had a dream early in the morning that I along with my co-workers were in the military in Houston, TX and that we were in some type of camp or military post. It looked like the kind of set up that was on the television show M.A.S.H. were there was a hospital tent, a cafeteria tent and a bedding tent, etc.

We were outside talking and I believed we were given guns and weapons. Some people were gathered in different groups or clicks and were talking "in there own little world".

Someone began to talk to me and as they were talking I looked up in the sky because I noticed a plane. Something about it was odd. It was low like it was going to land at an airport but it was staggering like a drunk person trying to walk. I told the lady that was talking to me that something was wrong with that plane and she said, "Nothings wrong, they are just landing."

I said, "There are no airports around here and secondly it is too low to land that way and to low to fly anywhere." And inside my spirit I felt as if that plane was going to crash. The dream began to move somehow into a slow motion dream. I was telling everyone to move and I began to run to take cover but some people were still talking and stayed were they were. Suddenly we were not in a military place anymore but in the middle of downtown next to a park or an open place that had grass. If anyone has ever been to Houston, they know that our landscaping goes from extremely tall buildings to parks and homes in a matter of seconds. So I was moving in slow motion trying to tell people to move but some were like "Nothing is going to happen, its fine."

Now I am looking at this plane like how can they say nothing is wrong when this plane is low to the ground and it should be high in the air flying. Plus I was kind of upset because no one was listening. Then all of a sudden, after I was trying to warn the people around, the slow motion of my dream turned into regular time and I saw that plane turn towards us, I began to move out of the way and the plane began to fly towards us and it hit the ground at a high speed. It was like, during the slow motion part there was a warning to give, those who did not listen were caught off guard when it crashed and even when it first hit the ground, they continued to talk until a big mushroom cloud eruptedly exploded from the plane crash site and then the dream began to move back into slow motion.

I saw the mushroom cloud expand towards the sky, it was so loud that it made no sound and then suddenly the radiation or dust, whatever the sides of the mushroom ball was, started to expand on the sides to cover all the land. It moved fast like a plague and I saw people still talking and uncovered got evaporated by the ash or whatever the sides of the mushroom cloud was. As I saw it move towards me I jumped up and supernaturally I was able to stay in the air for what seemed like 30 minutes to an hour as the cloud ran pass me. I was untouched. It was as if angels or something lifted me up or god let gravity not keep me down on the earth as this happened. I saw the whole city and then I gradually began to come back down to the ground from my jump. The city was gray where the mushroom cloud was and I looked to my left and right and the rest of the city was still green with a blue sky. That plane that crashed was red. And I also believe that I saw white on it as well, although I can not remember right off hand.

When I saw that both sides of the city were still in color I began to turn around to leave and go away I guess, to get away from what just happened. Immediately when I made an about face, there was a plane in the air, paused in gravity staring me in my face. The nose of the plane was in a downward motion and it was feet away from my face. It was as if I turned around and it was dangling from an invisible hand or string in the sky. I turned back around to where the first plane, the red plane had crashed, the site was still gray, people were dead in ashes. I turned as saw that on both sides of the site on the edges of the city of Houston that they were still green with blue skies and people were talking, having fun. And then I finally turned back around to face the second plane. I knew in my spirit what was going on now.

So I moved out of its way and stepped to the side. As I stepped to the side, the invisible hand or string that was holding the plane in the sky left. As I moved my body in slow motion to the side, that second plane ran fast to the ground and hit at the same site that the first plane hit. But this time, whatever was not killed or dead by the first red and white plane, was killed or dead instantly by the second plane. All I did was watch the plane smash into the ground at a deadly rate. I was not harmed. The second plane was yellow and orange with a brown like color I believe. But I do remember that the second plane's color was kind of loud and a different color that is hard to explain, but all three colors where there in one: yellow, orange, and brown.

Saints please pray for the meaning of this dream and the interpretation of the dream, the message, the colors, the plane crashes and the mushroom cloud. I believe that I do know more about this dream than I did at first as far as what God is trying to say to us. It does seem to me that this dream has a double meaning. 1) A spiritually warning to those who are sleeping on discerning the times and 2) a real time message or war and politics about America for the end times. Maybe the colors of the planes represent countries or governments like communism countries that will destroy America through terrorist or invasions like the other prophets have seen. Maybe the colors represent actual planes that will hit Houston and have bombs on them or terrorists on those planes. We have at least four different air ports, Hobby, Intercontinental, Ellington Flied, Clover field and I do believe that there is a field in Galveston. NASA is located down here as well.

Here is some more insight on my dream from Tim Rivers, a man that I met after posting this dream on www.etpv.org. He wrote to me before I got marriage so my maiden name Williams was on the e-mail. From posting my dreams on different websites, God brings people to me that help in understanding my dreams and to show us that we are not alone in our thinking, that there really is a remnant of end time believers out there.

Hello Ms. Williams,
What came to me as I read and prayed about your plane dream was the Islamic writing about the mothership. I do not know why. I had no way of knowing your past. I personally was unaware that such a teaching existed in regards to the mothership and even now can't tell you what it means. I merely felt led to send you the article no matter how weird it was. The Lord knew your past connections with the Nation of Islam so perhaps the interpretation is that they are involved or influence the attack.

After sending it I saw the colors listed as powers of nations but the article listed "black" while your dream listed orange. So I do not believe the colors of the planes are nations. There is no national flag listed as yellow, orange, and brown. The national Islamic religious flag-opposite of their national green and white flag with a moon and star is red and white. Colors could be representations for different people but there are really no "orange" people. A red and white plane could be a medical plane like the Red Cross or a private oil business plane as several oil companies have red and white flags. The people in the dream did not seem afraid of the low flying plane perhaps because they recognized them from local companies. So they could be a private planes. A small red and white plane was noted in Delaware as dropping something over a dam that was of concern because dams are not regulated as no fly zones. I don't know of a Texas business that may own planes of red and white or yellow, orange, and brown. Maybe in the shipping business? So the two planes colors may be symbolic of the companies or business they are targeted to hit or are hijacked from.
Planes in the word may be symbolic of eagles:

Hosea 8:1 Set the trumpet to thy mouth. He shall come as an eagle against the house of the LORD, because they have transgressed my covenant, and trespassed against my law. 2 Israel shall cry unto me, My God, we know thee. 3 Israel hath cast off the thing that is good: the enemy shall pursue him. 4 They have set up kings, but not by me: they have made princes, and I knew it not: of their silver and their gold have they made them idols, that they may be cut off. 5 Thy calf, O Samaria, hath cast thee off; mine anger is kindled against them: how long will it be ere they attain to innocence? 6 For from Israel was it also: the workman made it; therefore it is not God: but the calf of Samaria shall be broken in pieces. 7 For they have sown the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind: it hath no stalk: the bud shall yield no meal: if so be it yield, the strangers shall swallow it up. 8 Israel is swallowed up: now shall they be among the Gentiles as a vessel wherein is no pleasure. 9 For they are gone up to Assyria, a wild ass alone by himself: Ephraim hath hired lovers. 10 Yea, though they have hired among the nations, now will I gather them, and they shall sorrow a little for the burden of the king of princes. 11 Because Ephraim hath made many altars to sin, altars shall be unto him to sin. 12 I have written to him the great things of my law, but they were counted as a strange thing. 13 They sacrifice flesh for the sacrifices of mine offerings, and eat it; but the LORD accepteth them not; now will he remember their iniquity, and visit their sins: they shall return to Egypt. 14 For Israel hath forgotten his Maker, and buildeth temples; and Judah hath multiplied fenced cities: but I will send a fire upon his cities, and it shall devour the palaces thereof.

Why Houston? The twin towers and the Pentagon were hit because they were symbolic of America's trade and political powers. So why two planes hitting near the same spot in Houston? Because of biological or medical connections with the military symbolized by the Rice Village? Houston's name means a hill. Houston is well know for its oil, shipping, and medical advancements.
In Christ
Tim Rivers

Then he further sent me a message saying that Southwest airplanes are orange, yellow and brown.

1. Why Houston, Texas? Houston means : Hill town. From "Hugh"-intellectual...and "Tune" a settlement or village. The plane attacks the intellect, it is a spiritual battle. An award-winning biomedical researcher won't officially arrive on the Rice University campus until next year, but she's already making a local impact that's expected to bolster the university's links to the Texas Medical Center.
Rebecca Richards-Kort a pioneer in the development of non-invasive screening methods for cervical cancers and pre-cancers, will become the chair of Rice's Department of Bioengineering in Fall 2005 when she joins the faculty as the Stanley C. Moore Professor of Bioengineering.
She is currently the Cockrell Family Chair in Engineering and a Distinguished Teaching Professor in the Department of Biomedical Engineering at The University of Texas at Austin.
"Dr. Richards-Kortum is a rising star and a dynamic leader," said C. Sidney Burrus, dean of Rice's George R. Brown School of Engineering. "Her cutting-edge research in laser spectroscopy, biophysics and diagnostic imaging is complementary with the work of several groups in our Department of Bioengineering, and her strong ties to the Texas Medical Center further Rice's goal of developing robust links between our bioengineering programs and those at research institutions throughout the Gulf Coast region."

Richards-Kortum is leading a University of Texas at Austin team that is part of a collaboration that recently received a five-year, $8 million grant from the National Cancer Institute to learn more about the genetics of cancer development and create new, inexpensive and accurate ways to diagnose cancer and monitor treatment of the disease.

Her UT team is collaborating with research teams from Houston's The University of Texas M. D. Andersen Cancer Center, the University of Texas Health Science Center in Houston, the University of Arizona and the British Columbia Cancer Agency.

The joint effort will develop miniature, disposable microscopes that doctors can use to rapidly diagnose tumor genotypes for lung, oral and cervical cancers -- which combined represent more than 20 percent of tumors and cancer deaths worldwide -- without conducting a biopsy.

The project involves identifying genetic and molecular signatures of the tumors and then developing contrast agents to bind to the tumor cells with those signatures. Once those markers are highlighted, doctors will be able to see the molecular changes that precede physical changes they look for in early detection. . . . "This is an incredibly exciting time to be joining Rice," said Richards-Kortum. "I'm looking forward to playing an active role in helping to shape future collaborations with the Texas Medical Center and continuing to develop premier educational and research programs in bioengineering."

Selah - Pause and consider

2. Why a military camp with a hospital tent? They come under the pretense of peace but bring utter destruction. Both as seen in the Holy Writ about end-times.

I was telling everyone to move and I began to run to take cover but some people were still talking and stayed were they were. Suddenly we were not in a military place anymore but in the middle of downtown next to a park or a open place that had grass. If anyone has ever been to Houston, they know that our landscaping goes from extremely tall buildings to parks and homes in a matter of seconds. … Now I am looking at this plane like how can they say nothing is wrong when this plane is low to the ground and it should be high in the air flying.

Delusion falls upon the people during the end-times.

I saw the mushroom cloud expand towards the sky, it was so loud that it made no sound and then suddenly the radiation or dust, whatever the sides of the mushroom ball was, starting to expand on the sides to cover all the land. It moved fast like a plague and I saw people still talking and uncover get evaporated by the ash or whatever the sides of the mushroom cloud was. Immediately when I made an about face, there was a plane in the air, paused in gravity staring me in my face.

3. You were translated before the plane crashed and destruction came upon the city.

As I moved my body in slow motion to the side, that second plane ran fast to the ground and hit at the same site that the first plane hit. But this time, whatever was not killed or dead by the first red and white plane, was killed or dead instantly by the second plane. All I did was watch the plane smash into the ground at a deadly rate. I was not harmed. The second plane was yellow and orange with a brown like color I believe. But I do remember that the second plane's color was kind of loud like and a different color that is hard to explain, but all three colors where there in one: yellow, orange, and brown.

4. Why 2 planes? The first plane did not destroy completely but was quickly followed by a second.

Saints please pray for the meaning of this dream and the interpretation of the dream, the message, the colors, the plane crashes and the mushroom cloud. I believe that I do know more about this dream than I did at first as far as what God is trying to say to us. Maybe the colors of the planes represent countries or governments like communism countries that will destroy America through terrorist or invasions like the other prophets have seen.

The meaning of the two planes are one of judgment and of prophecy, they may represent countries that plan on attacking America.

How do those differ to you? Are you saying one plane is symbolic of judgment and the other of prophecy? the fist being the prophetic one-a plane thought to bring healing (the people were not afraid even though it was flying low-it was red and white perhaps recognized as bringing medical supplies but really brought plague while the second brought complete judgment?

Biblical prophecy returns again and again to the subject of the coming judgment. So I sent this from a teaching in the Nation of Islam:

17 There are five great powers of the nations of the earth. These five Powers are the Black, Brown, Yellow, Red and white. Of the four Original Powers, the Red is not an equal Power. The vision shows the four creatures being lifted up from the earth. When the wheel was lifted up, they were lifted up and when the wheel stood, they stood. This means that they waited upon the movement of the wheel.
18 In Ezekiel's vision concerning the wheel, he said that he heard the voice of one tell the other to take coals of fire and to scatter it over the cities; this means bombs. It could mean fire too, however. The Plane is to drop bombs which would automatically be timed to burrow quickly to a position of one mile below the surface of the earth where they are timed to explode.
19 Allah (God) taught me that these bombs are not to be dropped into water. They are to be dropped only on the cities. It will be the work of the wheel. The wheel is the power of the four creatures, namely the four colors of the Black man (Black, brown, yellow and red). The red Indian is to benefit also from the judgment of the world.

Why orange and not black? While the above is not biblical the colors of the two planes in your dream would seem to represent people or nations/world powers. So the article I sent was to show the difference. Your dream has the color orange. Just seemed to stand out. Also I did not know you wee involved with the Nation of Islam for 3 years I just felt led to send you the site/article perhaps because it means these things are coming leading to the second coming of our Lord.
The difference as we know the nation of Israel will play the significant part in the end-times. There is also spiritual Israel. America is made up of all nations and has influence around the world.
Looking unto Jesus,

The Fall of America CHAPTER 58 The Mother Plane
1 The Mother Plane was made to destroy this world of evil and to show the wisdom and mighty power of the God Whom came to destroy an old world and set up a new world.
2 The nature of the new world is righteousness. The nature of the new world cannot be righteousness, as long as unrighteousness is in its midst.
6 There are planes in various nations today, but this is the mother of them all.
7 Why? Because this type of plane was used before the making of this world.
8 Why should God make such a sign of His power to destroy a nation? Because this is the final destruction of that people who have opposed God in His purpose and aims for Justice and Righteousness.
12 In the 1930's Canadian newspapers reported that they saw the wheel (Mother Plane). It came down out of the sky. They admitted that it looked like a great city, and that something came down from it; it appeared to be a tube, but the tube-like thing went back 16 The four creatures represents the four colors of the original people of the earth.

17 There are five great powers of the nations of the earth. These five Powers are the Black, Brown, Yellow, Red and white. Of the four Original Powers, the Red is not an equal Power. The vision shows the four creatures being lifted up from the earth. When the wheel was lifted up, they were lifted up and when the wheel stood, they stood. 20 We must remember that God comes to separate from the righteous that which is hindering the righteous from making progress and to destroy the effect of the poison of that which has opposed the righteous. The effect of the poison will be fully destroyed after the destruction of the source of the poison, which as poisoned the righteous.
21 It is like one being bitten by a rattlesnake. Quickly medication is administered in order to minimize the effect of the poison upon flesh and blood until a complete cure is effected; and the patient recuperates and is well again.
23 The disbeliever believes that which he sees present and not that which is prophesied to come. That is why he is the loser and takes the course to hell, because he disbelieves in that which is prophesied to come about a particular day.

Thank you Tim Rivers for showing and reminding me of this writing as well. Those were parts of the Nation of Islam's The Fall of America, written by Elijah Muhammad. The underlined parts are what were relevant to my dream and prophecy from the bible. It is amazing that other religions do have something to offer in the prophecy puzzle, but they are missing Jesus Christ.

The Cocoon

Judy Bauman

This vision was very vivid and played like a movie on a scroll in the right-hand corner of the room where I was sitting. This is what I saw:

There was a man who was distraught and weeping bitterly. He was bent down on one knee, naked, and his face was buried in his hands as he wept. In the air above him and to his right appeared a hand with a Bible in it. The man looked up in his broken state and he saw the hand offering him the Bible. With hope in his eyes, he reached up and took it. As he opened the Book, the words came off the pages like a thread and they began to wrap around the man. The Words encircled him until I couldn't see anything but a large white cocoon. The cocoon was very still for a period of time. Then it slowly began to rock back and forth, and soon there was more and more movement. I could tell there was a struggle going on inside of the cocoon. The cocoon began to split then suddenly it tore open. A huge butterfly adorned in stunning heavenly colors came out and quickly flew across the room and out my window! It was the most beautiful, vibrant butterfly I have ever seen. I looked back at the corner because I really wanted to see this again, but the scroll rolled up and disappeared.

2 Corinthians 5:17 Therefore, if anyone is in Christ, he is a new creation; old things have passed away; behold, all things have become new.

This vision speaks in two ways. First, in our broken state, the Lord's word has transforming power to change our lives.

Romans 12:2 And do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind, that you may prove what is that good and acceptable and perfect will of God

Without God's word working to transform us, we are broken, naked, wretched, miserable, poor, blind and lost. It is when we dig for His gold in the Bible – when we invest time in study – that we become rich. See Revelation 3:17, 18 and 2 Timothy 2:15

We truly are 'worms' without the blood of Jesus covering our sins and the Word of God with its transforming power at work in our lives. The cocoon seems to be symbolic of dying in Christ and the butterfly represents being reborn of God. See Ephesians 2:10

Until we come to that broken place, we can never know how much we truly need God. When the Word of God is opened up to a broken heart, then the Lord can make miraculous changes in even the most miserable of souls. His Word will accomplish the purpose for which He sent it. See Isaiah 55:10, 11. I was strongly impressed that this man was incarcerated. However, we must consider the fact that any bondage to sin can be a prison sentence.

It takes time to make a transition into a life IN CHRIST, but the beauty of being a new creation is worth it. Remember too that it is important to allow the struggle that occurs on the inside. It is the struggle inside a cocoon that strengthens the wings of the butterfly, and without the struggle the butterfly could not take flight.

John 8:36 "Therefore, if the Son makes you free, you shall be free indeed."

The second part of this vision that has stood out to me is 'the hand' that gives the Bible to the broken man. As we invest in other people's lives by handing them a Bible, we bring the transforming of God into their lives. We need to invest our own resources to get Bibles into the hands of those in desperate need of transformation.

Luke 12:34 "For where your treasure is, there your heart will also be."

It is worth noting that spiritual discernment was key in the 'hand' giving this man a Bible at the exact time of his desperation. I believe this hand was led by the Holy Spirit. May we be sensitive to God the Father's drawing of the lost to Himself and be ready to give what is needed when the fullness of time has come in that person's life.

Grace and peace be multiplied to you.
In Christ,
Judy

The City of Refuge

Doug Patterson

This is a day of pressing in and breaking through. As you have journeyed through the desert, I have brought you a refreshing drink of water in times of dryness. This is the season and the time to move towards your City of Refuge as I have shone My light on your pathway. Faithful are those who have journeyed and traveled and now stand at the front of the city gate.

I have set a place in order for you, a dwelling place. For you have prayed, persisted and endured the fullness of the cross to get to this very point where you stand right now. So do not ponder and stare at the city gates wondering, “Is there a blessing inside this fortified place or shall I look for another?” Do not allow procrastination to deposit doubt and unbelief in your heart, but be free to enter into the fullness of your salvation. Pull down all vain imaginations and know that there is freedom in entering into the city through the city gates.....

Refining

Doug Patterson

June 14, 2005

This is a season of perfecting. Your vision and pathway shall be refined. I declare that you are My precious ones called by My name. Therefore, go forth with my boldness to fulfill My plan and purpose for your life. The tests and trials you have endured have purged you and cleansed you to this point. I ask you now, to throw all of your personal desires into My melting pot and allow the heat to separate the spirit from the flesh.
It is My desire to give you the very best and I will sift through the dross of your life and pour back into you My empowered anointing. You will be equipped to move into the next stage and purpose of your call. Be encouraged and strengthened by the vision that is set before your eyes. A new light will shine forth and many will see the fullness of My Spirit within you. Go forth and help others to receive the marvelous light of My Son, Jesus.

Malachi 3:3
He will sit as a refiner and a purifier of silver; He will purify the sons of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver, that they may offer to the Lord an offering in righteousness.

Seeds of Saying-Harvest of Hands
Doug Patterson

June 22, 2005

This is a day of increase, for a new breakthrough is coming upon you to see My word magnified in spirit and in grace. Within your heart there is a power source; a power to praise, prophecy, preach and proclaim that My Living Word is true. I have given My people the authority to overcome the obstacles of this world. Seed time and harvest belong to you. You have been faithful in your tithes and your offerings but you will now be sowing new seeds. They will have life and strength in them. It will be the Living Word of God coming from your mouth. These are my “seeds of saying,” for from your heart you will speak forth seeds of life. Believe in the multiplication of My word to grow in the ground in which it is planted. These seeds will grow in the hearts of people who are hungry and thirsty for the fullness of My Word. As you continue to pray for those you have spoken to, they will know of My unconditional love and mercy and they will experience My revelation in their lives.

After the “seeds of saying,” have completed a perfect work, prepare for the “harvest of hands”. Your hands extended will reap a multiplied harvest and embrace people with My love and compassion. For My Living Word has been sown with faith and received in faith, as I have commissioned each one of you to bring in a harvest of souls. You have the seeds of life within you and this is the day to sow them across the nations, for the harvest of souls belongs to Me.

Mark 4:13
And He said to them, “Do you not understand this parable? How then will you understand all the parables? The sower sows the word.

John 4:35
…. Behold I say to you, lift up your eyes and look at the fields, for they are already white for harvest!

The Church Of The Lion

Alison Papenfus

A Prophetic Word For Africa

July 2005

Last weekend my husband and I traveled to the borders of the Kruger National Park, staying in out of the way places - Roosenkekaal, Lydenberg - whose names I knew were nudging at some old memory - but I couldn't quite put my finger on it. All weekend I knew that the Lord was trying to say something to me, but I could not get hold of it. As I was praying this morning it all fell neatly into place.

Years ago I was shown some old photographs taken in Roosenekal, which I had almost forgotten until now. The photos - taken around 1910 - were of lion hunters, who were sent to the area around Roosenekal to shoot the lions who were killing farmers' livestock. One of the pictures I remember particularly - it showed the proud lion hunters with 5 magnificent lions which they had shot. Hundreds of lions must have been destroyed during this period. Eventually the remaining lions driven East and confined by a fence in the Kruger Park.

When the pictures came pouring back into my memory I realised that the Lord was saying something to me about the church in Africa.

The lion symbolizes the Lord Jesus, the Lion of the Tribe of Judah; but in Africa the lion is a symbol of African strength. As the Lion, Jesus has been Lord and roamed free across whole African nations . From South Africa to the Sahara dessert in the North, Africa has been a Christian continent. The enemies who came against the church in Africa have lasted for a while - and then been defeated, the African church is now at its strongest in places where Islam has tried to take hold. From the evil of apartheid to the horror of ethnic cleansing again and again African people have risen up and overcome, turning to God in repentance, receiving renewal time after time.

But there is a new enemy in Africa. This time the enemy has come promising not war but peace. This enemy pulls down houses and says he will build better ones for the people - but he leaves them homeless and destitute. This enemy rolls out health care and education for the people - but he promises more than he delivers; he promises jobs; he promises that all can live in peace and prosperity in the land. His vision is materialism; his rallying cry is "development"; his sacred cattle are beginning to graze on the hills and the plains of Africa.

When the church of the Lion roars "there is no peace without Jesus", the enemy sends his hunters;

when the church of the Lion attacks the sacred cow of materialism he declares the Lion to be a danger; when the people of the Lion stand between the bulldozers and the shacks of the poor he is ready strike out at the Lion and his people. When the people of the Lion declare that disease can be stemmed only by righteous living he pooh-poohs the Lion and hands out condoms; an undeclared war is brewing - the enemy who comes with promised of development and visions of material prosperity will not baulk at destroying the people of the Lion - and those he can not he will drive Eastward and confine them so that they can no longer attack the sacred cows that promise a peace based on materialism

The church in Africa is facing a crisis, but she has not yet realised it. There will be persecution of those who speak out against this enemy - there will be martyrs. Some will be imprisoned, some will be exiled, some will be isolated as this enemy becomes stronger and his cattle multiply. The Lord is calling his church - you have had a time of peace, but now comes a time of war. Rise up and speak prophetically to your community, to your tribe, to your nation - the peace which this enemy promises is not peace. It is confusion; it is a loss of identity; it is slavery to materialism; it is the bondage of sin and excess. You can not serve two Masters. If the Lord is your Master it is time to reject the baited lure of wealth and material security for the true peace of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

The Lord is looking for those who will heed this warning. He will know them because they will give. They will honour him with their giving. Those who have wealth will give it; those who have property will open their doors to those who have nothing; those who have time will use it to bring the love and the comfort of the gospel to their communities; those who have resources will spend them in the service of the Gospel. But those who embrace the deception of this enemy will begin to withhold their time, talents and money from the church and their community as they embrace this false peace that is being offered them. Choose who you will serve! The Lord is calling his church to awake, arise and mobilize for a battle. He knows who are his - he is calling them.

The Canvas Of Your Life

The Canvas Of Your Life

Do not forsake Me in the little gifts. I have lovingly placed each one of them in perfect order into your life. Whoosh, like a canvas in the sky, I paint every little detail. Always remember that within the complexities of life, there is nothing too complicated that My love cannot fix. If you are looking down, I will send you a penny for you to know you are sent. If you are looking up, I will give you a rainbow. Always, in every detail, I will reach you with the tiniest of details to paint your life with the color of My ever-loving kindness. I give you these little reminders to say that you are never alone, never forgotten, and always on My heart. Let Me paint your life with My color and beauty and let Me fill in all the details. I AM building My temple within you and have promised to raise you up.

1 Kings 6:37-38 NLT

The foundation of the LORD's Temple was laid in midspring of the fourth year of Solomon's reign. The entire building was completed in every detail by midautumn of the eleventh year of his reign. So it took seven years to build the Temple.

To Stir Your Faith

To Stir Your Faith

I love you My dear ones, stand strong in Me.
I hear you calling over wobbly knees.
Tis your faith that's tried in the fires of life,
Tis your faith that's wounded from surgery's knife.

Yes, the enemy intended destruction
As faith simmered or' the fires of reduction.
Persevered to pray for one another's faith,
It boiled down from the weakness of disgrace.

You felt tossed and turned from the trials of life.
Rolled over with the punches and laid down strife.
I kept you from burning as I stirred your pot,
While you waited on Me to cook the whole lot.

Yes, the soup was hot, much too hot to taste.
It cooled a bit, couldn't hurry its pace.
I AM the Master, the great Master Chef.
My work is perfect as you taste what's left.

To stretch and grow has been hard on you.
Sifting came and went through transition too.
The time is up and you're in a new place,
No more pain from remorse or disgrace.

It is I that moved from one place to another
As you held onto Me and prayed for each other.
You prayed for more faith, to be stable and set
You prayed to be cleansed and without regret.

I heard your prayers and you trusted in Me.
That I do all things well as you bowed your knee.
Keep on praying until your hearts are settled.
>From all that was tossed and turned disheveled.

Your prayers are multiplied for many in despair.
They know not their Father and how much I care. .
Your time has been multiplied over and again.
You have broken through ground and you will mend.

Their pain is much worse than you can imagine.
What you have tasted is just a small fraction.
Thank you for your sacrifices of real love
As you've clung to Me and sought Me from above.

You've stayed in synch and rolled with the punches,
Your faith did not fall as you followed your hunches.
Now your circle is over and yes it is up.
You can taste new soup and enjoy the sup.

Isa 28:23-29 NLT
Listen to me; listen as I plead! Does a farmer always plow and never sow? Is he forever cultivating the soil and never planting it? Does he not finally plant his seeds for dill, cumin, wheat, barley, and spelt, each in its own section of his land? The farmer knows just what to do, for God has given him understanding. He doesn't thresh all his crops the same way. A heavy sledge is never used on dill; rather, it is beaten with a light stick. A threshing wheel is never rolled on cumin; instead, it is beaten softly with a flail. Bread grain is easily crushed, so he doesn't keep on pounding it. He threshes it under the wheels of a cart, but he doesn't pulverize it. The LORD Almighty is a wonderful teacher, and he gives the farmer great wisdom.

Training Behind The Scenes
Sandy Warner

Apr 1, 2005
Training Behind The Scenes
Behind the scenes, in secret training places, I have been raising many for leadership. I grant them wisdom and understanding to discern the scenes of humanity from the side lines, regarding control, religion and agendas. I give this wisdom to clearly candle hearts so My trainees might pray according to My will. As they offer the things they see in loving prayer, with fearful hearts lest they too fall into the same plight, they embrace this training to apply to their own lives. This is My preparation for their own futures, for I weave every circumstance of their lives into preparatory Words for another day.

By witnessing humanity without judging them, they are given eyes, ears and hearts to accurately discern issues which do not line up with My desires. I reveal these things so they will learn by observing the successes as well as the failings of those who walk before them. I give the failings they witness as loud signs for their own preparation. In My mercy, I train them second hand so they need not learn the same lessons through the school of hard knocks. Instead, I give them these silent lessons to listen, learn and grow, lest they fall into the same mistakes. In the same manner, the successes they witness will foster the hope and courage that will bring them along into their own future calling. Loved ones, listen to wisdom that is planted in your heart as you see behind the scenes.

Prov 4:11-12 NLT
I will teach you wisdom's ways and lead you in straight paths. If you live a life guided by wisdom , you won't limp or stumble as you run.

When You Get Off Track
Sandy Warner

Mar 30, 2005

WHEN YOU GET OFF TRACK
Beloved there are times when you get hit by distraction, or even broad-sided by the enemy and you lose your spiritual position and direction. Pray that I will bring you back into your resting place in Me. As you lean against My heart beat, I shall bring things back into focus and clarity for you. Always remember to return to the last confirmed Words I gave you. These are your memorial stones or pillars of faith. Ask Me to bring the reality of them back to you and watch Me restore your sight back to where you were before this temporary fog of circumstances distracted you.

Deut 11:18-21 NKJV
"Therefore you shall lay up these words of mine in your heart and in your soul, and bind them as a sign on your hand, and they shall be as frontlets between your eyes. You shall teach them to your children, speaking of them when you sit in your house, when you walk by the way, when you lie down, and when you rise up. And you shall write them on the doorposts of your house and on your gates, that your days and the days of your children may be multiplied in the land of which the LORD swore to your fathers to give them, like the days of the heavens above the earth.

The Coming Persecution Of The Remnant

Dee Hoetmer

(dee@heartbeatofthefather.co.za)
http://www.heartbeatofthefather.co.za

Background

For nearly a year now I have been aware that persecution of the remnant Bride of Christ will not only come from the Antichrist and his minions, but from our brothers and sisters in the church. In fact when the true Apostles and Prophets are released in the near future, they will be persecuted, however the Lord will use this persecution to refine His Prophets and Apostles even more, and cause them to walk in the high and holy hills with Him!

You ask how is this possible. Beloveds when the Son of God came was it not they of the Temple that cried crucify him? Was it not they that accused him of casting out spirits by Beelzebub? Does the Word not say we will suffer persecution as He did?

Joh 19:6 When the chief priests therefore and officers saw him, they cried out, saying, Crucify him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, Take ye him, and crucify him: for I find no fault in him.

Matthew 12:24 But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, This fellow doth not cast out devils, but by Beelzebub the prince of the devils. 10:25 It is enough for the disciple that he be as his master, and the servant as his lord. If they have called the master of the house Beelzebub, how much more shall they call them of his household?

While seeking the Lord's face recently on the coming persecution, I heard Naboth and Sanballet.

Naboth Killed For The Vineyard By Jezebel

1Kings 21:6 And he said unto her, Because I spake unto Naboth the Jezreelite, and said unto him, Give me thy vineyard for money; or else, if it please thee, I will give thee another vineyard for it: and he answered, I will not give thee my vineyard.21:7 And Jezebel his wife said unto him, Dost thou now govern the kingdom of Israel? arise, and eat bread, and let thine heart be merry: I will give thee the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite.

Who is the scarlet attired woman that rides the beast of mystery Babylon, but Jezebel herself, the spirit of control, a false prophet and mother of spiritual harlotries and whoredoms, and weak and easily led astray and manipulated Ahabs followed her (some of those who are still not hearing to come out of her). This false holy spirit has coveted the Lord's vineyard for centuries and indeed governs much of what is rightfully the Lord's vineyard today!

Revelation 17:3 So he carried me away in the spirit into the wilderness: and I saw a woman sit upon a scarlet coloured beast, full of names of blasphemy, having seven heads and ten horns.17:4 And the woman was arrayed in purple and scarlet colour, and decked with gold and precious stones and pearls, having a golden cup in her hand full of abominations and filthiness of her fornication:

1 Kings 21:8 So she wrote letters in Ahab's name, and sealed them with his seal, and sent the letters unto the elders and to the nobles that were in his city, dwelling with Naboth. 21:9 And she wrote in the letters, saying, Proclaim a fast, and set Naboth on high among the people: 21:12 They proclaimed a fast, and set Naboth on high among the people.

At first Jezebel will send flattering lips to set you up on high among the people; to set the chosen up for a fall, for pride cometh before a fall.

21:13 And there came in two men, children of Belial, and sat before him: and the men of Belial witnessed against him, even against Naboth, in the presence of the people, saying, Naboth did blaspheme God and the king.

When this does not work, the spirit of Jezebel will send out the false prophets of Baal against those who are calling people out of the Babylonian systems of the church and accuse them of blasphemy (also will rail accusations of being a false prophet for the Jezebel spirit will nearly always accuse you of that which she is walking in).

Then they carried him forth out of the city, and stoned him with stones, that he died. 21:14 Then they sent to Jezebel, saying, Naboth is stoned, and is dead. 21:15 And it came to pass, when Jezebel heard that Naboth was stoned, and was dead, that Jezebel said to Ahab, Arise, take possession of the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite, which he refused to give thee for money: for Naboth is not alive, but dead.

Those who do not bow to the spirit of mammon (in the Babylonian church system) will be in danger of being "stoned" by the very ones they seek to deliver from this Babylonian system. In fact many of the chosen are being called to lay down everything pertaining to Egypt/Babylon at this time.

21:16 And it came to pass, when Ahab heard that Naboth was dead, that Ahab rose up to go down to the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite, to take possession of it.21:18 Arise, go down to meet Ahab king of Israel, which is in Samaria: behold, he is in the vineyard of Naboth, whither he is gone down to possess it. 21:19 And thou shalt speak unto him, saying, Thus saith the LORD, Hast thou killed, and also taken possession? And thou shalt speak unto him, saying, Thus saith the LORD, In the place where dogs licked the blood of Naboth shall dogs lick thy blood, even thine.

The dogs licked the blood of Jezebel at Jezreel, after Jehu had her cast out of her lofty window by two eunuchs; those who are not subject to her lustful ways; pride of life and lusts of the flesh, and her painted face (a sign of her carnal lustfulness but also of spiritual masks). We are to ask the Lord for the anointing of Jehu to cast down Jezebel. He didn't allow her to speak but had her cast down.

2Ki 9:30 And when Jehu was come to Jezreel, Jezebel heard of it; and she painted her face, and tired her head, and looked out at a window. 9:31 And as Jehu entered in at the gate, she said, Had Zimri peace, who slew his master? 9:32 And he lifted up his face to the window, and said, Who is on my side? who? And there looked out to him two or three eunuchs. 9:33 And he said, Throw her down. So they threw her down: and some of her blood was sprinkled on the wall, and on the horses: and he trode her under foot. 29:34 And when he was come in, he did eat and drink, and said, Go, see now this cursed woman, and bury her: for she is a king's daughter. 9:35 And they went to bury her: but they found no more of her than the skull, and the feet, and the palms of her hands.

2Kings 9:21 And Joram said, Make ready. And his chariot was made ready. And Joram king of Israel and Ahaziah king of Judah went out, each in his chariot, and they went out against Jehu, and met him in the portion of Naboth the Jezreelite.

9:25 Then said Jehu to Bidkar his captain, Take up, and cast him in the portion of the field of Naboth the Jezreelite: for remember how that, when I and thou rode together after Ahab his father, the LORD laid this burden upon him; 9:26 Surely I have seen yesterday the blood of Naboth, and the blood of his sons, saith the LORD; and I will requite thee in this plat, saith the LORD. Now therefore take and cast him into the *plat of ground, according to the word of the LORD. (*plat also means slippery places)

Those who continue to rise up against the Jehus will be judged by the Lord Himself, He will avenge the blood of His prophets. I have for some weeks been having an open vision of the ground opening up and people disappearing alive into the earth.

Numbers 16:33 They, and all that appertained to them, went down alive into the pit, and the earth closed upon them: and they perished from among the congregation.

Spirit of rebellion - Sanballat

Nehemiah 2:10 When Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the servant, the Ammonite, heard of it, it grieved them exceedingly that there was come a man to seek the welfare of the children of Israel.

Not all will be pleased with the new move of the Lord to restore His church.

Nehemiah 2:19 But when Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah the servant, the Ammonite, and Geshem the Arabian, heard it, they laughed us to scorn, and despised us, and said, What is this thing that ye do? will ye rebel against the king?

The true remnant will be accused of being in rebellion to the Lord, for the new move of the Lord will not be by the might or of the power of man, but by His Spirit, and this will upset the "apple cart" of the religious leaders. Their insecurity of being the leader appointed by man (or self) and being supplanted by the true leading of the Holy Spirit through His Apostles and Prophets, will cause loss of position and possibly of the financial support that they enjoyed in the past.

Nehemiah 4:1 But it came to pass, that when Sanballat heard that we builded the wall, he was wroth, and took great indignation, and mocked the Jews.

Nehemiah 4:7 But it came to pass, that when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and the Arabians, and the Ammonites, and the Ashdodites, heard that the walls of Jerusalem were made up, and that the breaches began to be stopped, then they were very wroth, Nehemiah 6:1 Now it came to pass when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and Geshem the Arabian, and the rest of our enemies, heard that I had builded the wall, and that there was no breach left therein; (though at that time I had not set up the doors upon the gates;) 6:2 That Sanballat and Geshem sent unto me, saying, Come, let us meet together in some one of the villages in the plain of Ono. But they thought to do me mischief.

Those who are called to build the walls and to repair the breaches of the church will come up against great wroth. The spirit of rebellion- Sanballat, walks with the spirit of pride - Leviathan who, as discussed before, is one of the manifestations of Lucifer who wanted to be like the Most High God and rebelled.

The true remnant will also come against the spirits of religion (even in born again churches, who have been taken captive although they are unaware of it) and spirits of spiritual pride. There are hardly more foul spirits than the spirits of spiritual pride and the religious spirit, which have the mask of righteousness but are as a whited sepulcher, full of the unclean things.

As a side note, many have been deeply wounded and have left the church because of these spirits operating there. A place of healing and safety has been a place of even deeper wounding and captivity (religious bondage) this is going to change, either in the existing churches (if they are willing to humble themselves) and/or in new ministries and houses of refuge the Lord is bringing about. These ministries and houses of refuge will be places of healing- emotional and physical and prayer where the anointing will be so powerful that all will know that it is a work of the Lord and man will be hidden.

Pray that the spirit of religion and spiritual pride does not take the chosen captive and a work of the Lord "dies" as has occurred with previous revivals where man has thought it prudent to control when ministries got large! We have to remain dead to self and trust the Lord's guidance and leading in all things.

The End Of The Matter

Neh 6:15 So the wall was finished in the twenty and fifth day of the month Elul, in fifty and two days.
6:16 And it came to pass, that when all our enemies heard thereof, and all the heathen that were about us saw these things, they were much cast down in their own eyes: for they perceived that this work was wrought of our God.

The Lord will have a Church with all walls and breaches restored and therefore a Bride without spot or blemish to go forth and restore all things beneath His Feet and for His Glory to be made known throughout the earth as the waters cover the sea.

Amen and amen!

The Crash

A Dream by Nancy Gaitan
Interpretation by Bill Somers

[Originally written July 2000]

First the dream Nancy Gaitan

I had a dream in which I was riding in an "old" car, there was an older man driving, and an older woman sitting next to him in the front seat. I was sitting in the back seat looking around. We were on a dirt road going up the north side of a mountain (in the dream the mountain was a mountain here called Konocti).

I looked out of the window and on my left, I saw a large commercial plane. It was painted Red, White, and Blue (this part I believe is significant to the larger picture, as we live in a small rural community where there is not an airport for commercial airlines to land here). It seemed to be circling and getting lower and lower, all of a sudden I realized, the plane was going to CRASH into the side of the mountain! It was right over our heads now and I said to the older man who was traveling very slowly, to HURRY UP, and get out of there! All of a sudden the plane crashed into the side of the mountain. It was a very terrible crash.

Suddenly I was no longer in the old car, but on a bicycle by myself trying to get away, when I noticed a large group of people milling around the crash site. There were some news crews, TV people, cameras etc. They were all hanging around the crash. I then started peddling as fast as I could to get as FAR AWAY from the crash as I could, when all of a sudden I looked behind me to the mountain where the plane had crashed, and there was a HUGE fiery explosion, that went miles into the air!! I said "Oh God, all of those people!! I then started peddling frantically knowing I had to get to higher ground, and put as much space as possible between myself and the explosion. The dream then ended.

A couple of items from the dream occurred to us. The commercial plane being painted Red, White, and Blue, would seem to signify America. The news media being present at the crash. We wondered if there might be a financial crash coming on the horizon? The older car and people she could relate to some things she has been praying about, but wonders if they also have a larger significance. Anyway, please pray, and would appreciate any insight the Lord would give, especially for prayer and intercession.

Interpretation – Bill Somers

The dreamer represents the prophetic element of the present church. While two old people driving the car, represent the present church leadership. They are in the drivers and navigators seats, and in control of things. The fresh young prophetic people are represented by the rider stuck away in the back, suppressed and ignored.

They are pursuing the things of God as best as they know how. This is shown in that they are driving up the north side of the mountain. [Let us go up to the mountain of the Lord. . . . Mt. Zion on the side of the north.]

The other detail here is that it’s a dirt road, one that is not well traveled. This shows that not many are truly seeking the kingdom even in this day.

The prophetic person can clearly see that the plane is going to crash, but the others cannot.

The prophetic dreamer attempts to warn the driver of the crash, that time is short. The Plane is right over their heads at this point. [Come out of her my people.}

The plane crash of the USA, obviously, is an economic crash as suggested by the fact that it is a commercial plane, not a military one.

Other details speak as well. The plane in going in circles, lower and lower. This shows that the USA has lost it course and is on a downward spiral morally.

Also as the mountain represents the things of God, the USA crashing into the mountain indicates a conflict between the course that the USA is on and the things of God.

The fact that after wards the dreamer in on a bicycle shows two things. A. After the crash, automotive transportation will be out of the picture [a result of economic collapse]. B, so will the old order in the church [a result of the great shaking].

The crash attracts much attention and commotion, but the prophetic person knows enough to flee the following judgment, whose description could well be that of a nuclear explosion, with it's mushroom cloud going miles into the air. This is signifying the judgment of nuclear war to follow the economic crash.

A Dream within a Dream: The Crosses Return
rivermistlighthouse1@comcast.net

Recently, I have felt prompted to release specific dreams and visions from when I first committed my life to the Lord. The night I had this dream I had talked with my brother on the phone. He told me that he had a dream the night before that he was standing in a huge open field at night and could see many stars, but he knew there was something else there. My brother said he asked the Lord what it was He was trying to show him, but he couldn't see it. He reported awaking from that dream disappointed. Before I went to sleep that evening, I asked the Lord if He would show me what He was trying to show my brother.

July 14, 1997

I dreamed that I was traveling with a group of people. It seemed to me that we were a ministry team and we knew each other very well in the dream, but when I awoke I had no idea who they were. In the dream, I was exhausted and I asked the person we were visiting if I could take a nap in the back room. I went back to lie down and soon was in a deep sleep.

While I took this nap, I began to dream. (So it was a dream within a dream) As with my brother, I was standing in a huge open field and the night sky was full with stars. I looked up and saw one star that looked very bright and was twinkling in a dynamic manner. I carefully watched it and noticed that it was getting larger. I really was concentrating on this star trying to fathom and comprehend what the Lord was showing me. Then I realized the star appeared to be getting larger because it was actually moving closer to the earth. It got to be so radiant that I could hardly look at it. As it came nearer to me, I realized it was not a star at all, but an extremely bright and luminous gold cross.

One reason it flickered was because it was rotating on its axis. I could see there was something wrapped around it, but I couldn't tell what it was at first. Then I realized the only reason I could gaze at the cross at all was because it had grape leaves draped over it. It reminded me of South Dakota Gold. The grape leaves kept me from being blinded by the intense brilliance of the cross. The other reason it flickered really brightly at times was that as it was coming towards the earth, it also seemed to be growing larger and then getting smaller. Even though it was a considerable distance from me, as it came closer, I could see that it split from being just one cross, to three crosses, and then to seven crosses! The One Cross was always in the center. The crosses on the right side went behind the center cross and the crosses on the left side went in front of it in a straight line. They then moved in the opposite direction outwardly. This is how the three became seven crosses, and then they became three crosses again, then back into the One Cross. The whole time they were each spinning on their own axis. The crosses moved in this fashion the entire time they approached the earth. They each had grape leaves draped over them and I could see the stars in the background. It was a magnificent sight!

When I woke up from the ‘nap’ I went in and told my missionary friends about this dream. They each in turn shared with me what they thought the dream meant. Then I awoke from the dream.

I do believe the simplest interpretation of this dream is that Christ is returning to the earth. Even though the crosses were still far off, I could see their approach and felt the urgency of teaching the Gospel before Jesus’ return.

Here are some other thoughts in interpreting this dream:

God Almighty is symbolized in the One Cross representing Unity and Primacy as the All Sufficient One. God is All-Powerful and Supreme. He is The Way, The Truth, The Life and none come to the Father but through Christ. The cross is symbolic of the method used to slay the Lamb of God.

The Three Crosses reflect God’s divine completeness and perfection. Three represents the Father, Son and Holy Spirit. God is omnipresent, omniscience, and omnipotent. He completes all time in the past, present and future; though He is not subject to time. He is the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob; Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego; Peter, James, and John. Jonah was in the belly of the great fish three days, and he was a foreshadowing of Christ rising from the dead in divine perfection on the third day. Jesus validated Jonah’s testimony in Matthew 12:40 and again in 16:4. It also states in 1 John 5:7-8, “For there are three that bear witness in heaven: the Father, the Word and the Holy Spirit; and these three are one. And there are three who bear witness on the earth: the Spirit, the water and the blood. These agree as one.”

The Seven Crosses denote spiritual perfection found in the Seven Spirits before his throne, and signify He is coming in fullness, strength and perfect power. The Seven Spirits are the Spirit of the Lord, the Spirit of Wisdom and Understanding, the Spirit of Counsel and Might, the Spirit of Knowledge and the Fear of the Lord. This is the sevenfold anointing of the Messiah. The Lamb of God slain before the foundation of the world, the Lion of the tribe of Judah is the only One who is worthy to open the scroll and to loose its seven seals. Having seven horns and seven eyes which are the seven Spirits of God sent out into all the earth. He alone is worthy to receive power and riches and wisdom and strength and honor and glory and blessing! Amen! These are the sevenfold ascriptions to Christ. See Isaiah 11:2 and Revelations 1:4; 4:5, 5:1-14.

He is the Vine and we are the branches. Grape leaves bring nourishment to the fruit of the vine. Grapes are the fruit which Jesus used in proclamation of the new covenant. We drink from the cup in remembrance of what Christ did for the remission of our sins. The grapes also represent Jesus’ first miracle and the fruit of the Spirit. More practically in this dream, the grape leaves were used to veil the brilliance of God, so that I could see His return is near. The crosses were draped and shielded from full view to keep from blinding me. We know in part and prophecy in part. We know not when He will return, only the Father knows (Mark 13:32). We are to be doing our part, but only in obedience, in carrying out the Great Commission found in Matthew 28:18-20. We are to be aware that He is coming back as He promised He would do; however, we must also understand that He is slow in His return, as He doesn’t desire anyone to perish. See 2 Peter 3:1-18. We are each responsible to be about our Father's business until Christ's return. The key is to walk in obedience and wisdom. Even Jesus had to wait and grow up before He could walk fully in His ministry.

The 'dream within a dream' seems to be symbolic of going deeper for revelation. In this part of the dream I was so exhausted. To this day I remember how tired my body felt as I asked the host if I could take a nap and how deeply I was sleeping. This brings to mind when Jesus said to Paul, "My grace is sufficient for you, for My power is made perfect in weakness." 2 Corinthians 12:9. This also reminds me of when Jesus told His disciples after an exhausting night of fishing to let out the nets and get ready for a haul. Deep calls unto deep! See Luke 5:4-10 and Psalm 42:7

In this dream the Lord revealed His grace in a potent way. For me to ask God to show me something - and for Him to do it - was an amazing example of His love and grace. I just realized that I had been serving Christ for about five months when I had this dream, and it is interesting to me, as 5 is the number of Grace! All glory and honor to our God!

Another thing that I now see that I had not seen before is the significance of the date of this dream. July 14th or 7/14 is relevant to the Scripture that has been an essential word for our day found in 2 Chronicles 7:14, "If My people who are called by My name will humble themselves and pray and seek My face, and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven and forgive their sins and heal their land." For another dream and interpretation concerning the importance of seeking God's face you may click on http://etpv.org/2004/wmshf.html

If you feel you have something to add to this interpretation, please feel free to write me. When my friends shared their interpretations the Lord taught me how to sense when He is in the interpretation. Remember, Joseph was careful to teach us that interpretations of dreams belong to God. Also there is safety in the multitude of counselors. See Genesis 40:8 and Proverbs 11:14.

Grace and peace be multiplied to you in the knowledge of God and our Lord Jesus Christ,
Judy

The Crystal Eagle Dream

A dear friend of mine, Anita Hester, called me recently to share a dream that she heard told on October 30th at The Advocate Center in Birmingham, AL. We both knew that this was a call to intercede for our President and that the body of Christ must be alerted to pray.

I was able to contact the dreamer, Deborah Talley, who has given me permission to share it. Here is the dream:

The Crystal Eagle Dream

"As I was sleeping, I began to dream that I was standing in a school lobby that I didn't recognize. The only article of furniture that was in this lobby was a tall, lighted, glass trophy case that was completely empty.

I walked over to the case and a man in a dress suite appeared inside the case and I realized that it was our President, George W. Bush. All of a sudden, Pres. Bush turned into a huge, extraordinarily beautiful crystal eagle with its wings uplifted, as in flight. I was mesmerized at its crystalline beauty and was a little undecided as to whether it was crystal or ice. But, the sparkling brilliance was something to remember.

Just as quickly as the President had become the eagle, the eagle then began to melt like ice into a tremendous, brown bear that was roaring. I was drawn closer to the bear because I sensed something unusual about it. As I drew nearer, I saw tears starting to fall from its eyes. I felt a terrible sadness. It was then that I awoke from this dream."

Deborah Talley

Interpretation

This is the interpretation given to Anita Hester:

"God has called our president to be a crystal clear prophetic voice for this nation, but the enemy wants to destroy and defeat him and have him as a trophy in his case."

Obviously, this dream is a call to intercession for our Commander in Chief. God has revealed His plan for our President as well as the enemy's plan for him. God has said that if two of us agree as touching anything, it shall be done for us! So let's pray and agree that our President will rise up and be that CRYSTAL CLEAR PROPHETIC VOICE, and that the enemy will NOT be able to silence or destroy him. This can only be accomplished through fervent intercession of the righteous!

Prayer:
Father, first of all we thank You for revealing Your plans to us so that we can get into agreement with You, and also for revealing the plan of the enemy so that we can cancel it.

So Lord, we ask that You would protect President Bush, protect his very life, his voice, his spirit, his destiny. Post and strengthen Your angels around him. Open his eyes that he might see, and his ears that he would hear what You are saying to him and what You want to speak through him. Speak loud and clear to him in ways that he will be able to hear You over and above the counsel of the wicked.

We cut off the deception and lies of the wicked one and cancel the assignments he had planned against G. W. Bush to destroy him and even his plans to destroy this nation. We thank You that G. W. Bush stands in the counsel of the Lord and that he heeds and obeys Your Voice regardless of the opinion of others.

Give President Bush boldness to speak forth that which You have spoken to him. Surround him with godly counsel, speak to him through Your word, through Your prophets, through dreams, and through visions. Anoint his ears to hear You clearly, reveal TRUTH to him and show him what to do with that revelation.

Give him a clear mind and a discerning heart Lord; turn it totally toward Your plans and purposes for this nation and for Israel.

God bless America and President G. W. Bush.

Blessings,
Debbi Carlson

The Cry, The Call and The Convergence

Melissa Campbell

I attended a conference entitled, “Convergence,” last weekend in Monroeville, PA, that hosted Whirlwind Ministries, led by Jeff and Barbara Knight, and Roger and Sue Mitchell from England. On Friday night of the conference during worship, I sensed the presence of angelic activity, looked in the spirit and saw a vision of a very large and "mighty" man sitting above me and to my right facing the west. I could only see him from maybe the chest down. He wore a white garment, and I knew he represented truth and light. As I watched I saw him very calmly and deliberately put on some type of leather sandals/boots, tie them around his ankles and lower legs, and then stand. I had the impression it was either an angel or the Lord, and that He was getting ready for war. He was ready to move, and come to our aid.

When I went home and prayed about this, I found this scripture:

Psalm 12:5-7

"Because of the oppression of the afflicted and the groaning of the poor, I will now rise up,” says the Lord. "I will put in a safe place the one who longs for it."

The words of the Lord are pure words, like silver refined in an earthen furnace, purified seven times.

I have been pondering this vision and scripture, and this morning as I was waking, I had a vision. The LORD and I were together walking among souls that were crying out, but I could hear no voices. It was as if they were not yet born. I was frustrated because I felt the desperation of these souls, and I knew the LORD had a purpose for my being there, but I did not know what I was to do. Although I saw no division, I knew these souls represented three groups of people, one of which I had the sense included aborted babies and the lives of those that have been snuffed out by the enemy, with no chance to fulfill their destinies here on the earth.

As I began to pray about this, I believe the LORD showed me that the other two groups crying out represent both the lost and the manifest sons of God longing to be birthed. As I continued to meditate on this word, I wrote the following, which I submit for your discernment:

PART I -- The Cry

Lost souls are crying out.
My children are crying out.
Listen to the sound of those crying out to be born!
Hear their cries! Hear my shout!
They’re coming out! They’re coming out!
They will not die, but be born.

They were lost but now are found.
They were stuck there in the ground,
Of the earth, lying there, crying out to live.
“Live! Live! Live!” I say,
“Sons of God, come forth!”
Out of the grave of death and decay.
Out from the ground of earth.

I hear the wail of your voices.
I hear the sound of your cries and moans.
No longer will you be oppressed and ruined
No more will the enemy gloat
There is hope for you. I’ve declared it.

Now I will arise and visit the earth.

My streams of abundance flow.
Let My grace and mercy show,
I am the answer to your lament.
Flow. Flow. Flow.
Living waters go!
Burst out like a dam overflowing.
Break forth into the earth with my glory.
Satisfy the weak and moaning
Saturate the land with life.

My people will not perish, but live!
My children will know the arm that comforts them
Is not too short to save.
I am mighty in strength and zeal.
I will not leave you in the dust of Sheol.
Be lifted up out of your graves.
Don't be afraid to touch the sky.

The men of the world will no longer blaspheme me,
And my people will not be ashamed.
No longer will they say I have forgotten and forsaken.
I am rising up to take the land.
My justice shall run like a river.
All those who look to me shall be saved.

Get ready for battle.
Get ready for war.
Can you hear the cries of my children yet to be born?
Listen!
It's time for war.
It's time for war.

I have led you among them.
You have felt their desperation.
I will hear their cries no more!
They shall come forth!
It's time to enter in to my labor
And let Me push these sons to birth.

My sons!
Wake up! Wake up! I'm calling you out.
Come up from the grave of fear and doubt.
It's time for your birth! It's time for your birth!
The seed of my Word has been planted deep.
Now the earth quakes.
I'm sending my angels to war and reap
You shall arise and leave the earth.

Part II -- The Call

There is a breaking.
Can you feel my shaking?
The whole earth groans to see
My creation.

Can you bear it?
I said, “Can you bear it?”
Will you labor with me?
Will you push?
Will you cry out?
Will you bear down with my resolve?
To see captivity set free?

The nations cry out in pain.
Do you hear them?
Look!
All around me their tears fall like rain.
Do you feel what I feel?
The seas roar, and will not be contained.
How long must we travail?
How long must we labor for this birth?

Now, I am calling it forth!
It will come suddenly,
Like the dawn
Piercing the darkest of nights,
With the brightest of lights,
The Son.
There will be amazing joy!
Great shouts of delight
Will break out of those who have mourned.

Selah.

Yes. There is a solution.
I have conquered. I have risen.
And I am getting ready to clean up this mess.
But listen!
There is no resolution
Until first, you seek my wisdom
And learn to labor in my rest.

I have called you to Selah
That uncomfortable place
Of bending and shaking;
Where the barriers of the earth are breaking,
And to admit to not knowing
Is passing the test.

Part III -- The Convergence

Will you dare to bear this?
Can you enter into my presence?
Cry out for great endurance,
And surrender every weakness,
To my strength?

Deep calls unto deep,
Under the roar of my waterfalls.
Will you enter in?
Will you be bold and brave, and bow down,
Will you seek the burning fire of my face?

Come into the darkness that surrounds me,
Open your eyes and you will see
How sound is stretched
To the point of breaking
And emerges as colorful beams of light.

It's metamorphosis!
Where your flesh shatters and fades away
And something new emerges.
A glorious substance is released,
The beauty of holiness,
As death yields itself to life.

It's convergence!
Where heaven kisses earth
And ignites a holy passion,
A terrifying explosion,
That streaks across the sky like lightning.
What happens when good and evil collide?
Evil has to die.

It's a place of waiting,
So unbearable
So uncomfortable,
But of never hesitating
To push forward to the fulfillment
Of the promises inside.

The pain,
It can be excruciating at times,
Because your flesh just doesn't want to die.
But the joy, O the Joy!
That you are anticipating.
He will pull you through to the other side.

This is a violent place.
There is no room for passivity or cowardice,
Only the promise of sufficient grace
To lift you up to stand the test.
Come humbly. Come boldly.
Through the veil of Jesus' flesh.
He is the One who has broken out before you.
In Him you will find My rest.

Lift up your heads you ancient gates.
Swing wide the doors with violent faith.
Come! Welcome the King and give Him praise.
I say there is a multitude coming into my house.
I will bring them in and send them out.
See! My glory covers the earth!

"Now," I say, "My children, be born!"
"Now," I say, "My sons, come forth!"

One who breaks open [the way] will advance before them they will break out, pass through the gate, and leave by it. Their King will pass through before them, the Lord as their leader. ~ Micah 2:13

The Lord advances like a warrior; He stirs up His zeal like a soldier. He shouts, He roars aloud, He prevails over His enemies. "I have kept silent from ages past; I have been quiet and restrained Myself. [But now,] I will groan like a woman in labor, gasping breathlessly. ~ Isaiah 42:13,14

And if children, also heirs--heirs of God and co-heirs with Christ--seeing that we suffer with Him so that we may also be glorified with Him. For I consider that the sufferings of this present time are not worth comparing with the glory that is going to be revealed to us. For the creation eagerly waits with anticipation for God's sons to be revealed. For the creation was subjected to futility--not willingly, but because of Him who subjected it--in the hope that the creation itself will also be set free from the bondage of corruption into the glorious freedom of God's children. For we know that the whole creation has been groaning together with labor pains until now. And not only that, but we ourselves who have the Spirit as the firstfruits--we also groan within ourselves, eagerly waiting for adoption, the redemption of our bodies. Now in this hope we were saved, yet hope that is seen is not hope, because who hopes for what he sees? But if we hope for what we do not see, we eagerly wait for it with patience. ~Romans 8:17-25

His voice shook the earth at that time, but now He has promised, Yet once more I will shake not only the earth but also heaven. Now this expression, "Yet once more," indicates the removal of what can be shaken--that is, created things--so that what is not shaken might remain. Therefore, since we are receiving a kingdom that cannot be shaken, let us hold on to grace. By it, we may serve God acceptably, with reverence and awe; for our God is a consuming fire. ~ Hebrews 12:26-29

For the earth will be filled with the knowledge of the Lord's glory, as the waters cover the sea. ~ Habakkuk 2:14

Lift up your heads, you gates! Rise up, ancient doors! Then the King of glory will come in. Who is this King of glory? The Lord, strong and mighty, the Lord, mighty in battle.
Lift up your heads, you gates! Rise up, ancient doors! Then the King of glory will come in. Who is He, this King of glory? The Lord of Hosts, He is the King of glory. Selah
~ Psalm 24:7-10

The Church That Jesus Is Building

Don Nori

Just as I had suspected, the last entry brought some interesting responses from my readers. For those who had not read it, here it is as I copied it in blue below:

CHURCH AS WE KNOW IT IS OVER

As we begin 2005, the Church is at a major crossroads in her multi-millennial sojourn through time upon this earth. She has some very big decisions to make. But most of us are not aware of the change that is in the Wind. For church, as we know it, is over.

The church, (the one being built by Jesus, not this monstrosity of a system we incorrectly call the Church), will move on with the gentle sound of His voice. The Church He is building will not need an earthquake, a hurricane, or pixie dust floating in the air to get her attention. His sheep hear His voice and follow Him because they follow His voice. This will be a big test of who we really are and whose kingdom we are really building. If it is His Kingdom, we will leap at the sound of His voice and go where he leads us. If we are building the counterfeit, we will not be so inclined to move very quickly. For there is much to lose and much to risk in responding to Him whilst building anything of our own.

The charismatics, the Pentecostals and the revivalists are all crowding at the river Jordan. The Holy Spirit is urging, calling, leading them to cross, but few have the faith to cross because few have the faith to risk what they have built. Maybe that is the problem...we have built it and it is OURS. We must protect what is ours at all costs, even at the cost of moving on with the Lord. It is always so easy to camp along the river rather than risk the dangers of fording the rapids, even when you have the voice of the Lord drawing you on..

So we invent, discover and imagine all kinds of histrionics to keep everyone satisfied where they are... on the wrong side of the river. We go around the things He has shown us again and again. We devise newer and more complicated ways of saying and doing the things we have know for years. Oh, we will occasionally look longingly across the river, wondering if there really is more over there, but the safety is always here. Few will admit that we have lost the faith, the daring and the adventure of our earlier days. Although denominationalism is anathema to us, we gather around the same things and build the same walls and defend our position with the same conviction and piety as all those who have gone before us.

But those who do not cross the river do not change the world. It is true, they do not rock the boat, but they do not see anything new, experience anything deeper than what has been "felt and telt" many, many times and for many, many years.

God does not talk in circles. He has a definite destination in mind and He fully intends to have a people that will be willing to be lead to the deepest reservoirs of Hid love and the very fullness of His Life.

Church as we know it is over. He is about wrestle control of His own church from the carnal hands of insecure, angry, controlling and legalistic men and women, build His own church, just as He promised He would.

Church as we know it is passing away. The thing we have called church is but a dim shadow of the life-giving, empowering wholeness of that for which Jesus died, rather, rose from the dead to lavish upon mere mortal men.

We have asked for wealth when He wanted to give us nations. We focused on our healing when He wanted to make us healers. We have searched for mercy and compassion when He had called us to carry those same treasures to a dying world. We are self-examining when He wants us to be pouring ourselves out so others can find Him.

There is no doubt. The self-centered, need-oriented, program-driven, growth-addicted destiny-snatching, dream-killing counterfeit is about to be replaced by His church; a company of loosely connected people held together only by the bonds of love. This people is the Christ-centered, Kingdom-declaring, light-shining heart throb of God Himself. His people hear His voice and respond with joy and anticipation, not fear and uncertainty. They are a devil-ignoring, life-giving, God-honoring group of worshipers whose greatest fulfillment in life is to be called to His service by the gentle sound of His voice.

This church understands that the hands Jesus will stretch out to heal will be her hands. They know they are His hug, His smile, His encouraging word and the world's only hope of glory.

The solution is clear...You are the church that Jesus Himself, is building!

There were some important questions, though, that can only begin to be addressed as we continue our sojourn on this earth. One thing is certain, Jesus is looking for a submitted people through whom He can do His work on this planet. These people are submitted to Him and Him alone.

I know, I know, this raises a lot of serious red flags for some. The old system that we have been used to for many years is not going to give way so easily. But this old system is not what Jesus is doing in the earth. I know there are millions of true believers in the system. I know God hears their prayers and responds to them in gentle and loving ways. But it not His church. This system we have built is kept alive by the effort of man and the rules man has made to keep Christians under control. The church He is building is the church that is submitted to Him and does His bidding. These people hear His voice and are about the business of the Father, not the kingdom of man or his religion.

This church has little to do with where we meet. The church can gather in a sanctuary, a storefront, living room, or in a tent on a field. It is not about where we meet but Who we meet with and our willingness to allow Him to rule and reign in the hearts of men and women.

The church has little to do with how we meet. Shall we meet in a circle or an arc shaped seating arrangement or shall we sit on the floor? Shall we meet on Sundays, Wednesdays or Thursdays? Shall we wear suits, long dresses or t-shirts and jeans? What is He really interested in anyway? He is interested in hearts that are open and ready for Him. He is waiting for ears that are eager to be taught by His Spirit and who love to worship. His people live and breathe His Presence and express His love in genuine, no-strings-attached ways that really minister to the needy whether or not that ministry brings the needy into the building.

His people trust the work of the Holy Spirit in the hearts of man. His people know that the Holy Spirit strives with all men just as He strives with them personally. The church Jesus is building sows seed everywhere even when they do not open their mouth. Their mere presence shines His love and draws the masses to His manifest Presence. The Holy Spirit is big enough to do what He is called to do if we just let Him.

It is a liberating and empowering moment when you realize that you are not in this alone. The church, the Kingdom, the saving of the world is not solely dependant upon you. Everywhere you go, you automatically sow seeds of His love. You have no idea of the power of your smile, your kind word or your hug. Your understanding, your compassion, your helping hand all minister in ways many cannot imagine. The Evangelicals needs to pass out a tract and get a phone number to feel like they have done their job. The Pentecostals/Charismatics have to prophesy over someone or lay hands on them in some fashion in order to feel that they have done the right thing. But Jesus just loved on everyone!

Now let me tell you that I pray and prophesy over many, many people, but I am certain God is leading me. Nonetheless, I minister to thousands more just by letting Jesus love the world through me. The Holy Spirit does the rest. We just need to repent of our judgment, condemnation and lack of mercy so the Lord can minister all these and more to everyone around us.

Listen, this church He is building is an awesome church. He does not need our help or suggestions, He only needs us to get out of the way so He can do whatsoever He wants to do for us, in us, to us and most importantly, through us.

WHERE IS THE CHURCH THAT JESUS IS BUILDING?

You Are the Church

There are many stories of the "average" believer's search for the church that Jesus is building. Of course, in reality, there are no "average" Christians. We are all part of the great Melchizedek of God. We are all members of the Priesthood of the Believer and dwell within the veil of the Most Holy Place. The Most Holy Place is the "Yes" of God, where all respond to Him, all call upon His mercy and all hear the sound of His Voice. In this realm, He has the pre-eminence, He has the dream and He builds His own people after the fashion of His own will. In this realm, the only Kingdom being built is His Kingdom and the only church being constructed is the one He is building within you and I.

But don't we all say we believe that the church is the people, not the building? It is an important part of the doctrine of most Christian churches. Yet, it is also true that we do not have that experience in the real world. It is almost as though there is a difference between what we believe and what we experience every day.

Those days are mercifully gone for more and more people. More and more people are dissatisfied with bland doctrine and powerless principles. They are tired with the disconnect with what is taught and what is really believed by those who are supposed to be leading us to this City made without hands whose builder and maker is God.

The re-connect is discovering who we really are and Who really dwells within. We need to be looking within to find the church He is building. His tender mercy and grace gently builds us into a holy habitation for His manifest Presence. Now if we truly believe that, everything changes. The focus is on Him, not on a building, an organization or a ministry. If it be true that we are the place of His Presence, the church is truly us, plain and simple. Buildings can come and go. They serve only as long as the church needs them.

Remember, the Kingdom comes without signs to be observed. It is within. The Kingdom is constructed within us, not around us. If you can see it, it is not the Kingdom.

The focus of life and ministry, from the perspective of the One who is building the church, is the preparation, discipleship and release of the church into the dream He has dreamed for all her members. The flow of people through the process of discipleship, training and release should be a predictable as those who go through a university. They come to us to go. They come to us to be sent to the four corners of the world, either as preachers or politicians, teachers or technicians, prophets or physicians, entertainers or entrepreneurs, missionaries or military. Our 'church system' tunnel vision has kept the best God has given to us trapped in a weak and legalistic religion far from their Lord and the destiny He has for them. The world has suffered greatly, being robbed of those who could make the greatest impact. The Melchizedek of God is for the whole world, not the church. Jesus, Who the first priest after the order of Melchizedek, was sent to the world for its redemption, not to the church.

The Melchizedek of God is not the clergy as the church system currently defines it. It is not the five-fold ministry as most Pentecostals define it. It is not the generals or the nameless and the faceless that neo-charismatics embrace. The great Melchizedek of God are believers with names, faces, ministries callings and gifts that God recognizes and sets in the world for the purposes of His Kingdom. They are not placed in a church for the benefit of man. When God calls someone to the side of another to share vision and purpose, it is for the purpose of God in their spiritual kinship and mutual fellowship.

The church comes together to encourage, bless, pray, prepare and cover one another as they are led by the Holy Spirit. But they never gather to control them, condemn them or bleed them of their talents, their time or their tithe.

This church is free to be swept to who-knows-where by the power of the Holy Spirit. Their accountability is among them, not over them. Their power comes from within, not from another and their future is dependant on their obedience to the Lord, not to a man.

Where is the church that Jesus is building? Check out Psalm 84:1. "How lovely are Your dwelling places, O LORD of hosts!" Who do you think that the Prophet-King David saw when he wrote this most precious verse?

He saw you and I!!

Eph 4:14 As a result, we are no longer to be children, tossed here and there by waves and carried about by every wind of doctrine, by the trickery of men, by craftiness in deceitful scheming; Eph 4:15 but speaking the truth in love, we are to grow up in all aspects into Him who is the head, even Christ, Eph 4:16 from whom the whole body, being fitted and held together by what every joint supplies, according to the proper working of each individual part, causes the growth of the body for the building up of itself in love.

SEEING THE CHURCH THAT JESUS IS BUILDING

It is becoming more clear each day that there is something afoot in the Spirit realm. Every time God moves, there are radical changes. When there is not the response from the hearts of man, the move of God is short lived. He moves in hearts that are open and willing to agree with what He is doing.

That is why there are two kinds of revival. The first will bring people to repentance from sin and open their hearts to the purposes of God for their lives. But the second is completely different. The second form of revival turns the world upside down for the believer. It challenges believers to see things in ways they have never seen them before. The true sojourn of the believer through time is marked by when God visits us and causes us to change in remarkable ways. Our movement through time is energized by the willingness we have to say 'yes' to the things God is revealing to us by the Spirit.

For years, I have held my heart from new things as I heard over and over again, "There is nothing new under the sun." I was always afraid to say 'yes' to Him in fear that saying 'yes' would somehow confess that I thought there WERE new things. I was taught that only heretics saw new things. "Everything that needs to be revealed has been revealed in Jesus." This kind of instruction made me fearful to wonder if there was anything new.

Nonetheless, my heart yearned to explore the things unseen and to experience the Lord in realms that only angels have touched. Every time I read the Word, my heart leaped at the possibilities He seemed to hold open to those who follow Him and trust in Him. When I would pray, I would often have the sense that I was in direct conversation with Him as I heard, deep in my heart, words that seemed to be in direct response to the prayer I had just prayed. In short, everything in me screamed for a greater reality that was told was non-existent, hence, un-available.

Then I heard myself pray a prayer in utter frustration that set me free. "Lord, there may not be anything new under the sun, but there are many things that I do not know. There are many things that are new to me and I want to discover them." I defied the theology of the times. I stood against the traditions of the elders. I fought the fear that had ensnared me. It felt so good! I was finally praying my heart's passion. I was finally responding to the desire that burned in me day and night. With that new prayer came new hope. I now saw the hope that was trapped within. It was a motivating, exhilarating force that gave me confidence that I would most assuredly come into the dream God had for me. I had experienced revival within the privacy of my own heart! It was not a revival away from sin, it was a revival that gave me the courage and faith to go deeper in my experience with Him. This experience was about to change everything about me. After all, when we repent from sin, we see a change in our outward actions. When we experience revival of revelation, it also changes our actions. It changes the way we think, the way we pray, the way we look at our future, the way we look at God and most certainly the way we look at church.

For now, church is not somewhere I go, it is who I am. Now, I am not a layman who is needed only to attend, work and tithe to build the kingdom of man. I am a priest of the Presence, part of the Holy Nation of God, the great Melchizedek who ministers perpetually within the veil of the Most Holy Place. Now, I realize that what I think, what I hear, what I hope and dream really is important. It is important to God, to me and it is important to the entire Holy Nation of God in the earth. Among these people, there is no envy, no strife, no vying for position or power, no jealous ambition. I am directed by Him and according to the dream He has dreamed for me. No man can hasten it and no man can steal it from me. I am in His hands and I flow according to His timetable. Man's part has become moot. The more I am resisted, the more He works on my behalf to accomplish His will. There is no need for revenge, anger or trickery. I am resting in Him, who has my future secure in His master plan.

I think it is sometimes easier to repent from sin that it is to experience a revelation that revives and changes the way we see everything around us. When we see Him, we are compelled to change just as completely as we are compelled to change when we repent from sin.

Who will see the things He is revealing to the church? Who will be willing to allow Him to dismantle things built by the fleshy sweat of man so the holy thing built by God Himself can function in the earth as He intended?

Who will step aside and allow Him to build His own church the way He wants it to be built? Who will recognize the Melchizedek of God, the Royal Priesthood, the Holy Nation? Who will allow the Lord to do what He wants with His own, even when it means he will not be the center, the first, the most powerful? Who will release the folk around them to hear, see and experience the Lord in the same way they claim to see, hear and experience Him?

The cat is out of the bag.

He will build His own church. He will do it through us or He will do it in spite of us. But He will do it, of that we can be certain.

The Church Without The Spirit

Samuel Chadwick

The Church is the Body of Christ, and the Spirit is the Spirit of Christ. He fills the Body, directs its movements, controls its members, inspires its wisdom, supplies its strength. He guides into truth, sanctifies its agents, and empowers for witnessing. The Spirit has never abdicated His authority nor relegated His power.

Neither Pope nor Parliament, neither Conference nor Council is supreme in the Church of Christ. The Church that is man-managed instead of God-governed is doomed to failure. A ministry that is College-trained but not Spirit-filled works no miracles. The Church that multiplies committees and neglects prayer may be fussy, noisy, enterprising, but it labours in vain and spends its strength for naught.

It is possible to excel in mechanics and fail in dynamic. There is a superabundance of machinery; what is wanting is power. To run an organization needs no God. Man can supply the energy, enterprise, and enthusiasm for things human. The real work of a Church depends upon the power of the Spirit.

The Presence of the Spirit is vital and central to the work of the Church. Nothing else avails. Apart from Him, wisdom becomes folly, and strength weakness. The Church is called to be a “spiritual house” and a holy priesthood. Only spiritual people can be its “living stones,” and only the Spirit-filled its priests.

The Church always fails at the point of self-confidence. When the Church is run on the same lines as a circus, there may be crowds, but there is no Shekinah. That is why prayer is the test of faith and the secret of power. The Spirit of God travails in the prayer-life of the soul. Miracles are the direct work of His power, and without miracles the Church cannot live. The carnal can argue, but it is the Spirit of God that convicts. Education can civilize, but it is being born of the Spirit that saves.

The energy of the flesh can run bazaars, organize amusements, and raise millions; but it is the presence of the Holy Spirit that makes a Temple of the Living God. The root-trouble of the present distress is that the Church has more faith in the world and in the flesh than in the Holy Ghost, and things will get no better till we get back to His realized presence and power. The breath of the four winds would turn death into life and dry bones into mighty armies, but it only comes by PRAYER!

Truly Check Your Hearts Before Me

{Years ago I asked the Lord to show me my spirit before Him, He showed me a diamond with a few dark smudges. Through great fires that diamond is now bright and pure (and I pray it remains so, by His grace). Please sit before the Lord and ask Him to show you how your spirit appears before Him, that you may be refined into His image and be the bearer of the fruits of the Spirit}

The righteous, who have been proven in the fires of refining, will be lifted up from the miry clay pit, where they have been for a long season. Do not cry or mourn your losses for a greater work has been wrought in your spirit man than even you can perceive. You have been made vessels of honor, who will not turn to the right or the left, no matter what comes against you.

I need these fiery warriors to stand in the forefront of My army, to bring down strongholds, to bring true righteousness to My house. For in My house will no longer be allowed fornicators, adulterers, and deceitful ones: walking in mixture. Those who lord it over My sheep and those who feed false doctrines to My sheep.

All things are soon coming to fruition, the just will be separated from the unjust, light and dark will be clearly seen. Darkness and light will not be able to abide together any longer.

Seek My face and enquire of Me of what camp you are of, darkness or light, or in a mixture of light and darkness*. Do not be deceived any longer, I the Lord sit now as a Judge of My Church. You have either come through the fires as whole, vessels of honor, or you have left you first love for Me. You have grown closer to My image or you have left the narrow path.

Do not be deceived, I will not be mocked, check your hearts before Me and see whether you are wholly in the light. Perversity, pride, manipulation and lust in all its forms will no longer be allowed in My house.

The bell tolls for those who do not seek Me now with their whole heart. The bell tolls for those whose heart is not pure before Me. The clock is ticking, time is coming to an end, therefore, before I come as a thief in the night, TRULY CHECK YOUR HEARTS BEFORE ME.

Jer 6:26 O daughter of my people, gird thee with sackcloth, and wallow thyself in ashes: make thee mourning, as for an only son, most bitter lamentation: for the spoiler shall suddenly come upon us. 6:27 I have set thee for a tower and a fortress among my people, that thou mayest know and try their way. 6:28 They are all grievous revolters, walking with slanders: they are brass and iron; they are all corrupters. 6:29 The bellows are burned, the lead is consumed of the fire; the founder melteth in vain: for the wicked are not plucked away. 6:30 Reprobate silver shall men call them, because the LORD hath rejected them.

Jer 8:4 Moreover thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD; Shall they fall, and not arise? shall he turn away, and not return? 8:5 Why then is this people of Jerusalem slidden back by a perpetual backsliding? they hold fast deceit, they refuse to return. 8:6 I hearkened and heard, but they spake not aright: no man repented him of his wickedness, saying, What have I done? every one turned to his course, as the horse rusheth into the battle.

* WALKING IN MIXTURE: partly operating through the Holy Spirit and partly operating from your soulish realm or partly operating in the Holy Spirit with a mixture of counterfeit spirits i.e. the spirit of control and manipulation, Jezebel (who is the false holy spirit and is a counterfeit anointing) and/or the spirit of Leviathan, the spirit of pride that twists the Word of God and its meaning to suit ones own doctrine or to cut another. Does your ministry to others bring LIFE or condemnation, LIBERTY or religious control?

The Day Of Visitation
Sandy Warner

THE DAY OF VISITATION
When I AM about to visit a region I send forth My servants to prepare My coming. They prepare the spiritual climate by declaring My Word into the atmosphere and preparing hearts to receive. My servants are in essence saying, "Prepare for your day of visitation!" Their proclamations change the heavens above and releases things below. When I move upon a region, it is to visit them and to release upon them a great deliverance. Why am I telling you this? This is a warning, loved ones, - that your day of visitation is nigh at hand. Be ready!

Luke 10:1 AMP
Now after this the Lord chose and appointed seventy others and sent them out ahead of Him, two by two, into every town and place where He Himself was about to come (visit).

Matt 3:1-3 NLT
In those days John the Baptist began preaching in the Judean wilderness. His message was, "Turn from your sins and turn to God, because the Kingdom of Heaven is near." Isaiah had spoken of John when he said, "He is a voice shouting in the wilderness: 'Prepare a pathway for the Lord's coming! Make a straight road for him!' "

Don’t Doubt Your Metron
Sandy Warner

DON'T DOUBT YOUR METRON
The enemy has been pushing you lately with intimidation, because we are moving forward and taking ground. It is intimidation to make you question your metron, which is your sphere or measure of authority and influence in the spirit realm. Just remember that whatsoever is not of faith is sin. You get clobbered by backlash if you doubt, because you need to speak, then stand. So the question is not whether you are outside your metron, but whether you know if it IS your metron. Find My places of confirmation and establishing of favor and you shall know your metron.

2 Cor 10:15-18 AMP
We do not boast therefore, beyond our proper limit, over other men's labors, but we have the hope and confident expectation that as your faith continues to grow, our field among you may be greatly enlarged, still within the limits of our commission, So that [we may even] preach the Gospel in lands [lying] beyond you, without making a boast of work already done in another [man's] sphere of activity [before we came on the scene]. However, let him who boasts and glories boast and glory in the Lord. [Jer 9:24.] For [it is] not [the man] who praises and commends himself who is approved and accepted, but [it is the person] whom the Lord accredits and commends.

Friends Are Forever
Sandy Warner

Jul 31, 2005

FRIENDS ARE FOREVER
To know your story and walk with you
Is such a gift, such a blessing too.
How much you have overcome this day
To have walked your path in faithful ways.

I hear your heart as you have trusted God.
Such courage to walk in feet well shod.
I see you overcoming each day,
Distractions that cause your soul to sway.

I see you start your days with such tears,
Leaning on Him, putting away your fears.
Scattered, broken pieces of your past
You cling to Him for only what lasts.

He is your Source, He is your means,
To find your path, on Him you lean.
To pray with you and support your stand
Is an honor and a gift, never a demand.

You have given me more than you know.
Of courage and strength to face the foe.
Your life is a light to all that do see
His good purpose and power in thee.

I thank My God for You, His good gift.
In your own prayers, the angels are swift.
How blessed I am to have walked with you.
Into your future, His hope brand new.

Thank you for sharing your life with me.
That I might see the work of God in thee.
To see Him move and see Him walk
To hear His voice and hear Him talk.

You, my friend, are His precious treasure.
You are His gift, beyond great measure.
You see it not through your brokeness.
But you shine on earth as His dear touch.

I am glad there are no good-byes in heaven.
No sin, no evil, nothing is leavened.
Tears and sorrow are remembered never.
As we rejoice that friends are forever.

James 2:23-24 NKJV
And the Scripture was fulfilled which says, "Abraham believed God, and it was accounted to him for righteousness." And he was called the friend of God.

The Simple Fact
Sandy Warner

Jul 27, 2005
The Simple Fact
How often I see you wrestle and struggle over what you hear, - whether it is My voice or the enemy's voice! Dear ones, the more you are launched into the supernatural, the greater will be the issues of discernment. You want miraculous signs, but discernment only gets more complicated, not less. My people are growing up past the milk and into strong meat. Greater and greater portions will come your way and you will be exposed to many supernatural things in these last days. If possible, even the elect shall be deceived. Remember this, I gave you one pure role model: Jesus Christ, My Son. And I gave you 2 commandments: love Me and love others. So in the end, how will you know My voice from all others? The fact is you will not be able to separate yourself from My voice, because My voice is love. Discerning the enemy's voice is easy. Just ask yourself, "Does what I heard reflect love?" It is that simple.

Rom 8:37-39 AMP
Yet amid all these things we are more than conquerors and gain a surpassing victory through Him Who loved us. For I am persuaded beyond doubt (am sure) that neither death nor life, nor angels nor principalities, nor things impending and threatening nor things to come, nor powers, Nor height nor depth, nor anything else in all creation will be able to separate us from the love of God which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Theater Dream and Warning

Mike Tucker

10/2004 While sleeping I heard a knock at a door. I was dreaming. I walked to the door and opened it up, gleefully expecting my Lord Jesus to be there. He was there dressed in white and while walking into the room He said, "I have several things to show you" and He directed me to take a seat. When I turned around we were in a small theater and I took a seat at the front. A movie screen was at the front and images began to appear:

The first scene I saw was the Eiffel Tower being cut in half by an airplane.

The second scene displayed the words, '8,000,000 Deaths'. I wondered to myself what does this mean? Jesus answered to my inner pondering, 'Abu attack'. He then said my shofar was sounded weakly. I asked what did it sound like? Then I heard the sound of a muffled pathetic trumpet. The sound was closer to a bad kazoo than a mighty warning blast. The Lord then said the deaths would be on my head if I did not take this event higher.

I woke up and the scripture concerning the warning to a watchman immediately came to mind, Ezekiel 33:6, 'But if the watchman sees the sword coming and does not blow the trumpet, and the people are not warned, and a sword comes and takes a person from them, he is taken away in his iniquity; but his blood I will require from the watchman's hand.'. My heart was broken for having fumbled this warning. This was the first time the Lord had ever warned me in such a heavy manner that my carrying of His word had fallen terribly short. I began deeply praying over this warning and interceding before the Lord God. Where I had asked others to intercede, I had done little myself until this point. Over the course of the day it came into my spirit to take the Abu attack dream (see below) and send it to the Homeland Security office as a national security threat. After this the Lord spoke in my spirit, 'It is sufficient.' I believe this terrible event will be put back or at least the blow will be significantly softened.

Regarding the Eiffel Tower scene, on 12/13/03 I heard the words, 'The Eiffel Tower will fall' while I was asleep. The above scene is the second time this word has come. I believe there will be a literal fall of this Paris landmark (unlike symbolic falls I have seen of the Statue of Liberty representing the end of America's form of licentious freedom). Please note the Eiffel Tower fall and the Abu attack are two separate events.

Major U.S. Explosion (Abu attack reposted)

05/2004 I dreamed the following:

I saw a woman talking on a phone. She was wearing pearls around her neck and a Southern style sun-dress. While she was looking out the window, an explosion went off in the distance. Her eyes were filled with terror at what she saw then her skin quickly melted and peeled away from her face (I could not bear to see more of this dream scene, somehow I was able to close my eyes).

Then I was taken to where the bomb went off. I stood next to the actual bomb and saw it sputter once (as if it might not go off) but then it fully exploded and formed a thin but high mushroom cloud. All around it, oil refineries and huge storage tanks went up in the explosion and added to the explosion.

Then I was taken to a warehouse at a port loading dock. I saw several cargo boxes being loaded at different times. In them, I was made to know that the parts of the above bomb were contained and concealed. And this is how it entered into our land.

Then the visual part of the dream ended, but this name was spoken three times with increasing volume and intensity, "Abu Muwahbe... ABU Mu-wah- be... ABU MU-WAH-BE", and the last name was clearly pronounced syllable upon syllable. Then I woke up.

Meaning: I believe the bomb was in fact a nuclear device placed near a major oil installation. The mushroom cloud and great care taken to smuggle the bomb in suggests it was not conventional. The woman was clearly in Southern attire and suggests that a Southern port city with oil refineries is the intended target.

The Day Draws Close
Dave Wikle

Sep 17, 2005

The day draws close, are you prepared? Have you done what you should have done? Or are you waiting for another sign or prophecy?

Time will soon be no more, for the select few; who chose the Lord over all things here below. Many think they are prepared and ready to leave; only they are greatly deceived and will stay a while longer.

The time is past for many already, their fate is sealed. For others, their time to choose draws to an end. Play time is over and reality will scare many to death. The living will wish they were dead.

It is all coming to pass soon, no time to make plans. Each person will soon meet God in ways they never thought were real or could be real; but it is so. The dead in Christ are thankful to have crossed over before.

What is real? What is a lie? Is this from God or Satan? Many will not be able to discern since living so close to the world. Yes the day will dawn, that very day that the watchers have sought to see. How fast is the blink of an eye? Before a second passes, you will be there.

My Spirit Roars
Dave Wikle

Sep 18, 2005
My Spirit roars within, something is up for sure. Can others feel this or am I alone sensing this? Not a fearful thing but something really big. Earth shattering for sure!

Many will miss the greatest thing this Earth ever experienced. Messiah came the first time and the elect and wise missed it. They were against Him and put up the $$$$$$ to kill Him. The fullness of redemption draws near and most are busy.

Busy with the affairs down here below, too busy to care. Not looking or watching for the greatest event there ever was. Caring about work, play, bills, and how the grass looks. I better water it or feed it, does it need mowed again?

The days of our lives move swiftly and much is left undone. The Lord speaks, but we are too busy and He will understand. Lost are the precious items He would have us to do. The widow down the street needs food, her food stamps will do.

Many are the things that could have been done, if only I had more time. Yes, time is the problem; the days are not long enough. He will understand He is a good God with a lot of mercy. Not today Lord, the shopping must be done and there is a sale.

The day comes quickly and is almost here, my spirit roars. To stand before the Lord and give an account I shall surely do. May I not fail Him in these last days to do all He asks me to do. Repenting for past failures and missed opportunities to work for Him.

The Decision Has Been Made

ISA 26:9 My soul yearns for you in the night; in the morning my spirit longs for you. When your judgments come upon the earth, the people of the world learn righteousness.

JER 1:16 I will pronounce my judgments on my people because of their wickedness in forsaking me, in burning incense to other gods and in worshiping what their hands have made.

“The countdown is beginning…The countdown is beginning in heaven for my judgments upon the earth. They are beginning to be spoken in heaven. It is very much like the countdown is said before a rocket takes off. After the rocket hits its destination then you will know what took place. Some think that these judgments can be stopped. I tell you that they have been decreed. Many have prayed that these things would not come. I have heard the cases that have been presented to Me, but the decision will be carried out. “

(I saw what appeared to be a courtroom in heaven. God the Father was seated behind a great desk and some had come forward to present their cases to Him. However, I saw a gavel that a judge would use, and I watched as it came down upon the desk several times pronouncing the decision that He had made.)

Many Have Fallen Into Slumber

Stephen Hanson

Feb. 12, 2005

> RO 13:11 And do this, understanding the present time. The hour has come for you to wake up from your slumber, because our salvation is nearer now than when we first believed. [12]

> The night is nearly over; the day is almost here. So let us put aside the deeds of darkness and put on the armor of light. [13] Let us behave decently, as in the daytime, not in orgies and drunkenness, not in sexual immorality and debauchery, not in dissension and jealousy. [14] Rather, clothe yourselves with the Lord Jesus Christ, and do not think about how to gratify the desires of the sinful nature.

"The time is coming for most of this earth to go through judgment. For my judgment is about to fall upon this earth. For my plans will be carried out. I tell you that much of this earth has fallen into sin. My angels are set at various places around the world. They are there to carry out my plans for that given area. Now, the time is rapidly approaching for these things to be carried out. I tell you that many will be lost during the coming years. Many will fall into various forms of sin. Many will fall prey to evil spirits. "

"Behold, it is not as it seems. "

(The Lord showed me a vision of a velvet curtain. The curtain was being pulled back and there was a stage behind it. Here on the stage were several beds with people sleeping on them. I noticed each person as they lay comfortably in their beds. Some would turn their heads and were then lulled to sleep. Nothing would seem to awaken them from their slumber. A dense cloud came and it encircled around the people who were sleeping. It was so thick that nothing else could be seen because of it. It was as if the cloud was their world.)

"This cloud represents how much of the world has been lulled to sleep. They don’t recognize the signs of the world around them. They are oblivious to the events of the world that are taking place around them. These things that will come will take many by surprise. Will you be ready?"

The Dispute
Bill Somers

> John 16:
> 16 A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me, because I go to the Father.
> 17 Then said some of his disciples among themselves, What is this that he saith unto us, A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me: and, Because I go to the Father?
> 18 They said therefore, What is this that he saith, A little while? we cannot tell what he saith.
> 19 Now Jesus knew that they were desirous to ask him, and said unto them, Do ye enquire among yourselves of that I said, A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me?
> 20 Verily, verily, I say unto you, That ye shall weep and lament, but the world shall rejoice: and ye shall be sorrowful, but your sorrow shall be turned into joy.
> 21 A woman when she is in travail hath sorrow, because her hour is come: but as soon as she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for joy that a man is born into the world.
> 22 And ye now therefore have sorrow: but I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no man taketh from you.

This short section of John 16 mentions how the disciples disputed over the Lords words. And How the Lord came to settle the dispute, giving them an answer that seems to completely change the subject.

We are going to look at this passage in depth and find several lessons here that can enhance our end time prophetic vision.

Double Fulfillment

What he told them in verse 16 is a case of double fulfillment of prophecy.

The first time it is fulfilled is by his death and resurrection. At his death and burial, they no longer see him, and mourn greatly. He returns from ascending to his father and appears to them again. Then they forget their sadness, rejoicing to see him again.

The second fulfillment begins when he ascends to the father again after 40 days. It concludes with his return in these end times.

The dispute is a picture of what happens in his absence.

Look carefully at what Jesus says in verse 16. It can be broken down into three phrases:

> A little while, and ye shall not see me > and again, a little while, and ye shall see me > because I go to the Father.

Now look carefully at verse 17. Notice that his disciples quote these three phrases exactly, word for word. Yet in verse 18 they say "we cannot tell what he saith."

The dispute is an illustration of the history of the Church

We have had the Word of God available to us in many translations. We have concordances, word studies, lexical aids, volumes of commentaries and historical data to help us. Yet we are unable to agree on what it says and on what it means.

The written word is contrasted with the spoken word. They knew what he said [past tense] but could not agree on what he says [saith, present tense].

So it is with us. We know what the Bible says, but continually argue about what it means. You may at times hear someone begin his remarks with something like "The Bible clearly teaches ….' Prepare yourself to take it with a grain of salt. In spite of all the great things about the bible, clarity is not one of them. I've never heard anyone admit this, especially to a non believer. But lets face it. The bible is unclear on many things. In fact, the bible is deliberately written to be vague, confusing, and open to multiple interpretations. It is full of parables, contradictions, inscrutable proverbs, riddles, dark sayings, and complex structures. It is chock full of symbolism, numeric clues, types, shadows, allegories and mind boggling passages that constantly change subject and point of view. It has numerous mysterious passing references; it's constantly quoting other parts of itself producing volumes of cross references; many actions and events make no sense and it has a great amount of stuff that seems totally useless. It often raises more questions than it answers Yet it tells us that all scripture is given by inspiration of the Holy Spirit, and is profitable to us. So all of it has meaning and purpose, but unless the Spirit gives you some light on a passage of scripture, it's just the dead letter of the law. The letter kills but the Spirit brings life. This is because the Word is spirit and must be understood by the help of the Spirit.

God wrote out his word is such a way that to understand it we constantly have to go to Him to seek explanation. We are continually faced with the choice between the tree of knowledge and the tree of life. The written word is the tree of knowledge, the spoken [by the Spirit] word is the tree of life. Choose life.

I once heard a minister say he didn't need faith any more because he knew what the word said. All he had to do was go by what it said in the bible. That sounds great but we seldom agree on what it says in the bible! Perhaps he forgot that it says without faith, it's impossible to please God! Faith comes by hearing, hearing by the word of God. That is spiritual hearing. Let he that has ears to hear, hear what the Spirit is saying!

The action of the scene is an illustration of the point made.

Now the dispute is specifically about the return of the lord, which is the greatest dispute in the church.

The action of the scene shows the return of the lord, when He said to them, why do you dispute among yourselves. This indicates that for a short interval he was not among them, and then rejoined them to find them in the dispute. And it is a dispute that only He can settle. As a picture of the Church today, it shows a very interesting point. If we are disputing among ourselves, it means Jesus is not with us! Because only He can settle the dispute. And He will settle it when he comes for he says he will put all things in order when he comes.

This is not to contradict His word that says I will never leave you or forsake you.

> … and, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world. Amen. Matthew 28:20

> … for he hath said, I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee. Hebrews 13:5

It only means that He is not with us in full measure.

Consider how he was with Joshua as Captain of the Host.

> And it came to pass, when Joshua was by Jericho, that he lifted up his eyes and looked, and, behold, there stood a man over against him with his sword drawn in his hand: and Joshua went unto him, and said unto him, Art thou for us, or for our adversaries?
> And he said, Nay; but as captain of the host of the LORD am I now come. And Joshua fell on his face to the earth, and did worship, and said unto him, What saith my lord unto his servant?
> And the captain of the LORD'S host said unto Joshua, Loose thy shoe from off thy foot; for the place whereon thou standest is holy. And Joshua did so. Josh 5:13-15

We can apply this to today's church. Note that Joshua asks: Art thou for us, or for our adversaries? The answer he gets is not what he expected. The question is a either/or type question. The answer is NO!

Does it make any sense for Joshua to ask a soldier in his own army 'whose side are you on?' Does it make any sense for this soldier to be hanging around the camp with his sword drawn? But as we discover, the man is the Angel of the Lord; the man is the Lord! When Joshua heard his voice he knows who it is, and worships.

" …as captain of the host of the LORD am I now come." This is saying the Lord has come to his people to take charge of the battle. It points to the second coming of Jesus, the spiritual coming, not the physical. It's saying when the Lord comes to us, as the latter rain for example, it's not to take one side or the other in our petty doctrinal disputes. When He comes to us, He is coming to Take Charge. He's coming to Take Over!

What is the point of the drawn sword? The sword speaks of the word, in this case the word of judgment. We see the angel of the Lord with sword drawn in his hand in the story of Balaam. Once Balaam realizes who it is, he worship as Joshua does. We also see it when David sees the angel at the threshing floor of Ornan. Here the context makes it clear that the drawn sword speaks of the Lord's judgments being carried out.

This tells us that He will come to us in a time when we can see His Judgments being carried out. For we know that Judgment must begin at the House of God.

Now lets look at the second fulfillment of verse 16 above. Jesus' answer to the disciples request for clarification seemingly doesn't clarify anything.

> 20 Verily, verily, I say unto you, That ye shall weep and lament, but the world shall rejoice: and ye shall be sorrowful, but your sorrow shall be turned into joy.
> 21 A woman when she is in travail hath sorrow, because her hour is come: but as soon as she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for joy that a man is born into the world.
> 22 And ye now therefore have sorrow: but I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no man taketh from you.

Just as Joshua didn't get an expected answer to his 'either/or' question, neither did they.

But what he is saying here is telling us what will accompany his return. Weeping, lamentation, sorrow and travail will be our part. This will be from the Judgments Of God being carried out. And the Judgments come first to the house of God.

But then comes the comparison to a woman in childbirth. This speaks of the woman in Revelation 12 giving birth to a manchild.

Once the judgments are over, a new kingdom will be birthed into the earth.

> Rev 12:10 And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: ….

He will reveal Himself to us and we will know him, worship him and rejoice as we're clothed in His righteousness. This is the Sabbath of Rest, and the peace that passes understanding. This Is The Day The Lord Has Made.

Tear Drops Mercy Drops
Marie-France McDowell Smith

I, the Lord, TODAY give you strength and courage.
I cover you with My Wings, see Me High and Lifted Up, See Me, my train filling the temple of your heart.
See how I care for you, as no other.

See how I guard your every step, every word and every thought that is fully and completely surrendered to Me and Me alone. Come, beloved, See Me. As you See your Lord, let your heart record, remember and restore completely, allow Me to leave my fragrance in your life, and Be lifted to another level of intimacy with Me, like never before....

I will hold you, hold you, hold you...as you, My Chosen Ones, My Loved Ones, weep before Me, let the tears flow, let them flow, I am your Lord, I AM your God, I AM your Abba, ...cleansing tears of forgiveness, healing tears of restoration, powerful tears of Joy, tears that I find so precious that I store in a bottle, your every tear drop... your every sorrow drop, your every injury drop, your every sacrifice drop, as the drops of My blood fell to the ground as I chose to obey the Father's will.

Come, let us take time together, return to me, repent, release and rest in Our Secret Place in My Heart, lean upon my chest, I will stoke you hair and comfort you My Precious Sons and Daughters, Come, Come To Me, to another plateau, another level of My Love....I wish to open your heart, open your very soul, and for My Glory open your vocal chords that My Son and Daughters may declare and sing forevermore a NEW SONG, My song of Joy, My Song of Victory, know that My mercies endure forever.

Your Abba

The Dissolution of American Independence
LaTonya Nicole Malinconico

October 12, 2005

The morning of October 12, 2005, I was lying in bed around 11am and my husband was working on some music on his equipment. I was half sleep and half awake, deciding if I should go back to sleep when I turned over to my other side and just decided to lay there a little bit longer. I heard my husband go into the bathroom and while he was in there I suddenly could not move my eyes. I was awake but was in an open vision. In the vision I saw the American Declaration of Independence. I saw the words on the scroll like document and the original signatures. My eyes saw word from word as it scrolled down the entire document until the last signature. Then the words, written in black ink suddenly started to turn red like blood. Each letter, one by one until all of the words were in red and then a hole began to appear towards the bottom of the document with an outer ring around it like burned paper, then the fiery hole began to grow and evaporated the paper and continued to grow outwards towards the rest of the document. Then the vision went away and I was able to move.

I told my husband what at happened and we discussed the meaning of the vision as this: that God's judgments on America will begin small compared to those that are coming and will continue to grow bigger until America is destroyed. The small judgments, disasters, terrorist attacks, that we have been getting are big in our eyes because they have never happened on our soil, there are big to us, at least on the scale that they are occurring now. However, these big events are nothing compared to those that will shake our foundations until no justice, no peace, no law or independence is left in America. The vision represented the dissolution of American independence and the destruction of America. We know that this is accurate according to biblical prophecy because America is symbolized both in the physical and the bible as the nation with the eagle. We see that the lion as a country is England and that the lion with the eagle's wings are the kingdoms of the west and Europe. However, those eagle's wings are plucked off and no longer discussed in biblical prophecy after that. Something must take place in which the eagle's wings are plucked off and destroyed. And this was what my vision represented, it was the same as Daniel foresaw which is starting to come to pass today.

(Daniel 7:1-18) In the first year of Belshazzar king of Babylon Daniel had a dream and visions of his head upon his bed: then he wrote the dream, and told the sum of the matters. (2) Daniel spake and said, I saw in my vision by night, and, behold, the four winds of the heaven strove upon the great sea. (3) And four great beasts came up from the sea, diverse one from another. (4) The first was like a lion, and had eagle's wings: I beheld till the wings thereof were plucked, and it was lifted up from the earth, and made stand upon the feet as a man, and a man's heart was given to it. (5) And behold another beast, a second, like to a bear, and it raised up itself on one side, and it had three ribs in the mouth of it between the teeth of it: and they said thus unto it, Arise, devour much flesh. (6) After this I beheld, and lo another, like a leopard, which had upon the back of it four wings of a fowl; the beast had also four heads; and dominion was given to it. (7) After this I saw in the night visions, and behold a fourth beast, dreadful and terrible, and strong exceedingly; and it had great iron teeth: it devoured and brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with the feet of it: and it was diverse from all the beasts that were before it; and it had ten horns… (12) As concerning the rest of the beasts, they had their dominion taken away: yet their lives were prolonged for a season and time… (16) I came near unto one of them that stood by, and asked him the truth of all this. So he told me, and made me know the interpretation of the things. (17) These great beasts, which are four, are four kings, which shall arise out of the earth. (18) But the saints of the most High shall take the kingdom, and possess the kingdom for ever, even for ever and ever.

Other prophets have seen America shaken as well. You can read their testimonies and words everywhere on the internet, books, even websites that I am post on. In addition to seeing America shaken, the good thing is that they have also seen the great revealing of God's remnant, which will leave the love of the world and the traditions of the church, denominations and doctrines of men, in order to serve God 100%.

We are in the last days and if Christ is coming back soon, we as his people need to be ready. Notice I did not saw church but God's people. God has also shown many prophets and preachers that half of those who call themselves church and go to church and preach God's word are not saved and do not belong to him. Many so called professed Christians say this teaching is not scriptural, but this is exactly why the scriptures say:

(Matthew 7:18-23) A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit. (19) Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire. (20) Therefore by their fruits ye shall know them. (21) Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father who is in heaven. (22) Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy by thy name, and by thy name cast out demons, and by thy name do many mighty works? (23) And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity.

Many modern day preachers who have been preaching prosperity and other things have heard from God to change what they are preaching to repentance because this was shown to them. They have testified that God revealed to them that He will no longer give out great portions of witnessing power and that He will refrain the Holy Spirit little by little because the church has not been taking God seriously and have let corrupt things, fleshly and worldly guidelines enter the church. God has said that there will be so great a want for Him because people will began to search out God that those are the ones who will receive His power, only those who want it.

Therefore, not only are we to be ready and watchful for Christ, all of those who do His will, hear His voice and want His power, but when God gives us these dreams, visions and messages, we are to warn the people, both sinners to come to repentance and the body of God so that we whom shine the light of Christ can be the light in a world of darkness when these things come to pass. If the Church, its members do not hear the words of the prophets, they are left blind and will lead the blind off the cliff. This is happening now. But those who hear the Shepard's voice are His sleep because they believe and listen to His voice and are prepared. Please be prepared and pray to God in this matter for more grace and mercy for our land.

(2 Chronicles 7:14) If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land.

We know that it is only a matter of time before these things occur as they are happening now, but pray that the true church, those remnant from the world will raise up soon to lead the church in the most glorious era that has ever been on earth. For the scriptures say:

(Romans 8:18-19, 22-23) For I consider that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us. 19 For the earnest expectation of the creation eagerly waits for the revealing of the sons of God... 22 For we know that the whole creation groans and labors with birth pangs together until now. 23 And not only they, but we also who have the first fruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, eagerly waiting for the adoption, the redemption of our body.

In Christ,

The Drought Of False Idols

Revelation 16:12

Inherent within the condition
Of your thoughts regarding love
Was the desire to control
That which you set your heart upon.
You staked out claims
Which established boundaries
Impossible for others to cross.
They were your cherished lines in the sand
In order to keep at hand
The subjects of your affection
As you gave no thought to the will of a holy God.

When focus is established
Outside the desires of the living God
Then the adverse winds of affliction
Are sure to breathe upon
All that you hold onto
As evidence of submitted love.
And if the winds should ever quiet
Then your heart may have time to resolve
The reality that you have been wandering
In a wasteland completely unmarked
Causing your journey’s quest to come to an end
Just as the rider when forced to disembark.

If you find strength to remain standing
Turn and pursue heaven’s inheritance of eternal worth
For God who looks down from heaven
Is a sure help to those who walk upon the earth
He will send healing that will move like a river
Upon the bonds that have marked your life
Bringing deliverance from captivity
Giving sight where once you were blind
To the purpose of His mercy
With hope to live each day inspired by faith
In confidence that God is ever present
To reveal truth to still the fear brought about by the night.

> “And the sixth angel poured out his vial upon the great river Euphrates; and the water thereof was dried up, that the way of the kings of the east might be prepared.” Revelation 16:12
> “And out of the ground made the Lord God to grow every tree that is pleasant to the sight, and good for food; the tree of life also in the midst of the garden, and the tree of knowledge of good and evil. And a river went out of Eden to water the garden; and from thence it was parted, and became into four heads.” Genesis 2:9-10
> “And the name of the third river is Hiddekel: that is it which goeth toward the east of Assyria.

> And the fourth river is Euphrates." Genesis 2:14
> "In the same day the Lord made a covenant with Abram, saying, Unto thy seed have I given this land, from the river of Egypt unto the great river, the river Euphrates." Genesis 15:17-18

"And the Redeemer shall come to Zion, and unto them that turn from transgression in Jacob, saith the Lord." (Isaiah 59:20) When the wise men from the east came to Jerusalem to stand before Herod the king, they asked him if he knew "where is he that is born King of the Jews." A star had appeared in the sky, which God used as a sign to lead the wise men, unto Jerusalem to worship the "King of the Jews." According to the wise men's understanding of the habitat of a king, they thought it appropriate to seek help from the king who held reign over the people within the region of Zion in trying to locate the Christ.

It was a "King" the wise men were looking for, so in seeking His location, they sought out a man who walked with kings. Yet, Jesus Christ, God's beloved Son, would not begin His ascent into Zion living in the luxury of kings who ruled in that day; nor would He grow up to be a powerful ruler who stood within the city, where the great river Euphrates ran as a boundary that marked the land promised to the tribes of Israel; nor would He lead as a warrior full of years, strengthened by age, ready to wield a sword in battle against those who refused to listen and obey the Lord of all creation. Instead, Jesus Christ would make His first appearance within the gates of Zion as a babe, born in a manger, wrapped in swaddling clothes, the child of a man and woman of humble and excellent moral stature. And Jesus Christ would end His days within the boundaries of Zion with being crucified upon a cross, after being bruised and beaten, mocked and cursed.

Jesus Christ would be born in the "City of David, which is Zion," in the region from which God had promised the tribes of Israel would come forth the "Deliverer" who would take away the sins of the people. And while He lived out His life amongst those who looked for salvation to come out of Zion, to set the captives free from their bondage, Jesus Christ would be known as a man who did not wield a sword made of iron against another. Even during the days when He was cursed and accused by others who sought to end His life, Jesus Christ did not retreat to the sword as a way of deliverance from out of suffering, nor did He turn to others and demand that they take up the sword in His defense.

When the day arrived that Jesus Christ was to take His last breath, many men's thoughts remained focused upon the great River Euphrates as a secure boundary that marked out the perimeter of Zion, as the land promised to the heirs of God, in which God would show forth His mercy and His glory. As men stood before Jesus mocking and cursing the "King of the Jews," as His life came to a cruel end to satisfy their demands, many within Jerusalem continued to look forward to the promised day, when God would establish His kingdom within the boundaries of Zion, so that God's heirs, the tribes of Israel, would be delivered from all their sorrows. And as Jesus Christ spoke the words: "Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do", many men's hearts continued to hope that soon God would send the Messiah who, in His mercy, would establish Zion with righteousness, so that His deliverance, would become an everlasting sign to the nations which would then declare the majesty of the Lord.

> "Ye also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, a holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ. Wherefore also it is contained in the Scripture, Behold, I lay in Zion a chief corner stone, elect, precious: and he that believeth on him shall not be confounded." 1 Peter 2:6

The Israelites, who had looked to the river Euphrates as a boundary to mark out the land of Zion, did not perceive that the One they had crucified on the cross, could be the corner stone upon which God's eternal kingdom of righteousness would be built. They could not understand that God would build up a holy habitation, which was made up of people redeemed from the curse that sin had brought about, which is death, would be created through the precious blood of Christ. They could not perceive that, through Jesus Christ, God would extend the boundaries of Zion to include all those whose faith was placed in Jesus Christ. They could not conceive of God creating a kingdom without end, whose boundaries had been extended beyond the physical realm of the land of Zion, and which would welcome both Jews and Gentiles to come before God in praise and thanksgiving.

> “Giving thanks unto the Father, which hath made us meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in light: who hath delivered us from the power of darkness, and hath translated us into the kingdom of his dear Son: in whom we have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins.” Colossians 1:12-14

Those who considered Jesus Christ a blasphemer did not understand what God had purposed through His beloved Son. They could not understand that, through Jesus Christ, a new covenant would be established that would cause the old covenant to be rolled up as a scroll in hand of God. The old covenant, which was ready to “vanish away”, was to be replaced by the new covenant that declared people were heirs of eternal salvation through faith in Jesus Christ. Those who demanded Jesus to be crucified, did not understand that through the new covenant, God would extend the boundaries of Zion, so that both Jews and Gentiles would be welcomed to enter through the gates of the New Jerusalem.

But a day would soon arrive when mankind would understand the inheritance that was theirs according to the purposes of the new covenant. They would understand through the new covenant, that both Jews and Gentiles were welcomed to enter through the gates of the “city of the living God,” which is built upon the foundational stone, who is Jesus Christ.

The heavenly Jerusalem, which “is the mother of us all,” (Galatians 4:26), would be the domain of those born again of the Spirit. The heavenly Jerusalem, which welcomed both Jews and Gentiles to enter her gates with rejoicing, would be appreciated by those who had received God’s kingdom authority upon their hearts and minds, through receiving the infilling of the Holy Spirit. Those of the Spirit, who have had God’s kingdom rule and authority established upon their hearts, will understand that God’s mercy and grace, love and peace are found within the boundaries of the realm and region of the heavenly Jerusalem.

God had appointed a day when Christ would enter into heaven, to appear in the presence of God for mankind. And it would be the precious blood of Christ (the spotless Lamb) that was sprinkled upon the heavenly altar. It would be only His precious blood that God considered worthy of making atonement for the sins of mankind. It was the blood of Christ that established the new covenant between God and mankind. And it was the new covenant established upon the perfect obedience of Jesus Christ that caused God to open wide the temple doors in heaven, and to pour out His Spirit upon all that stands within the four corners of creation. Now if anyone should turn toward Jesus Christ in sincere faith, they are invited to drink deeply from the river of life that flows from God’s heavenly temple and partake of eternal life.

> “Now therefore ye are no more strangers and foreigners, but fellow citizens with the saints, and of the household of God; and are built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner stone; in whom all the building fitly framed together groweth unto a holy temple in the Lord: in whom ye also are builded together for a habitation of God through the Spirit.” Ephesians 2:19-22

Though in times past Gentiles were aliens from the “commonwealth of Israel”, now through the atoning blood of Christ, which was shed and sprinkled upon the heavenly altar, a new way has been prepared for both Jews and Gentiles to “come unto mount Zion, and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem.” Those who have had God’s kingdom of righteousness established upon their hearts, will appreciate that Jesus is the mediator of the new covenant, which speaks of “better things than that of Abel.” Now, both Jews and Gentiles, who have drunk deeply from the river of life, are built up together as a holy habitation of God, to show forth the goodness and mercy of God.

At one time in a person’s life they may have been in submission to “Jerusalem which now is, and is in bondage with her children”, so that they looked to the law and its ordinances in hope of being in right standing with God. But when made alive unto God through faith in Jesus Christ, they will come to understand that the blood of Christ, which was shed upon the heavenly altar, made a way for them to receive the inheritance that is theirs. They will come to appreciate that through the terms and conditions of the new covenant the inheritance is theirs to receive through faith in Jesus Christ.

Those who have partaken of God's Spirit, so that they have become "lively stones" within the city of the New Jerusalem, have partaken of the river of life that flows in abundance from God's throne room in heaven. They have drunk deeply of the river of life, so that they are built up as a holy habitation of God upon the earth, so that God's kingdom rule and authority established within their lives, influences the way they interact with others. When someone drinks deeply of the Spirit, God will help them grow up into maturity. They will gain understanding of the mind of Christ, so that they know the destructiveness of harboring resentment, anger and jealousy towards others. For those who drink deeply of the river of life, they will grow up into the knowledge of God's mercy and grace, love and forgiveness, so that they exhibit the goodness of God; and God will use them to help others know of His abundant love. God's kingdom of righteousness continues to advance upon the earth as His Word is heard and received.

Those who drink deeply of the river of life, so that God's kingdom rule and authority is firmly established upon their hearts, may describe their first experiences of being led of the Spirit as taking a step into a river that moves as a cool, refreshing stream up to their ankles. In this experience, they may find that seeking God through prayer, and His Word, will cause the shackles of unbelief, which held them in bondage to sin, death and self, are loosed, so they are encouraged to receive all that God has purposed for them. Others may compare their experience, of living according to the leading of the Spirit, to stepping into a river that has risen up to their knees so that they are encouraged to kneel down and drink deeply of that which God has provided for them. From this position, humility may overtake them, so that the longsuffering love that Christ has toward them will influence them to put aside any idols that have led them away from the beauty of God's holiness.

Others may come to a point in their relationship with God, where they compare being led of the Spirit to encountering a river that is so deep that it is impossible to cross over to the other side without the water rising above their heads. They may understand from this experience that they are being awakened to understand, in a greater measure, God's love toward them, which God uses to wash away the impediments of sin, fear and doubt that weighed heavy upon their hearts. And from this experience they may find that God has been establishing upon their minds the knowledge that He is ever present with them, to lead them day by day, so that they cease from leaning upon their own understanding, which discounted the power of God.

> "Be ye therefore followers of God as dear children: and walk in love, as Christ also hath loved us, and hath given himself for us an offering and a sacrifice to God for a sweet smelling savor. But fornication, and all uncleanness, or covetousness, let it not be once named among you, as becometh saints; neither filthiness, nor foolish talking, nor jesting, which are not convenient: but rather giving of thanks. For this ye know, that no whoremonger, nor unclean person, nor covetous man, who is an idolater, hath any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and of God. Let no man deceive you with vain words: for because of these things cometh the wrath of God upon the children of disobedience." Ephesians 5:1-6

It is written within the Word, that those who love the Lord are not to sin. Yet the Word also proclaims that if they should sin, then they can have confidence before God, knowing that Jesus Christ stands as a faithful advocate on their behalf. Jesus Christ, who became a propitiation for their sins, does not condone sin; but they can trust that He is their ever faithful help in times when sin gains a foothold within their lives. Jesus Christ stands ready to help overcome the destructive behavior that sin brings about in His people's lives, as they look to Him, and call upon His holy name. Remembering the suffering that sin has brought into their lives, and experiencing the peace of being released from the destructive nature of sin, will give people confidence to quickly turn to God in times of need. Through experiencing God's work upon their lives, people will gain greater confidence that He who came to set the captives free from sin, death and self, will be faithful to help them overcome all areas that bring suffering into their lives, as they call upon His holy name.

It is through seeking God’s Word, and calling out to Jesus Christ in sincere faith, that a person is filled with the Holy Spirit. Then God’s kingdom authority and righteousness is established upon their hearts, to help them overcome the destructive nature of sin. It is through being filled with the Holy Spirit, that a person becomes a habitation of God’s righteousness, so that they no longer desire to go outside the boundaries of God’s holiness and partake of the goods, which are ideas and beliefs, offered by others who deny and discount the goodness of God. It is through creating a living stone in the kingdom of God, that God builds up unto Himself a generation of people who show forth His goodness and mercy to those who stand outside the city gates of His heavenly kingdom rule and reign.

Here are two examples of misunderstanding God’s goodness. If someone outright denies that Jesus is the Christ, who died and rose again, whose blood purged the heavens establishing a new covenant between God and man, causing God’s Spirit of holiness to be released from His temple on high, so that those who call on the name of Christ in sincerity, are born again of the Spirit, then they will have no understanding of the importance of living holy unto God. They will have no understanding of the consequences of sin; or perhaps they will even discount that what God calls sin, is in truth actions and activities that are harmful and destructive to their lives. Another person may believe that they can engage in sin, justify these activities, and even inwardly discount or ridicule the seriousness of what God calls sin; yet with this same mindset, such person may believe that God will grant them entrance into His kingdom of righteousness, which is realized through receiving the Holy Spirit. Yet, God speaks, to the one who continues onward with this mindset, the words; “I never knew you.” A person with this mindset will not receive God’s eternal blessings from heaven.

In both of these examples the people are walking in a spiritual wasteland, unable to read the markers that God places on His highway of holiness. They are unable to comprehend that the mighty river flows from God’s throne room in heaven and releases blessings into the lives of those who call out to Christ, with a sincere heart. They do not have eyes to see that many are enjoying the blessings of partaking of the river of life. To them, from their barren spiritual perspective, the river has dried up. They will not see nor partake of the riches found in Christ. There will be no immersion into the waters released from heaven, no walking within the boundaries established according to the New Jerusalem, which is the mother of all those born again of the Spirit, and no kingdom authority upon their hearts to cast off doubt, discouragement, hatred, revenge, jealousy, and beliefs that cause them to believe that their lives are of no value.

Those who walk within a spiritual wasteland will naturally look to men, who deny the authority of Christ, for insight regarding their lives. They will herald these men as kings, exalting them as the harbingers of truth, believing they bear messages that will bring purpose and worth into their lives. Yet, these men are false prophets if they deny in their hearts that Jesus is the Christ. If they speak words that proclaim there is any other way to find connectedness with the world around them, outside of Christ, then they bring a message of death to those who listen.

When a person’s heart is void of the knowledge of God’s love, and they look out upon the world barren of the purposes of God, then will their souls be prepared to receive the message spoken by false messengers who deny that Jesus is the Christ. Then will their hearts be vulnerable to receive the words spoken by those who proclaim to have truth that brings light and revelation to their darkened lives. These false messengers proclaim to have truth that is as enlightening as the sun that rises from the east, which will bring purpose into the lives of others. They proclaim to bear tidings of good news, all the while denying what Christ has accomplished for mankind.

Men who exalt their ideas as revelation, yet deny that Jesus is the Christ, gladly accept others living in submission to their authority. In fact, they may find great satisfaction in lording their authority over others. They may even justify using other people for their own personal gain, all the while having no concern for the mental well being of those who sit under their authority. And for those who walk in a spiritual wasteland, they may believe that this is the way that mankind was meant to live, and has always lived. However, there may come a day when they grow tired of being in bondage to the influences and ideas of another, who has no concern for their well being. Nevertheless, since so many others seem to be going in the same direction, they may think it is pointless to go against the flow. They may actually continue to hold out hope that, in the spiritual wasteland that they live in, there may actually be found healing waters to refresh their souls.

And according to the Word of truth, they are correct. But the first step they must take is toward Jesus Christ. For a person to escape their spiritual wasteland, where the boundaries of God's love, holiness, mercy and truth are not in evidence, and have dried up from their point of view, they must look to Jesus Christ, in sincerity. In Him is the way and the truth to a life of filled with abundant riches. As someone continues to seek Him, so that they continuously experience God's love and mercy upon their lives, they may find that one day they are flowing over with the goodness of God, so that they spill out onto others the love that they have found in Christ.

> "Therefore my people are gone into captivity, because they have no knowledge: and their honorable men are famished, and their multitude dried up with thirst. Therefore hell hath enlarged herself, and opened her mouth without measure: and their glory, and their multitude, and their pomp, and he that rejoiceth, shall descend into it. And the mean man shall be brought down, and the mighty man shall be humbled, and the eyes of the lofty shall be humbled: but the Lord of hosts shall be exalted in judgment, and God that is holy shall be sanctified in righteousness." Isaiah 5:13-16
> "In the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink. He that believeth on me, as the Scripture hath said, out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water. (But this spake he of the Spirit which they that believe on him should receive: for the Holy Ghost was not yet given; because that Jesus was not yet glorified.)" John 7:37-39

The Devastation of Locusts
Marsha Alred

The Book Of Joel

Verses 1-3 Being an American, I can only speak for this nation specifically - certainly the whole body of Christ-world wide is forever under attack - scripture is clear regarding the spiritual battle we face as Christians. However, has there ever been a time in American history when the proliferation of humanism, selfishness and greed been so overwhelming? We have become victims of the prosperity that God meant to be a blessing. Just like the children of Israel - we cry out in times of adversity, but in times of plenty we wander and flirt with other gods - worshipping the created instead of the Creator.

Regardless of what the humanist scholars want us to believe - God gave birth to America. He gave her life to BE LIFE and LIGHT. All the earth is His - temporarily in the power of darkness - but His Desire is for His people to have a "safe" place - a land in which they can prosper and grow and shine as a light to the nations. Unfortunately, the "American Church" has almost lost this physical land single-handedly to spiritual powers of darkness which drive lost and hungry hearts to destruction.

Let us, once again, listen to God's Heart and tell it to the next generation.

Verse 4: "What the gnawing locust has left, the swarming locust has eaten; and what the swarming locust has left, the creeping locust has eaten; and what the creeping locust has left, the stripping locust has eaten."

Locusts are representative in scripture of evil spirits. It begins in each individual heart until it has destroyed the whole Body of Christ. There are the gnawing spirits - those temptations, accusations and insecurities that gnaw at our souls - a constant, steady gnawing at the fabric of our hearts.

Following, are the swarming locusts - because once we have given place to the pain of the constant gnawing we are suddenly surrounded by the conviction of their power over us. Fears, doubts and confusion begin to cloud our vision - swarms of locust have been known to block the sun.

If that were not enough, the creeping lies follow the swarm - we think the worst is over but once again that slow, deliberate pain, temptation, fear, or doubt is back again-coming so quietly you believe that this is really from within yourself-not an attack from the outside - it is who you are. It is bigger than you can resist.

The last to come are the stripping locust leaving our souls bare and wounded, open to infection and disease. Our focus is then on self preservation and covering our own nakedness - or convincing others that this sin too, is a spiritual truth. Actually we have been stripped of the vision and protection of God's Heart and Hand - stripped of every promise, every shred of hope - every possibility of faith in God's Word for victory and holiness in our everyday lives.

Verse 5: "Awake, drunkard, and weep; and wail, all you wine drinkers, on account of the sweet wine that is cut off from your mouth." With all that is happening in our midst - many more of us then we care to believe exist - are so focused on our own ministry -we have closed ourselves behind our own walls and become drunk on our own wine. Focus is blurred and we are unaware of what is happening all around us "in the world". We have become a private party, an exclusive club where any "not like us" is not welcome - not even if they are starving to death. Heaven knows we don't have time now to get out all the bulletins and go to all the meetings - how will we find the time to help them get their lives straightened out?!" "Those other ministries? We have the truth - we don't need them - we are strong enough on our own!" I Corinthians 12:21, "And the eye cannot say to the hand, "I have no need of you"; or again the head to the feet, "I have no need of you." (vs.27) "Now you are Christ's Body, and individually members of it." What would you really think if you saw a man walking down the street hitting himself in the head, cutting off his fingers, and poking himself in the eye? I doubt you would say, "Now there's the life for me!!" Yet, the Body of Christ wounds itself. There are many churches, many ministries - do not complain because one emphasizes one truth and another finds comfort in another - all make up the Body of Christ and work the fields that are white for harvest. The sacrificial death and Blood of Christ is the truth that will bring freedom - it is that same blood that must flow through each individual part. It is the highest Truth, all else will fade in the Light of His Coming.

Verse 6, 7: God's Heart is crying out,- "A nation has invaded My land, mighty and without number; it's teeth are the teeth of a lion, and it has the fangs of a lioness. It has made My vine a waste, and my fig tree splinters. It has stripped them bare and cast them away; their branches have become white." God's Vine on the earth - made up of fruit bearing branches - is Christ and the Church as Jesus explains in John 15, "I am the Vine-you are the branches". In Joel 1 God cries out that His vine is wasted and His fig tree (a scriptural picture of Israel) is splintered. Why, because an earthly NATION lies in waste? - no, the church first - but then the nation.

Verses 8-20

"Wail like a virgin girded with sackcloth for the bridegroom of her youth." As a virgin bride waiting with joyful expectation for the love of her life cries out inconsolably when he is taken away - so should those who have waited as the Bride of Christ-keeping themselves unstained by the world - cry out. The wheat offering - the bread of life - the wine of His Presence is cut off from the House of the Lord. As Daniel repented for ALL of Israel - even though he was a righteous man - so should we - be humble enough to repent and ask the Lord to reveal to us any sin that has so entangled and deceived us that we do not recognize it in ourselves. "If we say we have no sin we deceive ourselves and the truth is not in us." I John 1:8

The fields around us are ruined - they are no longer harvested but have gone to weed and thistle. The whole land mourns - for that which truly sustains life - is ruined and dried up. Fresh oil - that precious outpouring of the Holy Spirit will not come.

We have reason to be ashamed - we have been unwise stewards of our farm land, our vineyards and our harvests. There is no "pomegranate" - a scriptural picture of a joyful and fruitful tree, or life - we need to stop laughing at "being baptized in lemon juice" and weep for God to restore the joyful, fruitful life. There is no palm tree - no uprightness and faithfulness in the land. A life of "holiness unto the Lord" has been blurred by the "swarms of locusts" and we have begun to look like the world around us. barren and empty. There is no apple tree - no nourishment that is refreshing and sweet.

"Indeed, rejoicing dries up from the sons of men." (vs.12)

What can be done? Call a fast - gird ourselves with sackcloth - have no concern for the outward dressings of our lives - and repent with true, broken hearted cries because the grain and the new wine is being withheld. (vs. 13)

Is it really all that bad? Our cities lay waste with crime and disease. Unbelief and a culture of death has become the standard of life around us. The foundations of our "safe land" - the land of blessing given to us by Creator God is being destroyed and eaten by the locusts that first destroyed the hope of our own souls - one by one, body part by body part.

CALL A FAST!! The Lord will not stand by forever. The Day of the Lord is very near-will He come with judgment because of the sins He finds, or mercy for repentance?

Does the Church deserve JUDGMENT? Look at the fruit of its existence in this nation.

The last few decades have revealed much sin and hypocrisy in our lives. There was a time when the word of a Christian was considered honorable, life was a gift from God to be honored and protected, and good was good and evil was wrong. Now Christianity is ridiculed due to our own duplicity, life is dispensable (90% of women coming to Crisis Pregnancy wanting to terminate their fetuses are "Christians" and active in church), and we are running pell mell into the prophetic word that good is evil and evil good. That prophetic word of the last days refers to the unbeliever-not the believer!! - unless he is one of the "elect" who is led astray.(Matt. 24:24) The world may - but the church may not. Christ, our role model remained holy in an unholy world and so must we. LOVING THE LOST, FINDING OUR MOST COMMON GROUND WITH THEM AND LOVING THEM TO HEALTH AND WHOLENESS IS WORLDS APART FROM BECOMING LIKE THEM.

Verse 17 says the "seeds" shrivel under their clods. Why does a seed shrivel? - for lack of water. There is a famine in our individual lives for the prominence of the Word of God. We cannot listen to God's Word from the pulpit, then walk out and leave it behind - but that is what has happened. THE SEEDS ARE SHRIVELING UNDER THE CLODS!! WE MUST TAKE THE WATER TO THE FIELDS!!! THE FIELDS DON'T COME TO THE WATER!!!

The storehouses are so desolate barns are no longer needed. As in Europe, where the once great cathedrals were storehouses of the Word of God are now hotels and restaurants - so churches here are being sold for lack of attendance and converted for other use.

Doesn't that register a cry in our hearts? The grain is dried up - the beasts groan - herds of cattle wander aimlessly because there is no pasture for them. The flocks of sheep suffer. The water brooks have dried up - and fire has devoured the dry land.

CHAPTER TWO "Blow a trumpet in Zion!!" Let the voice of the prophet be heard loud and clear. Let the prophet sound the alarm that brings trembling to a once easy living people. There is a tremendous darkness coming to this nation as rogue judges are a law unto themselves and the strategies of the enemy cloaked in intellectual thought and political correctness become laws that are destroying the foundations of our Constitution. The same Constitution birthed in prayer to God for His Help.

Benjamin Franklin stood in the assembly of men attempting to form this new nation and said, "Mr. Chairman, has it ever occurred to you and the men of this convention that we who are trying to project a Nation into the fellowship of the nations of earth have been very irreverent and short-sighted that we have never asked for help and guidance from the God of Nations? I move you, sir, that some God fearing man among us be called upon to implead the Throne of Divine Grace that we who are trying to form and build a new-made Nation may be given the conscious fellowship and leadership of Almighty God."

Patrick Henry in a speech given in 1776 spoke this revealing declaration: "It cannot be emphasized too strongly or too often that this great nation was founded not by religionists, but by Christians; not on religion, but on the Gospel of Jesus Christ."

John Quincy Adams, the sixth President of the United States wrote, "The highest glory of the American Revolution was this: it connected in our indissoluble bond the principles of civil government with the principles of Christianity."

We recognize with John Adams, "We have no government armed with the power capable of contending with human passions (that are) unbridled by morality and true religion." That warning has come to pass in 2005.

George Washington wrote these words in his journal, "Eternal and everlasting God, direct my thoughts, words and work. Wash away my sins in the immaculate Blood of the Lamb and purge my heart by the Holy Spirit. Daily, frame me more and more in the likeness of Thy Son, Jesus Christ...Bless, O Lord, the whole race of mankind and let the world be filled with the knowledge of Thy Son, Jesus Christ."

Can God's blessing be on a nation because of the faithful fruitfulness of His people? Yes. Can it be removed due to their unfaithfulness? Thomas Jefferson expressed that very concern, "God who gave us life gave us liberty. And can the liberties of a nation be thought secure when we have removed their only firm basis, a conviction in the minds of the people that these liberties are of the gift of God? That they are not to be violated but with His wrath? Indeed, I tremble for my country when I reflect that God is just; that His justice cannot sleep forever." Yes, and we have been found wanting.

"BLOW A TRUMPET IN ZION!" It is not necessary to blow a trumpet any other place BUT IN ZION!!! LET THE PEOPLE OF GOD HEAR THEIR SINS EXPOSED AND REPENT - maybe He will have mercy.

Verse 12-17: "Yet even now" declared the Lord, "Return to Me with all your heart, and with fasting, weeping, and mourning; and rend your heart and not your garments." Now return to the Lord your God, for He is gracious and compassionate, slow to anger, abounding in lovingkindness, and relenting of evil. Who knows whether He will not turn and relent, and leave a blessing behind Him, even a grain offering and a libation for the Lord your God? Blow a trumpet in Zion, consecrate a fast, proclaim a solemn assembly, gather the people, sanctify the congregation, assemble the elders, gather the children and the nursing infants. Let the bridegroom come out of his room and the bride out of her bridal chamber. Let the priests, the Lord's ministers, weep between the porch and the altar, and let them say, "SPARE THY PEOPLE, O LORD, AND DO NOT MAKE THINE INHERITANCE A REPROACH, A BYWORD AMONG THE NATIONS. WHY SHOULD THEY AMONG THE PEOPLES SAY, WHERE IS THEIR GOD?"

Verses 18-32 hold the promise, "Then the Lord will be zealous for His land, and will have pity on His people. And the Lord will answer and say to His people, "Behold, I am going to send you grain, new wine, and oil, and you will be satisfied in full with them; and I will never again make you a reproach among the nations." THIS IS THE PROMISE OF REVIVAL! We have seen glimpses and received "tastes" of revival in Pensacola and Azuza Street - but this is a revival of proportions we have not seen. God says He will make it a double blessing -" the early rain for your vindication - the early and the latter rain as before. The threshing floors will be full of grain and the vats will overflow with the new wine and oil. Then I WILL MAKE UP TO YOU FOR THE YEARS THAT THE SWARMING LOCUST HAS EATEN, THE CREEPING LOCUST, THE STRIPPING LOCUST, AND THE GNAWING LOCUST! You shall have plenty to eat and be satisfied, and praise the name of the Lord your God, who has dealt wondrously with you; then My people will never be put to shame. Thus you will know that I am in the midst of Israel, and that I am the Lord you God and there is no other; and My people will never be put to shame."

This nation will not be safe from destruction until the hearts of its people are freed by the Love of God. They will not learn of it except the people of God become holy as He is holy then show love and mercy, praying instead of cursing. God holds us responsible to be good stewards of Godly legislation and its laws and lawmakers, but we must also remember - men's laws without God's Love and Justice make hearts hard, only the active Presence of God as represented in the Body of Christ will melt them.

Now the words we have long waited for will come to pass, "I will pour out My Spirit on all mankind, and your sons and daughters will prophesy, your old men will dream dreams, your young men will see visions."

Chapter 3 God is calling all to repentance and the knowledge that He is Lord of all - when His people are walking in the Light of His Truth - so that the world might SEE the truth and choose - He will bring judgment to all evil practices. What are we waiting for? How many times must we circle the mountain - each pass becoming more dangerous and difficult? Must we lose the nation and home God has given us and become a people living under godless tyranny before we "Awake and Weep!!" ?(Joel 1:5)

Does God's Presence have anything to do with a physical nation? - Every bit as much as the presence of evil destroys a nation. "Righteousness makes a nation great, but sin degrades any people." Proverbs 14:34

Mark down these words and make it clear. In this day the Lord your God is calling you to repentance and brokenness over the sins of this nation. We will not have "forever" to do so - but only the time allotted us. This nation can once again be the "light on a hill" that Creator God intends - but the time to turn it from destruction is almost over. God have mercy on us and forgive us.

On April 6, the Lord spoke to me regarding this nation. His directive was to the Body of Christ - begin living as the Body of Christ in the earth or He would take His Presence from this nation and put it in a nation we would not have expected. The following news release came shortly after-interesting coincidence. We have NO time to lose, but as we pray for continued revival in the Ukraine we must pray for an outpouring of repentance and faith in America - such as we have never seen.

Ukrainian Christians Rejoice at Appointment of Born-Again Believer as New Prime Minister-- "Our Government Has Come to the Conclusion That Ukraine Can Never Rise on Her Feet Until She Bows Down Her Knees Before the Almighty God." by Teresa Neumann : Apr 18, 2005 : The Embassy of the Blessed Kingdom of God for All Nations http://www.godembassy.org/en/news/news_fr.php?showdetail=561

On February 3, 2005 President Yuschenko listed his agenda for Ukraine, in which he took a clear and unprecedented stand against corruption. Sunday Adelaja, pastor of the Embassy of the Blessed Kingdom of God for All Nations, Europe's largest church in Kyiv, wrote an encouraging report about recent developments in Ukraine:

For the first time in the history of Ukraine, instead of only holding the official Inauguration with the elite members of parliament behind closed doors, the President also invited the entire country to join him for a second public Inauguration and Oath of Office on Independence Square. Our church took advantage of this moment and several thousands of our members stood among the citizens of Ukraine to congratulate our new President.

Following the Inauguration on Sunday, January 23, the President's work day began on Monday morning, January 24. Because of his Christian faith, he insisted on starting his day with public prayer and blessing, joined together with the heads of Ukrainian Christian denominations, including Baptist, Catholic, Charismatic, etc. This is a totally new thing for our nation. Remember, Ukraine is a former communist society.

The President chose Yulia Timoshenko, a woman, as Prime Minister. She is not simply the most popular politician in parliament, she is a born-again, spirit-filled believer, though this is not a public knowledge. The most interesting event took place when the Prime Minister took her Oath of Office on February 3, 2005 as President Yuschenko listed his agenda for the country. What shocked the whole country were his words, acknowledging what a responsibility his role carries before the people, and committing himself to the honor of carrying his promises out. His words are as follows:

a) My government will NOT STEAL!!! I know it is a fantasy in Ukraine to hear this, but I assure you that this government will not steal anything from the public. I take full responsibility for my government's actions. b) My government will never give or receive bribes! I demand this standard from every member of this government and I say right now, that if anyone is caught giving or taking a bribe, he will suffer the full penalty of the law. I also would like to say that if you catch any member of this government in bribery or theft, it is your responsibility, as citizens, to please report the situation to me, that I might take immediate action. c) To the Parliament, I want you to know that we will never use money to shift lobby votes! That practice has ended, as of today! I demand that the principle of openness, transparency and uprightness filter throughout every department and cabinet. No decision should be taken in secret. Everything must be done openly and in public view.

In Ukraine, what President Yushenko said is basically unheard-of. No leader has ever spoken so clearly or with so much determination to fight bribery and corruption.

When the Prime Minister came to the stand she made one simple point "Our government has come to the conclusion that Ukraine can never rise on her feet until she bows down her knees before the Almighty God."

This takes us back to Monday when the President started his work day. After the prayer and blessing, the President took his wife and children a few steps closer to the altar, and bowed down on their knees, bringing the nation before the Lord. This is an unprecedented act in this part of the world and all the media and priests could do was stand in awe, and shock at what was happening.

The biggest surprise to parliament was when the Prime Minister presented her 6-point program to the people. Everyone expected figures and calculations, but instead received a Biblical concept of national transformation:

a) Faith (in God, nation and individual citizens) b) Justice (to build an upright society) c) Harmony (between citizens and leaders) d) Security (of individual people, national interests and properties) e) Life (abundant life in every sphere through social programs) f) World Relations (that Ukraine would integrate itself as a European nation cultivating good relations with other countries including Russia and the European Union)

After Yulia Timoshenko's program was announced, the Ministers were named. We as believers couldn't help but laugh at this point because of who was placed at the head of the SBU (Ukrainian KGB), Alexander Turshinov. This man, a believer, grew up in a Baptist family during the communist regime and the top assignment of the KGB at that time was to destroy religion and faith, Baptist and Evangelicals in particular. Now, the head of this dreaded organization is a man who believes in the very thing they tried to destroy. Yes, God has a sense of humor! The Bible says in Psalm 2:4 "He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh: the Lord shall have them in derision".

Other new ministerial appointments interesting to Christians are the positions held by the Minister of Culture: a born-again Catholic lady (in a very good relationship with our church); and the Personal Advisor to the President: Leonid Chernovetskiy (a member of our church). Everyone can testify that the new governmental appointments are highly disciplined, honest and are people of high integrity.

Some of the very first bills passed by the cabinet were to return stolen properties back to the citizens and the country.

In conclusion, we know that the changes taking place here in Ukraine are born from above and they are proving to be both encouraging and highly delightful! May you rejoice with us as we keep believing God for total transformation. Nothing is impossible for the Lord!

The Days Of Restoration
Bill Burns

Marsha Burns October 7, 2005: Isaiah 59:19b "When the enemy comes in like a flood, the Spirit of the LORD will lift up a standard against him." My warriors, My bride, I have called and equipped you to be overcomers ... and, yes, more than conquerors. I have established you in the kingdom to be victorious over every work of the enemy against you. Refuse to succumb to the devil's schemes and devices against you. Rise up in the authority I have given you and press through to absolute victory. You take the first step by faith, and My warring angels will join you in battle. Victory is assured, says the Lord!

Bill Burns
October 6, 2005: I am the Lord of the breakthrough, and I am breaking you out of bondages that the enemy has established around you. I will bring you into the glory of liberty. Take hope and renew yourself in covenant, for I will perform My Word. All the promises are yes and amen. That which has been spoken will indeed take place and be performed by My hand.

Marsha Burns
October 6, 2005: I speak to those who have ascribed to My Spirit what you have been doing by the power of your own flesh. I am bringing a dividing line and clarity so that you will know absolutely the difference between flesh and Spirit. There will no longer be any gray areas; the clarity that I bring will be black and white -- there will be a clear distinction and no longer any question as to who is directing your activities, yourself or My Spirit, says the Lord. Your yes will be yes and your no will be no. Yield completely to this process of developing discernment.

Marsha Burns
October 5, 2005: Beloved, stir yourself and wake up. I have called you to watch in this hour. Now is the time to be done with spiritual dullness and complacency. You must strive to have a single focus and to be about the Father's business. Refuse to be drawn away from My purposes by diversions and distractions. Rise up in the Spirit to a new level of discernment and faithfulness, for blessed is the one whose Master finds doing His will when He comes. Behold, I come quickly, says the Lord.

October 4, 2005: October is a month for watching. Take your position on the wall and watch. Watch for the signs that will confirm to you and bear witness of the new season. Indeed, I have brought you into this time of blessing. Watch for Satan's schemes, for he will attempt to distract you so that you miss the signs, which are the seal to your spirit that I am doing what I said I would do. I will bring you into the power and blessing of My covenant, says the Lord.

The Lord told me that there is coming a later harvest and October is a time for seed-planting, and He confirmed that to me this past week. Often He confirms things to me through rocks. I received a chunk of silver ore and a slab that has gold in it, and I believe that the Lord brought those to me and said, "The silver is mine and the gold is mine. You do not have to worry about the coming season. Deposit yourself in a position of faith and do not allow fear to rule and reign. Put away fear and establish your harvest through the sowing of your seed, and you will be surprised at how I prosper you through these times when others around you will not prosper."

Marsha Burns
October 4, 2005: Trust Me, says the Lord. Cast your cares upon Me, for I will perfect those things that concern you. If you will take a position of rest in your soul and watch, you will be amazed at the supernatural way your problems will be resolved. But, you must put aside all fear, doubt and unbelief and completely trust Me. Psalms 55:22 Cast your burden on the LORD, and He shall sustain you; He shall never permit the righteous to be moved.

October 3, 2005: These are the days of the restoration of all things. I shall teach you how to hear My sound, the sound that comes from heaven. I will teach you to experience it and allow it to refresh you. I will show you how to abide in My light and how to be aware of the light that is coming from down from the Father of Lights. You will experience the flashing rays that come from My hand. I will renew you and cause you to experience My voice as I speak in the still small voice. I have come to teach you how to experience heaven. These are the days of the meeting together of earth and heaven. I say to you, if you are to receive the fullness of restoration and walk in the power of the age to come, you must learn to experience My touch and know the leading and guiding of My Spirit, for you are being prepared for the age to come. Hear My voice and obey, for the blessings belong to you as you say, "Yes and amen."

Marsha Burns
October 3, 2005: I had a vision of a crystal goblet with water in it, and I saw someone's finger rubbing the rim of the glass to make a beautiful clear sound, and I heard the Lord say, "This is like My pure vessels, filled with My Holy Spirit. They produce a clear sound." Then, that vision transformed into members of the Body of Christ standing in a circle, shoulder to shoulder. They were in one accord and filled with the Spirit. And, the Lord said, "This same sound is the anointing produced by the unity of My people." Then, from that circle I saw an open heaven where our prayers ascended to the throne of God as rays of pure light, and the Lord was listening to every heart in the prayer of agreement and unity, which produced the sound of corporate anointing. 2 Chronicles 6:40 "Now, my God, I pray, let Your eyes be open and let Your ears be attentive to the prayer made in this place."

Marsha Burns
September 30, 2005: I speak to those who have settled into complacency and spiritual slumber. Rise up and establish My kingdom in your sphere of influence. I call you forth as participants and not just bystanders. Refuse to settle into the status quo or become content with your current state of being. Shake yourselves awake, and prepare to move forward. Allow Me to heal the wounds of devastation that have come as a result of separations and loss. I will indeed turn your sorrow to joy, says the Lord. You can do nothing to change the past, but you can yield to the work of My Spirit to bring transformation in every area of life. Romans 13:11 And do this, knowing the time, that now it is high time to awake out of sleep; for now our salvation is nearer than when we first believed.

Marsha Burns
September 29, 2005: It will take perseverance to push through the hindrances that you have now encountered. Refuse to get frustrated or discouraged with lack of progress. You must quiet your soul in order to correctly discern the situation. Seek Me for wisdom and guidance, says the Lord, and I will show you the way. Be still and know that I am God. Proverbs 3:5-6 Trust in the LORD with all your heart, and lean not on your own understanding; in all your ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct your paths.

Marsha Burns
September 28, 2005: You, My people, have been under severe attack from the enemy. Yet in many cases you have looked to circumstances and flesh and blood to find the source of the problem. Put yourself in remembrance that your battle is not against flesh and blood, but against principalities and powers of darkness. Rise up in the spirit and stand against these attacks using the weapons that you have been given. Turn back the battle and gain the victory, says the Lord. Ephesians 6:10-13 Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord and in the power of His might. Put on the whole armor of God, that you may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. For we do not wrestle against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this age, against spiritual hosts of wickedness in the heavenly places. Therefore take up the whole armor of God, that you may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand.

Marsha Burns
September 27, 2005: I have heard your prayers, and My ears have been attentive to your cries, says the Lord. Watch and be amazed at how quickly and easily I bring resolution to current dilemmas. That which has brought great consternation and confusion will suddenly dissolve. If you will quiet your soul and wait for My wisdom, that which has the potential to be disastrous can be dispersed without incident. Now is the time when you should quietly wait for My answers to difficult questions before you take action. Isaiah 40:31 But those who wait on the LORD shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings like eagles, they shall run and not be weary, they shall walk and not faint.

Only Believe

Bill Burns

September 26, 2005: Have you seen this, My people? What a marvelous thing it is -- I sit upon the heavenly throne and send to you the rain, the anointing of this time, that you might become that which has been spoken of and prophesied. If you will believe, you shall receive. Only believe. Step forward from the past. Set your eyes upon your Lord; set your face like flint and move to the goal of the high calling in Christ Jesus. You will become the kings of the earth that will bring glory to Me. You are living in the days of restitution. I am bringing restoration to My people that you might see beyond the veil to understand your calling and purposes in Me, for I am raising up a royal generation. The kings of the earth shall now come forth and do what destiny requires. Arise and go. Arise and believe. Arise and receive, says the Lord.

Marsha Burns
September 26, 2005: Many are feeling isolated. Beloved, when you feel separated from one another or from Me, know that there are three things that bring separation -- sin, offense, and self-hatred. But, you can do something about those things. You can repent and turn from sin; you can release those who have hurt you and forgive them; you can forgive yourself and receive My forgiveness, says the Lord. Some of you, My people, are suffering in silence and burdened under the weight of condemnation. I say, you must take authority over the flesh and the devil to gain the victory.

Have I not admonished you to leave the past behind? That does not only mean the far-distant past, but also includes the events of this day, even up until this moment. I say to you, let go of all offense and injury, and prepare to move forward in My will and purposes. Refuse to allow past events to be a stumbling block, which prevents your victory. Rise up and lay hold of My kingdom by the Spirit, says the Lord.
To the many who have been in church bodies who came very close to losing faith, I say, I have kept you even through those times. You would have lost hope if you had not seen the goodness of the Lord in the land of the living. I still have you in the palm of My hand, says the Lord; I have hidden you in the cleft of the Rock, and I will bring you through even these dry times. I will bring you forth in great power and great glory because you have trusted in Me and not in man. For that I honor you.

Marsha Burns
September 23, 2005: Be on the lookout for misunderstandings. Either you will misunderstand or be misunderstood. Either way presumption springs forth from a carnal reaction. Maintain clarity by not allowing your emotions to lead the way in relationships or conversation. Refuse to allow yourself to get out of control. Be quick to be forgive and grant mercy in abundance to both yourself and others as you rise above the flesh and walk in the Spirit, says the Lord.

Marsha Burns
September 22, 2005: Beloved, refuse to become overwhelmed with the demands on your time, energy, and resources. Trust Me to stretch your time and to give you the strength and wisdom to negotiate the obstacles you face. I am for you and with you, and I have not and will not forsake you., says the Lord. Be strong and resolute. Deuteronomy 31:6 "Be strong and of good courage, do not fear nor be afraid of them; for the LORD your God, He is the One who goes with you. He will not leave you nor forsake you."

Marsha Burns
September 21, 2005: Prepare to move forward from the place where you stalled out, but you will first have to arise from the ash heap of discouragement, disappointment, and self-pity. For, this mindset has blinded your spiritual eyes, and you can no longer see opportunities and possibilities for your future. So, I say, arise and shake off the dust of past failures, says the Lord. Look up with hope and expectation. Look through the eyes of faith. Psalms 27:13 I would have lost heart, unless I had believed That I would see the goodness of the LORD In the land of the living.

Marsha Burns
September 20, 2005: Be strong and courageous, and be established in your faith in Me. Your faith is about to be tested again, but know that every test will make you stronger and better able to withstand and overcome the devices of the enemy. You are well able to overcome! I Peter 1:6-9 "In this you greatly rejoice, though now for a little while, if need be, you have been grieved by various trials, that the genuineness of your faith, being much more precious than gold that perishes, though it is tested by fire, may be found to praise, honor, and glory at the revelation of Jesus Christ, whom having not seen you love. Though now you do not see Him, yet believing, you rejoice with joy inexpressible and full of glory, receiving the end of your faith——the salvation of your souls.

Listen To My Voice
Bill Burns

September 19, 2005: Listen to My voice, My children, for I say to you that many of you have allowed the enemy to wear you out through you circumstances because you have forgotten the art of resting in My presence. You have refused to become a worshiper. I say, if you will open your mouth and open your heart and worship Me you shall be renewed continually, and you shall be reminded of who you are in Me and who I am in you, and you shall not grow weary. You will be like the eagle, I say; spread your wings, for he does not become weary, but he allows the wind of My Spirit to carry him far above the trials of this earth, far above the tragedies of this earth, far above the turmoil of this earth even, and he brings himself to Me with wings outspread. Into the heavenlies he soars and in the heavenlies he receives. Then, his youth is renewed. Let your youth be renewed likewise, says the Lord.

Marsha Burns
September 19, 2005: Be deliberate in receiving strength and healing to your body and soul. Refuse to allow the enemy to keep you bound and victimized. Now is the time of release from all grief and mourning that have kept you from being absolutely and completely free. Perfect liberty is still the order of the day. Isaiah 58:5-6 "Is it a fast that I have chosen, a day for a man to afflict his soul? Is it to bow down his head like a bulrush, and to spread out sackcloth and ashes? Would you call this a fast, and an acceptable day to the LORD? Is this not the fast that I have chosen: to loose the bonds of wickedness, to undo the heavy burdens, to let the oppressed go free, and that you break every yoke?"

The Light Of Revelation
Bill Burns

September 12, 2005: Come. Come again, My children, for the day is not over. The night is far spent, but the day is the light before you. The light of revelation that will be given to you this day shall bring you up and enable you to walk in heavenly places. It shall lift you above the things of the world and cause you to experience heaven's glory. Yes, even now, says the Lord. I will reveal My ways to My people; I intend to bless My people. I will bring you beyond the curse and into the joy of My kingdom, for in that place, says the Lord, you will understand the meaning of being changed from glory to glory, from faith to faith and from victory to victory. Come -- drink the cup that I give to you. The cup of new wine, the wine of My joy and peace. I shall indeed reveal Myself to you, and all of heaven shall glory in the fact that you have given yourself to Me wholly and absolutely.

Marsha Burns
September 12, 2005: The spirit of the anti-christ has targeted certain individuals and is operating through them in the Body of Christ. This spirit first established itself in the guise of unbelief, which became disgust and disdain, and now is manifesting through cynicism. I say to you who have allowed this presence in your life, you are separated from Me, says the Lord. But, I call you back to Myself. Change your mind and set your will against this evil force, and return to that place of sweet communion with Me. I want you to know that cynicism releases a curse against the your brothers and sisters, which not only separates you from Me, but separates you from My Body. You are indeed alone and without joy. Return to Me!

September 13, 2005: The enemy wants to get you off course by causing you to make mountains out of molehills. This is no time to lose your eternal perspective. Yes, your circumstances will require attention, but you must refuse to allow your problems to become bigger than they really are. Take a deep breath, do what you can for the moment, and wait for the intensity of the storm to pass. Stay quiet and keep your emotions under control, and you will find that some of the things that worry you will take care of themselves. What you see currently as disastrous will not be as threatening or scary if you will just wait before taking any action. Take courage, says the Lord.

September 14, 2005: Brace yourself for rejection, for it will certainly come. Do not be surprised when persecution arises, and do not take it personally. Those who are against you are against Me, says the Lord. But, I also admonish you to be diligent to refrain from rejecting others, for whatever you sow you will reap. Rather, love one another as I have loved you, and be at peace as much as is possible with you.
2 Timothy 3:12 Yes, and all who desire to live godly in Christ Jesus will suffer persecution.
Romans 8:6 For to be carnally minded is death, but to be spiritually minded is life and peace.

September 15, 2005: Beloved, don't panic. This too shall pass. Have I not told you that I will hide you in the cleft of the rock and cover you with My hand? Run to Me and take shelter, says the Lord.
Psalm 91:
1He who dwells in the secret place of the Most High Shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.
2 I will say of the LORD, "He is my refuge and my fortress; My God, in Him I will trust."
3 Surely He shall deliver you from the snare of the fowler And from the perilous pestilence.
4 He shall cover you with His feathers, And under His wings you shall take refuge; His truth shall be your shield and buckler.
5 You shall not be afraid of the terror by night, Nor of the arrow that flies by day,
6 Nor of the pestilence that walks in darkness, Nor of the destruction that lays waste at noonday.
7 A thousand may fall at your side, And ten thousand at your right hand; But it shall not come near you.

September 16, 2005: You have been ravaged by things that have been beyond your control, yet now is the time for you to be healed. You can do nothing about the things that have devastated and overwhelmed you except to allow Me to wipe the tears from your eyes and bring healing to your soul, says the Lord. Prepare to leave the past behind once and for all and move forward to rebuild the ruins, for certainly you are entering a season of rebuilding that which has become desolate. Trust Me to bring order out of chaos. Hosea 6:1 Come, and let us return to the LORD; For He has torn, but He will heal us; He has stricken, but He will bind us up.

The Day Of The Greatest Awakening

Danny Steyne

> "You showed favor to Your land, O LORD; you restored the fortunes... You forgave the iniquity of Your people and covered all their sins...You set aside all Your wrath and turned from Your fierce anger! Restore... revive... awaken us again, O God our Savior, and put away Your displeasure toward us... so that Your people may rejoice in you? Show us Your unfailing love, O LORD, and grant us Your salvation. I will listen; You promise peace to Your people -- but let them not return to folly. Your salvation is near those who fear him, that Your Glory may dwell in our land. Love and faithfulness meet together; righteousness and peace kiss each other. Faithfulness springs forth from the earth, and righteousness looks down from heaven. You will indeed give what is good, and our land will yield its harvest. Righteousness goes before You and prepares the way for Your steps."
> ~Psalms 85

The LORD said, "Go out and stand on the mountain in the presence of the LORD, for the LORD is about to pass by." Then a great and powerful wind tore the mountains apart and shattered the rocks before the LORD, but the LORD was not in the wind. After the wind there was an earthquake, but the LORD was not in the earthquake. After the earthquake came a fire, but the LORD was not in the fire. And after the fire came a gentle whisper. ... and a voice said to him, "What are you doing here?" (1 Kings 19:11-13)

Awakening comes at times when it seems that the church is at it's lowest ebb. The power of revival is realized that within a very short period of time, the impact of revival reverberates through every aspect of culture. The King is visiting His people, and His presence is found everywhere. In ever-growing concentric circles, revival claims hearts, lives, churches, communities, cities, regions, and eventually nations. It is this desire to see the presence of the Lord in every area and walk of life that stirs God's people. It seems that it is during those periods of time that the world actually is faced with the reality of Jesus, the cross, and the resurrection. It is during those seasons that the world becomes "still and know*s* that He is God!"
I venture to say that the heart cry of most of the church is to see the day when literally thousands of people are swept into the Kingdom of God. It is our desire to see the Church be what Jesus said it would be, "the light of the world", when this deep, dark godlessness in society is strangled by the Glory of the Church.
Storms, fires, earthquakes, tsunamis, tragedy, crisis, and devastation have always been the place where the Healing Grace of God meets the brokenness of man...
If the 1st Great Awakening were to happen today... 50 million would be saved...
If the 2nd Great Awakening were to happen today... 100 million would be saved....
If the 3rd Great Awakening 121 million out of our population of 300 million ... would be saved...

The evidence of a true Awakening is that it is rare for a person to not have encountered the Power of God! Welcome to the Greatest Awakening!
That day is upon us. The Day of The Greatest Awakening... the giant is about to wake up... and we are a part of this most awesome move of God in the History of Mankind!

The Davids Of The Hour

Heidi Cummins

I am raising up my David's in this hour,- I have been preparing them, steadying them, rooting them in Me. They are like steel. No, they are like titanium. They will not only use the sling-shot effectively, but these that I am raising up, will also cut off the heads of Goliath in the land. Sharply and decisively. They are indestructible, unaware of the fray around them. They do what they are supposed to do. What they have been born to do. Nothing can stop them.

Many consider them violent. They care not what people think of them. They only do what their Father asks them to do. They are fearless. They are "lightening- rods" in the Hand of the Lord. They are a prized possession. They cannot be stopped. They devour all that is in their path.

Woe to those that try and oppose them. Those that oppose them are annihilated without mercy. They are hated with the most perfect hatred. They are hated for their single-minded devotion to the Lord. But they are steadfast. They are not moved. Who can withstand their assault?

They trample on their enemies. They are successful in all they have been called to do. They are given the Spirit without limits. Who can stand before them? Who can oppose them? They are victorious and mighty. They have been prepared for the hour at hand. They are deadly in their accuracy.

Tremble in the presence of the Holy ones. Tremble in the presence of the Lord. Does not His Word come to pass as it is written? All that has been written will come to pass. Look and see the Holy ones who stand on the mountain of the Lord. They are coming. The Davids of the hour.

The Day Of The Latter Rain

Yolanda Ballard

(roarnworship@netzero.net)

Oct 24, 2005

This is the day of the latter rain outpouring, and I am preparing My bride in a mighty way that she might be ready to move in spite of the interference in the spirit realm because of the doctrines of man, the legalism, the pride of man, and all the other that spiritual leaders have given into. I am not pleased with the way things have and will continue in My house. Every one is out to make a buck, and by using My word as the means to bring it in, and this is an abomination to Me.

If My people would humble themselves and pray, and seek My face, and turn from the wickedness and abomination, then I will be faithful to heal the land. My people who are called by My name need to take a stand, and walk in the holy conviction of the Lord upon their hearts. Don't give into fear of man, but with the right heart, move out in My Spirit in worship, and in praise, and in obedience to My perfect will as I show you.

Yes, watch your heart that you don't give into rebellion, but just take a holy stand in the congregation of the saints, by moving by the leading of My Spirit. How do you know if you don't step out if I truly will be accepted or not. If those in leadership have the right heart and are truly seeking My will, then I will be able to set them free from the deception of the enemy. If their hearts aren't right, then I don't want you to sit under a delusion, or you will be coming out sounding the same way justifying compromise and the sinful ways of the flesh.

Yes, this is the day of My latter rain outpouring, and I will use My bride who has been purged by My fire, who have taken a stand for truth and holiness, and did not give into fear of man. How can My people who are called by My name take a stand for holiness and example for truth in the world eyes if they can't stand in the congregation of the saints of God. Yes, there are wolves in sheep's clothing, but there are also My people who have been led astray. They have been so hungry for My love and truth and acceptance, that they have given into a counterfeit way of being accepted through the leadership of those who have not walked in truth.

Open up your eyes and cry out, and I will lead you out and enable you to join up with those with the same heart as yours. ....those who are seeking true worship, and the manna that will bring encouragement, and the strength, and the grace to enable them to grow. Cry out and I will lead you out to feast at My table, to rest by streams of Living Water, and to be able to voice what I AM saying in their hearts. Yes, many are hungry for freedom, for truth, for light and are seeking My face. And I assure you that the truth will truly set them free!

The Doorway To The Father

Kathi Pelton

January 1, 2005

Dec 17, 2004 - I was taken into a vision. I felt like I was standing in the middle of the nation. It seemed as though I was in a massive courtroom where God sat as judge. It was very unusual to experience God in this way.

Then, in front of me, I saw a white door with a peephole in it and the Holy Spirit spoke to me and said, "Go to the door and look through the peep hole."

I went to the door and, as I leaned forward to look through it, a great warmth and safety came over me. I noticed this so keenly because in the "courtroom" I had felt cold and alone. As I looked through the peephole, I saw my heavenly Father. Light was everywhere, beauty was everywhere, and it felt like home to see my Father. This was the God that I knew.

I then became aware that the door that I was standing at was Jesus Himself and that the peephole was the hole in His hand where the nail had pierced it when He hung on the cross. He was standing in front of me and had wrapped His arm around me and covered my eyes with His hand. This was the warmth and safety I had experienced when I went to the door in the courtroom.

As I realized that this was Jesus, I understood in a moment what He was showing me. The lost only experience God as judge because you must come into sonship to know Him as Father.

Jesus is the door to the Father and we must come through Him to enter into sonship. I felt as though I was being placed as doorkeeper in the nation. I saw myself going out and inviting the lost and the broken and the sick to come to the door of Christ and to view the beauty and safety of God as their Father. If they could only get a glimpse of Him through this peephole, then surely they would go through the door of sonship and find God as their Father and Christ as their Savior.

I believe that God is asking us to invite the lost and to invite the spiritual orphans to come to the door and to know God as Father, rather then as judge. In the end, when we all stand before Him. . . we will either stand before Him as God our Father or God our Judge.

It felt as though the time for decision is so close at hand, and we are the keepers of the door and the holder of the keys to usher the lost and orphans through this door. There is a great sense on me that we are receiving a great anointing for life evangelism.

We will see, as we go through our days, divine appointments and opportunities to speak a word of life to someone who is ripe for harvest, and it will lead them to the door of Christ and they will pass through Him. We will hold the keys to kairos moments for the lost. The lost will suddenly be found and, in a moment, a lifetime of defeat and loneliness will turn into victory and sonship.

We are being given "keys of life" to the "door of life". . . the "suddenlies" that have been upon the church are about to come upon the lost!

Psalm 84:10 "For a day in your courts is better then a thousand elsewhere. I had rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God, then to dwell in the tents of wickedness."

Love to you all,

Third Day Warfare

Bill Somers

Ohio USA

In Judges 19, 20 and 21 the Lord gives us the story of the War against Benjamin. There are certain end time lessons here especially in chapter 20 where the battles actually take place.

One of them is about how the Lord in his wisdom will keep certain things secret till the proper time for their revelation. Another is about the last days battles and how the martyrdom of the saints enables the final victory over the enemy.

The battle lasts 3 days. On the first day, when Israel sought the Lord, he told them to go up and attack Benjamin at the town of Gibeah. They were thrown back with heavy losses. On the second day, the Lord told them to go up and they suffered heavy losses again.

On the third day after much weeping and fasting, the Lord tells them Go up; for to morrow I will deliver them into thine hand. [Judges 20:28] So they go into battle and practically wipe out the entire tribe of Benjamin.

Now from reading this account, it’s clear that the Lord’s battle plan was to let the enemy think that he was winning, and then trick him into an ambush. This required a certain amount of troops to be sacrificed. But if you send your troops into battle knowing that they are going to lose, the will not fight well if at all. In fact they might just head for the hills and just not show up to fight. So if the battle plan were revealed at the beginning, it would simply not have worked.

Likewise, in our lives, the Lord wants us to move in faith and trust. We are to be like Abraham, the father of faith, who went out, not knowing where he was going; but he was trusting God to get him there. If we were to know our immediate future, our behavior would change and we would miss what God has for us in the end.

End Time Application

The end time application here comes when you note that the victory comes on the Third Day. This is a prophetic clue, showing there is a double meaning to this lesson from scripture. The Third Day is the Third day of prophecy. It’s often called ‘that day’ or the ‘Day of the Lord’ and other such names. The first two days are the two thousand years since Jesus came in the flesh. The third day is the millennium, equivalent to the seventh day of creation and the seventh day of God’s week.

Points to note:

- The victory does not come immediately at the beginning of the third day.
- God does not reveal his plans or promise victory till the third day.
- Deep repentance and prayer is needed before God reveals all this.
- A sacrifice of troops is still necessary and the troops are quite willing to make it on the third day.
- The ambush from behind speaks of the Second Coming.

The warfare on the third day forms a parable of the end times. Many writers are aware that the third day is when God will bring things to a close and fulfill the remaining prophecies, yet they expect that all these things will come to pass immediately after we enter the third day. On the other hand many prophets are telling us that we have already entered the third day. So how to reconcile these ideas.

The story of the third day's battle against Benjamin provides us an illustration of how it happens as a process. In Jewish time keeping the change from one day to the next does not come at 12 midnight. It comes at 6 PM. The day begins at evening, 6 PM and runs through the night to the following morning and up to 6 Pm again, when a new day begins. So in the story here lets see how it happened.

> Judges 20:25-28
> 25 And Benjamin went forth against them out of Gibeah the second day, and destroyed down to the ground of the children of Israel again eighteen thousand men; all these drew the sword.
> 26 Then all the children of Israel, and all the people, went up, and came unto the house of God, and wept, and sat there before the LORD, and fasted that day until even, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings before the LORD.
> 27 And the children of Israel enquired of the LORD, (for the ark of the covenant of God was there in those days, > 28 And Phinehas, the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron, stood before it in those days,) saying, Shall I yet again go out to battle against the children of Benjamin my brother, or shall I cease? And the LORD said, Go up; for to morrow I will deliver them into thine hand.

On the second day, Israel was once again trounced by Benjamin. Then they go up to seek the Lord. They are seen weeping, fasting and offering sacrifices till evening. Then at evening, the third day commences! And the Lord reveals the plan and gives the promise of victory.

In the terms of our parable, Israel is typical of the Church, and the first two days are speaking of the 2 thousand years of the 'church age'. At the end of that time, judgment begins at the house of the Lord and the church is brought to a place of deep repentance [weeping] and worship [sacrifices]. The part where the Lord speaks and reveals the plan and gives the promise of victory represents the Revelation of Jesus Christ. This is the beginning of the end time events in the Book of Revelation.

In the third day of warfare, the men of Israel know that their part is to go up to battle and pretend to loose, as before. And that some of them will have to deliberately give their lives to do this. This speaks of the willingness of the church to obey the word of the Lord unquestioningly in the end times. Psalm 110 speaks of this as the Day of His Power.

> Psalms 110:3 Thy people shall be willing in the day of thy power, in the beauties of holiness from the womb of the morning: thou hast the dew of thy youth.

This is also seen as the day of power in Revelation 12. This is where we read of God's people being willing to lay down their lives and die the martyr's death.

> Revelation 12:10-11
> 10 And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, which accused them before our God day and night.
> 11 And they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb, and by the word of their testimony; and they loved not their lives unto the death.

The Contemporary English translation says it like this:

> Revelation 12:11 Our people defeated Satan because of the blood of the Lamb and the message of God. They were willing to give up their lives.

Here in vs. 30-31 is a description of Israel going up to battle. The word up is used several times in the text. This gives an impression that they were facing an uphill battle all along.

> Judges 20:30-31
> 30 And the children of Israel went up against the children of Benjamin on the third day, and put themselves in array against Gibeah, as at other times.
> 31 And the children of Benjamin went out against the people, and were drawn away from the city; and they began to smite of the people, and kill, as at other times, in the highways, of which one goeth up to the house of God, and the other to Gibeah in the field, about thirty men of Israel.

But before this happened, Israel has ambushers stationed around Gibeah.

> Judges 20:29 And Israel set liers in wait round about Gibeah.

Then as Israel is retreating down the highway, the ambushers attack the city from behind and above.

> Judges 20:37 And the liers in wait hasted, and rushed upon Gibeah; and the liers in wait drew themselves along, and smote all the city with the edge of the sword.

The town of Gibeah is behind and above the battle area. This speaks of the high places of the earth.

> Ephesians 6:12 For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places.

These liers in wait or ambushers speak of the armies of Heaven, the saints and angels who will accompany the Lord Jesus Christ as he returns to fight the last battles. The first thing The Lord does is to execute judgment on the High places, where the rulers of wickedness have their seats.

> Micah 1:3 For, behold, the LORD cometh forth out of his place, and will come down, and tread upon the high places of the earth.
> Amos 4:13 For, lo, he that formeth the mountains, and createth the wind, and declareth unto man what is his thought, that maketh the morning darkness, and treadeth upon the high places of the earth, The LORD, The God of hosts, is his name.

Then after Gibeah is destroyed, the ambushers come down and hit Benjamin from behind and above. This speaks of the Lord and the armies of heaven continuing on after treading on the High Places to the final battles on the earth.

> Judges 20:39-40
> 39 And when the men of Israel retired in the battle, Benjamin began to smite and kill of the men of Israel about thirty persons: for they said, Surely they are smitten down before us, as in the first battle.
> 40 But when the flame began to arise up out of the city with a pillar of smoke, the Benjamites looked behind them, and, behold, the flame of the city ascended up to heaven.

The related passages in Revelation include these:

> Revelation 16:16 And he gathered them together into a place called in the Hebrew tongue Armageddon.
>
> Revelation 19:11 And I saw heaven opened, and behold a white horse; and he that sat upon him was called Faithful and True, and in righteousness he doth judge and make war.
> Revelation 19:14 And the armies which were in heaven followed him upon white horses, clothed in fine linen, white and clean.

Now earlier we said the martyrdom of the saints enables the final victory over the enemy. Just how is this?

We see the people willing to sacrifice their lives. The children of Israel in Judges and the end time saints in Revelation. In Judges, their sacrifice is what makes the ambush work. What about in Revelation?

Well here the climax is not an ambush but the Second Coming of the Lord. We read about this in Jude for instance where the reason for the Second Coming is to execute judgments.

> Jude 1:14-15
> 14 And Enoch also, the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, saying, Behold, the Lord cometh with ten thousands of his saints,
> 15 To execute judgment upon all, and to convince all that are ungodly among them of all their ungodly deeds which they have ungodly committed, and of all their hard speeches which ungodly sinners have spoken against him.

In Second Thessalonians we read of Him coming to take vengeance.

> 2 Thessalonians 1:7-8
> 7 And to you who are troubled rest with us, when the Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven with his mighty angels,
> 8 In flaming fire taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ:

And in Revelation 19 we see that he is avenging the blood of the martyrs.

> Revelation 19:2 For true and righteous are his judgments: for he hath judged the great whore, which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and hath avenged the blood of his servants at her hand.

These are those who gave their lives for the Gospel. We see them crying for vengeance in Revelation 6.

> Revelation 6:9-10
> 9 And when he had opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of them that were slain for the word of God, and for the testimony which they held:
> 10 And they cried with a loud voice, saying, How long, O Lord, holy and true, dost thou not judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?

The Key to how the martyrdom of the saints enables the final victory is found in Romans 12, where we see that God uses the patience of the saints to open the way for his vengeance.

> Romans 12:19 Dearly beloved, avenge not yourselves, but rather give place unto wrath: for it is written, Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord.

This hearkens back to Romans 12: 1

> Romans 12:1 I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service.

Here the Lord is asking us to offer our lives as a living sacrifice to that it will 'give place to wrath' as mentioned in vs. 19. This is what makes the vengeance and the final victory possible. And so we note in closing the words of Psalm 116.

> Psalms 116:15 Precious in the sight of the LORD is the death of his saints.

Summary

The two major lessons we are bringing out here are these.

First it is often necessary for the Lord to keep certain things secret from us, both for our own good, and because this secrecy is part of his plans.

Second the battle against Benjamin forms a parable or allegory of the end times and how the martyrdom of the saints enables the final victory over the enemy.

This Day WE Fight!

Beloved~

Winds of adversity are before you. Many more "shakings" are coming. I am working in the midst of these violent times. Yes, you need to pray and war as never before. Pray that confusion would be dismantled. Pray that my spirit would brood over those who will come to know me through the adverse times that are coming. You are truly in a new season and my people need to be on their faces crying out for mercy, truth and justice! It is time to war Beloved Ones! This is no time to fear, but take up courage and battle with the direction of my Spirit.....

This Day WE Fight!

I am currently reading a book, "This Day We Fight", by Francis Fragipane. It's been life changing for me. How many of us pray and plead for God to move, to change circumstances in our lives? For years we pray and fast, and God's in that. He uses those times to bring forth perseverance of faith, to bring forth and forge His Godly character in us. But, Beloved we are in a new day, the Days of, "This Day We Fight!" Francis in his book speaks of breaking the bondage of a "passive spirit!" As I have read this something new has arisen from my spirit man.......a fight that I didn't even know was laying dormant in my spirit man.....

On a personal note:

My husband sustained a back injury in 1997 that left him 100% disabled! We have been warring and praying for his healing since then. Every time anyone prays for him, including me, the pain worsens. This week as I was praying for him the Lord showed me a vision. In the vision I saw the gate that we are standing at. And in the midst of the opening of the gate I saw a demon, it looked like a Sumo Wrestler?? The demon was short, stout, and filled the entire opening of the gate way. Then the Lord took me to the other side of the gate. On the other side of the gate, was the "promised land", and on the ground lay gold, jewels, and beautiful ancient stones. They just laid there on the ground. I remember leaning over and just picking up a hand full and letting them sift and fall through my fingers, all the time thinking these are just laying here for anyone, For who so ever!

This is what I sensed....

We stand at the gate.

The Lord wants us to cross over, more than we want to. There stands before us a struggle. We must wrestle for our future, our destiny.... Now I asked the Lord about wrestling with the Suma Wrestler...? and the Lord said this, "It's not your responsibility to wrestle with him, your job is to walk in "obedience", that is the warfare....and "worship". As you worship it will take you above the battle. I will fight the enemy, I will subdue the enemy and bind him. You walk in obedience, you worship me, and you "pray" with boldness before my throne. Even if things worsen for a season, pray like you already have the prize! Pray like your already are on the other side in the promise land walking in the new."

We must walk through these personal struggles to walk in greater authority in the Kingdom of God. These personal struggles place us in the boxing ring of life. They cause us to be pushed in the corner, and you either shrink down into a heap in the corner of the ring, or you stand up fighting, and saying, "I am not taking any more of this! And I am fighting for what's rightfully mine. The word of God says it, and I am using the word against my adversary, the devil!!!" It is the day to fight. Persevere to the end of this thing....

God wants to give you greater authority!

The greater the battle the greater the prize!!! John Paul Jackson shares in one of his books about the great trials he's had in his life. He had died several times and the Lord brought him back to life. He asked the Lord why his tests were so hard! The Lord replied back to him, "John Paul, Itty bitty test, itty bitty man of God, great big test, great big man of God." Doesn't that put things in to perspective!

God wants to give us His best. Embrace the test, learn from it, gain wisdom from it. Overcome from it, fight for it, don't give up. No never ever give up, don't ever give up....., no never!

As I was warring this week an anointing fell upon me and these words came forth.....The Lord of host says...."It is time to get fed up, from being beat up, and rise up.... as mighty warriors! Passage is being granted to go through the gates....The gates of authority, the gates of provision, the gates that have held us in the past, passing through the gates of past failures, the gates of grace, the gates of love, the gates of the Lord!!!"

Possessing The Global Territory!

You see Beloved what we are learning on a personal level is teaching us to war for the big enchilada! The world! The Lord is closing all doors of access on a personal level and teaching us to go in to and possess the "Global Territory!" That is why the battle is so intense on the personal level. The enemy knows if you get it right at home, nothing will stop you from possessing the harvest fields....God wants to give us the nations. "The people", they are the treasure. They are the land to possess. As things intensify with adversity, and trials, the hearts of the nations will be softened. Our personal testimonies will strengthen the faith of the unbelievers!!! Its time to rise up Beloved. Its time to, "Get fed up, from being beat up, and rise up..... as a mighty warrior!!!"

Walk in obedience! Be a person of violent praise! (Praising God in spite of what you see with your natural eyes!) Pray, pray and pray again! Use God's word against the enemy. Don't listen to him, listen to what the Bible says. It says we are to walk in wholeness, healing, and that God wants his best for you and I. Believe it. It is the truth, the way, and life to you and I....

Be encouraged this day! I don't know where your at, but God does, and he violently cares for you. Pick up your sword today and fight! The enemy is weakening, the battle is raging, the violent praisers will take the heavens by force! Rise up in your calling, rise up in your warfare mantel. Rise up and take dominion....it is yours for the taking!!! Yes, This Day We Fight!!!

"Let the high praises of God be in their mouth, and a two edged sword in their hand,.....This honor have all the Saints." Psalms 149: 6 and 9B....

Lovingly in Him, and warring with you! Brenda Dowdin firebrand007@hotmail.com

The Epistle To The Manchild

Bill Somers

Mount Gilead Ohio USA

November 2009

> Revelation 21:7 He that overcometh shall inherit all things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son.

I have recently noticed some features of the epistles to the Thessalonians which seemed very special. Research into word meanings brought out the following information.

Thessalonians are the people of Thessalonica, today known as Salonika.
Thessalonica was named after a Greek princess named Thessalonike.
And Thessalonike means victory in Thessaly, she was named in honor of a victory in Thessaly. I didn't find any further information on the meaning of Thessaly. But the important part here is the word nike meaning victory. At that point the Lord spoke to me, saying 'message to the victors.' So the epistles to the Thessalonians are a 'message to the victors.' We are going to look at just how this is.

Recall the old song lyric, We've been made more that conquerors, overcomers in this life, we've been made victorious through the blood of Jesus Christ.

These definitions from Strongs' may help us see the relationships between these words. They are all roughly synonymous.

Nike victory
nee'-kay
Apparently a primary word; conquest (abstractly), that is, (figuratively) the means of success: - victory.

Nikao overcometh
nik-ah'-o
From G3529; to subdue (literally or figuratively): - conquer, overcome, prevail, get the victory.

Hupernikao conquerors
hoop-er-nik-ah'-o
From G5228 and G3528; to vanquish beyond, that is, gain a decisive victory: - more than conquer.

Here in first John there is a reference to overcoming.

> 1 John 5:4-5
> 4 For whatsoever is born of God overcometh the world: and this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith.
> 5 Who is he that overcometh the world, but he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God?

Now we are going to take a look at a few points and make some spiritual interpretations. Here are the opening sections of the two letters.

> 1 Thessalonians 1:1-6
> 1 Paul, and Silvanus, and Timotheus, unto the church of the Thessalonians which is in God the Father and in the Lord Jesus Christ: Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.
> 2 We give thanks to God always for you all, making mention of you in our prayers;
> 3 Remembering without ceasing your work of faith, and labour of love, and patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ, in the sight of God and our Father;
> 4 Knowing, brethren beloved, your election of God.
> 5 For our gospel came not unto you in word only, but also in power, and in the Holy Ghost, and in much assurance; as ye know what manner of men we were among you for your sake.
> 6 And ye became followers of us, and of the Lord, having received the word in much affliction, with joy of the Holy Ghost:

> 2 Thessalonians 1:1-5
> 1 Paul, and Silvanus, and Timotheus, unto the church of the Thessalonians in God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ:
> 2 Grace unto you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.
> 3 We are bound to thank God always for you, brethren, as it is meet, because that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the charity of every one of you all toward each other aboundeth;
> 4 So that we ourselves glory in you in the churches of God for your patience and faith in all your persecutions and tribulations that ye endure:
> 5 Which is a manifest token of the righteous judgment of God, that ye may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which ye also suffer:

The first couple verses of each of the two letters are nearly the same. It mentions three authors, Paul, Silvanus and Timotheous which indicates that this is the full trinity of the Godhead speaking here.

Next note how it mentions that the Thessalonians are in God the Father and in the Lord Jesus Christ. This is an important point if you consider Jesus prayer in John 17.

> John 17:21-23
> 21 That they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee*, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me.*
> 22 And the glory which thou gavest me I have given them; that they may be one, even as we are one:
> 23 I in them, and thou in me*, that they may be made perfect in one; and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them, as thou hast loved me.*

Here Jesus is praying that his disciples would be in him and in the Father, verse 21. And he also mentions that the Father is in him and he is in the disciples. So this description of them speaks of a fulfillment of Jesus prayer in John 17. The same thought is echoed in 2 Thessalonians 1:12.

> 2 Thessalonians 1:12 That the name [nature, character and authority] of our Lord Jesus > Christ may be glorified in you, and ye in him*, according to the grace of our God and the Lord Jesus Christ.*

Note also that Jesus' prayer includes the phrase that they may be made perfect. This speaks of perfect obedience the way Jesus was made perfect. Note also the idea of glory mentioned in John 17:23 quoted above and here in Hebrews 2.

> Hebrews 2:10 For it became him, for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, in bringing many sons unto glory*, to make the captain of their salvation* perfect through sufferings.

The question of obedience is also touched upon in 2 Thessalonians 3:3-4

> 2 Thessalonians 3:3-4
> 3 But the Lord is faithful, who shall stablish you, and keep you from evil.
> 4 And we have confidence in the Lord touching you, that ye both do and will do the things which we command you.

Both salutations pronounce Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ. Now understand that Grace, is the Spirit of Grace i.e. the Holy Spirit. And also Peace speaks of the Lord Jesus Christ, who is our peace. So God is saying here that He is granting them Grace in the person of the Holy Spirit and Peace in the person of Jesus.

Verse 3 in both passages mentions several traits of the Thessalonians which are fruits of the Spirit. These naturally follow from a full, end time outpouring of the Spirit. Faith, Charity, Patience, Enduring persecution and tribulation, are mentioned.

1 Thessalonians 1:4 says Knowing, brethren beloved, your election of God. This tells us the Thessalonians are Chosen, the elect.

Then verse 5 adds our gospel came not unto you in word only, but also in power. This is another clue to what's going on here. As First Corinthians mentions this about the Kingdom of God.

> 1 Corinthians 4:20 For the kingdom of God is not in word, but in power*.*

It should be apparent that God is saying they are chosen and have been given an entrance into the Kingdom. Note also that verse 6 mentions the joy of the Holy Ghost, which is an aspect of the Kingdom as this verse from Romans tells us.

> Romans 14:17 For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink; but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost.

Verse 6 also mentions that ye became followers of us. Compare that to what it says in Revelation 14 about the overcomers.

> Revelation 14:4 …. These are they which follow the Lamb whithersoever he goeth. These were redeemed from among men, being the firstfruits unto God and to the Lamb.

2 Thessalonians 1:5 also mentions the Kingdom of God as does this next quote which speaks of the calling into the kingdom and glory. And we note that these Thessalonians had understanding of The Word from verse 13, knowing that it is not just a historical record or an inspired word, but the very word of God.

> 1 Thessalonians 2:11-13
> 11 As ye know how we exhorted and comforted and charged every one of you, as a father doth his children,
> 12 That ye would walk worthy of God, who hath called you unto his kingdom and glory.
> 13 For this cause also thank we God without ceasing, because, when ye received the word of God which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but as it is in truth, the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe.

Summary

Looking at the letters to the Thessalonians through spiritual eyes shows us many traits they have in common with the Manchild of Revelation 12 and the 144 thousands of Revelation 14. And we conclude that the Lord is using the Thessalonians as a type of this Manchild in His Word. And it means the letters to the Thessalonians are letters to the Manchild. They are a message to the victors.

> Revelation 12:5 And she brought forth a man child, who was to rule all nations with a rod of iron: and her child was caught up unto God, and to his throne.

And most importantly there is a direct connection between the coming forth of the manchild and the coming of the kingdom of God, as you can read farther down in Revelation 12.

> Revelation 12:10 And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: ….

The Emerging Church

Greg Austin

I believe this: In this critical hour in earth's history, the Holy Spirit of God is leading those "who have an ear" into a new dimension of revelation and glory. Any return to the status quo, business-as-usual church experience will sound the death-knell to the full desire of the Spirit of God.

I'm convinced that God is raising up a NEW VOICE, a NEW FACE and a NEW HEART in the earth. I read an article on a recent flight that stated that Great Britain reports less than 2% church attendance. Something is gravely wrong when the land that felt the footsteps of Spurgeon, Whitefield, Wesley, Wigglesworth and others has deteriorated into the state it currently languishes in. In America, the echo of Azusa Street has faded into oblivion. The times of Jonathon Edwards have become merely historic and not dynamic. Aimee Semple McPherson, John G. Lake, Oral Roberts, all shook the land, but are now represented by so little. Those who are seeking to plumb the depths of God's Spirit and His well of wisdom must look beyond former personalities and movements for direction and understanding. What God is doing is BEYOND. God told Daniel to "seal up the prophecy" because it would require a future generation to understand. There is a new generation which has risen with understanding, and those who will hear "what the Spirit says to the churches" must listen intently.

As I watched the faces of young leaders at a staff meeting in a world-renowned church recently my heart ached to just get up and shout to them,

"You can change your nation! Get up! Get full of God! Get His Power and His Resource and His Word and His Wisdom and His Enablement and storm the nations with His love and grace and mercy!!!!!!!!!!

I love the men and women God has raised up in the past generation. God has uniquely placed and is using them in this hour. Could it be though that God wants to use the former generation to provide strength and stability, while developing an entirely new generation and new concept of changing the earth? I believe something significant is contained in the Darlene Zscech song, "Touching Heaven, Changing Earth." Greater concern on "touching heaven" will produce a changed earth. The focus has been on doing "things." Developing programs, producing strategies has caused the church to focus on the "doing." God is looking for those who will concentrate on "being." If our concerns should turn from the next ministry emphasis to an emphasis on heaven, on worshipping, loving, and hearing God, and on building deep, spiritual relationships with others in the Body of Christ, the resulting transformations in our own lives would have a powerful impact on the earth!

We've got to touch heaven! We've got to become more connected with heaven than we are connected with a denomination or church! Until our supreme connection is with heaven, all our best attempts to change our world will fall flat.

This is where the heart of ministry will derive from in the coming days - from men and women who have sought the face of God and who have found relationship with one another through which the very essence of Jesus may be seen by the world.

The emerging church cannot be as churches have been, or we will no longer have a reason to exist. Let God lead into the deep, into uncharted waters, into latitudes no one has explored.

This is FLESH and BLOOD and not ORGANIZATION and BUILDINGS.

God is building something far more substantive than an organization or a building. He's building His church. It was good to be in staff meeting and to observe the "machinery" of a great church. Let us REFUSE to imitate yesterday's anointing and discover fresh anointing for today.

The Emerging Elisha Generation

James W. Goll

The Last Journey Of Elijah And Elisha

For the past several months I have been meditating on The Elisha Generation -- the generation of believers who walk in the double anointing. Having co-authored the book on Elijah's Revolution with Lou Engle and then composed The Coming Prophetic Revolution, I am now building on those teachings and reaching forward into what comes next. The following are some thoughts on the emerging Elisha Generation.

Let's consider the quest of Elisha to obtain all he could from the Lord and also through the human agency of his relationship with Elijah. As recorded in II Kings 2, this journey eventually took Elisha from Gilgal to Bethel to Jericho, and finally to the Jordan. Each of these four stations prophetically represented strategic events in Israel's pilgrimage. But the encounters at these four locations also became a test to see if Elisha would settle for the best of the past or if he would cross over as a new generation pioneer into territory that had not yet been possessed as an inheritance.
Let's look at these four locations and see what they represent.
A. Gilgal is the place where Israel set up its base camp before subduing and possessing Canaan, under the leadership of Joshua. But, first, all the men had to be circumcised (Joshua 5:2-3). Circumcision is an outward sign of a covenant people (Genesis 17:9-14; Romans 2:29; Colossians 2:11). To be enabled to walk out your prophetic purpose for the next generation, one must be "cut in the flesh." This symbolically represents the work of the Cross in the disciple's life. Gilgal means "to roll back" or "the reproach has been rolled away."

B. Bethel was named by Jacob after the Genesis 28:19 experience where the Gate of Heaven was opened up and the angels descended and ascended. The manifested presence of God appeared and the place was called The House of God.
The Holy Spirit wants to take us from the place of the removal of the flesh to the House of God where His presence dwells. But don't camp there -- there is more! Elijah tells Elisha to stay at Bethel. This became another test of hunger and desperation for Elisha and an opportunity to cross over into more territory.

C. Jericho is a fragrant place founded by God where the dividing walls come down. Many want to stay simply at the House of His presence but don't capture a city-taking mindset. Elijah tests Elisha by telling him to stay at Bethel. Most of us would love that assignment. But we must see that there is more than just having a house of renewal -- we must take cities for God.

D. Jordan means to subdue or to take down an enemy. The river Jordan was a historic geographic marker that separated the promise being in the future to the promise being acted out today. Elisha had to move past Jericho and cross the Jordan if he was to come into the fullness of his inheritance for his generation. The promise of multiplication comes on the other side of the river!

DOING THE DOUBLE -- A LOOK AT THE MINISTRY OF ELISHA

According to II Kings 2:9-14, Elisha asked for a double portion and received the prophetic mantle that fell from Elijah. The scriptures record 7 miracles that Elijah was used to accomplish. There are 14 recorded miracles from the life of Elisha. Elijah had one raised from the dead -- Elisha is known for two! Look with me at 8 of the miracles Elisha accomplished and let's interpret them as a prophetic parable in light of an entire Elisha Generation arising.

1) II Kings 4:1-7 -- Multiplication of Oil into Empty Vessels

Prophetic evangelism outside the house will be the mark of this generation. Go find empty vessels and fill them. Let the oil flow!

2) II Kings 4:8-17 -- Barren, Prominent Women Released and Productive

Women released into prominent positions bearing fruit for the Kingdom is the portion for this generation. The barren body of Christ shall be healed and bring forth many sons and daughters.

3) II Kings 4:32-37 -- Stretching Oneself so that Life is Restored into the Body

We will be laid down lovers and stretch ourselves out for the Body of Christ and breathe new life into her. The dead body shall arise!

4) II Kings 4:38-41 -- End of the Poisoned Food Line

Instead of going to church and receiving doubt-filled, poisoned food -- the poisoned food line will end and health will be restored.

5) II Kings 6:1-7 -- Restoring Lost Axe Heads

Former anointings will be restored as we return to our cutting edge. Waves of God's presence will restore all the best of the past and usher in a new era where God's house is expanded.

6) II Kings 6:15-17 -- Opening of Eyes to be Able to See into the Spirit World

The prophetic will be used to release the seer grace upon others. Spiritual eyes will be opened and new insights into victorious spiritual warfare will be released.

7) II Kings 13:14-19 -- Hands Put on Kings Hands for Wartime Strategies

The Elisha Generation will lay hands on the hands of governmental leaders and impart strategies for end-time activities. Prophets will impact leaders in the market place and secular government -- not just the church.

8) II Kings 13:20-21 -- The Dead Raised from Bones of the Past

The Elisha Generation is built on relational mentoring in the anointing. But they must also aim at leaving a "lineage and a legacy" where the impact of the Supernatural is left behind.

THE HINGE FROM ONE GENERATION TO THE NEXT

Is there a key that enables one generation to go farther than its predecessor? Is there a key found in the life of Elijah and Elisha? What is the hinge that allows the door to swing open instead of shut?

Elisha's cry for the double portion was not just for himself but for his entire generation. He knew that it would take more of God's grace and power to impact his generation. Consider these things Elisha did:

1) He served in another's sphere
2) He passed the tests presented and picked up his own cross
3) He saw in the Spirit
4) He lifted a cry
5) He understood honor
6) He had a revelation of fatherhood
7) He received his inheritance and acted it out!

Elisha cried out, "My father, my father, the chariots of Israel and its horsemen!" Herein lays a great key! Elisha asked for, received, and accomplished the "double." How? He had a double revelation of fatherhood. He saw Elijah -- his forerunner -- as a father in the Spirit and honored him in such a manner. I believe he also saw that God was his Father and thus could walk in profound authority out of this secure relationship. He had nothing to prove -- he was his Father's son!

THE GREAT WORKS GENERATION

A generation that is placed upon the shoulders of the fathers and mothers who have gone before them, and a generation of believing believers who walk in security of identity of the Fatherhood of God, will be the Greater Works Generation that Jesus declared was coming. John 14:12 declares, "And greater works then these shall you do; because I go to the Father."

It is time for authentic Fathers and Mothers in the Word and Spirit to arise and invest their lives into the next generation. They are those who are genuine veterans of the ways of God and pioneers who have blazed a trail for others. It is time for the Greater Works Generation to arise -- who know the Father, who magnify the Son, and who live in the Spirit. Let the Elisha Generation come forth for Jesus Christ's sake! Amen and Amen!

FROM THE DESK OF JAMES W. GOLL

I am now working diligently on the book God Encounters co-authored with Michal Ann. This will be a follow up to The Seer and complement some of our Study Guides. My 15th Study Guide, called The Nature of God, will be out soon as well. So keep these projects in your prayers!

On another front, I have completed the first phase of passive immune therapy and continue with a comprehensive approach to treatment. Your gracious prayer and financial support is appreciated during this season of recovery from lymphoma cancer. A special Mercy Assistance Fund has been set up with this in mind. Periodic Health and Prayer Updates are posted on our web site as well. We value you and are so pleased to have an army of believing believers standing with us!

In Jesus!

A Word for 2005
January 01, 2005

With the dawn of each New Year, I am both thankful and amazed at the ongoing expansion of collective revelation that is available to the Body of Christ, through words shared abroad and from many different streams. It is then as we piece-together the various words forthcoming, that we stand to gain tremendous insight into what is transpiring about us.

I Corinthians 12:13 reminds us that "…by one Spirit we were all baptized…and have been made to drink into one Spirit." As well, Ephesians 4:16 reminds us that "…from the whole body, joined and knit together by what every joint supplies…by which every joint does its share, causes the growth of the body…"

In light of my thoughts thus far, it is in the Spirit of Ephesians 4:16 that I wish to offer you a word I feel the Holy Spirit has given me for the Body of Christ at large, for 2005.

As I pen the thoughts that follow, Gigi and I are deeply grieved, saddened and shocked by the enormity of the carnage in south Asia following the Tsunamis of December 26. Without question accordingly, there are deeply significant spiritual implications of what has transpired herein. I have reserved and contained commentary on this disaster, to an article I penned on October 2, 2004, which was a prophetic precursor inspired by dreams of Tsunamis sometime prior. The article was entitled accordingly, Tsunami.

Though I have largely contained my thoughts relative to the Tsunamis, to my article of October 2, 2004, I will yet offer that I believe this disaster is an unquestionable prelude to unprecedented revival throughout Indonesia, India, Sri Lanka and Thailand. The natural mind would surely reel at such a comment. To think that God Himself would first allow for such devastation, and secondly, use such devastation to ultimately spark revival, is preposterous. However, upon my last observation, God still prefers not to confine his trans-finite ways to finite thinking. Isaiah 55:8 reads accordingly: "My thoughts are not your thoughts, nor are your ways My ways, says the Lord."

Mel Tari, an Evangelist to Indonesia, released a book in the mid-1970s entitled: Like A Mighty Wind. The book chronicled a sweeping revival in Indonesia, which, if I recall correctly, encompassed primarily a period between the mid-1950s thru the late-1960s. To date this book is one of the most powerful accounts of revival that I have read. It reads like the Book of Acts—on espresso. Having read the book in 1982, I was certain for some unexplainable reason, that this account but chronicled a birth pang in Indonesia, and that one day during my lifetime, Indonesia would be once again set ablaze with outrageous revival. I do believe that in very short order, we will witness this blaze ensue—despite the surrealistic carnage we are viewing presently on many news networks following the Tsunamis of December 26, 2004.

I have long believed, and with very strong conviction, that significant natural occurrences and natural disasters quite often represent a symbolic prelude to significant spiritual activity. Though my personal conclusion is largely rooted in the patterns I have witnessed and personally experienced over a 24-year period, my conclusion is substantiated in scripture. I Corinthians 15:46 reads accordingly: "The spiritual is not first, but the natural, and afterward the spiritual." In this context, what follows is what I believe to be the Holy Spirit's answer to my recent prayer for a specific word for the Body of Christ in 2005.

Alaska has in decades past, represented many prophetic preludes to significant spiritual activity in this nation, and abroad. In my Tsunami article, I offered reference to significant natural events occurring many decades ago, which I believe ultimately fueled the Charismatic Renewal, which began in the 1960's. Over the past 10 years or so, Juneau Alaska namely, has been experiencing a most unusual bout with Bald Eagles. In fact, not far from Juneau, on Kodiak Island alone, an estimated 3,000 or more Bald Eagles currently make their home. Several recent Naturalist and Wildlife journals have also documented a very sharp upturn in the Bald Eagle population, which is making a substantial comeback following near extinction of not more than a few decades ago. The year 2004 alone represented an unusual acceleration in the multiplication of this magnificent bird.

The Bald Eagle has become an icon within the prophetic community—a phrase or label that inadequately denotes what is actually the Lord's restoration of the prophetic ministry to the Church. In simple terms, Prophets are the eyes of the Body of Christ. In like manner, Bald Eagles are the eyes of the animal kingdom. Bald Eagles can reach speeds upwards of 200 mph in a vertical dive. They also have vision that is 8 times more acute than human beings. For example, they can spot a fish at a distance of 2 miles.

(My growing fascination with the Bald Eagle began with an encounter with one, on 09/09/99, in the mountains of northeastern North Carolina. I will reserve commentary on that experience for another article).

Over a period of several years, the Bald Eagle has presented a most unusual problem for Juneau Alaska and the Greater Juneau region. The eagles ongoing build nests within radio transmitter, transformer and power line towers, as well as power sources that control telephone lines. Very often the eagles will meet with electrocution when touching a given power line. This often results in substantial power outages throughout Juneau and Kodiak Island. The general activity levels of the eagles cause other eagle-induced power outages as they go about their "housekeeping" activities within their enormous nests.

In the closing weeks of December 2004, and as I prayed for a specific word for the Body of Christ at large, I was vividly reminded of the unusual problem occurring in Juneau due to the strong presence of the Bald Eagles. As I was reminded of such, I was also given what I believe to be a prophetic analogy, which follows.

The immediate problem presented by the power outages in Juneau, is that all electronic activity suddenly comes to a screeching halt. Imagine then for a moment, what this looks like in the context of an average home. Suddenly one cannot carry on a conversation on the phone. Suddenly one cannot even carry on a conversation on a ce*ll phone* that is tower-based. Suddenly one cannot view television. Suddenly one cannot access the Internet. Suddenly one cannot listen to their hi-fi stereo. And suddenly, one finds ones' self sitting in silence, often times--in the dark.

The average American lifestyle is grossly permeated by technological gadgetry and undue reliance therein. As well, the noises generated by such, to include noise and associated activity levels generated by our reliance upon automobiles, largely consumes our daily lives. We Americans are strongly influenced by audio/visual technological and subsequent sensory overload. This influence has unduly and gradually yet very subtly infiltrated the lives of the average American Christian. In fact, we feel quite uncomfortable when we cannot simultaneously watch television, listen to our MP3 players and access the Internet—at the same time. Though I stand to incur sharp rebuttal with this comment, I strongly believe that the proposition and subsequent diagnosis of "ADD" (Attention Deficit Disorder) is very often not more than the psychological conditioning which comes about by being raised in a society that is consumed in a reliance upon audiovisual and technological gadgetry. As a pastor, I have observed attention-span patterns within congregations over several years. I have found that on the average, most people who claim and/or adopt the ADD diagnosis shift their focus approximately every 7 minutes. The vast majority of these "shifters" are men. Would you care to know how often, on the average, a commercial is aired on television? Every seven minutes.

Physiologically speaking, men are more visually stimulated than are women. Visual reliance, captivation and ultimate addiction therefore to television and Internet activity is most prevalent in men.

As one who has personally extended pastoral care and counseling for 24 years at this point, to include more than average exposure to formal education in the field of counseling psychology and psychiatry, to include as well a thorough familiarity with the DSM-IV; I have discerned some very subtle and alarming patterns within the medical community and associated pharmaceutical industry. It is my belief that various agencies conspire to produce new psychological and psychiatric diagnoses, to fuel the industry. As evidence of this pattern, I have personally witnessed countless numbers of people nearly rejoice at the introduction of a new psychological diagnosis and subsequent entry into the DSM-IV. For "Finally, I have found a diagnosis that describes just what I have!" This diagnosis and new psych-industry buzzword quickly becomes the central focus of a persons' identity. They then use the new identity very proudly, much like some sort of earned honor. Moreover, since their insurance largely covers the associated new medications, they begin consuming the medication at the same rate they might consume M&M's. They happily receive the new psychiatric diagnosis and allow the associated medication to became a part of their lives—indefinitely. In fact, they are often told that they must take the medication—indefinitely. I believe that psychiatric medications dull and distort ones' spiritual antennae. I also believe that psychiatric medications, when deemed necessary, should only serve as a bridge over figurative troubled waters. Once the patient then makes it to the other side of the bridge, the reliance upon such medication should be forsaken, as often times waiting on the other side of that bridge is the Holy Spirit—ready to administer a transformation of the mind and emotions. I will state for the record that I believe there are some understandable and authentic medical exceptions to this rule. However by and large, the industry is heavily laden with such erroneous dependencies.

As many of you may recall within the exceptionally prophetically relevant movie The Matrix, "Neo" agreed to attend a critical meeting with "Morpheus." Neo was initially propelled to meet with Morpheus in response to a gnawing and restless feeling deep within his soul, that there was much more going on in the world about him than that which constituted his personal daily experience. He had a nagging feeling that he was living within a vain and repetitious bubble of life, which resulted in an empty void of purpose and fulfillment in his life. When he finally met Morpheus, Morpheus offered Neo the option of taking "the Red pill," or "the Blue pill." Irrespective of the application of the respective colors within the movie, blue is a prophetic symbol of revelation. One of the pills offered to Neo would open his mind to shocking, startling, and terribly painful yet vital—truth. The other pill, should Neo have chosen such, would completely erase Neo's memory of ever having met with Morpheus. Neo would then live the remainder of his life running on a figurative and constant wheel within a hamster's cage of a lifestyle, and attempting to ignore the deep gnawing in his soul, which told him there was something much greater to life than his present existence. Neo ultimately chose the pill that opened the door of profound revelation of who he was, and the horrendous war being waged around him.

As I take the helm of this word and steer it back to our charted course, I wish to prompt you to return again to the mental image of the Alaskans in Juneau, who, within the course of but a few seconds, have gone from a flurry of sensory overload and activity, and into sudden silence and stillness. This picture, I believe, is that of a very specific call to the Body of Christ in 2005, to renew the practice of intimate one-on-one time with the Lord, and once again learn to recognize His "still, small voice" in the midst of utter and total chaos.

Every calendar year within the life of the Believer, in a general sense can be considered another year of preparation. However, within the context of 2005, I believe that the specific element of preparation being imparted is that of the renewed discipline of daily, secret, quite, intimate and intense times of complete stillness and silence before the Lord—in our figurative prayer closets, and that with absolutely no distractions of any kind. This discipline by the way, is not to be confused with the discipline of Worship, which I believe should often entail extravagant release of emotion and celebration before the Lord.

As you may recall, in I Kings 19:11-12, God visits and imparts revelation to Elijah. However, He does so in an unexpected way, and in a way that if demonstrated in our day, would also be unexpected--some 2000 years later. This excerpt of scripture reads as follows: "'Go out, and stand on the mountain before the Lord.' And behold, the Lord passed by, and a great and strong wind tore into the mountains and broke the rocks in pieces before the Lord, but the Lord was not in the wind; and after the wind an earthquake, but the Lord was not in the earthquake; and after the earthquake a fire, but the Lord was not in the fire; and after the fire a still small voice."

It is the "still small voice" of the Holy Spirit beckoning each of us in this hour, that will speak peace, mental and emotional stability, rest, focus and resolve to us in the midst of what is now an hour of world chaos, not unlike that described on the mountain on which Elijah stood, just prior to the "still small voice." And it is critical, at this very moment, to begin re-cultivating a portion of each day, for the express purpose of sitting before the Lord, in silence and stillness, that we might hear the still small voice, and in so doing receive vital, daily and personal sustenance, affirmation and instruction for our lives. We can no longer afford to be governed by the sensory chaos about us, and by secondhand revelation from those who are truly contending for daily interaction with the still small voice of God. We must begin to hear this voice for ourselves, daily.

Over the past few years, and with an increasing sense of urgency, especially in light of the addition of the catastrophic events of December 26, 2004 in south Asia, I am personally convinced beyond any doubt that we are very near the End of the Age as described in Luke 21:8-26, which reads: "Take heed that you not be deceived…The time has drawn near…when you hear of wars and commotions, do not be terrified; for these things must come to pass first, but the end will not come immediately…Nation will rise against nation…there will be great earthquakes in various places, and famines and pestilences; and there will be fearful sights and great signs from heaven…When you see Jerusalem surrounded by armies, then know that its desolation is near…There will be signs…on the earth distress of nations, with perplexity, the sea and the waves roaring; men's hearts failing them from fear…"

One obviously does not have to be a student of Eschatology to recognize the timely relevance of the aforementioned excerpt of scripture.

Luke 21:8-26 is but one of several excerpts of scripture that prophecy an all-consuming fear that will plague mankind as End-Times events unfold. In this context, and with reference to previous commentary on the current erroneous practices within the psychiatric community; does "Generalized Anxiety Disorder" ring a bell? GAD is simply another word for the "fear" that has been prophesied that will plague the unsaved. It is already being sown among us. In addition, if we are not careful as members of the Americanized Church; as we continue to allow pop-psychology to infiltrate our churches, we too will fall-prey to the collective diagnosis of Generalized Anxiety Disorder.

As Jesus came very near to the end of his earthbound life, and as the agony in his awareness of his fast approaching execution began to bare-down on his mind and emotions, he removed Himself from all outward activity and retreated to the Mount of Olives, also called the Garden of Gethsemane. Luke 22:41 reads "…He was withdrawn from them [His disciples] about a stone's throw, and He knelt down and prayed…" This practice of Jesus' is a profound model for what should be our resolve to press-in to a renewed devotion to time alone with the Lord—daily. Olive branches have long symbolized peace. And in the same way that Jesus withdrew Himself on the Mount of Olives to pray, we too can find the "peace that surpasses all understanding" (Phil. 4:6-7), even in the midst of world chaos, as we enter our figurative prayer closets. We simply cannot afford to compromise in this area of our lives any longer. We must have daily moments of complete stillness and silence, that we can hear what the Holy Spirit is saying to us—personally.

The thoughts and emotions that weighed heavily upon Jesus as He approached His final hours before his crucifixion were not unlike what is known in the military as "The Fog of War." The Fog of War is the confusion that invariably ensues in the heat of battle. As a former Navy sailor who has "faced the elephant" (a phrase coined in the Vietnam war, to denote those who've experienced combat first hand) I can tell you that confusion, as the result of gruesome sights, deafening noises and impending danger, does create a tremendous "fog" of psychological and emotional confusion. However the promise in Philippians 4:7 stands true—through the fog: "…By prayer…the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, will guard your hearts and minds…"

Throughout scripture, the very early morning hours of the day appear to be the common focus of major and pivotal figures with respect to time alone with God. Consider another excerpt which bares example to Jesus' practice: "And in the early morning, while it was still dark, He [Jesus] arose and went out and departed to a lonely place, and was praying there (Mark 1:35). And even long before the earthly life of Jesus, this pattern of early morning prayer was gracefully modeled by King David: "My voice You shall hear in the morning, O Lord; in the morning I will direct it to you, and I will look up" (Psalm 5:3).

I have often likened the practice and the experience of early morning prayer and quiet-time as that symbolic of climbing a mountain—coming closer to the face of God with each step. In this light I can think of no more colorful representation of this process than that represented in Moses as he regularly ascended Mount Sinai to seek the face of God: "…Be ready by morning, and come up in the morning to Mount Sinai, and present yourself there to Me on the top of the mountain (Exodus 34:2). Later in this chapter we observe the result of Moses' time with God: …It came about when Moses was coming down from Mount Sinai…that Moses did not know that the skin of his face shone because of his speaking with Him" (Exodus 34:29).

Moses' encounter is also a profound representation of the purist form of ministry we can engage in within our lifetimes—the very ministry unto the Lord. And once we have served Him in this way, within the context of a given day, everything else that transpires within the course of the day as it unfolds bares His trademarks and semblance ("his [Moses] face shone").

It is my belief that the vast majority of personal prophecies we receive are conditional. By this, I mean that we must meet a certain condition in order to see these prophecies fulfilled in our lives. At the very core of these conditions is that of hearing the voice of the Lord, for ourselves, each day, with respect to what it is we must do to lay the groundwork for the fulfillment of such prophecies over our lives. As we ascend the figurative mountain of prayer, as did Moses, and that each day, our ministries will begin to unfold before us in such ways that will be so natural that we will only recognize the fulfillment of such as we look back in retrospect.

Framed and behind glass, on the wall next to the doorway in my bedroom, is a reminder that plagues me with conviction each time I find myself rushing passed it—early in the morning. It is an excerpt from one of many books I have read of Dietrich Bonhoeffer, the German theologian who was martyred for his faith in Nazi Germany. This excerpt reads as follows:

"The entire day receives order and discipline when it acquires unity. This unity must be sought and found in morning prayer. It is confirmed in work. The morning prayer determines the day. Squandered time of which we are ashamed, temptations to which we succumb, weaknesses and lack of courage in work, disorganization and lack of discipline in our thoughts and in our conversation with other men [and women] all have their origin most often in the neglect of morning prayer."

Bonhoeffer was obviously onto something, as despite his horrendous suffering in Nazi Germany, every photo that I have see of him includes a smile that radiates "the peace that surpasses all understanding." That peace is awaiting you and I—in our prayer closets.

Many within the readership of this article are called very pointedly to prophetic ministry, above and beyond other areas of ministry and gifting you are involved in. You are Watchmen on The Walls. As such, you are charged with regular and extended periods on the figurative wall, that you can see the fast approach of events that affect the fortress in which you have been assigned (your respective church or ministry). The precious saints that constitute your church or ministry are dependent upon your eyes to see what is approaching the camp. That wall is calling, friends. And the watch most often occurs very early in the morning, late at night, or both.

I wish to close my thoughts by alluding to a phrase that a very important friend in my life once used in conversation with me, the phrase it this: "Rock Star Pastor." Our decidedly Americanized brand of Christianity (my country) has largely generated the Rock Star Pastor mentality. This to say that we have grown mega-churches that are centered around one charismatic, photogenic and very animated individual who feeds an enormous flock. The most mature among we Believers are still prone to human frailties. One of the ongoing frailties that is also an integral part of these Rock Star Pastors, is the source and medium upon which they receive personal affirmation. In the past 18 months, two national surveys that I am aware of sought to determine the average time each day that a pastor spends in prayer. Both surveys revealed identical results. The average time in personal prayer that an American pastor spends each day is five minutes.

As we scurry about in a state of sensory-overload, stress and pressure from one day to the next, it is not possible to hear the still small voice of the Lord adequately, if we are devoting but five minutes each to prayer. This is not enough time to receive the personal affirmation we need to confidently face the pressures of each day. With this void in our lives, we therefore default to seeking affirmation from those in our midst. This is where the Rock Star Pastor finds his/her sustenance—through the overwhelming praise and accolades that can be electrifying in larger audiences. This dynamic can be addictive. It can then subtly begin to govern the Pastors' medium of sustenance. And what began as a humble and daily diet of romance with the Savior, has grown out of control and into an unhealthy romance with fame and fortune—the Rock Star Pastor mentality.

Understand that I believe there are many mega-churches who are being led by men and women of God who do in fact spend their early mornings on figurative Mt. Sinai and the Mount of Olives. However, for each one that is healthy and sound, there are two that are not. And those that are not, among other things, cultivate an undue dependence upon themselves within their congregations. We should not be dependent upon any one human being for our daily revelation. This is our responsibility. We need leadership and we must submit to leaders in authority over us, however we must dig our own personal wells of revelation, if we are to survive the times that are suddenly upon us.

The number Five is a number that is figurative and symbolic of Grace. I therefore believe that the year 2005 holds for us a very special and specific element of Grace, which will enable us to be prepared for what unfolds in 2006. Six is a number that is figurative and symbolic of Man. I there believe, and have believed for some time, that the year 2006 holds the potential for an epic demonstration of Man's utter and total failure in attempting to manage world order. I have long believed that 2006 holds the potential for a catastrophic blow to the American economy. It is my prayer that this potential with be thwarted through intercession. Seven is a number that is figurative and symbolic of Completion. I therefore believe that 2007 will hold the fulfillment of a substantial event within of God's master plan, which will be the completion of very specific and significant prophesies in scripture. Eight is the number that is figurative and symbolic of New Beginnings. I therefore believe that in 2008, those who have endured and have stayed the course will see a new level of Signs, Wonders and the Anointing of God that will defy the imagination.

The Bald Eagles in Juneau Alaska are telling us something, loved ones. The Spirit of Prophecy Himself is calling us to a lifestyle of daily intimacy with Him in 2005. As such, I am convinced that He is imparting a heightened sensitivity to excesses in exposure to common and daily media such as televisions, cell phones, the Internet, MP3 players and car radios. I believe that if you have not begun to experience this gentle nudging within your spirit, you will very soon, as 2005 unfolds. You will find yourself developing an aversion to excessive exposure to audio/visual media. And you will also more so hear a still small voice, calling in the distance, beckoning and wooing you to Him, that He may in turn love you, heal you, equip you and affirm you as His son or daughter, each day, that you can greet each day with the focus and resolve of the noble warrior that He has called you to be.

The Emperor Has No Clothes On!

Jill Austin

(Www.Masterpotter.Com)

I would like to share with you an open vision the Lord gave me, which is a prophetic parable of the state of the church today. The setting is that of a charming 18th century village in Victorian England.

In the vision, I saw that the village had experienced a powerful outpouring of the Spirit, but the fire had been slowly and ever-so-subtly allowed to flicker out, opening the way for religious spirits of witchcraft and manipulation to move in and destroy its destiny.

I watch in horror as an enormous red dragon moves through the village undetected as strange fire and poisonous sulfur erupts from her gapping mouth. Her leathery scales rub abrasively, tearing and bruising all those who come in contact with her.

Pregnant with vile offspring, she lays her gruesome eggs of manipulation, self-promotion, and politics throughout the village. As I continue to watch, dark fiendish figures burst forth from her eggs, seeping into every residence open to her deception and flattery.

Their victim's eyes become dim and their tongues forked as they take on the characteristics of their unseen enemy. A veil of darkness covers the hearts and minds of many in the small community.

A Prophetic Warning!

Standing their watch on the ancient walls, prophetic intercessors recognize the raging dragon and her children and sound their trumpets in alarm. "Strange fire is being released into our midst. The fire of Holy Spirit is being put out!" The Emperor and his counselors turn deaf ears to the Watchmen and ignore their call for repentance and prayer.

Guarding their stance, they retort, "After all, our village has been known for the outpouring of the Spirit."

To reinforce the faith of the people, they decree a festive celebration to take place the following month. The whole village eagerly prepares for the extravaganza.

Allowed to continue her work, the dragon and her offspring infiltrate even further, cloaking their deeds behind the busy activities taking place and spew forth even more of their evil venom.

The Grand Procession!

The next scene materializes as the day arrives. Look! The Emperor and his counselors are pompously marching down the middle of town with dancers, musicians, and singers following. Cheering crowds gather. The loud speakers announce how beautifully the Emperor is dressed and how the anointing sparkles like dazzling diamonds. The people look on with awe and reverence.

As the procession moves through the throngs, the Emperor's counselors draw near to whisper their sage advice, "The anointing is growing like never before. Look how popular you are. The peasants love you."

"Oh yes," another whispers, "They do love you. Have you noticed how the treasury has increased? And look how the people are dancing in the streets to the new wine and music. After all, we have the most anointed musicians and dancers in the nation."

"You, O' Emperor, are covered in a glorious mantle --- the likes of which others only dream of! Surely we are at the beginning of great things."

Childlike Faith

In the distant crowd, a child's voice can be heard above the din, "Mommy! Daddy! The Emperor has no clothes on. He's naked!"

Moving quickly, the counselors bark out orders, "Silence that child!"

But the child will not be still, "Can't you see Mommy? Can't anyone see it?"

The truth spoken with childlike faith results in gleaming angelic swords being drawn, readied for battle. The watchmen have been crying out day and night for reinforcements. Quickly, angelic hosts circumcise hearts and open the eyes of the crowd bowing low to the Emperor.

They gasp, "He's naked! The Emperor is naked! Where's the anointing? I thought the mantle of God's government was upon him. What happened?"

The Emperor's ears are finally opened to hear in the Spirit the sounds of war, as swords clash and the hosts of Heaven wage war against the dragon and her children. Spinning around to face his advisors, the Emperor charges them, "You lied to me! Why is it that I hear the truth from a child -- instead of you?"

Do Not Remove Your Spirit From Me

Hot tears fall from the eyes of the Father, melt the Emperor's heart and open his spiritual eyes. "I have no covering. The anointing has left. I am naked!"

Looking over the crowd lining the narrow, winding streets, he begins to make out the horde of dark spirits invading his village. The once powerful and anointed man falls helplessly onto his face, "I'm a dead man, the village is destroyed. Oh God, what have I done? How did I become so blind? Do not remove your Spirit from me. I can't live without You."

Fear and panic hits the crowd as the dragon becomes visible for all to see. They scatter in all directions searching for a safe place to hide. Some die in this dark, barren place, once called the "City of the Lord."

Sword of Repentance

Above City Hall stands a huge angel exclaiming, "When we brought the Ark of the Lord and His Presence to this village, we also brought the First Sword. It passed over your hearts to bring repentance and reawaken First Love. His consuming fire came to break off all that hindered love and you were glad and rejoiced."

Sword of Judgment

"Now a Second Sword is passing over the village, a Sword of Judgment. The Word tested those of you who received the heaviest and most beautiful prophetic words. Many of your hearts were revealed in pride and self-promotion, which opened the doorway for strange fire to fall on the altars of your hearts."

I watched as the Angel passed the Second Sword over the people. Those who fell on their faces in humility and repentance before the Living God were not touched. Those who stood tall in pride and opposition to God unknowingly called forth the dragon and brought devastation to themselves and their children.

Finally, the Angel declares, "This village was called not only to be His servant, but also His bride; to become a prophetic womb, impregnated by His Spirit and bring forth His Manifest Presence to the nations of the earth."

"There's always a contesting and heavy spiritual warfare where the dragon rages to abort the things of the Spirit realm in the earth. Birthing is bloody, but also a tremendous privilege. There's a "Price behind the Anointing."

Behind Closed Doors

Confusion increases as the war rages and secret meetings behind closed doors continue. Fighting and jealousy over positions begins to blind and deceive once valiant warriors. The dragon plants her malevolent eggs of pride and elitism in the minds of the rebellious. They go off like grenades in explosions of anger and rage.

The Bridegroom sadly watches as the fire goes out on His altar and His precious Spirit is delegated to the back room. The angels bow down as He weeps over the city and the Father declares, "The fragrance of My Son has left."

Meanwhile, the counselors are busy trying to defend their position and rationalize away the fears of the Emperor, while the dragon destroys more lives and ministries. Disease and death spread throughout the ravished city as the dragon moves in for the ultimate kill. People become numb to their pain and slowly ... ever-so-slowly they move into denial. Hot tears flow from the Emperor's eyes onto the blood-soaked battlefield.

Watchmen Beware!

The dragon has sent out a death warrant for each of the watchmen. If his henchmen cannot take their lives, they silence their voices and gorge out their 'seeing' eyes. The seers leave one by one. Many slip away silently in the dark of the night desperately asking God where to go next, but due to the devastation, there are no city gates open to them and they are left hiding in the wilderness. Those left behind watch as yet another one is driven away. One by one, the ax falls and heads roll.

False Reports and Fear of Man

The loud speakers broadcast false reports of how the seers are being sent to a new work in another state or nation. Everything is covered with flattery and deception. It seems that broken hearts and torn covenants are all that's left.

Fear of the tremendous power of the Emperor and his counselors to destroy their future ministries has silenced those remaining. No one talks, control and order is the rule of the day and barrenness is the high price they pay for respectability.

Helplessly, I look on, as this terrible war in the spirit continues. Many of the people are not even aware it is destroying their city. The altar of their hearts becomes colder and colder as the Presence of God lifts.

Finally, Holy Spirit is pushed out of the sanctuary and the dragon and her children spread like a deadly plague. The heavens are angry and grieved as the war continues to wage and disease and death take their premature toll on the Bride.

Only the consuming fire of God will ignite passion and hunger for Jesus so we can wage war effectively. Without the Spirit, how can we hope to hear the Commander and Chief give us His strategies for the war over each of our communities and cities?

Loyal to a Movement or to God

So who is wrong? The Emperor? The counselors? The people? All of the above! The Emperor is guilty of compromise and control, the counselors for flattery and lies and the people for idolizing a man or a movement. They became loyal to a false kingdom, rather than the Lord of Lords and Kings of Kings. Some of the seers stirred the prophetic wars and became power hungry to get the Emperor's favor and drive out other seers so they could gain control of the hearts of the leaders and the people.

Respectability Versus Anointing!

Has the fire gone out on the altar of your heart? Do you have the revelation and strategies of warfare to oust the dragon and her children from your midst? Are you flattering the ears of the Emperor to win position and favor? Are you on your face in repentance and humility before the Second Sword passes over your city?

Has God brought the prophets in for a season to test your heart? Are you willing to let your city be the womb of the Spirit to birth forth the prophetic and apostolic to the world? Or, will your altar grow colder and colder? Respectability versus anointing!

The Earth Is the Lord’s

Terry Suggs

Psalm 24

The earth is the Lord’s and the fulness thereof; the world and they that dwell therein.

Ephesians 1:3-11

May blessing (praise, laudation, and eulogy) be to the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ (the Messiah) Who has blessed us in Christ with every (given by the Holy Spirit) blessing in the heavenly realm.

Even as (in His love) He chose us (actually picked us out for Himself as His Own) In Christ before the foundation of the World, that we should be holy (consecrated and set apart for Him) blameless in His sight, even above reproach, before Him in Love. For He foreordained us (destined us, planned in love for us) to be adopted (revealed) as His Own children through Jesus Christ, in accordance with the purpose of His will (because it pleased Him and was His kind intent)

So that we might be to the praise and the commendation of His glorious grace (favor and mercy), which He so freely bestowed on us in the beloved.

In Him we have redemption (deliverance and salvation) through His blood, the remission (forgiveness) of our offenses (shortcomings and trespasses), in accordance with the riches and the generosity of His gracious favor. Which He lavished upon us in every kind of wisdom and understanding practical insight and prudence.

Making known to us the mystery (secret) of His will (of His plan, of His purpose). (And it is this) in accordance with His good pleasure (His merciful intention) which He had previously purposed and set forth in Him.

He planned for the maturity of the times and the climax of the ages to unify all things and head them in Christ, both things in Heaven and things on the earth.

In Him we also were made God’s heritage (portion) and we obtained an inheritance; for we had been foreordained (chosen and appointed beforehand) in accordance with His purpose, Who works out everything in agreement with the counsel and design of His (Own) will.

God has the hairs of everyone’s head numbered. He knows everything bout everyone and still loves us.

God made the earth and put everything in its place. He has people in their locations in this world for His purposes.

I Chronicles 28::11-13

Yours, O Lord, is the greatness and the power and the glory and the glory and the victory and the majesty, for all that is in the heavens and the earth is Yours; Yours is the kingdom, O Lord, and Yours it is to be exalted as Head over all.

Both riches and honor come from You, and You reign over all. In Your hands are power and might; In Your hands it is to make great and to give strength to all.

Now therefore, our God we thank You and praise Your glorious name and those attributes which that name denotes.

Isaiah 45:22-25

Look to Me and be saved, all the ends of the earth! For I Am God, and there is no other.

I have sworn by Myself, the word is gone out of My mouth in righteousness and shall not return, that unto ME every knee shall bow, and every tongue shall swear (allegiance)

Only in the Lord shall one say, I have righteousness (salvation and victory) and strength to achieve. To Him shall all come who were incensed against Him, and they shall be ashamed.

In the Lord shall all the offspring of Israel be justified (enjoy righteousness, salvation, and victory) and shall glory.

Ephesians 2:17

And He came and preached the glad tidings of peace to you who were afar off and peace to those who were near.

Hebrews 10:17-22

He then goes on to say, And their sins and their law-breaking I will remember no more.

Now where there is absolute remission (forgiveness an cancellation of the penalty) of these (sins and law-breaking), there is no longer any offering made to atone for sin.

Therefore, brethren, since we have full freedom and confidence to enter into the (Holy of) Holies (by the power and virtue) in the blood of Jesus,

By this fresh (new) and living way which He initiated and dedicated and opened for us through the veil of the Holy of Holies, that is through His flesh.

Since we have such a great and wonderful and noble Priest (Who rules) over the house of God,

Let us come forward and draw near with true (honest and sincere) hearts in unqualified assurance and absolute conviction engendered by faith (by that leaning of the entire human personality on God in absolute trust and confidence in His power, wisdom, and goodness), having our hearts sprinkled and purified from a guilty (evil) conscience and our bodies cleansed with pure water.

Now I want to say that when I was praying I heard the words wind and water. Speaking of the weather that we will have throughout this year.

Stay in prayer about this.

Remember all that it takes is one person praying to change the course of the entire world. If you have faith as a grain of mustard seed….

Ten Days To Decree Ten Months Of Victory

Chuck Pierce

This is a year that we must have a victory mentality. If we allow the Lord to develop a mind for victory we will enter into victory. When God is saying, VICTORY -- victory is the attitude we must embrace. Victory means final and complete supremacy in battle or war or a specific military engagement ending in triumph.

Victory can also mean success in any contest or struggle involving the defeat of an opponent or the overcoming of obstacles. It is now time to move past the obstacles that would prevent you from succeeding in what God is asking you to do! I believe what defeats us most is a spirit of defeat or failure. This is usually linked to our generations or some situation that we did not excel in. Satan seems to take this opportunity to put a mantle of reproach on us and a mind of fear instead of power. Stop now and declare VICTORY 10 times out loud.

One of the defining moments in history occurred when a massive earthquake shook Southeast Asia creating a tsunami that redefined the earth's rotation axis. During that time I was reading through the Bible and read Genesis 8:5-6:

And the waters decreased continually until the tenth month. In the tenth month, on the first day of the month, the tops of the mountains were seen. So it came to pass, at the end of forty days, that Noah opened the window of the ark which he had made. This scripture illuminated and literally seemed to leap from the page. I then heard the Lord say:

I am preparing 10 months of victory for My people. If they will develop a mind for victory, they will go from victory to victory. Just as the waters decreased that had overcome the earth, I will cause the waters that have been attempting to overcome My people to decrease. They will find themselves standing on solid ground with clear vision. Set your eyes on the top of the mountain and watch your vision develop over the next 10 months. At the end of this letter you will find 10 declarations that you need to make. This will be our 10-Day focus this month: 10 DAYS TO DECREE 10 MONTHS OF VICTORY!

Psalm 100:4: Enter into His gates with thanksgiving, and into His courts with praise: be thankful unto Him, and bless His name. Because I am disciplining myself to praise no matter the circumstance, I am in an incredible window of revelation. I am praying the same for each of you. I lead prayer on Tuesday mornings at Glory of Zion. We pray for our nation and the Body of Christ.

This last Tuesday I came with a clear directive of change. The Lord had awakened me at 3AM by saying:

You are entering a battle this next week that you have not seen before. Position yourself on the wall so that you can control the enemy at the gates. Hell is positioning itself at the gates. Be ready to win the battle at the gates. Circle your wagons and fully circle the day (2-22) in intercession. Governments will shift. Establish faith in the earth this day and go from victory to victory throughout the year.

Raise the shield of faith and bring Heaven's will into place in the earth. Declare an atmospheric shift to occur. Watch with Me while I make an atmospheric shift in this coming week. Win the atmosphere of each watch to see faith established. War for everything that has been in your heart!

There will be a supernatural release of grace over your past mistakes. Where the enemy has taken advantage, he will begin to lose his grip! I will begin to 'clean house'. I will be removing certain things that have cluttered your thinking. I will be opening up and expanding your spirit to receive an inflow of My Spirit. I will be causing the river of your womb to contract and begin to flow in a new way. This will produce a change of course in your lives. I will rearrange your mind and thought processes. I am changing the order of My troops so the armies of Heaven and My armies in the earth can win the war at the gates.

There are sounds and moves in the night which I will produce. Grab the instruments and tambourines and hear the sounds of the watch. Dance the dance of victory. Plunder the spoils of the enemy's camp. Become a secret weapon in My hand. I will develop a mindset in you that will cause you to advance from victory to victory. Receive the authority to command streets, cities, peoples and nations to change. I AM doing new things to realign nations. Hang on - breakthrough is coming! Stand firm - the morning is breaking.

This is a day that I would have you use Esther as your model. Put on your Esther garment of favor and find your place in the watch. If you will put on an Esther garment of favor you will overturn edicts written for destruction. You will break down oppressions that are set against My Spirit. You will release judgments that are executed through high praises. You will have revelation that will be a sharp, two-edged sword.

This Esther garment will also reposition the government and remove false counselors and position true counselors in place. This garment will cause My people to become alert, positioned and released for war. Wear your Esther garment and you will bring a fear of Me among My enemies so that they are afraid to war with you.

(Read Esther 9 and gain your "further request" so that your enemies do not rise again in the next generation. Read the story of Athaliah in II Kings 11.)

I am changing the vineyard around you, even the grapes you have grown in the past. Now there will be a change within them and they will produce a different taste and a different wine. I must bring new revelation down and surround My people now. I must lead My people in a new way to open My armory for them. This is a time when I am beginning to release new assignments that require new weapons. Begin to receive My leading and you will gain the weapons that will take you into the victory for the future.

I am smoothing out rocks in your past--rocks that you have not even been able to walk on in the past. Allow My river to rise up. Allow My revelation to flow from your inner belly. Those rocks that have been hardened and those places that have been jagged will begin to be smooth.

I have oil within you that I am pressing. Do not resist the pressing that you are going through at this time for it will produce an oil that will run forth for the anointing that is necessary to break the yoke. I am pressing that anointing now. Allow that pressing to occur so that the anointing will break you through into this place that I am calling you.

There is a release coming through My people. My people are not even aware of what I can pour through them. Stir it up and let it flow so that I can pour out of you. For I am testing My people over wisdom this hour. And if you intend to gain the authority at the gates I am calling you to in this hour, then you must allow wisdom to arise and revelation to flow. This is a different day and I am moving with you in a different way, and I am putting you into wars that you have not been in. Allow that which is deep within you to flow out.

There are tongues in My people - diverse tongues that will release the river of revelation from heavenly places this hour. Allow a diversity of tongues to arise so I can begin to illuminate My Word and release faith in the earth. This is a time of flowing out, bubbling up and running over. I am causing a new course and I am causing the bed of the river to change at this time. Release the strength and power that has been harnessed within you so the river will take its course this hour.

I am moving my troops into an order that they have never been moved into before. This will be the holy array for this age. I am beginning to position them in a way that they have not been positioned. Many will begin to re-align themselves behind those that I raise up for this hour. Submission will be the important factor for the hour. How you stand and where you stand and where you are submitted is important. Who you stand with is important during this hour. For My Issachar tribe knows who to align with for victory for the future. For I am changing the order of how the troops have stood in the past, and now they will be able to stand and resist ancient enemies.

During the night the enemy has positioned himself at the gates to prevent you from moving through. But I am raising up a people who know how to go into secret places to gain revelation to cause the enemy to retreat. DO NOT, DO NOT think you are in any defensive move at this time. For even the mistakes of the past I am going to rectify quickly in My Body. I will accelerate freedom in My people for a season. I will begin to position My people to press the enemy. This will be a season that the enemy will overplay his hand. This is not a season for him to have an upper hand, but this is a season for My people to stand and gain the spoils the enemy has held through your past mistakes.

You will go through a time of feeling boxed in. You will think, 'Oh my, I have been surrounded. Where is this place that I am? This place is dark, I feel overshadowed!' But this is the shadow of the Lord. This is My abiding place! I am bringing you into an inner place that you have never been before. You must come into this place that seems dark and void. In the midst of the void I will appear and I will release to you that which you have not understood before. Secret knowledge and mysteries will be released that you will carry this hour in the earth realm.

Step into that place and do not fear this hour that the Ancient of Days is releasing wisdom for you to gain victory. I will show you the future plan for increase. I will cause you to begin to position the elements of the plan together. You will move in a fluid motion to gather and assemble what is needed for your victory. I must release a prophetic anointing that has been resident in My people. Open your mouth - begin to prophesy! For the enemy has positioned himself at your gate, but through the prophetic anointing on My people he must release his hold. I am positioning you so the enemy will not have authority at the gates.

In these war times, everything that is in your heart that you are warring for is yours for the taking. Decree a decree and watch Me break forth. I am calling you into a war that is now shifting from the heavens to the earth realm. I am going to cause you to see what the enemy has been holding back at the gate. I am going to release you in a new way from a spirit of fear and timidity that has caused confusion to surround you. I am going to start multiplying you in a new way. I am going to start giving you an authority in a new way. I am looking for faith action in the earth realm.

Don't look back. Let go! I am going to clean house! You are going to be letting go of some things and grabbing hold of some other things. You are going to be rearranging your mind. Some of you will end up in places you didn't think you were supposed to be. And you are going to say, 'I am not in the right place.' And I will remind you that I am going to change the order of my troops and that repositioning is a major part of this change. You are entering a victory season and will win the war at the gates.

There are sounds in the night that I am releasing. I am calling the musicians to hear these sounds. For I am moving in the night with sounds of victory. These are sounds that will cause the gaps that have been wide to begin to be filled and rebuilt. My people will produce a sound that will remove the enemy from the gap. Things that have never come together will come together.

There are numerous instruments that will begin to resound. My musicians will even begin to diversify on what they play and how they play. For I will remove perfection and performance from My people and replace the void with the power of My symphonic Spirit. Begin to leave an instrument by your bed. Grab that instrument and release the sounds in the night. I am producing sounds that will be produced through you.

Moving from Victory to Victory over the Next 10 Months

Here are some decrees and victory points for you to use throughout the year. Do not let the enemy push you back this year. Do not let your head be overtaken by the waters of circumstance around you. Catch the waves of change and let them carry you into a whole new place -- physically as well as spiritually:

Day 1 -- Declare Victory Month 1: This is a time of sanctification. Set yourself apart and develop a mind for victory. Break the power of besetting sins. Come into a new order. Beware of the enemy's strategy to block you. I see the enemy devising a plan at the gate to stop our entry way. BUT GOD is preparing your victory. This is a time to allow the Spirit to reorder your vision.

Day 2 -- Declare Victory Month 2: This is a month to seed. What you tithe will blossom. There is a grace for your offerings to multiply 30, 60 and 100 fold. This is a month to gain victory through giving and break the curse of God robbing. (I will be sending you an article on The War to Gain Victory over Poverty.) What you seed in the second month will begin to produce great fruit. Break a three year cycle of debt and declare that your past financial defeats will reverse and begin to multiply seven fold.

Day 3 -- Declare Victory Month 3: Set aside a Purim time in your life and celebrate. The power of celebration will break through all barriers. This is a major month of change. This will be a month of travail. However, travail with joy, to bring forth. Also, declare a reversal over visions that were aborted.

Day 4 -- Declare Victory Month 4: This is a month of breaking old cycles. Ask God for signs, wonders and miracles that will intervene in old cyclical structures of your life. Make a list of old cycles that need to break. Be secure in timing. If you praised last month, then you can be set in God's perfect timing this month. This is a month to declare that everything in your past be repaired and restored so your future can be unlocked. Look up and see the window of Heaven that is opening over you. This is a month that you will gain victory in strategic warfare. Do not be afraid of ascending in worship. Find times to fast during this month. This is a time to experience God's glory. Ask God to open your eyes so you can see His glory.

Day 5 -- Declare Victory Month 5: This is a month to go to war with legalistic structures. Declare a shift in the laws that Satan has illegally positioned. You will be presented with a Mt. Sinai journey this month. Do not go around Mt. Sinai again. Begin to shout that you are going up to Zion! Ask for the Spirit of revelation and wisdom. God will pour this upon you through the window of Heaven. We must shift certain laws during this time frame or else they will create a greater bondage over the next 40 years in this nation. Ask the Lord to take the lid off of evangelical structures. Declare a great move of revival.

Day 6 -- Declare Victory Month 6: Leave old structures behind. You can easily fall into idolatry or enter into an agreement with something in your past that could lead to idolatry. Find your new place of worship. Decree that you will have victory over idolatry. This is a month to overcome anger. Cut old past losses that are linked with bitterness and move on. Be absorbed in praise. This is a month to really analyze your connections and covering. Be sure you are submitted properly. Idolatry will create a setback in your inheritance. Numbers 14 is a key passage to understand. This is the month that a new level of supply begins to be unlocked. Watch for new provisional strategies in the earth realm.

Day 7 -- Declare Victory Month 7: This is the month to gain victory completely in your thought processes. Allow the Lord to draw out old desires. He will remove some and activate others. Your thought life can be revolutionized during this time. This could be your hardest month of war. Stick close to the Lord and develop a prayer shield around you. This is a month for a new level of discernment to be released. Stay in the Word and pray in the spirit. The Lord will uncover some key issues related to the blood of Jesus, the glory, and physical healing. If you will celebrate this month, you will break through the blood barrier of old thought processes. This will produce a victory mentality for the rest of the year. Death strategies and assignments will break. You can have victory and see healing of the mind during this month. No longer do you have to be hung between two opinions. Break doublemindedness.

Day 8 -- Declare Victory Month 8: This is a month to seek the King. Do not be afraid to seek the King. Bring your faults, failures and everything about you into the Throne Room. This will be a month to push forward quickly through intersections. Memorize Psalms 127 and 121. He will make Himself available in night seasons through dreams and visions. He will be very near those who seek Him while He is near. Expect abundant grace and mercy to be poured out. Changes will culminate!

Day 9 -- Declare Victory Month 9: Those who have remained strong and faithful can expect to prosper in a new way. Receive a new measure of strength. This is a month of reaping what we have sown. Ask God for mercy and receive grace. This is a month that our words become very important.

Day 10 -- Declare Victory Month 10: Your testimony shall overcome the enemy's plan. Watch for victorious testimonies to break forth in the Body of Christ. The enemy will raise a standard against our testimony, BUT GOD will come in like a flood. Faith will explode and create an atmosphere where things that could not happen will happen. Stop! Shout prophetically, VICTORY ten times. Embrace all the change that God brings into your life and go from victory to victory all year!

(Note: These 10 months are not linked with the Roman calendar. They are linked with the spiritual timing that the Lord has for your life upon your declaration of victory for this year.)

The Electric Outlet

Judy Bauman

A Warning to the Church:
The Electric Outlet
A Vision

In the front of an empty church between the two front pews, and in front of the communion table, dangled an electrical outlet. It was suspended in the air from 1” thick, gray, flexible conduit. The wire came into the top right side of the electrical box and exited the bottom left side.

A man’s hand with an extension cord in it appeared and he tried to plug it into the outlet. The outlet only twisted and turned away from him. He tried this over and over again with no success. Unsuccessful, he finally went away frustrated.

I asked the Lord what this meant. As I prayed, the scene replayed in my mind. I noticed that the outlet was not affixed. It just dangled there in mid-air. It was not firmly framed into the structure of the church. Because it was not anchored, when pressure was applied to push the cord into the outlet, it could only twist and turn. There wasn’t enough stability to allow the person to plug in their extension cord.

I believe what the Lord was showing me was that the Outlet was representative of the Holy Spirit. The man was representative of a believer trying to get plugged into God’s power and authority, and to gain a greater understanding of His ways. The Holy Spirit was in the front and near the communion table, but He wasn’t given a fixed place. He was not anchored in the church. It points to the reason some churches are empty and not experiencing growth is because the Holy Spirit of God is not given a firm foundation to which people can plug into and get charged up. So they leave.

Unless the Holy Spirit is given a secured place in the church to love, save, guide, teach, build, confirm, comfort, empower, fill, speak, renew, bear witness, convict, sanctify, anoint, correct, heal, counsel, rebuke, send, and give joy to the believers - that church will not be permitted to experience lasting growth. Now the Lord is the Spirit; and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty. Amen.

The Error of Balaam

Robert Holmes

"These men revile things they do not understand, and things which they know by instinct. woe to them, for they have gone the way of Cain and for pay they have rushed headlong into the error of Balaam and perished in the rebellion of Korah" (Jude 10,11). The three fallen leaders: Cain, Korah and Balaam are antithetical to true New Testament leadership.

Cain offered sacrifice next to his brother Abel, being a type and kind of priest. Abel's offering was acceptable, Cain's was rejected. The way of Cain is the way of man centred, man tainted priestly office. The true office stands in the order of Mechizadek.

Korah was "among the leading men", a chief and lord among his brethren. His rebellion was against leadership, against the judge and king God had chosen - Moses. The rebellion of Korah was set against true New Testament leadership, the apostolic order.

Balaam was a prophet in Samaria, next to Israel. The way of Balaam was to prostitute his gift for financial reward. Money and prophecy do not mix. It is best to keep the issue of fee for service well away from the activity of prophecy. The dictionary definition of sooth saying is, "the practice of divination for money". We are all familiar with Balaam, "The elders of Moab took with them a fee for divination and they came to Balaam and told them what Balak had requested" (Num 22:7). Balaam sold out his prophetic gift for cash. Sadly that is happening a lot these days.

The teaching of Balaam

What is the result of pursuing defiled forms of leadership? Ezekiel says, "disaster will come upon disaster and rumor will be added to rumor; then they will seek a vision from the prophet (but there will be none), the law will be lost from the priest and counsel lost from the elders" (Ezek. 7:26). The holder of the law will not understand the word of God, the keeper of wise counsel will not have any advice and the manager of revelation will be deaf and blind. The prophet will have no vision.

Sadly for Balaam, the revelation was flowing thick and fast - 90% of the things he said came to pass. But God does not weigh a prophet by his accuracy, he weighs him by character, and by whom he is leading the people to worship. Therein lies the teaching of Balaam.

"I have a few things against you, because you have there some who hold the teaching of Balaam, who kept teaching Balak to put a stumbling block before the sons of Israel, to eat things offered to idols and to commit acts of immorality" (Rev. 2:14).

To bring down the people of Israel, Balaam resorted to teaching. He trained the enemy how to bring the people of God down, by employing God against the people. God was bound, by is own word, to curse the people if they intermarried, or if they offered to idols. So it was in the New Testament when the people brought themselves out from under the blood of Christ, and back under the law. By trying to fulfil even one aspect of it, they were condemned to fulfil the whole lot.

Divining for money

Money and leadership do not mix. I believe we live in the days spoken of prophetically by Micah, "Your heads judge for a bribe, your priests teach for pay and your prophets divine for money" (Micah 3:11). Our heads, our apostolic leadership, our governors and leaders judge for a bribe. Our pastors, priests and pulpiteers will not teach without pay - a wage. Our prophets in many places charge for their time, slot people into sessions for prophecy and charge fees for their conferences. It may not be fee for divination - openly, but fee for prophecy, fee for ministry, fee for speaking, fee for teaching is quite common.

Simon had carved out for himself quite a ministry. He was wowing the crowds with his display of power and astonishing feats. He was operating by power other than divine, it was magic power, occult power (Acts 8:11,12). Simon the sorcerer is our NT example of a man so enamoured with the power of the Holy Spirit that he sought to buy it at the peril of his own soul. Keep in mind that you do not have to receive money to have received payment. Payment can come in sexual gratification, glorification, honour, respect or many other forms.

Restrained madness

"These. never cease from sin, enticing unstable souls, having a heart trained in greed, accursed children; forsaking the right way, they have gone astray, having followed the way of Balaam, the son of Beor, who loved the wages of unrighteousness; but received a rebuke for his own transgression, for a mute donkey, speaking with a voice of a man, restrained the madness of the prophet" (2 Peter 2:14-16).

There is more said in the NT of Balaam than of Jezebel, Principalities or even witchcraft. Yet we give this mater so little attention. Prophecy in the New Testament is administered without fee. It is given without charge because it is freely received, by grace. The prophet must be careful to stay within the bounds of his call and gift - not trying to pastor the people, nor apostle them. But the final blow is delivered by Peter - the unrestrained prophet had to be rebuked by a donkey.

Why an animal? Because he had isolated himself. There was no companion to correct him. He lived in isolation, he was a law unto himself. He received no correction, he was not on team. That made him implicitly unsafe. The New Testament model is clear - prophets run in teams, either with other prophets (Acts 11:27) or with teachers (Acts 13:1) or with apostles (Acts 15:40).

Teamwork is the saving grace for the prophetic gift. But we need to be careful who our team members are. Balaam was approached by Balak. This was a satanic union, based in favouritism and finances. Balaam had all the wrong reasons for partnership. He would have been better of in relationship with Moses, Joshua and the people of Israel.

The End Of The Age Is Upon You

Stephen Hanson

Dec. 10, 2005

1 Since, then, you have been raised with Christ, set your hearts on things above, where Christ is seated at the right hand of God. 2 Set your minds on things above, not on earthly things. 3 For you died, and your life is now hidden with Christ in God. Col. 3:1-3

4 The weapons we fight with are not the weapons of the world. On the contrary, they have divine power to demolish strongholds. 5 We demolish arguments and every pretension that sets itself up against the knowledge of God, and we take captive every thought to make it obedient to Christ. 6 And we will be ready to punish every act of disobedience, once your obedience is complete. 2 Co. 10: 4-6

"I tell you that the end of the age is upon you. For everything is racing towards that day. Life as you know it will be changing. In other cultures people have known about these things. But man looks to the stars, and other forms, to believe in. You have known about the stock market crash that took place in the earlier part of the last century. I tell you that things in the financial world will take place even worse than that. "

(The Lord showed me a picture of a scene with pyramids and then a Native American one with teepees. I believe that the point here is that even in other cultures and beliefs, one can find that the end of the world is mentioned as an event that will soon come. It is not that we embrace the beliefs of these other cultures, but that we can see that even in their religious systems, the end of the world is mentioned.)

"There is a great gap that is widening in the religious institutions. There is a great gap between those who serve Me for money and those who truly serve Me. Many profit from the word of God in this hour. They have wrongly used their money as a way of gaining assets. Truly, they will be brought down."

"The great war is upon you; it is the war that takes place in your hearts and minds. For in your hearts and minds is where the real battle is fought. What is your heart and mind thinking about in this hour? For what you think about is what you become. "

The Eyes Of Your Heart
Bobby Conner

We are in a time of unprecedented released revelation. It is encouraging to join with Paul in his plea for perception. The prayer will release the promise - "that the eyes of your heart shall be flooded with light!" You will discover Divine Enlightenment when you take time to seek GOD with all your heart. (Jer. 29:12-14). This is time to seek first the Kingdom of God. (Matt. 6:33). If we are seeking the Kingdom of Christ, He will take care of our kingdoms. But if we are attempting to just take of our kingdom and neglecting the Kingdom of God, we too will find that our bag is empty. (See Hosea 1:)

PLEA FOR PERCEPTION: "For I always pray to the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, that He may grant you a spirit of wisdom and revelation of insight into mysteries and secrets in the deep and intimate knowledge of Him. By having the eyes of your heart flooded with light, so that you can know and understand the hope to which He has called you, and how rich is His glorious inheritance in the saints, His set-apart ones). And so that you can know and understand what is the immeasurable and unlimited and surpassing greatness of His power in and for us who believe, as demonstrated in the working of His mighty strength. (Ephesians 1:15-19)

1. WE ARE NOW IN A TIME OF REVELATION AND ILLUMINATION. NOW IS THE TIME TO SEEK THE DEEP THINGS OF GOD. THIS IS NOT A TIME TO STAY SUPERFICIAL OR SHALLOW THIS IS A TIME TO GO DEEPER AND HIGHER. DEEP IS CALLING OUT TO DEEP (See Psalm 42:7)

The only way to go higher is to be humble. God will give grace to the humble, yet He will resist the proud. God is offering grace to go higher only as we fall in broken humility at the feet of Christ Jesus. We must remember; His strength will be made perfect in our weakness. Will you become weak enough to let HIM make you strong? This meekness is not some, puny self degrading but rather it is an understanding of the power and might of the Lord. It is time to know who we are in Jesus.

YOUR EYES SHALL BEHOLD NEW THINGS: 1 Cor. 2:9-16 "But as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him. But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God. For what man knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of man which is in him? even so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God. Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God. Which things also we speak, not in the words which man´s wisdom teacheth, but which the Holy Ghost teacheth; comparing spiritual things with spiritual. But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned. But he that is spiritual judgeth all things, yet he himself is judged of no man. For who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he may instruct him? But we have the mind of Christ. (KJV)

Our Eyes Will Behold New Things & Our Ears Will Hear New Things: We now have the opportunity to see things and hear things that previously we have not experienced we are in a time of extraordinary revelation and released understanding. Each of us can get as close to Christ as we choose to be. There is absolutely no excuse, anyone of us can get as close to Jesus as we choose to. We have an open door. We have access to the Almighty. It is time to draw near with hearts full of assurance. There is nothing stopping any of us except our own lack of hunger! May God create in us a desperate hunger to go after HIM. See Matthew 5:6.

See Psalm 42:1-5 and Psalm 63:1-5. This prayer must be the desperate plea of our soul. Ps 119:18 Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law. (KJV) The Spirit of God is opening the deaf ears, and opening our dim and blinded eyes of the Church, in order for our eyes to behold Truth. We are in a day of God doing His new things. (See Isaiah 48:6-8). Isa. 29:18 "And in that day shall the deaf hear the words of the book, and the eyes of the blind shall see out of obscurity, and out of darkness. (KJV) Ask the Spirit of God to open your eyes to see, and your ears to hear. This is a time to knock upon heaven´s door. This is a time to ask of the Lord. (See John 16:24). The Spirit of God is teaching the Body of Christ to pray. (See Luke 11:1-11). Isa. 32:3 And the eyes of them that see shall not be dim, and the ears of them that hear shall hearken. (KJV)

We are seeing dead dry religion get darker and duller yet we are also seeing the Light of God´s glory coming upon His children. (See Sa. 60:1-5). In many places where the saints of God are coming together there are mighty signs of God´s power and presence. Some meetings have reported mighty healing, and deliverance, along with gold dust sparkles all around the pulpit and altar. Many are reporting that they are seeing angles. The gap between the spiritual world and our physical world is fast closing. Get ready to see the glory of God in away you have never experienced. But blessed are your eyes, for they see: and your ears, for they hear. For verily I say unto you, That many prophets and righteous men have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them; and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them. (KJV) The Holy Spirit is now releasing understanding of the times and the purposes of God. (See Ecl. 3:1-4). Luke 24:45 Then opened he their understanding, that they might understand the scriptures. (KJV)

Many that have been blinded by the devil are now coming to the light of Jesus and being saved. We are about to see multitudes from the new age cults born again. The true light of the gospel is about shine upon their hungry hearts. Get ready, to the Spirit of God move in a powerful way among these new age cults. Jesus Christ wants all men to be saved and come to the knowledge of truth. The Church will be given the promised power of Acts 26:18 To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by faith that is in me. (KJV)

Many in the body of Christ are committed to walk in true holiness and purity. We are about to find out that holiness is not a dirty word. It is time to see after purity and holiness because without holiness no man shall see God.

THE CHURCH WILL AGAIN BE A LIGHT SET ON A HILL: As we take time to behold the King in His Glory we too will be changed. As we see HIM as HE is, we will be transformed into His likeness. Eph. 5:8 For ye were sometimes darkness, but now are ye light in the Lord: walk as children of light: (KJV)This is time to seek Him. Amos 5:4 "For thus says the Lord to the house of Israel: Seek Me inquire for and of Me and require Me as you require food and you shall live." The command of Hosea 10:12 is for us today. "It is time to seek the Lord, until He comes and reigns righteousness upon us."

The Famine And The Destruction
Terry Suggs

There are strong indications now that we are entering a serious time of shortages or famine. There has been a warning ahead of time issued for the body of Christ that we are coming into a season of fearful times.

I can sense that we are about to see some fearful and violent days ahead.

No one should be unprepared for the days just ahead of us.

Prayer is the only way to prepare for this time.

Not digging a hole in the ground and stocking up on food and water.

Not buying weapons and ammunition.

The one and only thing that will get us through this time is fervent prayer.

The Word of the Lord tells us that everything will be shaken. But there is one thing that cannot be shaken.

That is the faith founded and secured on the Rock (Jesus).

The kingdoms of this world and ways of doing things by mans method is designed to fail.

The kingdom of God is designed to last eternally.

Everything will be stronger and will have greater destruction on the negative side. On the Lord’s side, Everything will be greater and stronger also.

Nothing but prayer, not money or a certain places to go will help us now.

Man Shall Not Live By Bread Alone!
Terry Suggs

Jesus said that man shall not live (be upheld and sustained) by bread alone, but by every word That (comes forth) proceeds out of the mouth of God.

Matthew 4:8-9
When satan was tempting Jesus, He told Jesus that the all the kingdoms of this world were his to do as he pleased. He said to Jesus “all these things all taken together I will give You if you fall down (prostrate Yourself) before me and do homage and worship me.

Then Jesus said to him, Be gone, satan! For it is written, you shall worship the Lord your God, and Him alone shall you serve.

Matthew 28:18
When Jesus had completed and finished the requirements of our salvation,
He proclaimed (announced) “all authority (all power of rule) in heaven and on earth has been given to Me.

Jesus now is Lord and Ruler and Supreme Head over all the kingdoms of Heaven and earth.

Satan’s has lost control over the earth. He has no power over anything.

Luke 10:22
All things have been given over into My power by My Father; (Jesus said)

Luke 10:19
Now Jesus has translated or accepted us into the kingdom of God and has proclaimed to us:

“Behold! I have given you authority and power to trample upon serpents and scorpions, and physical and mental strength and ability over all the power that the enemy possesses: and nothing shall by any means or in any way harm you.
No weapon formed against you will prosper or be effective against you.

When the enemy comes in, like a flood the Spirit of the Lord will lift up a standard against him.

Mark 1:15
The kingdom of God is at hand.

Luke 17:21
Nor will people say, Look! Here (it is)! Or, See, (it is) there! For behold, The Kingdom of God is within you.

John 14:23
Jesus answered, if a person (really) loves Me, he will keep My word (obey My teaching); and My Father will love Him, and We will come to him and make Our home (abode, special dwelling place) with him.

Romans 14:17
After all the kingdom of God is not a matter of getting the food and drink that one likes, but instead it is righteousness (that state which makes a person acceptable to God) and (heart) peace and joy in the Holy Spirit.

This kingdom is in the eternal realm. But you can operate in the eternal and the physical realm by faith.

Faith works above the natural and physical laws.

Hebrews 12:22
But rather you have come to Mount Zion, even the to the city of the living God, the Heavenly Jerusalem, and to countless multitudes of Angels in festal gathering.

Colossians 1:27, 29 2:3,9-10,14-16
To whom God was pleased to make known how great for the Gentiles are the riches of the glory of this mystery, which is Christ within and among you, the Hope of (realizing the) glory.
For this I labor (unto weariness), striving with all the superhuman energy which He so mightily enkindles and works within me.
In Him all the treasures of (divine) wisdom (comprehensive insight into the ways and purposes of God) and all the riches of spiritual) knowledge and enlightenment are stored up and lie hidden.
For in Him the whole fullness of Deity (the Godhead) continues to dwell in bodily form (giving complete expression of the divine nature).
And you are in Him, made full and having come to fullness of life (in Christ
You too are filled with the Godhead-Father, Son and Holy Spirit- and reach full spiritual stature). And He is the Head of all rule and authority (of every angelic principality and power).
In Him also you were circumcised with a circumcision not made with hands, but in a spiritual (spiritual) circumcision (performed by) Christ by stripping off the body o the flesh (the whole corrupt, carnal nature with its passions and lusts), Having cancelled and blotted out and wiped away the handwriting of the note (bond) with its legal decrees and demands which was in force and stood against us (hostile to us), This note with its regulations, decrees, and demands, He sea aside and cleared completely out of our way by nailing it to His cross.

God disarmed the principalities and powers that were ranged against us and made a bold display and public example of them, in triumphing over them in Him and in it (the Cross).
Therefore let no one sit in judgment on you in matters of food and drink , or with regard to a feast day or a New Moon or a Sabbath.

There is no retrial. We have been judged in Christ Jesus.

God imported the final judgment of our sins to one point in time.

The record is clean and the case is forever settled.

Jesus died once for all.

Romans 8:1
Therefore there is now no condemnation (no adjudging guilty of wrong) for those who are in Christ Jesus, who live an walk not after the dictates of the flesh, but after the dictates of the Spirit.
For the new law of the Spirit of life (Which is in Christ Jesus (the law of our new being and being made righteous, our spiritual life as new creatures) has freed me from the law of sin and of death.

John 14:26
But the Comforter (Counselor, Helper, Intercessor, Advocate, Strengthener, Standby), the Holy Spirit, Whom the Father will send in Name (Authority) (in My place to represent Me and act on My behalf), He will teach you all things, and He will cause you to recall (will remind you of, bring to your remembrance) everything I have told you.

John 6:37
All whom My Father gives (entrusts) to Me, will come to Me; and the One who comes to Me I will most certainly not cast out (I will never, no never, reject one of them who comes to Me).

John 10:28-29
And I give them eternal life, and they shall never lose it or perish throughout the ages. (To all eternity they shall never by any means be destroyed). And no one is able to snatch them out of My hand.

My Father, Who has given them to Me, is greater and mightier than all (else) and no one is able to snatch (them) out of the Father’s hand.

Acts 1:8
But you shall receive power (ability, efficiency, and might) when the Holy Spirit has come upon you, and you shall be My witnesses in Jerusalem and all Judea and Samaria and to the ends (the very bounds) of the earth.

The Holy Spirit brings the Godhead into our lives in Christ.

Luke 6:37-38
Judge not (neither pronouncing judgment nor subjecting to censure), do not condemn and pronounce guilty, ; acquit and forgive and release (give up resentment, let it drop) and you will not be condemned and pronounced guilty, you will be acquitted and forgiven and released.

Give and (gifts) will be given to you; good measure, pressed down, shaken together, and running over, will they pour into (the pouch formed by (the bosom (of your robe and used as a bag). For with the measure you use when you confer benefits on others), it will be measured back to you.

Matthew 10:8
Cure the sick, raise the dead, cleanse the lepers, drive out demons, Freely (without pay) you have received, freely (without charge) give.

Because we are in Christ Jesus, there is no separation between us and Him.

Nothing is held back.

Nothing can separate us from the love of God.

He is 100 percent honest and pure. He is 100 percent faithful and true.

We have 100 percent access into the Father's throne room to tell Him our concerns and fellowship with Him. We have 100 percent access into the spiritual realm or the Kingdom of God.

Faith Beyond Boundaries of Time and Distance

Terry Suggs

Because we have now been translated into the kingdom of God, of Light and of Unlimited ability and power, our faith is not restricted by time and space.

We are now citizens of Heaven and of the kingdom of heaven. We now live in the unlimited eternal ream of God. Time does not exist in the heavenly eternal realm. It is just eternity.

God is everywhere and He lives in the past, present and future. He is omnipresent.

Time does not hinder faith. Distance does not exist in faith.

When Jesus spoke to sickness and things, there was an instant manifestation of what He said.

When they were in the boat on the Sea, Jesus spoke to a storm and instantly it stopped. When He and Peter finished walking on the water, instantly the boat was at the other side of the sea.

When we speak in the authority and righteousness of Jesus, there will be an instant manifestation of what we say.

Instant healings and instant miracles just happen. Decree a thing and it shall be established.

Speak those things that be not as though they were already manifested.

The kingdom of God is at hand right now.

The Apostles were doing miracles and healing the sick everywhere they traveled. Jesus said, these works and even greater works than these you shall do.

John 1:16

For out of His fullness (abundance) we have all received (all had a share and we were all supplied with) one grace after another and spiritual blessing upon spiritual blessing and even favor upon favor and gift heaped upon gift.

We operate in the kingdom of God now. If this is true, and it is, then we are not subject to the boundaries of time and distance. We are not limited to the realm of the five senses. The Kingdom of God is inhabited by those that have been made righteous in Christ Jesus and made to be accepted into the beloved family of GOD through the finished work of the cross of Jesus.

The righteousness of Christ has been imputed to us.

Jesus said that if you have the faith as a grain of mustard seed, you can speak to a mountain and if you don’t doubt, but believe, you will have what you say.

When God declared Abraham to be righteous, Abraham was told to speak those things that be not as though they were. God taught Abraham the way that the righteous are suppose to talk.

He had to talk God’s kind of talk, because he was now righteous so was the Seed of Abraham..

You are a new creature, recreated in Christ Jesus living in an unlimited realm of unlimited power and faith. You have eternal life and abundant life. You have power over all the power of the enemy. The presence of God is a constantly flowing, unstoppable, dynamic, tangible, life giving, resurrecting, healing, lifting and illuminating, creative, and powerful factor into this kingdom that we live in.

This abundant life is what Jesus gave to the new creatures, the born again believer that have given their all to Him.

The Kingdom of heaven is at hand. Jesus is the Head of the Body of Christ.

We are not lacking anything except the knowledge of who we are and what we have.

Luke 12:32

Do not be seized with alarm and struck with fear, little flock, for it is your Father’s good pleasure to give you the kingdom!

Luke 17:5-6

The apostles said to the Lord, increase our faith (that trust and confidence that spring from our belief in God),

And the Lord answered, if you had faith (trust and confidence in God) even so small like a grain of mustard seed, you could say to this mulberry tree, Be pulled up by the roots, and be planted in the sea, and it would obey you.

Luke 8:54-55

And grasping her hand He called, saying, Child arise (from the sleep of death)!

And her spirit returned (from death), and she arose immediately; and He directed that she should be given something to eat.

Luke 18:41-43

What do you want Me to do for you? He said, Lord, let me receive my sight!

And Jesus said to him, Receive your sight! Your faith (your trust and confidence that spring from your faith in God) has healed you,

And instantly he received his sight and began to follow Jesus, recognizing, praising, and honoring God; and all the people, when they saw it, praised God.

You may accidentally eat or drink something deadly, but it shall not hurt you.

Jesus said, “All things are possible to those that believe”

Your faith is equal to the power of the one that you believe in.

Ephesians 1:17-23

For I always pray to the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, that He may grant you a spirit of wisdom and revelation (of insight into mysteries and secrets in the deep and intimate knowledge of Him.

By having the eyes of your heart flooded with light, so that you can know and understand the hope to which He has called you, and how rich is His glorious inheritance in the saints (His set apart ones).

And so that you can know and understand what is the immeasurable and unlimited and surpassing greatness of His power in and for us who believe, as demonstrated in the working of His mighty strength.

Which He exerted in Christ when He raised Him from the dead and seated Him at His Own right hand in the heavenly places.

Far above all rule and authority and power and dominion and every name that is named (above every title that can be conferred), not only in this age and in this world, but also in the age and the world which are to come.

And He has put all things under His feet and has appointed Him the universal and supreme Head of the church (a headship exercised throughout the church),

Which is His body, the fullness of Him Who fills all in all (for in that body lives the full measure of Him Who makes everything complete, and Who fills everything everywhere with Himself).

You can raise the dead, heal the sick, cast out devils, and operate in the authority of Jesus.

This is the life you were meant to live. The Word of God says that Christ lives in you and you live in Christ. There is nothing between us. Nothing is held back from us.

Don't look at your own righteousness. Look at the Lord's finished work. It is His righteousness that is now ours as well.

The Apostle Peter walked on the water. He was not limited by the natural laws of gravity. He changed his focus from Jesus to the natural realm. He changed his focus from the unlimited spiritual realm of faith to the limited realm of the five senses.

A man that said to Jesus I know authority, because I am a man of authority.

When I say to one person “come“, he comes, when I say to another “go”, he goes. And he said to Jesus, just speak the Word and the healing will happen.

Your word cannot be revoked or stopped.

When a king makes a decree, the word goes out and is established as a law and the citizens must comply with the decree.

Lift up the Lord Jesus in the power and authority of the Holy Ghost.

There is great power present with you to be a witness.

Ephesians 2:4-7

But God-so rich is He in His mercy! Because of and in order to satisfy the great and wonderful and intense love with which He loved us, Even when we were dead (slain) by our own shortcomings and trespasses, He made us alive together in fellowship and in union with Christ; (He gave us the very life of Christ Himself, the same new life with which He quickened Him, for) it is by grace (His favor and mercy which you did not deserve) that you are saved (delivered from judgment and made partakers of Christ's salvation).

And He raised us up together with Him and made us sit down together (giving us joint seating with Him) in the heavenly sphere (by virtue of our being) in Christ Jesus (the Messiah, the Anointed One), He did this that He might clearly demonstrate through the ages to come the immeasurable (limitless, surpassing) riches of His free grace (His unmerited favor) in His kindness and goodness of heart toward us in Christ Jesus.

Ephesians 2:10

For we are God's Own handiwork (His workmanship), recreated in Christ Jesus, (born anew) that we may do those good works which God predestined (planned beforehand) for us (taking paths which He prepared ahead of time), that we should walk in them (living the good life which He prearranged and mad ready for us to live.

The just, those that are made righteous are to live by faith.

I Corinthians 6:17

But the person who is united to the Lord becomes one spirit with Him.

I John 3:1-2

We are sons of God right now.

As HE IS, so are we in this world.

Sins Forgiven and Forgotten
Terry Suggs

Brother Terry

Jesus died for Mr. Moon, Krishna, The Pope, The Mormons, The atheist, agnostics, The Hindus, The Nation of Islam, kkk members, nazis groups, The Muslim, satan worshipers and the sins of all men. Hitler had salvation offered to him also, whether he accepted it of not.

Christianity is more than one of the religions. Christians are not just religious people.

We are Christ-like. We are born of His Spirit and given His authority and righteousness.

I Peter 1:19,23

But you were purchased with the precious blood of Christ the Messiah, like that of a sacrificial lamb without blemish or spot.

You have been regenerated (born again) (re- "gene"-rated), not from a mortal origin (seed, sperm), but from one that is immortal by the ever living and lasting Word of God.

II Corinthians 5:17, 19, 21

Therefore if any person is ingrafted in Christ the Messiah he is a new creature altogether;

The old previous moral and spiritual condition has passed away. Behold, the fresh and new has come! The old spirit in us has died. The Spirit of Christ brought to us His new life.

It was God personally present in Christ, reconciling and restoring the world to favor with Himself, not counting and holding against men their trespasses but canceling them and committing to us the message of reconciliation of the restoration to favor.

For our sake He made Christ virtually to be sin Who knew no sin, so that in and through Him we might become, made (endued with, viewed as being in, and examples of) the righteousness of God (what we ought to be, approved and acceptable and in right relationship with Him, by His goodness.)

II Corinthians 6:16

What agreement can there be between a temple of God and idols? For we are the temple of the living God; even as God said, I will dwell in and with and among them and I will walk in and with and among them, and I will be their God, and they shall be My people.

Hebrews 1:2-3

But in these last of these days He has spoken to us in (the person of a) Son, Whom He appointed Heir and lawful Owner of all things, also by and through Whom He created the worlds and the reaches of space and the ages of time (He made, produced, built, operated, and arranged them in order).

He is the sole expression of the glory of God (The Light-being, the out-raying or radiance of the divine), and He is the perfect imprint of and very image of (God's) nature, upholding and maintaining and guiding and propelling the universe by His Mighty Word of Power. When He had by offering Himself accomplished or cleansing of sins and riddance of guilt, He sat down at the right hand of the divine Majesty on High.

Colossians 2:9-10, 13-15

For in Him the whole fullness of Deity, the Godhead, continues to dwell in bodily form giving complete expression of the divine nature.

And you are in Him, made full and having come to fullness of life in Christ you too are filled with the Godhead-Father, Son and Holy Spirit-and reach full spiritual stature. And He is the Head of all rule and authority o every angelic principality and power.

And you who were dead in trespasses and in the uncircumcision of your flesh (your sensuality, your sinful carnal natural), (God) brought to life together with Christ, having freely forgiven us all our transgressions, having cancelled an blotted out and wiped away the handwriting of the note (bond) with its legal decrees and demands which was in force and stood against us (hostile to us). This note with its regulations, decrees, and demands He set aside and cleared completely out of our way by nailing it to His cross.

God disarmed the principalities and powers that were ranged against us and made a bold example of them, in triumphing over them in Him and in it (the Cross).

Isaiah 41:10-13

Fear not there is nothing to fear, for I Am with you; do not look around you in terror and be dismayed, for I Am your God, I will strengthen and harden you to difficulties, yes, I will help you; yes I will hold you up and retain you with My victorious right hand of rightness and justice.

Behold, all they who are enraged and inflamed against you shall be put to shame and confounded; they who strive against you shall be as nothing and shall perish.

You shall seek those who contend with you but shall not find them; they who war against you shall be as nothing, as nothing at all.

For I the Lord your God hold your right hand; I Am the Lord, Who says to you, fear not; I will help you!

Isaiah 53:3-6

He was despised and rejected and forsaken by men, A Man of sorrows and pains, and acquainted with grief and sickness; and like One from Whom men hide their faces He was despised, and we did not appreciate His worth or have any esteem for Him.

Surely He has borne our griefs (sicknesses, weaknesses, and distresses) and carried our sorrows and pains (of punishment), yet we ignorantly considered Him stricken, smitten and afflicted by God (as if with leprosy),

But He was wounded for our transgressions, He was bruised for our guilt and iniquities; the chastisement (needful to obtain) peace and well-being for us was upon Him, with the stripes (that wounded) Him we are healed and made whole.

All we like sheep have gone astray, we have turned every one to his own way; and the Lord has made to light upon Him the guilt and iniquity of us all.

Isaiah 54:17

But no weapon that is formed against you shall prosper, and every tongue that shall rise against you in judgment you shall show to be in the wrong. This (peace, righteousness, security, triumph over opposition) is the heritage of the servants of the Lord (those in whom the ideal Servant of the Lord is reproduced; this is the righteousness or the vindication which they obtain from Me (this is that which I impart to them as their justification, says the Lord.

Jeremiah 31:34

And they will no more teach each man his neighbor and each man his brother, saying know the Lord, for they will all know Me (recognize, understand, and be acquainted with Me), from the least to the greatest, says the Lord.

For I will forgive their iniquity, and I will seriously remember their sin no more.

Titus 3:5

He saved us, not because of any works of righteousness that we had done, but because of His own pity and mercy, by the cleansing bath of the new birth regeneration and renewing of the Holy Spirit, which He poured out so richly upon us through Jesus Christ our Savior.

Hebrews 8:12

For I will be merciful and gracious toward their sins and I will remember their sins, deeds of unrighteousness no more.

Ephesians 2:5-10

Even when we were dead slain by our own shortcomings and trespasses, He made us alive together in fellowship and in union with Christ; He gave us the very life of Christ Himself, the same new life with which He quickened Him, for it is by grace His favor and mercy which you did not deserve that you are saved (delivered from judgment and made partakers of Christ’s salvation).

And He raised us up together with Him and made us sit down together (giving us joint seating with Him) in the heavenly sphere (by virtue of our being) in Christ Jesus (the Messiah, the Anointed One).

He did this that He might clearly demonstrate through the ages to come the immeasurable (limitless, surpassing) riches of His free grace (His unmerited favor) in His kindness and goodness of heart toward us in Christ Jesus.

For it is by free grace (God's unmerited favor) that you are saved (delivered from judgment and made partakers of Christ's salvation) through your faith.

And this salvation is not of yourselves (of your own doing, it came not through your own striving), but it is the gift of God.

Not because of works (not the fulfillment of the Law's demands), lest any man should boast. (It is not the result of what anyone can possibly do, so no one can pride himself in it or take glory to himself).

For we are God's (own) handiwork (His workmanship), recreated in Christ Jesus, born anew that we may do those good works which God predestined (planned beforehand) for us (taking paths which He prepared ahead of time), that we should walk in them (living the good life which He prearranged and made ready for us to live.

John 5:24

I assure you, most solemnly I tell you, the person whose ears are open to My words (who listens to My message) and believes and trusts in and clings to and relies on Him Who sent Me has (possesses now) eternal life. And he does not come into judgment, (does not incur sentence of judgment, will not come under condemnation), but he has already passed over out of death into life.

Galatians 3:26

For in Christ Jesus you are all sons of God through faith.

Galatians 4:6-7

And because you really are His Sons, God has sent the Holy Spirit of His Son into our hearts , crying, Abba (Father)! Father!

Therefore, you are no longer a slave (bond servant) but a son; and if a son, then (it follows that you are) an heir by the aid of God, through Christ.

Ephesians 2:19

Therefore, you are no longer outsiders (exiles, migrants, and aliens, excluded from the rights of citizens), but you now share citizenship with the saints (God's own people, consecrated and set apart for Himself); and you belong to God's (Own) household.

I Peter 2:9-10

But you are a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a dedicated nation, God's Own purchased special people, that you may set forth the wonderful deeds and display the virtues and perfections of Him Who called you out of darkness into His marvelous light.

Once you were not a people (at all), but now you are God's people; once you were unpitied but now you are pitied and have received mercy.

I Thessalonians 5:24

Faithful is He Who is calling you (to Himself) and utterly trustworthy, and He will also do it (fulfill His call) by hallowing and keeping you).

Ephesians 4:5-6

There is One Lord, one faith, one baptism.

One God and Father of us all, Who is above all (Sovereign over all), pervading all and living in us all.

Jeremiah 29:11-12

For I know the thoughts and plans for you, says the Lord, thoughts and plans for welfare and peace and not for evil, to give you hope in your final outcome.

Then you will call upon Me, and you will come and pray to Me, and I will hear and heed you.

Romans 8:1, 14-17

Therefore there is now no condemnation, no adjudging guilty of wrong, for those who are in Christ Jesus, who live and walk not after the dictates of the flesh, but after the dictates of the Spirit.

For all who are led by the Spirit of God are sons of God.

For the Spirit which you have now received is not a spirit of slavery to put you once more in bondage to fear, but you have received the Spirit of adoption (the Spirit producing sonship) in (the bliss of) which we cry , Abba (Father)! Father!

The Spirit Himself (thus) testifies together with our own spirit, (assuring us) that we are the children of God.

And if we are (His) children, then we are (His) heirs also: heirs of God and fellow heirs with Christ (sharing His inheritance with Him); only we must share His suffering if we are to share His glory. Fellow heirs means: one for Jesus and one for me, one for Jesus and one for me ….

Romans 8:31-39

What then shall we say to all of this? If God is for us, who can be against us? (Who can be our foe, if God is on our side?

He Who did not withhold or spare even His Own Son but gave Him up for us all, will He not also with Him freely and graciously give us all other things?

Who shall bring any charge against God’s elect (when it is) God Who justifies (that is, Who puts us in right relation to Himself? Who shall come forward and accuse or impeach those whom God has chosen? Will God, Who acquits us?

Who is there to condemn us? Will Christ Jesus (the Messiah), Who died, or rather Who was raised from the dead, Who is at the right hand of God actually pleading as He intercedes for us?

Who shall ever separate us from Christ’s love? Shall suffering and affliction and tribulation? Or calamity and distress? Or persecution or hunger or destitution or peril or sword? Even as it is written, For Thy sake we are put to death all the day long; we are regarded as sheep for the slaughter.

Yet amid all these things we are more than conquerors and gain, surpassing victory through Him Who loved us.

For I am persuaded beyond doubt (am sure) that neither death nor life, nor angels nor principalities, nor things impending and threatening nor things to come, nor powers,

Nor height nor depth, nor anything else in all creation will be able to separate us from the love of God which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Romans 10:11-13

The scripture says, no man who believes in Him (who adheres to, relies on, trusts in Him) will ever be put to shame or be disappointed.

The Lord is Lord over all of us and He generously bestows His riches upon all who call upon Him in faith.

For everyone who calls upon the Name of the Lord (invoking Him as Lord) will be saved.

Hebrews 9:12

He went once for all into the Holy of Holies of Heaven, not by virtue of the blood of goats and calves by which to make reconciliation between God and man, but by His Own blood, having found and secured a complete redemption (an everlasting release for us).

Hebrews 10:14,17

For by a single offering He has forever completely cleansed and perfected those who are consecrated and made Holy.

He then goes on to say, and their sins and their lawbreaking I will remember no more .

Philippians 4:13

I have strength for all things in Christ Who empowers me (I am ready for anything and equal to anything through Him Who infuses inner strength into me; I am self-sufficient in Christ's sufficiency.

Hebrews 8:12

For I will be merciful and gracious toward their sins and I will remember their deeds of unrighteousness no more.

II Corinthians 2:14

But thanks be to God, Who in Christ always leads us in triumph (as trophies of Christ's victory) and through us spreads and makes evident the fragrance of the knowledge of God everywhere.

I John 3:1-2

See what an incredible quality of love the Father has given (shown, bestowed on) us, that we should be (permitted to) be named and called and counted the children of God! And so we are! The reason that the world does not know (recognize, acknowledge) us is that it does not know (recognize, acknowledge) Him.

Beloved we are even here and now God's children; it is not yet disclosed (made clear) what we shall be (hereafter), but we know that when He comes and is manifested, we shall be like Him, for we shall see Him just as He really is.

John 3:17-18

For God did not send the Son into the world in order to judge (to reject, to condemn, to pass sentence on) the world , but that the world might find salvation and be made safe and sound through Him.

He who believes in Him (who clings to, trusts in, relies on Him) is not judged (he who trusts in Him never comes up for judgment; for him there is no rejection, no condemnation-he incurs no damnation);

but he who does not believe (cleave to, rely on, trust in Him) is judged already (he has already been convicted and has already received his sentence) because he has not believed in and trusted in the Name of the only begotten Son of God. (He is condemned for refusing to let his trust rest in Christ’s name).

Acts 17:28

For in Him we live and move and have our being: as even some of your own poets have said, For we are also His offspring.

John 14:12-14

I assure you most solemnly I tell you, if anyone steadfastly believes in Me, he will himself be able to do the things that I do; and he will do even greater things than these, because I go to the Father.

And I will do (I Myself will grant) whatever you ask in My Name as presenting all that I AM, so that the Father may be glorified and extolled in (through) the Son.

Yes I will grant (I Myself will do for you) whatever you shall ask in My Name (as presenting all that I AM).

Colossians 3:17

And whatever you do (no matter what it is) in word or deed, do everything in the name of the Lord Jesus and in (dependence upon) His Person, giving praise to God the Father through Him.

John 3:16

For God so greatly loved and dearly prized the world He (even) gave up His only begotten (unique) Son, so that whosoever believes in (trusts in, clings to, relies on) Him shall not perish (come to destruction, be lost) but have eternal (everlasting) life.

God wanted the salvation He provided for us to be perfect and complete, so God Himself made us perfectly accepted, justified, loved, and redeemed. God was in Christ Jesus reconciling the world to Himself.

John 6:37

All whom My Father gives (entrusts) to Me will come to Me; and the one who comes to Me I will most certainly not cast out (I will never, no never, reject one of them who comes to Me).

Matthew 28:18-20

Jesus approached and breaking the silence, said to them, all authority (all power of rule) in heaven and earth has been given to Me.

Go then and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them into the Authority (Name) of the Father and of the Son and the Holy Spirit,

Teaching them to observe everything that I have commanded you, and behold, I Am with you all the days (perpetually , uniformly, and on every occasion), to the very close and consummation of the age. (Amen) so be it.

God is 100 percent honest, 100 percent pure, perfectly trustworthy, 100 percent faithful and true. There is no deception or falsity or misleading in Him.

Psalm 103:12

As far as the east is from the west, so far has He removed our transgressions from us.

God has given us His righteousness. He imputed righteousness to us. He bestowed it upon us. We are righteous in God’s sight.

Matthew 7:1-2

Do not judge and criticize and condemn others, so that you may not be judged and criticized and condemned yourselves.

For just as you judge and criticize and condemn others, you will be judged and criticized and condemned. And in accordance with the measure you (use to) deal out to others, it will be dealt out to again to you.

Matthew 7:12

So then, whatever you desire that others would to and for you, even so do also to and for them, for this sums up the Law and the Prophets.

I Peter 4:10-11

As each of you has received a gift (a particular spiritual talent, a gracious divine endowment), employ it for one another as (befits) good trustees of God's many sided grace (faithful stewards of the extremely diverse powers and gifts granted to Christians by unmerited favor).

Whoever speaks, (let him do it as one who utters) oracles of God; whoever renders service, (let him dot it) as with the strength which God furnishes abundantly, so that in all things God may be glorified through Jesus Christ (the Messiah). To Him be the glory and dominion forever and ever (through endless ages). Amen (so be it).

I Peter 5:1-4

I warn and counsel the elders among you (the pastors and spiritual guides of the church) as a fellow elder and as an eyewitness (called to testify) of the sufferings of Christ, as well as a sharer in the glory (the honor and splendor) that is to be revealed (disclosed, unfolded):

Tend (nurture, guard, guide, and fold) the flock of God that is (your responsibility), not by coercion or constraint, but willingly; not dishonorably motivated by the advantages and profits (belonging to the office, but eagerly and cheerfully;

Not domineering (as arrogant, dictatorial, and overbearing persons) over those in your charge, but being examples (patterns and models of Christian living) to the flock (the congregation.

And then when the Chief Shepherd is revealed, you will win the conqueror's crown of glory.

God says do not judge men that are made in His image and likeness.

Traveling First Class

"'chariot Wheels' Being Ordered To Assist In Urgent Mission Transportation! . . . Many May Be Traveling 'First Class' In The Spirit!" Acts 8:39, 40
by Bill Yount

With the increase of international disasters beginning to take place around the world, I sense there will be urgent missions where individuals will need to get to countries swiftly. These missions will not be dependent upon the future unstable conditions of the airline transportation systems. God is always one step ahead when it comes to spreading the gospel and going into all the world.

In the Spirit, I heard an order of "chariot wheels" being called into the throne room for the last-day method of transportation for emergency mission work around the world. I sense that time will be a critical factor in getting God's people from one place to the next to minister in times of disaster. God will use angels to intervene in many cases, but to actually lift up the full standard against the flood of the enemy along with national catastrophes, He will be sending His people "first class," speedily!

In the book of Acts 8:39, 40, it says:
"And when they [Philip and the eunuch] were come up out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip, that the eunuch saw him no more: and he went his way rejoicing. But Philip was found at Azotus: and passing through he preached in all the cities, till he came to Caesarea." (KJV)

I have heard testimonies where some believers have been praying for a nation and all of a sudden in the Spirit they were caught away and found themselves in that nation ministering to people. Some through dreams, visions, and some as though their own body was there! I truly believe we are living in an hour that we really need to take the limits off of God and say, "Here am I, Lord; send me any way you want to!"
We are soon to discover that "it is not by might nor by power but by My Spirit says the Lord" . . . in more ways than we realize!

SPIRITUAL "CHARIOTS OF FIRE"

It's interesting that the army tanks of Israel are called "Chariots of Fire"!

While in Israel, I have seen a demonstration of these tanks on the move. These tanks are able to shoot forth fire out of the end of their cannons into their enemies. Also, they can shoot forth smoke to hide themselves from the enemy, when needed. These tanks are believed to be the most powerful artillery in the world.

I sense the Lord will transport many in spiritual "Chariots of Fire" into enemy territory where people are being held captive by the enemy and natural disasters.
These Chariots will be equipped with the Fire of God and the smoke of His Glory Cloud! They will be used to rescue many from death as their ministers, as flames of fire, preach to thousands with the fire of God on their lips -- as they are hidden from the enemy and disaster by the smoke of His Glory!

"ANGELIC AIR AND GROUND TRAFFIC CONTROLLERS"

As the earth seems to be going more and more out of control and increases its groaning through earthquakes and bizarre weather patterns, angels will be given charge over God's people in their going out and coming in, as they are being escorted on secret missions. When everything appears to be out of control, God will still be sitting upon the circle of the earth in total control of spreading the gospel! Angels will control air and ground traffic transportation for the missions of God's people.

As many travel and minister in these spiritual "Chariots of Fire," the borders of their mantles will, at times, touch down upon whole nations and regions to redeem and bring forth revival out of chaos!

"SWING LOW . . . SWEET CHARIOT . . . ARE YOU READY FOR AN UPGRADE IN YOUR TRAVELING?"

The Fiery Cataclysm Of A Spiritual Reformation
Mary Lindow

The Fire Sent Through The Instrument Of Heaven's Refining Furnace, Changes Or "Flexes" The Very Atmosphere Of A Spiritual Reformation.

Its Blaze Is Lit To Be A Cleansing Fire. A fire is intended and brought to exist in order to bring life. So does a spiritual revolution! Fire devastates, so does a Cross-focused revolution.

The Fire Of The Lord Does Not Allow Itself To Be Captured And Controlled.

A spiritual revolution lies in God's hands. A revival fire must be tended to and guarded from abuse.

Man must take his hands off of its development, yet stay with it to guard it and fan its flames and keep the embers red hot.

The Environment Of A Spiritual Revolution Brings Questioning And The Testing Of Man's Secret Ambitions.

It brings out his best and separates out and exposes his worst. A spiritual revolution is like a refiners fire, it cleanses, it sheds light, and it brings integrity and blending. It restores and brings to the fore front everlasting, indestructible qualities.

> "You listen when anyone in Israel truly feels sorry and sincerely prays with arms lifted toward your temple. You know what is in everyone's heart. So from your home in heaven answer their prayers, according to the way they live and what is in their hearts. "1 Kings 8:38-39 and it certainly brands the love of God into every devoted character. It is without a doubt the condition that occurs when within us there is a personal "re-form-ation" of the softened and melted heart established for the sake of the softening and melting of others hearts.

A Heaven Kindled Reformation Fire Is Like Hell To The Stubborn And Ego Driven

> "He will sit and judge like a refiner of silver, watching closely as the dross is burned away. He will purify the Levites, refining them like gold or silver, so that they may once again offer acceptable sacrifices to the LORD." Malachi 3:3 (NLT)

A Fresh And Reformational Move Of God Needs A Man Or A Woman To Stand In The Midst Of All That Is Fracturing And Crumbling!

A revolution of the Spirit will take a people, purified from a need to be "publicly validated" or honored…. to get underway.

Moves Of God Are Remembered And Recorded In The Earth By Its Men And Women, Those Who Dare To Stand In The Place Or Gap Of Change.

Those who will not allow the fresh waters of promise from heaven to be muddied with platitudes; religious buzz words, or glitzy advertisements! Reformation and revolution of the Spirit come God's way, according to God's point of view and purpose, but they begin in a man's heart where God does His deepest of works!

> "I looked for a man among them who would build up the wall and stand before me in the gap on behalf of the land so I would not have to destroy it." Ezekiel 22:30

A Man Or Woman In Harmony With The Heart Of The Lord And Ruler Of The Ever Increasing Kingdom!

Set apart to be poured out and spent by heavenly measure! A man or woman who understand the dynamic and hell fearing power of humility, and embraces a rank entirely adjusted according to the Lord's own measure of allowed rule and influence.

> "I will raise up for myself a faithful priest, who will do according to what is in my heart and mind. I will firmly establish his house, and he will minister before my anointed one always." 1 Samuel 2:35 (NIV)

A Reformation Or Spiritual Revolution Will Occur If Such A Man Or Woman Is Trained Through The Weathering Of Life's Storms To Stand, And To Stand Unyielding.

A revolution and new found freshness for heavenly devotion will be ushered in where the people of the Lord are brought back to a holy awe over the price to be paid in prayer and personal sacrifice on every level with a willingness to pay the price for the costly advance to occur!

> "Yet I am always with you; you hold me by my right hand. You guide me with your counsel, and afterward you will take me into glory. Whom have I in heaven but you? And earth has nothing I desire besides you. My flesh and my heart may fail, but God is the strength of my heart and my portion forever." Psalm 73:23-26

The World Sees Strength In The Action Man Takes To Achieve Personal Success And "Notches On His Belt".

In The Heart Of Those Bound To Spiritual Revolution, It Is Known That Strength Lies In Quietness Of Purpose And In An Intended Strategy Of Relinquishing Power In Order To Be "Em-Powered."

May We Be Found In This Hour Of Extremes And Shaking To Be Men And Women Who Value The Treasure Of A Life Trained And Prepared In The God Ordained Caves Of Weeping And Solitude.

Out Of These "Clefts In The Rock" Will Emerge A Company Of Saints With The Smell Of Heaven's Fire Still On Their Garments Of Praise.

Look For The Fruit Of Mercy In Their Hearts And The Countenance Of A Blessed Peace Upon Their Faces These Are The Sons And Daughters Of The Spiritual Revolution.

> "They will be called the Holy People, the Redeemed of the LORD; and you will be called Sought After, the City No Longer Deserted." Isaiah 62:12

The Fiery Furnace
Olivia Reitz-Long

Apr 29, 2005

faithbuilders@satx.rr.com

"Remember how the Lord your God led you ALL THE WAY in the desert these forty years, to humble you and to test you in order to know what was in your heart, whether or not you would keep His commands." Deut. 8:2

"But He knoweth the way that I take; when He hath tried me, I shall come forth as gold." Job 23:10

When My wilderness people, My faithful ones stood up and said NO and were determined to go all the way with Christ, you figured correctly that you would be thrown into the fiery furnace. However, the heat has been much hotter than you had ever imagined it would be, nevertheless, what I did with Shadrack, Meshack and Abednego, I will also do for those who have allowed the affliction in the furnace.

You have suffered greatly, as you continue to "do right." My Son was the supreme example of suffering wrong in well-doing, for though He was My Son, yet by His suffering He learned obedience ... For the key is Obedience... You have felt the heavy weight of your cross, and at times you begged for My help, tears flowing for days, even weeks on end. You tried reading the Word, you tried speaking scriptures. You felt that I had forsaken you, thinking what did you do to bring such agony and despair? For some of you, your finances have dried up, and you are in severe financial straits. For some, health is an issue, pain being your constant companion, you need healing.

You read the accounts in My word of Job's testing and in the end what I did for him. You read of Joseph, sold by his own brothers and attaining to the heights of power. You have read of Daniel, who had such faith, he "slept" in a den of raving lions. Of Esther, who was willing to sacrifice herself for her people. You have read about them all, but still your pain is overwhelming. You say, yes but those were bible saints, My Beloved, they were men and women, just like you.

You have found yourself in a place where you think there is no way out, there is nothing that 'you' can do ... but AH, MY BELOVED, this is where I want you, for you will know that it is ONLY "your God" who is able to deliver you. But even in the midst of all this pain, I have been enabling you to begin to see the world through the loving eyes of Jesus.

My wilderness people have determined to lay hold of Christ at all cost, going on with Him - and 'with that decision' -they placed themselves in the hands of the Potter.

I called you into the wilderness, but I also said "There is a Price!" And you have paid a "high" price for the anointing I have for you. You have had to die daily, to your fears, to your control, to religion, to your reputation, - a multitude of deaths in choosing to be a true disciple of Mine. My chosen vessels going through the crushing by the Potter's hands. The clay being molded and remolded.

When I took you from the wheel and put you on the shelf, everything "appeared" to go wrong. You felt that I wasn't there and you asked "Where are You, Lord?" So much about the wilderness, you don't comprehend. You feel alone, you once had your family and friends in support of your decision, now they don't understand. You say: "is it me, did I hear wrong, did I make a mistake, did You really choose me Lord?" AH, My children, even the greatest, My Son, had to go through the wilderness testing.

You have now learned that it doesn't matter what man may think - or - have need of his approval, only your relationship with Me is what matters.

FINALLY... FINALLY... you say "If I have to stay in this wilderness forever, I will" for it's only Me that you want or need. NOW, BELOVED, NOW, I will take you out of the wilderness. And your heart races in excitement and anticipation and you say "Let's go, I am ready!" But to your dismay, you see what's coming next - "the firing."

Now you are in the "kiln" and you are not alone, for it's here that the impurities are taken out of My vessels - bitterness, resentment, anger, jealousy, competition, as the fire continues to get hotter and hotter. The persecutions come - family, friends, job and even the church. But after you get out of here, you are not finished yet and you wait, once more, for the final step - "the glazing"...

It is here, you are afraid to step out in anything for fear of judgment. Now, I begin to poke and prod, do you settle for what you have or do you want more of Me and to finish the process? Your excitement surfaces again. Now the separation begins. I apply the glaze, and you enter "The White Hot Glory Fire", where "ALL that Can be stripped WILL be stripped." It is here, where the coal will be placed to your lips and I bestow anointings, healings, gifts and from this whole process of death comes "resurrection." A resurrection to move in the authority that comes from the anointing. Sending you into the world to reflect My Glory.

What I have started, I will finish. In the wilderness, you heard My promises and somehow - and sometimes you wondered how - you stuck it out, waiting for the manifestation. Even at this time, your GOD is still in control though everything else in your life isn't. You have come to realize that you never did have a view of "My plan" for your life, until I took you into the wilderness - and you now realize it is not your humanness that will allow you to overcome, it's My Godliness.

While in the wilderness, you have truly learned how to lean on Jesus, never to be without hope, love or strength for He has become your strength. You know, the truth of My Love, and that I Am a God who is JUST. I AM the "ultimate power and authority" and you can be positive that I "WILL" use them.

You are part of an elite group. While you have been going through the fiery furnace, you had two choices: you could quit OR you could go on to Spiritual Maturity. You have been noticing the subtle changes that came along the way, changes in you that you never thought possible.

You pressed into your God and the people that know their God will be strong and carry out great exploits. I AM a faithful God, and I require you to be faithful and walk humbly with Your God. Your heart cries out for the injustices you see around you and in the world. But haven't I said that I have overcome the world?

I AM a God of justice, hating injustice, and I will use you as My instruments to seek justice and rescue the oppressed and you will be empowered to do so - reaching out to a hurting, abused and dying world.

I say to My wilderness people, My Remnant, My chosen ones - you are walking out of the furnace, without the smell of smoke upon you, led by the fourth man for I am more real and more powerful than "any" force on the face of this earth. And I am with you all the time, 'right on time.'

{"When God permits His children to go through the furnace, He keeps His eye on the clock and His hand on the thermostat." Warren Wiersbe, bible teacher/preacher.} My Brothers and Sisters - "His eye is on the clock"

Therefore, my brothers, be all the more eager to make your calling and election sure.

For if you do these things, you will never fail. (NIV) 2. Peter 1,10

The Fall Feasts

The Fall Feasts -- Prophetic Picture Of The End Times

Fall is in the air, and if you live in the northern hemisphere, you cannot help but sense nature's supernatural excitement as creation prepares to shift gears from summer to winter. The fields surrounding our home are heavy with crops, and the combines are bringing in the harvest across the plains. The end of one season accents the beginning of another, just like the death of one vision gives rise to the next.

The coming weeks will usher us into the time of the Fall Feasts of the Lord. Trumpets, the Day of Atonement, and Tabernacles are stacked closely together in a span of 22 intense days, painting the prophetic drama of the end of the age. And since our God and Father has chosen to reveal His nature and administration through His creation, it would be well for His people to listen to what the Spirit is saying at the changing of the seasons, understand the agricultural cycle of the biblical year, and align our lives, cleanse our families, and prepare ourselves for His work.

In God's history of salvation, first came Passover in the spring of the year, announcing Christ's sacrificial death and resurrection redeeming His own people from slavery. Then came Pentecost, the summer Feast, signifying the outpouring of the Spirit and the beginning of the harvest as heaven kisses earth. Lastly, Tabernacles in the fall of the year points toward the grand finale of the age, with its trauma, shakings, and ultimate victory.

Of the seven feasts that God's children are commanded to keep, these last three --Trumpets, Day of Atonement, and Tabernacles -- are meant to prepare us for the end of the age. As their prophetic message weaves, from the blowing of the trumpets to the final celebration in the booths, the Holy Spirit indicates the recurring cycles of the end times.

Trumpets

"Speak to the sons of Israel, saying, 'in the seventh month on the first of the month, you shall have a rest, a reminder by blowing of trumpets, a holy convocation.'" -- Leviticus 23:24
The blowing of the trumpets is the sounding of an alarm. It's not unlike the eerie sound of a siren cutting through the still air with its startling and disturbing shriek. Whether a call to arms or to a solemn assembly, when the biblical Israelites heard the trumpet blast -- they came to immediate attention! In the same way, the Feast of Trumpets is not meant to comfort or console us. Rather, it is a wake-up call -- a strong elbow in our ribs designed to irritate us into motion and action.

As we move deeper into the times of the end, we will experience more disturbing trumpet blasts and troubling wake-up calls. What will seem like a disaster to some, will become a life-saving alarm for others who were awakened out of their spiritual stupor, having their ears opened to hear what the Spirit is saying.

Day of Atonement

"On exactly the tenth day of this seventh month is the day of atonement; it shall be a holy convocation for you, and you shall humble your souls and present an offering by fire to the Lord."* -- Leviticus 23:27
Ten days following the Trumpets' blast, the nation of Israel came to a complete and unnatural standstill. Of all of Israel's annual fasts and feasts, none is as dreadful and grave as the Day of Atonement. We know, in retrospect, that it was a good day, a day of sprinkling clean blood in the Holy of Holies to atone for the nation's sins for one more year, but the biblical Israelites couldn't afford to be as charismatically casual about that day as we often are.

For them, it was a day of dreadful expectation, fasting, humbling, and waiting, looking anxiously toward the tent of meeting with longing eyes. Has the high priest been successful in his annual atoning mission? Or has he been killed for somehow transgressing God's holiness in the Holy Place? The issue of sin and its fatal consequences was heavy upon everyone's heart, knowing that that day's ministry would determine their fate for one more year.

The Day of Atonement is about a terrible conviction of sin and about a humbling of one's soul, desperately longing for God's atoning sacrifice. All eyes are fixed upon the High Priest, who is working redemption behind the thick veils. Is His sacrifice acceptable? Are we redeemed? Such heart-felt contrition is the result of the Trumpets' wake-up call, shaking the superficial tranquility of our lives.

Tabernacles

"On the fifteenth of this seventh month is the Feast of Booths for seven days to the Lord. For seven days you shall present an offering by fire… On the eighth day you shall have a holy convocation and present an offering by fire to the Lord..."* -- Leviticus 23:34-36
Tabernacles is the last, longest, and happiest of all of God's Feasts. Celebrating the end of summer, the fullness of the harvest, and the conclusion of the annual prophetic cycle, all of Israel is reclining and dining in festive booths for eight joyful days. It is the closing stage of their labors and the grand finale of their hopes and expectations, and the barns are full. Tabernacles is the final, joyful, and victorious harvest celebration.

The Cycles of the End

These three are the cycles of the end of the age: alarm, conviction, and harvest. The Fall Feasts warn us of these intensifying contractions, as creation travails in the birth pains of Messiah. These three cycles will continue to visit the earth in recurring and intensifying cycles. Whether it will be wars, economic meltdowns, natural disasters, or social upheaval, the trumpets will continue to call for our attention.

And as contrition and conviction mount in search of real rescue and atonement, a wonderful harvest shall be gathered, again and again, among those who hear the sound of God walking in the garden in the cool of the evening calling, "Adam, where are you?"

The testimony of the Fall Feasts is one of warning, endurance, repentance, valor and victory, not of denial or escape. The entire body of scripture and the Messiah's nature consistently point toward the path of endurance, sacrifice, and victory through suffering.

In a vision 26 years ago, we witnessed and experienced the promised "catching up of the saints to be with the Lord" as, we believe, it will occur (though we have no idea when this will be, certainly much endurance and suffering will take place in the body of Messiah between now and then). This fantastic event, as we understand and expect it to be, will take place dramatically and spectacularly at the very end of this present age as one dispensation gives way to the next at the coming of the Lord.

In other words, God's people would be wise to observe or learn from the Fall Feasts of the Lord in the Spirit, learn their prophetic implications, act in accordance with the lessons of the feasts, and prepare for the relentless cycles of the end. The Trumpets' alarms -- leading to Atonement's conviction of sin -- will produce Tabernacles' harvests again and again, as we draw near to the end.

> "For the Lord Himself will descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trumpet of God; and the dead in Christ shall rise first. Then we who are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air, and thus we shall always be with the Lord. Therefore comfort one another with these words.
> Now as to the times and the epochs, brethren, you have no need of anything to be written to you. For you yourselves know full well that the day of the Lord will come just like a thief in the night. While they are saying, 'Peace and safety!' then destruction will come upon them suddenly like birth pangs upon a woman with child; and they shall not escape.
> But you, brethren, are not in darkness, that the day should overtake you like a thief; for you are all sons of light and sons of day. We are not of night nor of darkness; so then let us not sleep as others do, but let us be alert and sober." -- I Thessalonians 4:16-5:6

Be blessed as you keep the Feasts.

GOD LIKES PUZZLES

"We love because he first loved us." I John 4:19

One evening this week, our youngest son Samuel and I were spending some time together just before his bedtime. We were working together on a jigsaw puzzle when Samuel said, "God likes puzzles; He made the whole world like a great big puzzle." Samuel went on to explain that our Minister had visited the children at school assembly and had told them this.

I smiled at Samuel as we continued with the puzzle. It delighted me that he had been paying attention to the Minister and had thought about the message that had been shared. I replied, "I think I know why God likes puzzles Samuel . . . it's because He's the only one who knows how everything works and how to put us all together." We laughed out loud and continued with the puzzle.

Samuel often says things that cause me to think deeply on the Lord and His ways. This comment was no exception. It made me think of the wonder of our God, who is the Father of Lights and from whom every good and perfect gift flows. The Lord has made us in so many diverse ways and yet by His Spirit he calls us to unity, peace, and love.

Even when there are things in life that puzzle us, God is ever present with His compassion, grace, and wisdom. On reflecting on these simple thoughts I was reminded of a vision some years ago. I pray it is a blessing to you all today. I pray that today we would fully embrace the truth of our identity in Christ.
Yours in His agape,

VISION -- THE FATHER'S HEART BEAT

A number of years ago I was lifted up in the Spirit and Jesus began working on my ears. He removed a small black object from my inner ear. I asked Jesus what this was and He replied, "These are lies that have been spoken into your life." He then removed the object, which released healing from the effects of these lies and this enabled me to hear Him with greater clarity.

AN EAR TO HEAR

The Lord then attached a small earphone to my ear. It looked fairly high-tech! I was impressed! He plugged the end of the lead of the earphone into His chest. I laughed out loud because I could hear His heart beat! The Lord laughed, too, most probably at my child-like giggles. It was delightful to hear His heartbeat so clearly.

HIS HEARTBEAT IS HIS VOICE

The Lord then instructed me to open my mouth. As I carefully responded to His instructions, I began to speak and a glorious Light emanated from my mouth. The more intently I listened to His heartbeat, the greater the intensity of Truth that came out of my mouth. In the same way, the church today will speak with absolute authority and clarity if she will only listen to her Father's heart.

"I WILL COME WHEN YOU CALL"

The vision changed and I saw a little girl playing hide and seek with her father. She had her eyes closed, but was listening intently for his footfall. He came to his daughter, sat down with her, then lifted her onto his knee. She immediately yielded to his tender embrace and cuddled into him. She looked earnestly into his face, keen to hear her father's words. He said, "Sweetheart, you don't have to play hide and seek to find me -- I will come when you call."

I was struck by the simple picture of a small child in her father's arms and of the powerful reality that similarly, God our Father really does want us to spend time with him. It's not a game, although it is delightful, and it isn't a burden for Father to respond to His children. He loves it when we call His name! He longs for us to draw near and receive His embrace.

THE FATHER'S LOVE

The little girl smiled at her father and he gazed lovingly at her. She rested her head on his chest, and I was able to hear the same heartbeat I had a moment before. I felt peace and the tenderness and depth of Father's love washed over me in a new measure. I received deeper understanding of God's awesome and absolute care and protection of His children.

Peace saturated my being.

The Father's heartbeat is still ringing in my ear . . .

The Fruit Of Faithfulness

Rick Joyner

Fruit Grows on Trees, Not on Small Plants -- a Word About the Fruit of Faithfulness

October 24, 2005

The fruit of the Spirit is "faithfulness" (Galatians 5:22). The characteristics of the Spirit are called "fruit" because it must be cultivated and grown. It takes faithfulness, which is demonstrated by endurance, for any of the fruit to be grown. But how is faithfulness grown? This is important for us to understand if we are going to bear any fruit.

Fruit grows on trees, not small plants. A small plant may sprout and produce vegetables in a single season, but a fruit tree takes years to develop before it will bear fruit. This is why we are told it takes "faith and patience" (Hebrews 6:12) to inherit the promises. One reason why there is so little true fruit of the Spirit in the body of Christ today is because of the lack of faithfulness; faithfulness is demonstrated by endurance over time until fruit is produced.

I hear many complaints about how pastors and leaders tend to interpret faithfulness as how committed people are to their own vision. This may be true, but this is not necessarily wrong. In fact, to be faithful to someone else's vision is crucial for developing the maturity in Christians so that they too can bear fruit.

Know Your Own Purpose & Destiny

For many years, I have championed the need for people to know their own purpose and have their own vision, but this vision, if it is real, must fit together with a corporate vision. Also, the more significant the calling that we have, the longer and more difficult the time of serving someone else's vision will usually be before He will free us to pursue our own vision.

This is because we are the branches, and He is the vine. A branch cannot bear fruit without abiding in the vine, so His life must flow through us. We receive His life by grace, and we are told plainly that "God resists the proud, but gives grace to the humble" (James 4:6 NKJV). It takes humility to serve someone else's vision. Without humility, we cannot expect His grace.

The greater the purpose that you have, the more difficult you can expect your call to serve someone else's vision to be. Because King David was called to not only be a king but to establish a throne that the Scriptures say even the Lord Jesus sits upon (see II Samuel 7:12-16), the greatest level of humility and faithfulness was required of David. He had to remain faithful to serve a king who not only had drifted from the will of God but began to oppose the Lord, killing his priests and even trying to kill David. However, David remained faithful to Saul even after Saul died.

It is an amazing thing to see how King David rewarded those who honored Saul by recovering his body and giving him a proper burial, but he went even further than this. It was the practice of kings who ascended a throne in those times to kill all of the offspring of any potential rivals. King David did the opposite and actually honored Saul's offspring, even allowing them to eat at honored positions at his own table. David remained faithful to Saul, even when Saul became unfaithful. By this, King David became one of the greatest examples of godly faithfulness in the Scriptures.

Of course, one who exceeds even David in faithfulness is the Lord Himself. He has remained faithful to man, even through all of the unfaithfulness and opposition of man. As the primary work that the Lord is doing in us is to conform us to His image, we can therefore expect to be called on to remain faithful to those who have been unfaithful to us. How many of us, knowing that our best friends were all going to deny us and betray us that very night, deserting us when we needed them the most, would still desire to have one more meal with them and even wash their feet to demonstrate our commitment to them?

Conforming to His Image

If we react to those who disappoint us or are unfaithful to us, then we are still immature. Everything that the Lord allows in our life is for the purpose of conforming us to His image, and if we want this to happen, we can expect to have to go through the same things that He did.

Paul the apostle prayed to be conformed to the image of the Lord's death (see Philippians 3:10), and his prayer was answered. He died with all of his unfaithful friends having likewise scattered from him, and most of the churches he had given his life to serving had already gone into apostasy. Paul probably died wondering if he had really accomplished anything through his life of sacrifice, but true sacrifice has a power to bear fruit that actually cannot be destroyed.
Paul had probably forgotten long ago about the few letters he had written from prison. But because Paul lived for the eternal instead of the temporary, there was an eternal quality to those letters that made it impossible for them to be destroyed. Those few letters with eternity in their hearts are probably still bearing more fruit for eternal life than all of the efforts of all who are in ministry today. But would they have been remembered if Paul had not been so faithful, even to the end, even unto death? Probably not.

We must resolve that our own faithfulness will not be determined by what others do. We must resolve to remain faithful, simply because it is the right thing to do. Even if it looks as if we will be alone and we cannot see any fruit from it, it is still the right thing to do.

Of course, the ultimate test of faithfulness would probably be in relation to a spouse. But is this not what the Lord Himself is daily going through with His bride? How many of you would have liked to have heard from your fiancé on your wedding day, "Darling, I am going to be totally faithful to you 364 days a year. I only want one day a year to mess around."
"You adulteresses, do you not know that friendship with the world is hostility toward God? Therefore, whoever wishes to be a friend of the world makes himself an enemy of God." --* James 4:4

What's Your Focus?

How many of His people have not devoted themselves more to being joined to this world and successful in the world than being joined to Him? Is this true of us? Then we, too, are being unfaithful to the One who in all of creation deserves our faithfulness the most.

If you have a question about whether this is you or not, ask this question: what do you spend most of your time on, and what has most of your attention? Are you more focused on how to get ahead in your job or profession, making more money, or acquiring the things of this world more than knowing the Lord, getting closer to Him, and doing His will? If so, then at the very least you have lost your first love, and you are in spiritual adultery with the world.

It is also possible to be more devoted to our church or our ministry than to the Lord Himself. As ministers, we are called to be the friend of the Bridegroom who is helping to prepare the bride for Him, but how many in ministry are really just using the bride to serve themselves and their own ambition? Isn't this the most profane of all unfaithfulness?

In this way, we are not only unfaithful ourselves, but we are seeking to have the very bride of Christ joined more to us than to Him! By this, we are committing adultery with God's own wife!

This is a trap that causes many in ministry to fall, and this may well deserve the worst judgment on that day. What husband would want a wife that was so busy serving him that she had no time for him? What husband would want a wife that loved her job or her house more than she loved him? This, too, is an issue of faithfulness.

Many of us in ministry are disappointed at the lack of faithfulness of the people to our vision, when we ourselves are basically being unfaithful to the Lord, and the people can see it. They will ultimately be as faithful to us as they can see that we are faithful to Him.

Why do we so easily desert Him for that which has no true satisfaction? For the last three years, Jack Deere and I have scheduled an around-the-world ministry trip each summer to try to serve as many countries as we could in the few weeks that we have.
Each year, Jack is usually in the middle of some study that we spend time talking about, while sharing dozens of hours in airports and on airplanes. This year, Jack found a study on "happiness." The findings of this study were not only very interesting, but they were quite surprising. The study revealed that the amount of material possessions, or the lack of them, actually had no real bearing on a person's happiness.

Materialism is a Trap and a Deception

I pondered this quite a bit on that trip, especially in Africa, where it seemed the majority of the population had so little. Then, as if to emphasize this, while we were in Johannesburg, South Africa, my wife and daughters visited the famous township of Soweto. They had a wonderful guide who took them to Nelson Mandela's house and to the other historic sites of this shanty town where the revolution in South Africa had begun.
The guide was showing them the typical house, which usually had two rooms. One room was the kitchen where there was an open fire and where all of the children usually slept. A friend, who was on the tour, remarked how sorry he was for them to have to grow up in these conditions. The guide was surprised by this comment, saying that they should not be sorry for this because they had a very happy family, and the memories of his childhood were not of deprivation, but of all the good times they had together.

I grew up in a very unhappy family, with difficult and confusing problems, one of which was continued and serious financial stress. Because of that, I have been driven to do better for my own family. However, three times we have had to move from "dream homes" to much smaller and more difficult conditions, and every time I have witnessed the barometer of our family's happiness go up instead of down, and often quite dramatically.

Our over-devotion to materialism is a trap and a deception that is robbing us of true life. So, how is it that we could be more faithful to that vision than to the Son of God? It is a righteous thing to want to provide well for your family, but we must guard against this becoming an idol that eclipses our devotion to the Lord. When it does, the fruit will be bad for ourselves and those we are providing for.

We were all created to have fellowship with God, and there is never going to be anything else more interesting or fulfilling than this. The main thing in our life is to keep the main thing -- the main thing. How is it that we are so easily distracted from this? Unfaithfulness.

All True Ministry is Servanthood

The Lord develops faithfulness in us in many ways. One primary way is by having us devote ourselves to the visions and purposes of others. This is what all true ministry is: servanthood. This is quite a lost art in ministry today, but it will be recovered. When it is, we will discover that there is really nothing as fulfilling as serving the Lord and helping others succeed in their purpose. It is hard for the immature to see this, but this is actually the path for us to succeed in our own purpose.

Paul the apostle lamented that there were many teachers but not many fathers (see I Corinthians 4:15). That is true. A true father will get far more satisfaction from seeing his children succeed than even from his own success. This is why the true measure of an authentic New Testament ministry is for one to reproduce their ministry in others and have them succeed. If it was the nature of God to empty Himself of all of His glory and to lower Himself to become a man to serve the very ones who had rejected Him, then, we who were made in His image will also do this.

So, if the Lord requires the immature to go through a time of serving someone else's vision before letting them pursue their own, and if we are on the true path of true ministry, then our main devotion will not be to get others to support our vision as much as being devoted to helping those entrusted to our care to be prepared and released into their own purpose.
True ministry is never just faithfulness to our own vision, but serving others. In the Lord, that is the only way to fulfill our own vision: by serving Him and serving His people -- servanthood. True faithfulness to the Lord is just as He stated in Matthew 16:24-26:

"Then Jesus said to His disciples, 'If anyone wishes to come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow Me. For whoever wishes to save his life shall lose it; but whoever loses his life for My sake shall find it. For what will a man be profited, if he gains the whole world, and forfeits his soul? Or what will a man give in exchange for his soul?'"

Faithfulness to a Corporate Vision

Faithfulness to someone else requires the laying aside of our own self-centeredness, even the fulfilling of "our ministry," and giving ourselves to the purpose of another. The Lord has made us so that this is the only way we can truly find our own purpose and fulfillment. There is no greater bondage than self-centeredness and no greater freedom than being the Lord's slave. However, the truly faithful will remain steadfast when it becomes hard, regardless of how much time it takes. True faithfulness will see the job through to completion.

Every leader learns fast that it is quite easy to get people motivated to start a job, but there will not be many left to see it through the hard work to completion. The resurrected Lord told five hundred people to go back to Jerusalem to wait for the promise of the Holy Spirit, but after just twelve days there were only one hundred twenty still there. The Lord knew this would happen, and He often causes things to take longer than we would like to thin out the crowds, getting rid of the unfaithful because anything of true significance must be built on faithful people. This is why He requires that we not only have faith but also patience to inherit the promises.

True Christian maturity requires that we learn faithfulness to a corporate vision, something that originated in the heart of someone else, which may or may not be the main thing on our heart, but this is needed before we can expect others to be committed to our vision. Few visions and purposes of the Lord can be accomplished by just one person, so it does require a joining together of others to accomplish them. However, the basis of our faithfulness must be to the Lord Himself above all other things, keeping Him as our first love. That is the basis of all true faithfulness.

One of the primary areas that demonstrates faithfulness is in our financial giving. Most Christians even have a knee-jerk negative reaction to this, but it is true and biblical. This is the reason why the Lord Himself was watching those who were giving in the temple. Jesus, being the true representative of the Father, demonstrated by this that this was something important to the Father. This is because where a person's treasure is, there will their heart be also.

When I was once inquiring of the Lord about how to know who to add to our staff for a position, the Lord said that I should look at his record of giving to see if his heart was really with us. Since then, I have concluded that this probably is truly the best barometer of a person's faithfulness. If their hearts really are with the Lord, they will put their treasures into His work. If their hearts are with you in what you are doing for Him, they will invest there. If they will not put their treasures there, then you can be sure their hearts are not really there either.

The very thought of this will cause a strong reaction in some, but those are the ones that you do not want to count on because they are the ones who will demand the most and give the least. When difficulties come, they will be the first to become disgruntled and the fastest to desert. In my observations, this has been true every time. Money is usually the ultimate idol -- what we put our trust in above the Lord, and where we put our treasure, this will be where our hearts really are. That's why if we are true shepherds, we have a basic responsibility to teach financial faithfulness to those entrusted to our care.

The Fruit Of Iniquity

Judy Curmi

Iniquity: Moral turpitude, wickedness, a grossly immoral act, sin

I am relentless in the pursuit of my beloved. Nothing can stay my hand and nothing can hold me back. I am not a dog that you can keep at bay with a stick! I AM the great and terrible God, mighty in power and flawless in all my ways.

Men have thought that they could make it without me. They thought they could discard all of their morals and pursue whatever pleasure or goal they desired. They are about to find out how very wrong they are and how vain and foolish their thinking has been. Without ME, man is not wise but foolish.

A fool will get a fool’s reward and a vain man will get a vain man’s reward.
True and lasting rewards come through service to me, your God and King.*

Man has been pursuing the wrong things and barking up the wrong trees. If you are not pursuing the right game what will you end up with in the end? Instead of chasing after ME, most of mankind has been chasing after skunks! Don’t you know what happens if you corner or capture a skunk? So why do you still insist on chasing after them?

The smell is already overpowering. The whole earth is defiled with this smell. It is an offense to my nostrils and it should be an offense to yours!

Man is pursuing one thing and I AM pursuing another. The two do not meet or intersect in any way, shape or form. The “formless” is soon to take form. The greatest clashing of WILLS in the history of the world is on the horizon. It is NOT FAR OFF in some distant hazy future as many think or teach.

As it was in the days of Noah, so again man thinks he can pursue his fleshly delights and not suffer any consequences for his behavior. I say otherwise. This is not why I created man or what I created him for. Man is supposed to be pursuing ME, but how few actually do so! So the pendulum has begun to swing its final swings. As it does so, disaster will follow upon disaster. The plans you have made to do things your way, (while rejecting me), will unravel as if a loose ball of yarn were tossed through the air.

Man thinks he can do exactly as he pleases, but I will have the last laugh. [*Psalm*2]

You have rejected my Love. You have rejected and defiled or destroyed the many gifts I have given to you. My hand will be moving, but if you do not know me, you will not recognize that it is my hand at work.

You think you can mock my Word, ignore my Word, reject it or turn it inside out and upside down for your own benefit. Such is not the case and never has been.

WAR is coming, so great a WAR that people will faint and swoon away. This is a WAR of money (economics). This is a WAR of attrition and massive bloodshed. This is a WAR where your food supplies will fail. This is a WAR where greed, avarice and venom now hidden from sight will overflow.

Run to me while you still can, for the days are short and Armageddon is approaching.

Who has paid attention to the clock? Who has faithfully delved into my Word? The foolish will be in great distress as calamity follows upon calamity. Since you rejected me, now I will reject you. I AM coming to establish MY kingdom and you can not stop me. The foolish choices you have made will play themselves out to the fullest, for your fruit is all ripe now. It is ready to be picked or fall down around you.

Are you ready for what lies ahead? For most of you I say "NO"! – You have asked for what lies ahead, but you are certainly not ready to receive it. You thought I was a myth. You are about to find out differently when you have eaten of the fruit you chose to produce. [Rom. 6:18-23]

Your Jesus

Prob. 26:10 The great God that formed all things both rewardeth the fool, and rewardeth transgressors. [KJ]*

Rev. 22:12   Behold, I am coming soon and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be.

Author's comment: I understood this gigantic "clashing of wills" to be a reference to the battle of Armageddon.*

Isa. 3:10-11   Say to the righteous that it shall be well with them; for they shall eat the fruit of their doings. Woe to the wicked! It shall be ill with him, for the reward of his hands shall be given to him.

Jer. 17:9-10   The heart is stubborn above all things; who can understand it? I the Lord search the heart and try the reins, and give every man according to his ways and according to the fruits of his doings.

Matt. 12:33   Either produce like a good tree with good fruits, or produce like a bad tree with bad fruits; for a tree is known by its fruits.

Eze. 18:30-32   Therefore I will judge you, O house of Israel, everyone according to his ways, says the Lord God. Repent and turn away from all your transgressions, so that your sins may not be your ruin. Cast away from you all the iniquities which you have committed; and make for yourselves a new heart and a new spirit, so that you may not die, O house of Israel.
For I have no pleasure in the death of anyone who dies, says the Lord God; wherefore repent and live.

The Fires of God
John St. John

And the angel of the Lord appeared unto him
In a flame of fire
Out of the midst of a bush:
And he looked, and behold, the bush
Burned with fire,
And the bush was not consumed.

Exodus 3:2

2 But who may abide the day of his coming?
And who shall stand when he appeareth?
For he is like
A refiner's fire,
And like fullers' soap:
3 And he shall sit as a refiner
and purifier of silver:
and he shall purify the sons of Levi,
and purge them as gold and silver, that they may offer unto the Lord
an offering in righteousness.

Malachi 3:2, 3

And unto the angel of the church in Thyatira write;
These things saith the Son of God, who hath his eyes
Like unto a flame of fire….

Revelation 2:18

I counsel thee to buy of me gold
Tried in the fire,
That thou mayest be rich….

Revelation 3:18

And He Appeared Unto Me as Fire

I, John St. John, was in the Spirit on the Lord's Day at 11:22 AM this day (12/12/2004), for I had determined to stir up the gift which had lain too long dormant within me. My experience before the Lord in the holy of holies lasted for 48 minutes, and as I prayed earnestly 'with the tongues of angels,' the following teaching was implanted in my heart – for my mind was unfruitful before the fires of God. The time and the timing were exact and perfect (as it is so often between the Lord and me), so I know the message is also timely and perfect. But it is only meant for the true sons of the Spirit who are hearing the call to arise from their pigsties and to purge themselves of its stench before again seeking the narrow road to their Father's house. None other have the ears with which to hear, and neither do they feel the necessity to buy the eye salve which they so desperately need. And this is from Him whose eyes are like a flame of fire, for He alone sees through the many excuses 'the many' make as they harden their hearts to the call of God. 'Many are called; few are chosen.'

The Fiery Message

Even in the midst of the heavenly fire, the God of 'decency and order' is able to reveal His divine order in His chosen vessels – His appointed messengers of the fiery Word from above. As I burned in the purifying fires at the altar of God and His words and images flashed through my soul, even then did a sense of peace and order fill my being – so when the experience before heaven was ended, all that He had shown me fell into its proper place.

The first time God uses the word 'fire' in His Word is found in Genesis 19:24:

Then the Lord rained upon Sodom and Gomorrah
Brimstone and fire
From the Lord out of heaven….

The last time the word is used (to a similar end) is found in Revelation 21:8:

But the fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable,
And murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers,
And idolaters, and all liars,
Shall have their part in
The lake which burneth with fire and brimstone:
Which is the second death.

Christ taught that it will be just like the days of Sodom and Gomorrah in our day – and so it is. 'The many' who are too fearful to serve God in the truth, the unbelieving 'believers' of today, the abominable children of disobedience, the murderers who do not love the brethren, the whoremongers who chase after the world and its false religion, the sorcerers who love to hear the words of their false prophets, the idolaters who make 'images' of their effete, doe-eyed Jesus – and all the liars who have come 'in His name' to twist the Word of God to their own destruction: These are the latter-day children of Sodom who shall all be consumed in the fires of His wrath.

The first and last (alpha and omega) fires of God are the physical, tangible fires of judgment and destruction. But there is another fire He has prepared from the beginning, and this fire is heavenly and spiritual in nature – and it is a fire of purging and deliverance! It is the heavenly fire that was impressed upon me today, so this message is concentrated on the true sons of God and their fire of deliverance – for 'the many' cannot hear of either fire, as their unbelieving hearts have waxed too cold to hear of fire.

The second time the word is used is found in Genesis 22:6 & 7 and is a shadow and type of the testing, purging fires of God.

6 And Abraham took the wood of the burnt offering,
And laid it upon Isaac his son;
and he took the fire in his hand,
and a knife;
and they went both of them together.
7 And Isaac spake unto Abraham his father,
and said, My father:

and he said, Here am I, my son.
And he said,
Behold the fire and the wood:
But where is the lamb for a burnt offering?

Not only does the fire of Abraham (the father) foreshadow the death and resurrection of Christ, but it also foreshadows the same fire (and the knife of circumcision) which must also come to all the sons of God whom He chastens, purges and sets free from the flesh and the world. Just as John 3:16 tells of the laying down of the life of Christ for His chosen, so also does 1st John 3:16 reflect the fact that this very love and sacrifice must also be made by His sons. But if they do not so love the brethren and are not willing to lay down their own lives at the altar of God, then they prove themselves to be bastards rather than heirs.

The NT immediately speaks of both kinds of fire, and the power therein is amplified by the three verses in Matthew 3 (which are also reflective of Exodus 3, Leviticus 3, Numbers 3, Daniel 3, Nahum 3, Zephaniah 3, Zechariah 3, Malachi 3, Luke 3, I Corinthians 3, James 3, 2 Peter 3 and Revelation 3 – all of which speak of His fire). Herein we see plainly the description of both kinds of fire: One for the destruction of the tares and the second for the salvation of the wheat.

10 And now also the axe is laid unto the root of the trees:
therefore every tree which bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down,
and cast into the fire. (The fire of judgment)
11 I indeed baptize you with water unto repentance:
but he that cometh after me is mightier than I,
whose shoes I am not worthy to bear:
he shall baptize you (the good trees)
with the Holy Ghost, and with fire: (The fire of deliverance)
12 Whose fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly purge his floor,
and gather his wheat into the garner;
but he will burn up the chaff
with unquenchable fire. (The fire of judgment)

So we plainly see that there are two kinds of His fire and there are two kinds of 'believers'. As usual with the Lord, there are three levels or stages to nearly everything He does – and these levels or stages serve as His witnesses to His work in the earth. The three stages (or levels of being) we encounter at this point are as such: 1) a baptism of water, 2) a baptism of the Holy Spirit and 3) and baptism of fire.

1) Water. This is meant for the man who is first called by the messengers of God, and it has a point and purpose: To bring the man to repentance so he can indeed prepare the way of the Lord in his life. When one goes under the water, it signifies a washing away of not only his sins, but all his previous life and all of his claims to it. He is to be bought with a price, redeemed and set free from the sins of the flesh, the love of this world and the deceptions of its religions. It is a time when a man is supposed to have his heart circumcised, but of course none of what I teach here is being done today – and the way for the Lord to actually come into one's heart and life is really not prepared at all. It is the tares who have corrupted the way of the Lord and have hindered others from entering through their false, easy gospels which never require any cost to the one being so baptized.
2) Spirit. Mere man can baptize in water, but only the Lord can baptize in the Holy Spirit. The receiving of the Spirit (along with tongues, gifts and callings) is an earnest or sign that such a man has also been made ready and chosen to leave his old life and follow the Lord. This Spirit cannot be received by the world, so most of them have fallen under the influence of deceiving spirits who mock the things of God and, therefore, they cannot bear the fruit of the Spirit – and neither can they bear His truth. Paul warned of 'another spirit' (along with another Jesus and another gospel), and this is the spirit they are of, though they know it not. But the true Holy Spirit from heaven is one who leads the chosen into all truth and endues them with the power from above to actually know, follow and obey the Lord – something that is entirely missing from 'the called.' 'Many are called; few are chosen.'

3) Fire. This final baptism of God is almost unknown today, but as Malachi has promised, it is soon to come to one and all who bear the name of Christ. It is this very baptism of fire which will divide the sheep from the goats, and when the fruitful wheat is finally justified before God – then shall the tares be known also. This is the fire of testing, for God tests His work before accepting it. The merely 'called' shall all fail the test, but the 'chosen' shall all pass it: Some 100-fold, some 60 and some 30. The heirs of the kingdom meekly and happily submit to the chastening of the Father, but the bastards of mere religion flee from it at all cost.

There are also three stages found within the baptism of fire as well:

1) Stage I. When a man of God 'comes to himself' and wakes up from sleeping with the pigs, he knows in his heart he needs a purging from His Father. It is when he, like Isaac before him, lays himself down upon the altar of God and begs for the knife of circumcision and the fires of sacrifice that the Lord finally comes to him in earnest and prepares him to meet his God. But it is the whole burnt offering which God requires if a man is to be accepted and counted worthy to be an heir of Christ, and this is actually the reasonable service one owes God in return for His own dear sacrifice. (Romans 12:1 & 2)
2) Stage II. After a chosen servant of God has finally come into the baptism of fire and has 'surrendered his all' to God, then he has become as a new wineskin and is sent back into his life to walk a new way: One of the Spirit and not of the flesh any longer. It is during this 'born-again' stage that the new creation formed in Christ Jesus runs into so many trials and tribulations which the old man never encountered or even knew existed. Herein is where God deals with him as an heir rather than a bastard-in-waiting, and all his so-called brethren begin to reject him outright – for those who are of the flesh always persecute those who are of the Spirit. These are the fiery trials of which Peter spoke so plainly and they are to be expected as one truly becomes a 'partaker of Christ's sufferings.' But again, this walk of the narrow way is unknown to those who are 'yet carnal' in their understanding, for they think these trials to be 'a strange thing' which they avoid with every step they take. They are the people-pleasers who look so good to other carnal men, and they are the very ones who cannot please God in their present condition.
3) Stage III. Just before the tribulation of Malachi 4, chapter three of the same book tells of a spiritual coming of the Lord 'to His temple' (us!). The final stage of the baptism of fire is yet to come – but soon to come. The Lord will come to His own to test, purge and purify them before the tribulation begins. This will be the penultimate test, and the ultimate test will be hot on its heels. Malachi tells us that the righteous that are tested are those who serve the Lord and the wicked in His temple are simply those who will not serve Him. He also tells us that the righteous shall be spared during the coming tribulation, and also that all the proud (the wicked) shall be burned with fire and become mere stubble.

All who have not submitted themselves to stages one and two will be tested anyway, but their refusal to know and serve God (rather than man) will bring the fire of destruction upon them – but those who have gladly submitted to the first two baptisms of fire will also pass the final test and they shall be spared the wrath of God which shall come against all harlots and adulterers with God. Malachi says that all those who feared the Lord (and His fiery judgments) are also those who spoke amongst themselves (in Spirit and truth) concerning the things of God, and of them the Lord testifies: 'And they shall be mine, saith the Lord of hosts, in that day when I make up my jewels.' And, to add insult to injury, these precious jewels of God will also be the ones chosen to tread down the wicked amongst His people: The very ones who now mock 'the few' who actually believe His report!

In Conclusion

From the opening book of Genesis to the closing book of Revelation, we have seen that God does indeed use His fire as He tests His work – His strange work. He calls the very Word of God itself a hammer and a fire, for it is sent to destroy the words and works of mere men whose tongues are a fire of iniquity as they attempt to 'fight fire with fire' by twisting the Word of God into pleasant little teachings for the tares. As He has said of them from ancient times:

Behold, all ye that kindle a fire,
That compass yourselves about with sparks:
Walk in the light of your fire,
And in the sparks that ye have kindled.
This shall ye have of mine hand;
Ye shall lie down in sorrow.

Isaiah 50:11

There are two kinds of 'believers' in the world today and two kinds of fire: One for each of them. The heavenly, testing fire of God is now being sent out to those who will bear it and bear the fruit of the wheat – and the physical, judging fire of God that is being reserved for the tares. The true sheep of His pasture will come, as Isaac, willingly to the altar of God and surrender their worthless lives in the hope of resurrection – but the goats will continue blindly eating everything in sight until they see a great fire in the sky: One which shall consume them utterly. Either way, God is going to receive His sacrifice and the honor due Him, but the goats are totally oblivious to their fate.

The last OT words of Malachi 3 presage the opening words of John the Baptist in Matthew 3, for it is the same Spirit and the same baptism of fire which is required of one and all – one way or another! The fires of God shall test one and all, whether for good or for evil, and not one soul shall escape it – even though their deceitful hearts (the fire within) and their lying doctrines (the sparks without) deny it entirely. But 'let God be true, though all men be liars' – for it shall surely come to pass.

The Word of God requires a man to examine himself to see whether or not he really is in Christ or not. The only true examination is by the Word of God, for the heart which always 'believes' is more deceitful than anyone seems to believe today. So let each man examine himself by the true light from the fires of God and discover where they really stand – but not by the fires and sparks which issue from within. For how can a man bear witness of himself, especially when it is only the Spirit and the Word of God which are able to peer into man's deepest caverns and 'rightly divide' the heart and its hidden motives?

Have you indeed been baptized in water through repentance? Have you come unto the altar of God (see Romans 12:1 & 2) and had the whole offering burned in the fires of God? (If so, then, like Jacob after wrestling with the Lord, you will no longer be able to walk in the old way – but you will be leaning on the Staff as His rod chastens and hastens your new walk.) And, finally, are you ready for the final baptism of fire which is soon to come? If so, then I long for your friendship and fellowship – and so does the Lord. But if not, do you at least perceive that the time is at hand to 'Prepare ye the way of the Lord'? It is my most fervent hope that either case may be so with you, for these are those who 'spoke often' about the fear of the Lord and the mysteries of God – and they are His special jewels which must soon be displayed. May we find ourselves 'strung together' like pearls – for this is indeed a pearl of great price!

Malachi, the last messenger of the OT, prophesied about the coming fires of God which must come just before the end of the age. The spiritual baptism of fire will liberate and set free the sons of God, and it must come before the fires of the tribulation – for those who pass through the first fire shall not endure the second.

For, behold, the day cometh, that shall burn as an oven; and all the proud, yea, and all that do wickedly, shall be stubble:
and the day that cometh shall burn them up, saith the Lord of hosts, that it shall leave them neither root nor branch.

2 But unto you that fear my name shall the Sun of righteousness arise with healing in his wings;
and ye shall go forth,
and grow up (skip about) as calves of the stall.

Malachi 4:1, 2

John the Baptist fulfilled the first reference to the return of Elijah, but the final appearance of the spirit of the great prophet shall come just before the tribulation with his final message to the world:

5 Behold, I will (like it or not!) send you Elijah the prophet before the coming of the great and dreadful day of the Lord:
6 And he shall turn the heart of the fathers (not Mom!)
to the children, and the heart of the children to their fathers, (not Mom!), lest I come and smite the earth with a curse.

Malachi 4:5, 6

Unless the men of God redeem themselves and restore themselves as the head and ruler of their own households, one and all shall be smitten with the curse of God: The very fires of tribulation and judgment from Almighty God. But unless they come first to the baptism of the heavenly fire, then they will be entirely unable to either serve God or rule their own households – just as they stand today 'miserable and naked' before the Lord who has commanded such of them. If a man cannot put his own soul in order, then how can he put his own household – or the house of God – in order? God's order comes down from God to Christ, from Christ to man, and from the man to the woman. Any man (or woman) who fails to seek the way and the order of God shall be just as cursed as were Adam and Eve, for the curse of the tribulation shall be a mirror image of the first curse upon them at the garden of Eden – only this time their judgment and curse shall be eternal and without repentance.

Of course no one today really believes God will again send the spirit of Elijah, and they especially do not believe he will come in the same Spirit, the same power and with the same unyielding message – but they are 'all alike' wrong again! It shall be God's final warning to mankind, but it will once again fall upon mostly deaf ears. And the prophet himself shall be roundly hated by all, for isn't it always so? But they will receive another in his name, for the false prophet of Revelation will also call down fire from heaven – and all the 'signs and wonders' crowd will believe and follow him instead of the true prophets of God.

But just as the false prophet will try to mimic the works of Elijah, just so shall the true prophets of God call down a fire from heaven – but it will be the fire of testing for the sons of God which they shall summon, and the time for it is now! For unless this fire falls first, there shall be none to save – for the new wine cannot be put into the old wineskins of today.

If there be any man who would join me in the holy place and seek this fire for themselves and for the sons of God who must arise from their slumber at the hour of darkness, then may it be so. But if not, then the task of calling for this heavenly, purging fire of God shall fall upon me alone. If you will not join me in the fire, then I ask that you pray for me at least – for who can bear such a burden alone?

I, John St. John, do hereby solemnly attest to the truth of my experience before the fires of God and to the word He has given me. May you bear witness as well….

In the Fire of God –

John St. John

The Fullness of Grace

Bayo Omoyiola

scroll_of_david@yahoo.com

I will pour out my Spirit upon you and you shall prophesy. I am speaking about the nations. They shall swim in my glory. Yea these are the days of awakening. Let your river flow forth freely. Remove the obstacles and let the river flow forth freely for its revival time.

Many are they that are called but few are chosen. I have chosen you. Prophesy and it would come to pass. For this are the days of my awakening when I will take my people to the next level of their lives. I am awakening their history, I am awakening their lives. I am bringing revival to all the people of the world but those who will hear would have to be humble.

Be bold to declare all that I have to say. Stay on your mission for my oil have I given you in double folds. Therefore enhance the gift of prophecy by speaking forth the words of prophesy more. More and more for your fullness is tied to your prophecy. What you are saying about your self with your mouth. Therefore move to the next level by prophesying. Say good things for good things to come to pass.

Enhance my people with the gift. Move them to the next level. As you prophesy you cause a ' STIR IN THEIR HEARTS. A STIR THAT CAN NEVER BE ERASED. A STIR OF A LIFETIME`.

Come to me all of you and I will give you life. Many are they that are comforted by thier past but you havent seen nothing for I would do new things saith the Lord of Host. I would multiply your harvest and you would move to the next level. I would enhance your gift but you have to be humble. Always pray for this prophecy to flow forth freely. Freely i have given. Freely share. Dont share for money. for I am your money. I am what you earn when you seek me. I AM YOUR EXCEEDING GREAT REWARD, YOUR INHERITANCE AND PORTION IN CHRIST JESUS. I would pay you in hundred folds for what you sow and your prophecy would come to pass .

Learn to press more into me. When you see me your fullness would come. See me with the eyes of faith and you will change. You shall be enlarged and you will never be the same. Give and it would be given to you. Learn to share my anointing by anointing those who are in need with my word and Spirit. Give them of your fulness and I would fill you more and more till you overflow. Awesome glory is what you shall have. Abundant glory. THEREFORE GET READY FOR I AM TELLING YOU THE RAIN IS ABOUT TO FALL. LIKE NEVER BEFORE MY PEOPLE ARE GOING TO BE THIRSTY AND THEY WILL DRINK OF MY SPIRIT TILL THEY ARE THIRSTY NO MORE. TILL I QUENCH THEIR THIRST I WOULD NOT STOP POURING MY OIL INTO THEM. I would teach them of my will so that they be full in their spirit with wisdom, understanding and knowledge. GET READY FOR MY SEVEN SPIRITS. FOR THEY SHALLL BE IN ACTION IN THESE LAST DAYS. AS I BLOW MY SPIRIT UPON THE EAST, WEST, NORTH AND SOUTH OF YOUR NATIONS. I WOULD BREATHE. I WOULD SAY WHAT HAVE NOT COME TO PASS. YOU WOULD HEAR AND SAY THEM FOR I AM ABOUT TO DO A NEW THING SAITH THE LORD OF HOST.

The Faith Of Jesus

Ron Wood

Peter and John were headed to an afternoon prayer meeting. A routine, ordinary, scheduled event on the church calendar, called "the hour of prayer." Today, another person would intersect their daily routine, a man lame from birth, laid alongside their path to beg for alms. Providentially, he was about to become the victim of a drive-by blessing. That was the moment when God's aggressive grace intervened.

Suddenly, faith was interjected, words were spoken, action was taken, and an ordinary day became an extraordinary event as a deeply-felt human need was immediately met by God's mercy toward mankind and His anger against the devil's deeds. When faith responded to the Spirit's discernment, God's power went to ground. Today, this same Holy Spirit is here in us and among us. By the Holy Spirit's gifts (or charismata) we get to do the same stuff Jesus did when we practice prayer and exercise faith. How does it happen? Only one way: by the faith that comes from Jesus (Acts 3:16).

John, the contemplative, was accompanied by his opposite in nature, Peter, the impulsive. They were the "odd couple" of apostolic partners. Before Pentecost, they didn't even seem to like each other, perhaps were even jealous of each other. As different as night and day, a lover and a fighter, one doomed to die in a Roman arena, the other to cross heaven's threshold from a ripe old age. Peter the preacher at Pentecost, and John the seer of Revelation. What did they have in common? They had both been mentored by Jesus. They had both been empowered by Holy Spirit baptism. And they had begun praying together in a grace-matrix that was firing up the furnace of an apostolic factory.

But today they were merely walking side by side to a prayer meeting, another ordinary day in the life of two plain disciples, another day of routine faithfulness. But unknown to them, they had crossed the threshold into kingdom-of-God possibilities. The presence of God had reached critical mass in their lives. The chain-reaction of the Holy Spirit's anointing had built up to a red-hot level of glowing glory and was about to irradiate a crippled man in a burst of manifest mercy. This is what happens when prayers crescendo.

Years ago when I helped develop gifts of the Spirit in a local church, first prophetic gifts and later healing gifts, the Lord showed me that it was right for us to meet and pray and stir one another up. He said, "I will forever conceal in isolation what I will freely reveal in fellowship." We need to light each other's fire and stir up each other's gifts. The old Pentecostal saints called it "tarrying." Like hot coals pushed into a burning heap, we intensify one another's flame when we stick tight to seek God together. Then, out of that fire of burning holy oil, the activated anointing, we can turn from worship to warfare, and together we can do damage to the devil's work and deliver people in Jesus' name.

We multiply our power when we team up for Jesus. Peter and John, Paul and Silas, the divine pattern is two by two: a couple with God in the Garden, animals into the Ark with Noah, pairs out the door to heal the sick (Luke 10:1). How much good can happen when two believers walk in the will of God together? What is the possibility when two people start a divinely-directed spiritual offensive, and then continue praying together over time, keeping up their assault on hell's gates, not stopping until something happens?

There is simply no limit to what God will do when two or three pray with hearts and voices united in anointed faith (Matthew 18:18-20). I especially hear the Spirit calling men to this alert today. Listen up: Go get a prayer-partner! Act valiantly in battle!

Peter spotted the lame man. Something caught his attention. Something in his spirit stirred. He didn't look with the eyes of pity, but looked at the potential for a miracle. He saw a divine opening, a flash of what could be. It required an instant response or it would easily slip by like a closing sliding door. Obey your heart or your head? Do what the Spirit says or stick with common sense? In only a moment, a pregnant pause while eternity peers down, a glimpse of the powers of the age to come, a tiny crack in the curtain of time; a mere split second in which heaven draws near, or… maybe not?

He saw the Holy Spirit brooding over the man. He saw the man no longer resigned to disease but rising up in hope for wholeness. Out of his seeing by the Spirit what could be, Peter opened his mouth and spoke words by faith that stirred a response of faith. Peter said what he heard so that he could see what he'd said. God's Spirit agreed with the words of faith and the man became well. Can you picture it? Does it thrill you? Can you put yourself in his place? Can you see his wife when he walked home that day?

The lame man only expected money, but Peter instead gave him something money can't buy: his health. Peter said, "Such as I have give I thee." And the command of faith came, "In the name of Jesus, walk!" Words spoken with faith's authority released the power to receive from God. Faith acted upon resulted in an affectation of faith, a work of faith. Words have power when the Holy Spirit is in them. Our words uncover what we carry inside. Our words are containers that can push grace from God into another's needy life.

Whereas in one moment the lame man had only faith to beg for money, in the next moment, faith for healing was given him by a man sent from God. One man who had seen a resurrection, who had spent time praying, gave away a gift of grace to another man who had never taken a normal step in his life and had seen only lameness and limitations.

When the lame man was dramatically healed in a public way, it stirred up the city to react. The stage was set for a powerful Christ-honoring sermon to be proclaimed outside the sanctuary in the dirty streets. Miracles are still God's advertisement for the gospel. We often assume signs and wonders only occur for missionaries in poverty-stricken countries, but that's wrong. Apostles may work wonders, but so do ordinary saints who know Jesus. If we pray, if we get full of God, if we have boldness to speak, miracles also happen here, next door, today. We are carriers of God's infectious kingdom, a kingdom of power and mercy, and we know that with God speaking, nothing is impossible!

The Fullness of Joy
Ron McGatlin

Psa 16:11 You will show me the path of life; In Your presence is fullness of joy; At Your right hand are pleasures forevermore.

One of the serious problems among people today is a condition called depression. This condition is like a cancer of the soul. Once it gets into the mind it attacks mental functions, emotional well being and erodes the will. It is also can have serious adverse effect on the body as it lowers the immune system and opens the door for other diseases to take hold in the body. The lack of joy is the "way of death".

Depression attacks church people as well as those in the world. Only one group of people are completely immune to this life stealing condition, THOSE WHO ABIDE IN THE PRESENCE OF GOD. The sure cure for all depression is real joy and the fullness of joy is overwhelming in the manifest presence of God. It is not possible to go into the manifest presence of God and not experience the joy of the Lord. Abiding in the joy of His manifest presence is the "way of life".

Acts 2:28 You have made known to me the ways of life; You will make me full of joy in Your presence.

Many experiences of life attempt to steal our joy. Changing circumstances and situations can spawn fear and anger - worry, strife and resentment can replace the joy of the Lord in our lives. Rejection from those we have loved and cared about - the frustration of being miss understood in our efforts to do good - loosing our place of employment where we have sought diligently to serve and many other life situations can be used to steal our joy.

Even the changes that God is bringing to lead His people into a different way of church from that which is familiar to us can be very difficult if we are not abiding in the fullness of joy in the presence of God. Many are in danger of not making it through the difficulties of future changes without the strength of the fullness of the joy of the Lord filling their souls. To victoriously come through the severe changes ahead of us today we must have the joy of the Lord. We must abide in His manifest presence.

Neh 8:10 Then he said to them, "Go your way, eat the fat, drink the sweet, and send portions to those for whom nothing is prepared; for this day is holy to our LORD. Do not sorrow, for the joy of the LORD is your strength."

We must not only be able to experience the Holy Spirit coming upon us and moving within us we must be able to go through the veil into the spiritual realm of the very presence of the Father. We must be transported into the place of His presence and experience the consuming love of our Heavenly Father. Here, He will pour the oil of the liquid fire of His love into us until it fills us and flows from us. There is no greater joy - no greater pleasures than experiencing the transportation of our spirit into His and becoming one with God.

We may have sought to have joy in many ways. Pleasure seeking is a consuming reality in the western world today. Much of our time, effort and money is spent in seeking experiences of pleasure. Whether you consider any specific form of "pleasure seeking" to be sin or noble activities, none will give lasting joy to the soul. People are left to endlessly search for more to bring the desired level of pleasure. Even church related activities will not bring lasting joy unless they truly lead to our transportation into the very presence of God.

After all other pleasurable experiences are over there will be a let down and a return of movement toward depression. Further weakness results as the strength of the Joy of the Lord is not with us and we are prone to succumb to temptations and eventually depression opens us to sickness and diseases.

The joy of the Lord in His presence is not optional. As we truly abide in Him and He in us we remain in His presence - we are saturated in His love and become faithful, humble and obedient to His every Word and desire. In our weakness of self, created by the magnitude of His passionate love for us we become as He is in the world. We become strong and very courageous in the fullness of joy and pleasures evermore. We "do not love our lives to the death" and no matter what our earthly circumstance may be we can be at perfect peace. Someone has said "joy is peace in motion".

Seeing God Moving In The Affairs of Man

www.openheaven.com

God is intervening upon the earth in the affairs of man. Modern REFORMATION began in the 1500s with the return of some revealed light into a time of great spiritual darkness. Hundreds of years later RESTORATION of the power gifts of God through the Holy Spirit moved us toward REVIVAL and RENEWAL which have in turn moved us into intimate passionate relationship with the Father in His LOVE. Experiencing the love of God in His manifest presence is moving us into real holiness.

2 Cor 6:16-18 And what agreement has the temple of God with idols? For you are the temple of the living God. As God has said: "I will dwell in them And walk among them. I will be their God, And they shall be My people." Therefore "Come out from among them And be separate, says the Lord. Do not touch what is unclean, And I will receive you." "I will be a Father to you, And you shall be My sons and daughters, Says the LORD Almighty."

The fire of His passionate love is changing us into humble sons and daughters captivated in His love. Prisoners by choice, never again wanting to be apart from His all consuming love. Experiencing brokenness through His manifested presence of great love is bringing us into purity and real holiness. (Joel 2)

Heb 12:29 For our God is a consuming fire.

The hand of God continues to move us as He is drawing a people who will draw near to Him in holiness. He is forming us into a people who will lift Jesus higher as Lord and King - Savior and Master of the world. A people proclaiming the victory of Jesus over all the enemies of God and the world. A pure hearted generation of sons and daughters who love God above their own lives. A humble people who value spiritual life and worshiping God above all else.

1 Pet 5:5: " Therefore humble yourselves under the mighty hand of God, that He may exalt you in due time,

The hand of God is moving people from "lukewarm" to "on fire" through revival and renewal. People are changing from seeing how much they can get away with and still make it, to seeing how close they can live in His presence and how pure and holy they can become in His love. Changing form only positional righteousness to practical righteousness.

Heb 1:7-8: And of the angels He says: "Who makes His angels spirits And His ministers a flame of fire." But to the Son He says: "Your throne, O God, is forever and ever; A scepter of righteousness is the scepter of Your Kingdom.

As His people are being changed, church is changing. A season of fresh reformation is upon the church. The church is not the church as it was. The church as it has been exist less and less while from the stump of the old a beautiful and pure church of sincere dedicated sold out lovers of God is growing into reality.

Not everyone is seeing the hand of God in the changes coming forth. Habits and traditions are in jeopardy as the hand of God is reforming His church into something different than the church of the past and into something much more like the church of the first century, only more glorious.

God is reforming His church as He reforms His people and the world will be impacted as the church experiences this current "next reformation" season. The church that Jesus is building is destined to impact the world with the reality of kingdom of God living replacing the principalities of the evil one and the strongholds of religious "isms".

This is not about criticizing the church. This is not at all about creating new institutions or structures of church. It is not about adding another denomination with an improved set of teachings. Nor is it about improving the existing denominational institutions and their doctrines.

It is as a fresh new plant growing from the seed of all that God has brought to the church in the past. As the new seedling grows forth it must like all other seeds break out and cast of the old shell that contained it and had kept it safe. It sprouts new roots and grows a new stalk and leaves and eventually produces the fruit of the new plant growing forth with fresh new life.

John 12:24 "Most assuredly, I say to you, unless a grain of wheat falls into the ground and dies, it remains alone; but if it dies, it produces much grain.

The old must pass away for the new seedling to grow forth. There is no resurrection nor resurrection life until something dies. The seed of God, Jesus, was sown into the world and experienced death on the cross that new resurrection life would come forth as a new "plant" in the earth. Jesus returned in resurrection life in the Holy Spirit to indwell and empower those who make room in their heart for resurrection life to abide. Those who will die to their self life that Jesus may live in them. Jesus said to her, "I am the resurrection and the life. He who believes in Me, though he may die, he shall live. John (11:25)

Jesus is a Jew and participated in the old shell of the Jewish religious structure of sacrifices and rituals. The Old Testament contained Jesus and was the shell from which the seed of the new plant ,Jesus, came forth. The old shell was broken at the cross and the New Testament came forth at the resurrection. Jesus is the resurrection and the life.

Col 2:17 which are a shadow of things to come, but the substance is of Christ.

Heb 10:1: For the law, having a shadow of the good things to come, and not the very image of the things, can never with these same sacrifices, which they offer continually year by year, make those who approach perfect.

In the season known as the dark ages the church drifted back into the old shell and restructured itself after some of the old patterns and for the most part lost the glory of the indwelling Holy Spirit and empowerment of Christ abiding in all His people.

Even in the protestant age of the early reformation much of the old shell was carried forward and for the most part the church remained powerless. Instead of Christ ruling through the indwelling Holy Spirit hierarchies of men replaced the resurrection life of Christ, the true head, with organizations and structures of religious forms and teachings. The Old Testament shell of separation between clergy and laity was brought forward into the church. Even in the reformation of the 16th century the Body of Christ was divided into clergy and laity and most of the potential of the church was lost.

We yet remain affected by the old shell. The next reformation is a breaking out as the church of Jesus (the called out and set apart ones) comes forth in resurrection life power. The same power that raised Christ from the dead is raising up the Body of Christ to become the glorious Bride of Christ.

God's plan has always been to have a people who are all priests and kings. Glory to God! We are now on the move in that direction. Yes, it is frightening at times to break out of the old shell and yes, it is potentially hazardous but God will have His people ruling and reigning with Him in miraculous empowerment of Christ within changing the hearts of the people that will change the kingdoms of this world into the kingdoms of our God. Christ will present the kingdoms back to the Father. Christ in you is the hope of glory. (Col.2 27) (Rev 11:15)

The Following Months

Delta Vines

August 24, 2005
Vision:

I saw a "cut out" of the US, lying flat, "sandwiched" between two pieces of plastic wrap. The wrap was sealed at the ends. Then, I saw a forefinger lift the top layer of plastic wrap, breaking the seal at the edge in a small place. Over and over I saw that finger lift the edge of the top layer of plastic wrap at various places on the edges of the "cut out" of the US. Where the edge of the wrap was lifted, it left an opening between the layers. Those were places where the country was not covered by the wrap.

A hand became visible which the finger was attached to. The finger was pointing at the cut out of the US. Not at any particular place, but just pointing here and there. Then it moved to an edge and pulled the wrap back. Afterward, the hand opened, and moved away.

Then, as if watching some sort of fast flashes of places, I saw several things. First in a forest, I saw people in lean to type structures made out of wood and material (sheet?). The people were destitute, looked hopeless. There was something cooking over a fire. Suddenly, I was in city streets, perfectly good buildings were deserted. People were in doorways, leaning out windows, or aimlessly walking. I did not see any businesses or traffic. Just concrete and buildings. Some children were clutching dolls. Some were playing with a ball in the street.

Again, I saw this in quick "flashes".

I asked G-d what all this was.

The plastic wrap represented the covering G-d has on the US. The finger separating the edges of plastic over the "cut out" of the US was from Him, allowing places for adversities to come to the US. The appearance of the hand represented His Hand, removing the cover from protecting a large area then putting His Hand back over it before withdrawing. When I asked when, how long, I did not get an answer, but it just "feels" like 5-6 months.

While people have been saying Katrina was G-d's judgement on New Orleans for sins, He showed me a different view. New Orleans' sins are no more than any other city in the US. It's location would affect the whole nation in many ways. In His mercy, G-d saved more people than man realizes. New Orleans reveals the heart of this nation.

The heart of this nation has become hardened to G-d and opened to the ways of man. Instead of people, we count appearance to be important. Instead of souls, we count money to be important. Instead of homes, we count technology and buildings as important.

We flaunt our sins. We have lost our modesty. No longer do we feel shame. We openly wave it in front of all to see. We no longer share His love without condition. Instead, we have pride, and religion, and callousness, and rebellion, and fear of hardship. We have become lazy and lukewarm. This is not the worldly people G-d is primarily addressing. It is the CHURCH.

What happened in New Orleans gave us, as a nation, opportunity to repent. Instead we yelled at our leaders. Indeed our leaders have made poor decisions regarding blessing Israel. Our leaders are acting according to the heart expressed of the Church. People in our nation acted to rescue the poor and disabled. We gave and continue to give to the needs of those in this tragedy. We see it as an enemy to subdue and overcome. We no longer realize when we need to repent, bow down, and acknowledge our inability in ourselves. Our nation openly scoffs unchallenged at there being only one way to G-d. Our nation no longer recognizes G-d as G-d. Instead, any name we call Him by is acceptable, as long as we don't make anyone angry. We fear proclaiming truth.

The Church clings to the warm fuzzy words of encouragement. These put us equal to G-d, declaring He has given us power to the point that we proclaim we have power that is His alone. Yet we do not realize we are declaring ourselves to be able to do that which is attributed to the Lordship of G-d and His Son, Jesus. We don't want to be uncomfortable. We are special. We should not have lack, or be in need.

We want the birthright of the firstborn without the responsibility of the care of our siblings. We desire to be only Children due to our selfishness. We see ourselves as Abel, when instead we are as Cain.

Our rebellion is that as of Babel, in that WE will build, and WE will ignore warnings. Instead, WE will be brought down to our knees by G-d.

When I ask the Lord about the people in the forest and in the city, He directed me to Revelation 3:16 - 19 CJB

"So, because you are lukewarm, neither cold nor hot, I will vomit you out of my mouth! For you keep saying, 'I am rich, I have gotten rich. I don't need a thing!' You don't know that you are the one who is wretched, pitiable, poor, blind and naked! My advice to you is to buy from me gold refined by fire, so that you may be be rich; and white clothing, so that you may be dressed and not have to be ashamed of your nakedness; and eyesalve to rub on your eyes, so that you may see. As for me, I rebuke and discipline everyone I love; so exert yourselves, and turn from your sins!"

We are children in need of discipline and the care of our Heavenly Father. We are those in the forest and in the city...equally in need.

G-d loves His Church, (the people who believe in Him and His Son). He is a healthy Father, and He corrects those He loves. He has against us much that He has against the Church in Laodacea. The Church not only has lost it's love for Jesus; we've lost the passion (not lust) for Him.

Religious pride will rise up in many at these words of rebuke and correction. Many will ignore, and be as the Pharisees. Jesus/Yeshua will still walk with the repentant who see their need, just as He did when He walked this earth in physical form.

The plastic being pulled back, and then God's hand covering it after a small time, represents a greater susceptibility to exposure to the enemy.

The following months will bring us trials to endure. It will reveal the result of that which we have sown. How we handle the challenges ahead of us in the following months will determine the extent of that exposure. If we repent for our sins, see our need, and humble ourselves before G-d, He will help us through the trials ahead. Our priorities will not be structures. Our priorities will once again be the poor, the disabled, the widowed, the orphan, the sick, feeding the hungry, and taking in the homeless. The one true G-d will be the only One we will speak of when we say "G-d". We will know our need of His Only Son, Jesus/Yeshua. We will be thankful, and we will be humble, and we will not judge by appearance.

He is making us to be in His likeness....
Amen

The Fruit Of Love

Howard Morgan

May 4, 2005

For many Christians the Jewish people and the Jewish roots of their faith are concepts that range from irrelevant and unimportant to dangerous and heretical. Centuries of non-biblical doctrines and actions have erected a barrier between the church and the Jewish people. This barrier can be thought of as a huge wall of thick semi-transparent glass that only permits dim light to pass through and results in distorted vision. This distortion is caused by those unbiblical doctrines and actions which effect the mental perceptions and heart attitude of those who seek to view the other side. The barrier does however allow many negative ideas, thoughts and feelings to emerge in the hearts of both Christians and Jews, as they consider distorted views of each other and how they are to relate to each other. This "wall of distortion" causes Christians to see the Jewish people and/or the nation of Israel in ways that are contrary to Scripture. It has historically allowed the Church to maintain relationships with the Jewish people that can at best be described as "tolerant," (i.e. "Let's just leave them alone") and at worst as "persecutorial," (i.e. "Kill the Jews!")

This "wall of distortion" affects individuals by causing them to create negative ideas about how to relate to those being viewed. Historically the Christian view of the Jews was distorted by doctrines of demons that taught that the Jews were "Christ killers" and therefore "under the curse of God," and as a result were "cast away." If the distortion is removed by a proper understanding of the plan of God as revealed in the Scriptures, which always brings forth the Biblical fruit of Love, then all negative thoughts and feelings will be erased and replaced by the fruit that love bears. Seeing the Jewish people through the "clear glass" of the Scriptural plan of God will bring forth the fruits of love, support and authentic testimony of the Messiah to the Jewish people.

God is looking for believers who will allow the "wall of distortion" to be destroyed in their own life and be replaced with a "bridge of relationship." The church has a message, and a mandate to proclaim this message to all people, including the Jewish people (Matt. 28:19-20).

Historically however, it has been the church that has largely built the walls of distortion, even though they had the scriptural mandate to be "ministers of reconciliation" (2Cor.5:18). It is therefore incumbent upon the Church, and not the Jewish people, to start the process of bridge building. Christians must begin to actively tear down the "wall of distortion" and build this "bridge of relationship."

Because the Church has a mandate to proclaim the "Good News of the Messiah" to the Jewish people, we must be very careful to make sure that the message that we are proclaiming is in fact the "faith that was once committed to the saints" (Jude 1:3). We must make very sure that what we are proclaiming is the Truth of God and not religious or "Christian" tradition. If we are honest students of the bible and church history, we will see where much tradition has been added to the scriptures, and where church doctrines have supplanted the doctrines of "the faith." How can we testify to the Jewish people about their own messiah and the New Covenant Judaism that He instituted, if our message to them is "convert to gentile Christianity." We must see where and how the Jewish message from the God of Israel about the Jewish messiah, originally proclaimed by Jewish apostles and prophets, became a "gentile Christianity" that lost it's inherent "Jewishness." As the church departed from this "faith that was once delivered to the saints," she lost her place as the "pillar and support of the truth" (1Tim. 3:15) because she began to proclaim a message that was no longer based on the revelation of the Hebrew Scriptures. In place of this true revelation, an amalgam of Biblical doctrines and human philosophies were proclaimed that created a new religion in the earth that has come to be known as "Christianity." To many people, "Christianity" is a religion whose focus is upon services held in a "church" building, where there is an inherent separation between the "clergy" and the "laity." The congregation observes a service, listens to a sermon, places a donation in the offering, and returns again next week for more of the same. The fruit of this "religion" has often been hatred and bloodshed as any reading of "Church" history will clearly show.

As we turn our attention to the Jewish roots of the Christian Faith, or shall we more accurately say the "faith of the Messiah, "we are placing ourselves in a position where we can become open to discovering more and more about the true "faith that was once delivered to the saints." This is a challenging and exciting prospect because it places all of us in a position to re-evaluate our beliefs and the "realities" of our faith for our every day life. Learning about "our Jewish roots" will not spiritually profit us very much if the things we learn are merely academic concepts that adorn our doctrinal bookshelves. The truths that we learn, and are challenged to apply, should deepen our personal walk and relationship with the Lord. This is a major reason for the publication of this newsletter, and I believe, for the Lord's emphasis on restoring an understanding of the Jewish roots of our faith. Another major reason for this emphasis is so that we, as representatives of the kingdom of god, would be fully equipped and enabled to testify of the realities of Messiah Jesus to the Jewish people.

Before we can discuss our Jewish roots, we must have an understanding about truth, in order to know why the Jewish roots of our faith are important. If the church is going to be the "pillar and support of the truth" that she is called to be, she must know the whole truth of her message. As we study the scriptures, we find some interesting diagnostic tests that the Lord has given us so that we can examine ourselves to make sure that we are really in "the faith" (2Cor. 13:5). I believe that the first and perhaps most important diagnostic test we have is the test of love. Do our personal beliefs, church doctrines, scriptural interpretations, traditions and practices bear the fruits of love? Do these cause us to be more and more conformed to the image presented to us in 1 Corinthians 13:1-8? "If I speak in the tongues of men and of angels, but have not love, I am only a resounding gong or a clanging cymbal. If I have the gift of prophecy and can fathom all mysteries and all knowledge, and if I have a faith that can move mountains, but have not love, I am nothing. If I give all I possess to the poor and surrender my body to the flames, but have not love, I gain nothing. Love is patient, love is kind. It does not envy, it does not boast, it is not proud. It is not rude, it is not self-seeking, it is not easily angered, it keeps no record of wrongs. Love does not delight in evil but rejoices with the truth. It always protects, always trusts, always hopes, always perseveres. Love never fails."

Love is the hallmark of the Spirit of God. You cannot say that you have the Spirit of God within you if you do not manifest the fruit of love. The Apostle John wrote, "Beloved let us love one another for love is from God; everyone who loves is born of God and knows God. The one who does not love does not know God, for God is Love" (1 John 4:7-8). Romans 8: 29 teaches us that God is continually working with us to conform us more and more to the image of His son. The image of Jesus that we are being conformed to is defined by the attributes of love described in 1 Cor. 13. Do our beliefs, doctrines, practices and traditions cause our hearts to grow cold or even become closed? Does our "religion" cause us to love more, or less? Does it open our hearts or close them? Does it give us "justifications and spiritual rationalizations" for compromises to our love, so that we harden our hearts toward those who interpret the scriptures differently? Individual believers, local churches and even entire denominations will allow their love for each other to grow cold because of doctrinal differences. The Apostle Paul wrote in 1 Cor. 13:2 that "if you have all knowledge so that you understand all mysteries but have not love you are nothing." The Greek word for nothing here is oudeis, and is the same word that Jesus used in Matthew 13 to describe someone who has lost his saltiness and is "good for nothing except to be thrown out and trampled under foot by men." We must stop and consider the profound implications of this verse. The issue of Love is central to "the faith once delivered to the saints." We cannot say that we are true believers or disciples of this "faith" if we are not moving and growing in love! Please dear reader consider these thoughts. Is your "doctrinal correctness" more important to you than your love? Do you have any kind of "spiritual smugness" because of your doctrinal positions that is causing your love for those who disagree to grow cold? If the answer to these, or similar questions that the Holy Spirit may be asking you right now is yes, then be zealous and repent! (Rev. 3:19).

The scriptures teach us to endeavor to keep the unity of the spirit (our love) until we come to the unity of the faith (Eph. 4:3&13). When Jesus returns and "opens up the Scriptures" (Luke 24:32) then, and only then, will we all have the same correct doctrines. Until then, the challenge is in allowing the Holy Spirit to enlarge our hearts to bring forth more and more fruits of love in our lives (John 15:1-2, Gal 5:22).

As we consider the Jewish roots of the Christian faith, we must continually remain keenly aware of the centrality of love to this "faith once delivered to the saints." When we move away from love, we are moving away from god, no matter how right we think our doctrines are. The testimony of the church is Love. when we do not have love we are no longer in "the faith." far too many Christians, churches and denominations have let their love grow cold as subtle demonic strategies have worked to cause "doctrinal correctness" and non-Biblical external codes of conduct to become more important than the Biblical standard of Love.

As the church returns to her biblical and therefore Hebraic or Jewish roots, and allows the truths of the Bible to be her standard, she will find herself facing the issue of the Jewish people and the fact that the church has failed to love them, even as she has failed to love her own. The issue of the Jewish roots of the Christian faith will force us to face this issue of love and many other issues. The way we respond to these issues will determine our faithfulness as servants of the Lord

God has placed this emphasis on Love because it is the realm in which he operates. Love is the atmosphere that allows God to manifest himself. Faith, which brings answers to prayer, works by love (Gal. 5:6). Praise, which brings the presence of God (Psa. 22:3) is the fruit of our love for the Lord. Where Jesus is loved and where His love is allowed to flow, there He will manifest Himself. It is this manifestation of the Love and power of God that is at the heart of God's desire to restore the Church to her Jewish roots and to the Jewish people. God longs for the Jewish people to see the Church as He has called her to be: a world-wide community of redeemed people who love God, each other, and all men; a people who "know their God and do exploits" (Dan.11:32); a community of faith and power where the demonstration of the Holy Spirit is common place.

Restoring the Church to her Jewish roots is but one step toward this glorious end. This is the step that takes us back to the Bible and "the faith once delivered to the saints." Discovering our Jewish roots takes us to a place where we can examine all of our "doctrines and traditions" and rid ourselves of those that have come from men (or Satan) and do not bear the fruit of Love. As the Church around the world becomes more and more conformed to her Biblical standard, and sees in the Scriptures God's strategy for her testimony to Israel, she can turn to the Jewish people and declare, " We are partaking in a Jewish faith, your Messiah has filled us with His love, His power is demonstrated in our lives. Oh Israel, your Messiah is wonderful, come to Him."

Discovering our Jewish roots and understanding the Hebraic heritage of the Church is the first step in re-orienting the Church to her Biblical relationship with the Jewish people. If the Lord Jesus cannot return to reign until the Jewish people call Him back (Matt. 23:39), and the testimony to them of Jesus being the Messiah comes only from the Church, then the Church must have a proper Biblical orientation and relationship to the Jewish people. She must repent for her past hatred and persecution of the Jewish people and begin to demonstrate the true faith from which she was originally birthed.

As we understand this plan, we must also understand that the overriding reality that will demonstrate to the Jewish people that Jesus is the Messiah, is the LOVE that is demonstrated in the Church. I recently observed a small incident that confirmed this in my heart. At a Jewish believer's birthday celebration, an unsaved wealthy Jewish relative told her this, "My money has not brought me friends, but your faith has brought you people who love you." The love she observed caused an envy to rise up within her. She was provoked to Jealousy (Rom.11:11,14). May God so work in the whole church of the Lord Jesus that our love for each other and for the Jewish people would provoke them to Jealousy.

The Fire Of My Love

The Fire Of My Love
(End Time Admonition)

Frequent purging as you go through the fiery flames of My love doesn't mean that you have missed the mark or that you do not have what it takes to come to the place of victory, but it does mean that I have turned up the fire because I am doing a quick work, and that time is running out.

Yes, I am in the process of preparing My bride, and I need a pure vessel that I can work through. For I will be moving with My power against the enemy in the way of complete defeat and devastation, and there is no time to have My people tripped up with areas of pride or presumption. Everyone that is called into My army must be a vessel that is well trained to avoid the pitfalls of the enemy. For pride cannot be the banner that she waves but to have a heart that is pure and spotless before Me.

I am the keeper of the house, and everyone that is a part of My sure foundation has been tried and tested through the fire of My love and has been proven that this vessel will stand up through any type of storm without crumbling in defeat. I know those who are called by My name, and I know those who are pure and those who are a counterfeit. Only the fire will prove the metal that they are made of....those that are of the highest quality of tempering.

Examine your hearts and know if you are able to stand the heat and if not, then prepare yourself further in My love by communing with Me and in My word by trusting Me. You have what it takes so that you can stand, but many don't know it in their heart so they shy away from My heat. Yes, many try to escape My constant attempts to purge the dross and anything that could stand in My way. Yes, many run to the arm of the flesh for help which just hinders My work. For if you would only stand faithful, then I could finish the work that I've started without any hindrances.

For this is the time and the hour that I must pour out My power and against the enemy. Yes, I must wipe away the forces that try to hinder Me bringing in My harvest, but I know those that I gave My life for, and I know those who will answer Me when I call, and I know those who will not. For when My people get in the place they need to be in worshiping Me, then I will release My heart cry, and I will repel the forces of darkness away from the lost. And I will usher in My end time harvest.

Yes, I am waiting on you, My glorious ones. Yes, I am waiting upon My lights of glory. And as you come closer to Me, you will burn brightly as the noon day sun. And My glory will blind the enemy. For you have gone through the fire of My love, and you have proven faithful. And together we will reign a mighty army. Yes, today is the day, and now is the hour.

The Feast Of Tabernacles - A Key For Today

Andrew Strom.

From every quarter right now there is dissatisfaction with Western Christianity and what it has become. ALL of us are searching for something that will take us out of the spiritual 'rut' that the church seems to be in - into REAL Christianity the like of which we have never seen. So many are yearning and searching for this thing. -Something that goes beyond just a temporary "revival" and ACTUALLY REMAINS WITH US. -A permanent state of being. -Becoming the glorious Body of Christ in the earth as she is truly meant to be.

I was praying last night and God reminded me of the Feast of Tabernacles. This is the Feast that represents God Himself coming down and "TABERNACLING" with His people. -Actually living and abiding with the corporate Body - his full holy presence residing with us.

There were three major Feasts that the Israelites observed. The first two - Passover and Pentecost - have been literally fulfilled in the days of the New Testament. A number of teachers say that 'Tabernacles' is the one that is yet to be fulfilled - and perhaps this is what we are all sensing in our spirit. -A yearning for God to come down - not just temporarily as with many past Revivals - but actually remaining and 'tabernacling' with us - in all His glory.

So what is the pathway to seeing this occur? Well, I cannot see that it is any different from the way in which God has ALWAYS come down amongst His people. The first prerequisite is that the Bride "makes herself ready". There must be a purifying of the robes, a total cleansing of the hands and heart. This is why deep dealing with SIN and deep REPENTANCE have been at the heart of every major move of God. Before He can come down and dwell with us, there must be a corporate 'Body' that has been prepared and purified to receive Him. Sin must be rooted out. Pride and vain imaginings must be brought down. Thus the 'Repentance' preachers - the "John the Baptists" must first come to prepare the way of the Lord. These preachers must be allowed to do their work or there will be no glory to follow.

Secondly, there must be a great crying to God to come and dwell amongst us - to 'Tabernacle' with us - to display His glory and bring His holy presence down. -A rending of hearts and a desperate crying to God.

Both of these things have been spoken about on this List many times before. They are the keys to the next Awakening - and possibly to the true fulfillment of "Tabernacles" itself. We must have deep repentance and a great crying to God to "come down" and glorify Himself amongst His people.

Below is a discussion of the type of 'Repentance' preachers that God has always raised up when He wants to move in a new way. Since we have our "John the Baptist" Conference coming up - which is all about 'calling forth' these kinds of preachers - I felt it was appropriate to talk about this now. But it has to go beyond this too. I truly believe that what God really wants is to 'Tabernacle' - to dwell with His people - and display His glory to the world. And this type of preaching is just one of the steps toward that.

"JOHN the Baptist’s DOWN the AGES -Preparing the way for a Visitation:

It is a well-known fact that in past Awakenings, the preachers were often led to preach searchingly and fearlessly on "sin, righteousness and judgment". There is a very good reason for this: Jesus had specifically stated that the Holy Spirit would CONVICT of these very things - "sin, righteousness and judgment"! (Jn 16:8). Welsh Revivalist Humphrey Jones once urged a young preacher: "...to preach with severity and conviction; aiming continually at the conscience; charging the people with their sins to their very face; having no regard for men's good or bad opinions; and avoiding the exhibition of self during the delivery of your sermon."

These men would wield God's word under a mighty anointing, not as some kind of blunt weapon to bludgeon people with, but rather as an incisive, precision instrument, a "sharp, two-edged sword", piercing deep into men's hearts, exposing hidden sins, motives and desires, and bringing Godly sorrow and deep repentance. What these preachers were looking for was a "broken heart and a contrite spirit". As with Peter on the day of Pentecost, they preached with a view to seeing men 'cut to the heart', for only then could they be sure that the resulting repentance would be truly deep and truly lasting.

This has almost always been the character of true Revival preaching, from the days of the apostles right down to the present. In the book of Acts we read of Paul's fearless preaching to governor Felix: "And as he reasoned of righteousness, temperance and judgment to come, FELIX TREMBLED..." (Acts 24:25). And likewise we hear the martyr Stephen: "`You stiffnecked and uncircumcised in heart and ears, you always resist the Holy Spirit: as your fathers did, so do you'..." (Acts 7:51-53). There are many further examples of this kind of preaching throughout the New Testament (in the ministries of Jesus and John the Baptist, for instance).

As one writer has noted, "fearless" preaching of this kind seems calculated to produce either deep conviction or "the bitterest animosity" (often both!) The old Revivalists were men of enormous Godly authority, and they used God's word as a sword to 'lay siege' to the strongholds of sin, compromise and religion that were binding His people. This was never 'comfortable' preaching (for "sin, righteousness and judgment" are not comfortable subjects). However, these men well knew that "the fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom" (Pr 9:10). And they preached it as such.

The whole point was to see the Body cleansed and purified - to prepare them for a visitation of the Lord.

As Martin Luther said: "I was born to fight devils and factions. It is my business to remove obstructions, to cut down thorns, to fill up quagmires, and to open and make straight paths. But if I must have some failing let me rather speak the truth with too great severity than once to act the hypocrite and conceal the truth." And the great Revivalist Charles Finney said of one typ- ical meeting: "The Spirit of God came upon me with such power that it was like opening a battery upon them. For more than an hour, and perhaps for an hour and a half, the word of God came through me to them in a manner that I could see was carrying all before it. It was a fire and a hammer breaking the rock, and as a sword that was piercing to the dividing asunder of soul and spir- it. I saw that a general conviction was spreading over the whole congregation. Many of them could not hold up their heads."

These "John the Baptists" often preached under such an incredible anointing that the house would be literally full of the wailing cries and sobs of those stricken by God's Spirit. One eyewitness wrote of Savonarola's preaching that it caused "such terror and alarm, such sobbing and tears that people passed through the streets without speaking, more dead than alive"! Some modern Christians, totally unused to this kind of preaching, might say that such an emphasis on "sin, righteousness and judgement" is way over the top. However, in circumstances such as those found in today's church, this kind of preaching is EXACTLY what is needed. This is why God has so often seen fit to raise up and employ this kind of preaching in conditions very similar to today.

These preachers were so full of God's presence, so saturated with His glory, so endued with power from on high, that Revival literally followed them wherever they went. They would never have dared to preach the way they did without this anointing (for 'the letter kills but the Spirit gives life'). But how exactly did they obtain such a mighty anointing? Well, as most of the old records show, it was largely through agonizing, prevailing PRAYER that they had broken through into this realm of real 'Revival' power in their ministry.

May the "John the Baptists" of the next Great Awakening be found urgently - before the sun sets over the Western church. Their job is to see the Body prepared and purified for her day of visitation. -This is step number one, and it MUST HAPPEN. I believe this is truly God's priority.

God bless you all.

Kindest regards in Christ,

Andrew Strom.

Revelation 16:18-19

It has been said by those considered wise
Truth can not stand
Upon the injustice of a lie
Just as mercy will not flourish
If hatred lingers too long by its side
Important to salvation
Is to quickly change adverse situations
So that upon the heartstrings
A song of discord's frustration
Is not allowed to arise.
It is in looking to Jesus Christ
And knowing that in God's holy sight
You have received undeserved favor
As a gift from the holy Savior
In this you will realize abundant life.

The end of misery's
Unmerciful bind
That wills to quench the fires
Of every child of "light"
Will be known as they Call out to Christ
Having received God's divine favor
His Spirit of truth, His holy nature
God has made a way of escape
From sorrow's depths that seem so great
For the "rock" that is greater than all
Is a solid foundation
That will uphold God's children so they do not fall.

Purposed in Christ
Is life divine
Purposed through God
Is His gift of love
As the world passes away
Those who stand with Christ
Know eternal life is just a breath a way
Through out eternity
They can rejoice
Having found favor
In the eyes of the blessed King.

> "And there were voices, and thunders, and lightnings; and there was a great earthquake, such as was not since men were upon the earth, so mighty an earthquake, and so great. And the great city was divided into three parts, and the cities of the nations fell: and great Babylon came in remembrance before God, to give unto her the cup of the wine of the fierceness of his wrath." Revelation 16:18-19
> "And, behold, here cometh a chariot of men, with a couple of horsemen. And he answered > and said, Babylon is fallen, is fallen; and all the graven images of her gods he hath broken unto the ground. O my threshing, and the corn of my floor: that which I have heard of the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, have I declared unto you." Isaiah 21:9-10

God purposed that, at the appointed time, His chosen One, Jesus Christ, would come to the inhabitants of the earth, to extend His hand of grace and to establish them in His righteousness. From the foundation of the world it was ordained that Jesus Christ would establish God's government without end, where mercy reigned and people understood the beauty of holiness through partaking of God's Spirit. Even before Adam and Eve partook of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, God had determined that His beloved Son would one day deliver mankind from out of the realm and region of spiritual darkness, where they stumbled in unbelief, as blind people unaware of His goodness toward them.

At God's appointed time, the One chosen to open the eyes of those blind to God's goodness, mercy and longsuffering toward them would walk the earth, speaking of the reality of God's kingdom that was soon to be made available and taken hold of by those of faith. From the foundation of the world, Jesus Christ had been purposed of God to provide a way, for mankind to walk with God, filled of His Spirit of truth and holiness, so that life took on a value and worth previously unknown.

God chose His beloved Son, Jesus Christ, to provide mankind with the gift of salvation from out of the realm of darkness, through having faith in what He had accomplished upon the cross. God chose that mankind would experience His great love toward them, as they looked toward the One, purposed from the foundation of the world, and received God's Spirit of holiness, which would flood the hearts and minds of mankind with the knowledge of God's perfect will toward them. God chose from the foundation of the world, that His voice would shake loose the control of all unrighteous spirits that tormented the souls of mankind, through the power of the Holy Spirit, received through faith in Jesus Christ.

God chose a way of deliverance from out of the realm of spiritual captivity, where destructive thoughts torment the souls of mankind, through looking toward Jesus Christ. He chose that, through partaking of His Spirit of holiness, mankind would value their adoption into His eternal family as heirs worthy of salvation, sons and daughters of the King of righteousness. It is Christ who was chosen to redeem mankind from out of the realm of darkness, the realm of existence where mankind is blind to the goodness of God, and it is through faith in Christ, the One predestined to restore that which was lost in the garden, that mankind will once again experience the beauty of holiness.

From the foundation of the world, before man first appeared upon the earth, God knew the desires that would one day control mankind's thoughts and actions, and He knew what it would take to deliver them from out of the unrighteous suffering of their own vain imaginations. God in His infinite wisdom had predetermined, long before the day that Adam and Eve first walked in the garden, and long before they partook of the tree of good and evil, so that their thoughts became darkened to the perfect will of the Father, that Jesus Christ's perfect sacrifice would restore the relationship that existed between God and man.

> "And being found in fashion a man, he humbled himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross. Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name: that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth." Philippians 2:8-10

God purposed from the foundation of the world, that the kingdom of heaven would be made available to mankind, through Christ's obedience unto death, "even the death of the cross." God's heavenly Spirit has now been made available to mankind because of what Christ has accomplished on the cross. Because of Christ's obedience, God's Word proclaims that all things of heaven, all things in the earth, and all things under the earth now bow before Christ. There is nothing known to mankind, no place in heaven, on earth or things under the earth, that has not been made subject to the glory that has been released from heaven due to Christ's perfect obedience unto death.

All things now bow, not only before God the creator of heaven and earth, but also before Jesus Christ, whose perfect sacrifice was chosen of God to bring forth God's glory from His heavenly throne room on high. Because the blood of Christ was purposed to purge not the pattern of heavenly things, but the heaven's themselves, God had determined that upon Christ's perfect sacrifice, He would open wide the floodgates of His heavenly temple, allowing His glory to be released from on high. Upon the opening of the floodgates of God's heavenly temple, God's glory was released into all of existence; so that all that stands within the heavens, the earth and under the earth now bows down in honor of Jesus Christ. All creation now declares the goodness of God's glory, released from His throne room on high.

God chose and purposed that upon Christ's obedience unto death, that all things in heaven, on earth and beneath the earth would be made new, as they were flooded with the glory of God's Spirit released from His throne room on high. Because of what was purposed through Christ, all of creation, which includes the uttermost realm of heaven, the innermost and lower parts of the earth, now stands within the realm of God's glory. All of creation has experienced the impact of what God predestined and purposed through Christ.

Though God's glory fills all of creation, many people remain as blind men, unable to see and appreciate what God has accomplished for mankind. They dwell in the realm of their own vain imaginations which deny the majesty of Christ; they remain in darkness. Though God's kingdom of righteousness exists for mankind through belief, where the glory that fills all creation is made known to those filled of God's Spirit, there remains a kingdom whose dominion and reign is founded upon the darkness of unbelief. In this realm mankind continues to exalt their own self-centered thoughts above the Lord. Yet, God proclaims that theirs is a kingdom that has fallen. There is nothing within this realm of existence that stands for or represents His truth, glory or majesty. The kingdom of darkness is a kingdom that has fallen in the eyes of God. It does not represent anything of eternal value, nor does it provide spiritual insight into truths that will prosper the soul of mankind. It is the place that God declares is only fit for wild beasts to roam, as they look for prey they can kill and destroy.

Only fallen mankind, those who remain as the first Adam, having not partaken of God's life transforming Holy Spirit, will accept what is offered to them by others whose words and actions do not portray the goodness of God. Yet, when a person turns toward Jesus in sincerity, the One purposed to bring the eternal purposes of God into their lives, then will their spiritual eyes be opened to see the glory that fills all of creation. Then will the influence of others who make up the fallen city, the kingdom of darkness, lose power to influence their lives. Then will their spiritual eyes be opened to see that the kingdom of darkness is nothing more than a fallen city that lies amongst the ruins of its own rebellious attitudes, offering nothing of eternal significance to prosper the souls of mankind.

When God's Spirit floods the heart of a person, then they will no longer be as the first man, Adam, who fell from his position before God; instead they will be as the second Adam, who is Christ. Then will they seek to live as heirs of salvation, deserving of God's inheritance of eternal life, having been raised up onto righteousness through the power of the Holy Spirit. Their desire will be to seek God and His Word for instruction and purpose in life. When filled of the Spirit, so that they are able to appreciate the glory that fills all of creation, they will begin to forsake the realm of the fallen city of darkness, because the wares offered by that fallen city will begin to lose attractiveness. Having tasted of the goodness of God, they will no longer seek out ideas and activities that feed the lusts of the carnal nature. They will no longer live like the beasts of the earth, uninfluenced of God's holiness, desirous of partaking of unrighteous fruit.

> "And Babylon, the glory of kingdoms, the beauty of the Chaldees' excellency, shall be as when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah. It shall never be inhabited, neither shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation: neither shall the shepherds make their fold there. But wild beasts of the desert shall lie there; and their houses shall be full of doleful creatures; and owls shall dwell there, and satyrs shall dance there. And the wild beasts of the islands shall cry in their desolate houses, and dragons in their pleasant palaces: and her time is > near to come, and her days shall not be prolonged." Isaiah 13:19-22

Ancient Babylon was once a great city, where the Israelites, who had compromised in obeying God's commandments, were held in captivity for 70 years. Babylon was an empire that was advanced in the area of sciences, aesthetics (concern for beauty) and paganism (where nature was seen as representing gods). The Babylonian empire was known throughout the centuries for their power, materialism, cruelty and devotion to the pursuit of sensual pleasure. There were many cities that made up the Babylonian empire. There were also many outlying cities that were united to Babylon because they shared the same beliefs. Idol worshipping was encouraged by the kings who ruled Babylon. The kings of Babylon looked to the heavens, the earth, and the lower part of the earth in developing their sciences, their beliefs regarding paganism (where nature was seen as representing gods) and their sense of aesthetics (concern for beauty).

The Babylonians believed that it was within these three parts of creation, the heavens, the earth and beneath the earth, that there existed gods who spoke words of instruction, wisdom and insight into spiritual matters. This belief formed and shaped their culture and society. They looked to the gods to help them establish a governmental system over the people. The people of Babylon regarded their city as the "good city," they also referred to their city as the "Garden of Eden."

The true prophets of God prophesied of the destruction and downfall of Ancient Babylon. Isaiah prophesied (Isaiah 13:17-22) that the Medes would overpower the idolatrous kingdom of Babylon. In the year 539 B.C., Isaiah's prophecy came to pass as the Medes did, in fact, overpower the Babylonian empire. When the Babylonian empire fell, the Israelite captives were set free.

Within the natural realm of mankind's existence is found the truth of mankind's spiritual condition. The spirit that fills a person's life will be what control's their thoughts, influencing their actions. If filled of God's Spirit, they will desire to worship Him alone and give all honor unto His holy name. It is the power of God's Spirit of Holiness that will reveal the depths of the Word to influence their thoughts and actions. Those who have not received God's Holy Spirit, are said to be filled and controlled by the spirit of the world, meaning they are influenced by the desires, thoughts and actions of the world which denies what Christ has accomplished for mankind. Those influenced by the "spirit" of the world, will be led according to desires that express the nature of the kingdom of darkness, the city of unbelief that has fallen into a state of total disrepair, where nothing of eternal significance will be offered.

Through being taken up in the spirit, being shown visions, and hearing God's voice, Apostle John was given insight into many matters regarding the impact of what type of spirit controlled a persons life. When God impressed upon Apostle John's thoughts that Babylon had come up in remembrance before Him, the full consequences was made known of the spirit of rebellion that directed the actions of those who made up Babylon. He was shown that their spiritual condition, which controlled their thoughts and actions, had been judged of God and found guilty of not expressing His nature, desire or purposes for mankind. According to God's perfect judgment, they were to receive "the cup of the wine of the fierceness of his wrath." To be judged guilty of God is to not experience the mercy of God, it is to not find purpose in this life, it is to not walk under the protective hand of God, and it is to be denied eternal life. It is to remain in a fallen position before God.

Yet, it is important to realize that the judgment God passed upon those who made up the natural Babylon, is the same judgment that He passes upon anyone who lives their lives influenced of the same spirit of Babylon today. Just as those who made up the natural Babylonian empire fell to their ruin, as the true prophets of God had prophesied, so too will anyone led of a Babylonian spirit, where they look apart from God for purpose in life, fall into a position of spiritual ruin. When the spirit of Babylon rises up, then so too does the Spirit of God's holiness rise up, through a people prepared to declare that within this realm of thinking no truth or wisdom will be found to prosper the souls of mankind.

Spiritually, the people of Babylon were involved with paganism, idolatry, materialism, lust, and the worship of many gods. Their spiritual condition involved their being influenced by understandings that had their origin in the realm of darkness, which is unbelief in the One true God. Though Babylon no longer exists as an empire of great might in the natural realm, in the spiritual realm, there are many people who have the same spirit controlling their lives today as those of ancient Babylon. There are many who look away from the One true God, and place their faith in gods that they believe exist in heaven, in earth, and beneath the earth for insight and wisdom. They place their hope in idols made of silver and gold, believing that in them they will find purpose and worth for their souls.

The spiritual condition that formed the thoughts, actions and intentions of those who made up the empire of Babylon were offensive in the eyes of God. This type of Babylonian spiritual thinking and behavior is still offensive to God. He proclaims that He alone is the One true God, and that mankind is to exalt no other gods before Him. He also proclaims that mankind is not to worship idols. Idolatry is a behavior that depicts the Babylonian mentality, but is also prominent in people today who dwell within the realm and region of darkness, the realm of unbelief where God is not honored nor sought after.

As Jesus Christ died upon the cross, the voice of God could be heard trumpeting words that shook the heavens and the earth. His voice proclaimed that which had been ordained from the foundation of the world, had come to pass. The death of Jesus Christ would signify that all things in heaven and earth were being made new, because it would be the blood of Christ that would purge the heavens, causing God to release His glory out onto all creation. The true “Light” of the world would now establish God’s righteousness upon the earth, according to grace. A way was being made possible for mankind to be found righteous before God, through faith in Jesus Christ, so that they would be filled of God’s righteousness found in the Holy Spirit.

When a person is filled of God’s Holy Spirit, then the spirit of Babylon, which caused the person to look to the heavens, the earth, and things beneath the earth for purpose, will fall from a position of power and influence in their lives. All things will now, be subject and judged according to the righteousness of Jesus Christ. The spiritual realm of Babylon that influences the lives of mankind has been judged according to the righteousness of Christ, and found to be guilty of not reflecting His purposes for mankind. The voice of God still thunders though out all of creation, proclaiming to those who have ears to hear, that Jesus Christ has fulfilled that which was purposed of God. God’s voice proclaims that Jesus Christ has come to set the prisoners free from their captivity to the spirit of Babylon, which promotes truths that do not represent God’s purposes for mankind.

When Apostle John was shown the “great city” Babylon, as it was divided into three parts, he was given insight into the spiritual condition that influenced the thoughts and actions of the Babylonians. The Babylonians looked to the heavens, the earth and things beneath the earth in developing the three pillars of their society, which was found in their sciences, their involvement in paganism (where nature was seen as representing gods) and their sense of aesthetics (concern for beauty). The Babylonians’ spiritual attitude caused them to believe that in their study of science, aesthetics and paganism that they would find truths to satisfy the desires of their souls. Yet the dependency on its three pillars, the sciences, aesthetics and paganism, could not continue to uphold the Babylonian empire. When it fell, then its influence on the surrounding cities fell as well. Babylon’s pillars were built up by looking to the three parts (uttermost, innermost and lower) of God’s creation. What caused them to be prosperous as an empire – for a time - was directly related to seeking guidance from the gods within these three parts of God’s creation.

Babylonians looked toward the heavens, to the earth and to things beneath the earth, in seeking guidance for building up the Babylonian empire, which was representative of the spiritual condition of those who lived in ancient Babylonian. This same spiritual condition still influences the lives of people today. It is the spirit of Babylon that causes people to look apart from God as they exalt nature, idols, materialism and false gods to a position where God should be.

Yet, for those who stand in the realm and region of spiritual Babylon, where mankind’s spirits are influenced of the same thoughts as those of natural Babylon, so that death continuously casts shadows of doubt and gloom upon their thoughts, this information will not be of any significant worth. It is only when the Spirit of God floods their lives, so that the Babylonian spirit is shaken loose from it position of influence over their lives, causing it to fall from a position of influence upon their life, that they will begin to understand what God has accomplished for them through His beloved Son, Jesus Christ.

Everything in heaven and earth now bows before the Lord, Jesus Christ, in submission to His authority. There is nowhere mankind can go apart from Christ and hope to find insight into truths that will prosper their souls, nor beauty that will bring joy to their hearts. There is nowhere mankind can look, nowhere in heaven, on earth, or beneath the earth, where they will not find evidence of what Jesus Christ has accomplished for mankind. His glory now fills all of creation.

God has judged Babylon and found that the understandings, teachings and actions of this spiritual mindset represents nothing of the resurrection life and power that He has made available for mankind, through Jesus Christ. May mankind be awakened by the voice of God, so that the cup of God's wrath is taken from out of their hand. May the spirit of Babylon be shaken lose from its stronghold upon their lives. May they be found filled of the goodness of God, so that eternally they are inspired to sing forth the praises of the One, purposed of God from the foundation of the world, to deliver them from out of the realm of darkness, into the "Light" of His mercy and grace.

> "And to Jesus the mediator of the new covenant, and to the blood of sprinkling, that speaketh better things than that of Abel. See that ye refuse not him that speaketh. For if they escaped not who refused him that spake on earth, much more shall not we escape, if we turn away from him that speaketh from heaven: whose voice then shook the earth: but now he hath promised, saying, Yet once more I shake not the earth only, but also heaven. And this word, Yet once more, signifieth the removing of those things that are shaken, as of things that are made, that those things which cannot be shaken may remain. Wherefore we receiving a kingdom which cannot be moved, let us have grace, whereby we may serve God acceptably with reverence and godly fear: for our God is a consuming fire." Hebrews 12:24-29

The Fish Tank

Pam Clark

Personal From Pam - Help With A Dream

I had a dream last night about a fish tank. In the dream, the front of the fish tank looked fine and I saw gold fish swimming around. But as I looked at the back of the tank, I saw a crack and water was starting to seep out.

I was concerned so I looked for some gel or tape to stop the leaking. The water level was lower from the back view. Then I was in a fellowship group, which went back and forth from a home group setting to a church setting and the spirit of deception was being discussed and we were asking each other if we could recognize it when it came.

We discussed the different forms it came in, and some talked about it being "a giant" and others saw it more as a "socialization" and most felt pretty confident that they understood it but then a fear came on all of us, that we did not know this spirit well enough at all.

I was back at the fish tank with friends trying to figure out how to repair it and noticed that water had leaked out onto the floor and fish were swimming around on the floor, about ankle deep, but amazingly they were okay and many were very pretty. (humility in the low places?) But I knew they needed to be back in the tank and not common in the dirt and rocks on the floor because they were "display fish" and I feared they could get hurt on the ground with peoples' kicking feet.

I knew for the glass to press together right, I needed more water, so I went to a rock pile to find a bucket (the only place I knew to find one) but could not find a good one that would hold water.

I also had a sense that water or rain was coming and was going to fill the whole place up. I personally think the fish in the fish tank could be about the the "display" that leadership are as examples, but that God was also going to pour down His water on all of us.

And last night another friend of mine had this dream:

Dream: 5/19/05

Group of people in a large old cathedral type church. It had huge, high vaulted ceiling. The people had back packs and their belongings with them. They were hanging out toward the back of the church.

They were praising, God, a little bit. I saw this huge, tall, thin, giant up at the front of the church. He was as tall as the ceiling was high. I saw him suddenly walk out from the church.

When he left everyone moved to the front. Their back packs came off. I leaped into the air and began flying all over the place. People were freely worshipping the Lord. When I finally came down from flying, a man who was somewhat portly, his feet were bare, and they were swollen, who was sitting up at the front of the church. Up on the step to altar. His back faced away from the altar. Said to me. Have you had them pray for you to cast that demon of flying out? I said, that's not a demon. That's freedom!

Interpretation: The baggage that was hindering the saints from truly praising God, were being kept on by this principality. He only allowed minute amounts of praise to go up. His job was to keep the saints oppressed and waited down.

Great news! He's left the church!!!!!!! Let's praise Him!!! Now is the time to FLY!

Be supernaturally abundantly blessed in all God sets you to do today. Cherie Sheridan (TCSheridan@wmconnect.com)

I think the dreams are related. I dream some but not that much and I don't want to get too off track since I know dreams come frequently for many and this is not a dream interpretation list. But I am interested in any feedback some of you may have.

Please don't send in a bunch of dreams unless it's really related to this because with this large number on the List, I don't have the time or intention to post them or interpret them. I am struggling with this one, to interpret it! Smile... Thank you for understanding that.

I feel like the Lord is saying that our foundation is not all it should be yet, there are some cracks, and what seems okay in some ways, fully is not, but that He will work with us and He is protecting us and He will fill us. And that we are all still dealing with the spirit of deception. If you get something else, let me know!

SOME DREAM RESPONSES - Part 1

Hi Pam, the fish in this tank represents those in ministry, those who are really in the front lines, always in the forefront. They became so involved in their own images because they want people to see them and their ministries, a huge crack started to appear because of this and the HOLY SPIRIT WATER leaks out, precious people decided not to support these churches anymore they do not get any nourishment the water leaks out. The fish you saw are souls without a safe place to go, it is people who got hurt in churches. This is what I felt the LORD pressed upon me. There are so much deceit in many churches these days that alot of people do not know where to go anymore. Love, N.

Very interesting you should say that about the foundation and the cracks. A couple weeks ago at our home church I was talking a bit about the BLOOD and elementary principles. I made mention that we are not to rebuild the foundation but that the foundation of the building has to be checked periodically to make sure that nothing has cracked it or needs repairing.

I believe the better we KNOW God the more easily we will recognize deception. This is my personal view...I do think we have to be very careful to stay in God's balance. He wants us to be aware of the enemies devices but I think as we stay close to Him (Psalm 91 and others) then I believe He will show us what's happening.

When I read the word "display fish" I was struck with how so many ministers and ministries are great displays but not always of God. I believe He shows up in to those who are hungry but I am sensing more and more that people think of certain ministries as the men or women leading them and are no longer looking beyond their display to see Jesus. So I have sensed for quite a while that the Holy Spirit is leaving those places. Men have been happy to be the center of attention and not realized it. (Being truly humble is not easy and I may get there someday so I'm trying not to judge)

I sense that the glass doesn't represent the man made institution of church. Since the rain was coming and there was going to be a lot of water (Holy Spirit) I sense it's God taking care of His Called Out Ones and bringing them into a place of fullness in His Spirit and into the areas He really means for them to be. Blessings. P.S.

Reply to your dream. It also could mean that fish could represent people that you may be concerned about. That the circumstances they are in you are concerned about. You are not able to help them but the fact they were out of the fishtank and seemingly in a dangerous place in the path of peoples feet but at the same time they are safe. You were not able to restore the tank. No bucket to hold the water but water was supplied for them to swim in.

You felt it was going to rain would have been provision for continual water for them to swim in. Perhaps your website ministry you are helping people, you are struggling now (per your previous statements) and know your ministry is a help to others and you don't know how you can continue needing financial help yourself. Just as God has provided water for the fish to survive their place of shelter being destroyed. He will take care of those fish, you do not need to worry about them and neither do "you" need to worry.

The water and rain coming is provision for those that were out of place. God himself will provide for them and keep them safe. Its not your place this time. God will do it. Hope this helps, V.G.

Pam, once again thank you for sharing... The fish tank is a container for viewing (and pleasure) only. It has no other function. The tank represents the church. We are the fish. There is a crack in the church and the water (the Holy Spirit) is seeping out. Deception is in the church as to how the church should function. We are not there to be a social organization, etc. And we don't recognize deception in the church because we have been contained by it. It is significant that you went to the "rock" which was the only place you KNEW where to go for a bucket.

But there weren't any good ones. This is significant. You knew where to go, the ONLY place to go (good for you!!!). But you couldn't find a bucket, another container. God is not going to do things the way we think they should be done. You sensed that rain was coming (an outpouring of His Spirit). We cannot contain what God is doing. And the fish were alright. They were not contained and more water was coming so they are going to be okay. They are free!!! (See the next dream.)

And the Holy Spirit will not be contained by display fish, SMALL fish that just look pretty. That is not what the church is called to be. We are going to have to go where it is dirty. I think your reaction in the dream shows more about your heart. You want to help. You want to save. You don't want the fish to get kicked or walked on. You don't want them to be in the dirt. You want to care for them. But God is saying you can't, dear sister. He is giving you peace that the fish are going to be okay. He is giving you warning as to what He is about to do. He will not be contained. The church will not be contained. We will no longer be just on display. How precious you are. The Holy Spirit is breaking open through all that contains it. Praise God!!! Always, your sister in Christ, G. H.

Dear Pam, The fish tank dream is what I am writing you about. The front looked okay and there is a "front" that is what people see in the Body of Christ that is a deception. There are those who are infiltrated into the leadership of the Body, and they are in the places they are to take the people off track, and displace the leaders that God has wanted. But, the break is behind the scenes, out of obvious sight, and most people do not see it. There is deception that involves supernatural and revelatory phenomena that have fooled even those who are in leadership. They are in league with the imposters unknowingly and are getting attacked and displaced, knocked clear out of the water and place they are supposed to be.

As for the second dream, the woman immediately believed that the flying was of God without so much as stopping to discern where the power to fly came from. The man sitting at the front represents those that have seen the infiltration and are under so much attack, and whenever they say anything, they are ignored. They are weary from the road they have been on and his feet were swollen, and he was very tired. He was sitting at the front with his back to the altar, indicating that he is a leader in the church.

There is clear evidence that there are some in the Body that are imposters, that look really good, and are not. If you want to know a dream one of our intercessors in our church just had in relationship to this, I will send it to you, but I don't want to overburden you if you are getting a lot of feedback.

The fish were okay on the floor because of the grace and mercy of God to keep them in spite of them being temporarily displaced. God is giving many dreams and words to try to get the message over to the Body that there is deception that is not being recognized, and that people are easily accepting signs and wonders as all being from the Lord, and there is a mixture that is designed to draw people to get into league with the imposters. I am talking about knowing imposters, not someone ignorant of what they are doing. I hope this gives you some insight. Blessings to you in your continued ministry, G.B.

Pam, For what my it may be worth, here is my "gut response", what first came to mind, regarding your dream. The fish tank is the artificial structure we culturally and traditionally call "church". The "church" looked fine from the front, but the crack was at the back of the tank where it couldn't be seen. I see this crack as being from God in order to release the fish who merely "on display". God didn't make fish to swim in tanks. He made them to swim in streams, lakes, rivers and oceans. They weren't in their intended environments, nor where they carrying out their intended functions. The water on the ground was deep enough to sustain the fish that had left the tank, and it was enough to allow them to swim freely as they were made to swim.

The rock pile is the traditional religious thinking of the day. Though rocks are a valuable and durable building material, these were lying there in disarray. Just as there was no bucket to be found that could hold water, so the traditional teachings of organized "church" do not hold the Water of God's Word.

You said, "I also had a sense that water or rain was coming and was going to fill the whole place up." The Holy Spirit is going to pour God's Truth out on everyone soon, making the "fish tank" not only unnecessary, but revealing it to be a prison that keeps the fish from going where they were made to go and doing what they were made to do.

Currently, I am one of those fish who has escaped from the back of the tank. Having tasted the freedom to serve and worship God without the restraints of the fish tank, I have no desire to return. Yes the "people's kicking feet" have hit me more than a few times, but I am uninjured, Swimming outside the tank has made me stronger than ever, and with the artificial constraints of the fish tank removed, I am able to fulfill my Kingdom assignments with great freedom.

Just "thinking out loud", W.H.

Hi Pam, To give some input on the dream. If you link this to the prophesy by Bill Yount - Ichabod has been removed from the church. When the church was facing Ichabod, they had gone to sleep or had a spirit of religion ruling. With this out of the picture, the story is different. The people move to the front and are ready to worship. They can trust that they will be around a long time so they can put their back packs down. A.R.

This really seems to have triggered some people. For one person it was really a personal message to her. I am glad I posted it as I was hesitant about it.

MORE DREAM RESPONSES - PART 2

My sense for dream #1 is that as people in the church we are as fish in a tank. Separate tanks. The tank has a crack in it and the water is leaking out. The anointing is getting pretty slim for us to swim around in. The pail to fix it could not be found.

Some fish are finding themselves out of the tank where the feeding of the whole school had been taking place. Outside of the tank it feels like we are not obeying the Word which commands us to fellowship together. After a while it can become dry and dusty; pretty uncomfortable for a fish. Finding ourselves outside of the tank causes us to have greater need to be able to survive on our own. We have to feed ourselves to stay alive or starve to death. We press in to the Source more and more. This is where the beauty comes from.

Rain is coming to fill the whole place up. We do not have to find our way back to the fish tank. The whole world is becoming a big fish tank and the Holy Spirit will be showing up everywhere. Not just in the fish tank.

Can you imagine the few in a cup now finding themselves in a lake barely recognizing anything or anyone. This sets up all kinds of dynamics: who do we ask for directions, who checks our credentials, who gives the orders, who runs the place, who doles out the permissions, who arranges the chairs in straight lines

All that comes to me here is that there were four in the fire. Where did the fourth come from?
Blessings, P.E.

I do believe that the broke glass is the man man institution of the church. But only that. Man has not followed closely to God's principles in the church. God is now building His work the way He means it to be and what isn't of Him is going to go. Even the display fish in His mercy and love are being taken care of so they can truly come into the fullness of Him. P.

Pam: This is very easy. The fish tank represents the Church as we know it today. The fish in the tank are the Christians. The Glass Fish Tank is telling me that the Church is in full view of the World and are being watched and they the fish are swimming around not knowing what to do and not realizing that there is a crack in the bowl (Church) and disaster is about to over take the Church unless they find away to fix the crack.

You were looking in at the Church and seeing the fish swimming around. Of course they were beautiful because they were Christians but danger is lurking as the bowl will break and they will be thrown down to the ground yet they will survive until the time of refreshing that will come.

The rain or the Latter Rain will come and refresh and revive the Saints. The Church is at a cross roads right now and it is time that we either start fishing for men or just continue swimming around in cunfusion. Jesus called all of us to be Fishers of Men and most of us are not doing our calling. We are in the midst of all the Financial things the clothes the money and all of the things of Egypt rather than the promised land which is confusion to the Body of Christ.

Too many Churches are concerned about the buildings, the schools they have and all of the things that keep us from our calling They raise money for buildings, schools, halfway houses but how much do they raise for winning souls and how often do you hear them preach about our callings as soul winners. We who have the prophetic callings will have to pay unless we began to speak the word of life about the conditions that exist in the Church. We must warn the Body of Christ that we are under a magnifying glass right now and the World is watching to see what we will do. Be broken down or become stronger and stand up to the World. W.P.

[This response shows you why a list like this can minister. - Pam]

Thank you for the privilege of commenting on your dream.

Where I live, people in the Body who gather at the community hall are not open to tongues, dreams, visions, deliverance, laying on of hands or body ministry one to another in any way. The Bible is 115% of their time together. They spend time sharing it with one another and give scripture references to validate the teaching from many, many, many sources. They consider 5% personal application at the end sufficient. Any more than that would be out of order. They stack up the stacking chairs, sweep the floor, and go home to Sunday dinner in the oven. One Sunday a month they stay a bit later for coffee and cookies.

To say this is to say that anything 'spiritual' is blocked from happening and is suspect. A giant is in charge. The same people are in place and fill the few positions established. The same people have done the music for years.

Where are the Believers in the Lord Jesus Christ who long to give the Holy Spirit liberty who live in the local area? It is usually 'chance' visitors wearing backpacks who the Holy Spirit directs to that service because they are visiting in the area by boat who show up and stay at the back while those in charge look after the program at the front. The summer visitors, either boaters, or Christians visiting one of 3 conferences centers, tend to influence the numbers during the summer months. Backpack is a perfect identifier. In our situation those backpackers could also represent the young people in leadership attending three camps here where there is only one service to attend on a Sunday.

If the program was ever moved over to give the Holy Spirit room, unknown visitors which I see as the radical youth I am expecting to show up any minute, would simply enter into the worship they are familiar with. Leaping and jumping and praising God. . . . suggesting they are not Christians is exactly what would happen. Demons. I thought you said we didn't have to be concerned about that? Just get enough of the Word into you and God will take care of that. Bare swollen feet are and indication that something in the man's walk is being hindered. P.E.

Pam, I know that the "fish" are the members of the church. The water is the anointing and the tank is a display case which is the modern day "church ministry". From the front or should I say "outside" everything looks to be ok but the back or should I say backbone of the church is cracked and the anointing at first was leaking out then it was coming out in larger amounts. The fish swimming on the floor are those that are anointed still (still in the water) but to the display case or "church" I would say they have the title of being "fallen" or backslidden per say.

They are still beautiful because that is just what they are saved, anointed and awesome but not within the confines or four walls of the church. You could not find a bucket or figure out how to return the fish until that "crack" is fixed. You could not find a "good" one to hold the water because the search for a truly, God led, Spirit filled church these days is a hard task for some. Rain to me always symbolizes a refreshing, refilling and re-anointing for lack of a better word.

The second dream does relate to the first in that that tall figure is the principality of "control" which is horrible prevalent and running rampant throughout the ministry these days as well. The members press on in spite of and manage to get out short spurts of praise but desire to be set free from the controlling ways of some ministries under the guise of being "God sent and led". The short portly man actually sounds to me as a manifestation of laziness....Flying does symbolize the need and want to be free in the true Spirit of the Lord. May I also add that these dreams to me seem to focus more upon leadership's errors of control than membership. Hope it helps, J.

Dear Pam, This seems like your life, and ministry. It gives a true picture of your ministry at present. The Lord is showing you that the fish tank is the Church. The fish inside are the saints, including those who you minister to. The crack is where sin has got in. Also, the Lord shows you that the fish have enough water- which is the Holy Ghost. He shows you at the end that you are going to help heal the Church just before the great end time revival. That is what the Lord showed me. R.D.

Interpretation: The fish tank relates to the church. The leak is God-breathed and God-ordained. He wants His living water outside the confines of what we call "church". That way, the power of God and His marvelous presence will impact more than just those who have named His name. There's a spirit of entertainment in much of what happens today during our gatherings together unto Him. The man-made bucket and anything man-made will NOT hold the living water. I don't think we'll ever find anything good that's man-made to hold His living water. The sense that you had that the rain is going to come and fill the whole place is "spot on". Everything is about to change. "Behold, I will do a new thing, now it shall spring forth; shall you not know it? I will even make a road in the wilderness and rivers in the desert..." The waters are coming and every thing will change...

The 2nd dream: The tall thin giant is tradition [Matthew 15:6]. Itâ€™s about to walk out because it will no longer be able to control what He is doing in the church, so it will move outside to control whatâ€™s happening there. Or that is how it will appear. "...where the Spirit of the Lord is, THERE IS LIBERTY." [2 Cor 3:17] The portly man is the same controlling spirit who left but has now manifest in a different form and who attributes the freedom and liberty we have in Him to the demonic. But he too will walk out or be ignored. The backpacks are excess baggage. In the days immediately ahead, we will only need Him. [Mat 10:7-10) "And as you go, preach, saying, â€˜The kingdom of heaven is at hand. Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out demons. Freely you have received, freely give. Provide neither gold nor silver nor copper in your money belts, nor bag for your journey, nor two tunics, nor sandals, nor staffs; for a worker is worthy of his food." Kindest regards in Christ, J.K.

I want to start by saying this is a very quick interpretation. You can decide to take it or leave spiritually and I won't be offended. At my first impression,after reading both dreams,I felt these dreams had to do with falling or failing leadership due to deception. You knew the fish were endangered being on the ground because we know people who fall in the eyes of man usually do get kicked. You were trying to repair the breach so you went to the rock pile.

As I read that,a song came to my mind. Here it is: "When everything else fails,I can go to the Rock, When troubles around me,I can go to the Rock." God is showing you to go to Him in this time of trouble. The problem is too big for you and your friends to solve in your own selves. It will take God to repair the breach. Bless are the peacemaker though. You are called to bring together people together and repair the breach.

The fact that the leak is in the back is something else because it is a hinder spot which means a blind spot. It could be a major ministry is failing due to some hidden sins. They are the frontline but they are hiding something in back that is causing it to lose the anointing it once had. A.P.

In Reply To The Fish tank Dream: I Feel God is showing us to what's its worth that alot of believers have been kept from Serving God with walls like a fish tank keeping them from using their Full function as God Wants Us to. As satan has given believers Fear, Confusion, But God is going to remove these walls so the Church will be So Much More Powerful as One, To Reach Out and Touch The Lost and many will be Saved through this. A.G.

your dream is very inspiring, and i feel led to say a confirmation of what i see GOD doing as a whole...gold as the first color i saw shared is in regard to revelation and insight from GOD, divine revelation.... the water being at different levels from different viewpoints, is because of different levels of perspective.....there are those whose sight is here, in the natural, others who are in the heavenlies, and yet others who see through GOD'S EYES.. when looking from the natural viewpoint, everything looks fine, even beautiful, but, when you begin to soar upward, you begin to see from a higher vantage point, by HOLY GHOST, you are taken "behind the scene" where you can now see that something is amiss....and compassion begins to fuel your desire to "fix" the problem...so, you go to the rock, the only place where we can find what is needed.....to find that the "buckets" are not any good at all for what your purpose......me thinks this is very relevant, and this is where it ties into the other dream...

The "church" has had for such a long time, a reverence, and covering type of relationship with GOD: they that are put in leadership roles, for the most part, preachers, reverends, pope, bishops, ect.{depending on the denomination}, have been mediators between people and GOD........fist of all, this is wrong, we have ONE MEDIATOR, WHO DIED ONCE FOR ALL: YESHUA, JESUS, THE CHRIST, THE MESSIAH. second, it has been upheld by the ones who should have been refusing the lie, and i am not talking about the ones who chose to be "preachers" because "it was a good choice of how to make a living" ....i am talking about the ones who were called and chosen....they began in true humility, but have not remained so, instead of teaching others to turn to GOD for themselves, as a personal, living relationship, they have tried to stand in the gap for them, making themselves to be not intercessors, but trying to be more than the vessels they were called to be, placing themselves over the flock of GOD'S people, and not one of them.......

Yes, there is a form of respect that one should give the person whom GOD has chosen to be HIS VESSEL, but that person should never play the game of stepping into the lie that they were ever anything more than HIS VESSEL...ALL PRAISE AND GLORY BELONGS TO GOD!!!!!!!!!!!! now, as i said earlier, this is where the two begin to come together.......the fish are out of the tank, and the giant is exiting the building.....the water is ankle high.... GOD has spoken in HIS WORD that the time was coming when we would all know HIM for ourselves.....now, we have all the responsibility to seek GOD for ourselves, with all our being, and there has been a preparation of time that we are just passing now, into a new beginning, a new level and a new anointing is being poured out so that the endtime harvest, and GOD'S perfect will being done on earth, even as it is in Heaven.

Ooooooo, please forgive me, i truly am not trying to preach here...i just have this awesome responsibility to get it out...that the full understanding come forth....as i said earlier, HOLY GHOST has changed me, and my life is no longer my own, but HIS, and it is hard to get all that i am feeling and seeing in this form of communication.... we have stepped into a time of such magnitude of abundant grace and mercy, and GOD IS THE ONE DOING THIS.....IT IS NOT BY MIGHT, NOR BY POWER, BUT BY HOLY SPIRIT....and most people have no idea of the time of such awesome things HE is in the process of revealing and manifesting that the only thing that can be said is:"GOD DID IT!!!!!!!!!!!! HALLELUJAH!!!!!!!!!!!!" and the only response is:"HALLELUJAH!!!!!!!!!!!! i thank YOU, GOD, i thank YOU, LORD, FATHER, JESUS, HOLY SPIRIT, i thank YOU!!!!!!!!!!!! HALLELUJAH!!!!!!!!!!!!" i am led to say this, Pam, Beloved of ALMIGHTY EL SHADDAI, that HE IS FAITHFUL AND TRUE, HIS WORD IS LIFE, AND ALL HE HAS SPOKEN you are about to see suddenly, and so much so that you are going to pinch yourself and say:"am i dreaming? is this real? can somebody please tell me if i am dreaming?" that is the day we are living in right now, this is the day of GOD DID IT!!!!!!!!!!!! HALLELUJAH!!!!!!!!!!!! i apologize for not finishing the dream interp, but i have done what HE wanted, and so i have nothing else to say...praise GOD ALONE, for HE ALONE IS WORTHY OF ALL our praise!!!!!!!!!!!! HALLELUJAH!!!!!!!!!!!! O.T.

Hi Pam, I am one of your subscribers and receive the TWM newsletters. Your message here is very confirming for me, so much so i needed to write you and tell you so. Deception is so very strong right now and I think it's been around for along time in the Body of Christ, but it is growing stronger and stronger. I am finding myself struggling with it more and more. Staying alert, awake, and always vigil is the order of the day! Thank you for sharing this dream, it blessed me! Your sister in Christ, J

Hi Pam: Fish represent prosperity, wealth and regeneration. I am not a dream interpretor but I know that the fish tank is also like unto the United States, as all eyes are upon the Super Power each and everyday. Each and every moment, in fact. There is a lot going on in the American political world behind the scenes. I don't like politics but like it or not, those in control influence our lives to some degree and only the Revelation of Jesus Christ gives us Power to rise above all this . [notes about our USA political situation edited out for brevity] The fact is that the American economy is being mismanaged . People will go through some hard times and many already are, as we both know.

The fish are still swimming on your floor and surviving, still looking beautiful, even though they were out of the tank. God will take care of his children, no matter what the situation . I am one who is out of the tank and God is causing me to prosper, both spiritually and financially . It is not in $US Dollars but it is prosperity. Of course, this is just my feedback. FYI. Take care and many blessings from the Lord to you and to your ministry. In the Revelation of Jesus Christ, G.M.

FROM PAM: This is an awesome early (fast) response. I am sure more will come in later. We can certainly learn from this! Thank you for your kind and helpful responses. It's helped me! We will keep looking for JESUS and HIS way of doing things! Dreams are just some of the Spiritual gifts and tools that God gives us to win the Spiritual war. If we don't use them and get skilled, we lose. We need the balance and we need the gifts and we need to hear what the Spirit is saying to the Church!

The Foundation The Building The Capstone

Greg Manalli

www.folchurch.org

The longer I am allowed the privilege of serving Him, the more sensitive I am to how I do so. My years of ministry has taught me that what I sow that I reap. I am concerned about my work being tried; 1Cor. 3:10-15. Life's choices have consequences. With that in mind, I have readdressed my ministry to be as certain as possible that I am "building" the way God wants me to. When I step back from my ministry, I should see Jesus, top to bottom. He must be the foundation, the building and the capstone.

Now foundations can be funny things. I once knew a man who put a second floor porch on his house and he did so by placing concrete blocks at the bottom and using them as foundations or footings for the porch. There they were, right on the ground with these sticks of lumber jutting up from them. Surely you know what happened. With the first rain, the blocks sunk into the mud and the porch took to leaning. It had to come down.

Everybody could see the weakness in that foundation. Ironic, that we don't see that our foundations are sometimes as shaky. Today's apostles must be about restoring the foundations of the body. Nehemiah saw the ruins and inspected the foundations of the walls before he undertook to rebuild. If the foundations were not in good repair, he would have had to see to it Neh. 3:11-15.

We can detect what is built by what is said and done by the people. They reveal what foundation is in them. The foundation determines how high the building rises. The foundation bears the whole. Just listen to members of a congregation talk and in due time you will find out the foundation. All kinds of foundations have been laid, including prophetic ones and Baptist ones and charismatic ones and word ones and so on. When their words and counterpart actions appear, we see what is built into the believer. What is built in also rises up.

Did you ever peer through a peephole at a construction site and watch the excavators dig deep down into the bowels of the earth? Amazing isn't it how far down they would go before they would go up. The foundation was being laid. Interesting, the foundation can't be viewed like the building can. I mean you can only see so much of the foundation after building starts to rise, but you can see all of the building.

The same is true with us. There is a hidden part where God works to form Christ. The hidden man of the heart must have Christ built into it. Then that life will come up and out.

How does Christ become the foundation? When He becomes all in all. When He is the Reason. When we can say, "for me to live is Christ", Phil 1:21, we are on our way. When nothing else can compete and gain advantage in my life, Christ is becoming the foundation and the "building". It is not that I can prophecy. I can prophecy because He lives in me by the Spirit of Christ. That is what is important. Christ's life is appearing, like a building rising up out of the depths, Col. 3:4.

The foundation and the building are not separate, they are one and the same. What I am rooted in produces the life that grows from it. This "building' then becomes the dwelling of God. He lives in this very structure. We don't build for ourselves. We build for Him. We dwell together with Him. The more we build Him, the more He moves in. It is not about us improving for our benefit, it is all about Him. Sure we benefit, but it is in addition to the whole deal.

This is a corporate and personal truth. The body corporate grows at the rate of the body individual. Every individual is like a building block making up the whole. We don't live for ourselves alone. If we think in terms of how I can get better without thinking of improving for the glory of our Lord, we will never be what God wants. We will only live in selfishness and self-serving. The wrong edifice is going up. Burn it up! Let's set a match to it now and start over.

Today's apostles have a Nehemiah task before them. Nehemiah's anointing will come on them as they seek God for it. Their " building " must be about Christ. The same passion Nehemiah had to restore the walls of Jerusalem must overtake the men and women of today. I pray this is being transmitted to all of the five -fold ministries. Pastors, teachers, evangelists and prophets all should share some part of this truth and have it incorporated into their ministry thrust.

From the foundation, to the body to the top, it is all Jesus. He is the capstone. The capstone is the top stone of an edifice in architecture. It represents the crowning achievement. Jesus is that. What is rejected of men becomes the highest and most elegant, Mat. 21:24. The top stone is the crown of glory of the building. Everything that is being built reaches up towards the top like a new shoot coming up from the earth. It was made to ascend. It must achieve its' determined height.

Likewise, the holy building which we are must rise to meet its' predetermined goal and be crowned with glory and honor. It is all of Him and by Him and for Him. Church is about the business of Christ who must be all in all.

What is in your mind today about what it is you do for the Lord, or I should say with the Lord? Are you about building a successful church or ministry or a successful Christian life? If it doesn't conclude with Christ as the capstone of all, then I ask you, what are you doing anyway? Do you want men to see you or what you have done? Then you have your reward. Do you want men and women to hear you and what you have to say? Then you have your reward. If on the other hand you live for Christ then you will want Him to exceed you and for Him to be glorified in all you do. He is not part of the work. He is the whole work. You will think like John the Baptist, and say, "He must increase". In our decrease, we must forget ourselves.

To Finish The Course

Bill Yount

"I Am Imparting a 'Abraham Lincoln' and Daniel Boone' anointing upon my people to 'Perservere' and 'Pioneer'...To Finish The Course!"

Recently on my way to a meeting in Somerset, PA, I saw a billboard with a picture of Abraham Lincoln on it. Beside this huge picture were written the words... "Failed, Failed, Failed,,, and then perservered. Pass it on!"

Two weeks later I ministered at a meeting in Morgantown, PA. They put me up in a Bed and Breakfast farmhouse named 'Lincoln-Boone' Bed and Breakfast. One of the original owners of the house in 1820 was James Lincoln, the great uncle of Abraham Lincoln. As I talked to the owner she explained that Abraham Lincoln's great grandfather married Anna Boone, the cousin of Daniel Boone who was born just down the road in Reading, PA. Daniel Boone was destined to become a man of the wild, an explorer of unmapped spaces. He was laid to rest in Missoure on a bluff above a river and town on a "high, far-seeing place" like the ones he always climbed to see the land beyond..." She showed me the original deeds of the home kept preserved with Abraham Lincoln's great grandfather's signature written on it with Anna Boone's also.

I knew by staying in this house was a great confirmation of what the Lord wanted to speak and impart to the Body of Christ in that region and beyond. I actually slept next to the Lincoln room that night and sensed the atmospheric anointing that was coming through the walls, floors and ceilings of this ancient landmark. There is something I cannot get away from that God is confirming in my recent travels. I sense God wants to release and impart this hour an 'Abraham Lincoln' and 'Daniel Boone' anointing into the Body of Christ. An anointing to 'persevere' and 'pioneer'... an anointing to finish what God is calling us to do!

Apostle Paul said, "I have run the race, I have fought the good fight of faith and I have finished the course the Lord laid out for me!" I sense there are many who know called has called them to do something. Maybe it's a writing project, a ministry or shaking the world for Christ! You have started out with God but somehow it's been difficult to utterly impossible for you to seemingly finish what He has called you to do. God wants to release and impart this anointing to you to not only 'perservere' but to 'pioneer', breaking into new territory where you haven't thought was possible to go before! You are going to go as far as God goes with this impartation!

THIS 'PERSEVERING' ANOINTING WILL ENABLE YOU TO BREAK THROUGH AND BREAK OUT

AS THAT 'PIONEERING' SPIRIT KICKS IN TO BREAK UP NEW TERRITORY AND FRONTIERS WHERE ONLY GOD KNOWS WHERE YOU ARE GOING!

So new and fresh that the enemy has no clue where God is taking you. He will literally lose track of your address for you will be hidden in the glory of His presence.

I sense many are so discouraged that you feel you can no longer even stand up at this point. But I would like for you to stand up one more time to receive from the Lord. I sense the Lord knows we can't go on any further. We have tried and many feel that they maybe have never heard God after all. You have gone as far as you can go. But I hear the Lord saying.. "I will take over from here!"

As an act of faith would you take one 'last' stand as Abraham Lincoln did after many failures and discouragements. A 'one more time' getting back up that took him through to become a great president of the United States.

One last stand like Daniel Boone himself took and became famous for pioneering and discovering what was beyond himself into the unknown where God knows everything.

Would you be willing to ask God to help make you willing? Would you stand up right now where you are and raise your hands to heaven to receive what only God can give and do for us?

"Father, you are the author and finisher of our faith. We corporately and individually come to you to receive this 'Lincoln-Boone' anointing and impartation to 'perservere' and 'pioneer' to finish the course you have laid out before us."

"We receive it by faith and believe You for it... And we will pass it on!"

The Gospel According To Ruth

Bill Somers

November 2006

No this is not to announce that there has been a new manuscript found in a cave somewhere called The Gospel Of Ruth. But it does make for a catchy title doesn't it? Normally I use software versions of the Bible on my computer. As I was preparing this article, I got into one of my printed bibles for some reason, and found something unusual. It was the Zondervan Hebrew Greek Study bible, edited by Spiros Zodhiates. Now Zondervan had made a typesetting error on the first page of the book of Ruth. Instead of calling it the book of Ruth they called it The Gospel According To Ruth. So I feel that this is the title the Lord would have me use here.

I have been planning to do an article on Ruth for some time. With developments in the Middle East lately, I have been led to write about Israel and The Church. With so much anti - Israel and anti - Jewish sentiment coming out, the church needs an attitude adjustment. Hopefully these articles will set out the proper attitude that should be displayed by the church. First was the long study on replacement theology, Israel - Replacement or Restoration?. And then we wrote about Joshua and the battle of Armageddon, Joshua's Big Battle. This will be the third in this series.

So what should the church's attitude be?
We must be willing to lay down our lives for our brethren.

Introduction

There are two main points to bring out. First is that Naomi and Ruth are types of Israel and the Church. This is, of course, considering them as separate groups. And we are talking about the Church as she is supposed to be, a friend to Israel, in the end times.

Second is that Ruth's actions on behalf of Naomi are a picture of the actions and accomplishments of the church in the end times. Ruth does for Naomi what Naomi could not do for herself. That is to provide an heir and enable her to receive an inheritance. Likewise, the Church will do for Israel what she is unable to do on her own. And this is to inherit the promise God made to the fathers, the promise of the Gospel. Hence: The Gospel According To Ruth.

Several writers have note this comparison between Naomi and Ruth and Israel and the Church. Christine Beadsworth is one, see: A Release Of Righteous Judgments. Also see: Shemology by Barbara Di Gilio.

The Setting

Ruth is a gentile, a widow of a Jew and Naomi is her Jewish mother-in-law. She is from Moab where Naomi and her family have stayed for some years. In the passage of time, Naomi's husband and two sons all die and she is left with two daughters-in-law. Naomi decides to return to her home in Bethlehem but urges her daughters-in-law to stay behind in Moab. Here is Ruth's famous confession whereby she identifies with Naomi, her homeland, Israel and her God, Jehovah. Note that in verse 17 that she makes an oath unto death.

> Ruth 1:16-17
> 16 And Ruth said, Intreat me not to leave thee, or to return from following after thee: for whither thou goest, I will go; and where thou lodgest, I will lodge: thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God:
> 17 Where thou diest, will I die, and there will I be buried: the LORD do so to me, and more > also, if ought but death part thee and me.

Ruth's attitude is friendship, devotion and service to Naomi. The name 'Ruth' means friendship or friend, and that is just what she is to Naomi. Naomi means pleasant or 'my delight' and can easily speak of Israel, the pleasant land.

> Numbers 14:8 If the LORD delight in us, then he will bring us into this land, and give it us; a land which floweth with milk and honey.

Naomi's attitude is somewhat sour, however, after her time spent in Moab. She has this to say:

> Ruth 1:20 And she said unto them, Call me not Naomi, call me Mara [bitter]: for the Almighty hath dealt very bitterly with me.

Her problem is not just that she is a widow, but that she has no heir. Both her sons have died while in Moab, and there is no one to claim the inheritance of her dead husband, Elimelech. Moab by the way, means of the father, who is my father or seed of the father. Elimelech, is a combination of two words. Eli which is God and melech which means king. So Elimelech is translated, God is King or God is my King. It could easily mean the God/King or even the kingdom of God!

By the end of the story, her fortunes are reversed through Ruth's marriage to Boaz.

> Ruth 4:9-10
> 9 And Boaz said unto the elders, and unto all the people, Ye are witnesses this day, that I have bought all that was Elimelech's, and all that was Chilion's and Mahlon's, of the hand of Naomi.
> 10 Moreover Ruth the Moabitess, the wife of Mahlon, have I purchased to be my wife, to raise up the name of the dead upon his inheritance, that the name of the dead be not cut off from among his brethren, and from the gate of his place: ye are witnesses this day.

> Ruth 4:17 And the women her neighbours gave it a name, saying, There is a son born to Naomi*; and they called his name Obed: he is the father of Jesse, the father of David.*

You can see there are two issues that Boaz is resolving here. One is the inheritance from Elimelech, and the other is raising up the heir. These two are closely related. It's interesting that Pharez and Judah are mentioned here. It helps form part of the allegory.

> Ruth 4:12 And let thy house be like the house of Pharez, whom Tamar bare unto Judah, of the seed which the LORD shall give thee of this young woman.

Judah had two sons who died without an heir. This meant that there would have been no heir to the tribe of Judah, no King of the Jews! Judah eventually laid with his daughter in law and produced the heir, Pharez. Allegorically the first two sons who died, speak of the first two kingdoms of Judah, one which was destroyed by Babylon and the second destroyed by Rome. It took the seed of the father, [Moab], the seed of the father, Judah, to come and produce the heir.

This bears a loose correspondence to the two sons of Naomi who died without heir. They also represent the two kingdoms of Judah who would have inherited from Elimelech.

To produce the heir is described as 'to raise up the name of the dead upon his inheritance'. For purposes of the allegory, the name of the dead is Jesus. HE is the God/King who died. He had no heir in the flesh.

> Isaiah 53:8 He was taken from prison and from judgment: and who shall declare his > generation? for he was cut off out of the land of the living: for the transgression of my people was he stricken.*

His spiritual inheritance is his people, all whom the father has given him. As Ruth gives birth to a son, so the church will give birth to the man-child. This is the end time church or company of saints who will bring in the end time harvest. This is raising up the Name of Jesus upon all those who are to be saved!

The attitude of Israel and the attitude of the Church.
There is a major problem with this analogy when looking at Israel and the church today. That is the history of conflict and persecution of the Jews by the church. Also the continued resistance of the Jews to the Gospel remains their historic stumbling block. The Jews are the hardest people of all to reach with the Gospel message. The bible points this out clearly in Romans 11. Today's Jews are enemies of the Gospel!

> Romans 11:28 As concerning the gospel, they are enemies for your sakes: but as touching the election, they are beloved for the fathers' sakes.

So what should the church's attitude be?
We must be willing to lay down our lives for our brethren.

Look closely at Romans 11:28 above. Notice it says they are enemies for your sakes. And they are beloved for the fathers' sakes. We need to be in an attitude of friendship, devotion and service regardless of what their attitude toward us or toward the gospel is. They are to become our brethren in the end. The same goes for any unsaved people.

> Romans 11:30-31
> 30 For as ye in times past have not believed God, yet have now obtained mercy through their unbelief:
> 31 Even so have these also now not believed, that through your mercy they also may obtain mercy.

So what should the church's attitude be?
We must be willing to lay down our lives for our brethren.

In Romans 15 there is a mention of the poor saints at Jerusalem. This is a double reference to the Christians in the time of Paul and the Jews of today. And it expresses a debt that we, the church, owe to the Jews.

> Rom 15 . Romans 15:26-27
> 26 For it hath pleased them of Macedonia and Achaia to make a certain contribution for the poor saints which are at Jerusalem.
> 27 It hath pleased them verily; and their debtors they are. For if the Gentiles have been made partakers of their spiritual things, their duty is also to minister unto them in carnal things.

So what should the church's attitude be?
We must be willing to lay down our lives for our brethren.

> 1 John 3:16 Hereby perceive we the love of God, because he laid down his life for us: and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren.

So what should the church's attitude be?
We must be willing to lay down our lives for our brethren.

> Romans 12:1I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service.

So what should the church's attitude be?
We must be willing to lay down our lives for our brethren.

> Romans 12:19 Dearly beloved, avenge not yourselves, but rather give place unto wrath: for it is written, Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord.

The Heir of Elimelech
As Ruth enables Naomi to inherit all that was Elimelech's, the church will enable Israel to inherit the Kingdom of God [salvation]. We can show that Israel is to be saved at the Second Coming of Christ. The church's role is then, to enable the Second Coming of Christ. She does this by bringing in the end time harvest. This is the fullness of the Gentiles. The end time gentile church overcomes their adversary by dying the martyrs death which is giving place to wrath. And so all Israel will be saved, as it is written!

The Second Coming
Now lets take a look at the Second Coming of the Lord Jesus Christ. We're going to string some pearls here, or connect the dots if you will.

In 2 Thessalonians we find mention that he comes to take vengeance.

> 2 Thessalonians 1:6-8
> 6 Seeing it is a righteous thing with God to recompense tribulation to them that trouble you;
> 7 And to you who are troubled rest with us, when the Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven with his mighty angels,
> 8 In flaming fire taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ:

Every eye shall see him.

> Revelation 1:7 Behold, he cometh with clouds; and every eye shall see him, and they also which pierced him: and all kindreds of the earth shall wail because of him. Even so, Amen.
> Zechariah 12:10 And I will pour upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace and of supplications: and they shall look upon me whom they have pierced, and they shall mourn for him, as one mourneth for his only son, and shall be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness for his firstborn.

We can see that when every eye sees him that this includes the Jews. Romans 11 tells us about a blindness upon the Jews.

> Romans 11:25 For I would not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this mystery, lest ye should be wise in your own conceits; that blindness in part is happened to Israel, until the fulness of the Gentiles be come in.

This must mean that, when the Lord returns, this blindness will be gone, and the fullness of the Gentiles will be complete.

Revelation 6 tells us that the Lord's vengeance waits for a fulfillment of all those that should still be killed. In other words, he will not return till this happens. This is the fullness of the gentiles.

> Revelation 6:9-11
> 9 And when he had opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of them that were slain for the word of God, and for the testimony which they held:
> 10 And they cried with a loud voice, saying, How long, O Lord, holy and true, dost thou not judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?
> 11 And white robes were given unto every one of them; and it was said unto them, that they should rest yet for a little season, until their fellowservants also and their brethren, that should be killed as they were, should be fulfilled*.*

Revelation 12 speaks of the man child coming forth, this corresponds to Ruth giving birth.

> Revelation 12:1-2
> 1 And there appeared a great wonder in heaven; a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars:
> 2 And she being with child cried, travailing in birth, and pained to be delivered.

Revelation 14 describes them as fully obedient followers of Christ.

> Revelation 14:4 These are they which were not defiled with women; for they are virgins. These are they which follow the Lamb whithersoever he goeth. These were redeemed from among men, being the firstfruits unto God and to the Lamb.

These preach the gospel to the ends of the earth and bring the end time harvest in. Finally they lay down their lives after ‘finishing the course.’

Side note
I realize that other writers may not view the man child or the 144 thousand symbolically as I have done here. There are other possible correct interpretations that you can come up with since we are dealing with patterns and figurative language. Secondly this part of the typology is not essential to the main line of argument here. All you need to see is that Ruth giving birth to a son compares to the woman birthing a man child. And that this in turn relates to the kingdom of God in the end times. It’s the end time saints, whoever they are, that are given the grace to finish the task, and enable the second coming of the Lord.

The Overcomers

> Revelation 12:10-11
> 10 And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, which accused them before our God day and night.
> 11 And they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb, and by the word of their testimony; and they loved not their lives unto the death*.*

Revelation 12 shows how they overcome the accuser. By dying the martyrs death they give place to, or make room for, wrath.
We must be willing to lay down our lives for our brethren.

> Romans 12:19 Dearly beloved, avenge not yourselves, but rather give place unto [make room for] wrath: for it is written, Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord.

> Romans 11:25-26
> 25 For I would not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this mystery, lest ye should be wise in your own conceits; that blindness in part is happened to Israel, until the fulness of the > Gentiles be come in.

> 26 And so all Israel shall be saved*: as it is written, There shall come out of Sion the Deliverer, and shall turn away ungodliness from Jacob:*

Summary
The story of Ruth and Naomi forms an allegory of the church and Israel. Ruth is a type of the Church, the gentiles who are grafted into the Promises given to Israel. She is a friend and supporter of her mother-in-law Naomi. Naomi is the widow of Elimelech, a type of Jesus. Her sons have died and so there is no heir of Elimelech. Naomi cannot inherit from Elimelech nor raise up an heir. Israel cannot inherit the kingdom of God, nor raise up the name of the dead upon his inheritance. This is because they rejected their messiah at the first coming and remain enemies of the gospel, blinded still today.

Ruth encounters Boaz, another type of Jesus, who is kinsman / redeemer of both Ruth and Naomi. This encounter speaks of the Revelation of Jesus Christ. Their union produces a male heir who is considered the heir of Naomi and Elimelech. This speaks of the end time church, who receives The Revelation Of Jesus Christ. This is represented by the woman in Revelation 12 giving birth to the man child. This then is instrumental in preaching the gospel to the ends of the earth; and bringing in the fullness of the Gentiles. When the full number of the gentile church are martyred, the Lord comes again to take his long awaited vengeance. He removes the blindness from his people Israel, as a whole, and they can then inherit the Kingdom of God.

So what should the church’s attitude be?
We must be willing to lay down our lives for our brethren.
And that’s The Gospel According To Ruth. Amen.

The Gate
Catharina Schouten - Meijer

tesjoeva@zonnet.nl

If you don't gather in the harvest with me, you scatter it. (Matthew 12:30)

Vision (part 1): A gate I saw a gate with built into it this mechanism of an old-fashioned revolving door.…. By way of this device each person could enter in from his or her own place…. In fact each individual took his own 'private gate' in order to enter in through THE Gate…

Explanation: The Gate stands for the heart chamber of the Father. Up till now everyone entered the gate of the Lord on his own. Communities, churches, denominations, all went in apart from the others … The mechanism signifies our own structures, such as 'seven steps to deliverance/healing' and the like. Every one of us fostered his/her own sweet little 'pet idols' – apart from the Word, apart from the faith in Jesus!

Vision (part 2): The mechanism removed…

As I looked on I watched Jesus set out to the gate with solid steps to radically remove the mechanism. And gone it was! It had become an open Gate!

Explanation: >From now on people only can enter in TOGETHER. Those who refuse to go in in unity with a brother and sister from another group simply won't be able to enter in at all… Going in through this solid open gate stands for trusting the Lord and Him ALONE, trusting His Word and His Word ALONE (He IS the Word), His Word that heals and delivers us, His Word that cleanses our conscience and renews our mind… No more fragmentation of the Word, no more 'pet gods' apart from Him! He is EVERYTHING we need and it is His heart's desires to be our all in all!

Word of the Lord: I Am who I Am… For too long have I witnessed how My people, My people, tore itself asunder, splitting up itself in separate units, one from the other…

Each traveled one's own path, with one's own individual 'know-how's', manuals and outlines... Without any guidance from Above…..

I have watched and seen how people acted as if they needed structures, doctrines, books and keys in order to get to the place of restoration….

Because of this practice many of My children have completely lost The Way, reducing themselves to mechanical robots, that step by step are drifting away from the purity of My Gospel… I Am suffices! I Am is enough for all of you! I Am heals, delivers, restores…..IN ME lies the way, THE WAY… I will sift and root out; I will remove whatever it is that has not been ordained by Me …. Open up yourself and yield to My Hand, that will take out and remove from My children all that which didn't originate in Me… I want to BE… I desire to be you're all in all….Lay down all that which didn't come from Me… I do not heal exclusively via a list of seven specific steps.. I do not deliver by way of a fixed set of rules, keys and regulations…. I Am Spirit… The Spirit blows where it wills… You can hear the sound but you do not know where it comes from…

8 Only God's Spirit gives new life. The Spirit is like the wind that blows wherever it wants to. You can hear the wind, but you don't know where it comes from or where it is going. (John 3:8)

Love ME above all other things! Don't break and split up My powerful Word! It is in ME that you will find the food and drink that is wholesome for your soul, that will nurture and satisfy it unto the marrow of you bones…In ME! I am going to separate the tares from the wheat, the clean from the unclean, the pure from the blemished, the real from the fake and counterfeit… The choice is yours!!!

Let The Walls Come Down!
Catharina Schouten - Meijer

I tell you as YOUR Father, let your walls come down!
Yes, let your walls come down!
I Am Spirit and I want My Spirit to flow and go everywhere I want to be…..
My ways are not your ways and I will sore even above your thoughts and your prayers to restore MY body!

Build on the one true fundament JESUS CHRIST!
Did I not say that there were no needy persons among them? (Acts 4:34)

If you give ME the space so I can work through you, if you allow ME to build, cast down and rebuild, than soon MY Body will arise as a perfect Bride!

Not one of you will have a need; I will protect you and give you all that you need, but you are the ones who must break down every barrier.
Let your walls come down!

Whether you see each other or even if you are still hidden from each other because of MY will & plan, I command you love each other.
Do not be bitter anymore and do not think only about yourselves, but let the book of Acts relive!
I will lead and guide you and I will help you. I tell you soon there will be great signs and wonders that will follow you…
Give to Me your programs, your structures and yes even yourselves completely!
The world needs to see MY body, feel MY love and hear MY voice.

Are you willing to give ME the space to do it MY way?
Can you trust ME completely?
Can you fall into MY mighty arms?
I Am that I Am and I Myself will make MY Bride!
Just serving Him, by serving you!

The Great Awakening
Mike Edds

A great hunger for repentance, seeking God, seeking holiness and seeking truth has exploded within the 'Joseph Generation'.

They have studied, researched and sought out the Old Wells of revival. They intensely hunger for God to do it again! They cry out, "Just one more time, oh Lord!" Programs, politics, personalities, manipulation, and plans in the church sicken them.

THEY MUST HAVE GOD! They MUST be in His presence! They are meeting in the homes, in the fields, in the woods, in their prayer closets and any place that they can totally seek His face.

Their despair has turned into an all-consuming hunger that says, "Give me God or let me die." GOD HAS HEARD! He is about to reopen the old wells of revival, He is picking up the fallen mantles and placing them on men and women, and He is about to do a new thing!

Every Awakening has incurred the wrath and persecution of man. When the Presence and holiness of God confronts mankind, they must make a decision for or against Him. When they choose to reject Him, they lash out and fight against His messengers. In the mid-1700s, the Baptist in Colonial Virginia were beaten, imprisoned, and killed for preaching the Gospel. The Methodist circuit riders were jailed, tarred and feathered, beaten, abused and martyred for the message of God.

The reason there is little persecution against the Church in America today is that there is so little of the Presence and Message of God to confront mankind. The world has heard how to get rich, how to prosper, how to have self-esteem, and to feel good. They have not heard the message, "Repent or perish." They have not heard the anointed Word of God that demands a decision.

Be forewarned, The Final Great Awakening will usher in a wave of persecution against the true Church of God. Old Wells of Revival are on the threshold of being reopened. Fallen Mantles of ministry are being picked up. New Fountains are rumbling beneath the surface and about to burst forth. Frank Bartleman (chronicler of the Azusa Awakening) once said, "To understand what God is going to do, we must understand what He once did." The most incredible move of God will suddenly explode upon the scene.

Judgment and a great shaking are coming to the land and to the church. Persecution of the Isaacs and Josephs, the true saints of God will occur. However, they will be covered with such zeal and boldness, they will be like the Fathers of old: "And they loved not their lives even unto death." (Rev 12:11)

God will harvest a holy remnant from this generation. He will have a church that is without spot or wrinkle, a pure bride for His Son. Be encouraged. Lift up your heads. Your God has come! "The King has need of thee!"

The Great Change

Rick Joyner

More than two decades ago, the Lord spoke to me and some of my friends that the cross would become popular again. This will be the time when the church truly crosses over and begins to possess its Promised Land. We have come to that time. Therefore, we can expect the focus of what the Spirit is saying to the churches to become more and more centered on the cross.

The cross is the power of God, and those who want to walk in His power in their daily lives will learn to take up their crosses daily. Those who do this will become free from all of the yokes of this present evil age, and they will walk in a greater freedom and boldness than has been seen on the earth on such a scale for nearly two thousand years.

The Scriptures we have studied indicate that baptism represents our commitment to lay down our lives and to no longer live for ourselves but for Him. In the Biblical, prophetic model laid out by the Scriptures however, we see two different baptisms. One is the Red Sea and the other is represented by the Jordan River. A major difference between these is that we see the Israelites did not go to the Red Sea baptism willingly. Basically, the Lord had to trick them into it as we read in Exodus 13:17-18 and 14:1-4.

"Now it came about when Pharaoh let the people go that God did not lead them by way of the land of the Philistines, even though it was near; for God said, 'Lest the people change their minds when they see war, and they return to Egypt.'

"Hence God led the people around by the way of the wilderness to the Red Sea . . . (Exodus 13:17-18)

"Now the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 'Tell the sons of Israel to turn back and camp before Pi-hahiroth, between Migdol and the sea . . . For Pharaoh will say of the sons of Israel, "They are wandering aimlessly in the land; the wilderness has shut them in." Thus I will harden Pharaoh's heart, and he will chase after them; and I will be honored through Pharaoh and all his army, and the Egyptians will know that I am the Lord.' And they did so." (Exodus 14:1-4) NASB

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THE RED SEA AND JORDAN RIVER BAPTISMS

The only way the Lord could get Israel to partake of the Red Sea baptism was to corner them into it. As we look back on most of the trials that have been used to fashion our lives, we will probably have to confess the same thing -- we did not choose the trials, but were cornered into them so that the only way out was to die to self. The Lord is gracious to align our circumstances so there is absolutely no way out but to lay down our lives and conform to the image of His death.

During this time, the Lord usually fixes it so the enemy is chasing us, and to retreat would only mean that we end up on the end of his lancers. This is when we learn that the two most powerful beings in the universe are both trying to kill us! One of them is going to get the job done, and we have to choose which one it will be. However, we have no choice but to die, which is actually grace from the Lord.

The Jordan River baptism will be different. The more mature and those who have grown in faith do not have to be tricked or trapped into their baptism -- they willingly choose to take up their crosses. The mature do not run from the cross, but to it.

Another basic difference between these two baptisms is that in the Red Sea baptism the enemy was chasing Israel, and he was destroyed because the people entered into their baptism. The second baptism represented by the Jordan River begins our pursuit of the enemy.

FROM BEING PURSUED TO IN PURSUIT

This change in the baptism will mark a very basic shift in vision and purpose of the church in our time.

This difference is what we can expect the church to transition to over the next few years. We will no longer just react to the attacks of the enemy, but we will pursue and aggressively attack his strongholds.

FROM INDIVIDUAL-THINKING TO NATIONAL-THINKING

Therefore, there are many powerful and important lessons that we must learn from the Biblical, prophetic models of what is now taking place, which is the purpose of this study. As we proceed, let us also keep in mind the differences between the Biblical, prophetic models of Scripture and the present realities. An example is the Biblical model Israel that was to utterly destroy the nations that were in their land. However, we are not called to destroy the nations, but save them by destroying the evil that has them in bondage. The nations themselves are our inheritance in the Lord.

The Great Commission was to make disciples of all nations, not just individuals. We also see that when the Lord returns, He is going to divide the nations into sheep and goats, not just individuals. Currently being decided are which nations will be "sheep" and which will be "goats." This, of course, does not mean we are to abandon the gospel of salvation. Nations will be changed by saving and teaching individuals the ways of the Lord. However, we must begin to develop national and international strategies that will impact nations with the gospel, not just a few individuals.

This will, to a large degree, be a major shift in our missionary thinking and strategies, which has actually been happening in some groups over the last two decades or more.

THE KINGDOM OF GOD IS AT HAND!

We need to understand some differences in where the church is now and where it was in the first century. There are many foundational things that will never change and will always be a basic part of the church's vision and purpose, but there are also some differences at the end of the age. Just as Joshua instructed Israel in Joshua 3:4:

"However, there shall be between you and it a distance of about 2,000 cubits by measure. Do not come near it, that you may know the way by which you shall go, for you have not passed this way before." (NASB)

Those who follow the Ark, which represents the Lord, will be going a different way by "about 2,000" years than where the church has gone before. Many are the same, but many are not, and we need to understand the differences.

Before the end of this age can come, the gospel of the kingdom must be preached. This has not yet been done. Until now we have preached the gospel of salvation, which is basically to get out of Egypt. This is essential and it will continue to be the banner of the cross that we march under, always preaching the gospel of individual salvation, but we will also begin to preach the gospel of the kingdom -- the kingdom of God is at hand! The King is coming, and He is coming to take over. He is sending us before Him to prepare His way.

The Greatest Church

Dave Wikle

The one-man priesthood:

The church took on the one-man priesthood and now is entrenched in the one-man priest & peon stance in the church. The whole church is based on one man, and goes as he goes.

If that one man is good the church will grow, if not it goes down hill. The church grows not by new converts, but by the shifting of people from one church to another.

The peons are allowed to sing and give money. Really they are demanded to give money with the Priest demanding the tithe to be paid. No matter that Jesus, the 12 disciples, and Paul were not required to pay the tithe. The tithe is an agricultural based tax on agriculture products only and is paid in kind. If you raise sheep then you pay in sheep. If you do not raise an agricultural product then you pay no tithe. The new covenant is based on giving as the Lord has blessed you; with the poor, widow, and orphan being on the fore-front of our giving.

Churches across the land are having problems because of this reason. It is time for the peons to arise and shake themselves free of this un-Godly bondage. The Bible plainly states that we believers are all priests and kings unto our God. We are all equal. We are all ministers!

Some believers spend their entire Christian life in a pew. They never minister or are allowed to be used in the Kingdom in any way. They job is to sit and to keep the $$$ coming in.

Then there is the super-one-man priest in the land who rises above the other one-man priests. His building is bigger and grander and his salary is so much greater. He is on TV and is so great. His peons are so much smaller due to his greatness. It all stinks!

The church of the New Testament was to be an example. Oh how we have all lost sight of this. The greatest church in God's eye just might be a home church where all come together as one. All can minister, pray, and share.

Home Church

Home Church:

Have any of you ever tried a home church? Over the course of our Christian life, we have done this 2 different times and both of them were the greatest part of our life. We would meet whenever we could. There was no structure to the timing of the meetings. Someone would call around and ask if tonight was OK, then we all would jump and make the meeting happen. There were about 4 or 5 families involved.

The one home church would usually start with a full meal about 5:00P.M. then we would relax and have fun for a while. Later on in the evening, after our children got tired, we would come together. We would do whatever, again, no structure. We would usually worship for an hour or so. Then we all would share what God was doing in our lives or telling us. There might be a short Bible teaching.

Then we would lay hands on each other and pray for everybody. We would all pray for one person, each person could pray whatever the Lord impressed them to pray. This would last for hours.

We would end with a common communion with the bread and the cup. The meeting usually lasted till midnight or later. One meeting lasted till the sun came up. That was one wild meeting. We were all drunk in the spirit. You felt like you weighted 1000 pounds. The presence of the Lord was very heavy.

The experience was great. We were all one. There was no one-man priest and peon stuff at all. We all could share, pray, teach, or whatever. We would go wherever the Lord impressed us to go. Someone special might be holding a meeting in some city; we would all go and have a ball.

Healings, miracles, and answered pray was at an all time high in our lives; very exciting. You would never know who would share what from God. God showed up in all of us. From the meekest to the boldest, all were equal and received from God messages and words for each other.

The experience was the closest thing I have ever seen that matched the 1st church experience in Acts.

The Glorious Inheritance in Suffering
Don Walker

"The Spirit Himself testifies with our spirit that we children of God, and if children, heirs also, heirs of God and fellow heirs with Christ, if indeed we suffer with Him so that we may also be glorified with Him." (Rom. 8:16-17)

Suffering is a very tough subject, yet one we are all called to face at some point in our lives. The problem of pain has spawned reams of material by Christian authors, from St. Augustine to C.S. Lewis.

In Romans 8, Paul encourages his fellow believers to persevere in their suffering. This would have meant a great deal coming from Paul because he knew what it was like to suffer. He had been beaten, stoned, thrown in prison, shipwrecked, rejected by his people. He knew hunger and thirst, exhaustion and poverty. He suffered some kind of thorn in his flesh, which might have been a painful illness or disability. Because he was a man who knew suffering in a personal way, each of us can find great encouragement by his letter.

What is suffering? Suffering is quite simply: What I don't like. That's all. It may be physical suffering or it may be mental/emotional suffering, but it is suffering because I don't like it. If I liked it, it really wouldn't be suffering. I don't like suffering because it is suffering. But the Bible tells us that suffering is a necessary quality, and you can't have "glory" without it.

If suffering is the means by which God brings us into His glory, we must ask the next question: What is God's glory? I have heard people talk all my Christian life about the glory of God, and that God wants to manifest His glory in His people. But when the question is asked: What does the manifested glory of God look like? You generally get a blank stare. The reason being, we have made the "Glory of God" a far more abstract idea than the Bible shows it to be.

In Exodus 33:18, Moses asks to see God's glory. God says to Moses, "I Myself will make all My goodness pass before you, and will proclaim the name of the Lord; and I will be gracious to whom I will be gracious, and will show compassion on whom I will show compassion. But He said 'You cannot see My face, for no man can see Me and live!" Then the Lord said, "Behold, there is a place by Me, and you shall stand there on the rock; and it will come about, while My glory is passing by, that I will put you in the cleft of the rock and cover you with My hand until I have passed by. Then I will take My hand away and you shall see My back, but My face shall not be seen' (Exodus 33:19-23).

In Exodus 34 this comes to pass, and we are told in verse 6 a very interesting thing that gives us a particular understanding of God's glory. "Then the Lord passed in front of him and proclaimed, 'The Lord, the Lord God, compassionate, and gracious, slow to anger, and abounding in lovingkindness and truth; who keeps lovingkindness for thousands, who forgives iniquity, transgression and sin; yet He will by no means leave the guilty unpunished . . . ' (Exodus 34:6-7). Here we have God's description of Himself, by His listing seven characteristics:

1. Compassionate
2. Gracious
3. Slow to anger

4. Lovingkindness
5. Truth
6. Forgiveness
7. Justice

God revealed His glory in His character. It's not all that mystical. And if the Church is to manifest God's glory this is what it will manifest - these seven characteristics. Manifesting God's glory is not about lightning coming off the tips of our fingers. It is about reflecting the character of God. When Paul tells us in Romans 3:23 that, "all have sinned and come short of the glory of God," what is it that he is referring to? He is declaring that we have failed to rise to the standard of these seven characteristics that reveal God's nature.

For us as believers, that "glory" has already been given to us by Christ through the Holy Spirit (John 17:22), but we, both corporately and individually, often fail to manifest that glory. As Paul tells us, "we have this treasure in earthen vessels" (II Cor. 4:7). But like the "vessels" carried by Gideon's 300, they had to be broken for the light contained inside to shine forth. This is where suffering comes in. Suffering is a means by which God "breaks the vessel," so that His glory might be revealed, if we respond to it in a proper way. Paul Billheimer, in his book Don't Waste Your Sorrows: A Study in Sainthood and Suffering, makes this statement, "No one ever becomes a saint without suffering because suffering, properly accepted, is the pathway to glory."

Peter, I believe speaks to this very thing in his first epistle, when he states, "Beloved, do not be surprised at the fiery ordeal among you, which comes upon you for your testing, as though some strange thing were happening to you; but to the degree that you share the sufferings of Christ, keep on rejoicing, so that also at the revelation of His glory you may rejoice with exultation. If you are reviled for the name of Christ, you are blessed, because the Spirit of glory and of God rests on you" (I Peter 4:12-14). Peter, later in this same epistle, speaks of himself as a "witness of the sufferings of Christ, and a partaker also of the glory that is to be revealed" (I Peter 5:1).

In Romans 8:18 Paul says, "For I consider that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory that is to be revealed in us." (NAS uses "to" rather than "in.") Second Corinthians 4:17 states: "For momentary, light affliction is producing for us an eternal weight of glory far beyond all comparison." Second Timothy 2:12 says, "If we suffer, we shall also reign with Him." Why is this important? Because according to Romans 5:3-5 suffering results in godly character and character is a prerequisite for rulership. Since there is no character development without suffering, suffering is a necessary preparation for rulership.

May God enable us to embrace suffering that the character of Christ (God's glory) might be revealed in us.

The Great Overhaul Of The Church Part 3

FORERUNNERS IN HIDDEN NESS - FORERUNNERS IN TRAINING

There have been a lot of article writers and prophetic people who have been stirred up by the Spirit of God to revisit the life of John the Baptist, and they have been impressed deeply by the following scripture verse.

"For this is he who was spoken of by the prophet Isaiah when he said, "The voice of one crying in the wilderness: 'Prepare the way of the Lord; Make his paths straight."
~ Matthew 3:3

The Spirit of God had already prophesied ages beforehand through Isaiah that there would be a forerunner before the actual public entry of Jesus the Christ. When John became visible as a forerunner declaring that the Kingdom of God was at hand… he also became an irritant and was an annoyance to the rulers of the day.

And so…it is no wonder that the Lord has again been shouting for a while now, that there are forerunners sent to declare that we must make straight paths in our lives, our businesses, our relationships, our worship, our finances…our hearts.

As this has been occurring and many voices are lovingly but firmly warning that the Lord is near, ready to reveal Himself in Kingdom Glory and freshness, so have the dwellers of darkness ratcheted up their agenda and ugliness.

Political tempests are brewing and spewing out all sorts of accusations, filibustering and finger pointing in record volumes! And it is going to get more sinister and confusing in the days ahead.

DESSERT IN THE DESERT

One thing that John the Baptist learned from an early age was that the desert wilderness was not a place of punishment or doomed loneliness. It was a place of rich solitude and disciplined waiting.

The Lord has had many of His forerunners in a place of desert dwelling now for what might seem like a long season. These individuals are people who simply have been brought again to a place of childlike trust and believing.

The clarity of the heavens shine so much more brightly out in a quiet remote place, away from the artificial lights of busyness and peopled settings.

John started in the hidden desert wilderness as a child and grew in spirit out there. He was being trained, prepared, and honed for a day when he would be sent with a burning message. He would also lose his life for it.
"And the child grew and became strong in spirit; and he lived in the desert until he appeared publicly to Israel." Luke 1:80

"THE CHURCH, WHICH IS MARRIED TO THE SPIRIT OF THE AGE, WILL BE A WIDOW IN THE NEXT." - Dean Inge

This is a sobering wake-up call to a slumbering Church rampant with sensuality and worldly compromise. The Lord is not going to have people put on sackcloth and not wash their hair or cut it in order to get the attention of the people in this day and age! John was actually only wearing and doing what he had been living most of his life among the people of a unique sect of worshippers.

The Lord is infiltrating regions, cities, nations, government, the arts…you name it - with His people who are prepared to live the truth and let the radiant life of His presence begin to turn the devastated and confused towards that light. He is also going to usher sincere believers into a fresh encounter with the Living God by inspiring a renewed hunger for holy living.

BRINGING IN THE SHEAVES......DRIVING OUT THE SLEAZE

Insomuch as anyone pushes you nearer to God, they are your truest friend.

Also - Anyone, who pushes you to partake of worldly sentiments, is your greatest enemy.

We are being positioned for a battle of the ages. A battle against the child-like Heart towards God, and worldly sophistication and self-gratification. In the days not too far ahead, there is going to be such light shining into the earth that things that have been hidden in darkness and whispered in closets, will be exposed and stripped of all cloaks and schemes.

Christians who have been gently tapped on the shoulder by the Spirit of God to adjust their lifestyles and help the widows and orphans, the broken and heartbroken - are now going to have somewhat of a "blaring horn" in their ears warning them that spiritual deafness and obedience are not options in the Kingdom!

The sleaze in the church is at an all time high when you can see as much cleavage on a Sunday morning or at a women's conference as there is on a questionable sitcom on the TV ! The churched males have a tough time not sinning when they look at all of the bodies hanging out of blouses and low rise pants. And …men…you can avert your eyes and stay away from the sports illustrated swimsuit editions in honor of the King. Remember. Character is what you are in the dark. When no one else can see what you are thinking and doing. But The Light of the Kingdom will expose it! It must.

GIFTED PROPHETS - AND - CHARACTER ISSUES

Somehow the Body of Christ who lays claim to the powerful working of the Holy Spirit, forgets a very serious tool in knowing what is something the Lord would have them listen to.
It's called discernment. Its called judging fruit. There is a lot of flash going on out there in the name of the prophetic and it is probably in part…originally somehow ignited by the Lord. But…when a prophet - male or female, needs to have limousines drive them to meetings, 5000 dollar suits, plastic surgeries and body lifts in order to "present the word" in modern times…something has gotten off a straight path.

The Lord is going to let the hidden lives of people in His Body who claim that they speak for Him be brutally scrutinized if they do not adjust the level of pompousness and self-pampering soon. It doesn't matter if what is spoken is accurate in the Spirit. The gifts are the Gifts! But the vessel they flow out of is FLESH and needs accountability and above all…humility of lifestyle.

As long as the bride of Christ feeds itself on the personalities of the day, Instead of spending time in the hidden place of God's presence...it will be fleeced and entertained by the present age of what is happening. It will also have lost the simplicity and sweetness of hearing from the Spirit of God face to face.
Prophets are not supposed to be popular and groovy or exclusive! They are to be reflections of the King Himself. Think about what Jesus looks and acts like right now, and then - compare that to what is going on in the average prophetic circles.

PLEASANT - VILLE?

People have remained the same soulically since the fall of Adam and Eve. We have just become more sophisticated in the way we sin! And. WHOA! When God begins to put His finger into the hidden little crevasses of our selfishness and places of what we feel are "deserved rights"….wow can the true character and religious justification scream!

Good old Jeremiah saw the same thing occurring that we are steeped in right now!
"To whom can I speak and give warning? Who will listen to me? Their ears are closed so they cannot hear. The word of the LORD is offensive to them; they find no PLEASURE in it. " Jeremiah 6:10

As long as the prophet, the teacher, the evangelist, etc. is "pleasant" in their deliveries and provide a level of intensity to the presentation, we are fine! It's all about the presentation and how it makes us feel! But oh when the message does not bring pleasure to the soul, and it is allowed to strip us naked in front of God... we rage at the idea that anyone dare tell "us" that our goodness and intelligence are grounds for being treated with velvet gloves!

The soul of the believer must be continuously washed in the word as well as laying it bare to the searchlight of the Holy Spirit. These two together will do a thorough walkthrough of all we claim to worship, to see if it is surrendered in total to the King and the purposes of His plans for the Kingdom.
HERE IS WHAT THE LORD SAYS WHEN HE BEGINS TO ADDRESS THE HEARTS OF HIS PEOPLE
"Stand at the crossroads and look; ask for the original paths, Ask where the good way is, and walk in it, And you will find rest for your souls. Jer 6: 16

THE BOAT- THE STORM – THE OTHER SIDE

John 6:16-21 When evening came, his disciples went down to the lake, 17 where they got into a boat and set off across the lake for Capernaum. By now it was dark, and Jesus had not yet joined them. 18 A strong wind was blowing and the waters grew rough. 19 When they had rowed three or three and a half miles they saw Jesus approaching the boat, walking on the water; and they were terrified. 20 But he said to them, "It is I; don't be afraid." 21 Then they were willing to take him into the boat, and immediately the boat reached the shore where they were heading.

The disciples assumed that Jesus was going to stay and minister to people for a while perhaps or…spend some time alone with the Father. He would probably follow them in another boat and meet them across the lake on the other side.

I FEEL THAT THE LORD HAS SHOWN ME SOMETHING FOR HIS PEOPLE TO GRASP ONTO IN THIS HOUR AS A "ROPE OF HOPE."
It seems that many are in a place where they have simply done what they felt was the regular and presumed way of how the Lord will want things done or had always done in the past.
We go and get on a boat presuming the Lord will show up the way He always has.
But when the storms begin to grow around us and the winds of adversity and change happen…we begin to cry out for our lives and wonder why these things are happening to us! We face the potential possibility of losing all we have in the storms of life, and all the while we are trying to minister for the Lord!

Untold thousands of people I have heard from and I know I have not heard from, are on the brink of losing their homes, automobiles, and possibly their health...after getting on the boat and heading out and then finding out God allowed the wind and adversity to shake the very fibers of all they knew and loved!

THIS IS THE GREAT SHAKING WE HAVE ALL BEEN HEARING ABOUT!
In this instance Jesus was not even IN the boat with the disciples. They were on their own.

JESUS HAS ALREADY BEEN IN THE FUTURE
Notice that the disciples had rowed about three and a half miles out and it says that then…they saw Jesus approaching them, walking on the water! They saw Him coming TOWARDS them…. from the front of the boat...not from behind! And they were afraid! Why? Because this was a new way of seeing Him. He came from a "Different Direction" than they thought he would come and in a way they had never seen Him before!

BELOVED SAINTS HEAR THIS! The storms and winds that are pressing in on you as you row in the storm and try to find your way. are tools used of God to build your character.

HE IS DEALING WITH YOUR FEAR OF HAVING MISSED HIS PLAN FOR YOUR LIFE!
He is testing your intentions of the heart to see if you have become religious and stuck in the way you expect Him to move and visit you and rescue you from the evils of this life!

HE IS SAYING TO US…DON'T BE AFRAID! IT'S ME!
I Am here to not only calm you now by calming and quieting the storm but…once you have learned from this lesson that I do not want you to get accustomed to a set blueprint of mundane service and patterned expectancy…you will immediately be taken by Me…to the other side of the Lake. The other side of where I have already been.

STAY THE COURSE
As we press in against the adversity and difficulties that are roaring in our spiritual ears to distract us…we will find that Jesus will again prove to us one thing. We can do nothing without Him. NOTHING. His kingdom will never fear nor fail. Ours will…if we try to rule it without Him. Hold steady and press in - press on! And when you begin to see Him coming towards your situations in life in an entirely different way than you ever thought He would... He will silence the heartache, ear, and anxiety and will immediately ...take you into a place of Divine Revelation and Divine Rest.

HE IS BUILDING ENDURANCE IN A WAY THAT ONLY A SAINT CAN LEARN. And He will do it His way. Because He IS the way. Cast your burden on the Lord. He WILL sustain you and...Give you rest. Let Him do what He must in your heart and character until only His humility and wisdom are evident.

"HAVE NO FEAR FOR THE UNSETTLEMENT OR THE DISTURBANCE OF THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN. IT BEGAN IN ETERNITY; IT WILL GO ON THROUGH EVERLASTING; THERE IS NO PANIC IN THE DIVINE PERSONALITY. GOD IS PEACE, GOD GIVES PEACE, GOD GIVES REST."

The Great Overhaul Of The Church

Mary Lindow

A prophetic teaching from the Holy Spirit through

"And the God of all grace, who called you to his eternal glory in Christ, after you have suffered a little while, will himself restore (overhaul) you and make you strong, firm and committed." ~ 1 Peter 5:10

We have all heard about the re-possessing of an automobile or a home, and understand that this occurs when something is being taken back, re- possessed - because the terms of payment were not met.

So in a similar way, the church at large is being "re-po-ed"...in the sense of repossession or re-po-sition!

REPOSITIONED FOR WHAT?

We have been hearing the words shifting, shaking, re-aligning, reformation, and so on… for over three to four years now. God is sending a clear warning shot across the bow of the "church ship" which is now finding itself in uncharted waters. I think that if we were all totally honest about it, we could even say that we feel like there have been times we have all been one of the members of the famous Gilligan's Island tour group, simply looking for a pleasant experience on the USS Minnow, only to find ourselves on a strange island rather than returning from a three hour tour!

THE WEATHER IS GETTING ROUGH!

Amazingly, the theme song for Gilligan's Island had a verse in it that goes like this:

The weather started getting rough, The tiny ship was tossed, If not for the courage of the fearless crew, The Minnow would be lost!

IS THE CHURCH LOST AT SEA?

It might appear that we are in a place of great turbulence and with all of the earthly calamities that are roaring in unrelenting waves, we might feel that the place we used to run to for security is also in a major crisis of sorts! The storms are raging literally with hurricanes termed as, "biblical in proportion" by many media reporters!

Local church establishments are inundated with traumatized people from not just hurricanes! Utility bills are predicted to rise anywhere from 70 to 90% over the winter due to the "Oil" shortage. Major corporations are laying people off from long-term jobs. Inflation is on the rise, but cost of living salary adjustments are...disappearing! The Bird Flu is being dramatized and claimed as potentially "pandemic!" And we haven't even touched the issues of homicides, child kidnapping, and the rise in pornography and abuse issues!

THE AMAZING SHRINKING CHURCH WALLET

As people of church affiliations of all expression feel the pinch in their wallets begin to irritate and hamper their lifestyles, the church is going to experience a major tremor. YES. TREMOR! What was once applauded as an " Ambitious visionary advancement" into greater influence, will soon become a burdensome weight to those who presumed that God was into the "Marketing and Merchandising" wave of luxuriously pampering the bride of Christ! Sort of like the story of the Princess and the Pea. No matter how many mattresses were stacked one upon the other, the pouting and over indulged princess could still feel the irritating little pea resting underneath all of them.

THE COMFORTER VERSES THE CONVICTOR

Somehow. The Holy Spirit has been diluted into some esoteric, floaty, glitter duster who simply drops heaps of goodies on fat little sheep, never warning them about over indulgence, sluggishness or sloth! Let's look at what the Lord himself said to us about the Holy Spirit….and the roles He plays.

COMFORTER But when He, the Spirit of Truth (the Holy Spirit) comes, He will guide you into the whole, full Truth. For He will not speak His own message on His own endorsement; but He will tell whatever He hears from the Father. He will give the message that has been given to Him, and He will make known and declare to you the things that will happen in the future. John 16:13

CONVICTOR And when He comes, He will convict and prove to the human race and bring demonstration to it, about sin and about truthfulness of heart and right standing with God and about judgment: About sin, because they do not believe in Me, trust in Me, rely on Me, and hold on to Me. John 16:8 & 9

WHEN THE BENEVOLENT GET TIRED OF GENEROSITY

Already, the coffers of Earthquake Aid, Hurricane Aid, Tsunami Aid, 9/11 Aid have been fed into the enormous gaping black hole of need. And... for a while people will pull together to make heroic attempts to bring a fix to the problems all of these catastrophic events churn up.

But! Ask folks to give continually, and sacrificially and then…you will see a real reason for the need of the laser cutting conviction of the Holy Spirit!

If we who call ourselves believers and followers of Jesus lean upon either our own personal wealth and blessings as a place of safety or…if we lean upon the wealth of others if we have little ourselves…thinking that either of these things are acceptable…we will continue to have the shaking and convicting of the Holy Spirit "ROCK OUR WORLDS!" YES! Both in a planetary way and in our own little "spheres of influence" until we awaken to the reality that we are to see our lack of trusting, leaning, relying, and holding on to Jesus as SIN!

IN GOD WE TRUST?

When we trust in self implied or planned securities and rely on them, or when we hold on to a hope that the wealthy among us might be our source and answer to needs unmet…we have wandered very far away from the shores of safety in Christ!

Human beings and yes… "CHRISTIAN" human beings can become very protective of their "assets" if they are not in a place of brokenness and listening to God's plan for them to share "honestly" with others, without contempt for their lowly place and genuine neediness. One needs to only look at the story of Lazarus and the rich man to know how cruel the worldly and corrupt folks of wealth treat their fellow brethren. But also…let us not forget Annanias and Sapphirah whom were supposed believers… who lied to their brothers and sisters, the Apostles and above all, the Holy Spirit about their self-protecting and devious plan!

THIS FULLY ADDRESSED THE SETTING THEN AND ALSO RIGHT NOW IN THE ERA THAT THE CHURCH IS IN!

When those who have substantial blessing and abundance start turning to "selective" blindness when they see another family member in the Body needing assistance to be sent into mission locations to care for the devastated or to train a new emerging generation into truth and instructed direction, and simply continue to say things like; "God bless you, I will pray for you, Be at peace!" …God does not Himself…turn a blind eye to their darkened eye of soul.

HE SEES THE WICKED HEART OF THE LOVERS OF "SELF PRESERVATION AND GRATIFICATION"

And

HE SEES AND HEARS THE HEART-CRY OF A GENERATION AGONIZING TO BE RELEASED AND SENT.

I as sure you, most seriously I tell you, that you shall weep and grieve, but the world will rejoice. You will be sorrowful, but your sorrow will be turned into joy. John 16:20

The Great Overhaul Of The Church Part 2
Mary Lindow

A prophetic teaching from the Holy Spirit

SO WHAT IS A DARKENED SOUL?

This word darkened looked up from a Thesaurus says it means; murky, gloomy or dimly lit. Not a pretty picture!

And yet! How we wrestle and roil inside that soul of ours when someone sees or Divinely discerns the places in our souls that still love the things of the world, its lures, and it’s ability to satisfy the need for power and prestige!

We are dealing with the same spiritual problem of the disease of “The darkened soul of mankind” from the very beginning of time. It is still brewing away like a fresh pot of coffee, churning out an aroma that is most pleasant and enticing.

We have been warned, prophesied to, evangelized, challenged, read the “best of the best” articles and books on the subject….but…still many of the masses who claim to be followers of Christ, even now… live with one foot in the World and…one foot in the Word.

MERCHANDISING THE KINGDOM

For some reason, there has always been the issue of who is the greatest in the kingdom and, how can we get there too…the quickest and most painless way.

There is no amount of money, talent or suave personal skill available to acquire a place of honor in the Kingdom of God. You just might want to re- read the story of the Rich young ruler again. He had a great heart, had lived a pure and honorable life. But…to give up all of his earthy wealth and comforts to go on a journey to unknown places and people with Jesus…was…. PAINFUL to the soul!

To be a Partaker of the Kingdom it is not suppose to be a club or social gathering for those elite enough to join. And yet! Listen to the plague of assertions from many claiming that the more they have to help build the kingdom…the better it will be. We need to give our best offering, our image, and polish, all their very best in order to be attractive to those who need to gain entry into this place of belonging and elitism!

THE CHURCH HAS “AFFLUENCE- ZA”

Oh! How our little fleshy feelings get all miffed and testy when the Lord puts His Fiery finger of conviction into our personally formed golden calf of idol worship! We as believers have been hearing the warnings to; be honest, to walk in humility, to not starve the apostles, the prophets, the pastors, who labor among us.

THE PROBLEM OF “SELECTIVE HEARING” HAS BECOME A TIGHTLY WOUND TIME BOMB IN THIS TIME OF SHAKING THAT THE BODY IS IN!

The Lord has succinctly spoken about the matter of loving the lures of this world …and yet that old darkened and willful soul seems to passively attempt to push away the message and…warning!

“Do not love the world or anything in the world. If anyone loves the world, the love of the Father is not in him.

For everything in the world— the cravings of sinful man, the lust of his eyes and the boasting of what he has and does —comes not from the Father but from the world.

The world and its desires pass away, but the man who does the will of God lives forever.” 1 John 2 15-17

LOVE THE WORLD? HATE GOD! A PAINFUL TRUTH!

We are in a time where just like Lot and his family in the Old Testament and Ananias and Sapphira in the New Testament, had MAJOR choices to make, so must we… … make a choice.

They were believers. They had seen extraordinary signs and wonders. They had lived in gross abundance and blessing… and yet…craved more.

Somehow they thought that their social and financial wealth and influence gave them special rights to avoid the judgment of withholding all of their heart from God. They had had so much ease and blessing that they began to dread parting with it when the Lord began to ask them to watch over the needs of His people. To freely assist and aid in the advancement of leading the desolate of spirit …into truth.

From the Very beginning of his land of choice selection, Lot had a greedy interest in gaining all he could quickly…even if it was coming out of a corrupt place. In the end, he lost his stuff...and his wife-couldn’t stand to not look back just one more time at all she once “had and was” instead of obeying the commands of God to not look upon the sin of the past again.

Ananias and Sapphira thought that they could lie to the Holy Spirit and look good and receive honor in the Kingdom without paying the price of integrity and honoring their commitment to share so that no one among them lacked.

THE EMERGING JOSEPH COMPANY

In the midst of much argument over how the Lord has prospered some and yet why not others, as well as the flashy and “fleshy” selling of the 5 fold anointing through cheesy appeals, promises of instant blessing and a chance to even have a private prayer time with one of God’s “shining stars” if you give a large sum… there are those who are truly Encouragers.

Yep! Joseph means Son of Encouragement or…encourager. These individuals have themselves suffered loss, have been at times unjustly censored and relationally executed by those who have been jealous of a “spiritual something” that radiates out of the humility of soul the Joseph heart walks in.

Again Joseph in the Old Testament and Joseph in the new…were both canvases of truth the Lord painted His Kingdom principles upon and spoke through.

When the time of great need arose and the time of great harvest…these men knew the heart of why God had blessed them so much. They knew what the Kingdom was! It had a tangible-ness that transcended all of the self gorging and pampering that a "World Lover" craves!

“After all the kingdom of God is not a matter of getting the food and drink one likes, but instead it is uprightness- that state which makes a person acceptable to God and heart peace and joy in the Holy Spirit” Romans 14:17

THE HEART OF HUMILITY - THE HAND OF HELP… …THE HOUR OF HARVEST

“We may never see the end results, but that is the difference between the master builder and the worker. We are workers, not master builders, ministers, not messiahs. We are prophets of a future not our own. -- Archbishop Oscar Romero of El Salvador

Oh the need for generous giving and meeting the need of those now being prepared to be sent into harvest fields now heavy and ripe!

A rare and broken - even “shattered” breed of apostolic Men and Women, teams of them, prophetic voices with evangelism and fire in their mouths- are crying out for The Father to move on the hearts of those who have been blessed with abundance to rise up and shake off the darkness of their souls to see the potential of shared harvesting!

Just as the wealthy should never ever dictate to the servants of God, “how to” or “when to” or “where to” flow in the abundance of heavenly exhortations and anointing, neither should the five fold offices beg, or perform in order to be able to acquire financial substance to “send them” into the earth.

There are truly arising honorable battalions of Josephs now in the earth which are being given instruction and direction as to how to assist with gifts of unfettered and humble finance to make a final push, opening the gates to once hindered and desolate places. The Lord will bless the apostle and prophet in this hour with Josephs who will come alongside in humility and freedom, helping to care for the laborers of harvesting.

He told them, "The harvest is plentiful, but the workers are few.

Ask the Lord of the harvest, therefore, to send out workers into his harvest field. Luke 10:2

“The Great Overhaul Of The Church” - Part 3
Mary Lindow

A prophetic teaching from the Holy Spirit

FORERUNNERS IN HIDDENNESS FORERUNNERS IN TRAINING

There have been a lot of article writers and prophetic people who have been stirred up by the Spirit of God to revisit the life of John the Baptist, and they have been impressed deeply by the following scripture verse.

“For this is he who was spoken of by the prophet Isaiah when he said, "The voice of one crying in the wilderness: 'Prepare the way of the Lord; Make his paths straight.” ~ Matthew 3:3

The Spirit of God had already prophesied ages beforehand through Isaiah that there would be a forerunner before the actual public entry of Jesus the Christ. When John became visible as a forerunner declaring that the Kingdom of God was at hand… he also became an irritant and was an annoyance to the rulers of the day.

And so…it is no wonder that the Lord has again been shouting for a while now, that there are forerunners sent to declare that we must make straight paths in our lives, our businesses, our relationships, our worship, our finances…our hearts.

As this has been occurring and many voices are lovingly but firmly warning that the Lord is near, ready to reveal Himself in Kingdom Glory and freshness, so have the dwellers of darkness ratcheted up their agenda and ugliness.

Political tempests are brewing and spewing out all sorts of accusations, filibustering and finger pointing in record volumes! And it is going to get more sinister and confusing in the days ahead.

DESSERT IN THE DESERT

One thing that John the Baptist learned from an early age was that the desert wilderness was not a place of punishment or doomed loneliness. It was a place of rich solitude and disciplined waiting.

The Lord has had many of His forerunners in a place of desert dwelling now for what might seem like a long season. These individuals are people who simply have been brought again to a place of childlike trust and believing.

The clarity of the heavens shine so much more brightly out in a quiet remote place, away from the artificial lights of busyness and peopled settings.

John started in the hidden desert wilderness as a child and grew in spirit out there. He was being trained, prepared, and honed for a day when he would be sent with a burning message. He would also lose his life for it.

“And the child grew and became strong in spirit; and he lived in the desert until he appeared publicly to Israel.” Luke 1:80

THE CHURCH, WHICH IS MARRIED TO THE SPIRIT OF THE AGE, WILL BE A WIDOW IN THE NEXT." - Dean Inge

This is a sobering wake-up call to a slumbering Church rampant with sensuality and worldly compromise.

The Lord is not going to have people put on sackcloth and not wash their hair or cut it in order to get the attention of the people in this day and age! John was actually only wearing and doing what he had been living most of his life among the people of a unique sect of worshippers.

The Lord is infiltrating regions, cities, nations, government, the arts…you name it - with His people who are prepared to live the truth and let the radiant life of His presence begin to turn the devastated and confused towards that light. He is also going to Usher sincere believers into a fresh encounter with the Living God by inspiring a renewed hunger for holy living.

BRINGING IN THE SHEAVES... ...DRIVING OUT THE SLEAZE

Insomuch as anyone pushes you nearer to God, they are your truest friend. Also - Anyone, who pushes you to partake of worldly sentiments, is your greatest enemy.

We are being positioned for a battle of the ages. A battle against the child-like Heart towards God, and worldly sophistication and self-gratification.

In the days not too far ahead, there is going to be such light shining into the earth that things that have been hidden in darkness and whispered in closets, will be exposed and stripped of all cloaks and schemes.

Christians who have been gently tapped on the shoulder by the Spirit of God to adjust their lifestyles and help the widows and orphans, the broken and heartbroken - are now going to have somewhat of a “blaring horn” in their ears warning them that spiritual deafness and obedience are not options in the Kingdom!

The sleaze in the church is at an all time high when you can see as much cleavage on a Sunday morning or at a women’s conference as there is on a questionable sitcom on the TV! The churched males have a tough time not sinning when they look at all of the bodies hanging out of blouses and low rise pants. And …men…you can avert your eyes and stay away from the sports illustrated swimsuit editions in honor of the King. Remember. Character is what you are in the dark. When no one else can see what you are thinking and doing. But The Light of the Kingdom will expose it! It must.

GIFTED PROPHETS - AND - CHARACTER ISSUES

Somehow the Body of Christ who lays claim to the powerful working of the Holy Spirit, forgets a very serious tool in knowing what is something the Lord would have them listen to. It’s called discernment. Its called judging fruit.

There is a lot of flash going on out there in the name of the prophetic and it is probably in part…originally somehow ignited by the Lord. But…when a prophet - male or female, needs to have limousines drive them to meetings, 5000 dollar suits, plastic surgeries and body lifts in order to “present the word” in modern times…something has gotten off a straight path.

The Lord is going to let the hidden lives of people in His Body who claim that they speak for Him be brutally scrutinized if they do not adjust the level of pompousness and self-pampering soon. It doesn't matter if what is spoken is accurate in the Spirit. The gifts are the Gifts! But the vessel they flow out of is FLESH and needs accountability and above all…humility of lifestyle.

As long as the bride of Christ feeds itself on the personalities of the day, Instead of spending time in the hidden place of God's presence...it will be fleeced and entertained by the present age of what is happening. It will also have lost the simplicity and sweetness of hearing from the Spirit of God face to face.

Prophets are not supposed to be popular and groovy or exclusive! They are to be reflections of the King Himself. Think about what Jesus looks and acts like right now, and then - compare that to what is going on in the average prophetic circles.

PLEASANT - VILLE?

People have remained the same soulically since the fall of Adam and Eve. We have just become more sophisticated in the way we sin! And. WHOA! When God begins to put His finger into the hidden little crevasses of our selfishness and places of what we feel are "deserved rights"….wow can the true character and religious justification scream!

Good old Jeremiah saw the same thing occurring that we are steeped in right now!

"To whom can I speak and give warning? Who will listen to me? Their ears are closed so they cannot hear. The word of the LORD is offensive to them; they find no PLEASURE in it. " Jeremiah 6:10

As long as the prophet, the teacher, the evangelist, etc. is "pleasant" in their deliveries and provide a level of intensity to the presentation, we are fine! It's all about the presentation and how it makes us feel! But oh when the message does not bring pleasure to the soul, and it is allowed to strip us naked in front of God... we rage at the idea that anyone dare tell "us" that our goodness and intelligence are grounds for being treated with velvet gloves!

The soul of the believer must be continuously washed in the word as well as laying it bare to the searchlight of the Holy Spirit. These two together will do a thorough walkthrough of all we claim to worship, to see if it is surrendered in total to the King and the purposes of His plans for the Kingdom.

HERE IS WHAT THE LORD SAYS WHEN HE BEGINS TO ADDRESS THE HEARTS OF HIS PEOPLE

"Stand at the crossroads and look; ask for the original paths, Ask where the good way is, and walk in it, And you will find rest for your souls. Jer 6: 16

THE BOAT- THE STORM – THE OTHER SIDE

John 6:16-21 When evening came, his disciples went down to the lake, 17where they got into a boat and set off across the lake for Capernaum. By now it was dark, and Jesus had not yet joined them. 18A strong wind was blowing and the waters grew rough. 19When they had rowed three or three and a half miles they saw Jesus approaching the boat, walking on the water; and they were terrified. 20But he said to them, "It is I; don't be afraid." 21Then they were willing to take him into the boat, and immediately the boat reached the shore where they were heading.

The disciples assumed that Jesus was going to stay and minister to people for a while perhaps or…spend some time alone with the Father. He would probably follow them in another boat and meet them across the lake on the other side.

I FEEL THAT THE LORD HAS SHOWN ME SOMETHING FOR HIS PEOPLE TO GRASP ONTO IN THIS HOUR AS A, "ROPE OF HOPE."

It seems that many are in a place where they have simply done what they felt was the regular and presumed way of how the Lord will want things done or had always done in the past.

We go and get on a boat presuming the Lord will show up the way He always has.

But when the storms begin to grow around us and the winds of adversity and change happen…we begin to cry out for our lives and wonder why these things are happening to us! We face the potential possibility of losing all we have in the storms of life, and all the while we are trying to minister for the Lord!

Untold thousands of people I have heard from and I know I have not heard from, are on the brink of losing their homes, automobiles, and possibly their health ...after getting on the boat and heading out and then finding out God allowed the wind and adversity to shake the very fibers of all they knew and loved!

THIS IS THE GREAT SHAKING WE HAVE ALL BEEN HEARING ABOUT! In this instance Jesus was not even IN the boat with the disciples. They were on their own.

JESUS HAS ALREADY BEEN IN THE FUTURE Notice that the disciples had rowed about three and a half miles out and it says that then…they saw Jesus approaching them, walking on the water! They saw Him coming TOWARDS them…. from the front of the boat...not from behind! And they were afraid! Why? Because this was a new way of seeing Him. He came from a “Different Direction” than they thought he would come and in a way they had never seen Him before!

BELOVED SAINTS HEAR THIS! The storms and winds that are pressing in on you as you row in the storm and try to find your way. are tools used of God to build your character.

HE IS DEALING WITH YOUR FEAR OF HAVING MISSED HIS PLAN FOR YOUR LIFE! He is testing your intentions of the heart to see if you have become religious and stuck in the way you expect Him to move and visit you and rescue you from the evils of this life!

HE IS SAYING TO US…DON’T BE AFRAID! IT’S ME! I Am here to not only calm you now by calming and quieting the storm but…once you have learned from this lesson that I do not want you to get accustomed to a set blueprint of mundane service and patterned expectancy…you will immediately be taken by Me…to the other side of the Lake. The other side of where I have already been.

STAY THE COURSE As we press in against the adversity and difficulties that are roaring in our spiritual ears to distract us…we will find that Jesus will again prove to us one thing.

We can do nothing without Him. NOTHING. His kingdom will never fear nor fail. Ours will…if we try to rule it without Him.

Hold steady and press in - press on! And when you begin to see Him coming towards your situations in life in an entirely different way than you ever thought He would... He will silence the heartache, fear, and anxiety and will immediately ...take you into a place of Divine Revelation and Divine Rest.

HE IS BUILDING ENDURANCE IN A WAY THAT ONLY A SAINT CAN LEARN. And He will do it His way. Because He IS the way. Cast your burden on the Lord. He WILL sustain you and...Give you rest. Let Him do what He must in your heart and character until only His humility and wisdom are evident.

“HAVE NO FEAR FOR THE UNSETTLEMENT OR THE DISTURBANCE OF THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN.

IT BEGAN IN ETERNITY; IT WILL GO ON THROUGH EVERLASTING;

THERE IS NO PANIC IN THE DIVINE PERSONALITY. GOD IS PEACE, GOD GIVES PEACE, GOD GIVES REST.” ~ Joseph Parker

Paralyzing The Mission Field Of The Kingdom

"ARROGANCE"
Vanity of vanities!
Why put on with foolish pride an illusion of soul's lust? Why make yourself a statue of gold When you're only made of dust? -Author unknown

HEAR THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT WITH YOUR SPIRIT FIRST...
...THEN WITH YOUR MIND.

I say this because if not discerned and embraced by the spirit first…the soul will immediately defend itself and bluster and spit in shock that anyone might imply that is has the stated problem!

"ARROGANCE IS A DISEASE THAT MAKES EVERYONE SICK...
... EXCEPT THE ONE WHO HAS IT!"

It is really rather amazing that any of us are ever really useful the Lord when we begin to examine the "secret sins" that are active in our lives, sometimes in our ministries, and in the way the bride of the King has presented herself.

IN THIS MODERN AGE OF, "IT'S ALL ABOUT YOU BABY"…
…ARROGANCE IS ALMOST APPLAUDED AS A SUPER TALENT TO SUCCESS! Politicians boast of their greatness to lead, TV personalities shred other individuals on live Programs and, sadly, many who have claimed to be "servants" of the Lord have competed, slandered, and have positioned themselves as "the most recent cutting edge" in ministry! Little people…get out of the way!

REMEMBER! EVEN THE DISCIPLE PETER HAD TO DEAL WITH THIS ISSUE! He presumed to tell the Lord what would never happen in His ministry! The actual crucifixion!

EVEN THE RICH YOUNG RULER, WHO APPEARED TO BE A GENTEEL AND HONORING INDIVIDUAL WAS ARROGANT enough to think that he could travel with Jesus and gain further stature without having to lay down all of his own well -earned endowments!

He actually thought that having obeyed the commandments since he was a small child and being good would be the way to keep his wealth and cushy lifestyle! This is the subtle disease of arrogance! He didn't think he had it! In fact…he might have thought that his financial settings would endear him to Jesus and the twelve disciples because he could provide a more comfortable lifestyle for all of them while they ministered.

Oh! He went away sad, but not broken. He was sad that he had to choose between his rich and public securities and…a humble life with Jesus. Matthew (19)

LISTEN TO WHAT THE LORD PROPHESIED TO US IN ISAIAH ABOUT THE VERY SAME ISSUE.

And the word of One will go forth, "Cast up, cast up (to throw something away from yourself, usually with force) Prepare the way! Take up the stumbling block out of the way of the spiritual return of My people."

For this is what The High and Almighty One has to say—He Who inhabits eternity, Whose name is Holy:

"I dwell in the high and holy place, but I also dwell with him who is of a thoroughly penitent and humble spirit, to revive, to reawaken the spirit of the humble and to reinstate the heart of the thoroughly broken bruised with sorrow for their sin. Isaiah 57:14-15

HERE ARE SOME THESAURUS AND DICTIONARY DESCRIPTIONS OF THE WORD ARROGANCE:

ARROGANCE:
The act or habit of making uncalled-for claims in an overbearing manner; that species of pride which consists in exorbitant claims of rank, dignity, estimation, or power, or which exalts the worth or importance of the person to an undue degree; proud contempt of others; lordliness; haughtiness

ARROGANT:
High-handed, disdainful, haughty, high-and-mighty, insolent, lordly, overbearing, condescending, superior example:

RELATED WORDS: domineering, bossy, dictatorial; exaggerated, false, highfalutin, assumed, ostentatious

IDIOM: too big for one's britches

IF WE ARE OF THE KINGDOM OF GOD WE ARE TO BE HUMBLE and fully aware of our need for daily brokenness and a deep daily need for re-consecration of our reasons to follow Jesus.

THOSE WHO CLAIM TO BE THE CHILDREN OF GOD ARE TO REFLECT HUMILITY.

IN REGARD TO SATAN'S KINGDOM,
HE IS SAID TO BE A 'KING OVER ALL THE CHILDREN OF PRIDE.'

Proverbs 21
24Mockers are proud and haughty; they act with boundless arrogance.

WE CAN NOT ARROGANTLY ASSUME THAT BECAUSE WE HAVE BEEN USED MIGHTILY FOR THE KINGDOM OF GOD IN SIGNS AND WONDERS, PROPHETIC UTTERANCES, SPEAKING TO MULTITUDES, OR HAVE WRITTEN A BOOK, THAT WE HAVE A SPECIAL RIGHT TO BE HONORED OR A RIGHT TO HAVE OTHERS "LISTEN UP" AND HEAR WHAT WE HAVE TO IMPART!

WE MUST DECREASE, AND HE …THE ONE…
THE ONLY ONE WHO HAS NO ARROGANCE…MUST INCREASE.

LOOK! NOBODY'S TEACHINGS OR PRACTICES ARE BEYOND BIBLICAL JUDGMENT — ESPECIALLY INFLUENTIAL LEADERS. Biblically, authority and accountability go hand in hand (e.g., Luke 12:48). The greater the responsibility one holds, the greater the accountability one has before God and His people.

TEACHERS SHOULD BE EXTREMELY CAREFUL NOT TO MISLEAD ANY BELIEVER, for their calling carries with it a strict judgment (James 3:1). They should therefore be grateful when sincere Christians take the time to question them about the teaching and yes, even possibly bring correction to correct whatever unsound doctrine they may be preaching. And should the criticisms be groundless they should respond in the manner prearranged by Scripture: to correct misguided doctrinal opposition with GENTLE instruction (2 Tim. 2:25).

THERE IS OF COURSE ANOTHER SIDE TO THIS ISSUE:

CRITICISM OFTEN CAN BE SINFUL, leading to rebellion and unnecessary division. Christians should respect the leaders that God has given them (Heb. 13:17). Theirs is the task of assisting the church in its spiritual growth and doctrinal understanding (Eph. 4:11-16). At the same time believers should be aware that false teachers will arise among the Christian fold (Acts 20:28; 2 Pet. 2:1). This makes it very important for us to test all things by Scripture, as the Bereans were highly praised for doing when they examined the words of the apostle Paul (Acts 17:11)

PRAY THIS SIMPLE PRAYER WITH ME WON'T YOU?
"Lord, help all of us as your servants to keep the subtle disease of arrogance and it's influences, far from us. Teach us oh precious king how to model apostolic mercy, pastoral humility, and open repentance before those whom we instruct and serve in your kingdom." AMEN

The Great Rebellion and The Mystery of Christ

Mike Tucker

[1]Before Man there was harmony in all of Creation. An immaculate song was continually sung and all the Sons of God were in tune. The morning stars sang together and the lights of Heaven did their dance in perfect timing, one with another and another across the grand expanse. The Great Mind of the God Family was one in tranquility and glory.

[2]One day the Angels gathered before the Great Throne of The Father of Lights. He had a lowly but wonderful new creature to reveal. This creature would be called Man. It pleased the Father to bestow upon the Angels that they would steward Man unto his destiny. That from Man would come One to rule and reign with Father, even over the Angels themselves.

[3]Now at this time, Lucifer, the anointed cherub whom covers, became bitter at this new chapter of Father’s timeless book. For Lucifer was Chief of the Angels and he was abundant in glory and gifts. And because of the abundance of his possessions and trade (you give me something I give you something) he could not bear that another of Father’s expressions should rise above his place. So Lucifer began to stir the Angels and sow doubt and pride amongst them. He especially pursued those Angels whom had arcane powers and celestial authority over the stars where the chosen planet would be home to Man. Eventually one third of the Angels conspired to rebel against Father’s new chapter for Creation.

[4]So the Angelic exodus came and they abandoned their posts and their light no longer shined in Heaven. Their light became darkness and they were called the Fallen. They closed themselves off and were also cast off from the Great Mind and Spirit of the God Family. At first there was considerable excitement and uncertainty amongst the Fallen. They formed a new collective, a new body, and gave their life and their minds to this new mind. They became adversaries; thus they were called by a new name for a name declares the nature of a thing. This body became Satan and Lucifer was its head and was Satan too. And from his beginning, Satan was a murderer and a liar.

[5]Satan began in much power. These Fallen knew greater power than ever before because they leaped beyond the everlasting tempo of the heavenly dance and spun more furiously round and round. They also sang a new song of prideful boasts which resonated across the new mind of Satan. They reveled. Though they began in power, they failed to realize it could not be forever sustained because the Life and Mind of Father was cutoff from them and their time could now be calculated.

[6]Satan repeatedly threw stumbling blocks before Man and he fell many times. Satan continued His case before Father to prove that Man was not worthy to rule over the Angels. But Father knew this before the beginning. And though Man was originally bestowed with authority over self and Earth, Man was not the final creation. As Man repeatedly fell, Satan felt vindicated and became ever more self-willed and ultimately self-deceived.

[7]Through the prophets came word of the One. But Father only revealed what was needed at the appointed time. All the Angels, from the demons to the Great Lights of Heaven, yearned to know of the mystery unfolding before them because it was their destiny as well. Then the Word came upon the Earth and He was the One. And the Word came in the form of a man and in the tongues of men He was called Jesus Christ.

[8]Jesus was the first fruit of those who would become of Him. Jesus was and is the Head of Christ and He is Christ. In spite of Satan’s collective knowledge and endless search of the scriptures, he did not perceive what Christ would come to be, so he crucified this Jesus in order to thwart the ascension of Man. But it was not a man who was to ascend, it was Christ who would descend and ascend. Satan did not foresee how he came to help open the door to Christ by killing Jesus. It pleased the Father to allow His only begotten Son to be crucified and resurrected so that all who were granted to come to Him should have eternal Life. The Body of Christ was now open to all who would hold fast their belief, that they should be One with the Father: One Body, One Spirit, One Life and One Mind. For God is

One and the demons shudder for what they cast off. This is the Temple and City of God, His abode.

[9]Satan's time was closing and the frenzy of their dance could not forever endure. So Satan pressed ever harder on Man and those that would come into the Christ Mind and Spirit. But the more he pressed the more Christ was made manifest. And being cutoff and increasingly distant from the Power and Life of Father, Satan gorged on the hearts of men where God had strung the silver cord of Life. During the time of Man, Satan sowed lust, pride, greed, hate and all forms of ungodliness amongst men that he might reap the same from the field of Man and be sustained. But to those who entered by the narrow gate and died daily, Satan had no part with them. Thus Christ was also reaped by Heaven.

[10]Now Earth shall also benefit from Christ. Though Earth has been cursed since the days of Adam, Earth is to be restored at the filling up of Christ. For in all of Creation, from the countless stars to the innumerable planets, Earth was privileged to receive the Father's only begotten Son. And from Earth would come Christ and unto all the life throughout the stars and countless worlds, this Christ would be salvation to all. Thus Creation anxiously waits for the revealing of the Sons of God. When the City of God, a magnificent golden-jeweled pyramid, is fixed upon the Earth like a shining crown, this marks the Great Restoration and the Kingdom of Heaven will no longer suffer violence.

[11]All things shall be restored and in finer measure. The first will pass that the second may be established and this is fulfilled in Christ. The great dance of Heaven shall resume in finer glory and a new song shall ring out across the grand expanse. The stars will again be in tune and perfect harmony. Creation will rejoice throughout eternity.

[12]The body of Satan revealed themselves through the spoken Word of God and are destined for eternal fire because they abdicated, warred and betrayed themselves as unworthy. The Body of Christ shall reveal themselves through the spoken Word of God because Father granted them King Jesus and by His Spirit they held fast. Thus the Body of Christ is destined for eternal Life and shall reign with Him forever and ever. Before the beginning, this was the Father's Mystery of Christ.

Scripture per paragraph to consider (NASU/ASV underlines from author):

[1]Job 38:4 & 7, 'Where were you when I laid the foundation of the earth?...When the morning stars sang together And all the sons of God shouted for joy?'

Isaiah 40:26, 'Lift up your eyes on high And see who has created these stars , The one who leads forth their host by number, He calls them all by name; Because of the greatness of His might and the strength of His power, Not one of them is missing.'

Psalms 148:3, '…Praise Him, all stars of light!'

Revelation 1:20, 'As for the mystery of the seven stars which you saw in My right hand, and the seven golden lampstands: the seven stars are the angels of the seven churches…'

Psalms 87:7, 'They that sing as well as they that dance (shall say), all my fountains are in thee.'

Psalms 147:4, 'He counts the number of the stars; He gives names to all of them.'

Job 23:13, 'But He is in One (Mind), and who can turn Him?...'

[2]James 1:17, 'Every good thing given and every perfect gift is from above, coming down from the Father of lights, …'

Hebrews 2:6-7, 'WHAT IS MAN, THAT YOU REMEMBER HIM? OR THE SON OF MAN, THAT YOU ARE CONCERNED ABOUT HIM? YOU HAVE MADE HIM FOR A LITTLE WHILE LOWER THAN THE ANGELS ;'

Psalms 91:11, 'He will give His angels charge concerning you, To guard you in all your ways.'

Matthew 18:10, ‘See that you do not despise one of these little ones, for I say to you that their angels in heaven continually see the face of My Father who is in heaven.’

Hebrews 1:14, ‘Are they not all ministering spirits, sent out to render service for the sake of those who will inherit salvation?’

Acts 7:53, ‘you who received the law as ordained by angels , and yet did not keep it.’

Hebrews 1:6, ‘And when He again brings the firstborn into the world, He says, "AND LET ALL THE ANGELS OF GOD WORSHIP HIM."’

I Corinthians 6:3, ‘Do you not know that we will judge angels?...’

[3] Ezekiel 28:13-17, ‘Thou wast in Eden, the garden of God; every precious stone was thy covering, the sardius, the topaz, and the diamond, the beryl, the onyx, and the jasper, the sapphire, the emerald, and the carbuncle, and gold: the workmanship of thy tabrets and of thy pipes was in thee; in the day that thou wast created they were prepared. Thou wast the anointed cherub that covereth: and I set thee, (so that) thou wast upon the holy mountain of God; thou hast walked up and down in the midst of the stones of fire. Thou wast perfect in thy ways from the day that thou wast created, till unrighteousness was found in thee. By the abundance of thy traffic they filled the midst of thee with violence, and thou hast sinned: therefore have I cast thee as profane out of the mountain of God; and I have destroyed thee, O covering cherub , from the midst of the stones of fire. Thy heart was lifted up because of thy beauty; thou hast corrupted thy wisdom by reason of thy brightness: I have cast thee to the ground; I have laid thee before kings, that they may behold thee.’

Ephesians 2:2, ‘in which you formerly walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the power of the air , of the spirit that is now working in the sons of disobedience.’

Revelation 12:3-4, ‘Then another sign appeared in heaven: and behold, a great red dragon having seven heads and ten horns, and on his heads were seven diadems. And his tail swept away a third of the stars of heaven and threw them to the earth. And the dragon stood before the woman who was about to give birth, so that when she gave birth he might devour her child.‘

[4] Jude 1:6-7, ‘And angels who did not keep their own domain, but abandoned their proper abode, He has kept in eternal bonds under darkness for the judgment of the great day’

Isaiah 14:12-14, ‘How you have fallen from heaven, O star of the morning, son of the dawn! You have been cut down to the earth, You who have weakened the nations! But you said in your heart, I will ascend to heaven; I will raise my throne above the stars of God, And I will sit on the mount of assembly In the recesses of the north. I will ascend above the heights of the clouds; I will make myself like the Most High.'

[10] Genesis 3:17, ‘…Cursed is the ground because of you;…’

John 3:16, ‘For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whoever believes in Him shall not perish, but have eternal life.’

Mark 16:15, ‘And He said to them, "Go into all the world and preach the gospel to all creation ."’

Romans 8:19-22, ‘For the anxious longing of the creation waits eagerly for the revealing of the sons of God. For the creation was subjected to futility, not willingly, but because of Him who subjected it, in hope that the creation itself also will be set free from its slavery to corruption into the freedom of the glory of the children of God. For we know that the whole creation groans and suffers the pains of childbirth together until now.’

Colossians 1:15-20, ‘He is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn of all creation . For by Him all things were created, both in the heavens and on earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones or dominions or rulers or authorities — all things have been created through Him and for Him. He is before all things, and in Him all things hold together. He is also head of the body, the church; and He is the beginning, the firstborn from the dead, so that He Himself will come to have first place in everything. For it was the Father's good pleasure for all the fullness to dwell in Him, and through Him to reconcile all things to Himself, having made peace through the blood of His cross; through Him, I say, whether things on earth or things in heaven.’

Revelation 21:10-21 And he carried me away in the Spirit to a great and high mountain, and showed me the holy city, Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, having the glory of God. Her brilliance was like a very costly stone, as a stone of crystal-clear jasper. It had a great and high wall, with twelve gates, and at the gates twelve angels; and names were written on them, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the sons of Israel. There were three gates on the east and three gates on the north and three gates on the south and three gates on the west. And the wall of the city had twelve foundation stones, and on them were the twelve names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb. The one who spoke with me had a gold measuring rod to measure the city, and its gates and its wall. The city is laid out as a square, and its length is as great as the width; and he measured the city with the rod, fifteen hundred miles; its length and width and height are equal. And he measured its wall, seventy-two yards, according to human measurements, which are also angelic measurements. The material of the wall was jasper; and the city was pure gold, like clear glass. The foundation stones of the city wall were adorned with every kind of precious stone. The first foundation stone was jasper; the second, sapphire; the third, chalcedony; the fourth, emerald; the fifth, sardonyx; the sixth, sardius; the seventh, chrysolite; the eighth, beryl; the ninth, topaz; the tenth, chrysoprase; the eleventh, jacinth; the twelfth, amethyst. And the twelve gates were twelve pearls; each one of the gates was a single pearl. And the street of the city was pure gold, like transparent glass.

Matthew 11:12, ‘From the days of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven suffers violence , and violent men take it by force.’

[11]Matthew 17:11, ‘And He answered and said, "Elijah is coming and will restore all things; ‘

Hebrews 10:9, ‘then He said, "BEHOLD, I HAVE COME TO DO YOUR WILL." He takes away the first in order to establish the second .’

II Corinthians 3:18, ‘But we all, with unveiled face, beholding as in a mirror the glory of the Lord, are being transformed into the same image from glory to glory , just as from the Lord, the Spirit.’

Isaiah 44:22-23, ‘I have wiped out your transgressions like a thick cloud And your sins like a heavy mist.
Return to Me, for I have redeemed you. Shout for joy, O heavens, for the LORD has done it!...’

[12]I John 3:10, ‘By this the children of God and the children of the devil are obvious: anyone who does not practice righteousness is not of God, nor the one who does not love his brother. ‘

Hebrews 4:12-13, ‘For the word of God is living and active and sharper than any two-edged sword, and piercing as far as the division of soul and spirit, of both joints and marrow, and able to judge the thoughts and intentions of the heart. 13 And there is no creature hidden from His sight, but all things are open and laid bare to the eyes of Him with whom we have to do.‘

Matthew 25:41, '… Depart from Me, accursed ones, into the eternal fire which has been prepared for the devil and his angels;'

Judge 5:20, 'The stars fought from heaven, From their courses they fought against Sisera.'

Revelation 12:7-8, 'And there was war in heaven , Michael and his angels waging war with the dragon. The dragon and his angels waged war, and they were not strong enough, and there was no longer a place found for them in heaven.'

Acts 26:18, 'to open their eyes so that they may turn from darkness to light and from the dominion of Satan to God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins and an inheritance among those who have been sanctified by faith in Me.'

Revelation 5:10, '"You have made them to be a kingdom and priests to our God; and they will reign upon the earth." '

Revelation 20:6, 'Blessed and holy is the one who has a part in the first resurrection; over these the second death has no power, but they will be priests of God and of Christ and will reign with Him for a thousand years.'

Revelation 22:5, 'And there will no longer be any night; and they will not have need of the light of a lamp nor the light of the sun, because the Lord God will illumine them; and they will reign forever and ever.'

John 8:51, 'Truly, truly, I say to you, if anyone keeps My word he will never see death.'

Daniel 12:2-3, 'Many of those who sleep in the dust of the ground will awake, these to everlasting life, but the others to disgrace and everlasting contempt. Those who have insight will shine brightly like the brightness of the expanse of heaven, and those who lead the many to righteousness, like the stars forever and ever.'

I Corinthians 15:41-43, 'There is one glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars; for star differs from star in glory. So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown a perishable body, it is raised an imperishable body; it is sown in dishonor, it is raised in glory.'

Osama Will Soon Be Captured
Mike Tucker

On 06/06/2005 a word of the Spirit was spoken in me while sleeping. This was the word, 'Osama will soon be captured'.

This is the second of only two words I have ever received concerning Osama Bin Laden. Below is the first word:

Osama Alive

During the Tora Bora bombing campaign and hunt for Osama Bin Laden in late 2001 and early 2002 much news was put out to the effect that Osama must be dead. I too logically assumed that he must be dead because no notorious leader would go silent for so long while his fanatical followers were dieing and on the run. Surely he would put out some kind of world-wide message to rally his forces I reasoned. Since he had not, I presumed he was dead. The Lord corrected me on this:

03/2002 I received the following dream: Osama Bin Laden had a turban on and green-camo fatigue jacket. I saw his face and he had a peculiar smile on it. Behind him was a pole with a wire running across the top, a mud brick hut, and an unusual low lying cleft in a rocky hillside that looked like a cave mouth. I knew he was alive then.

Saddam Captured

I would like to point out that nearly two years ago I was given a dream about Saddam's capture as well:

09-09-03 I dreamed I saw Saddam Hussein captured. Before they captured him, he was wearing women's clothing with a veil.

Saddam Hussein was reported captured on 12-14-03. The women's clothes in the dream suggest that this is how he hid himself at times.

The Great Change

Rick Joyner

More than two decades ago, the Lord spoke to me and some of my friends that the cross would become popular again. This will be the time when the church truly crosses over and begins to possess its Promised Land. We have come to that time. Therefore, we can expect the focus of what the Spirit is saying to the churches to become more and more centered on the cross.

The cross is the power of God, and those who want to walk in His power in their daily lives will learn to take up their crosses daily. Those who do this will become free from all of the yokes of this present evil age, and they will walk in a greater freedom and boldness than has been seen on the earth on such a scale for nearly two thousand years.

The Scriptures we have studied indicate that baptism represents our commitment to lay down our lives and to no longer live for ourselves but for Him. In the Biblical, prophetic model laid out by the Scriptures however, we see two different baptisms. One is the Red Sea and the other is represented by the Jordan River. A major difference between these is that we see the Israelites did not go to the Red Sea baptism willingly. Basically, the Lord had to trick them into it as we read in Exodus 13:17-18 and 14:1-4.

"Now it came about when Pharaoh let the people go that God did not lead them by way of the land of the Philistines, even though it was near; for God said, 'Lest the people change their minds when they see war, and they return to Egypt.'

"Hence God led the people around by the way of the wilderness to the Red Sea . . . (Exodus 13:17-18)

"Now the Lord spoke to Moses, saying, 'Tell the sons of Israel to turn back and camp before Pi-hahiroth, between Migdol and the sea . . . For Pharaoh will say of the sons of Israel, "They are wandering aimlessly in the land; the wilderness has shut them in." Thus I will harden Pharaoh's heart, and he will chase after them; and I will be honored through Pharaoh and all his army, and the Egyptians will know that I am the Lord.' And they did so." (Exodus 14:1-4) NASB

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THE RED SEA AND JORDAN RIVER BAPTISMS

The only way the Lord could get Israel to partake of the Red Sea baptism was to corner them into it. As we look back on most of the trials that have been used to fashion our lives, we will probably have to confess the same thing -- we did not choose the trials, but were cornered into them so that the only way out was to die to self. The Lord is gracious to align our circumstances so there is absolutely no way out but to lay down our lives and conform to the image of His death.

During this time, the Lord usually fixes it so the enemy is chasing us, and to retreat would only mean that we end up on the end of his lancers. This is when we learn that the two most powerful beings in the universe are both trying to kill us! One of them is going to get the job done, and we have to choose which one it will be. However, we have no choice but to die, which is actually grace from the Lord.

The Jordan River baptism will be different. The more mature and those who have grown in faith do not have to be tricked or trapped into their baptism -- they willingly choose to take up their crosses. The mature do not run from the cross, but to it.

Another basic difference between these two baptisms is that in the Red Sea baptism the enemy was chasing Israel, and he was destroyed because the people entered into their baptism. The second baptism represented by the Jordan River begins our pursuit of the enemy.

FROM BEING PURSUED TO IN PURSUIT

This change in the baptism will mark a very basic shift in vision and purpose of the church in our time. This difference is what we can expect the church to transition to over the next few years. We will no longer just react to the attacks of the enemy, but we will pursue and aggressively attack his strongholds.

FROM INDIVIDUAL-THINKING TO NATIONAL-THINKING

Therefore, there are many powerful and important lessons that we must learn from the Biblical, prophetic models of what is now taking place, which is the purpose of this study. As we proceed, let us also keep in mind the differences between the Biblical, prophetic models of Scripture and the present realities. An example is the Biblical model Israel that was to utterly destroy the nations that were in their land. However, we are not called to destroy the nations, but save them by destroying the evil that has them in bondage. The nations themselves are our inheritance in the Lord.

The Great Commission was to make disciples of all nations, not just individuals. We also see that when the Lord returns, He is going to divide the nations into sheep and goats, not just individuals. Currently being decided are which nations will be "sheep" and which will be "goats." This, of course, does not mean we are to abandon the gospel of salvation. Nations will be changed by saving and teaching individuals the ways of the Lord. However, we must begin to develop national and international strategies that will impact nations with the gospel, not just a few individuals.

This will, to a large degree, be a major shift in our missionary thinking and strategies, which has actually been happening in some groups over the last two decades or more.

THE KINGDOM OF GOD IS AT HAND!

We need to understand some differences in where the church is now and where it was in the first century. There are many foundational things that will never change and will always be a basic part of the church's vision and purpose, but there are also some differences at the end of the age. Just as Joshua instructed Israel in Joshua 3:4:

"However, there shall be between you and it a distance of about 2,000 cubits by measure. Do not come near it, that you may know the way by which you shall go, for you have not passed this way before." (NASB)

Those who follow the Ark, which represents the Lord, will be going a different way by "about 2,000" years than where the church has gone before. Many are the same, but many are not, and we need to understand the differences.

Before the end of this age can come, the gospel of the kingdom must be preached. This has not yet been done. Until now we have preached the gospel of salvation, which is basically to get out of Egypt. This is essential and it will continue to be the banner of the cross that we march under, always preaching the gospel of individual salvation, but we will also begin to preach the gospel of the kingdom -- the kingdom of God is at hand! The King is coming, and He is coming to take over. He is sending us before Him to prepare His way.

The Prevailing Heart

Rick Joyner

As we have read, the Israelites did not go willingly in the baptism represented by the crossing of the Red Sea. The Lord basically had to trick them into it, giving them no other alternative because of the enemy that pursued them. However, the baptism represented by the crossing of the Jordan was a voluntary one and would begin the pursuit of their enemies to drive them from their land. This was not just because the circumstances had changed, but because the people had changed during their long sojourn in the wilderness.

The Church has, likewise, seemingly wandered in the wilderness for nearly two thousand years. Like Israel's trek through the wilderness, this time was not wasted. A great transformation has been taking place in the people. It was one thing to get the people out of Egypt, but it took much longer to get the Egypt out of the people.
Likewise, there are people who may have seemingly been drifting through life rather aimlessly, but God has been doing a deep work in their hearts. This time has not been wasted. They are prepared for the great challenges ahead, which will prepare the way for the coming of the kingdom of God.

WHAT THE CHANGE LOOKS LIKE

The change comes from a life that was composed of being chased and harassed by the devil, and the deep dealings of God in our own hearts, to the mentality of a conqueror. This does not mean we are now perfect. The conquest ahead will help to continue the work on our character, but there will be a great difference in the conflict -- instead of battling the enemies within who have kept us in bondage, we will begin battling the ones without who are keeping others in bondage.

We must never forget that our conquest is not the greedy pursuit of personal gain and advancement, but our treasure is the liberation of souls that are now in the bondage of darkness. Our purpose is to see the truth of the gospel of Jesus Christ set the captives free. We are called as true freedom fighters. Our success in this life will be counted by the release of the captives that the devil has had in bondage to do his will.

We can now expect a big change to begin to take place in the Church from just seeking to be set free ourselves, to setting the nations free. On the other side of the Jordan, Israel may not have looked different on the outside from the group who had left Egypt, but on the inside they were very different. They were no longer just recently released slaves -- they were conquerors! Right now, by appearances, the Church may not look very different than it has for many centuries, but it is! We are no longer just recently released slaves -- we are warriors with the greatest cause, preparing for the greatest battle!

THERE IS A NEW BREED OF MINISTRY ARISING

I hear about ten negative comments to every encouraging word about the Church today. However, this is coming from those who do not have eyes to see. In 1960 it was estimated that 30 million people had been empowered by the baptism in the Holy Spirit. Today we are approaching one billion! Many of the greatest pastors, teachers, and evangelists in the history of the Church are alive today.
There is an emerging prophetic ministry that is rising to the true biblical standards of that calling with the kind of prophetic gifts which are beginning to rival anything seen in the Old Testament, and will undoubtedly exceed them. There is a new breed of ministry arising that will walk in true apostolic stature, authority, and wisdom.

After every great move of God since the beginning of the Reformation over five hundred years ago, there was a lull before the next one. However, each new move of God would exceed the limits of the previous one by a considerable margin. The much maligned Charismatic Movement actually resulted in more salvations, more churches being planted, more missions being birthed, and more missionaries being sent out than possibly all of the previous moves of God combined!

There has been a seeming lull since the peak of that movement, at least in the West. But the one that is now building is truly going to be something to behold. It may well be the one that the prophets and righteous men of old all desired to see, and have been waiting for as members of the great cloud of witnesses.

PUT ON YOUR "GAME FACE"

I have been asked to speak to a few NFL teams just before their games. The intensity of the focus on their faces was like nothing I have ever seen. In 1990, I was speaking to the Denver Broncos before an important Monday night game with their rivals, the Kansas City Chiefs. The Lord drew my attention to their "game faces." He then said to me, "When you see that kind of focus on My people, the time is at hand."

Since that night I have looked for this focus on the faces of God's people everywhere I go. For years it seemed that in most churches they were more like kids in detention hall after school than a rising, conquering army. However, in the last four years I have begun to see the increasing focus and intensity that I know means the great advance is now close.

When you see those football teams just before a game, you think that if they are not released on their foe very soon they will begin to hurt each other! That is actually what sometimes happens in churches. When we build people up and then do not release them on the enemy, their intensity is released as frustration on other believers. This is the cause of many church splits and other devastating problems. It is now time for us to engage the enemy! We need church builders, and this is a job that some will always need to be occupied doing, but it is now time to turn our attention away from just building up ourselves to building the kingdom.

FIGHTING COMPLACENCY

This is not at all to imply that the work in us is finished. However, much of the deep inner workings that we need can only come from the battles we are called to fight with the enemy. The worst enemy of Christianity is complacency, or as the Lord put it, lukewarmness. This is the greatest delusion and deception of all. How could anyone truly know the Lord, the Consuming Fire, and not be on fire? That is why His true messengers are "flames of fire."

Lukewarmness is not possible unless the delusions from the cares and worries of this world have choked out the seed of His Word in us. There is nothing that can shake someone out of complacency like war. If there is ever a greater focus than seen on a professional football team before a game, it will be on the faces of soldiers before a battle.

King David, one of the greatest souls to ever walk the earth and one of the greatest pursuers of God of all time, stayed at home during the time "when kings go out to battle," (see II Samuel 11:1) and fell into adultery which opened the door for some of the worst problems of his life.

When it is time to fight and we do not fight, we are almost certain to be overcome and defeated by the enemy in some way. It is now the time when we must go on the offensive and start looking to missions that do not just selfishly build our own church, but will begin to take territory for the kingdom of God. If we will do this, our churches would grow and become much stronger than they are now.

Human beings were created with a need for adventure. There is no greater adventure in this life than the true Christian life. Youth especially need adventure, and if they are not captured by missions in some form they are very likely to be captured by the spirit of the world.

"TAKE THE LAND THAT IS RIGHTFULLY OURS -- TOGETHER!"

There is nothing more boring than religion. C.S. Lewis once remarked that one definition of hell was to sit in an endless church service without the presence of God. Such services are one of the great devices of the devil to recapture and imprison believers. We must bust out of the prison of the four walls of the church! We must start to use the divinely powerful weapons that we have been given to engage the enemy and start taking the land that is rightfully ours!

Any church that is not actively engaged in missions will wither away, if not physically, at least spiritually. However, we do not just want to be engaged in missions, but in our mission. We need to be sent out by the Lord and led by Him. We need specific goals for our missions so that we can measure the progress, success, or failure of them. We need to define the Promised Land that we are crossing over to conquer.

Before crossing the Jordan, the Promised Land was divided up between the tribes of Israel. They were all to fight together and to keep fighting until all of the tribes had possessed their land. We need to do the same. Over the last few years, there have been gatherings of some of the great leaders of our time from many different movements. From these gatherings, councils have been forming and divine strategies illuminated. They are still very much in their formative stages, but there is an unquestioned and remarkable anointing on them. There is no question that an unprecedented advance of the gospel is at hand. It may yet be a few years in unfolding in all of its power, but it is undoubtedly at hand.

The Great Storm Coming To America

David Kocurek

I dreamed I was at the ocean, and a sudden storm came. I saw a big cargo ship starting to tear away from the dock. So I ran to save it. I jumped aboard just as it broke away and out to sea. It had no pilot house but the controls were there. The storm was so bad the bow of the ship went under with each wave. Then things got worse, the sky and the rain and the waves were roaring! Of biblical proportion, then it grew black I couldn't see but I could feel the controls of the ship. Then I came threw the storm and I could see again, I looked out to sea and the sea was muddy from the waves that beat the ocean floor. All I could say was "God you are so awesome" because I knew only the lord could create such a storm so powerful.

I continued up the coast line, when I saw a strange thing right at the seas edge. It was all concrete. It looked like a dry dock with some underground fallout shelter at its back wall, with two doors. Now by all natural law, this place should have bin flooded by the sea. But God was holding back the sea from flooding it. then two Christians came out who were hiding under ground and told me were they wanted me to dry dock this cargo ship. End of dream.

Its clear God with all his power will protect his children. Even though a Great Storm is coming to America. But what storm? I feel this one.

(Nuclear attack)
I was in bed asleep, I dreamed/heard a radio broadcast? It was not visual but audio. I heard a lady on the radio. She was saying a US coastal city had just been nuked. Then she started naming other coastal city's that were nuked, she named Coastal cities all along all along the west coast from Alaska to southern California. I was counting and remembering the cities, but it startled me awake. I sat up in bed this startled me again because I could still heir the lady naming off coastal cities. I have "no Radio" in my room. Then the lady on the radio just slowly faded off, still naming off Coastal city's that had got nuked. This startled me so much I forgot the number and names of the cities. But they were all coastal cities, several of them!!!

(Note)
It is interesting to know, that the Russian cold war plan, was that in the event that America attacked Russia. that Russian military was to launch a nuclear counter strike against all US coastal city's, then send high altitude air burst nukes over the rest of America, EMP nukes to knock out all electric and telecommunications. Now if Russia was to strike first, like Russia and china does in my dreams, then who's to say they wouldn't use this same plan? I feel it's important enough to say considering the dreams the lord has been given me lately.

The Great Wave And The Tower

Susan Cummings

Last night, I dreamed a very vivid and important warning dream. In the dream, it was a setting that was placed in an island region. I was on a beach with many people and was walking along the shore.

In various scenes, we did normal things, like wading, walking in the waves, and talking.

After a few scenes, I was talking to a young island man. He was showing me a tower type dwelling that he had built. It was standing out on the reef. He said that he lived in it. I asked him why he lived out in the tower structure on the reef, and not on the island like the others. He said because of the wave.

He began to tell me of warnings of a huge wave that he had been getting for a long time. He had dreamed of it previously, and it was a very black wave that was hundreds of feet high, it seemed. He told people, but no one listened, so he quietly moved out to the reef.

I looked at it, and it was like a tall rickety bamboo or wooden pole type structure, with very long legs. At the top was a room that he slept in at night. It was like I could see it from close up, even though we were still far away from it, while we talked. It was a simple wood room that he had placed some things in, and he slept there in the evenings and went out the island during the day.

I was dubious that it would hold up under any wave, much less a big one. But he said that it was stronger than it looked and that God had showed him how to build it, and it would stand. The wood was strong.

I then had a sense of danger, and had a vision of huge waves coming towards the island. So I told the man, and we looked and they were coming.

The man told me to follow him. So I began to follow him under a cement underpass of sorts and climbed over some structures and went around a water way and some bushes. As we went, I noticed that no one else was even paying much attention, but went about things normally. We kept moving towards the shore and the reef, from the island.

After a while, some people tried to follow us, but were prevented by the brushy terrain, and then they started trying to repent, but could not. They tried to promise to serve God, but they could not follow us somehow.

I saw a jetty or pier of sorts that stuck out into the water, with several levels to it, and there were people lying all over it on the second level that had no legs and arms. They were just trunks. They did not want to be moved, when I warned them as we passed by them in our haste, but one lady said that she was comfortable there. I don't know why they were all that way.

Other people were moving about on the other levels. Some had noticed the waves coming. Some were trying to get into homemade rafts and float out into the waters to ride out the waves. Some were trying to run and soon people were panicked, and people began to run inland on the island.

The first of the waves hit and much was lost, but we kept going. At one point, during the wave hitting us, I was sucked down into the water, in a whirlpool type of thing, and was feeling the weight and pressure of the undertow of the ocean, and was afraid that I was not going to be able to make it back to the surface. But in my state, I began to realise that I could breathe while in the long skinny eddy. It seemed that it was a type of protection instead of a death threat. I was not afraid after I realised that I could breathe.

Then, I was out and again climbing outwards over the reef towards this tall skinny room on stilts. We reached the structure and climbed up and got inside. It was a small simple room and it was made entirely of boards and sticks.

I then saw in a vision this even bigger wave coming at the room. It was a great black wave. Like none men had ever seen before. It hit the structure and some of the boards began to come loose and separate, but the room did not fall apart. It did hold, even though some water came in. We did not perish in the wave, but it stood on its tall skinny legs through it all.

End of dream.

Notes:

I must say, that over the years, I have had numerous tidal wave dreams and visions. I have seen many huge ones and many destructive ones and many that were coming on the horizon, and always in them, I am running and warning people of it's coming...

This is one of the few times that I have been in the wave activity and experienced it's fierceness. This is also the only time that the Lord showed me a principle of His within the dream, that I participated in, within the dream. This shows the seriousness of absolute obedience to the Lord's instructions, no matter what we think of things. Things are not always as they seem to be, and if we trust our own judgments, we will perish ourselves. We must trust and follow the Lord.

The only place to be is in the center of His Will. He has a place for His People, whether it is right in the path of a storm or in the wilderness. He is God. He is our Shelter and it is IN HIM, that we will be safe. We will not fear, nor be dismayed, for we are His.

There are many spiritual tidal waves coming and many natural ones in the days to come.

Many earth changing events will be played out, as we come to the end, but through it all, we have a covenant keeping God, that walks with His Own through it all.

Do Not Get Caught Up In The Signs Of My Coming
Susan Cummings

Do not get caught up in the signs of My Coming. Disentangle yourself from the cares and the weights that others put upon you. Do not be concerned for the changes that will take place, for I have already told you what would come in My Word. You already have the facts before you.

What you need is to get before Me, and allow Me to prepare you for those changes. So many of My Children are running to and fro, racing to find the latest fact, when they cannot see beyond their own limitations. Men will never figure out all that I will do, no matter how much they run, how much they inquire, or how much they dig. The only place to be is before Me.

I am moving in the earth. The earth is responding to My movings. Men are running and seeking to find out why the earth travails, and do not have sense to realize that it is Me moving in the earth. I am the God of all things. I created everything, and use all things for My Purposes. Men have defiled My Creation through sin, rebelliousness, and negligence, and now Creation travails to be released from it’s bondages.

I have warned My people to come to Me. I have done all that I am going to do to warn the generations. I have warned enough, and still many will not receive Me. So the shakings will show forth more of what I am doing. Justice responds to injustice. The seeds have come to fruition and will reap after their own kind. The reaping season has already begun.

The separation will continue till Mine are thoroughly purged and removed. All that is not Mine will be given to it’s master. For the reaping is overtaking the sowing and what is not Holy is now remaining unclean. The shifting is only the beginning of the travails. The travails have only begun, and men already run. What will you do when I fully come?

The shifts must take place for the complete separation to be fulfilled. That which is destined for the Throne is ascending, and that which is destined for the pit is descending. Each after it’s own course. Natural events show forth what I am doing in the Spirit. Those who have eyes to see, will see. Those who have rejected the Truth, will not.

Do not get caught up in the Signs of My Coming. But be found in My House. Be found with oil in your lamp and found watching at My Gates. Be found faithful until the end.

The Graveyard Of Regret

Bill Burns

October 17, 2005

I saw a demon spirit come in during the preaching. He came in as a dark mist close to the ground and hid under a jacket. He took a position of opposition to the message being preached. I was going to bind him and make him leave, but the Lord told me to wait and watch. He stood by the drum and created his pressure against the work of God. He would thump the drum and point at people in the congregation. This demon spirit created a vibration against each one he pointed at. And, the pressure of his influence caused each person to get up and walk into the valley of death in the spirit realm. In that place, you would go to a place where you had erected a grave stone. These grave stones had many different names written on them. Some were labeled "my peace"; some were labeled "my joy"; some were labeled "broken relationship"; some were labeled "hard circumstances." One of the biggest monuments was labeled "rejection." Each person took flowers to place at these grave stones, and you were weeping and lamenting with great sorrow at what had occurred or what had been lost. In some cases it was the death of a dream and in other cases it was a prophetic word that had not yet been fulfilled. And, the Lord said, "You need to let My people know that they need to turn those grave stones over and never again lay flowers of lamentation, sorrow, and woe upon them, and when they do so, they are being moved by the power of death." That death is preventing you from coming forth into what God has prepared for you and keeping you from His anointing in this season. If you continue in sorrow, the devil can lock you into that place. That valley becomes a valley of dead bones. You cannot go there any more because to do so will perpetuate whatever situation is depicted by the monument. Purpose in your heart to not go there again.

October 18, 2005: I say to you, the place of dining is not just a place of eating, but a place of receiving that which I have given to you. For, the power of My Spirit comes like a dove to rest upon the psalmists and prophets. Indeed the remnant church will be prophetic, and those that seek Me with all of their hearts shall receive that which I have saved. The best wine has been saved for last, and I am pouring out the wine of My revelation upon the hearts of My chosen ones in these days that they may drink fully at My table and eat sumptuously in My presence. They shall arise and fulfill their commission. I will find a company of people who walk in faith, says the Lord.

Marsha Burns

October 21, 2005: Face your difficulties with courage and boldness, and refuse to become a victim of the enemy's tactics. But, remember that your war is not with flesh and blood. Be careful to discern your own short-comings, and do not shift blame in any situation. Matthew 7:3 "And why do you look at the speck in your brother's eye, but do not consider the plank in your own eye?" I will vindicate you if you will take full responsibility for your own actions and forgive others, says the Lord. Ephesians 6:12 "For we do not wrestle against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this age, against spiritual hosts of wickedness in the heavenly places."

October 20, 2005: Take your position on your spiritual wall and watch for the enemy to attack in areas that you are quite familiar with. It is the devil's strategy to activate old areas of difficulty and failure. It is vital that you take the time to recognize the point of assault and refuse to allow emotional reactions to take over. Do not react to your circumstances in fear, discouragement, disappointment or self-hatred. Remain calm. No matter how vehement the onslaught, resist the temptation to get self-focused and overwhelmed with your circumstances or current situation. Fight the good fight. Victory is assured. 1 Corinthians 15:57 But thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

Marsha Burns

October 19, 2005: Be alert and be strong. When in doubt about your next course of action, ask for wisdom, and I will give it to you liberally. And, do not be afraid of what you might have to face or deal with. I will not forsake you or leave you to your own devices when things get tough. I will not let you down when you lean on Me and trust Me, says the Lord. Your faith is always rewarded. Therefore, keep the faith without wavering, and I will certainly bring you through to victory.

Marsha Burns

October 18, 2005: Beloved, when you feel like you are out of step and surrounded with chaos and confusion, take the time necessary to clear the spiritual atmosphere of demonic activity. You do not have to suffer the indignation perpetuated by these powers of darkness. Quiet your soul, and seek to arise to the light of My presence and glory. Let My peace subdue the enemy and all of his tactics, and put him under your feet, says the Lord. Romans 16:20 And the God of peace will crush Satan under your feet shortly. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. Amen.

Marsha Burns

October 17, 2005: As you break away from the past you will discover that you are breaking through the things that have hindered your progress. To the degree that you release yourself from past rejections, disappointments and failures, to that same degree will you be propelled into the freedom of the new season. Philippians 3:13 Brethren, I do not count myself to have apprehended; but one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind and reaching forward to those things which are ahead.

Bill Burns

October 10, 2005: I had a vision of a pool of blood. It was a small pool of blood, but I saw the Holy Spirit begin to move on it like He hovered over the waters in the beginning. And, the pool of blood began to expand. The Lord said to me, "Do you know what you are seeing?" I said, "Maybe, but I'm not sure." You know when God asks you a question like that it is because He wants to show you more than you already know. And, the Lord said, "I want you to begin to pray for an expansion of the revelation of the power of the blood and the blood covenant so that My people can live in the fullness of what I have given them. There is tremendous power in the covenant."

The Lord says, "As you prosper in the word, so shall you prosper in the land. As you prosper in prayer, so shall you prosper in the land. As you prosper in spirit, so shall you receive the double portion and prosper exceedingly abundantly above all that you could think or ask. As children of promise and heirs of all that I have, I will distribute My wealth as I see fit. I shall distribute among the faithful and to those who prosper in the things of the Spirit. But, also you will prosper in the earth, for in the days ahead you will need what I give to you, My chosen ones, those who walk in covenant with Me and those who are faithful to meet the conditions of covenant. It shall be given to you pressed down, shaken together, and running over. All that you need you will obtain in order to do that which I have set you to do."

Marsha Burns

October 14, 2005: I have revealed some things for you to watch for and expect, but this is no time to shout it from the roof tops. I trust you to hold these things in the secrecy of your own heart for a time. I have given you this insight by way of preparation and intercession, says the Lord. I am teaching you to learn when to speak and when to remain silent in obedience to the leading of My Spirit. This lesson will be very valuable to you also in the days ahead. Ecclesiastes 3:1, 7b To everything there is a season, a time for every purpose under heaven: A time to keep silence, and a time to speak.

October 13, 2005: Do not despair because of your seeming lack of direction. Trust Me to bring you through the maze of confusion and the fog of uncertainty. I have gone before you to prepare the way for you, but you must wait a little moment and be patient until it is time for you to continue on.

Certainly, I will give clear direction and precise wisdom as I guide your steps. Do not be afraid or lapse into a state of disappointment and depression, for I am indeed with you. I am your ever present help in times of trouble, says the Lord. Keep the faith! Proverbs 3:6 In all your ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct your paths.

October 12, 2005:

Matthew 25:
1 ¶ "Then the kingdom of heaven shall be likened to ten virgins who took their lamps and went out to meet the bridegroom.
2 "Now five of them were wise, and five were foolish.
3 "Those who were foolish took their lamps and took no oil with them,
4 "but the wise took oil in their vessels with their lamps.
5 "But while the bridegroom was delayed, they all slumbered and slept.
6 "And at midnight a cry was heard: 'Behold, the bridegroom is coming; go out to meet him!'
7 "Then all those virgins arose and trimmed their lamps.
8 "And the foolish said to the wise, 'Give us some of your oil, for our lamps are going out.'
9 "But the wise answered, saying, 'No, lest there should not be enough for us and you; but go rather to those who sell, and buy for yourselves.'
10 "And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came, and those who were ready went in with him to the wedding; and the door was shut.
11 "Afterward the other virgins came also, saying, 'Lord, Lord, open to us!'
12 "But he answered and said, 'Assuredly, I say to you, I do not know you.'
13 "Watch therefore, for you know neither the day nor the hour in which the Son of Man is coming.

Beloved, do you have oil in your lamps? I want you to take this parable personally. You are My lamps, and the oil is symbolic of the Holy Spirit, says the Lord. You are the light of the world. You must be filled with the Holy Spirit to keep your light shining. Today is the day to wake up spiritually and to be filled again so that your light will shine brightly. You live in perilous times, and you must always be prepared.

October 11, 2005: Take time to seek My face, says the Lord, for there are things that you have had difficulty in understanding as though being shrouded in darkness. But, I say, darkness shall become as noonday and that which has been hidden will suddenly be revealed. What you could not understand in the natural realm will become perfectly clear in the spirit realm and will light the path ahead of you in ways that are nothing short of miraculous. You must come to Me, however, for these things to be revealed with clarity. Come. I wait for you.

October 10, 2005: I am moving through your difficult circumstances in a way that will cause you and those around you to give glory to the Father. You will look back at this time and see that even though it was painful in many ways, the miraculous work of the Spirit was laced through it all. Do not forget that all things work together for good because of your love for Me and because you have been called according to My purposes, says the Lord. (Romans 8:28) Do not despair or be discouraged, for these are excellent opportunities to see the mighty hand of God working in your life.

Take Heed To My Spirit

Susan Cummings

Began at 5:40 am 12-11-05

My Children,

I have told you that things would change and new things would begin. I say to you, that the Mysteries are now to be revealed and are also now to be unfolded as you walk with Me.

The time is far past for seeking My Face, for now those who should have come, will no longer have the Grace to ascend. For the door to the deeper truths being available to all in the closing season, has begun to close. The purging and the refining that was necessary for the containment and functioning in the greater revelations has ended in it's season. All this I have told you.

Now comes the demonstration of the Word that you allowed to be formed within you. The hidden Truths will now be brought forth in the vessels that were made ready. Great will be the persecution of the greater works, but great will be the demonstration from heaven through the Precious Seed and amongst those who believe.

Know that I have gathered you, and that I have prepared you. I have made all things ready. My Hand will rest upon you in greater measures, even this night. For the hour is passing and even time itself is changing. And the dimensions of My Word within you is now activating. You are experiencing the power of transformation, the process of My Resurrection Power, as it flows within you and now through you. For My Word is alive.

As My Word brings life to those who embrace it, and to those who embrace it, so will My Eternal Word bring you more fully into My Purposes for you. But those who reject Me as I now come with demonstration of My Truths, the Word itself will judge them, and their fate will be sealed by their choice.

All things are changing- yet few understand the Transition

All things are passing away- yet few see the Truth

All things are being fulfilled- yet few believe My written Word

All things are Mine- yet few will receive Me, as I AM

Take heed to My Spirit, as I move then you also will move. As I speak, then you also will speak. As I release the Mysteries to My Vessels, so you also will partake of the Hidden Manna, and then you will feed My Sheep. Hold back no longer, but be strong and fear not. Great is the reward to those who are Blood bought, and who deny Me not.

Ages have come and ages have gone upon the earth, and each of them I have wrought My Work. Even amongst men who mocked and ridiculed, but I say, it is finished. I have done all of My preparations for this hour. I am now bringing forth the Change and now comes forth My Demonstrations.

Wave upon wave will I now release. Demonstration upon demonstration will be seen, before all who did not believe. For the hearts of men will pass through My Sieve. As this final Age comes to an end and I will gather Mine unto Me.

Great Mysteries hidden from the beginning will now begin to unfold before men as they now come face to face with their rebellions. Hearts will break and be rent as they behold Me, the God they rejected, will move before them.

Also, each unfolding that comes forth, will also cause natural reactions as well. The earth will further travail and shake, for the power of My Word will increase with each revelation that comes. For My Word upholds all things, and judges all things. All that is fallen in nature and all that has been dimmed by the separation from Truth, will now come face to face with My Light, and great will be the reaction between the darkness and the Light.

Prepare yourselves. Stand firm and fear not. All is well and is not the end yet. It is only the demonstration. But many will cry out that it is the end. Yet I am only shaking the heavens and the earth and the hearts of men. What will they do when My Glory fully descends?

Yet, I am coming, and have indeed already come. But few noticed the transition that took place, and I will even bring greater transformation amongst the coming destructions. It has already begun.

You have known, for I have showed you

You have prepared, for I have purged you

You have stood, for I have tested you

You will bring forth, for I have filled you

It is time to reveal the unfolding Word of Mine. The operation and function will be seen in the midst of the changes, for the transition is complete, and the boundaries are set. Yet, the greatest waves will come, one upon the other, as I gather and release, and set up My Kingdom in the hearts of men.

My Kingdom is within you, and so much more. There are even more parts yet to explore. I will bring them forth, and you will know Me even more. For My Word will unfold within you, upon you, and through you, as I open the revelations reserved for this Hour. For great will be the demonstration that will come from the birthing forth.

Take heed to My Spirit, and do not waver. For greater shakings upon the earth will I bring as I deal with the sin and the hardened hearts of men. But upon you, will My Fire greatly descend and you will be carried upon My Winds. For I have fashioned you to now be sent. To you, the veil is fully rent, and to walk in the revelation and demonstration of My Word, and to reap My Harvest and My Judgments. For My Sword will judge all things and Life and death will follow each choice.

You Are To No Longer Stand Your Ground
Susan Cummings

You are to no longer stand your ground, but you are to fully stand upon My Ground.

It is time to cross over and to stand completely rooted, and grounded upon Me.

No longer can you continue to walk in your own ways and thinking, and making your own decisions. You must abandon your stance and your opinions, and lay them down. You cannot serve your own self, and continue to walk with Me.

It is time to draw the line, and choose which side you will stand upon.

Where your heart is, that is where your god is.

Do not think that I cannot see the things that you rely upon in your hearts, and I know the security, pleasure and satisfaction that it brings to you. These things will deny Me, and will cause you to walk further away from Me, if you do not look deeply into this and see the root. All gods will be exposed for what they are, even the idols in your own heart will be laid bare.

Come out from among them!

Place your feet upon My solid rock, My People. I will have no other gods before Me, and there will be no areas in your hearts and lives that are not totally given to Me, if you choose to walk with Me.

Total commitment to Me is required and is given. For I will sup with those who sup with Me, and give Myself freely to those who give themselves freely to Me. My Covenant is with those who love Me and fear Me, and who withhold nothing from Me.

All ground that is not Mine, will fall before Me, for I AM. Including your heart and paths.

Take heed and see where your path leads.

For I am coming and searching out amongst the Lampstands, and many will be removed in this hour.

The Horsemen Are Coming

Beverly Juelsgaard-Fischer

(godsblessingstoyou@yahoo.com)

The Lord told me to sit down and write.

I can hear galloping hooves coming towards me. They are pounding furiously into the ground and the earth is shaking. I hear the Lord saying, "The Horsemen are Coming! The Horsemen are Coming!"

I looked up and saw the Army of the Lord coming towards me, mounted on horses bold and fierce, ready for battle.

I asked the Lord, "What does this mean?"

"Come and see. Come and see, for you will know the sight and taste of battle in the days ahead.

For there is much change coming to this nation and this world, for it is time.

For, they are not ready for it. Many would rather stay in the past and only dream of the "Glorious Days Ahead".

But I say to you, "The Glorious Days Ahead" will not come forth without fight or struggle.

For even now, I divide the ranks of men. Even now, I am separating sheep from goats. Do you not see it in the earthly realm? Do you not see and sense the upheaval and dissention among men? Do you not see the dissatisfaction?

For without dissatisfaction they would not be ready for change. Without dissatisfaction they would continue to cling to the world and not desire things of Me. Only by being unhappy with yourselves are you willing to open the doors to change.

There stands three doors before you.

Door #1. This door is gray and has cobwebs around it. It has mementos on it that remind you of wonderful memories from the past. This door is the Past. Do you want to continue to go back to the past and live in it? If so, go. This is your choice. Live in it. But don’t come forth into My Glory.

Door #2. This door is beautiful to behold. It is covered with a finish that seems to change color every time I look at it. Each time it is more appealing than the last time I looked at it. This door speaks of luxury and the world. There are items that hang around the door and they too, change to things more appealing every time I look at it. The door is enticing me to open it, to stay where I am. This door is the Present. It is now. And the Lord said, "Are you happy with yourself now, your lifestyle, friends, those things around you, your job? Are you satisfied in "living the good life"? If so, stay here, do not seek change, but stay lukewarm in your relationship with Me.

Door #3. Or is it door number three that you will choose, the door of change? This is the door of struggling, battling, and birthing. Yes, this door has blood on it. It isn’t pretty or comfortable. Be careful as you open it, for it is filled with challenge. It is filled with things for you to overcome. For each person it is different. Is this the door that you choose? For this door will open you to change, to intrigue, to things you may not want, where you will have to make greater decisions - some for life or death - not only for you, but for others, also.

Is this the door you choose? For this is not an easy door to come through. This means that you accept that I may turn your life upside down and inside out in the next week, day, or minute. This means that you are willing to trust Me with your life. This means you are open to My change and whatever I want for you - not necessarily what you want, but always what I want. Are you ready for this challenge?

Are you ready to reach up to the door handle and turn the knob? For through this door is a greater and more intimate relationship with Me. Through this door you will enter into the fire of My purging. Through this door you will enter into new gifts and revelation of My spirit. Are you ready for this door? Are you ready and do you want everything that it has for you and are you willing to go through everything that you will need to go through to get to where I want you to go? I didn’t say, where you may want to go, I said where I want you to go.

If this is the door you choose, then mount up on the white horse that is in line. For he is waiting for a rider that is willing to be obedient to Me, no matter what. He is ready for the battle and he is true to My wants and desires. Mount up and come through door number three that we may become as one. That people will look at you and see Me. Come forth into My Glory and the passion and fire that I have made you for. That you will be one who will battle to bring forth change and My glory into the earth realm. Mount up and Come!

Thanatopsis A Meditation On Death

Becky McLendon

Thanatopsis: A Meditation On "Death"

“Who can understand such a God—the God who wrote the three–billion letter software code in the DNA molecule of every human cell?” Herbert Vander Lugt.

Apparently the governments of this earth’s geo-political system have been so blinded by the so-called “justice” of man that they cannot understand “such a God.” I think upon the symbol for “justice”—She holds a scale in balance and wears a blindfold. In the sense of a human justice without the infinite wisdom of God it is impossible not to “take sides.” The highest courts of this land have proven that this week. They based their decision not on what is RIGHT but on what is right in their own eyes, which, according to the Word they have rejected, spells DESTRUCTION.

Man has taken that awesome molecule of DNA which makes up human life and ruled on the side of DEATH, beginning with every bloody war fought for selfish reasons, for financial gain, or political power; moving on to aborting the unborn and now letting the infirm and the invalid die.

Our constitution guarantees us the right to LIFE, but the courts now give us the “right to die,” which we can see, has now become a right to murder whom we decide does not need to “live.” People we don’t agree with? Babies? The infirm and the invalid? The mentally off person? The elderly? The Jew? The Christian? Where does it end? The same people who push for the “right to die” lament the death of animals, and cry over seals, snail darters and whales. Some think hunting is cruel as is commercial or even sport fishing. Yet people have the “right to die” and man has the “right to decide” who has the right to die.

God says there is a way that seems right to a man, in his own eyes, but in the end it spells destruction. “He who trusts in His own heart is a fool, but whoever walks wisely will be delivered.” Proverbs 28:26.

How long will humankind teeter on the brink of destruction before God rules on the side of that destruction?

Now, to you in other nations who would sit in judgment of the USA and our “bad President” and our “evil nation”: consider the blind judgment carried out by your own “bad leaders” and your own “evil nation,” for wicked men who follow the way that seemeth right in their own eyes occupy every geographical land mass on this planet! All have sinned and fallen short of God’s glory and His perfect holiness, if they are following in the way that seemeth right in their own eyes rather than THE Way, the Truth and the Life. The “man of lawlessness” is no respecter of persons. His fellowship extends to EVERY tribe, tongue and nation throughout all generations. We are all under a veil of BLIND stupidity and will be until 2 Chronicles 7:14 becomes part of our life’s blood.

“If My people which are called by My Name shall humble themselves, pray and seek My face and TURN FROM THEIR WICKED WAYS, THEN shall I hear from heaven. THEN shall I forgive their sins and THEN shall I heal their land.”

“Thus saith the Lord, Consider your ways.” Hag. 1:7

God will have a people who say ”I will speak of your testimonies also before Kings and shall not be ashamed.” Ps. 119:46

This people will rise up in Christ-likeness and this earth will witness the joining of His Head to His Body. The Governor of governments, the Name that is named above all names, the King, before whom all the kings will bow will be established forever and….

“There shall be no more curse, but the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be in it.”
Rev. 22:3

So be it God is not mocked, for whatsoever you sow, so shall you reap.

He has told you, O man, what is good; And what does the LORD require of you But to do justice, to love kindness, And to walk humbly with your God? Micah 6:8

Amen and Aman.

The Horsemen Are Waiting

Beverly Juelsgaard-Fischer

A Word from the Lord received 5/21/05

Do not be alarmed nor disrupted by the changes that are about to take place in your life as well as the lives of many around you and in the world.

For even as you have called forth change, the winds of heaven have been blowing greatly; and even as they have been blowing greatly in the heavenlies, so are they about to on earth.

For know, that in the days ahead, that the end times have come and, even though many have prepared, there are many more that are unprepared. For I say to you that judgment is coming. Therefore, be careful to not judge others, for you too will be judged in the same way (Matt. 7: 1-3).

Look for storms of cataclysmic sizes, geologic changes in the earth, and death and destruction to come in for a short time. I have said for a short time, yes, because it will take these things to wake people up. Yes, I am a God of mercy, and it is for this reason that I am allowing these things to happen rather than total death and destruction, as I did to Sodom and Gomorrah (Gen 19:13, 24-25), or in the days of the great flood of Noah (Gen. 7:19-23). For yes, even during those times, I saved My remnant, and it is for the remnant that this message is for.

For it is for My remnant that I have chosen to show mercy. For there are many who are part of that group who have not yet awakened to My call. There are many in that group who have had a web cast over them by the enemy that has dulled their senses. Many of them have been bitten by the spider and poisoned by its bite, that they have become hurt, bitter, and hold unforgiveness towards those I love. The bitterness has caused a veil to come down over their eyes that they have not chosen to remove. For they would rather walk in self-pity, self-righteousness, self-destruction, self-hatred, and selfishness, than to walk fully in My ways of truth, righteousness, and love of mankind.

WAKE UP! WAKE UP! WAKE UP! For I, your God, have called you to WAKE UP to the wiles of the enemy, that you will not be caught sleeping or unaware anymore!

WAKE UP before the earth begins to shake greatly of the days ahead. WAKE UP before you hear My voice cry out in the heavenlies.

For I am grieved that it has come to this. I am grieved that many have turned their backs on Me and chosen the ways of the world and selfishness rather than My ways.

WAKE UP and be ready. WAKE UP and be prepared. WAKE UP and know that I am God. WAKE UP and know that those who have stood in truth and righteousness and love will continue to stand.

Those who have not are on shaky ground and will continue to be until they choose. For the doors are open, and they must choose which door they want to reside in - Door #1, Door #2, or Door #3. The Horsemen are sitting and waiting for others to join them, for there are yet horses without riders.

It is a time of decision and also a time of sorrow and great happiness. For it is also a time of great harvest. For out of sorrow can come great joy or great despair. Will you, My remnant, be prepared? Will you be ready to help, to serve, to lose your life to Me, so that all parts of your flesh might be lost, so that I might use you for My Glory? Will you be ready?

If you choose to be ready, then call forth change. CALL FORTH CHANGE! For I am ready to work on your behalf, and on My behalf for My Kingdom to come forth in the earth realm.

Mount up, and COME FORTH INTO CHANGE! COME FORTH INTO MY GLORY!

Time Has Been Bought

Mike Tucker

2-8-05 Dream: I saw a large clock face laying flat. The clock face was like a gigantic stone wheel with notches on the perimeter. In its middle was like a large landscape. The time on the clock moved backwards a few minutes.

Later in the day I was led to begin interceding again for the US and the Body. During these prayer times I was specifically led to pray for President Bush. While praying for him the Lord spoke in my heart, ‘Release the Spirit of Wisdom over him’ and as He said this I saw one of Bush’s eyes closed shut (yes you can still see with one eye but you lose depth perception). After speaking the release the Lord showed me a picture of both his eyes wide open. While finishing prayers for Bush, the Lord so clearly spoke in my heart, ‘Time has been bought’.

I know deep in my heart, if the not for the Body, the US would have been overrun years ago. Yes there is still great sin piling up, but the Lord’s eyes is on the completion of His Bride. That which was imminent is stayed a little while longer for the sake of the Body. Let those who are in the valley of decision come quickly while time permits. Let those who are preparing continue.

Bid the Pope farewell

2-3-05 Dream: I saw a large stained glass window before me. Old Latin words were sealed into it. I was reading the words fluidly but my soul did not comprehend. Then when I finished reading, the Lord spoke, ‘Bid the Pope farewell’.

At this time it has not been disclosed to me if Pope John Paul II will pass away or simply step down. But this event is a significant marker for the end times. I encourage the Body to read the prophecies of St. Malachy. He was an extraordinary prophet in the 12th century and he prophesied about all the remaining Popes to come until the very end. Each Pope was given a specific marker to identify them. According to his prophecies, there are only two popes remaining (after John Paul II). The last Pope will go through the great tribulation.

2-9-05 While pondering about the above words the Lord spoke in my heart, ‘Time has been put back, but everything is on schedule.’

They Have Belied The Lord

David Mbué

davidmbue@yahoo.com

Among cardinal virtues of Christianity is hope faith and charity, with charity holding the highest position.

I love to think on things that give me reason to hope for better times, better life and desirable destiny. I did not always hold this perception but reading scriptures brought me to realise that that is God’s preference for His child. (See Phil 4:8 …Fix your thoughts on what is true and honorable and right. Think about things that are pure and lovely and admirable. Think about things that are excellent and worthy of praise NLT)

Consequently, I am bothered when I have to constantly write on matters whose positive attributes may not be too obvious.

Paul reminds us that …no chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous, but grievous: nevertheless afterward it yieldeth the peaceable fruit of righteousness unto them which are exercised thereby Heb 12:11. By God’s own design, I am called to correct, to redefine and to realign! I envision times when believers will exemplify maturity, understanding and integrity, having a public image that relays the Person of Christ Jesus in true light. That is why I write my kind of articles. I wish I didn’t have to, but then that is the ministry I have received, and I am not disobedient to my heavenly vision.

Different Levels Of Revelation

The problem with church is not so much a question of ignorance. No, Christians are knowledgeable people. To accept salvation is a good measure of understanding. But knowledge comes in different levels of revelation and that often occasions conflict among believers. It is a quarrel from suspicious observers who think someone is not telling the truth because different ministries seem to relay different images of the same thing.

Picture a group of people looking at a mountain from different vantage points. Now ask them to report what they see to another group that is far removed from the scene. Some of those who receive the reports have their own ideas on what a mountain should look like. They could have heard stories from others or even viewed the alps from certain angles. Might there be a disagreement? Would that necessarily imply that someone is lying?

A mountain is not a one sided image. Nor does it have one item to display. From vegetation to bare rock, hills and valleys, the mountain is a display of many different things. If someone should describe it by talking about vegetation, such one would not be wrong as he would be inexhaustive. But then, many factors will always prevent a single source from being exhaustive in any given matter.

That necessitates search for needed information wherever it may be found. Gravity of need will often determine the seeker’s sources of information and its no wonder that some see scanty bits and pieces as masteries. The seeker may not have been propelled by a life-and-death situation. It is okay to pride in what one has acquired but that should never deter further exploration. Matters of salvation are eternal and I would like to encourage everyone to attach the seriousness they call for.

“The Lord Told Me”

If one statement has been misused in Christendom, I nominate the phrase, “the Lord told me” as first in that line. It is difficult to decode the speaker’s meaning and even more when others are supposed to respond to ambiguous messages. It causes confusion and irritation and often leads people to cynical attitudes in divine matters.

Is that because the Lord never speaks, is not supposed to speak or cannot speak to a person? Firstly, God is a good wise Father who constantly speaks to His children. Says Jesus “…don't be afraid, little flock. For it gives your Father great happiness to give you the Kingdom.” Luke 12:32 (NLT). One to whom a Kingdom is being bestowed is in constant communication for updates and so on. It is thus encouraging when believers maintain attitudes of expectancy to hear from their heavenly Father.

God Is Not The Author Of Confusion

My attention is drawn on the subject of covenants. Covenant lies at the very core of the Kingdom of God. Salvation is all about covenant. Apart from God’s covenant mediated by His Son Jesus Christ, we would have no basis of relating with the divine. Now covenants are two sided and always involve two parties or more.

In simple terms, covenants are promises and agreements between parties. When we enter into agreements with our brethren, God becomes witness to those agreements. Scripture states, Then those who feared the LORD spoke with each other, and the LORD listened to what they said. In his presence, a scroll of remembrance was written to record the names of those who feared him and loved to think about him Mal 3:16 (NLT).

Jesus warned believers not to swear about anything but to conduct themselves in truth. (Please study Matthew 5:33-37 and James 5:12). To extract vows from believers hoping to compel them to keep their word or tell the truth which they otherwise would not is to misunderstand who a believer is supposed to be. If it is not within a person to keep his word, a vow cannot make him do it. But often, believers go right ahead to make vows, break them, and then claim to have received instructions from the Lord that contravene sealed promises. That is the height of hypocrisy. God cares about the person whose promise is broken. That is why He spoke to Joseph about Mary’s pregnancy. That is why He spoke to both Cornelius and Peter. That is why you must talk it over with the person with whom you have entered into agreement to ensure that its cancellation is an amicable deal. Don’t just call off agreements and expect the other party to run along. They won’t, and you will be held responsible for all the hurt your actions will have inflicted on them.

Jeremiah and the Babylonian Exile

For many years, God warned Israel about impending exile if they didn’t change their ways. However, the people didn’t want to change although they couldn’t ignore Jeremiah’s prophecies. Their corrupt minds had to find a way of defeating Jeremiah’s solemn warnings. They made their own kinds of prophets who told them the lies they loved to hear. Their prophets told them that God so loved Israel that He would under no circumstance deliver them into captivity.

In that situation Jeremiah wrote thus, …the house of Israel and the house of Judah have dealt very treacherously against me, saith the Lord. They have belied the Lord, and said, It is not he; neither shall evil come upon us; neither shall we see sword nor famine: And the prophets shall become wind, and the word is not in them: thus shall it be done unto them. Wherefore thus saith the Lord God of hosts, Because ye speak this word, behold, I will make my words in thy mouth fire, and this people wood, and it shall devour them. Jer 5:11-13.

How the Christian world today compares with this scenario! Most of the messages that are preached across the globe aim at making God's people feel good about themselves regardless of how they conduct their salvation. There exists a natural God-given sense of remorse in every Christian's heart about sin. But this is constantly under attack as people are encouraged to feel good, to forgive themselves and to appreciate their blood-bought right as sons of God without dealing with the sins in their lives.

I would rather a Christian that forever grieves over his sins than a self-righteous fool that forever rejoices in false confidence. True happiness comes from forgiveness of sins (Psl 32) and that makes it impossible for a true believer to feel comfortable without making restitution for offences committed. By restitution I don't mean penance or any form of payment for sin. I wish to emphasise the need to ask for forgiveness from God and those we have wronged. Without that, no matter who says it doesn't matter, and regardless of who teaches that we are forgiven for all past, present and future sins, Christians will not feel nice about themselves. Feelings don't just happen; they are results of events round about one's life.

But it is more dangerous than it seems. Refusal to repent of obvious sins results in hardness of heart. Hardening of heart is responsible for callousness that kills all sense of remorse leaving unfeeling 'Christians' who can commit any kind of evil and smile about it. Be sure those are not the kinds of people you are imitating because they have already seared their consciences in their efforts to belie the Lord. Love God enough to know what His will is for all your life.

Running to Eli
David Mbué

davidmbue@yahoo.com

Three times in a row God called young Samuel. The young boy ran to Eli each time saying, "here am I for you called me!"

Samuel did not know any better. All his life, he had served at the temple. Eli was the CEO at that temple and things were fashioned to the high priest's liking. One man's voice was synonymous with authority –Eli's. Whenever you heard it, you ran to respond. So had Samuel learnt and so was he disciplined to do.

We all have learnt to run in certain directions whenever God speaks. Unfortunately, those we run to are not always as honest to direct us to God or induct us on requisite etiquette in responding to the King or Kings. Either they don't know any better or are too malicious to conceptualise a situation that would give others direct access to the voice from on high. Some have ceased to enjoy that privilege in their spiritual lives and are too envious to become bridges by which others could access it. They feel threatened and they act it out.

Men of substance

I must confess that I have never been able to watch a Benny Hinn 'Today is Your Day' programme without a tightening of the throat and tears forming in my eyes. There is something about this man's ministry that cannot be ignored, for God's mark is evidently in it. So are Reinhard Bonnke and a few others.

To glorify men is not my object. What I would like you to see is how the named ministers emphasise Christ Jesus rather than theological arguments. By the way, Jesus is the theme of the gospel, not theology, not men's sins and shortcomings or even human potential! Jesus Christ is the theme of the gospel. He doesn't have a solution to every human difficulty as often erroneously supposed; He is the solution Himself. His very presence in a person provides the means to deal with any situation that arises. But not all of life's situations have solutions; in some, God's grace to go through them is what we require.

Ministers are not called to manufacture solutions for people's needs but rather to point them to Him Who is the Answer –Jesus Christ. A minister's effectiveness is not in the power displayed through his ministry but in his ability to make Jesus as visible and as accessible to all! A minister who purposely fails to direct people to Jesus will inadvertently create dependants who will wear him out with their many needs. But that is not always an accidental occurrence.

Saved to serve

I am informed that the two silver S's on the lapels of the white uniforms of the Salvation Army represent their 'Saved To Serve' motto. However one looks at it, it is important to remember that God has a purpose in saving us other than to take us to heaven. God has work that needs our contribution on this side of eternity. That may explain why we are not immediately caught up into heaven upon embracing salvation. But the question remains 'what is our individual part in God's work on earth and how do we identify it

Some think that growing wealthy like ancient Job is the goal. It isn't; however wealthy a believer may grow, there will always be a sinner to rival or outdo that level. The same applies to education, fame and other sophistication of life. The world cannot believe in Jesus on account of standards that sinners can themselves beat. Until Pharaoh's magicians couldn't replicate Moses' miracles, they continued to view him as one of their own.

So what is the unique Christian quality that God may use to call the world to Himself? Before I explain that point, I will tell you a story.

A God Who Is Able To Do More Than We Can Ask Or Think! (Eph 3:20)

Something divine happened on Friday 6th May 2005. Of cause something divine happens all the time but media cameras are not always as alert to it as happened that weekend. Amid political haemorrhage on constitutional review in Kenya, the story managed to curve itself a sizeable niche on the front pages of the dailies and television headlines.

A mother dog foraging for food in Ngong forest, Nairobi stumbled on a bundle wrapped in a dirty tattered pair of shorts. She carried it away urgently, dodging every curious person in its path. But the bundle invited curious onlookers as it contained something that emitted wails reminiscent of a human infant's. However, as the dog scurried away to a place they knew not where, the onlookers did not go after it nor try to establish whether indeed a human baby was the day's catch for a stray mongrel.

At around noonday, a peasant's children heard cries of a baby in their compound but could not tell where it was coming from. They alerted their mother and together with her, two boys frantically searched. Tacked protectively between puppy and mother dog lay a tiny baby girl finding security and warmth from carnivorous animals who would have made her their prey had they so chosen.

Kenyatta National Hospital came alive as lungful wails announced the sweet little angel's determination to live. Doctors and nurses swung into action with urgency that is rare to find in that giant medical facility. Of cause the child wasn't well at all, having spent, as it was supposed, two days in the forest. Running a high fever, cold and dehydrated and with tiny white maggots invading her exposed navel and genitalia, only one word could explain why she was still alive –miracle!

Outpouring Of Public Emotion

The public ran amok in the direction of Eli, so to speak. "What is the meaning of this?" Answers came, prompt and weird. "A dog with newborn pappies is loaded with 'motherly instincts'." That should explain why a lone rover couldn't tear an infant to pieces in the dreaded Ngong jungles whose mention evokes horrifying memories of unresolved political murders. About surviving the cold, "well, a baby's surface area is not big enough to be greatly affected by severe temperatures." Kenyans may not see miracles in such things; not long ago a lioness in the sprawling Masai Mara Game Reserve twice tried to adopt an orphaned baby oryx, whose mother she probably had mauled apart!

Never mind the outbursts. Gifts also poured in, to baby and to dog. The family that owned the dog was almost forgotten until they pleaded for mercy too. They had watched as their nameless but now famous 'Mkombozi' (deliverer) was washed, shampooed, de-wormed, treated to mouth-watering pieces of choice beef, operated on to prevent future conception … while they went to bed without a descent meal. I marvelled that the exhibited 'dog motherly instincts' didn't make the experts want to conserve such rare species of a hound.

Offers of adoption rolled into media houses but not to the relevant channels. The infant, whom the nurses christened Angel, was finally going places. At one point it was one step away from death, perhaps abandoned by a mother whose life challenges couldn't let her keep it. In the next instant, offers of its adoption were coming from as far as Korea!

'Mkombozi' too was needed in America and someone was offering about $ 700 for her! But her owner, a peasant housewife, would not hear a thing of it. Not because she had any sentimental attachment to the dog, but because in her own words, "$ 700 is peanuts!" She was schooled by her own 'Eli' who told her that Americans pay any price for anything they wish to have. Welcome to the world of mindsets that Dr Robert H Shuller calls 'locked-in-thinking!'

How Do You Interpret Things?

The God of Elijah sent a raven to feed the prophet with choice meat and loaves of bread for each of the days he spent hiding in a cave by the brook Cedron. Had the bird of prey dropped the meal only once, one would have said that it fell from the beak by accident. But for a raven to bring flesh to a man day-after-day morning and evening is another matter altogether! Now that is the God that scripture describes as …the same yesterday, today, and forever! Heb 13:8. What He did for Elijah, He did also for baby Angel using another carnivorous beast –a hungry hound in Ngong forest! He did it also in Moses, Israel's archenemy –Pharaoh nourished their deliverer in his own palace!

The man of the house in ‘Mkombozi’s’ homestead did not have a job. Perhaps because he did not have anybody to speak for him before an employer. Like the paralytic at the Pool of Siloam, he had no man to dip him in at the stirring of the waters. But who would have thought that a dirty, flea-infested nameless mongrel would one day solicit the mercy of an entire nation for the need of his master? Barely two days into the story, the man was having to choose which job to take among many offers. There is not a gate to any homestead’, as a proverb in my vernacular states, ‘that God is unaware of’ (Ngai ndari thome atoi).

Are you at the brink of desperation? Look up and see a limitless sky made by the infinite God! Look around and see a vast world with unlimited resources. God is more than willing to open them up for your wellbeing! Stop running in familiar directions that don’t work for you. Neither let people with locked-in mentalities define the parameters of your opportunities! Let God open your faith eyes, as Hagar’s, to see your watering well in the midst of a scotching desert. Release your threatened baby into the hands of the never failing God as did Jecobed with her ‘no-ordinary child’, Moses. God is mindful of His children’s needs! Can they trust Him to do the impossible?

The Blessing

Jim Goll

The Blessing is More Powerful!

I was given a dream revealing to me the power of declaring His blessings. Light was being released over people and cities as they proclaimed the blessing of God's Word. People began to be healed without anyone touching them as darkness was displaced by light. I had this dream repeatedly and I knew it dealt with the power of proclaiming God's blessing. Yes, the power of the blessing is more powerful than the power of the curse!
Defining Our Terms

From Webster's Dictionary:

To Bless: To invoke divine favor on, to bestow happiness, prosperity or good things of all kinds; to make a pronouncement holy; to consecrate, to glorify for the benefits received, to extol for Excellencies.

A Blessing: A prayer or solemn wish imploring happiness upon another; a benediction or blessing; the act of pronouncing a benediction or blessing; that which promotes prosperity and welfare . . .

From the Hebrew Language:

To Bless: Barak – To kneel by implication to bless God as an act of adoration, to praise, salute, thanks . . . a posture of reverence . . .

A Blessing: Berakah – Benediction (an act of invoking a blessing).

The Nature of the Blessing

Pronounced audibly (can be written as well)
Continue on in time – generation to generation
Usually are not just individual, but family oriented

The following definition is true concerning the nature of both curses and blessings.
A word spoken with some particular form of spiritual power and authority for good or evil that sets in motion something that will probably go on from generation to generation. (By Derek Prince)

Examples of Generational Blessings from Scripture

From God Directly to Abraham:
Read Genesis 12:2, 3

From Melchizedek in Behalf of God:
Read Genesis 14:18 – 20
Transfer of the Generational Blessing:
Read Genesis 25: 9 – 11
Stolen Birthright by Jacob from Esau:
Read Genesis 27:27 – 29
Patriarchal Blessing from Israel to the 12 Tribes:
Read Genesis 49:28

Five Steps to Invoke the Blessing

According to Gary Smalley and John Trent as stated in their excellent book The Blessing – there are five clear steps to invoking a Blessing!

Meaningful Touch
Touch imparts and releases life, warmth, compassion and blessing.

A Spoken Word
After meaningful touch comes a word of loving affirmation.

Attaching High Value to the One Being Blessed
Esteem, give honor, and value to another. Declare Life!

Picturing a Special Future
Envision God's destiny for individuals, churches and cities. Impart hope!

An Active Commitment
Empower others with a practical commitment. Get behind them!

Seven Areas of Blessings We Can Each Tap

Into!

Biblical Promises
Search out God's promises for your life in His Word! The Bible is full of "blessing" with you in mind! Exercise faith and declare your Biblical Promises.

Family Genealogy
Ask the Lord for help as you redemptively look at your family history. What is the family blessing that you are to call forth and pass on?

Ethnic Background
What is your ethnic background? Call for the redemptive gift of God for each tribe and honor the Lord with the gifts He has generationally bestowed!

Church Promises

What is your church background? Call forth the “fire” of John Wesley; the purity of the Quakers; the power of the Pentecostals; the evangelical anointing of the Baptist; the prayer of the Moravians, etc.

Geographic Region – City, State, Nation
What did the founding fathers of your city or state declare and write about your region? What is the redemptive purpose of your city? Were there previous revivals? Call the blessings into being once again!

The Meaning of Your Name
What does your name mean? Why did your parents give you that name? Call forth the characteristics and prophetic purposes of your name.

Personal Prophetic Words
Have there been any gifts of the Spirit vocalized over your life? What has God spoken over you and your family? What promises has the Holy Spirit spoken to you? What blessing does God have waiting for you to fulfill?

Proclaim His Word Over Your Life!

From Numbers 6:24 – 27
The Lord bless you and keep you; The Lord make His face to shine upon you, and be gracious to you. The Lord lift up His countenance on you, and give you peace.

From Psalms 103:1 – 5
Bless the Lord, O my Soul, and all that is within me bless His holy name. Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget none of His benefits; who pardons all your iniquities; who heals all your diseases; who redeems your life from the pit; who crowns you with loving-kindness and compassion; who satisfies your years with good things, so that your youth is renewed like an eagle.

The Gap That Separates Some

And besides all this, between us and you a great chasm has been fixed, so that those who want to go from here to you cannot, nor can anyone cross over from there to us.' Luke 16:26

"I tell you that the day you are now living in will turn into night. I tell you that your nation will be invaded. There will be many that will prophesy that bright days are ahead. I tell you that there are many that are "men pleasers" in this hour. Who is that man or woman who would truly speak for Me?

I tell you that this nation will be split right down the middle. A line is drawn in the sand. I tell you it will be as a great chasm."

(Here the Lord showed me a huge chasm and there was a cliff on the far side and another one on the side close to me. The gap that separated the two cliffs must have been about a mile in distance.)

"This chasm will separate those who truly know what is going to be happening in this hour. This gap will grow wider and wider. I tell you that the days are hastening forward to the time when the anti-christ figure will be revealed. I tell you that it will be but a few months more than a year when this happens. Many think that my time table is pushed into the distant future. I tell you that those who believe this are on the further cliff. There will be earthquakes that come, but this great (earthquake) chasm that I speak of is much greater. "

The Cup Of My Wrath
Stephen Hanson

April 3, 2005

1 And he said to me, "Son of man, eat what is before you, eat this scroll; then go and speak to the house of Israel." 2 So I opened my mouth, and he gave me the scroll to eat.

3 Then he said to me, "Son of man, eat this scroll I am giving you and fill your stomach with it." So I ate it, and it tasted as sweet as honey in my mouth. Ezekiel 3

[The Cup of God's Wrath] This is what the LORD , the God of Israel, said to me: "Take from my hand this cup filled with the wine of my wrath and make all the nations to whom I send you drink it. Jer. 25:15

“I tell you that the year 2006 will be the year that will begin the end of the world. For it will mark the time that the anti-christ comes upon the scene. I tell you that there are many that disbelieve this, but when the year opens up they will see new developments of the truth of this. Where have all the “true seekers” gone? Where have they gone that would sit plainly at my feet? “

(The Lord showed me a ladder and I began to climb up it. It was set against a tall cliff of some sort. I climbed it as it went up higher and higher. Then I stood upon a cliff and I was all alone. The sky was dark and cloudy. Then out of the midst of this, a large hand came and reached down to me and beckoned for me to come. I was then in a large room and the Lord gave me a chalice to drink from. I didn’t want to because it seemed to contain vile and dirty things in it. He told me that I needed to drink it if I was to speak His judgments. Finally I decided to drink it. Inside of the cup were all kinds of strange things like bugs and snakes. I thought to my self, ‘surely this was not to be drunk.‘ After I drank it then I saw a scroll that was off to my left. As I looked at the scroll, suddenly from the inside of the scroll came several horses that were running towards me. I asked the Lord why I needed to drink of the cup, and He said:

“You needed to drink of this cup to know of what form my judgments are to come. There are many that think that they can just drink of my beautiful cup. These are those that think that there are just beautiful days ahead. “

“I have called some of you to drink of this cup to prepare those who would listen to you. “

The Heavenly Elixir

Don Milam

MATT 9:17 "Nor do men put new wine into old wineskins; otherwise the wineskins burst, and the wine pours out, and the wineskins are ruined; but they put new wine into fresh wineskins, and both are preserved."

Over the last 25 years I have been involved in many discussions about wineskins. I have also read many books on the subject in my own search to understand biblical patterns for building the church. Men that I have been associated with over the years have all been interested in the pursuit of the restoration of biblical wineskins.

The purpose of this blog is not to discuss the nature of biblical wineskins. The real issue with which we should be concerned is this – where is the wine that is to be poured into the wineskin? The wineskin's only purpose is to contain and preserve wine. We spend so much time trying to create beautiful wineskins that, in the process, we forget our search should be for that heavenly elixir that is poured into the wineskin. What value is all of our carefully crafted wineskins if we have no precious wine to pour into those skins? It is the wine that validates the skin. The wineskin has no value in itself without the sweet wine flowing from heaven's vats.

Joel 2:19 And the Lord will answer and say to His people, "Behold, I am going to send you grain, new wine, and oil, And you will be satisfied in full with them; And I will never again make you a reproach among the nations.

The wine of God is heaven's mixture, not man's, and when received has powerful results. When a person is drunk with wine we say that they are under the influence. Their consciousness has been altered from their normal restrictions and they say things they would not normally say and do things they would not normally do. The wine of God is a divine influencer. When it is drunk at full strength, it makes men and women lose consciousness -- of themselves. They are released from the control of others and come under heaven's sway. Their actions come into a new synchronization with the heavenly will and their words begin to flow in harmony with heaven's sound.

The wine of heaven is a spiritual stimulus, an inspiring intoxicant, and an exhilarating elixir. It has the capacity to create significant change in the life of the imbiber and its influence will eventually be felt by all around them. As the wine of the Spirit saturates the soul of man, a spiritual reaction of mystical proportion takes place initiating a transformation in his deepest being. If this new work is properly tended it will eventually manifest itself in the character of one's life and the content of one's message.

If this, indeed, is true, then it is clear that we must rediscover this heavenly elixir and be quick to rid the Church of the poor substitute that has been served up to us for centuries. Poor substitutes will never truly satisfy our thirsty souls.

The prophet Zechariah gives us a clue to the life-giving ingredients that compose the wine of God and they are clearly revealed in the life of the early Church.

ZEC 4:6 Then he answered and said to me, "This is the word of the Lord to Zerubbabel saying, 'Not by might nor by power, but by My Spirit,' says the Lord of hosts."

1. The word of the Lord
2. The Spirit of the Lord

ACT 4:31 And when they had prayed, the place where they had gathered together was shaken, and they were all filled with the Holy Spirit, and began to speak the Word of God with boldness.

EPH 6:17 And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the Word of God.

The Scriptures clearly indicate the substantive nature of this spiritual stimulus. It is a mystical union of the Holy Spirit and the Word of God. The WORD and the SPIRIT combine, forming a dynamic of spiritual energy with the latent capability of changing the heart of man, as well as the surrounding culture.

The Spirit brings to us the Presence of God. When Jesus was preparing His disciples for His departure, He told them that when He left them to go be with the Father He would send the Spirit. The Paraclete, the Alongside One would be the constant presence of God with them, for the Spirit would be within them. Father's Spirit would be an empowering presence that would enable them to speak things they had never learned and do things outside their human capabilities. The Spirit would be the secret to doing the Father's work empowering broken vessels to manifest the glory of God in their own broken condition.

The Word brings to us the Thoughts of God. The Word is the visible expression of the thoughts of God. No man knows the thoughts of God but when the Word is spoken, man knows Father's intentions. The Apostle John recorded that no man has seen God at any time but the One Who was in the secret, intimate places of God. He has come and exegeted Him, explained Him to us. He is the Word—the full and accurate expression of God. In the midst of the multitude of words within the Body of Christ, we have lost the presence of the Word. The Bible is not that Word although it reveals the Word as Jesus taught us. It is clear that Christ is the Word of God and it is Christ Who brings to us a revelation of the true God. He comes to remove all distortions of the image of God that have been created by men. He also comes to unfold to us Father's mind and heart and to expose our own will which stands in contradistinction to Father's will. He is the source of apostolic truth and the substance of apostolic teaching. Somewhere along the way many apostolic ministries took a wrong turn.

If the Church is to ever fulfill her destiny and return to her original glory she must once again drink from the cup of the pure wine of God. She must rediscover what is the true essence of the Gospel. Any other substitute will only guarantee that the Church will continue to remain irrelevant and inept, remaining the continued focus of the world's scorn. We are living in a time when men and women can no longer be fooled by the wine produced in the vats of the minds of men. They long to drink from the sweet ambrosia of heaven's cup and will accept no sour substitutes.

Mark of Cain

by Bill Somers

This Document Revised 11-2-97

In Marvin Byers work, The Final Victory, The Year 2000. he makes a prophetic point that the end is like the beginning.

And since Jesus declares in Revelation that He is the Beginning and the End, the beginning must be the same as the end. Since He Is the beginning and the end, and since He changes not, they must be the same.

While this is not a universal principle, it does apply to the Word of God, which is what Jesus is. His name is called the Word of God.

When it comes to understanding the Word of God, you'll find that events and patterns set out in the beginning are repeated in the end. Genesis is the book of beginning; Revelation is the book of ending. Trying to understand the end without knowing the beginning is futile. Yet so many students of the prophetic spend most of their efforts in Revelation.

There are many patterns, types and shadows that begin in Genesis and have fulfillment in Revelation. One of these that I have noticed is to do with the Mark of Cain and the Mark of the Beast.

The Mark of Cain is a type or foreshadowing of the Mark of the Beast.

The Story of Cain and Abel is the story of the beginning of religion. Revelation in the story of the end of religion.
In the Story of Cain and Abel, one pleased God, and one was cursed by God.
Abel's blood cried out for vengeance and Cain suffered that vengeance, eternal banishment..
In revelation, the blood of the saints cries out for vengeance. That vengeance comes with the Return of the Lord. And the eternal banishment of the lost.
Cain was of those who thought to serve God, Abel to obey Him.
The religion of Cain was a sacrifice from the fruit of the earth, which God had cursed. Abel offered a blood sacrifice.
The first murder was a religious murder, the first religion produced a martyr and a murderer.
The end time religions will be the murderers against the martyrs.
Cain's religion has a confrontation with Abel's and God gives favor to Abel. After losing out in this confrontation Cain rises up to smite Abel; and Abel does not resist. Cain is the religious, Able the remnant.
As Cain lost out in comparison when the Lord favored Abel, so the end time church will be favored by being able or allowed to show forth resurrection power. Resurrection power, the unmistakable miracle, is one thing the enemy forces cannot abide because it destroys the fear of death that keeps men in bondage. So that they will then likewise rise up and smite the church after it's triumphs. And then our blood will also cry out for vengeance.
That there will be such triumphs is foreshadowed in several passages.
Jesus three trips around Israel, ministering to the multitudes, before he went to the cross.
Paul made three great missionary trips before going to Jerusalem and ultimately to his death in Rome.
Elisha told the king to strike the arrows on the ground. He struck thrice and stopped. Hence Israel was to have three victories over Syria and then be overcome.
I believe that the end time church will experience three great waves of world evangelization, tremendous victories over powers of darkness. Then it will be overcome.

God has declared the end from the beginning.

Bill Somers Prophetic Vision

Three Enemies
Chip Brogden

"Anyone wanting to walk in My footsteps must deny Self, take up the cross daily, and then follow after Me" (Luke 9:23).

Some feel they are victorious because they have long ago given up the outward sins of the flesh. They do not drink or cheat on their spouse. They go to church and live a good life. Are they not victorious? Perhaps - but the true test is not their outward deportment but their inward mastery. Before they served satan, and now they say they "serve" God, but in whose power do they serve Him? Do they serve Him in Spirit and Truth, or in flesh and blood? Often they do not serve God or satan, they serve Self. This explains why "church people" are often found to be self-righteous. Their holiness consists of outward things - do not eat, do not touch, do not wear, do not say, do not go, etc. It is a religion which consists of doing or not doing to be seen and approved of men, while the weightier matters - pride, greed, jealousy, ambition, etc. - are covered up. Such is a holiness which comes from Self, and not from Christ; hence, "self"-righteousness is not the same as Christ-righteousness.

God's answer to the problem of Self is the Cross. The Blood takes care of sin, but the Cross takes care of the sinner. The Blood cleanses me from sin, and keeps me from sinning; the cross executes Self so that I no longer desire to sin. By removing the sinner, the problem of sin is eliminated. If I have died to Self then I have died to everything. It is one thing to put away Sin; it is quite another thing to put away Self. Both are necessary in order to overcome.

When You Pray
Chip Brogden

http://www.watchman.net/articles/pray.html

"But when you pray, enter into your closet, and after you have shut the door, pray to your Father in secret; and your Father, Who sees what is done secretly, will reward you openly" (Matthew 6:6).

It does not matter whether your prayer closet is a literal closet or not. The issue is the sort of prayer that is offered, whether it is done to be seen of men or if it is done to be seen of God. If we are praying to the Lord for the Lord's sake then we will want to keep holy things holy, private things private, and sacred things sacred. We will not easily repeat to others the intimate details of these encounters with God. It would seem almost sacrilegious to do so.

Is prayer and worship a lifestyle, or is it an event? If it is an event, if most of our praying is done once a week when we gather together, then we will be lacking spiritually. We will sense this lack when we try to flip a switch and become spiritual enough to pray. But our corporate prayers have their basis in our secret prayers. The real value is not what is seen outwardly, but what we are inwardly, beneath the surface, as we minister to the Lord in secret.

The Place

Maria Magruder

In these last times, God is raising up an army of Believers that will not settle for second best in their lives. Those that will not settle for anything less, but the divine power of God in their lives. Believers that actually believe the Word of God, and have great understanding and wisdom to perform the Word of God, by the Holy Spirit in demonstration and power. God is raising up an army of His champions, that will rule and reign over everything that is to be submitted to God.

Things in these last times are being accelerated and increased. The things of God are being performed quickly, and there is a corporate anointing and blessing that is for every believer, as God desires to see all His people walking and living in success and victory.

Recently I had a vision. In this vision I was standing before the Lord, and I began to speak to Him. I began to say, “Lord with all you have given me to do…” and before I could finish what I was going to say the Lord pointed at me with His finger, and spoke back to me, “Maria, I’m giving you a troop”. The Lord had answered my request before I could even finish speaking, as I knew in the vision that in my heart I was going to say the following, “Lord with all you have given me to do, I need a troop”, and here before I could even get that out of my mouth in the vision, the Lord responds with the answer. At the time I didn’t fully understand what had happened, until the Holy Spirit took me later that evening to Isaiah 65:24

“It shall come to pass that before they call, I will answer, and while they are still speaking I will hear.”

The Taylor translation says it this way:

“I will answer them before they even call to Me. While they are still talking to Me about their needs, I will go ahead and answer their prayers.”

Matt 6:8-9
For your Father knows the things you have need of before you ask Him.

This is an example of stepping into acceleration and performance. We are stepping into a whole new threshold of the things of the Spirit where the immediate happens in our lives. The Word of God today is being revealed in greater realms than ever before, which produces an open door into the supernatural things of God and an entrance that brings light and life to us. God has already answered all our prayers. Prayers that we haven’t even prayed yet, however we still need to pray! But God has already prepared every answer, every solution and prepared every provision that we could ever need beforehand. We just need to receive revelation of what has already been prepared for us, and how to tap into heaven for what has been prepared for us to manifest in our lives.

We can only walk in the level of victory and success, of the amount of revelation we have of God and His ways. His word says that “My people perish for a lack of vision” and that word vision means “revelation”. So when we find areas in our life that we have failed at in the past, we can usually look back and see where we lacked a revelation of God’s Word and how to implement it. The more revelation we have by the breathing on the word by the Holy Spirit, the more God results and performance we will see manifest in our lives.

When the Church comes to believe the word of God concerning all of heaven being available to us, and all things belong to us and all things have been prepared for us, we will see a great arising of the army of God like never before, that knows how to get things done in the natural and in the spirit quickly, marching in authority given to us by Christ, and the gates of hell will not be able to prevail against it.

1 Peter 1:3-5

Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who according to His abundant mercy has begotten us again to a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, to an inheritance incorruptible and undefiled and that does not fade away, reserved in heaven for you, who are kept by the power of God through faith for salvation ready to be revealed in the last time.

First of all, lets address this "living hope". This is not the worlds "hope". The worlds hope is "maybe it will happen" or "someday it might come to pass" or a "wishing". This is not Godly hope. The living hope has life. This hope is the earnest expectation of the glory. The glory contains EVERYTHING that God has prepared for you for this present time and the future! So this hope EXPECTS, to see the glory manifest. This hope "expects" it doesn't "wish". Wishing is the worlds hope and we are not of this world.

We also read that there are "things" reserved in heaven for us, that are kept by the power of God FOR salvation that are READY for us NOW. These "things" are tied into salvation, as there are "things" that accompany salvation. Heb 6:9 "But, beloved, we are confident of better things concerning you, yes, things that accompany salvation*…"*

According to this verse in 1st Peter, "…reserved in heaven for you" there are "things" that are to be revealed in the "last times", which we are certainly in now. Most people will interpret this verse as "someday in heaven", but what we have to remember is although our home is on earth right now, all of heaven is available to us.

The word says that whatever we bind on earth is bound in heaven and whatever we loose on earth is loosed in heaven. Right there, is an open door to all of heaven. Anything that you need loosed from heaven is yours. Anything that you need bound from heaven is yours and you have authority over it. The word says "whatever", not "some things". Not only do we have the power to bind and loose in heaven, but Christ has already seated us in heavenly places with Him, that we would operate in the same power and authority He did and does now, as the word says, "So as He is, so are we now in this present world".

Back to what 1st Peter says:

"…reserved in heaven for you, who are kept by the power of God through faith for salvation ready (now) to be revealed in the last time. "

So there have been hidden "things" in the past concerning salvation, which are NOW ready to be revealed. Salvation as we already know, or many of us know is more than just a ticket to eternal life. Salvation is a ticket to LIFE, whether here on earth or in eternity. Salvation comes from the greek word "sozo" which means to deliver, to protect, to heal, to provide. So with salvation comes everything that a person needs now. Healing and deliverance is for now, provision and protection is for now. When one comes into salvation, they step into an acceleration of all that God has prepared for them before time was. What has been prepared for the Believer? All things. All things have been prepared beforehand that one may need or even desire by the Spirit. There are things that are ready to be revealed NOW. They have been reserved in heaven for these last times and are now being revealed that all of heaven is available to every Believer. Jesus prayed in Matt 6:10-11:

"Your kingdom come, your will be done, on earth as it is in heaven"

This verse alone tells us that God wants what's in heaven to be available on earth. Is it God's will in heaven for there to be sickness? Disease? Lack? Sorrow? Poverty? No! You will not find any of these things in heaven; therefore it is God's will on earth for healing, deliverance and provision/abundance. In order to know what is available to us form heaven we MUST know God's will. Do we ever find sickness just every now and then in heaven? No! Therefore its never God's will for one to be physically, mentally or spiritually sick. There is no sometimes God heals and sometimes He doesn't. It's the same thing with abundance and provision. Do we ever find God in heaven needing to re-po a mansion or file for bankruptcy? No! Therefore its not God's will to find ourselves in those positions of debt and lack. But how many of us have been sick at one time or another? And how many of us are in debt? How many of us have found ourselves in situations that left us in lack and "not enough"? I would venture to say there isn't one of us who hasn't experienced some of these things, but it doesn't change the Truth that all of heaven's provision is available to us, and has been prepared for us since before time. As the word says we need to KNOW the things that have been freely given to us by God.

1 Cor 2:6-16 However, we speak wisdom among those who are mature, yet not the wisdom of this age, nor of the rulers of this age, who are coming to nothing. But we speak the wisdom of God in a mystery, the hidden wisdom which God ordained before the ages for our glory, which none of the rulers of this age knew; for had they known, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory.

9 But as it is written:

"Eye has not seen, nor ear heard,
Nor have entered into the heart of man
The things which God has prepared for those who love Him."

*10 But God has revealed them to us through His Spirit. For the Spirit searches all things, yes, the deep things of God. For what man knows the things of a man except the spirit of the man which is in him? Even so no one knows the things of God except the Spirit of God. Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit who is from God, that we might know the things that have been freely given to us by God.

The man who has not received the Spirit of God cannot even comprehend or have any understanding of what God has prepared for those who love God. But the man, who has received the Spirit of God and not rejected Him, has understanding and knowledge that there are "things" God has prepared for those who love him, and "things" that have been freely given to us. Things that "accompany salvation", that have been prepared beforetime for us.

So, what "things" have been freely given to us??? Everything! All things. Anything you need is already been prepared and given unto you. Every promise in the Word of healing, finances, deliverance, spiritual gifts, has already been prepared is available to you from heaven and heaven is IN you.

2nd Peter 1:3 "as His divine power has given to us ALL THINGS, that pertain to life and godliness through the knowledge of Him who called us by glory and virtue, by which have been given to us exceedingly great and precious promises, that through these you may be partakers of the divine nature, having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust.

All things have been given to us that pertain to this life, now. If we are partaking of the divine nature, does the divine nature have delay? Or does the divine nature have all things available now? The divine nature supplies everything the earth needs, could it be possible it will supply all things that you need? As a Believer you are part of the divine nature as you have become a new creation in Christ. The divine nature dwells in you. Does the divine nature need to say, "wait, its going to take time to work up a miracle for you? No! Its already prepared in glory. Everything that you could possibly need NOW has been created beforehand just for you!

Vs. 11 says for so an entrance (open door) will be supplied to you ABUNDANTLY into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ

Other trans says: into the eternal realm.

When you choose to believe and know that God's divine power has given you ALL THINGS that pertain to your life, that its all provided for already, that's when an un-limited entrance is open unto you into heaven's realm and all of heaven is available to you.

This means when your circumstances tells you there isn't enough and contradict God's word, circumstances that contradict what His great and precious promises say, that contradict His un-limited supply- that you make the decision that you have escaped the lack of the world, and you make God's word that ultimate authority in your life, and you speak out what God has already provided for you in faith.

Abraham had an opportunity to speak what looked like the end of him, or speak his destiny. He had a great and precious promise from God, that God would multiply him and make his descendants like the sand of the sea.

Gen 22

Vs. 5 "…stay here with the donkey; the lad and I will go yonder and worship and WE will come back to you."

Abraham had already made a choice that God is not a liar, that His word is truth and un-shakable, that if He said He was going to do something, that He would follow through. Abe made a choice that the word of God is the ultimate authority in His life, even though God was telling him to kill what had been promised. Abe made a decision in his heart that even though he may have to slay his only son that God will raise him back up again, and they will come back. And he says to his son, "God will provide a lamb" – He speaks out his faith and confession.

Then God shows up and says, "don't do it Abe" and he finds a ram caught in the thicket. The ram was already prepared for Abe, just like your ram in the thicket has been prepared for you!

Gen 22:13-14
14 And Abraham called the name of the place , The-LORD-Will-Provide; as it is said to this day, "In the Mount of the LORD it shall be provided." NKJV

Gen 22:14 And Abraham called the name of that place Jehovah-jireh: as it is said to this day, In the mount of the LORD it shall be seen. KJV*

Jehovah Jirah is not a name…it's a PLACE! Jesus said, "I go to prepare a place for you" When Jesus said "it is finished" on the cross that place for you and I was complete and made available to us.

Eph 4:9-10 "Now this, He ascended-what does it mean but that He also first descended into the lower parts of the earth? He who descended is also the One who ascended far above all the heavens that He might fill/prepare all things."

It's the place where all of heaven is available to you. It's the place where all things are prepared and made ready to you, because they accompany salvation. It's the place where all things are freely given to those who love God. It the place of un-limited supply and performance of the glory, the glory being anything you need.

God before time ever was has gone before you to prepare all that you would ever need.

Vs. 4 Then on the third day Abraham lifted his eyes and saw the PLACE afar off*.*

Your Jehovah Jirah place of provision may seem afar off to you, but it has already been prepared for you, and is ready and available for you now. It was afar off for Abe, because he was before the prophesied time, we are IN the prophesied time of Christ!

Eph 2:12-13 that at that time you were without Christ, being aliens from the commonwealth of Israel and strangers from the covenants of promise, having no hope and without God in the world. 13 But now in Christ Jesus you who once were far off have been brought near by the blood of Christ.

We have been deceived in thinking what has been prepared for us is “far off”. It has in-doctrinated us throughout our whole life. The devil has kept us from our inheritance on this earth, and what belongs to us. Its time to throw off those lies and become true believers of what God has said for our lives, our families, our business’ and our ministries, and step into the NOW covenant, the NOW God, the NOW performance, the NOW God results, that bring life and life more abundantly.

All things belong to Christ, and Christ dwells in us, therefore all of heaven is available to us, from within us, as we sit in heavenly places. Christ has prepared a place for us, we are seated in HEAVENLY PLACES NOW!!!

That miracle is yours now! Glory! It was prepared before time was.

The Shape of Things to Come

Bill Somers

> Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven. (Matthew 6:10)
>
> That in the dispensation of the fulness of times he might gather together in one all things in Christ, both which are in heaven, and which are on earth; even in him: (Ephesians 1:10)

Let me spell it out right at the beginning. The shape of things to come is triangular.
OK, what things are we talking about? Really only one thing, but one depicted and described in many ways; the church. I have long seen that several of the metaphors used in scripture for the church have a triangle shape. The most obvious one is 'the mountain of the lord'. Others are less clear.

Lately the Lord has been showing me that practically all of the ways he uses to describe the church have a triangular aspect of some sort, depending on your point of view. In this article we will briefly touch on most of them. First, we will cite some pertinent verses. Then we'll see how they are triangular in shape. Then lastly we will look at their relation to the kingdom.

The Mountain

> . . . Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, to the house of the God of Jacob; . . . . (Isaiah 2:3)

Now this one should be pretty obvious, mountain has a peak in the center and sloping sides all around. From the side it is clearly a triangle.

The Holy Hill Mount Zion

> Yet have I set my king upon my holy hill of Zion. (Psalms 2:6)
>
> Thus saith the LORD; I am returned unto Zion, and will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem: and Jerusalem shall be called a city of truth; and the mountain of the LORD of hosts the holy mountain. (Zechariah 8:3)

And I looked, and, lo, a Lamb stood on the mount Sion, and with him an hundred forty and four thousand, having his Father's name written in their foreheads. (Revelation 14:1)

> A Song of degrees of David. Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!
> It is like the precious ointment upon the head, that ran down upon the beard, even Aaron's beard: that went down to the skirts of his garments;
> As the dew of Hermon, and as the dew that descended upon the mountains of Zion: for there the LORD commanded the blessing, even life for evermore. (Psalms 133:1-3)
> Who art thou, O great mountain? before Zerubbabel thou shalt become a plain: and he shall bring forth the headstone thereof with shoutings, crying, Grace, grace unto it. (Zechariah 4:7)

These are key scriptures relating the Mountain of the Lord and the Holy Hill, Mount Zion

The Body of the High Priest

> It is like the precious ointment upon the head, that ran down upon the beard, even Aaron's beard: that went down to the skirts of his garments; (Psalms 133:2)

Here we see the High Priest described as having skirted garments. These correspond to the sloping mountain sides. Psalm 133 compares the image of the mountain with the image of the High Priest. Both are triangular images.

The Body of Christ

> So we, being many, are one body in Christ, and every one members one of another. (Romans 12:5)

> For we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones. (Ephesians 5:30)

> Wherefore, holy brethren, partakers of the heavenly calling, consider the Apostle and High Priest of our profession, Christ Jesus; (Hebrews 3:1)

In this case, we see that the image of the body of Christ takes on a triangular shape, since Christ Jesus is spoken of as our High Priest. [In Psalm 133, Aaron acts as a type of Christ.]

The Stone becoming a Great Mountain

> Then was the iron, the clay, the brass, the silver, and the gold, broken to pieces together, and became like the chaff of the summer threshingfloors; and the wind carried them away, that no place was found for them: and the stone that smote the image became a great mountain, and filled the whole earth. (Daniel 2:35)

> Of the increase of his government and peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with judgment and with justice from henceforth even for ever. The zeal of the LORD of hosts will perform this. Isa 9:7

Here the stone is the Lord. He breaks the nations and scatters the pieces. Then they are replaced by his ever expanding mountain.

The Bride

> For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall be joined unto his wife, and they two shall be one flesh.
> This is a great mystery: but I speak concerning Christ and the church. (Ephesians 5:31-32)

Here we ask you to visualize a bride dressed in her long flowing gown and compare the picture to that of the High Priest in his skirted robes.

The Ship

> And Jesus saith unto him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head. (Matthew 8:20)

> And when he was entered into a ship, his disciples followed him

> And, behold, there arose a great tempest in the sea, insomuch that the ship was covered with the waves: but he was asleep. (Matthew 8:23-24)

The ship is the church, his place of rest. The place he can lay his head. Here we can see that a ship has a high mast in the center with sails and ropes sloping down from the top. Another triangle.

A place to lay the head, a resting place.

> For the LORD hath chosen Zion; he hath desired it for his habitation
> This is my rest for ever: here will I dwell; for I have desired it. (Psalms 132:13-14)

Here the resting place is the triangular Mount Zion.

The Army of God

> Thou therefore endure hardness, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ. (2 Timothy 2:3)
> No man that warreth entangleth himself with the affairs of this life; that he may please him who hath chosen him to be a soldier. (2 Timothy 2:4)

Now how does an army resemble a triangle? Not in any physical view that I can think of. However in the abstract it does because the chain of command and the table of organization depict a flow of authority starting at the top with the commander in chief and down thru the general staff, the generals, colonels and so on to the rank and file foot soldiers.

The Flock of Sheep

> I am the good shepherd, and know my sheep, and am known of mine. (John 10:14)
> My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me: (John 10:27)

For this image we ask you to take a short helicopter ride and observe a shepherd leading his flock out into the pasture. As we look down on the we see that He is at the head, followed by the lead sheep and the rest of them fan out behind him, like the wake behind a ship at sea. Triangular once more.

The Family of God

> According as he hath chosen us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and without blame before him in love
> Having predestinated us unto the adoption of children by Jesus Christ to himself, according to the good pleasure of his will,
> To the praise of the glory of his grace, wherein he hath made us accepted in the beloved. (Ephesians 1:4-6)

Guess what shape you find in a diagram of a family tree?

The Eagles Wings

> As an eagle stirreth up her nest, fluttereth over her young, spreadeth abroad her wings, taketh them, beareth them on her wings: (Deuteronomy 32:11)

> He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust: his truth shall be thy shield and buckler. (Psalms 91:4)

Here the image is of the Lord protecting his people as an eagle shelters her young. The wings spread out to either side give this a triangular shape.

The Fig Tree, The Olive Tree etc.

> He spake also this parable; A certain man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard; and he came and sought fruit thereon, and found none. (Luke 13:6)
> Is the seed yet in the barn? yea, as yet the vine, and the fig tree, and the pomegranate, and the olive tree, hath not brought forth: from this day will I bless you. (Haggai 2:19)

> For if thou wert cut out of the olive tree which is wild by nature, and wert grafted contrary to nature into a good olive tree: how much more shall these, which be the natural branches, be grafted into their own olive tree? (Romans 11:24)

> To appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, to give unto them beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness; that they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the LORD, that he might be glorified. (Isaiah 61:3)

Quite often, the Lord speaks of his people in terms of trees. [I see men as trees, walking.] The figure of the fig tree and to a lesser extent the olive tree are very important. We can see some triangularity in the shape of a tree as well.

Metaphor of the vineyard

> Now will I sing to my wellbeloved a song of my beloved touching his vineyard. My wellbeloved hath a vineyard in a very fruitful hill:
> And he fenced it, and gathered out the stones thereof, and planted it with the choicest vine, and built a tower in the midst of it, ... (Isaiah 5:1-2)

This description of a vineyard resembles that of a city. There is a high point, the tower in the center, and walls, fences and hedges on either side. It could resemble a triangle seen from a short ways away.

Metaphor of the land of Israel

> Who is there among you of all his people? his God be with him, and let him go up to Jerusalem, which is in Judah, and build the house of the LORD God of Israel, (he is the God,) which is in Jerusalem. (Ezra 1:3)

Whenever you go to Jerusalem, according to biblical prose, you go up to Jerusalem. From there you can go east and down to Jordan, or west and go down to the sea [Joppa]. So here we find another triangular image.

The City

> Then on the third day Abraham lifted up his eyes, and saw the place afar off. (Genesis 22:4)

> For he [Abraham] looked for a city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God. Heb 11:10

> Beautiful for situation, the joy of the whole earth, is mount Zion, on the sides of the north, the city of the great King. (Psalms 48:2)

When you view a city from a distance you notice the tallest buildings in the center and shorter and shorter ones trailing off to either side. This forms a triangle.

New Jerusalem

> And I John saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband. (Revelation 21:2)

> And there came unto me one of the seven angels which had the seven vials full of the seven last plagues, and talked with me, saying, Come hither, I will show thee the bride, the Lamb's wife.

> And he carried me away in the spirit to a great and high mountain, and showed me that great city, the holy Jerusalem, descending out of heaven from God, (Revelation 21:9-10)

In this passage the bride is seen as synonymous with the Holy City.

The Tabernacle

> A Psalm of David. LORD, who shall abide in thy tabernacle? who shall dwell in thy holy hill? (Psalms 15:1)

> For in the time of trouble he shall hide me in his pavilion: in the secret of his tabernacle shall he hide me; he shall set me up upon a rock. (Psalms 27:5)
> In Salem also is his tabernacle, and his dwelling place in Zion. (Psalms 76:2)

> We will go into his tabernacles: we will worship at his footstool. (Psalms 132:7)

> And in mercy shall the throne be established: and he shall sit upon it in truth in the tabernacle of David, judging, and seeking judgment, and hasting righteousness. (Isaiah 16:5)

> And I heard a great voice out of heaven saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God. (Revelation 21:3)

So what is a tabernacle? It's a tent. And tents have tent poles sticking up in the middle and shorter poles on the sides and ropes going down to the earth tied to tent pegs driven into the ground. Once again we see a triangular shape.

The Dwelling Place, House or Temple

> Now therefore ye are no more strangers and foreigners, but fellowcitizens with the saints, and of the household of God
> And are built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner stone
> In whom all the building fitly framed together groweth unto an holy temple in the Lord
> In whom ye also are builded together for an habitation of God through the Spirit. (Ephesians

> 2:19-22)

> Ye also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, an holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ.

> Wherefore also it is contained in the scripture, Behold, I lay in Sion a chief corner stone, elect, precious: and he that believeth on him shall not be confounded. (1 Peter 2:5-6)

Houses and temples commonly have pointed roofs giving them a triangular aspect. The only way you can get a chief cornerstone is by having one corner at the top. Hence you have a pyramid, which is also triangular in shape.

The Pyramid

> And I say also unto thee, That thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. (Matthew 16:18)

As the church is a spiritual building, it is built from the top down instead of from the bottom up. At the top we find the Cap Stone, Head Stone or Chief Corner Stone, Jesus. The church must be built on the Lordship of Jesus.

The Action

We see the triangle shape in all these examples of the Church. In certain ones we see some action too. We see an image of something being placed at the top of the triangle.
In Psalm 2 we see the King set upon the Holy Hill

In Zechariah 4, we see the headstone brought forth on the Mountain
In Revelation 14 we see the Lamb standing on the Mountain
In Psalm 133 we see the anointing ointment on the head and the dew on the mountain, both flowing downwards.
In Matthew 8 we see mention of a place to lay the head; and the Lord sleeping in the ship.

All of these instances speak of the same thing. Laying the headstone on the temple is laying the head on the body. The temple is the resting place of the Lord; and the body is the place of rest for the Head. The Lord is the head!

In Psalm 132, David speaking [as a type of Christ] says he will have no rest till he builds a dwelling place for God.

> Surely I will not come into the tabernacle of my house, nor go up into my bed
> I will not give sleep to mine eyes, or slumber to mine eyelids
> Until I find out a place for the LORD, an habitation for the mighty God of Jacob. (Psalms 132:3-5)

And then the Lord responds to his servant identifying the resting place as Mount Zion [a type of the Church].

> For the LORD hath chosen Zion; he hath desired it for his habitation
> This is my rest for ever: here will I dwell; for I have desired it. (Psalms 132:13-14)

We often speak of the church as the body of Christ or as the House of God. According to these examples the construction of the House [temple] doesn't begin till the foundation is laid. Likewise, the assembly and following growth of the body doesn't begin till the head comes to its resting place. Ephesians 2:21 speaks of t*he building fitly framed together* growing into a holy temple
David never actually built the temple. All he could do is gather the materials. The actual construction didn't begin till after his death, that is after he [a type of Messiah] went to his resting place.

The Timing

So when does all this take place? In the End times at the beginning of the third day.
Psalm 2 indicates it will be a time when all the world turns against God's people.

Revelation 14 shows it taking place during events foretold in the book of Revelation, especially when his followers will go wherever he leads.
Zechariah 4 speaks of the mountain becoming a plain [humbled], making a place for the headstone to rest.
Psalm 133 shows it's when brothers come to dwell together in unity.
Matthew 8 tells us it's when The Lord enters his place of rest, his disciples follow him and great storms arise outside.

> . . . and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. (Matthew 16:18)

Summary

How can we claim that the church is not yet built or the body not assembled? Well clearly the members or parts are not yet in their proper place doing their intended functions. Now this is seen just by observing the state of the church. All we have today is a collection of building materials or body parts waiting to be put in place.
But some may say that we are not to trust in what we see but in what the bible says about the church. This is a common place approach. Many preach and teach things that are seen in the Word but not seen in practice. To the outsider this will look like foolishness, hypocrisy or just plain stupidity.
In general we have lots of scripture that describe how we in the church are supposed to be, yet [except once in a while] we are not that way. This body of scripture is usually present in tense, but only occasionally present in our experience.

For example: If the Holy Spirit is supposed to lead us into all truth, how is it that all these people who claim to have the Holy Ghost can never agree among themselves? Because the scripture is not yet fulfilled.

So when will it be fulfilled? When all the rest of this happens.

> Thy watchmen shall lift up the voice; with the voice together shall they sing: for they shall see eye to eye, when the LORD shall bring again Zion. (Isaiah 52:8)

But what I'm suggesting is our problem lies in the literal approach to biblical interpretation. We think we're supposed to have it all, when all we really have is the down payment. The steak is on the grill but all we have so far is a whiff of the aroma.
What we really have is a body of scripture that is prophetic. It is present tense but really points to the future. It is describing how the church is supposed to be and how Christians are supposed to act.

But that's not how we are, it's how we will become when all this takes place; when we are revived or redeemed. It is unfulfilled prophetic scripture, but we normally don't realize that. It has been sealed till the time of the end.

Here is an example of one of those scriptures that are present tense but are actually unfulfilled prophecy.

> But ye are come unto mount Sion, and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to an innumerable company of angels
> To the general assembly and church of the firstborn, which are written in heaven, and to God the Judge of all, and to the spirits of just men made perfect,
> And to Jesus the mediator of the new covenant, and to the blood of sprinkling, that speaketh better things than that of Abel. (Hebrews 12:22-24)

And another example:

> But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should show forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light: (1 Peter 2:9)

The Kingdom of God

Here's a very brief definition: The Kingdom of God is wherever God is King.
Guess what shape you will find in a diagram of the Kingdom? The triangle. The Kingdom of God is just another name for the Church!
The building of the church is the beginning of the kingdom of God, on earth. And the growth of the church is the spread of the kingdom. [As in the Stone becoming a Great Mountain.]

> And when he was demanded of the Pharisees, when the kingdom of God should come, he answered them and said, The kingdom of God cometh not with observation:
> Neither shall they say, Lo here! or, lo there! for, behold, the kingdom of God is within you. (Luke 17:21)

If the body is not assembled till the head comes to its resting place, and if the temple construction doesn't start till the foundation is laid, when do you think the kingdom comes? When the King is set in place on the Holy Hill [Psalm 2]

> > And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: . . . . (Revelation 12:10)

So now how would you define the Kingdom of God?
Righteousness, Peace and Joy in the Holy Ghost, that's another triangle.

> > Arise, O LORD, into thy rest; thou, and the ark of thy strength.
> > Let thy priests be clothed with righteousness; and let thy saints shout for joy. (Psalms 132:8-9)

> For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink; but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost. (Romans 14:17)

As I write this, in the summer of 2000, we are in the beginning of the third day. We read reports and prophecies that the manchild has come forth and the apostles are being gathered and that judgment is imminent. Get ready to look up for our redemption is coming. God has started to fulfill this word and confirm his covenant.
The Kingdom comes when the King comes The Kingdom comes where the King comes. That is when the King comes to his resting place in the midst of his people.

> In that day it shall be said to Jerusalem, Fear thou not: and to Zion, Let not thine hands be slack.
>
> The LORD thy God in the midst of thee is mighty; he will save, he will rejoice over thee with joy; he will rest in his love, he will joy over thee with singing.
> I will gather them that are sorrowful for the solemn assembly, who are of thee, to whom the reproach of it was a burden.
> Behold, at that time I will undo all that afflict thee: and I will save her that halteth, and gather her that was driven out; and I will get them praise and fame in every land where they have been put to shame.
> At that time will I bring you again, even in the time that I gather you: for I will make you a name and a praise among all people of the earth, when I turn back your captivity before your eyes, saith the LORD. (Zephaniah 3:16-20)

Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God.

That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit.
Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born again.
The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one that is born of the Spirit. (John 3:5-8)

The Harvest and The Tithe

by Bill Somers

Sometime in the early 90's an email correspondent got me involved in a discussion of Calvinism, hyper Calvinism etc. One of the issues as I recall was the effect of Jesus work of atonement on the cross. Or in other words, did Jesus die for all mankind or not? And is Jesus work of atonement, that paid the price for our sin, sufficient for our salvation? Or is there something man must do to be saved?

If Jesus died for all, and if his death is sufficient for salvation, then all would be saved, the thinking goes. If his death is not sufficient and man is required to do something extra, then salvation is by works! Now we know that this cannot be! So we are led to believe that Jesus did not die for all, only for the Elect. Hence, 'predestinationism', the idea that only those who are predestined will be saved, and 'irresistable' grace, the idea that the predestined ones will be saved whether they want to be or not. From there it is a short hop to thinking that there are some people who just aren't meant to be saved. And then we start to close down our evangelistic efforts!

Now without really getting deep into this, let me make just a couple comments.

This is a great example of applying man's wisdom to God's word. You get led into a theological Black Hole! There is a 'principle' of bible study called the law of paradoxical truth, and this is an example of it. Jesus died for all, yet all do not get saved.

Several years later, the Lord showed me a portion of scripture that said the same things in figurative terms.

> And as he entered into a certain village, there met him ten men that were lepers, which stood afar off: Luke 17:12
> And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, and with a loud voice glorified God,... Luke 17:15
> And Jesus answering said, Were there not ten cleansed? but where are the nine? Luke 17:17

The village represents the world; His entering into it represents His first coming, the incarnation. As leprosy is a type of sin, we see that Jesus' cleansing the lepers speaks of His dying for our sin, yet only 1 out of the 10 came to him. This is a way of saying Jesus died for all, yet only 1 out of 10 are saved.

This is God's tithe.

> And all the tithe of the land, whether of the seed of the land, or of the fruit of the tree, is the LORD'S: it is holy unto the LORD Le 27:30.
> And concerning the tithe of the herd, or of the flock, even of whatsoever passeth under the rod, the tenth shall be holy unto the LORD. Le 27:32

In terms of prophetic typology, the tithe of the land, the tithe of the fruit, and the tithe of the flock all represent the tithe of mankind. These verses speak of holiness and separation unto the Lord. The rod is the shepherds rod showing that He judges this tithe to be acceptable in his sight.

I take this to mean that the Lord will take ten percent of human population throughout all history. That is of all the people who ever lived or are living today, ten percent will be saved.

According to Rick Joyner, speaking on the Harvest, the Lord intends to take well over 10 percent of the worlds population in this end time harvest.

According to the testimony of Howard Pittman, today's rate of salvation is two and one half percent. [Howard had a death and resurrection experience, in the 80's, in which he was shown many things in the spirit, one of these is the small number of those who get saved compared to those who die in any given time period.]

This rate of two and 1/2 percent must have been far lower in earlier periods of history. In ancient times and in the dark ages, the rate must have been far lower. This leads me to believe that most of this tithe that will be saved will be saved in these last days and the rate will approach near to 20 percent. This will make up for the many centuries when the rate was far less that 10 percent. Don't forget, the world population was also far lower then. Only in this century have we seen a vast growth in world population. Some say that there are more people alive now than have ever lived. So God is taking almost all of His tithe from the world population at the end of the 20th century.

There is no way the Church in its present condition can deal with such a harvest. But I am confident that the Lord will not leave the Church in its present condition. The Church He is looking for includes those about to be harvested and we know He intends to "present it to himself a glorious church, not having spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish." Ephesians 5:27

> This is the LORD'S doing; it is marvellous in our eyes. Ps 118:23

The Hourglass Is Flipped and Pouring

Cyndee Pillow

April 6, 2005

I sat in an office the other day for a long time waiting for MY TIME TO ARRIVE TO BE CALLED IN. As I sat there WAITING and WATCHING for SUCH A LONG TIME, my EYES BEGAN TO WONDER around the room. I was LOOKING for SOMETHING to do to PASS the TIME.

On a desk sat an hourglass fitted into a holder. This would allow a person to use one finger to flip it over and start the POURING of the SAND. I flipped the hourglass intending to watch until the sand all poured through. As I WAS WATCHING, I grew bored. I LOOKED AWAY to FIND SOMETHING ELSE TO DO. I picked up a magazine, and THINKING I HAD PLENTY OF TIME TO LOOK AWAY for just a minute, I read a very short article. To MY SURPRISE, when I LOOKED UP AGAIN, I HAD MISSED IT!

The SANDS OF TIME HAD RUN OUT when I WASN'T EXPECTING IT! I MISSED IT BECAUSE MY EYES WERE DIVERTED AND LOOKING IN ANOTHER PLACE.

I had intended to watch until the sand sifted away, but I grew tired of waiting and watching, and when my eyes were diverted, it happened.

I missed it!

"But of that day and that hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels which are in heaven, neither the Son, but the Father Take ye heed, watch and pray: for ye know not when the time is. For the sun of man is as a man taking a far journey, who left his house, and gave authority to his servants, and to every man his work, and commanded the porter to watch.

Watch ye therefore: for ye know not when the master of the house cometh, at even, or at midnight, or at the cockcrowing, or in the morning: Lest coming suddenly he find you sleeping. And what I say unto you I say unto all, WATCH."
Mark 13:32-37

The Hourglass is flipped and pouring and will run out sooner than we think.

Watch!

"The Third Day" in Prophecy

by Bill Somers

There is a special significance to the term 'third day' as it is used in scripture. This phrase is found 67 times in the Bible. I find that in most cases it has a spiritual or allegorical meaning related to end time prophecy.

First Principles

To see this you have to understand several basic ideas: God's week, the last days and the first principles of the oracles of God. Hebrews chapter 5 makes reference to "the first principles of the oracles of God", saying in effect that to be skillful in understanding the Word, you must know these first principles. The writer of Hebrews does not directly state these principles. He does indicate two levels of understanding. The unskillful is compared to a babe taking milk, the skillful, to one of full age who partakes of strong meat. This is to contrast the immature with the mature and the natural with the spiritual. The deep things of God are spiritual, and must be discerned by the spirit. That is the word is to be understood in its spiritual meaning. Therefore there is potentially a spiritual meaning to the term 'third day'. Another key principle is found is 1st Corinthians. "Now all these things happened unto them for ensamples: and they are written for our admonition, upon whom the ends of the world are come." 1 Cor. 10:11. Briefly, this tells us that there is an 'end-time' application to be found throughout scripture. Specifically, it tells us that this term 'third day' might be understood in the context of the end times.

God's Week

Now what is God's week and what does it have to do with the end times? Simply put, God's week is the notion that God's timeline since the creation of Adam, is divided into seven, one thousand year periods. See Ps. 90:4 and 2nd Pet. 3:8. Each of these one thousand year periods can correspond to a day in a week. Thus from Adam to Abraham are two 'days', from Abraham to Jesus are two 'days', from Jesus till now are two 'days', and the coming millennium will be the last 'day'. It will be the seventh or Sabbath day of God's week.

The Last Days

Now the term 'last days' or 'latter days' is sometimes taken to mean the time period from the day of Pentecost till today; that is the so-called 'church age'. Sometimes it can mean the interval just before the second coming of the Lord. Looking at the first definition, you can see that the last days would then mean the last three days of God's week. And that the third day would be the last day. That is to say, when we are speaking in context of the last days, the 'third day' is the millennium! Thus the 'third day' is the 'seventh day'. To confirm this you can find several references in scripture that link the 'third day' with the 'seventh day'. For example: "He shall purify himself with it on the third day, and on the seventh day he shall be clean: but if he purify not himself the third day, then the seventh day he shall not be clean." (Num 19:12 KJV) See also Num. 19:19 and 31:19. Our conclusion then is that references to the third day in scripture will very often have a prophetic meaning that speaks of the millennium.

Examples

How about some examples. "And be ready against the third day: for the third day the LORD will come down in the sight of all the people upon mount Sinai." (Ex. 19:11 KJV) The end time interpretation of this is that it refers to the second coming when 'every eye shall see him'.

"After two days will he revive us: in the third day he will raise us up, and we shall live in his sight." (Hosea 6:2 KJV) The end time interpretation of this is that it refers to the resurrection, when the dead in Christ shall be raised up.

"And the third day there was a marriage in Cana of Galilee; and the mother of Jesus was there: And both Jesus was called, and his disciples, to the marriage." (John 2:1-2 KJV) This can be seen as a reference to the marriage supper of the Lamb. Note that the bridegroom and bride are not mentioned or named but that Jesus and his disciples, the church, are. Here is another reference using 'third day'.

"Then on the third day Abraham lifted up his eyes, and saw the place afar off." (Gen 22:4 KJV) What can this possibly have to do with the end times? If you check this verse in context, you will see that the place referred to is Mt. Moriah. This is where he was to sacrifice his son Isaac. It is the site that the Temple would be built on; and it thereby refers to Jerusalem, the holy city, also. Now consider this verse from Hebrews, speaking of Abraham. "For he looked for a city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God." (Heb 11:10 KJV) This could easily remind one of the passage in Revelations where John sees the Holy City 'afar off'. "And I John saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband." (Rev 21:2 KJV) This certainly is "a city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God." Now lets look at what Jesus has to say on this subject: "Your father Abraham rejoiced to see my day: and he saw it, and was glad." (John 8:56 KJV) In this passage, the phrase 'my day' could mean the time of Jesus' earthly ministry, or it could mean the Lord's Day, or the Day of the Lord. So what was it that Abraham saw by faith? He saw the City of God and the Day of the Lord. And this is exactly what John the revelator sees by vision, for he begins his vision telling us "I was in the Spirit on the Lord's day, ..." (Rev 1:10 KJV) Which day is the Lord's day? The Day of the Lord. Which day is that? The third day! Abraham, by his obedience, acting in faith, went to sacrifice his son Isaac. This action would ultimately result in God's final victory in the Book of Revelation. So to say "Then on the third day Abraham lifted up his eyes, and saw the place afar off." has prophetic meaning. He lifted up his eyes means he saw prophetically the day of the Lord and the New Jerusalem! Here he is a type of God the Father, who saw the end before the beginning, when He sacrificed His son, Jesus.

Let's look back at a verse we quoted earlier. "He shall purify himself with it on the third day, and on the seventh day he shall be clean: but if he purify not himself the third day, then the seventh day he shall not be clean." (Num 19:12 KJV) Consider not only how this links the third day with the seventh day, but the ideas of cleanliness and purification. These speak of sanctification or holiness. Now recall what the law says about the seventh day: "Remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy." (Ex. 20:8 KJV) What this tells us is that this coming day must be a day of holiness for the church. She must become a "holy city, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband." Earlier we mentioned that God sees the end from the beginning. You can find this principle right in the very beginning of the bible. "And God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it: because that in it he had rested from all his work which God created and made." (Gen 2:3 KJV)

Conclusion

In conclusion, the 'third day', is a reference, in many passages, not necessarily all, to the end times. It means the third thousand year period since the birth of Jesus. It is the prophetic Sabbath. The Lords day and the Day of the Lord. It is the millennium where: "Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: on such the second death hath no power, but they shall be priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with him a thousand years." (Rev 20:6 KJV) "This is the day which the LORD hath made; we will rejoice and be glad in it." (Ps. 118:24 KJV)

"As the deer panteth for the water…" (Ps. 42:1)

Beloved, are you athirst for the things of God? Or, have you allowed the cares of this world to choke out My Word? Do you not know that the "things" your soul craves can only be satisfied by My Word?

The deer leaps from mountain top to mountain top, taking time only to graze in the valleys. He becomes spent, in need of refreshing…athirst for streams of cool, clear, water with which to quench his thirst. As the Psalmist said: "My heart panteth, my strength faileth me; as for the light of mine eyes, it is also gone from me." (Ps. 38:10)

The light of your eyes may have grown dim, so you can no longer see clearly the path you are to travel. Beloved, you have traveled long and hard on this journey of life, and at times you are exhausted…in need of sustenance and springs of living water for your thirsty soul. Set yourself apart now to gather new strength and power from My Word. Allow your heart to pant after the water brooks, even as the deer did. (See Ps. 42:1) Drink deeply of the fountain of life. For, how can you know the next course to take without direction from My Word? Through meditation on My Word, you will gain strength to mount up to greater heights.

Bask in My presence and feast on My promises. You will discover that "…out of your innermost being shall flow rivers of living water" (See John 7:38), which you can then impart to other travelers athirst for righteousness, peace, and joy.

The Hurricane Katrina Aftermath Prophetic Vision

Kato Mivule

August 30, 2005

My prayers go out to all those who have lost loved ones and are affected by Hurricane Katrina. Yesterday August 29, 2005, I was in prayer seeking God's Face for the meaning of the Katrina Hurricane Disaster. I listened to some News Media as the Hurricane hit The Gulf Coast area and some News Reporters were saying that the apocalyptic disaster that was expected had not happed and that New Orleans had been spared a catastrophe. The Lord then spoke to me in a small still voice and said, "they are lying, New Orleans has not be spared". A heavy burden lay upon me yesterday August 29, 2005 that disaster had hit New Orleans and I knew then something was wrong with the News Reports. The Lord had me pray for the elect down in the Gulf Coast Area.

As I was waiting on the evening hours on August 29, 2005, The Lord gave me a vision where I was taken down to New Orleans and into a huge Church building that looked like the superdome but much smaller. The building was torn apart by the hurricane and the walls and roof torn apart and destroyed. All the expensive Church property was totally destroyed. I met the Pastor of the Church who was salvaging for some reason clothing in the destroyed Church wreckage.

He told me, "The Lord has sent this wind because of the Church in Louisiana. He has specifically sent this wind to tear us apart. We are torn apart, we have nothing left. The Lord who has torn us apart will heal us. The Lord sent His wind to tear us down and leave us with nothing and we torn down. The Lord has torn us apart and He will heal us."

The Pastor continued with the mumblings out of sorrow those same words, " He has torn us apart, He will heal us", as he picked rags of clothes from the destroyed church as this was the only valuables he could salvage. After this I remembered the scripture…

Hosea 6:1-3
[1] Come, and let us return unto the LORD: for he hath torn, and he will heal us; he hath smitten, and he will bind us up. [2] After two days will he revive us: in the third day he will raise us up, and we shall live in his sight. [3] Then shall we know, if we follow on to know the LORD: his going forth is prepared as the morning; and he shall come unto us as the rain, as the latter and former rain unto the earth.

After this vision, I thought to myself that the vision was just speaking only prophetically in a futuristic sense because the reports were that no serious damage had been done in New Orleans. The Lord then reminded me again that disaster was happening despite what the media reported. The Lord said to me, “the City will Flood”.

I pray that Christians in America will allow The Lord to speak to their hearts through this disaster and that we shall not harden our hearts to the dealings of The Lord with us. He has torn us and will continue to do so with more disasters but He has promised to heal us if we shall return to Him in Humility and cry out to Him for Salvation. More Natural disasters loom for the West Coast and great humbling are coming to the way of the West Coast.

The Lord God Himself is orchestrating this, He will tare this nation apart but to those who will return to Him, He will be gracious and merciful to heal. The message is a warning to The American Church not to sleep but awake and return to her First Love with Jesus Christ; the times of great trials are upon America and will increase greatly that the hearts of America’s Princes will fail.

This is a time to totally give our selves to Love The Lord. It is a time to love our neighbours as we love our selves. Send a prayer and give to those in need affected by these disasters, let The Lord lead you and remember He who gives to the poor lends to The Lord.

God Bless You All
Grace and Peace In Christ Jesus

The Hour of Change is Now Coming

Sara DeMeulenaere

(sldemeul@yahoo.com)
Fri, 17 Jun 2005

This day the Lord has awoken me to this message... Open the scroll and eat of my truth this day daughter...and Hosea's truths were for you this day !!....It is from Hosea 4 and 5 that I am to speak this message to the house of Israel, by the word of the Lord.

I am about to turn the priesthood of Ichabod over and the honor of my house shall be restored unto my chosen priests.

They will not play the part of the prostitute any longer and I will consume with fire the lineage of the false.. the family of the rotted root and the disdain of the earth are being relieved of this murderous hold over my household of faith now.....

The times are mine saith the Lord....do not sit upon a throne that is not set for you any longer you haughty and deceptive ones...who call yourself the heirs of the earth that I created, or my spokesman.

You will not win the prize for your murders...for pouring liquor upon the bosom of my people and plundering their treasures.

Think not that your works will not follow you and find you out... for the acts of your hands will chase after you and overtake you and expose the rotting flesh upon your bones......

Stand for your day of judgment is upon you...and I the Lord of the heavens will consume you with the fires of my redeeming nature for your folly over the nations.

I let only the power of my forgiveness flow over those that will walk into it and for all that choose to ignore my prophets and my spokesman, I will now expose their entrails to the birds of the air......

Run, but you will not hide any longer....for my words will pursue you to the uttermost parts of the earth.

I am coming with a fiery blast to purge my creation and set the captives free over this land. It is my day saith the Lord.....and I will restore to my faithful house the place of dignity, of strength and of my pasture to plant a new ; to sustain life, to build my kingdom....

Walk ye into the fires of my justice now....walk into my house of praise now, walk into my place of safety now, for the power of my hand will hold you a new to moor you to the anchor of the faith......

The best is yet to come....saith the Lord of heaven.. as I set my season of redemption now upon my own.!!

Watch as I turn over the nations and bring down from high places the idols and treacheries of the evil ones as I set my own in heavenly roles for this new Hour....Seek to be in only my place for you now. For my ear has heard your cries and my heart is with those that bow to me and me alone !!!

Seek Your place now...I hold it out to you if you will only run unto me....!!

The Hollow Of His Hand
Hollie Moody

(May 1, 2005)

Isaiah 40:12 ~~ "Who hath measured the waters in the hollow of his hand, and meted out heaven with the span, and comprehended the dust of the earth in a measure, and weighed the mountains in scales, and the hills in a balance?"

In a vision, I saw a large, cupped hand. It was a right hand, not a left hand. In my spirit, I sensed that this hand was the hand of the Lord. This large, cupped hand was held out over the face of the entire earth.

"Look into My hand," I heard a voice (the Lord's voice) instruct me.

In the vision, I found myself crawling slowly and carefully up the large hand until I reached the top of the hand. I looked down into the palm of this hand. To my surprise, I saw that the Lord's hand contained multitudes of people.

"Go down and join these people," the Lord said to me.

I began to lower myself carefully into the palm of the Lord, but slipped. I landed in the palm of the Lord with all the others. I began to glance around at all the people who were around me. Some of the people were very calm, and were resting and at peace in the palm of the Lord. But I saw other people who appeared confused, upset and frightened about where they were.

Some of the people who were confused about where they were, were attempting to climb up the inside of the hand of the Lord. But they kept slipping as I had done, and would only fall back down into the palm of the Lord. These people were getting more and more confused, and more and more frightened.

Then, a shadow fell inside the Lord's palm. With everyone else, I quickly glanced upwards to see what was causing the shadow. I was surprised to see that the Lord had raised His left hand to place it over and above His right hand.

The people who were already confused and frightened, became even more so when the Lord cupped His left hand over His right hand. They began to cry out and were in great distress.

The rest of the people in the palm of the Lord continued to remain calm and at peace.

Then, the sounds of a great storm came to the ears of all of us who were in the palm of the Lord. The sound of the storm was originating from the east. Even though the Lord had cupped His left hand over His right hand, rain was drenching those of us at the bottom of the palm of His right hand.

As the storm continued to rage, all of us in the Lord's right hand huddled close together. Even though we were all getting wet from the storm, we knew we were being protected by God's other hand from the full force and fury of the storm.

Finally, the sound of the storm abated. As some of the people began to once again attempt to climb up the inside of the Lord's hand, I heard the Lord exclaim, "Prepare yourselves; for it is not over yet! Remain in My hand and You will be saved. Fear not, for I am a refuge for all who trust in Me.

"As I have poured out My fury and indignation upon one area of the earth, even so will I pour out My judgment upon other areas of the earth that have forsaken My laws and judgments. For I am a just and righteous God; without partiality. As My judgment has struck in one nation, so will it strike in other wicked nations who have forsaken to follow My ways and My counsel."

Then, another storm struck. One storm after the other struck in an almost seemingly unending succession. During these storms, other people continued to drop into the palm of the Lord's hand. They were of every nationality and race. They joined those of us at the bottom of the Lord's hand, and sought and found shelter with us.

What seemed a very long time later, the sounds of the storms ceased. Suddenly, bright light shone into the shadowed recesses of the Lord's palm. Those of us in the bottom of the palm of the Lord glanced upwards. We saw that the Lord had removed His left hand from sheltering those of us cupped within His right hand.

Then, slowly and carefully, the Lord stretched out His right hand so that it was held out flat. Those of us who had been huddling in the palm of the Lord, were now able to stand upright. As we gazed out upon the earth, we were amazed and stricken at the devastation that met our eyes.

Whole areas of the earth had been destroyed.

"Before each time of My judgment upon a particular area of the earth," I heard the Lord say, "I will raise up My prophets to proclaim that judgment. I will give warning both to the righteous and to the unrighteous. Whether the people will hear, or whether they will not hear; I will not allow My judgments to fall without warning. I will no longer wink at sinful and unrighteous nations. I have given warning beforehand so that when it comes to pass, all may remember and believe."

The Heart Of Intercession Is A Heart Of Martyrdom

Subject: Heart Of Martyrdom

Note by Priscilla Van Sutphin

PLEASE READ THIS ONE CAREFULLY and CONTEMPLATIVELY! This is MOST precious truth unto salvation and healing from the enemy of death, and fear of death. Years ago when married, my husband had a dream that we were called to go quickly to Russia. And we never came back he said. Out of my spirit came " TO LIVE IS CHRIST, To die is GAIN !" It did not come from my thoughts, but from my spirit man. I had a dream years ago of being beheaded in a dry and arid sandy place as my son was watching the blade of a guillotine come down on my head. Each time I go overseas, I am aware it's possible I could not return. I know that ONLY when it is HIS time for me to go, will He take me home. Until then, I am in His hands. Then I will be in His arms..:).
PTL !
Witness in the following verse means martyr !
NT:3143
KJV - take to record, testify.
martus (mar'-toos); of uncertain affinity; a witness (literally [judicially] or figuratively [genitive case]); by analogy, a "martyr": KJV - martyr, record, witness. The Heart Of Intercession Is A Heart Of Martyrdom
Luz C Cintron

Dear Sister,

Remember how I said in the explanation of The Intercessor, that part of the ministry of Intercession as standing in the gap was to absorb part of the wrath of God part of His judgment? I said that I was not clear about how that was but a sense of truth called me into that mystery. I think I have seen a little further into that.

Since yesterday the Lord has been speaking to me about the heart of martyrdom. The early church's heart was one of a martyr. Even though not all of them died as martyrs, all of them lived as one. Mary's lifestyle was the lifestyle of a martyr. He showed me, that the reason why she was able to say "Be it unto me!" was because all in her life has already been surrendered and decisions in her life were only the embracing of His will. She had no decisions except to say "Amen!" and that is all she does when Gabriel speaks to her.

I feel that the problem I have, and many like me in the west, is that we know too much and live too little. The Gospel costs us almost nothing and grace is not a clear concept, instead of the reality it should be, to empower us into obedience and obedience into death is very distorted and difficult to understand because of our lifestyle (meaning my lifestyle). We all are dying, (believers and nonbelievers as well) what matters is how we do it. He brought unto me the scripture of Genesis 4:10

"And he said, What hast thou done? the voice of thy brother's blood crieth unto me from the ground. "

All blood that is spilled cries from the ground to the Lord. Because life, which was the gift of God, proceeding from Him, given into Adam's nostrils in the very breath of God, is in the blood, when it is spilled it cries unto Him. Life is a very holy thing unto Him, but that is another subject.

Here I saw that the blood spilled cries unto Him in His very presence. When Christ died one of His last words was "Forgive them, for they do not know what they are doing!"

Many people say that because the Jews cried that the blood of Christ were upon themselves and their descendants that they had cursed themselves and that was the reason for which anti-Semitism and extermination of their race had followed them. I don't think so. The enemy has tried extermination long before Christ was born. The book of Genesis (Cain and Abel), Exodus, Esther and every book of the old testament for that purpose, proves it. But I am beginning to see something here. Sometime ago I wrote an article on this in which I said that there was a correlation of the sufferings of Christ and the sufferings of Israel.

In the sufferings of Christ we were saved, in the sufferings of Israel all the nations are blessed. (Rom 11:15 "For if the casting away of them [be] the reconciling of the world, what [shall] the receiving [of them be], but life from the dead? ") That the day was coming in which they would recognize Him and identify with Him because they have suffered alike to bring the will of the Father to earth.

When Christ died He cried and I believe that if He was dying for the sins of mankind, and He was in absolute obedience giving His last drop of blood, I believe that the heart of the Father was not only moved but apprehended by the Son, and that as He was dying for the sins of the world it is impossible that the Father would have any other response to His petition than "You got it!" I can not picture the Father saying, "Yes, well, OK, you are dying for the sins of mankind and I will forgive all mankind, but regarding these Jews they need to learn their lesson, and I will hold their collective little feet to the fire until they come to their senses."

Christ was absorbing Gods wrath in Himself that we would not have to. He was the first to show the heart of martyrdom to its fullest expression. The intercessor has a call into martyrdom. We can't pray from the periphery, we are called to stand in the gap. We need to live in such surrender that every act is an act of death unto self and yielding unto Life, that is Christ our Way, Truth and Life, to become an open door to His will and ministry. We are given to see His heart for a nation, a matter, a people, a time, and then we are offered to pour ourselves as He did. John said in 1 John 4:17.

"Herein is our love made perfect, that we may have boldness in the day of judgment: because as he is, so are we in this world."

The boldness of Christ was shown in the cross, in the face of His enemies, that He did not yield to the wisdom from below, but even then, He remained quoting the scriptures and before dying He asked boldly the total and complete forgiveness of His executioners. That is boldness. When we see the heart of God in a matter then we receive with it the vision to ask boldly but it will remain empty words if we speak only from knowledge, as one who quotes scriptures and promises. The life of the intercessor makes a difference because it is a life that is already pouring itself unto death so that others may live. It is a life molded into His image to become as He is to this world. Is a life that knows its ending and its purpose, to give itself as He gave Himself. The glory of the intercessor is the sharing of the crown of thorns that He bore for us, the bearing of the shame of the cross in our lives, its rejection and even its death, crucified in our self with Him that we may live not for ourselves but for those He came to save.

The church was edified in the blood of the martyrs because their blood cried out constantly not a cry of vengeance but a cry of mercy as Christ did. Mercy and Judgment are the two sides of the coin of the righteousness of God. There can be no mercy without judgment, and there is no righteous judgment without mercy. Only in God these two are balanced and perfectly bonded completing each other to reflect His glory. We do not know of this balance because we do not know perfect love that cast out fear.

I suspect that is the reason why John speaks of a boldness when he wrote that scripture. It is the boldness of Love, Perfect Love, that is Christ. These are things that can not be discerned in the natural for they pertain to the wisdom from above. Such was the wisdom with which Christ armed Himself to dispossess and uproot, rulers, principalities and the powers of the air at the cross where He exhibited them defeated.

I believe that as the time nears of His return, the bride will be given a revival of the heart of martyrdom. Total consecration demands it. It is not only how we live. We need to understand that surrender is not complete if we do not lose the fear of death. Because our deaths are a holy thing unto the Father. Psalm 116:15

"Precious in the sight of the LORD [is] the death of his saints. "

We need to offer Him not only to live for Him as He may chose us to live but to use of our death to glorify Himself too. It is not enough that we live to glorify Him we must be willing to surrender our way of dying as well, that He may chose the way in which we are to die so that His name receive the most glory.

For months it has been the cry of the Spirit within that He does not allow my life to be in vain. For years fear kept me from meaning the timid prayer that started to rise in me, to give Him not only my life but also my death, to make a difference and to use, as He would see fit. Oh, I prayed in fear and in weakness but lately it has been becoming a cry almost a need to see it come to pass. Perfect love cast out fear, I have been so fearful of this. To surrender not only my life and death, but also the life and death of my children is not an easy thing.

After many years I have come to understand that all of our lives are lost if they are not surrendered in such a way. We shall die anyway, we must then travail in prayer that our lives and our deaths, be used by Him to make a difference. It is only death. For years the thought of beheading and the wondering of what it would be to see my own body detached from my head, how it would feel, how long can the brain live without oxygen? Scary isn't it? Or the fires, how would it feel to be burn alive or to see these things done in my loved ones. Then I am starting to understand, that is just the door. It will not last long. Like giving birth the first time, it is scary but then when the right time approaches it becomes something we long for and the pain is just something that announces the new life emerging from within. It is His glory.

"Now is my soul troubled; and what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour: but for this cause came I unto this hour. Father, glorify thy name. Then came there a voice from heaven, [saying], I have both glorified [it], and will glorify [it] again." John12:27-28

The ministry of Intercession in the Bride of Christ is about to be renewed to reflect the glory of the Son of God. It will also be invested with power from above as Christ was, when we, united to our head in heaven, cry with His voice at once:

"But I have a baptism to be baptized with; and how am I straitened till it be accomplished! " Luke 12:50

That is love, that is travail, that is effective intercession. It is done and He did it. From then on, all that is left for us to do, is to become doors to His heart, to effect the will of the Father among us by following Him in His grace.

Grace and peace be upon you, luz.

Little Love Song
Luz Cintron

All of them are gone.
Not a single friend.
The north winds are colder than usual ministering strength. So I give You thanks.

All of them are gone
only You remain.
Their void is the shadow that defines your light their absence companion that shows where You are.
Bless those that have blessed me by wounding my heart love was never sweeter peace never so bright.

My beloved refuge
How would I have known that there is a faithful heart that loves me so if they had not left me?
So I give You thanks.

The death of the winter speaks of other deaths but none is so dearly behold as a friend
as the one who leads me right into Your door, calling me to lay down in the tomb You laid.
So I give you thanks

Where ever I wonder in thoughts of despair
the cross leads me surely to your sweet embrace my eyes seek out Yours where I long to be where death turns to life and loss into gain pain goes into sweetness despair into hope loneliness to solitude can I want for more?

So I give you thanks.

So I give you thanks
from your wounded side my refuge and stronghold your wounding provides
I thank you for being so given to me for standing and knocking and for coming in,

Coming in to rescue coming in to hold coming in to show me love above all love.
I behold your patience and your faithfulness and I thank You Jesus for this simple pain that reveals my weakness to unveil Your strength.

So I give you thanks.
Thank you my old friend!

The River

"Do not put out the Spirit's fire." 1 Thessalonians 5:19

"It is for freedom that Christ has set us free. Stand firm then, and do not let yourselves be burdened again by a yoke of slavery." Galatians 5:1

"Follow the way of love and eagerly desire spiritual gifts, especially the gift of prophecy. When you come together, everyone has a hymn, or a word of instruction, a revelation, a tongue, or an interpretation. All of these must be done for the strengthening of the church. Two or three prophets should speak …. Be eager to prophesy, and do not forbid speaking in tongues. But everything should be done in a fitting and orderly way." 1 Corinthians 14

"Now to each one the manifestation of the Spirit is given for the common good … the message of wisdom, to another the message of knowledge, faith, gifts of healing, miraculous powers, prophecy, distinguishing between spirits, speaking in different kinds of tongues, interpretation. All these are the work of one and the same Spirit, and He gives them to each one, just as He determines. In the church God has appointed first of all apostles, prophets, teachers, workers of miracles, gifts of healing, those able to help others, administrators, speakers of tongues …. But eagerly desire the greater gifts." 1 Corinthians 12

"Another one bites the dust" Queen

And so I stood outside the wooden water mill. The land was dry – and I think that the River was piling up – a short way upstream – ready for some kind of onslaught. The tidal wave was absolutely massive – that tidal wave was so beautiful and loving and mighty – and that gorgeous green/blue colour – that I thirsted to run back and dive into its heart again smile. There may have been a small trickle of a stream where I was – but not really enough to power the wheel. I feel that there was some sort of activity deep underground also – a rumbling.

Inside the Mill – some of the children were treading the wheel under the whips and stares of the guards. Bleeding, malnourished, dirty, scared, lost, imprisoned and lonely. This was not a particular church – as such – but more of a certain "system" of church. And my heart was here – feeling their pain – as well as being in the River and at the Mountain-top.

There was a wolf guarding a massive strong-room of Treasure and gemstones near the entrance. I think the treasures were people's Kingdom destinies.

"Where you walk – the River is not really welcome, Tim. It is strictly controlled, and they do not really trust those who claim to love it. They will separate you from your greatest treasures and keep them in the strong room. They will put you to work on a treadmill that should be powered by the River – or just leave you to rot in a corner. They also fear that if people see the wheel not turning they will leave. This is a dangerous place – potentially – but as long as your heart is in the Heights – you will walk here safely – and come and go as a free man. There may be River churches coming in your land – that I haven't shown you yet – so do not fear that you are alone."

"Lord – those children down in the dungeons below? … And He just closed His eyes and sighed – and touched my heart …. you know.

And I knew just to wait in this Mill – and pray – and watch – and give people cups of water as I could – and spread some of the love of the River. Then I had an idea – and started to go to the treasure room – and take a Jewel – go to a person and say things like; “Friend, here is your jewel that the guardians didn’t see in you – I think the Lord is saying that you were created to be an evangelist, or a seer, or a healer , teacher, intercessor, watchman etc.…… there are visions and tongues and burdens and discernment within you … here … see?.“

I hope that some jewels were ingested and began to glow in their hearts. One guy knocked my offering to the ground – and proudly showing me a large factory where he worked – “No! – your foolish jewels and rivers – this is where I work – after all we all work for the factory Owner anyway. ….” I did not want to see his factory, “Give me a break! Too much pollution and waste ….”

I picked it up from the dust – and it seemed to have become a large teardrop – or a flower. Another lost Destiny. “Plant it outside in this garden, Tim. … it is good for you to here – these are your own people. And many of My Bridal company are among the slaves and also amongst the leaders.”

I needed to learn how much was activity for me – and how much was observation and intercession. I sent a lot of fresh bread down to those in the dungeons – and the underground river seemed to be rising from beneath – and blessing them first. They loved it.

I was taken to a linked dream to this. I dive into the swimming pool of Prophetic training – and am carried across the surface very rapidly by an angel in red. I advanced you fast because I needed you fast – and I brought you the best teachers to lead you across. The staff evaluate me – and lead me on to the second pool.

A lovely deep swimming pool – empty of people, calm and very inviting. Somehow the depth was also fearful. The pool was inside a leisure centre or college. Students were lined up neatly at desks – very smartly dressed and studious. Studying – and watching the Pool. There was a pulpit to the side of them – but they were not facing the pulpit – they were eagerly and thirstily watching the swimming pool.

The staff had sprung a surprise 15 minute lecture for me to give on the Gifts of the Holy Spirit … but then they rushed me away before I could preach. Outside to a very bright white Lighthouse.

I wanted to strip down to bathing shorts – and mine were red – smile at the students – and dive in – and then invite them to lose their respectable suits and join me …. Come play! But somehow the timing was not quite right …. And the Water was not always there …. When I got closer all the water had drained out of the plug hole. We could have injured ourselves. But when I looked from a distance the Pool was definitely full of water. Yet I was sure this was no mirage …. And somewhere else kids were playing in the Pool. Hard to explain this part!

A serious and well trained student carefully changed – into blue shorts – and indicated that I watch him. He carefully lowered himself into the empty pool – and began to dance with me to some music. “You wear Kingdom Warfare and the Blood and the Fire (red) …. When you come to the Holy Spirit pool you must be gentle and innocent and dance like a child again. Wear blue for this – clothe yourself in the music and gentle Love of Heaven – and coax in the Dove – say how much you need Him and His coolness – you can’t approach this pool like one of the Battles you’ve been in …. or to show off … the Water flees you if you just dive in full of self-confidence – even though what you seek is scriptural. “ And I think that the water began to flow in and to join with us – and to gently rise and to teach me how to swim like a little child again. Mostly I think that I sat on the edge – dangling in my feet and crying because of the dry pool – or thinking that I had better join the students first. “Oh Jesus – I have so much to learn – what happened to all my joy and simplicity? *I am growing you up. … and down …. smile ….* That’s deep, Lord ….. sorry for the pun …. No, that’s the whole point – we used to laugh and joke together remember? Don’t be afraid – because you are protected by Wisdom and the fear (awesome respect) of the Lord.”

And I saw a little church. First they were severely pruned. Many of the humble or abused slaves who knew they should remain began to come forth as gold – and the Son of Righteousness began to rise upon them with healing in His wings. And they removed the pews and the pulpit – to form the chairs into a circle. And they asked Jesus to come into their midst. And He did – teaching them as they pursued humility, holiness and first love – and showing them their individual destinies. And then they were all lying on the floor under the surgery of the Holy Spirit. And when they sat in their circle – more and more Living Streams flowed out of their innermost beings to form a communal pool in the centre.

They still had leaders, and fathers, and shepherds, but they would walk around the circle – laying their hands on the shoulders and praying for the people, “I’m sorry for what the false shepherds did to you – I minister healing to you now – I release you into your destiny and your gift – and we all support you as you seek to discover and practice it.” And they would take turns to jump in and activate a Gift and minister to the group. And later there was much excitement and music – and sharing Jesus together as a family – who knew each other well – and were continually strengthened by each other’s gifts.

When a newcomer, backslider or unsaved person enters – the family embrace him and her – saying – “Thank you Lord! We have prayed that you would come – you are a treasure to us sent by Jesus! Do you realise the gift – the destiny that burns over your life? We shall teach it to you until you have grown enough to teach us.”

Three Battles
Timothy Cook

Three visions - which seem timely folks .... bless and guide us Lord!

Bedouin

I was praying about the recent Islamic words – and went into vision with the Lord. I saw the large scimitar of Islam poised over the Cross.

At first the scimitar seemed to hack the rough wooden Cross to pieces – and it became many tiny little white crosses – which hopped around in panic – and then went underground …. Or were they seeds? I said to the Lord, “Please no! not for Britain … I just wanted to get your attention … watch.”

As we (the intercessors) prayed – the scimitar seemed to become smaller – and could only hack at the Cross ineffectually. I saw a Bedouin – wrapped in a white turban – and he clashed with me – but it seemed that when I met violence with violence, my staff of authority broke – when it met the scimitar. I knew that I’d done something wrong. (we won’t win this through a legal or government battle possibly?)

So I backed up to the Cross – with no weapons left. The Bedouin came at me – with his scimitar leveled at my chest. I think that he had green eyes. I knew I had to just stand there and let him run me through – which he did. His scimitar went through me and embedded itself in the Cross behind my back.

And the Blood of Jesus dissolved his blade – it became water. And Jesus stood behind the man – placed His hands on his shoulder – and was revealed to him. The Bedouin was weeping and fell to his knees when he saw Jesus. …. he said, “Yes, O Lord – I see! I will not touch Britain – it belongs to Jesus.”

And I was in Mecca I think - in a mosque. The people were bowing down on their prayer mats. Jesus and the angels were walking around the mosque - gently lifting people to their feet - giving them a smile - and beginning to dance with them.

Harry Potter

I walked into God's Temple. He had been calling me into this vision for a while, "sorry for my tardiness Father." I had been given a golden spear – it had sweeping jagged edges towards the tip. The massive Hall was in total darkness – though I could hear voices, and sense a lot of activity around.

Immediately in front of me someone had torn up some of the floor stones to make a hole. Some young children were playing with a wasps nest. I stood on the nest – and walked over the hole – praying for the children. We rebuilt the floor. Someone smoked the wasps to sleep. Jesus sat with the children and told them Kingdom stories. He shone, and became more attractive to them than the wasps. A little girl was sat cross-legged on an ornate pedestal of imagination – reading a book, but kept looking at Jesus longingly. Finally she leaped down and joined the group – smiling with joy at Jesus' face. He took them up to a playground in His realm. "My Kingdom will come to My children Tim – even the very young will play. I have prayed for this Lord, we just need to show how attractive and exciting You are, and release them into the playground of the Spirit." I tapped the stones with a staff I had been given. A large snake made up of flies or wasps came up from below and came at me – it was swallowed by the staff. "The planned occult invasion will not touch My kids. I will use their inspired imagination to lead them into MY Kingdom" said Jesus. Before I left I touched the spear to heal the stones – electricity sparked around them - killing the nest.

Freemasons

I walked over to the clan of the Freemasons. They had melted the stone floor into a series of black hills and valleys. A man with a strange buzzing spirit (like an insect with many legs) behind him was almost gliding around in a square formation. I heard "cockatrice." He would climb a pulpit and preach to his dutiful queue of followers – occasionally cracking a whip. "Not sure what to do here, Lord. Just observe, we'll come back later." Later I think the spirit was swallowed up by a green serpent from below (New Age – or something else – something good?)

The leader seemed to give up - and without his powers - sit on the floor with his head in his hands. The followers then ran around in a panic - everything was falling apart - they were leaderless - and drifted back into the world.

The Throneroom

Tim Cook

I had been in spiritual pain for a long time over the nation. Then I was before the Throne – and felt a sudden wave of peace and release from God about the London issue. The peace spread right to the centre of my belly – which had been churning for months.

"Because of the intercession of the righteous before the Throne, there will be no earthquake on the whole of London – as a sign of God's protection and promise." I saw Big Ben collapse. "This is a sign that Kingdom timing is in God's hands" I saw a gaping hole in the side of the Houses of Parliament – which may have been the deep corruption at it's heart.

> "God has judged this government that was so ready to sell His people into slavery, and to pollute their land with unrighteous laws. This judgment will be redemptive. Time has stood still, and reversed for this nation – it shall now flow backwards towards its age of youth, innocence and glory. These two buildings will be rebuilt as a message of hope; a sign that the Kingdom of Jesus Christ has come to Britain. And healing will flow from the Cross, and from the Throne – living and pure waters, to wash away the filth of the nation. And the true prophets will weep with joy, and they will weep the very tears of my crucified Son, because of My great love for Britain. These tears will heal the prophets, shepherds and watchmen – who have been wounded for the Kingdom of Heaven – because the true shepherds have indeed chosen to be crucified with Me to stand in the gap for this nation. And times of refreshing will come in the desert of this century, where my church had almost perished, but she leaned on her Beloved there, and was wooed out into freedom by her King."

I had often seen a fish over southern England – it was small – and was attacked by a large pike (the wicked spiritual powers of the age). But because the small fish was hooked to a large sleeping trout – it retreated into the mouth of the trout. The large trout awoke and chased, then eventually destroyed the pike. I think the trout represents the Kingdom of Christ. It almost seemed that the small fish (the righteous of Britain?) had been used as bait to lure the pike into God's trap!

Dover

I had a dream of the white cliffs of southern England. The waves of the sea were absolutely huge, and a wonderful deep green/blue colour. I didn't fear them as much as find them exhilarating, as I flew and swooped over the whole area. I felt a wave of holiness coming from America. At the top of the cliffs was a white hotel and a lighthouse, a community of seers and prophets, and within dwelled an ancient wisdom of this land. I think it is Sharon Stone who writes about Dover being the High Place of Britain – the spiritual gateway.

I was in prayer for England with a seer friend in London, and I saw again these white cliffs. A beast (the Beast?) was trying to invade England, but as we prayed the cliffs seemed to get whiter and higher to bar his way. The lighthouse beamed down to identify and blind him – and call warriors into action against it.

However – the southeast and the Thames estuary seemed to be a poisonous swamp. Having worn the caustic and filthy mantle of repentance for the nations sins – I think that I was given an arrow – or rocket – of holy water – to fire like a mortar into the centre of this swamp. As we prayed an ancient iron fence (boundary line) rose up and was revealed – with flashing beacons all along it. Restore the ancient boundaries – and let righteousness reign within our borders!

The thrones – and the river

I saw a vast amphitheatre in Heaven – made up of thrones. I sat in mine. Some were occupied, most were empty or dark I think. There were sceptres of power or intercession prepared. The whole scene was very dim – maybe it had been great once – and I was sure it would be again.

I wore a mantle of intercession and repentance for godly marriages, and godly parenthood. These thrones I felt should be occupied by husbands and fathers – priests of Christ in their homes. Very few thrones were occupied – some men were there but seemed asleep – or broken through grief and inadequacy – like me. Very few lights were shining. There were countless broken sceptres of divorce and orphan spirits.

Jesus said, "Even though your family is broken, I want you to sit here, wear the protective robes of fatherhood, and hold this sceptre. It will shine a blessing on your children, but you need to remain here and hold it up. Be encouraged – this is a Kingdom commission." I promised to try – even though at the time all the odds seemed against me. When I gave up – the beam of light faded – I had temporarily abdicated my role spiritually as father through deep discouragement. When I prayed – "Jesus you be their father through me, help me" – the light burned again. It shone down into the darkness below – and nothing could interfere with its protection and prophetic blessing around my children. Lord, please rebuild the godly family unit in Britain – let these thrones shine again.

The next day, as I was praying this again, beams of light began to shoot out from my sceptre and illuminate others. People began standing up, or arriving at their thrones. I think that both men and women had decided to become true priests of their homes and families. New sceptres and robes were activated until it was clean and like daylight in the arena! Even though actions in the third Heaven can take years to accomplish on earth, I was still overjoyed!

Whilst on the subject of intercession; Jesus took me into a vision of a very large and powerful river. I knew I had to fight my way through it, walking upstream against the current – which was very powerful. There were things in the river which I realised I had fought against my whole life – and these were like sinful trends or pollution within the nation itself. I was walking against things like divorce, lust, anger, rage, bullying and fear of bullying, resentment, weariness, sadness, grief, depression, mental agony and oppression, poisons of the blood, skin and lungs such as high cholesterol, chemical food additives, air pollution and ozone depletion, frustration, claustrophobia, singleness, aloneness, loneliness, idolatry of e.g. entertainments, ambition, doubt, unbelief, disappointment and unemployment.

Near the source of the river was a tunnel mouth – like a mouth of hell. It was spewing all of these things – and much more (crime, violence, alcoholism, drug abuse, pornography, rape, murder, abortion, child abuse, homosexuality, adultery, or false religious gods) – into Britain's people. In the atmosphere this became like a cloud of darkness and whirlwinds through the soul of the nation.

I felt that I could stand at the source and start to pray about closing this gateway with Jesus, because of my own struggles and wounds in life – planting the Cross here. Rick Joyner writes that it is in the very areas we have been wounded, that we can heal others, following the same principle that by the stripes of Jesus we are healed. The gate started to be bricked up – if more and more intercessors that pursued purity in their own life were also with Jesus on this – then the gate could be completely sealed and our national river would be clean again. The Holy Spirit had to shine a light on hidden areas of all people, and cause repentance, healing and forgiveness to flow. So the church had to stand in the gap, and the country would then need to see repentance at leadership level. See the prophetic "Light or Darkness over Europe" by John Mulinde.

I was kneeling in the Hall of Destiny again, and before the Throne also. When I agreed to stand in the gap – even to be crucified with Christ – a great peace began to flow, and then the rivers of living water. In John Mulinde's vision – a light begins to pierce the darkness from southern Britain. Amen! I was actually surprised when I saw the end of the vision; the gateway was totally bricked up with clean, white bricks, and the river was then fed by a beautiful clean waterfall from above. I was sure that this had happened (or would happen) because enough of the intercessors had stood in the gap.

> Oh my precious children, my sons and daughters in Britain – how you have poured out your hearts to me for my word to come. You've asked for the gifts of my Holy Spirit in the church again, you've asked that my Kingdom come to your land, and as a loving Father I delight to give my little children the good gifts they ask for. In my House are many mansions. My Kingdom is here and now, for you my elect and the angels are winnowing the wheat from the tares, and putting a mark on the foreheads of those who grieve and mourn over the sins of the nation. And how deeply you have grieved for your people, my beloved, but let my tender arms comfort you today. Come up! Rise up like eagles! Fight through the atmosphere and come home! These visions of your spirit are more real than the earth you walk on, have I not said that the Kingdom is within you?! Come aside – give me your time, silence all distractions, and commune with me personally in the Secret Place. There I will reveal to you the secrets of the Kingdom. Reach for the stars – reach for your destinies! The Kingdom of Heaven is within you my beloved.

Precision evangelism

I had been in prayer for Morecambe (the town where I live) for a few weeks, for those thousands of souls who are lost and have not heard of Jesus Christ. My heart was crying out – Lord what can I do to advance your Kingdom here? Why can't the church today move in the same power as the book of Acts?

I was invited back into the Treasury, and was to speak with a man, seated with books in his hands. I don't know whether he was the angel of Morecambe or not. He seemed troubled or burdened, but looked at me and lifted a large black book;

The book was dark and cloudy, and chained, and my enemies (some demons) were mocking and gloating over it like a treasured possession. They called it the book of death, in mockery of course of the Book of Life. It contained all the names of the people who were living and dying in their sins in this town, without knowing Jesus.

The man showed me a very small, green and clean book. The Lord said,

> "These are the names of people who are ready to hear the gospel in this town and to be harvested into the Kingdom of Life, and need to be found by an evangelist soon. The Holy Spirit will prepare people to hear about God, so there is a constant harvest of "ripe" wheat coming into season. Angels can go ahead and prepare these people to receive you – so there's a whole team working in sympathy with the Trinity – this is what's coming – true power evangelism! Heaven wants to release to the church the actual names, addresses or locations of people who are ready, but this will require advanced clarity of vision and discernment, and close partnership between the prophets and evangelists – then a real heart commitment by the local church to carefully disciple them into the full gospel and awareness of their spiritual destinies."

I felt that the mind of Jesus envisioned small outreach groups – to befriend the poor, friendless and outcast, give them Bibles, begin Bible studies and prayer times, and to accompany them to church. They would get healed and saved themselves, and then the cell group would focus on praying for their families. And so the Kingdom grows!

I was given the number of people currently ready, but then had to ask God about training me in the advanced clarity of vision – because I really wanted it. He said, "This gift is much needed, but it comes with a cost – a price to be paid, or a sacrifice by each person. Will you pay it?" I said yes provisionally – afraid of what the cost might be – then totally committed myself to this next level in my journey. The sacrifice will vary from person; increased purity, more time with God or in the Word, tithing, giving up TV or another hobby, or possibly a commitment between 2 or 3 intercessors to pray together for this. Back at my "jewel-scape", I embraced the large diamond of improved vision. Here I was given a small brighter diamond to eat, and wear.

Meanwhile I was taken back to see the sad man from the Treasury. He was now in the Throne room – writhing in flames before the Judgment Seat. I realised this was no angel, but a pastor who had recently passed away. Saved, yes, but reviewing his past life with Jesus – which we must all do - he had to confront the realisation that although he had fed and sown into his flock, he had not taught them to sow themselves into those people outside the church who were hungry for the gospel. Then he read the names of all those people who had been ready and desperate for some love, but had not been shown Christ by the inward-looking local church.

I was of course repenting myself for my own lack of evangelism, and asking the Lord again to be led to the right people, with the power and courage to heal and share the gospel. Recently, though, I have felt God say that this is not necessarily my mantle, but that I am to pray for those who are called into this.

Save the children

> "See, I will send you the prophet Elijah before that great and dreadful day of the Lord comes. He will turn the hearts of the fathers to their children, and the hearts of the children to their fathers; or else I will come and strike the land with a curse." Malachi 4:5-6

I think that the enemy has managed to seriously damage the godly family unit in this land, and lock away and compartmentalise despairing and sick people in friendless homes. I was lying before God, sharing both the agony and thoughts of Jesus. I saw a time when angels would be given permission to appear in homes where child abuse or domestic violence was occurring. Their mission would be primarily to halt all child abuse throughout the nation. Then they would help to educate the parents, and connect them with solid local Christians. It is possible that God's agenda would then move on to eradicate totally abortion, divorce, addiction, and other spiritual diseases. Entire households would be saved, and revival would be here.

THROUGH
On April 29th while reading a teaching by Johnny Enlow entitled, You Have Not Passed This Way Before, I had a quick vision. Given the fresh 'bread' found in his article, I found this vision like frosting on the cake. You can read it in its entirety at: http://www.injesus.com/Groups/ViewMessage.cfm?MessageId=PB006Z4S&UCD=jbk

Vision: I was talking to a person standing in front of me. The Lord was standing behind me. I became transparent. The Lord reached His hands THROUGH me and lovingly embraced the person. He then pulled the person THROUGH me and to Himself. End

Now while I thought it was interesting, it happened so quickly it hadn't really occurred to me that I had just had a vision. As I continued to read the article, there was a word that jumped out at me. The word was all in caps and it was the word, THROUGH. It stunned me for a second as I thought about what I had just seen. This is what the sentence declared:

"We have so limited the Holy One of Israel and we will be astounded at what He does THROUGH us in these last days."

The sense I got from the Lord about this vision was that I, being representative of the Body of Christ, was talking to an unbeliever. It seems clear the Father wants us, as His Body, to be transparent so that He can draw the lost to Himself. We live and move and have our being IN Jesus. Being IN Christ and doing things THROUGH Him is how we fulfill the call to be His ambassadors to make His appeal and carry out the great commission given to us each. Our commission is found in Matthew 28:18-20:

And Jesus came and spoke to them, saying, "All authority has been given to Me in heaven and on earth. 19 Go therefore and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, 20 teaching them to observe all things that I have commanded you; and lo, I am with you always, even to the end of the age." Amen.

It also paints a clear picture of John 14:6 Jesus said to him, "I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except THROUGH Me." NKJV (Emphasis mine)

It is my desire to exhort you to walk worthy of the calling with which you were called, fully pleasing Him. I pray that you would be fruitful in every good work and increasing in knowledge and all wisdom and spiritual understanding of God. May you walk worthy of Christ who called you into His own kingdom and glory. He has anointed you to be His ambassador. Jesus is making His plea to the lost THROUGH you so that they may be reconciled to God the Father THROUGH God the Son. Jesus taught that we do this by walking in His grace and truth THROUGH Him, for He is the Spirit of truth. It is knowing the truth and walking in the truth that sets us free. First gird up your loins with the belt of truth, continue to dress in God's armor, and walk in the truth of God's Word. Please see Ephesians 6:10-18 and John chapters 14-17 for further insight. A deeper study of the word THROUGH will thoroughly bless you. Remember that the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.

Grace and peace,

The Holy Spirit And The Fountain Of Healing

Bonnie Franklin

March 8, 2005

One night, as Don and I started praying, the Lord began to show me a beautiful vision; it was like a painting coming out of Heaven. I saw painted in the clouds, rays of blue and purple and from out of it came forth the Holy Spirit's chariot with angels and white horses. He was riding down from heaven on a river and the blues and the purples mingled with the spray of the water and the clouds.

I realized how different this chariot scene was in contrast from the one I saw over Washington D.C. That one was red and orange and deep bronze as He rode on flames of fire. Then the Holy Spirit was in the drivers seat and with fierce determination he called forth his prophets to do battle.

This scene was totally different. The Spirit of the Lord was riding upon a river. He was seated inside the chariot and his countenance was full of peace and gentleness and tender mercy. I looked down below and saw that the river that the chariot was riding on, was springing forth from a beautiful fountain on earth. There were voices of songs coming forth from it.

The chariot of the Lord with his train of angels, it was almost like they sailed down the river, which came to a stop by a fountain. It was from here the river began out of hearts of worship. The ornate chariot was ivory and gold and the horses were pure white with golden hooves and diamond blue eyes. The team came to rest next to the fountain. It was like glass, so beautiful with many tiers – it was a fountain of tears in the natural and in the spirit. And there were not mermaids of the fountain, but the worshippers of the Lord – his maidens.

I thought, when the Lord would come, he would be ministering, but this was his place of peace. The horses grazed and even the angels were at rest. These were the gentle still waters of the Great Shepherd. It was a time for the Marys of Bethany to sit at his feet and wash his feet with the tears that sprang forth from the fountain.

And then they were given golden ladles blessed by the Lord from the hands of the angels and instructed to dip them into the waters of tears. As they did the tears became oil and perfume – anointing oil. Many people had gathered wanting to be near and touch the Spirit of the Lord. The worshippers dipped the ladles into the fountain and poured upon the peoples' heads the anointing birthed from the tears as we sang of our Lord. And then the healings began: healings of house and home and family; healings of the physical, the spiritual, the financial well being. And the people received and did not go away sad, but full of peace and the love of the Lord.

The House That's Built To Last

James W. Goll

A Firm Foundation from the Words of Jesus

> "Therefore everyone who hears these words of Mine and acts on them, may be compared to a wise man who built his house on the rock. And the rain fell, and the floods came, and the winds blew and slammed against that house; and yet it did not fall, for it had been founded on the rock. Everyone who hears these words of Mine and does not act on them, will be like a foolish man who built his house on the sand. The rain fell, and the floods came, and the winds blew and slammed against that house; and it fell -- and great was its fall." Matthew 7:24-27 NASB

The Jealousy of God was Manifested in an Apostolic Dream

During a time of rest, I received a very vivid dream that was apostolic in content and nature. In this revelatory encounter, the atmosphere was permeated with the presence of the "jealousy of God." I was taken to a construction site where the foundation of a house was being prepared.

Two angels came and stood at the front of each corner of the property, overseeing the approaching construction. The ground was rocky and the earth was crying out for a deep, strong, firm foundation to be laid, as there had been many shakings and earthquakes in the region over the years.

Very deep trenches were dug and cement trucks then appeared on the scene to pour the foundation. The first layer of cement was poured and I watched as it "set up to dry." Writing in script appeared on the front right foundation stating, "Jesus Christ -- The Messiah of the Jew and the Gentile." As I continued to watch, script appeared on the left front stating, "Apostles and Prophets -- Fathers and Mothers of the Ages."

The cement trucks pulled up again and another pouring proceeded as I continued to watch in the Spirit. Script appeared again on the second layer of foundation as it began to set up. On the front right corner the words "Humility" emerged, and on the left "Integrity" manifested. The scene repeated a third time with a phrase surfacing to the top of the freshly poured cement -- "Intimate Worship from a Pure Heart."

I was now keenly aware that this was no ordinary house that was about to be built. It was an Apostolic House for the Glory of God in the End Times. Another cement truck came and unloaded its quick drying substance. Once again, words appeared, "God's Heart for the Poor and the Desperate." As soon as these words rose to the top another phrase popped forth into view -- "God's Healing Presence." The foundation now appeared to be complete as a demonstration of the "power of God" was established for the foundation of the House.

Awakened with a Word

Suddenly, so it seemed, I was awakened from out of this detailed dream as a voice from the Lord spoke to me. I was awakened with a word from the angels that were overseeing the construction of the house.

With the presence of the "jealousy of God," I clearly heard, "This is the House that is Built to Last." I laid there marveling on the wisdom that permeated this God Encounter.

How Is Your House Built?

In these Last Days, the Holy Spirit is sending help to make sure that the foundation of each of our personal lives is strong, secure, and "built to last." This is true, as well, for the corporate dwelling place of God -- the church -- the body of Christ. Is Jesus the cornerstone of your life? Is your house established upon the revelation, lifestyle, and truths of the apostles and prophets -- the fathers and mothers of the faith throughout the church ages? Are you maintaining a life of integrity and humility with a heart filled with pure worship?

Are you asking the Lord to restore the ancient foundation of God's heart for the poor and the desperate? Are you seeking the Lord for a greater release of His healing presence to demonstrate His love and mercy? Since having this dream, I am asking myself and the Lord these questions.

So, now I ask you the same questions the "jealousy of God" has been asking me. How is your house built? When the winds, rains, and storms that Jesus spoke about come, "Is your house built to last?"

Let us acquire wisdom from the Lord and build our house so that it will stand firm as a testimony of His greatness! The storms of life will come. Will your house stand? Let the House that is Built to Last come forth for the Glory of God!

Thunderous Applause
Bonita Chapman

2-21-05

Tonight in prayer, I took a stand of faith concerning a particular thing, and I knew that it was a true stand of faith, not hope, and not wishful thinking. I immediately heard the phrase “thunderous applause”, and saw in vision a myriad of angels applauding. Here is what the Lord is saying about this:

I want My children to know that every time they take a stand of faith based on My Word, a true stand that won’t be moved, the angels come to attention and applaud. It is a thing of amazement to them, because you see, they are not able to operate in this thing called faith. They operate in obedience, but it is an obedience that is not of choice. Faith is something that they know of only through seeing it at work in My children. It is a wonder to them to see someone who has a will of their own, who could choose to obey or not, who could choose to believe or not, CHOOSE to believe Me and to operate in faith out of choice.

Most of My children really do not understand what a wonderful thing it is to have the ability to choose – to choose between Me and the evil one, to choose between good and evil actions, to choose between love and hate. I have given PEOPLE this ability to choose. Angels no longer have that choice. They are locked in to a much earlier choice. But you, PEOPLE, are not locked in – at least not yet. That time will come, and for some it will be a “locking in” of great joy, but for others it will be a “locking in” of terror and dread.

I desire My people, those who have made the choice to serve Me, and who have chosen the Lordship of My Son over their lives, to reach out to those who are still choosing the path of destruction. Reach out to them with My good news – the good news that My Son, Jesus the Savior, made the most important choice of all time. He CHOSE to lay down His life as a sacrifice for THEIR sins. He CHOSE to die in their place. He CHOSE to suffer in hell in their place. He CHOSE to operate in faith, yes, IN FAITH, that I would indeed raise Him back to life on the third day, that He might forever live with Me – and rule and reign over earth.

Yes, He also had to operate in FAITH just like you do. He did not walk on earth as God, but as man, making choices every day – choices to BELIEVE My Word and to operate in faith. He chose to turn aside from the voice of My enemy, Satan, and to trust My Word, to believe what it said, and to follow it through. He did not come as a baby with full understanding of Who He was. He learned that by hearing and reading My Word, by listening to My Spirit, and by experiencing the results of His faith. Successful faith builds more faith. His knowledge of Who He was and what He was to do in this earth, grew as He heeded both My written and My spoken (to His spirit) Word. It ultimately resulted in the world’s greatest stand of faith ever – His faith that I would keep My Word to Him as written in the Psalms, and raise Him from the dead. He had to trust Me for that.

So how much do YOU, my child, trust Me? Will you begin to truly take your stands of faith and make disciples of all nations? Will you take your stand that I will stretch forth My hand to heal in Jesus’ Name? Will you take your stand that My love and power is greater than the power of the enemy? Will you take your stand of faith that I will NEVER leave you or forsake you – so why should you worry about anything?

You – MY CHILDREN – are to be reflections of My Son on the earth. You are to sound like Him, act like Him, and love like Him. You are to be “little Christs” – that’s what “Christians” ARE – on this earth. Take your stand of faith in My Word, and trust Me to “deliver the goods” when you speak and act in obedience to My rhema , My Word that I have QUICKENED and made alive to YOU, individually. I AM talking to you every day, both through My written Word and through My Spirit, the Holy Spirit, who lives in you. Listen, receive, choose to trust Me, and then act in faith, and there will be more and more thunderous applause in the spirit realm from those who cannot have the joy of such faith. They just see My joy, and they rejoice with Me. Teach them well, My children, teach them well – take your stands of faith each and every day. I WILL NOT FAIL YOU!!!

Ps 16:8-10
8 I have set the LORD continually before me; Because He is at my right hand, I will not be shaken.
9 Therefore my heart is glad and my glory rejoices; My flesh also will dwell securely.
10 For You will not abandon my soul to Sheol; Nor will You allow Your Holy One to undergo decay.

I Am Gathering Up All Of My Strays
Bonita Chapman

2-24-05

This morning during prayer time, the Lord spoke this word to Me:

I am gathering up all of My strays. I am gathering up every single one of them, those who love Me. They love Me but they have never felt a PART. They have never felt like they BELONGED. They have never found their PLACE. Some of them were PUT out of their place. Some of them were cast aside because people thought they were strange or different. Some of them had so much to go through that when they came out, they were so, SO fanatic that others couldn't accept them. Some of them were so quiet that others thought they had nothing at all, when they had the depths of Me.

I am gathering up EVERY ONE of My strays. I am gathering them in to the CENTER of My will. I am gathering them in to where they will never, never doubt again that they are DOING what I want them to do, that they are BEING who I want them to be, that they are SAYING what I want them to say. They will never have room to doubt again, because I'm gathering them in to the center of My will. And when they get there, and they will, they'll know it. They will know it with every fiber of their being, and they will be so JOYFUL. They will sing and they will shout and they will clap, and many people will think they're even crazier than they were before, but they won't CARE this time, because they'll know they're in the center of My will.

And then, I'm not done, because I continue to gather them – closer, and closer and closer to My heart. I am pulling them in to My love in a way they never, ever realized they could experience it. I'm pulling them in. I am pulling them in. I AM PULLING THEM IN. I AM PULLING THEM IN. I AM PULLING THEM IN! I AM PULLING THEM IN, and then, I'VE GOT 'EM! They're Mine – completely. We're One. We're One. We're One.

The Hush Before The Approaching Storm

Stephen Hanson

April 22, 2005

For false Christs and false prophets will appear and perform great signs and miracles to deceive even the elect-if that were possible. Matthew 24:24

This is what the LORD Almighty says: "Look! Disaster is spreading from nation to nation; a mighty storm is rising from the ends of the earth." Jeremiah 25:32

"There is a hush upon the land. It is the calm before the storm. It is the light before the darkness. For I tell you that these next few months and years mark the beginning of the end. What will you do to prepare for them? Will you read ancient books of history? Will you dig out prophecies from the past? Will you speculate and decipher exactly when the end will come? Or will you merely sit at my feet and listen to Me? Can you hear the hush before the approaching storm? Does a bird in the forest know when danger is coming? I tell you that nature is more aware of these things then man is."

"Have you things in your life that need to be cleaned up? Are there relationships that are broken and need to be repaired? It would be good to get these things taken care of. For brother will war against brother, and sister will wage war against sister when the times get tough. It is best to get your house in order. Consider what is most important and don't argue about trivial things. You all fall short, so judge not according to appearances. Find how you can give water to a man who is dying of thirst. "

"Know that each man is responsible for the words that he has spoken. But even so, I look upon the heart and not the misgivings of man. Who will be ready to stand before Me on judgment day? Who can say, 'Here I am a man without sin?' I tell you look to your own hearts and not to the hearts of others. "

"Will you be strong when the man of perdition comes upon the scene? For he will deceive many and even the elect. I tell you that this man will come upon the scene. He will take power over many. I tell you that he will come out of a country that few have considered. I tell you that he will take peace from the earth. I tell you that these days are not far off. They are not in the distant future. Who will bow for his leadership? My hand is extended for you to come to Me. You will see these things during the next year begin to take place. "

Where Have The Elijahs And The Jeremiahs Gone

Stephen Hanson

April 16, 2005

For the time will come when men will not put up with sound doctrine. Instead, to suit their own desires, they will gather around them a great number of teachers to say what their itching ears want to hear. 2 Timothy 4:2-4

The messenger who had gone to summon Micaiah said to him, "Look, as one man the other prophets are predicting success for the king. Let your word agree with theirs, and speak favorably." 1 Kings 22:12-14

“I am the God of this world and I say that the time will come when men will choose between life and death. I tell you that men’s hearts will fail them for what is coming. I tell you that these days that are coming are some of the most crucial times in history. Do not pretend to know exactly when I will return, however of the times and seasons it will be clear to you. Woe to those who teach things that are contrary about Me. Woe to those who draw attention to themselves rather than to Me. Woe to those who say that there are bright days ahead. Many in this hour are looking to teachers who would give them what they want. They have itching ears. I tell you that those who are true to Me will stand in my counsel daily. They will hear what I have to say and they will share it uncompromisingly.

Where have all the true prophets gone? Where are those who need not to be popular? Where are they and where have they gone to? Will they come to Me and spread the word? Will they speak and not be afraid to speak? Will they not be ashamed of the gospel? I tell you that I am looking very closely at many of the ministries in this hour. Those ministries, particularly the prophetic ones, will be removed if they continue to be compromising with what they have to say. I will not continue to put up with this. Do you think that just because someone has a name and they are popular that they are right? I can choose anyone to speak for Me. Where have the Elijahs and the Jeremiahs gone? “

True Heart Worship

Mary Clark

2-24-05

I am calling My children into true heart worship, worship like you have never known it before. I tell you truly, My beloved, you have not experienced Me until you have experienced true heart worship. This is a place of holy union. This is a place of sweet communion. This is a place where our hearts not only touch, they meld together as one, in a unique and beautiful way. I'm telling you – I'm calling you into true heart worship. And I will lead you, I'll guide you, I'll take you by the hand, and you will not stray from this path. We are bent on arriving. We WILL arrive at this place. It's My heart to take you to this place. I know it is your heart to travel to this place, and this occurrence WILL shine forth. It will shine forth, I tell you truly, it will shine forth, because this, this is the culmination of MUCH that I've wanted. This is the culmination of what I planned from the beginning. So be of good cheer. Rejoice in the fact that you are entering in to a place that can only be called true heart worship. Where oneness is real, we're united. You will know a tender compassion from My heart to your heart like you've never experienced. This is something that you will experience. This is something that you will have NO DOUBT WHATSOEVER about. This is something that I have planned, and this is something that WILL occur.

Sweetness And Variety

Mary Clark

Now is the hour! Now is the time for you to step into the arena of your Beloved. Let Me tell you, beloved, there is much sweet variety in this place. There is much of interest. I am eager for you to take that step of faith into all that I have planned for you. Come! Taste and see that the Lord God Almighty is good – He is the sweetest, and He has an endless variety for those who will forsake the ways of the world and follow Him into this place of wonder.

I want to tell you, beloved, that a sequence of events is on the way. During this time, you will draw closer into the arms of your Beloved. You will know My plans are definite, because you will see the unfolding of these magnificent events. You will find yourself prospering in Me in ways you never dreamed.

I am the Mighty Savior. I gave My life that you might walk in this final hour in great strength and power. I want you to know that the surges of power that are coming your way will open avenues of hope for you.

I am doing away with the old, beloved, and opening the new for your enjoyment. The old ways of doing things are now obsolete. You may wonder about My methods, but you will be MOST pleased with the results that those methods bring. So rise up strong in the Beloved. Perform on My behalf and know with a certainty that your God has taken you into a new era of faith.

I tell you truly, beloved: The time is right. The time is here. Step into the wonder of the coming hour, knowing that I have planned for you to see, hear, taste, and smell the most extraordinary. The old ways are obsolete. The new ways are coming just as surely as I live. And live I do, beloved! I live mightily in those who have surrendered to Me. Surrender is sweet when it is to the One Who is good – good through and through.

So mark My words, and know that there is great power and strength coming to one who will follow the Beloved with a willing heart – a heart willing to see change and willing to walk in that change.

I am telling you that change is certainly on the way. It is on the way, beloved, and with it is coming a sequence of events that will startle those of the world, but My beloved will view them as one BIG party after the other – one BIG birthday party where you will see new beginnings take shape in your life – new beginning that will last for all eternity.

I am eager for you to come into this new place of wonder in Me. It is a place sweet with My presence. So get ready to taste the goodness of your God, and to know with a certainty that My timing has hit the mark – the mark of a new beginning – a mark of out with the old and in with the new – a mark of wonder and blessings. Yes! That is what this new season is all about – wonders and blessings. Get ready to attend the biggest party EVER, and know when the time comes to blow out the candles that it will be done by My Spirit, beloved. Yes! This final quest will be done by My Spirit and My Spirit only, says the Lord God Almighty, Maker of Heaven and Earth!!!

Transformation is a Process

Robert Ricciardelli

Transformation is a process and not an event. An event can birth the insight to begin a process of transformation, by applying the revelation to our life daily. It seems as though there is so much information swirling around our minds that we never fully engage it as applied principles in our lives. To add to the information overload experience, we are impacted by a world where the speed of life itself is continuing to accelerate. The speed of life can tear down relationships and divert the purposeful course of even the elect of our Lord Jesus Christ.

The procession of life in a high tech, turbulent society can numb us of reality and greatly disrupt our relationship and purposes in Him. New strategies, formulas and methods that are suppose to give us that edge to becoming who we need to be surface almost daily. We spend so much time pursuing the newest approaches and movements only to find them bringing us more ideas and well, more information we will never have the time, opportunity or discipline to apply.

It is as if we are tossed back and forth between this movement and that method and this revelation and that next prophetic word. It brings us to a state of frenzy that zaps the peace, the joy and sadly enough, even the purpose for which we are still abiding here upon this earth. We have the ABC spiritual movement and the XYZ conference and oh yes, Preacher So-&-So will be in town this weekend teaching this and that. We have the Purpose Driven Life, The Purpose Driven Church, and yet we are not even sure who is driving or where we are going. It is a full time job just trying to keep up with the latest and the greatest of whatever we feel we need in our lives and ministry. We are so involved with the programs, that the people become secondary to the method.

I hope you hear what I am trying to say. I am so thankful for much of what has been given to the church in recent years; there have been some great teachers and material to help us. Do you suppose it is possible that we have too much of the stuff that is suppose to help us with the "Real Thing", that we have missed the "Real Thing? We have had many events that have attracted large audiences and yet studies continue to show that after a very short while, much of the fruit that was apparently attained at the event did not always bear the lasting fruit we had hoped for. Because we as a church are still needing to be disciples of Jesus Christ daily ourselves, we are not prepared to raise the new Christians because we ourselves have not been raised or discipled. We have either not been weaned of milk, or have continuously gone after the dessert and passed by the meat of the Word altogether.

I heard it said that a disciple is a disciplined learner. That is a great description of a disciple as long as He is listening and obeying first and foremost our Father God through the Holy Spirit. I continue to pray for me, my family, and all those the Lord may have us lead, to live a life in the image of our Savior Jesus Christ. That means that any revelation and truth I have learned and not committed to put into practice in my life is wasted material and fruitless. But you might say that, "the Word of God never comes back void". I would say, "You are correct it will not come back void, as I will be accountable for how I obeyed that which the Lord had spoken.

This is to a great extent why life is a process and never an event. If I never took another step towards the life of Christ after my initial confession of Jesus Christ as my Lord, my life would be fruitless. We have witnessed many that have said that at one point in their life, they had answered a call to the altar to receive Jesus. Repentance may not have ever taken place, but that altar call felt good. So their claim to being saved was an isolated event that never connected to the Promise nor the process that can only come through repentance. So after years of continued bondage and spiritual death, they cannot understand why that event did not change them. This is not the power of the gospel of Jesus Christ that I know. Are we preaching the wrong gospel at times?

1 Corinthians 4:19-21 (The Message)
19But I'll be there sooner than you think, God willing, and then we'll see if they're full of anything but hot air. 20God's Way is not a matter of mere talk; it's an empowered life.

2 Corinthians 4:7-10 (NIV)
7But we have this treasure in jars of clay to show that this all surpassing power is from God and not from us. 8We are hard pressed on every side, but not crushed; perplexed, but not in despair; 9persecuted, but not abandoned; struck down, but not destroyed. 10We always carry around in our body the death of Jesus, so that the life of Jesus may also be revealed in our body.

So it seems that those filled with hot air and those that have a hard time dying to self, may not be able to reveal the power of God in and through their lives. This again is a process and not a one time event. I love remembering some of the immaturity in even the disciples of the New Testament. They were with Jesus every day for 3 years and although Pentecost had not delivered the precious Holy Spirit in their lives the presence of the living God was amongst them daily. It is encouraging and such a blessing to have understood through the word of God the many crucibles and processes each of them had gone through to prepare them for their destinies.

One of the things I hear the Lord telling many around the world is to keep things simple. The gospel is a very powerful and yet simple message that even an unlearned youth can understand and receive. We sometimes make the word of God too complicated and feel that only certain scholars can really interpret it. I remember a day when religious leaders felt that way and decided that the common people should not even read it. They even put it into a language few could even understand. We have gotten beyond that church, or have we? We run here and we run there looking for someone to tell us truth and yet ignore His very presence of Truth that lives within us.

We must realize that as we live out our Christianity to the fullest, there is a battle and there is a cost in the midst of joy and peace unspeakable. We become very religious at times in our lives and most of us do not even see it. The devil is not stupid, as he just needs to add enough "Tilt" to our lives to keep us from standing or walking as Kingdom citizens of the Most High God. His goal is to have us interpret what we see as truth either too far beyond truth or not far enough towards it, or slightly to the left or right of the mark in the balance of truth.

If 100 pounds of meat mixed with 3 ounces of arsenic is all that was needed to kill those who ate of it, the devil would not use one more ounce. He adds just enough poison, delusion or religion to keep us on the path of self, wrongful focus or death. That is why it is so important to live and move and have our being in Him and Him alone and that is our process. As we process more of God, more of His word and more of His life in and through us, then we become channels of His power and light to the world. If we become dead in the process to self, then more of His life can be poured out through us.

So what is the process? In simplicity, it is more of Him and less of us. It is more of His will and continuing to be less and less of our will. It is to be more obedient to His word with passionate resolve to forsake our own ways, thoughts and desires. If we look at these impurities and sinful habits and nature in each of us as weeds, we begin through the Holy Spirit to remove these weeds from our lives. This is a lifetime process of weeding out that which is impure and feeding in to us all that is pure from God. We will continue the weed and feed process as there is no permanent weed killer except physical death itself.

My friend and mentor Dennis Peacocke always will drive the point home that "practice makes permanent". I had always heard that practice makes perfect, but that does not hold up if that which we practice is not in alignment with perfect truth and obedience to our Lord. We need His wisdom and guidance to help us to quit practicing habitual patterns that are contrary to spiritual health and growth. So if practice makes permanent, we must follow after and practice the life and principles of The Perfect One, Christ Himself. And finally, our body is not our own anymore but His, purchased at a great price and sealed with His blood.

Slow and steady wins the race! It is an eternal progression to being conformed to the likeness of our Savior. We might as well get on board now, for tomorrow may be too late. Paul ran the race. He was compelled to travel on his missionary journeys to spread the gospel of Christ with incredible adversity. He was compelled to raise up leaders throughout the various churches he started and visited. He was compelled to write, to preach and encourage others day after day--slowly but steadily he ran the race.

Finally, he tells us that he kept the faith! Keeping the faith surely isn't all that hard is it? Or is it?

Paul kept the faith during the tough times, times when faith is challenged. It's easy to keep the faith during the good times, when all is going well and challenges are few and far between. But when the storms of life crash against your faith, and instead of filling your sails the wind destroys your sails, faith is challenged. Many will forfeit their faith due to the challenges of life, especially those who have not traded their worry for faith!

Worry is the enemy of faith. So many Christians hide in churches hoping they will never be challenged beyond their comfort zone, hiding behind religious works refusing to hear or accept the Great Commission (Matthew 28:18-20).

"The one who received the seed that fell among the thorns is the man who hears the word, but the worries of this life and the deceitfulness of wealth choke it, making it unfruitful" (Matthew 13:22).

Paul did not play it safe. To use words like "fight", "ran" and "kept the faith" certainly shows us what we too must face as we step out of our comfort zones into God's courageous zone!

Paul didn't need to rely upon the newest trends and methods for his successful approach in spreading the Good News! "My message and my preaching were not with wise and persuasive words, but with a demonstration of the Spirit's power, so that your faith might not rest on men's wisdom, but on God's power" (1 Corinthians 2:4-5).

And so beloved, let us begin or continue to live in the process of dying so that we may truly live. This the type of life worth dying for and it is a life worth living for, ever seeking the development of our lives in the image of Christ Jesus our Lord…..Amen!

This Is A Tested People

Ron Powell

November 11, 2005

Mic 3:5
This is what the Lord says to you false prophets: "You are leading my people astray! You promise peace for those who give you food, but you declare war on anyone who refuses to pay you.
Mic 3:6
Now the night will close around you, cutting off all your visions. Darkness will cover you, making it impossible for you to predict the future. The sun will set for you prophets, and your day will come to an end. (NLT)

My Children,

I have seen the error of those who prophesy for money and those who cause My people to err, those who cause My people to continue in sin and who strengthen the arms of the wicked.

Yet, shall I cut off the vision of such men and the sun will set for them and their days shall come to an end, says the Lord.

Have faith in God, My Children! You are not alone in the earth!

I have always had a remnant, a holy people in the earth.

They are not the proud, the self-centered, or the polished, they are those who are considered lame in comparison to the noble and mighty apostate church.

This is a tested people; those who like you, have been in the fires of trial; these include the unknowns, the outcasts of all denominations, and those who raise their voices against corruption in God's house.

These are My people, a people whose hearts beat as one, a people so led by My Spirit that they would be called outcasts by the apostate church.

As it is written: ' I will assemble the lame, and gather the outcasts, even those whom I have afflicted. I will make the lame a remnant, and the outcasts a strong nation, and I will reign over them in Mount Zion from now on and forever.' (Micah 4:6,7)

Yes, these are My repentant, those who have risen above worldliness and aspire to heaven."

Yes, this is a heavenly minded people, weary of lightness and compromise. A people who yearn for holiness in God's house.

Therefore, I will cause the apostate to be removed from his place, from the midst of My people, says the Lord.

These shall be gathered together of men for the burning.

But as for you My Children, Cast thy burden upon Me, and I will sustain thee: I will never suffer the righteous to be moved. (Psalm 55:22)

May You Be Highly Favored & Exceedingly Blessed,

This is Love

Julie Volby

November 5, 2005

It is on my heart to share the following prophetic word given to me by the Lord on March 18, 2003. It has not been until now that the Lord would allow me to begin to release these things. In this current season, I sense very strongly that many of the Scriptures, dreams, visions, prophetic words, and revelation that the Lord has been providing to those in the Secret Place over the past years are beginning to come to pass BOTH WITHIN AND WITHOUT. This exponential increase is due to kairos time (eternity) rapidly overtaking chronos time (earth time). In this hour, we must understand that God does not judge between right and wrong (Tree of the Knowledge of Good and Evil), but instead brings a separation of that which produces life and that which produces death (Tree of Life). I submit this word for your testing and discernment.

In Christ, Julie

March 18, 2003
Prophecy

This is Love.
That I gave My only Son to die on the Cross for your sins.
That the Third Day He rose from the dead.
That I would allow My people to go through trials and tribulations to build their character.
That I would send My people into the wilderness to test their faith.
That the American people would lose all that they have and find Me.
This is Love.

My motivation is love. Mankind does not understand My love. It can only be spiritually discerned. There is a false love that comes from acceptance and comfort in material things or those things that are seen. This is not love. I AM LOVE. There is no fear in love, for perfect love casts out fear. I came that men might have life and have it more abundantly. It is My will that none should perish, but that all should come to repentance. Remember My motivation is love. Love is patient, love is kind, it does not envy, it does not boast, it is not proud, it is not rude, it is not easily angered, it does not keep a record of wrongs. This is not the law the U.S. is walking in. She is walking in her own strength and a willful understanding of the law. My ways are not your ways. My thoughts are high above yours.

I have prepared you, My people, for such a time as this. You will see many lives saved. I will use you for My glory and My Kingdom shall have no end. Pay no heed to the false doctrine of security in earthly pleasures. This is a lie from the pit of unbelief. Instead, look to Me for your sustenance and strength.

Many things I have told you are about to unfold. You have been faithful with little; you will be faithful with much. No man knows the day or hour of My coming. Try as he may, man cannot decipher My mysteries with his own understanding. I AM.

Woe to those who come in My Name preaching another Gospel. It would be better for them to have a millstone tied around their neck and be thrown into the sea, than to lead one of My little ones astray. I will allow many things to come to pass to fulfill My purposes. This Nation shall reap what she sows. I desire to see My people unite. I desire to hear them cry to Me in one accord. Where are My Watchmen? Where are the Intercessors? Where are My people? Many continue to get drunk on the ways of the world. Do they not understand that the things of this world have no heavenly value?

I would have them to know instead that the currency of heaven is FAITH, FAITH, FAITH. Will I come and find FAITH on the earth? The winds of change are here. They blow where they will. Always remember that I AM. Call upon me, and I will answer you and show you great and mighty things, which you do not know. I AM.

Luke 18:1-8 -1 Then He spoke a parable to them, that men always ought to pray and not lose heart, 2 saying: "There was in a certain city a judge who did not fear God nor regard man. 3 Now there was a widow in that city; and she came to him, saying, 'Get justice for me from my adversary.' 4 And he would not for a while; but afterward he said within himself, 'Though I do not fear God nor regard man, 5 yet because this widow troubles me I will avenge her, lest by her continual coming she weary me.' " 6 Then the Lord said, "Hear what the unjust judge said. 7 And shall God not avenge His own elect who cry out day and night to Him, though He bears long with them? 8 I tell you that He will avenge them speedily. Nevertheless, when the Son of Man comes, will He really find faith on the earth?"

John 3;5-7 - 5 Jesus answered, "Most assuredly, I say to you, unless one is born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter the kingdom of God. 6 That which is born of the flesh is flesh, and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. 7 Do not marvel that I said to you, 'You must be born again.' 8 The wind blows where it wishes, and you hear the sound of it, but cannot tell where it comes from and where it goes. So is everyone who is born of the Spirit."

It Is Time To Come – A Call To Exodus

December 9, 2005

Matthew 11:28 - Come to Me, all who labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest.

Revelation 22:17 – The Spirit and the bride say, "Come!" And let him who hears say, "Come!" And let him who thirsts come. Whoever desires, let him take of the water of life freely.

It is time to LEAVE WITHOUT FEAR or LIVE WITHOUT FEAR.

IN ORDER TO COME TO HIM, WE MUST BE WILLING TO LEAVE SOMETHING BEHIND.

John 5:39-40 – 39 You search the Scriptures, for in them you think you have eternal life; and these are they which testify of Me. 40 But you are not willing to come to Me that you may have life.

The only way to COME TO HIM is to come by FAITH.

Hebrews 11:1 – Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.

The idea to Exodus or leave has been a recurring theme throughout my life, but more importantly is evidenced throughout the Scriptures.

Leave Comforts of Home to Pursue Dreams * Leave Old Patterns to Become New/True Identity * Leave Unjust, Unhealthy, Abusive Situations/Environments to Enter into Healthy and Thriving Environments * Leave Rebellion to Live Obedient Life to God * Leave Trusting in Self, Others, or Things to Come to know His Faithfulness * Leave Slavery and Bondage Systems to be Released and Set Free * Leave Mediocrity and Lukewarmness to Come into the Refining Fire of His Love * Leave what is Comfortable and Known for Change and Growth in Him * Leave Grieving and Sorrow to Experience Joy in the Lord * Leave Hopelessness to Find that He is the Answer * Leave Anxiety and Fear to be Surrounded by Peace * Leave the End of a Chapter to Begin a New Book * Leave Harassment and Discrimination to Find Edification and Strength * Leave Serving a Type and Shadow to Becoming One with the Fulfillment of It * Leave Broken Promises and Unmet Expectations to Find Yes and Amen in the Promises of God * Leave Accusation and Blame to a Life of Accountability to the Word of God * Leave Grave Clothes to Put on Royal Robes * Leave Destructive Patterns to Build and Plant in the Newness of Life * Leave Despair and Find Hope that Anchors the Soul * Leave Lies and Enter into the Truth * Leave Barrenness to Become Fruitful * Leave Lust to Find Fulfillment in Him * Leave Enabling Others to Speaking the Truth in Love * Leave Abandonment and Fear to Find His Comfort and Protection * Leave Egypt to Move to the Promised Land * Leave Guilt and Shame to Find Righteousness in Christ * Leave Speaking Death and Destruction to Speaking Abundant Life * Leave Walking in Another's Shadow to Become One Who Casts a Shadow of Miracles * Leave Doing to Just Being * Leave Sadness and Find Gladness in the Lord * Leave Chaos to Experience Stillness in Him * Leave Want and Lack to Find He is All You Need * Leave Hording to Cheerful Giving * Leave the Tomb to Share the Good News * Leave Self-Focused Deception to Christ Centered Reality * Leave Childish Behaviors and Come into Maturity * Leave Drought and Dryness and Enter into the River of Life * Leave Can't Do to Can Do All Things in Christ * Leave Regretting Yesterday or Fretting about Tomorrow and Start Living in Today * Leave the Prison of Unforgiveness to Experience Liberty in His Forgiveness * Leave Presumption to Grow in Patience * Leave the Boat to Walk on Water * Leave Filthy Rags to Wear Robes of Salvation and Righteousness * Leave the Shallow Waters and Dive into the Depths of Him * Leave Mystery Babylon to Enter into New Jerusalem * Leave Rejection to Receive Full Acceptance in Him * Leave Defeat to Be More Than a Conqueror * Leave Passivity to Become Confident and Bold * Leave Striving to Enter into His Finished Work * Leave Hatred to Experience Mercy * Leave a Life of Taking to One of Giving * Leave Lofty and Haughty Mindsets to Find Humility and Meekness * Leave Brokenness to Find Healing and Restoration * Leave Complaining to Thankfulness and Praise * Leave Counterfeit and Compromise to Seek and Find the Truth * Leave Deadness of the Letter to Living the Spirit Filled Life * Leave Perversity to Come into Holiness and Purity * Leave Expectations of Others and Condemnation to Find Grace in the Eyes of God * Leave Dead Ends to Come to Open Doors * Leave Bitterness to Taste His Sweetness * Leave the Tail to Be the Head * Leave Darkness to Come into His Light * Leave Religiosity to Fly Free in the Spirit * Leave Heaviness/Depression to Put on Garments of Praise * Leave Arm of the Flesh to Rest in Him * Leave Situations Marked for Judgment for Place of Righteousness, Justice, and Peace * Leave Past Behind to Fulfill Destiny in Christ * Leave Prison for King's Call to the Palace * Leave All You Know to Follow Him * Leave Idolatry and Unbelief to Walk by Faith and Not by Sight * Leave Self-Identity to Find Identity in Christ * Leave Old Mindsets and Own Understanding to Trust in Him * Leave that which Fades Away and Enter into the Eternal * Leave Death to Come to Resurrection Life * Leave Seeing in Part to Knowing He is ALL IN ALL

While in many instances, the Lord would keep us in trying situations to build our character, grow, mature and strengthen us, there also comes a time when the season changes and a window of time opens (appointed time) for us to leave and move forward by faith in God alone. Many times the Lord would cause us to be placed in situations in which the CHOICE we must make is very clear and the path very narrow. Though He opens the door, we are given the choice to go out by it. This is seen in the prison experience of Paul and Silas in Acts 16. At midnight, or the time of transition from the past into the new day, they were found praying and singing hymns to God, while the other prisoners listened. SUDDENLY there was a GREAT EARTHQUAKE. This SHOOK the foundations of the prison and IMMEDIATELY ALL the DOORS were OPENED and EVERYONE'S CHAINS were LOOSED! It was at that point or appointed time that each prisoner had the choice of being set free by the power of God.

All testing and trial allowed by God is meant for us to become victorious, not to destroy us. Many view the idea of leaving or fleeing a situation as one of fear. However, there are many cases and situations in which that very thing…FEAR…keeps us from leaving or fleeing from a place we view as comfortable, safe and one that we can control or at least know what to expect. Some may misunderstand our departure as one of fear, but to remain in a position of slavery to the flesh and its systems, is to enable or condone others to remain in that mindset as well.

What would have happened if Moses would have not had the courage to leave the comforts of Pharaoh's Palace to find his true identity? What would have happened to God's people if Moses did not confront Pharaoh and lead the EXODUS (going out or departure) out of the bondage of Egypt? What would have happened if Moses would have stopped at the Red Sea and not trusted in God to make a way where there seemed to be no way? We are called to experience ALL of the freedom Christ purchased on the Cross for us by walking a Resurrected Life filled with FAITH, rooted and grounded in HIS LOVE.

1 John 4:18 -19 – 18 There is no fear in love; but perfect love casts out fear, because fear involves torment. But he who fears has not been made perfect in love. 19 We love Him because He first loved us.

Hebrews 11:23-29 – 23 By faith Moses, when he was born, was hidden three months by his parents, because they saw he was a beautiful child; and they were not afraid of the king's command. 24 By faith Moses, when he became of age, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter, 25 choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God than to enjoy the passing pleasure of sin, 26 esteeming the reproach of Christ greater than the treasures in Egypt; for he looked to the reward. 27 By faith he forsook Egypt, not fearing the wrath of the king; for he endured as seeing Him who is invisible. 28 By faith he kept the Passover and the sprinkling of blood, lest he who destroyed the firstborn should touch them. 29 By faith they passed through the Red Sea, as by dry land, whereas the Egyptians, attempting to do so, were drowned.

When the time comes to move forward, we must move in wisdom and not by our own understanding.

James 1:5-7 – 5 If any of you lacks wisdom, let him ask of God, who gives to all liberally and without reproach, and it will be given to him. 6 But let him ask in faith, with no doubting, for he who doubts is like a wave of the sea driven and tossed by the wind. 7 For let not that man suppose that he will receive anything from the Lord; 8 he is a double-minded man, unstable in all his ways.

Proverbs 3:5-6 – 5 Trust in the Lord with all your heart, and lean not on your own understanding; 6 In all your ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct your paths.

The willingness to submit to God's changes begin WITHIN the HEART and many times entail an outward expression of faith that goes with it. Though we may not know where He is taking us, God has promised to care for our every need.

Hebrews 11:8-10 – 8 By faith Abraham obeyed when he was called to go out to the place which he would receive as an inheritance. And he went out, not knowing where he was going. 9 By faith he dwelt in the land of promise as in a foreign country, dwelling in tents with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the same promise; 10 for he waited for the city which has foundations, whose builder and maker is God.

I sense in my spirit that many in this hour are being called upon in the Spirit to leave all that they know behind to pursue Him in fullness. This is not a call to run away from suffering, tribulation or trial, but to instead go THROUGH IT with Him as He makes a way of escape. Then upon safely crossing over, we are called to LEAVE the past behind and not make the mistake of looking back as Lot's wife did, which resulted in a preserved, but dead end, or making Lot's mistake of falling back into fear, which resulted in compromise and a drunken stupor.

This is the hour of GREAT CHANGE upon the earth. We must move in wisdom when we hear the Trumpet resounding within our own hearts.

Psalm 95:6-8 – 6 Oh come, let us worship and bow down; Let us kneel before the Lord our Maker. 7 For He is our God, and we are the people of His pasture, and the sheep of His hand. Today, if you will hear His voice: 8 "Do not harden your hearts, as in the rebellion, as in the day of trial in the wilderness, 9 when your fathers tested Me, though they saw My work."

You will know when the time is ripe for you. And when it is time to let go of the old, my prayer is that you would go out with great courage, hope and joy in the Lord. Fear not!

IT IS TIME!

LET THE MODERN DAY EXODUS BEGIN IN YOU!

A December to Remember
Julie Volby

December 1, 2005

It is on my heart to send this article out once again (with some updates). I sense that the truths it contains have been personally maturing within us in this last year and that many things are soon to be personally harvested. However, I sense that the full Corporate manifestation is yet to be seen as things continue to rapidly unfold on the world stage. In any case, I believe this article is again a 'NOW' word for this season we have just entered into.

Today, I sensed very strongly a major 'shift' in the Spirit and it seems as though hope is being restored on many levels. I sense that 2006 will be a year of uncovering those things that have been hidden deep within the heart of man. We will see much Light and unfortunately witness much darkness. It is my prayer that we remain hidden in the Secret Place of the Lord until the appointed time in which we shall appear with Him in glory. May His wisdom guide you, His peace surround you, and His love consume you as we move into the manifestation of promises fulfilled.

In Christ, Julie

A December to Remember
Julie Volby

December 1, 2004

While worshipping with a friend on 11/29/04, the Lord gave me a vision and spoke a prophetic word regarding the month of December. I believe that what was revealed was not only for my friend and I, but was a Corporate message that is to be shared with those who have ears to hear and eyes to see Him. This writing is given as an encouragement for those who have remained hidden deep within the earth, waiting on the Lord for His perfect time of release. It seems the time has now come and the Lord would provide us with wisdom and understanding as we step out fully into the Light of the New Day or the Third Day.

The Lord said that this would be a “December to Remember”. He did not give a lot of details, but did give a vision that was released through prophetic song. In the vision I saw the Babe wrapped in swaddling cloths and lying in a manger. The Lord revealed to me that what most could not see was that the Babe was wrapped in an unseen blanket of God’s everlasting love and clothed in His glory. It was His love that was surrounding, protecting and keeping the Babe warm.

As we enter into the season of Hanukkah or the Festival of Lights, I believe there is a profound significance in relation to kairos or the appointed time overtaking the chronos time. This festival lasts eight days, eight being the number of restoration, and commemorates the miraculous supply of oil that lit the menorah. Perhaps during this time a miraculous supply of heavenly oil, which we know as the Holy Spirit, will flow in and through the Body of Christ to bring restoration to His temple and upon the earth.

As I continued to ponder what the Lord was trying to say through the vision, it became clear that the fullness of time for the birth of the Manchild of destiny is here.

Luke 2:7 - And she brought forth her firstborn Son, and wrapped Him in swaddling cloths, and laid Him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn.

The Greek word describing Jesus being wrapped in swaddling clothes is sparganoo. It means to wrap (in cloth) to bind a newborn infant in strips of long cloth, a normal act of childcare for warmth and security. I believe that just as Jesus came into the world and was wrapped in swaddling cloths, so the Father would desire us to see that we too are wrapped in layers of His love and glory. It is His presence, wrapped around us, that provides the warmth and security we need to live. Those who are wrapped in Him have died to their carnal nature through identification with Jesus’ Finished work on the Cross and their lives are now hidden with Christ in God. When Christ, who is their life appears, they shall also appear with Him in glory (see Colossians 3:3-4).

As we remember how Jesus first came to the earth, we are also reminded that He did not come in the way that many thought He would. He was not only wrapped in swaddling cloths, but His life was clothed in humility. He came in the humblest of circumstances, where one might least expect, in a lowly stable in the midst of some animals. Jesus, the firstborn of many brethren, was also the Light of the world who humbly came ‘hidden’ in a body of flesh. As Zion is giving birth, it seems that perhaps the King of Glory has once again hidden Himself within a humbled people that have been set aside for such as time as this.

I believe that this December to Remember marks not only a season of Divine release, but also one of Divine judgment or separation. For those that are being released in this season, many have been marked as forerunners and have already passed through the Lord's purifying fires of judgment. But for those that have yet to pass through or are passing through, the shaking will only increase.

So, what will this impending season of judgment look like? Many look for the day that all evil men will be slain or killed. They wait for justice to be served to those who have committed unforgivable acts. For many this is what judgment is all about. Yet, those who know the Word of God know that judgment does not start in the world, but in the House of God first. Many believe that surely God will judge His own people first. They seem to have no excuse, especially those mesmerized and serving the religious church system. Surely, they will be judged first! However, if you are waiting for fire and brimstone to strike the organized church, I am afraid that you may still be looking in the wrong place.

Many know what I am talking about when I say that the shaking has already begun. However, it has not necessarily begun within a church building, but instead has begun within individual Christians who make up the true Church or Bride of Christ. Paul tells us in 1 Corinthians 6 that our bodies are the Temple of the Holy Spirit, who is in us and that we are not our own. Based on this, I believe it is safe to say that the House of God that is coming under judgment begins personally, which inevitably flows Corporately as His Spirit unifies us as One in Christ.

Hebrews 12:25-29 - 25 See that you do not refuse Him who speaks. For if they did not escape who refused Him who spoke on earth, much more shall we not escape if we turn away from Him who speaks from heaven, 26 whose voice then shook the earth; but now He has promised, saying, "Yet once more I shake not only the earth, but also the heaven." 27 Now this, "Yet once more," indicates the removal of those tings that are being shaken, as of things that are made, that the things which cannot be shaken may remain. 28 Therefore, since we are receiving a kingdom which cannot be shaken, let us have grace, by which we may serve God acceptably with reverence and godly fear. 29 For our God is a consuming fire.

If you think God rocked your world when you first placed faith in Jesus Christ, that is not all He had in store for you. God wasn't planning only to shake your earth, but also your heavens. The shaking that is spoken of in these verses is a shaking of every work of the flesh that has been borne out of the carnal thought life or Adamic nature. The Word tells us that we already have the mind of Christ (see 1 Corinthians 2:16), but it is through the power of God's Word that our minds are renewed to see Him as He is and to learn to walk according to the Spirit, rather than according to the flesh. It is the Truth that sets us free. Those thoughts and actions that have been borne of the flesh life must be shaken, so only that which is of God remains. This is part of the purification process of the Bride of Christ. She must pass through the fiery passion of God's love. He must increase within us until He is everything and we must decrease until we (our carnality) are nothing. This is the process in which Christ within us the hope of glory will be revealed!

If you are going through a great shaking in any area of your life such as relationships in the home or work, health, finances, emotionally stability, broken dreams, broken promises, or the like I encourage you to recall these words.

1 Peter 4:12-17 - 12 Beloved, do not think it strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened to you; 13 but rejoice to the extent that you partake of Christ's sufferings, that when His glory is revealed, you may also be glad with exceeding joy. 14 If you are reproached for the name of Christ, blessed are you, for the Spirit of glory and of God rests upon you. On their part He is blasphemed, but on your part He is glorified. 15 But let none of you suffer as a murderer, a thief, an evildoer, or as a busybody in other people's matters. 16 Yet if anyone suffers as a Christian, let him not be ashamed, but let him glorify God in this matter. 17 For the time has come for judgment to begin at the house of God, and if it begins with us first, what will be the end of those who do not obey the gospel of God?

The Lord would say to those that are suffering to, "Look up and lift up your heads, because your redemption draweth nigh." Do not focus on your problems, but instead on the answer to every problem. His Name is JESUS, who is One with the Father, and He holds the answer to everything. Escape the pit of self-pity, unbelief and doubt by using all of the energy you once spent worrying to instead worship and praise the King of kings and Lord of lords!

It is through partaking in Christ's sufferings that He is moving us from glory to glory and faith to faith. Now is the time to invest all of your heavenly currency, which is FAITH, into the storehouse or treasury of God. Let us not be double-minded and suppose that we will receive anything if we are not placing our faith in God alone. But let us instead see a double portion of His power and presence manifested in our lives by trusting in Him to see us through! I guarantee the best investment you can ever make is to place your faith in God alone, who is more than able to supply all your need according to His riches in glory by Christ Jesus.

The Lord recently took me through my own personal season of Divine judgment. Many believe judgment is a bad thing, but for those who know their righteousness comes from Christ alone, judgment is God's mercy. The things that transpired can best be described as a whirlwind. It took me by surprise and was not at all what I expected. It came very quickly and very forcefully. There was nothing I could do to control it. It quickly became clear that there were certain areas of my life that had not been fully turned over to God. So, the whirlwind came and blew my little preconceived world apart.

During that 'whirlwind' season, I had a vision of a mound of dirt. I believe the dirt represented the carnal nature or earth, as man was made of the dust of the earth. The mound I saw could be considered a prison, a cave or even a tomb. It was a place where all man-made ideas, presumption, and hope in any work of the flesh had sat and eventually died. It was there that I realized that no work of the flesh or self could have any part in what God had promised. The dreams of destiny had died and I died (my own understanding) with them. Even my idea of how God would resurrect these dreams was completely wrong.

In His perfect time and way, He sent the whirlwind of judgment to blow the tomb of my carnal reasoning or veil of flesh away completely. He used the whirlwind to separate the pure from the vile. In the vision I saw that, as the dust was taken away by the whirlwind, what remained was a beautiful red stone. It was not in its raw form as one might expect a newly uncovered gem to be, but it was already perfectly cut in the shape that would reflect the most light in order to display its inner beauty the most. It was already buffed, polished and shined. It was ready to be placed in the King's crown. This jewel is spoken of in Malachi 3.

Malachi 3:16-18 - 16 Then those who feared the Lord spoke to one another, And the Lord listened and heard them; So a book of remembrance was written before Him for those who fear the Lord and who meditate on His name. 17 "They shall be Mine," says the Lord of hosts, "On the day that I make them My jewels. And I will spare them as a man spares his own son who serves him." 18 Then you shall again discern between the righteous and the wicked, between one who serves God and one who does not serve Him.

It is in this season of Divine release that God will reveal these jewels that He has been carefully preparing and has kept hidden under the earth or veil of flesh. They have passed through the Refiner's fire, and have been cut, polished and shined. They are vessels of honor, meet for the Master's use, prepared for every good work. They are now being positioned or set in the King's crown to be displayed for the world to see. Just as in Malachi 3:16, the Lord has looked upon the pages of His book of remembrance and knows these are those who fear Him and meditate on His name. They are called by His name and are His alone.

So, where's the judgment in all of this? We have talked about God shaking our world up and sending the whirlwind, but how can that be judgment? I believe the idea of judgment can also be seen in Jesus parable of the wheat and the tares.

Matthew 13:24-26 - 24 Another parable He put forth to them, saying "The kingdom of heaven is like a man who sowed good seed in his field; 25 but while he slept his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat and went his way. 26 But when the grain had sprouted and produced a crop, then the tares also appeared."

He continued to say that the wheat and tares were allowed to grow together until the time of harvest. Jesus later explains the parable to His disciples.

Matthew 13:37-40 - 37 He answered and said to them: "He who sows the good seed is the Son of Man. 38 The field is the world, the good seeds are the sons of the kingdom, but the tares are the sons of the wicked one. 39 The enemy who sowed them is the devil, the harvest is the end of the age, and the reapers are the angels. 40 Therefore as the tares are gathered and burned in the fire, so it will be at the end of the age."

It is clear from these verses that the end of the age is not only a time of harvest, but also a time of separation.

I believe the only way to truly understand what is happening Corporately is to understand it personally first. I believe the primary seed is the Word of God or the incorruptible Seed of Christ that has been planted deep within our hearts by His own hand. He waters and nurtures the Seed through the power and presence of His Holy Spirit. He warms the fertile ground of our hearts or the field made of the dust of the earth with His love. These good seeds produce wheat or the offspring of righteousness also known as the sons of the kingdom. They in turn reproduce more wheat or good seeds. This circle of life is the fulfillment of God's initial command to be fruitful and multiply as given to man in Genesis 1:28. The wheat, or those things birthed through faith in God's Word, is gathered into God's barn or storehouse.

In contrast, the tares are those things borne out of the flesh. The deceiver comes when we are spiritually 'sleeping' or not keeping watch. It is while our eyes are not on the Lord that the enemy takes opportunity to try to plant his lies in our minds and what is harvested is a work of the flesh, also known as sin. James explains this clearly in the following verses.

James 1:13-15 - 13 Let no one say when he is tempted, '13 I am tempted by God'; for God cannot be tempted by evil, nor does He Himself tempt anyone. 14 But each one is tempted when he is drawn away by his own desires and enticed. 15 Then, when desire has conceived, it gives birth to sin; and sin, when it is full-grown, brings forth death.

Here we see that the offspring of deception and carnal desire is sin, which ultimately results in death. Thankfully, God's grace is sufficient and He has made a way to escape death. That way is the Cross of Jesus Christ! Paul explains this in Romans 6.

Romans 6:6-9 - 6 knowing this, that our old man was crucified with Him, that the body of sin might be done away with, that we should no longer be slaves of sin. 7 For he who has died has been freed from sin. 8 Now if we died with Christ, we believe that we shall also live with Him, 9 knowing that Christ, having been raised from the dead, dies no more. Death no longer has dominion over Him.

It is in the time of judgment or harvest that the wheat and the tares are separated. The tares, or those things borne out of our flesh life, are harvested. It is at 'the end of the age' or the end of our flesh life that these tares are gathered together and bound into bundles. They are then thrown into the fiery furnace to be burned. All the wood, hay and stubble of our Adamic nature are consumed in the fire of God's passionate love for a Bride pure and without spot.

It would seem that the appointed time has come for judgment to take place in a global way as the Lord prepares to reveal the sons of God that creation itself has been groaning and laboring with birth pangs together until now. They have been redeemed by the Blood of the Lamb and have safely passed through the Baptism of Fire. They have undergone the great tribulation of the crucifixion of the self-life or Adamic nature and have not been found wanting. The wheat and the tares have been separated in their lives. The tares or works borne of the flesh have been taken away and burned up, while the wheat or fruit of God's righteousness that remains is kept. That which cannot be shaken is gathered into the storehouse of the Son of Man or the heart of God.

The choice is ours to make. Will we choose to try to save our flesh lives or will we lose our lives to gain His? In this December to Remember let us "Remember Lots wife". She looked back upon her flesh life in Sodom and Gomorrah and her mortal life ceased. Let us instead choose to move forward in this critical hour and CHOOSE LIFE or eternal life, which is a faith filled life lived in Oneness with the Father! I must warn you that this may entail a separation from those things that have in past seasons been comfortable and familiar. One cannot serve two masters. Each one will come to a point when he or she must choose this day whom they will serve and not turn back in unbelief or regret at what once was.

What about judgment? Perhaps you are wondering if I am ever going to get to the part about the unbelievers being judged? Surely there must be some justice that needs to be served to them! If you are waiting for the world to be judged, you don't have to wait long. Jesus explained in John 12:31 when this judgment would take place. He said, "NOW is the judgment of this world; NOW the ruler of this world will be cast out." So, when will judgment take place? NOW! The ruler of this carnal world is the Adamic nature or self. The only power Satan and his demonic hordes have is the power the flesh life gives him to operate. His authority was completely stripped at the Cross and his only weapon is deception! Public enemy number one is not Satan, but instead the carnal/self nature of a man or woman who does not know Christ or has not fully submitted to His rule and reign in his or her life.

The truth is that those who do not know the Lord are already walking around condemned. They are the walking dead, who have yet to be born again. Therefore, to pronounce fire and brimstone upon them will have little affect, except to perhaps scare them into believing that they are bound for hell, which they may already be experiencing a measure of as they walk the earth. In Romans 2 Paul warns those who judge others that whatever they judge another in they condemn themselves. Let us not despise the riches of God's goodness, forbearance, and longsuffering, and remember that it is God's goodness that leads us to repentance. We must be humble and remember that we are justified by faith in what God has ALREADY accomplished for us on our behalf. Our justification and righteousness come from God alone, as the just shall live by faith.

The way that judgment will fall upon the corruption of man's systems will be through a people who have already passed through the refining fire of God's judgment or separation. These are a people who are no longer governed by the law, but who have learned what it means to walk in God's love, which is the fulfillment of the law. They are a Corporate Body that is empowered by the Holy Spirit to walk in the FULLNESS OF THE GOSPEL, who is Jesus Christ. They are the Firstfruits Company who have died to self and it is no longer they that live, but Christ who lives in and through them.

Even Enoch prophesied of this coming judgment.

Jude 14-15 - 14 Now Enoch, the seventh from Adam, prophesied about these men also, saying, "Behold the Lord comes with ten thousands of His saints, 15 to execute judgment on all, to convict all who are ungodly among them of all their ungodly deeds which they have committed in an ungodly way, and of all the harsh things which ungodly sinners have spoken against Him."

In this season of release this Army will begin to walk in the full power and manifest presence of the Lord. They will bring judgment upon the religious system in what is considered the Church on earth today. Not only will the Babylonian system be torn down in the organized Church by the manifest presence of God WITHIN this people or holy nation, but this order of corruption will also begin to crumble in all world systems. All works of the flesh will come tumbling down at the revelation of CHRIST IN US the hope of glory, rather than the hope for His glory to fill buildings made by human hands or flesh based programs or man-made systems.

This Company has moved past a desire for visitation and have become a habitation of the Holy Spirit. While there is no room at the Inn of Carnality for Jesus to lay His head, He and His Father have made Their home within the hearts of those who truly love the Lord. Through the indwelling Holy Spirit, They are seated on the throne of these hearts ruling and reigning over all the earth of these earthen vessels, which are now meet for the Master's use.

The time of harvest is also the time of restoration. It is through this Firstfruits or Manchild Company that many will come to know God's love and forgiveness. Multitudes will leave of the Valley of Decision and step through the gates into the Kingdom of God. No flesh can stand in God's presence. Therefore, every knee shall bow and every tongue confess that Jesus Christ is Lord! Divine Order will be re-established within the earth. But we must remember that this happens one life at a time.

So how are we to move as we are released into this season of Divine destiny? I believe Isaiah has God's answer for us.

Isaiah 52:12 - For you shall not go out with haste, nor go by flight; For the Lord will go before you, and the God of Israel will be your rear guard.

Just what is your rear guard? It is God's glory!

Isaiah 58:8 – Then your light shall break forth like the morning, your healing shall spring forth speedily, and your righteousness shall go before you; the glory of the Lord shall be your rear guard.

I believe these two verses are parallel and that it is our righteousness, who is Jesus Christ, that has already gone before us to pave the way because He is the way! The Hebrew word for rear guard or rearward is the word 'asap'. It means to store, gather, harvest, bring in, collect, or assemble. It is clear that is it GOD'S GLORY that will bring in or gather the end time harvest that generations have waited to see. No work of the flesh will be allowed in this move of God. It will be His light so shining through us before men, that they will see our good works and glorify our Father in heaven! This sure sounds like a no sweat or priesthood ministry to me. The good news is that it is!

One last thing that the Lord desires for us to remember about the Babe wrapped in swaddling clothes and lying in a manger is His position. Jesus' position was a state of complete rest and trust in God. The Babe lay peacefully in a manger, not doing His own work, but depending fully on His Father for everything. This rest is spoken of in Hebrews.

Hebrews 4:9-10 – 9 There remains therefore a rest for the people of God. 10 For he who has entered His rest has himself also ceased from his works as God did from His.

If Jesus, who was fully God and fully man, was found in a manger resting after being birthed, how much more do we need to follow His lead and rest in Him as He releases us into our destinies? This is the type of childlike faith the heart of God is after in this appointed season. It is the Sabbath rest that is also spoken of in Isaiah.

Isaiah 58:13-14 - 13 If you turn away your foot from the Sabbath, from doing your pleasure on My holy day, and call the Sabbath a delight, the holy day of the Lord honorable, and shall honor Him, not doing your own ways, nor finding your own pleasure, nor speaking your own words, 14 Then you shall delight yourself in the Lord; And I will cause you to ride on the high hills of the earth, and feed you with the heritage of Jacob your father. The mouth of the Lord has spoken.

In this 'December to Remember' we have many things to remember. I pray that each one of you will remember first and foremost how Jesus humbly came to earth to pay the price for your sin on the Cross out of His everlasting love for you. Remember how on the Third Day He rose again in victory, which is the victory you were destined to experience daily in a life lived fully by abiding in Him. Remember all of the trials and tribulations that He has brought you through to mature and strengthen you. Remember how He has never given you more than you can handle through Him. He has never failed you and never will. He has promised to protect, provide, comfort, guide, teach, nourish, strengthen, heal, forgive, restore and fulfill you. The only thing He asks for is your faith. I pray that unlike the rebellious Israelites in Psalm 78, that you may set your hope in God and not forget the works of God, but keep His commandments. These commandments are to love the Lord your God with all of your heart, mind, soul and strength and to love one another. By obeying this, the rest of the law is fulfilled.

May this be a December to Remember for each one of you! May your hearts swell with the joy of your salvation who is JESUS! To God be the glory! Hallelujah!

That I May Know Him

Bayo Omoyiola

scroll_of_david@yahoo.com

That I may know him

Our quest in these days should be to know God and to know him more intimately. Just like Paul who said that I may know him we Christians should desire to know more of God each day. I believe God is set and ready to reveal himself to us as we draw closer to him paying the price of seeking him in prayer and of walking in his Spirit.

One of the mysteries God would like to reveal to the body in these times is that of the Godhead. A lot of people don’t know God and they get irritated on hearing that God is three in one - the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit. The scriptures say in John 1:1 that Jesus is God and we know that even though he is the son of God he is also 100% God though he is also 100% man. The Father is accepted by all Christians to be God but not all will testify to the fact that Jesus is also God. I think it is a mystery to such people and it will continue to be one until they draw closer to the Lord. People have thought that the Father holds the same position as the Son but scriptures point to the fact that the father is greater than him though they have equal power and authority (Jesus said - All power in heaven and earth as being given to me) . Jesus calls him his father and his God and this statement of Jesus could make one wonder if Jesus is really God. The truth is that he is. Just like my human body and my human spirit are one and both bear the same name though my spirit is greater so it is with the Godhead. They are one but the father is greater than the Son. He had been from the beginning and would forever be. Joseph had the same power with the pharaoh but in seat pharaoh was greater so it is with the Father and the Son. The Holy Spirit is considered to be less than Jesus but the bible says Jesus is the child of the Holy Spirit. What would you consider to be the meaning of this ? Anyway, the Holy Spirit is God and the truth remains that they all have equal power and authority but the Spirit always takes a humble position and he is often called the Spirit of Christ and the Spirit of the Father because he represents them even though they are always together. Wherever the Son is, the father and Spirit are present and wherever the Spirit is, the Father and the Son are present as well. The only time the 3 got separated was when Jesus carried the sins of the world. The Father and the Spirit left him because they are of a purer set of eyes than that which could behold iniquity yet they did the work of redemption together.

These statements could make someone wants to know more of God. To him it could be like what have I been taught before? This truly is the work of a revelation handed over by the Spirit of God. It could make us to wanna yearn for more of God and as we yearn and steadfastly behold his face its my prayer that we get to see the Godhead more clearly. Amen

Self Examination

Bayo Omoyiola, jr.

scroll_of_david@yahoo.com

Examine yourselves whether ye be in the faith; prove your own selves. 2 Corinthians 13:5

We've got to examine ourselves. Are you in the faith or are you out of it? You got to know. For the days of trials are coming. If you've got no root then you will fall by the wayside.

For some the days of trials have already come and they are already shaken by the wind. I sensed that the red horse has been sent to some quarters to take away peace from them. The love of many have since grown cold and there is bitterness everywhere and lack of trust.

A lot of Christians have a superficial character. They allow their emotions to ride them and control them. They are moved by their needs instead of the Spirit of God.

Some have refused to give to the Lord's anointed and some speak against the Lord and his anointed and his works.

Lets examine ourselves well. Are we controlled by what we see, hear or feel? Do you allow your physical senses to control your life? If you are having problems with this area, I'd advice you to visit the cross daily thereby dying to selfish lusts and desires and all canal things, feeding on the word and praying in tongues or as led by the Spirit.

God wants us perfectly whole not sick and partial in our approach to godliness. He is talking about contentment now. Godliness with contentment is great gain. Lets be content always. Always abiding in thanksgiving. Shalom.

The Mystery of Giving
Bayo Omoyiola, jr.

Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse that there may be meat in my house and prove me now herewith saith the Lord of hosts if I will not open unto you the windows of heaven and pour you out a blessing that there shall not be room enough to contain it - Malachi 3:10

There is a big mystery behind giving so much so that only those who understand it can tap into its benefits. Some unbelievers know this and have tapped into the benefits for seed, time and harvest shall not cease.
Somebody said - giving is living. Another said - the liberal soul shall be made fat. You will find out that they both said the same thing ' cos when you give you increase and whether you like it or not - everything alive is living. God said when you give your tithes and offerings he opens the windows of heaven and pours you an unlimited blessing. That blessing could be an idea that will give birth to millions of dollars. It could be some other thing but it would be immeasurable and invaluable. Therefore give and it would be given back to you.

The grace is available all we need to do is to sow a seed. You know why many pastors ask people to give? Its so that people (including the givers) can be blessed.

God said you should bring your tithes and offerings into his house so that there can be meat in his house. Have you ever wondered what that meat is? Its the word of life (God) coupled with his joy. When you stop giving God stops communing with you daily. His joy is absent from the house and the people are not happy. But when you give God opens the doors of heaven for his blessings. You get the fullness of the Spirit and you get all your needs met. God's joy imparts strength for daily living. Giving is living my brother. Its true my sister. All you need to do is give, If you want to increase. Plant a seed and get your needs met. Release what you have for the overflow. Remember seed time and harvest do not cease. Its time to give brethren. Its time for the overflow of heaven to flow to you and I.

The Seven Spirits of God
Bayo Omoyiola, jr.
scroll_of_david@yahoo.com

I recall God telling me that in 2005 he would reveal his manifold wisdom to men and just to confirm that word God has been revealing different sides of himself through me to men. He has revealed faith, patience, peace etc. and in continuation of his revelation he has informed me to share with you on his seven Spirits.

Its my delight and pleasure to do this. It gives me joy and it confirms my call. I know a lot of people don't know some things about God. Some time ago I heard a father in the Lord preach error about the trinity and at another I heard his equal preach an error about the seven Spirits. I believe God is sending me to correct this errors. in this message I'd be correcting the latter.

The seven Spirits are the Spirits of wisdom, knowledge, counsel, might, power, fear of the Lord and understanding. 6 of them are written in Isaiah 11: 2-3. Selah

The End of Times

...Take ye heed, watch and pray: for ye know not when the time is...watch ye therefore for ye know not when the master of the house cometh.
- Matthew 13:5-37
Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: let not your heart be troubled neither let it be afraid
- John 14:27
These things I have spoken unto you, that in me ye might have peace. In the world ye have tribulation: but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world
- John 16:33
Watch and Pray

Christians from all over the world are called upon to be more watchful and prayerful these days. The hurricane Katrina took us all by surprise and you know several Christians were killed. We all know this ain't God's perfect will. We have to be more prayers. There is a call to intercede more for our fellow Christians and for the nations. Lets pray. Lets be watchful. Even for our own salvation for no man knoweth when the trumpet would sound.

Receive Peace

If you are troubled you are called upon to receive the Lord's peace. Stay upon his word. Be careful about nothing. Let your requests be made known to God. Thank him and his peace would flood your soul.

Be of good cheer

Cheer up America. Your God still lives. He wouldn't leave you alone. He's still on the throne. ' In God we trust` should still be lifted high. Let the banner up. Let it fly. God would not abandon USA. To all Christians he says - be of good cheer. I have overcome the world

Overflowing with Grace

The grace of God that bringeth salvation has appeared to all men. - Titus 2:16
I will pour out my Spirit upon all flesh - Joel 2:28

Mere looking at these verses you will know that God's grace is available to all men and to all of us. Recently the Lord reminded me of his overflowing grace and I want to share this revelation with you.

Somebody said - giving is living. Another said - the liberal soul shall be made fat. Deliverance from false hopes
Bayo Omoyiola, jr.

scroll_of_david@yahoo.com

I believe a lot of Christians are presently bound by false hopes and beliefs and I believe the Lord wants them to be delivered from these false hopes. We have all been deceived at one time or the other and if you can recount your experience could have been like this: You thought you were healed but you found out you were not. You believed the prophet but the promise did not manifest. You thought you were going to have an A but you got a B. You thought God was going to it to do that way but he did not. You had prayed for this and that but you never got them. You were deceived over and over again. Its been cycles and cycles of heart breaks and delusion. You believed but your expectations were cut short.

Yea, all of went through all of that you but we are still on the move and that's the basic. Keep trusting despite your heart breaks and your broken expectations.

Keep moving saith the Lord for your promise would come through. I would begin to hasten everything I have said concerning you. I would make sure they come. For I said it and I would bring it to pass. Keep moving with the faith of the Lord.

There are physical/natural laws and there are spiritual laws. Lets learn to apply both types of laws well so we don't get heart broken. There are promises but there are also conditions to fulfill before God brings the promises to pass. Lets balance up our walk with God by blending the two types of laws well, aligning ourselves with his perfect will and we will never be deceived or heart broken again. Selah.

Keep Moving
Bayo Omoyiola, jr.
scroll_of_david@yahoo.com

Keep moving brother. Keep moving sister. I don't want to know what problem you are facing. Just keep moving for you are coming out of it soon. If you cannot fly, run. If you cannot run, walk. If you cannot walk, crawl. Just make sure you are on the move.

You may have been stopped several times but just keep moving. The problem would soon be over.

The bible says in Rom.8:37 - Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors through Christ that strengthens us. You are more than conquerors. Therefore cheer up!

The God of Longsuffering
Bayo Omoyiola, jr.
scroll_of_david@yahoo.com

Do you know how patient God could be towards you? Do you know that he could wait for as long 969 years just for a set of people to repent? That's exactly what happened before he sent the flood in the days of Noah and I would explain what I mean:

Before Noah was born God had already told Enoch his great -grandfather of what he was going to do. He was going to send down the flood but he wanted people to be saved so he gave them almost a thousand years to turn and also sent Noah the preacher to them. The almost one thousand years was the life of a single man called Methuselah. God already had a plan and so he asked Enoch his faithful servant who walked with him to name him - Methuselah, a name that describes Gods longsuffering and the latter judgment of his wrath (the flood).

It may surprise to note that shortly after Methuselah died God sent the flood. His life demonstrated the longsuffering of God towards a sinner. Methuselah witnessed the first 600 years of Noah. He died when Noah was 600 years old. He lived very long. He even outlived his own first son, Lamech. Surely he lived very long and became the oldest man ever to have lived on the surface of the earth. Why did he live so long someone may ask? It was because he was born to show the patience, enduring grace & mercy and the longsuffering of Almighty God towards us.

Indeed Enoch and his son were special. Enoch who lived 365 years is a symbol of time (365 is a symbol of time), perfection & immortality and his son a symbol of long life and endurance. Selah.

Patience

Bayo Omoyiola, jr.

scroll_of_david@yahoo.com

You have to be patient my children. Patience is a gift you all must covet. Without it my promises for you cannot be manifested. When you wait on me I bring my promises to pass. Patience is waiting. Patience is believing. Believing that what I say would come to pass. In your patience possess ye your souls the scriptures say. So hold on. Hold on to what you have. Do not let go. Cast not away your confidence which has a great recompense. Hold on to what the Spirit says. I the Lord would be by your side to bring to pass what I have promised you. I would watch over my words to fulfill them. I will repay them that wait with honour. So wait my sons as I bring my promise to pass

The Issue of Blindness

Robert I Holmes

Jesus spoke in parables, and brought most of His famous teachings in a veiled fashion. He later took time to explain these mysteries to His closer companions. He said, "To you it has been given to know the secrets of the kingdom of God; but to others I speak in parables, so that 'looking they may not perceive, and listening they may not understand'" (Luke 8:10).

He purposely hid things from those who were not seeking. Those who thought they knew, would walk away nodding in affirmation, but knowing nothing. However some weeks later, Jesus was taking a boat trip across the sea with His 12 disciples. He had recently said to them, "You know the secrets of the Kingdom," but when they began to ask Him about the miracle of feeding the 5000, He was incredulous!

"Do you still not perceive or understand? Are your hearts hardened? Do you have eyes, and fail to see? Do you have ears, and fail to hear? And do you not remember?" He quipped (Mark 8:17,18). The enlightened ones did not know how to use the keys. Sure, they had revelation, but they had no understanding of it. They could see something, but had no way of interpreting it. They were half seeing, or half blind.

So Jesus had to address this very serious spiritual malady - hardness of heart, spiritual blindness. It is a kind of stupor that descends upon all disciples at one time or another. Thinking we are "touching heaven, changing earth," but really our efforts are locked away inside the four walls of our church building!

I have a friend who was the senior pastor of a large and prosperous congregation. He had a radio program, had written books and did much itinerant speaking. The local assembly had over a thousand people. They were really "reaching the city". But one Sunday morning, he decided to go to a local restaurant, instead of his own church.

What a shock, the place was packed! 400 people who didn't even know he was in their city, who didn't care about the Christian "sub culture" he represented. He wept. His hard heart was broken, his self-importance was deflated. Having his vision reset, he decided to seek the counsel of God for his city. He had been looking at things outwardly - focusing on the blessing, the manifestation of the Spirit, the gifts and finally came to see the city - the region - the sin.

Look at things outwardly

It comes from taking a shallow view of things, only going skin deep. Take heart! Samuel the prophet went to the house of Jesse looking for a king. His heart told him what a "king" should look like. His prophetic insight was working keenly. He was looking, but did not find the king among his sons. So he called for the youngest, David. He missed the king. He said, "Is that it? Is this all you have to offer?" But God corrected him - he was not "seeing" correctly. "Do not look on his appearance or on the height of his stature, because I have rejected him; for the LORD does not see as mortals see; they look on the outward appearance, but the LORD looks on the heart" (1 Sam. 16:7).

It's all "surface stuff". God is calling for us to clear the wells of revelation, and dig deeper. He is asking us to join wisdom and revelation together, to have insight AND discernment.

Of Jesus it is said, "His delight shall be in the fear of the LORD. He shall not judge by what his eyes see, or decide by what his ears hear" (Isa 11:3). Jesus gave us a living demonstration of how to walk with God. We can judge by the Spirit - and sense what is true and real.

Blind prophets.

Such blindness is anathema to the prophetic. The danger runs deep if we allow this situation to continue. If we allow a focus on "anointing" and "wonders" over a focus on character, conduct and holiness we will fail or worse, we will fall.

One nationally recognised prophet some years ago spoke to a certain church in Dallas Fort Worth, TX. He said that, "Within a year this fledgling congregation will be the key and cornerstone of revival". It was running 500-1,000 (depending on how you counted it) and he boldly proclaimed "It will soon reach 3,000". Today? The church is no longer there. It fell apart. Did he miss God? Has he turned false? I don't think so. I think he was seeing anointing, and potential, but never addressed the deeper issues stopping up the well.

In another case, a nationally recognised prophetess was speaking in California. The church was a cutting edge, pumping place. She laid hands on the pastor, and proclaimed, "This man is a prototype, exactly the kind of leader God is raising up in this nation, a man to be followed and copied". To her chagrin, three weeks later his homosexual lifestyle was uncovered. He had been intimate with many of the male staff in his church. Oh Dear! What's going on here? Blindness, at least partial blindness.

I am not calling this man or woman false. I don't think they fell into the Ezekiel 14 trap (prophesying to the idols in men's hearts). I think they fell into the very same trap the disciples did. They could "see", but they weren't perceiving. They saw potential, but not the character flaws. They were feeling something in the Spirit, but could not grasp, or did not try to see the depth of things related to it.

Perhaps this is why Paul prayed for the Ephesian Christians to have both "wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of Him" (Eph. 1:17). Revelation alone is not enough - we need wisdom, or discernment to apply it. Without it, we are really running blind. We might feel out way through things, but our senses are not fully awake.

Blind folds off!

Some years ago I had a vision of a large group of men and women standing on an open field. Their faces were to the wind, their hair streamed out behind them. Their cloaks and robes fluttered behind them. I could tell they were prophets. But then my view swung around in front of them, and I was shocked to see that many of them were blindfolded. What was worse, there was a massive storm coming, and they could not see it. I believe this is actually a picture of modern day prophetic ministry. It is in a sad state. There is much "seeing" but little perceiving. There is much "revelation" but little discernment.

"Hear, you deaf; look, you blind, and see! Who is blind but my servant, and deaf like the messenger I send? Who is blind like the one committed to me, blind like the servant of the LORD? You have seen many things, but have paid no attention; your ears are open, but you hear nothing" (Isa. 42:18-20). We can reach a very sad state sometimes. What an indictment on us all. Prophetic ministry is fraught with the danger of becoming blind.

Otherwise. deception cometh

I recently returned from Ghana, where one can meet any number of "prophets" It is all the rage there now. It is no longer in vogue to be called a pastor, nor profitable to be an apostle. Better offerings are given to the prophet. I read front page headlines of prophetic words given, which have failed to come to pass. There are conferences every week in Accra, where you can pay for a prophetic word. In fact they will probably prophecy to you about giving (to them). This is a whole level deeper than the last examples. It is actually turning good into evil and righteousness into usury. The cycle declines, the road leads downward and destruction is its end:

"Thus says the LORD concerning the prophets who lead my people astray. it shall be night to you, without vision, and darkness to you, without revelation. The sun shall go down upon the prophets, and the day shall be black over them; the seers shall be disgraced, and the diviners put to shame; they shall all cover their lips, for there is no answer from God" (Micah 3:5-7). The end result of harness of heart, without repentance, without turning is total darkness, yes even deception.

Turning around, turning aside

Moses was doing his daily pastoral duty, when one day he "turned aside to see". He caught a glimpse of something extra-ordinary, out of the norm, amazing. A burning bush that was not consumed by the fire. He had a revelation (saw a sight), but then he added obedience, and turned aside to see. Thank God he did.

Moses feared God, and he desired to see the truth. Remember, Jesus has given us the keys to the kingdom. He has given us the revelation. However, He is asking us, as He asked His disciples, "Do you still not perceive or understand? Are your hearts hardened? Do you have eyes, and fail to see? Do you have ears, and fail to hear? And do you not remember?" (Mark 8:17,18).

Seeking the council of God

The psalmist said, "They believed His words; they sang His praise. But they soon forgot His works; they did not wait for His counsel" (Psa. 106:12,13). The circus of church can be a consuming affair at times, and we stumble along without God's counsel.

Brethren, let us not harden our hearts. We must humble ourselves and cry out to God for mercy. It does not take much to come back to God - just a penitent heart. Even to the wayward prophets of Israel God could say, "But if they had stood in my council, then they would have proclaimed my words to my people, and they would have turned them from their evil way, and from the evil of their doings" (Jer. 23:22).

That word "council" is chawd in the Hebrew. It is the same word used by David in Psalm 25, "secret counsel belongs to those who fear Him" (vs 14). Fear of the Lord, not fear of man. Not even a desire to be of benefit to people, or produce a prophecy, or come up with the latest and greatest.

Let us not be a generation of prophetic people standing on the field with blindfolds on. Let us come to our senses, repent, fear God and seek Him for both wisdom AND revelation!

The Importance of Relationships
Stephen Mwakibinga

Zambia
<mwakibingas@hotmail.com>
All references NKJV

August 5th, 2005

Many things that we call relationships are nothing more than convenience. We have hirelings, employees, running mates, partners but few become real relationships. Relationships are the bond which grows as we walk together, talk together and also dwell together. What holds people together in ministry? There are at least three things.

1. It takes agreement

Amos asks, "Can two walk together unless they are in agreement?" (Amos 3:3). It takes agreement, it takes a common vision. They must agree to walk together. What do they agree on? They must agree on the destination, they must agree on the issues that bring them together.

2. It takes peace

It is not just a common vision, and agreement. David shows us this. "The men of Benjamin and Judah came to David at the stronghold. And David went out to meet them and answered them and said to them, "If you have come peaceably to me to help me." (1 Chr. 12:16). It also takes peace. Shalom is blessing given by God when two dwell in unity. (Psalm 133:1-3).

3. It takes honour

The third element is honour. To walk together and stay together, there needs to be an honouring of one another. Abishai was honoured more than all the others, and as a result he became the leader of the Three, and the head of the army (1 Chr. 11:21).

Every relationship will be tried and tested.

David had many people around his life. He had counsellors, advisors, captains and chiefs. His family came with him to Adullam, his mighty men followed him through to Ziklag. But in Psalm 38:11 he laments, "My loved ones and my friends stand aloof from my plague, and my relatives stand afar off". There are times when we are down, when things have turned against us and are not going our way. Do we have "fair weather" friends? People who only abide when it goes well with us - then they are not real friends. Does your plague, do your wounds drive them away?

True friends stand by you through thick and thin, and if you are wounded, they will bring the balm of healing to you. How troublesome it is when all flee us in our time of trouble.

"Many good things are found in bad places"

You can find many treasures behind enemy lines. When David was thirsty and hungry he had some very faithful friends. They heard him cry for water, they broke through enemy lines and pursued water for David (1 Chr. 11:17). They risked their lives for him. These are true friends, who will risk something for you, who will endure pain on your behalf. There is no reward for them, except to see you happy.

"All good things will be tested by fire"

Every good thing that you find, every good relationship will be tested by circumstances and fire. Jesus is a wise master builder, and He tells us we are going to see testing (1 Cor. 3:11). Not every relationship is going to stand the test of time. Some will be burned away, and you will need to let them go.

God builds in three ways.

Rick Godwin has made this statement, "God will build revelationally, God will build relationally and God will build generationally".

It takes a revelation to bring people together, especially if they meet when you are down, or "plagued". It took a revelation to call Nathaniel to Jesus. Jonathan had a revelation that David would be the next king and he would not. Even two people courting will be "struck" by one another and fall in love. They will have their eyes opened, and see the beauty and cherish each other.

God will build relationally. The only things that are going to last are built on love, not convenience; on commitment not on want or need. Love expresses itself through relationships. These cannot last except with love (1 Cor. 13).

God will build generationally. Anything that has lasting value is carried forward through generations. Sonship is central to the way things will carry on. God is called the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

God builds in three kinds of relationships

There are three kinds of relationship that last.

1. Covenant

Covenant is central to the way God relates to His people. He is a covenant keeping God. These are expressed in marriage, in friendship, and in business.

2. Sonship

Sonship positions you to receive inheritance, as long as you remain submitted to the will of your father. Sons are not like hirelings, they will not run away when hard times come.

3. Kingdom

God sends kingdom relationships. The issue of being sent is central to kingdom relationships. Apostles are sent ones, prophets are sent ones. God is going to send you divinely appointed men and women. He may also send you strategically into other people's lives. Be watching for kingdom connections!

Conclusion

Relationships are key to survival in ministry. But not everyone who calls themselves "friend" will stay when the going gets tough. It takes three things to come together, and to stay together: agreement, peace and respect. Every relationship will be tested by fire. Trial, sickness and stress will test people's faithfulness. God builds revelationally, relationally and generationally. He builds into three kinds of relationships: covenant, sonship and kingdom relationships.

The Idolatry Of The Heart
Michele Perry

Luke 16:14-16
Now the Pharisees, the separatists and religious exclusivists, who were lovers of money, were listening to all these things, and they were scoffing and sneering outright, turning up their noses at Him. And He said to them, "You are those who justify yourselves, making yourselves appear to be righteous in the sight and presence of men, but God intimately and experiential knows your hearts, the core of who you really are; for that which is highly esteemed, elevated in honor and influence and dignified among men is detestable and idolatry in the sight and presence of God." (My literal transliteration)

I have read and studied the Bible for over twenty years and not once did these verses leap off the page at me as they did tonight in discussion over dinner with some friends. We had just finished our meal and my friend alluded to this passage quoting a portion of it to me. I asked him where it was and promptly pulled out my dagger (the small smuggler-sized version of Scripture I can fit in my purse, opposed to the large study Bible I use at home known as my sword). There it was in bold red print staring me and anyone who cared to read it in the face.

When I got home, being a linguist at heart, I pulled out my Greek helps and this already pointed passage took on an edge that cut to the core of the modern day idolatry in our Western form of Christianity. And to the idolatry that creeps at times silently into the corners of our own hearts. Our culture is steeped in it. Our marketplace systems exploit it. Everyday it hits us from a thousand angles with a myriad of voices calling out to the deepest longings in our hearts to honor the things men honor and seek to be esteemed by the systems men promote.

May I invite you on a journey to take a deep look at this passage and its application personally and corporately? I warn you this journey may not be pleasant and it will not be comfortable. It may expose hidden idolatry of the heart that must be taken to the cross and repented of. This journey may call us to die to things of our culture and comforts we hold dear. But we journey together. Can you commit with me that ANYTHING, tangible or intangible, that separates us from Jesus MUST be taken to the cross and crucified? The cost of hanging on to those things incomparably exceeds the price of letting them go.

THE CROWD
The context of these bold verses is Jesus teaching on stewardship, money and the riches of the Kingdom. It was this teaching of faithfulness in stewarding what you have been given, the religious in-crowd was sneering at. And it was to this crowd that Jesus' response was aimed. The Pharisees were exclusivists and separatists. They were the spiritual elite, an in-crowd unto themselves. They loved money, titles, prestige and the praise of men. It is interesting to me a root associated with the word used for Pharisee means to separate, scatter, wound, and sting. Spiritual elitism of any form has no place in God's Kingdom and results in wounding and scattering His people who encounter it.

Jesus responded to their jeers and sneers by striking the heart of the matter which was a matter of their hearts: idolatry. Beneath all the perfectly phrased prayers, the long titles and lists of spiritual accomplishments, the carefully cultivated images; at the core of who they were beat hearts festering with idolatry. God saw through their show to the reality behind the act. What was honorable to men reeked in His Presence. Their outward shows of righteousness could not fool God who intimately and experientially knew who they were and what they worshiped.

Beloved, I hate to be the bearer of bad news, but religious elitism is alive and well, even thriving in some of our churches today. We have places where leaders are placed on platforms and made to be untouchable icons of success. In some parts of Christendom, those that know how to acquire the right look, talk the right talk and present the right spiritual pedigree are ushered into virtually impenetrable circles of relationship that shun those perceived with lesser qualifications. I have seen the operations of such first hand.
